HONORED DEAD HEROES.

PATRIOTIC MEMORIAL DAY SERVICES HELD YESTERDAY.

The Graves Decorated in the Morning and Appropriate Exercises Taken Part in by G. A. R. and Friends.

The inclemency of the weather yesterday morning did not in the least dampen the enthusiasm of those who took part in the Memorial Day exercises under the auspices of Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, G. A. R., and in accordance with the custom the day was appropriately observed. Early in the morning the comrades assembled at headquarters and prepared for the day's exercises. At 9:30 the line of march was formed for the parade, and considering the condition of the weather it was an excellent parade. Those who participated were obliged to walk on the sidewalk as the streets were too muddy. Grand Marshal L. E. Livermore was in charge, and he made it a point to see that the programme was carried out on schedule time. The line of march as previously published, was followed, and along the line there were a number of attractive decorations which stirred the hearts of the veterans. The line of march included all of the cemeteries, and at each one the comrades stopped long enough to decorate the graves of the dead soldiers. At Evergreen cemetery a short service was held over the grave of the late Isaac Brokaw, who was a prominent member of the G. A. R. The service was conducted by Commander McVoy, assisted by Rev. L. E. Livermore and other comrades.

In addition to the comrades in the line of march there was a good-sized delegation of Sons of Veterans and school children, while the Plainfield Cornet Band discoursed appropriate music at intervals. After several cemeteries had been visited the Sons of Veterans withdrew and went to Scotch Plains where interesting services were held over the grave of the late John Hand, after whom the camp is named.

The Sons of Veterans were met at the Plains by members of the fire department and Jr. O. U. A. M., who assisted them in the celebration at the latter place. At the grave an address along the line of patriotism and devotion was delivered by Rev. Dr. Parks, former pastor of the Scotch Plains Baptist church. The address was enjoyed by everyone who heard it. The other exercises were similar to those held last year and they were in charge of Captain H. C. McVoy. Previous to the close of the exercises the firing squad fired three volleys over the grave. The visitors were then escorted through the town to the stages which were in waiting to bring them to Plainfield.

At 2 o'clock the comrades and Sons of Veterans together with the school children assembled and marched to Music Hall where exercises of an interesting nature were held. The hall was filled to overflowing with a patriotic audience. The stage was occupied with the children all dressed in white, with red, white and blue caps. Each one represented a state and later in the afternoon each one recited a verse appropriate to the state represented.

The exercises were opened with a selection by the band after which Rev. Dr. Snodgrass offered prayer. Adjutant E. C. Morse, of Post No. 73, then read the National and Department orders of the G. A. R.

This was followed with a few words by Commander McVoy who called on the comrades to salute the dead. Another selection by the band and a selection by the chorus of children under the direction of H. J. Martin as leader and Miss Nash as pianist, was rendered.

Adjutant Morse then read an extract of President Lincoln's famous Gettysburg address which was delivered November 19, 1862 Immediately afterward the officers of the Post took an interesting part. Senior Vice Charles Stephens represented the navy; Junior Vice William Hand the army; Officer of the Day William C. Smith had a few words to say regarding peace, while Chaplain John Goodwin spoke of victory after which he offered prayer. Commander McVoy had his part and it was well given as was also the other parts.

At this time the address of the afternoon was delvered by Rev. Dr. Lowry. The speaker said that nowadays it looked as though the golf stick threatened to knock out Memorial Day and the memories of the war. When he was a boy, Dr. Lowry said, they used to celebrate July 4th, but now it is not thought much of by those who should see that the day is properly observed. In the days of old everyone was brimful of enthusiasm, now it is hard to get up

SEVENTH-DAY ADVOCATES

OFFICERS CHOSEN BY THE EASTERN ASSOCIATION CONVENTION.

Many Rhode Island Members Chosen to Fill Offices—The Closing Exercises Held Sunday Evening in New Market.

The sixty-first annual session of the Eastern Seventh Day Baptist Association, held at the New Market Seventh Day Baptist church, came to an end Sunday evening. The session began on Thursday morning last and continued with three services a day until Sunday evening. The delegates were given lunch and dinner at Friendship Hall.

Sabbath school was held on Saturday afternoon and was followed by Junior Endeavor exercises, led by Mrs. H. M. Maxson. In the evening, young people's hour was held and Rev. S. H. Davis made an address on "A Higher Standard."

Sunday morning there was a brief business session, the Women's Board hour, conducted by Mrs. Anna Randolph, and a sermon by Rev. W. L. Burdick. At the Layman's hour, in the afternoon, there were addresses by Corlis F. Randolph, John P. Mosher, A. H. Burdick, and D. E. Titsworth. The Tract Society hour was conducted by Rev. A. H. Lewis, D. D.

The principal business session of the convention was held and the officers for the ensuing year was as follows:

President, Hon. A. S. Babcock, Rockville, R. I.; vice-president. Hon. Frank Hill, Ashaway, R. I.; recording secretary, Curtis Randolph, Hopkinton City, R. I.; assistant recording secretary, Allen C. Whitford, Westerly, R. I.; treasurer, Rev. G. J. Crandall, Ashaway, R. I.; engrossing clerk, Rev. F. E. Peterson, New Market, N. J.; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Harriett W. Carpenter, Ashaway, R. I.; committee on ordination, A. E. Main, D. D., O. U. Whitford, D. D., Rev. Ira Lee Cottrell; committee on missionary work, Rev. J. G. Burdick, Rev. G. H. F. Randolph, Ella F. Swinney, M. D.

The evening service opened with a song service, led by D. E. Ti sworth. The closing sermon was preached by Rev. T. J. Van Horn. The conference meeting, which ended the service, was led by Rev. F. E. Peterson.

FOR A FRESH AIR FUND.

Successful Sale Conducted by Little Children.

The success attending the ice cream sale in aid of The Tribune Fresh Air Fund, which was held last Saturday afternoon from 3 until 6 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Hallock, 39 Willow avenue, was most gratifying to Leslie W. Hallock, John Valiant and Ralph E. Hallock, the originators of the affair. The large and spacious lawn surrounding the house was used to good advantage and there was on sale in addition to the ice cream, a good assortment of candies and cake, while the sale of lemonade and popcorn was good.

There were about 125 people present who succeeded in putting the young men out of business, for they purchased everything on sale, much to the enjoyment and pleasure of the boys. The latter managed the sale and they were assisted by Miss Bessie Valiant at the lemonade table, and Miss Sadie Howell at the candy table, while Reggie Roome was among the most enthusiastic workers. In all there was about 200 tickets disposed of and the sale will net about $25 for the fresh air fund. Those who assisted in donating cake, ice cream and candy were: Mrs. J. P. Northrop, Mrs. Howard J. Runyon, Mrs. J. H. Howell, Miss Lillian Fritts and Mrs. Robinson Pound.

HOSPITAL OFFICERS.

George H. Goddard Re-elected Pr sident of the Board.

The annual meeting of the Board of Governors of the Muhlenberg Hospital was held at the Public Library last evening. The election of officers and the annual reports of the officers were the principal business that came before the meeting.

The election of officers resulted as follows: President, George H. Goddard; first vice-president, Samuel Huntington; second vice president, William L. Saunders; secretary, W. R. Cock; treasurer, E H. Ladd, Jr. The committees were selected as follows: Managing committee, Samuel Huntington, E. B. Clark, W. R. Cock, W. L. Saunders and H. P. Reynolds; finance committee, Francis Wood, J. M. Whiton, W. E. Lowe, Charles J. Fisk and Charles Schipper.

The reports of the officers were listened to with great interest. A summary of them will be published by The Press at a later date.

Alfred Garland and Ralph Tolles, of this city, spent Saturday at South Beach.

MEMORIAL DAY SERMONS.

APPROPRIATE SERVICES CONDUCTED IN LOCAL CHURCHES.

G. A. R., Woman's Relief Corps and Sons of Veterans Hear a Patriotic Discourse by Rev. J. W. Richardson in His Church.

It may be truly said that the memorial service held at the Park Avenue Baptist church last Sunday evening was one of the best in the history of the G. A. R. of this city. Nearly every member of the latter organization, the Woman's Relief Corps and Sons of Veterans were present in a body and the sight was an impressive one. The church was decorated substantially for the occasion.

Special music was rendered by the church choir and this added not a little to the interest in the service. A very impressive part of the service was that portion arranged and carried out by the veterans. Commander McVoy, assisted by Charles Stephens, Wm. Hand, E. C. Morse, John Goodwin and Past Commanders Collier and Coriell, participated in this service. Each of the above were given a part to repeat, after which the last two named veterans assembled about the platform and placed beautiful wreaths thereon. The words spoken by each composed a story and the crowning point was grand.

After these exercises Rev. J. W. Richardson, the pastor, delivered a powerful patriotic sermon. His text was taken from the 22d verse of the 11th chapter of Hebrews: "By faith, Joseph, when he died, made mention of the departing of the children of Israel, and gave commandment concerning his bones." From the above text the speaker drew many strong lessons applicable to the occasion. He then traced the history of the country from the formation of the government and paid especial attention to the part which the Union soldiers took in the preservation of the country. The different battles in which the Union army played an important part were described in a vivid manner, and at times the audience was almost inclined to applaud. Especially was this true of the veterans.

Mr. Richardson paid the veterans many compliments and praised their deeds in helping to save the Union, which was and is so dear to the heart of every loyal American. He pictured the life of a soldier in the prisons of the south, and told of the many hardships which they were obliged to pass through.

At the close Mr. Richardson presented several scriptural truths, which were brought very strongly to the heart of each one. A novel and interesting feature closed the service when Comrade Berg sounded taps. The benediction was pronounced by the pastor.

Memorial Day was very pleasantly observed at the Congregational church on Sunday morning. The desk was draped with a handsome American flags, patriotic hymns were sung, and the pastor, Rev. Charles Lyman Goodrich, preached a stirring Memorial Day sermon. He spoke especially of the fine record of the soldiers of New Jersey; how they quickly responded to the first call for men, sending to Washington the first thoroughly organized and equipped troops which arrived there, and how, when later appeals came, they never slackened in their devotion, but sent more than the required number of men. He told how nobly they sustained the honor of their State on the field of battle, and how, when Lee entered Pennsylvania, many whose time of service had expired turned about and returned to active duty.

The latter part of the sermon referred to the duties that lie before the citizens of New Jersey in these days of peace; the no less noble and patriotic duties which all owe to God, the Church, and the commonwealth.

BEAUTY AND JOY.

Things That Will Attract and Amuse at the Fete Champetre.

The proposed Fete Champetre for June 5th, advertisement of which can be found in another column, promises to be full of entertaining features for old and young. The items, pony carriages, boating, gypsy camp, winding of the May pole, music, fruit, flowers, refreshments, dances, flapjacks and fortune telling, supply a skeleton on which even the unimaginative can rear possibilities of pleasure. The fact that the enjoyment is not to end with the day and hour, but that the money spent is to be applied to our city park, gives a motive for spending that does not come to the pleasure seeker. "A thing of beauty is a joy forever," and the ladies of the Town Improvement Association hope to make the city park both a thing of beauty and a perpetual joy.

Dr. Endicott has arrived home from the Catskill Mountains.

KENTUCKY COLONEL, SAH

A PISCATAWAY FARMER FLIM-FLAMMED OUT OF BOARD.

The Kentuckian Said He Would Buy 11 Acres of L. D. Martin's Farm, But it Was All a Scheme to Beat the Farmer

L. D. Martin, a Piscataway farmer, has been flim-flammed out of several days board by a slick talking man who posed as a Kentucky Colonel by the name of Swansey. Martin was visited one day last week by the Colonel, who said that he wanted to buy a small farm in the vicinity, and asked Martin if he desired to sell. The latter told him that he had 11 acres that he was willing to dispose of, and that that would make him a very nice country place. The Kentuckian was very much struck with the idea, and as he hated travelling he would esteem it a great favor if Martin would entertain him while he sent for his daughter, whom he wished to approve of the contemplated purchase. Martin gave him the previlege of staying with him, and the Colonel enjoyed New Jersey farm life in a sumptous manner until last Saturday.

That day Martin was told by the Colonel that he expected a letter to be sent to him at the New Brunswick postoffice. As the Colonel presumed to be a man who kept his good health by out-of-door exercise, he said that he would walk to New Brunswick. Martin remarked that he was going there that same day, and he, just for the novelty of the thing, would take shanks' horses, too.

The two men had proceeded about a mile from Farmer Martin's home when the Colonel stopped suddenly in the road and said, as he planked his hand in his trouser's pocket and took on a look of astonishment:

"By gad, sah, I'll be blowed if I haven't left my pocketbook, containing $210, on the bureau in my room."

Still acting as the gracious and hospitable host, Farmer Martin volunteered to return and get the money while his guest waited beside the road. The Colonel agreed, and Martin started back after the missing cash. When the latter got home he could find no trace of the money and fearing that it had been stolen, and that the theft might be laid at the hands of some member of the family, he hastened to the point where he had left the Kentuckian in the road. Farmer Martin found the road still there but the stranger non est. Farmer Martin still has his eleven acres of land, and no prospect of selling.

FIFTY YEARS WEDDED.

CELEBRATION OF A NUPTIAL EVENT OF AN OLD COUPLE.

The Golden Wedding Anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Shotwell, of Hoboken, Observed Here Yesterday.

To be joined in wedlock for half of a century, and to have that period characterized by bliss and prosperity, is not the fortune allotted to every couple that come under the bans of Hymen, but such it is in the life of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Shotwell, of Hoboken, who celebrated their golden wedding anniversary in this city, yesterday, at the home of the groom's nephew, Wm. H. Shotwell, of Fairview avenue. Such an event is worthy of more than a passing observance, and the affair of yesterday was one of congratulation of the past, celebration of the present and good wishes for the future.

The groom is one of New Jersey's oldest citizens, having been identified with Plainfield when a mere cluster of twenty-five houses graced "the lovely village of the plain." Though a resident of Hoboken at present he has always taken a lively interest in the affairs of his old home. He was a brother of the late Freeman Shotwell. The bride's maiden name was Miss Compton, who came from the oldest families in Perth Amboy.

The celebration, yesterday, was arranged by Mrs. William H. Shotwell and was carried out in a way to prove that time has increased the love of friends for the happy couple who were the honored guests. Among those present were:—Mr. and Mrs. J. Clarkson, Mr. and John Goodwin, Mrs. E. V. Shotwell, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Cadmus and Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Garretson and daughter.

A distinguishing feature of the celebration was the youthful appearance of the couple, neither one of whom appeared to be over fifty years of age.

Mr. Shotwell was one of the charter members of the Second Presbyterian church, now known as the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church, and it was in the edifice of this society, situated where Whitney's dry goods store now is, that the wedding ceremony was performed. Mr. Shotwell is one of the very few charter members of the society left.

CRESCENT'S CLUBHOUSE

WHEELMEN TO PROBABLY REORGANIZE AND BUILD QUARTERS.

The Members to be Made Stockholders and Thus Create an Intimate Interest in the Welfare of the Club—Plans Drawn

A crisis is approaching in the existence of the Crescent Wheelmen, which, if successfully passed, will add new life to that organization and make it more prosperous than ever. One of the features of the new club life will be a clubhouse to be built on a site close to the Crescent Oval, the racing track of the club.

Tomorrow evening, there will be a meeting at the clubhouse of the Crescent Wheelmen. It is the purpose of those who are behind this movement to reorganize the club on a firmer footing, making all the members stockholders in the club. There has not been the unity of object among the members of late, and the efforts of those in charge have not been seconded by the members as they should have been. There will be undoubtedly some resignations to act upon after the change, but there are those who wish to come into the club and they will soon swell the membership to its limit.

As already stated, it is the intention of the members to build a clubhouse and that, too, in the very near future. The business men of the city, who are included in the membership of the Crescent Wheelmen, have been canvassed and a sufficient sum has been promised to assure the payment of the cost of the new clubhouse.

It is proposed to build the new clubhouse at the corner of Park avenue and Randolph road, about a hundred yards from the Oval. The building will have a front of fifty feet and a depth of seventy-five feet. It will be a frame structure of pretty design. It is proposed to have the house equipped with all the fixtures of an up-to-date clubhouse, including a restaurant, shower baths, billiard and pool rooms, bowling alleys, and in fact everything that can make club life pleasant. Ample provision will be made for the care of the members' wheels and lockers for members will be conveniently arranged.

It is the intention of those who are backing the plan to have a thoroughly respectable clubhouse to which they need not be ashamed to take their wives and friends. A "ladies' day" is proposed and various pleasant social features for the winter months when wheeling is at a discount. The bowling alleys may not be put in at first as the members do not wish to go beyond their means. It is estimated that the new clubhouse will cost about $3,500, almost all of which has been promised.

WORK OF THE BOYS' CLUB.

A Creditable Exhibition Made to Visitors Last Saturday.

Few people realize the practical work that is daily being done at the Boys' Club. The annual exhibition of the club, held in the clubhouse on Sycamore street Saturday evening, gave some idea of the advantages offered to the boys of the city. A number of the boys were at work in the different departments, while a very creditable exhibition of the work already done was shown.

First there was shown the drawing of some portion of machinery or iron work. The drawing was made by the boys and also the tracing of it and the accompaning blue print. The blue print was given to the boys in the carpentering department who made a pattern, which was given to the boys in the moulding room and a regular mould made, ready for its charge of molten iron. As the handling of molten metal is as yet beyond the resourses of the club, plaster of Paris is used instead. The complete series of drawings, patterns and castings were shown. Samples of carpenter work also attracted attention.

All the instruction is given by Olaf Sangstad, whose abilities make him just the man for the place. The exhibition was excellent and received well deserved praise.

Plainfield Girl Graduated.

The graduation exercises at the School of Ethical Culture on Fifty-fourth street, New York, were held last Friday evening. Diplom .s were awarded to a class of twenty young woman among whom were Miss Florence G. Burt, of West Seventh street, Miss Grace M Bonny, of Mercer avenue, and Miss Caroline E West, of East Orange, who is well known in this city and visits here frequently. The school is the best in New York for preparing young women as kindergarten teachers. The composite class essay, the work of all the members of the graduating class, was read by Miss Florence G. Burt. The commencement exercises were followed by a reception.

A 17-YEAR OLD BRIDE.

MAY SHARKEY MARRIED WITHOUT HER PARENTS' KNOWLEDGE.

The Nuptial Knot was Tied Last Thursday Night, But the Parents D'd Not Know of It Till Last Night.

A hard-working mother, broken-hearted at the desertion of her daughter, for whose future she had hoped and planned much, has made serious charges against the alleged husband of her daughter. May Sharkey has been living with her parents, Patrick and Mary Sharkey, at 23 Harmony street, until Saturday night, when she mysteriously disappeared and was not seen until late yesterday afternoon, when the anxious mother found the missing child walking with an Italian on the outskirts of the borough. Ere the mother could reach her daughter the Italian stepped between them and commanded Mrs. Sharkey to leave her daughter alone as she was now his wife.

Mr. Sharkey is employed at Sharkey's grocery, on Richmond street, as a driver. Mrs. Sharkey works at McVey's hotel on North avenus. They claim that their daughter is only a few months over seventeen years of age. May has always been brought up as carefully as the parents' circumstances permitted. She was never asked to work, but father and mother toiled unceasingly to provide her with such of the comforts of life as they could afford. They wished her to hold up her head with the best in the country, the mother said.

A year ago May made the acquaintance of a young Italian known as Sullivan. Mr. and Mrs. Sharkey objected to the young man and told their daughter that she must have nothing to do with him. May promised. Circumstances go to prove, however, that she did not keep her word. She told her mother that she spoke to him no more and Mrs. Sharkey did not worry.

Last Thursday there was a clandestine meeting and May and her Italian lover went to some minister or justice of the peace and were married.

Mrs. Sharkey claims that her daughter did not go of her own free will, but that the villainous foreigner threatened to kill her if she did not marry him at once, and that fear, not love, was the cause of the untimely marriage. Mrs. Sharkey told a Press reporter this morning that the Italian drew a knife on her daughter and threatened to cut her throat at once if she made any objection to being married.

Friday night, May returned home but said nothing of the marriage. Saturday night, May offered to go down town for her mother who was tired after a hard day's work and make the necessary purchases for Sunday. May left the house at 9:45 o'clock while her parents retired. She went down town and made the purchases for they were in the house the next morning, but May was not there and could not be found.

Thoroughly alarmed, Mrs. Sharkey hunted over the borough. She knew that her daughter had once been subject to fainting spells and she feared that she had met with an accident had been robbed or murdered, or, perhaps, abducted.

A friend told her, late in the afternoon, that she had seen May walking with the Italian and directed Mrs. Sharkey to the spot. Thither the anxious mother hurried to find her daughter in company with the man whom she had been forbidden to associate with. Sullivan, Mrs. Sharkey claims, threatened to kill her if she touched him or his lawfully wedded wife and ordered her away with scornful tone.

Mrs. Sharkey has taken no action to recover her daughter as yet but she claims that the marriage was illegal for the reason that her daughter was forced to the marriage by threats of personal violence.

Horse Strayed Away.

A large bay horse attached to an open-top buggy was found on Park avenue, last evening, by Herbert Martin, of Sandford avenue, and William Lorton, of New Market. There was no one in charge and the finders drove the horse to Plainfield and turned it over to Patrolman Saffron. The horse was stabled at Cole's. J.B. Guttridge, of Netherwood, lost a horse and buggy answering to that description, last evening. He lent it to a friend, who drove to Campbell's clubhouse and forgot to tie the horse.

Bridge Committee to Meet.

The joint bridge committee of the Union and Somerset County Boards of Freeholders will meet this afternoon at Tier's lake-house for the purpose of deciding what style of bridges are to be erected on Watchung and Sycamore avenues. Plans and specifications will also be presented for inspection.

CALHOUN DENIES IT.

Says That No Secrets Have Been Divulged by Him.

GENERAL FITZ HUGH LEE ALSO HEARD

He Disclaims Exercising Any Influence Over Newspaper Reports and Resents Insinuations Made That He Prompts Correspondents.

Havana, June 1.—Mr. W. J. Calhoun, the United States commissioner who is investigating the death in the prison at Guanabacoa of Dr. Ricardo Ruiz, a naturalized American citizen, has been interviewed with reference to the article in The Diario de la Marina making an indirect attack upon the commissioner by criticising articles which have appeared in a Washington newspaper over the signature of Mr. Pepper, who accompanied Mr. Calhoun to Cuba and who is said to be a friend of President McKinley.

Mr. Calhoun said:

"Mr. Pepper is in no way connected with the commission. On the contrary, he came to Havana on his own account, as other correspondents might have come.

"No secrets of the commission have been divulged, nor has any special information been supplied to him which was not obtainable by other correspondents. I suppose Mr. Pepper's information was gathered from personal information or from hearsay."

Mr. G. W. Fishback, the secretary of Mr. Calhoun, was also interviewed and expressed opinions similar to those of the commissioner.

General Fitz Hugh Lee, the United States consul general, disclaims exercising any influence over newspapet reports sent from Havana to the United States and resents the insinuation of the Diario de la Marina that resident American correspondents draw inspiration from him.

Mr. Pepper says he is much amused by the attack of the Diario de la Marina. He has returned from Guanajay, where, accompanied by Mr. Fishback, he had been on a visit. He says his trip was highly interesting. While returning to this city the car in which he was traveling was derailed by a railroad accident, but all the passengers escaped without injury.

Died Aged One Hundred and Two.

Malone, N. Y., June 1.—Mrs. Laura Hackstaff died at Peru, Clinton county, N. Y., at the age of 102 years. She was born in November, 1794. She was the grandmother of N. M. Marshall, vice president of the People's bank of Malone, and was a cousin of Captain Lawrence, the author of that well known phrase, "Don't give up the ship." Mrs. Hackstaff retained the use of all her faculties to a wonderful degree until within a few days of her death. She remembered distinctly all the incidents connected with the war of 1812 and took great delight in talking over the early history of the country.

Indian Murderers Killed.

Winnipeg, June 1.—Almighty Voice and the two Indian murderers who have been holding Bellevue bluff, near Duck lake, for the past two days against the mounted police, have been killed. A rush was made on the bluff yesterday and an Indian was slain. It was found that Almighty Voice and another Indian had been killed by the shells fired earlier in the day. The rebellious Indians have been brought in. The father of Almighty Voice is under arrest here as an accomplice. No further trouble is anticipated.

Flood Anniversary Observed.

Johnstown, Pa., June 1.—The eighth anniversary of the Johnstown flood was appropriately observed in this city, when thousands of people, many of them having lost relatives and near friends in the mast appalling disaster of recent times, visited the beautiful cemetery of Grand View. The unknown plot that contains the unidentified bodies of over 800 victims of the disaster was literally covered with flowers, contributed mostly by persons who lost dear ones in the flood and whose bodies were never recovered.

Medical Publishers Meet.

Philadelphia, June 1.—The fourth annual meeting of the American Medical Publishers' association was held at the Hotel Hanover. President L. B. Edwards of Richmond presided. A number of papers were read by members from this city and from Ohio, Missouri, Michigan, Virginia, Oregon and other states. The seventh annual meeting of the National Confederation of State Medical Examining and Licensing Boards was also held at the Hotel Walton.

Object to City Borrowing.

Harrisburg, June 1.—The Pennsylvania supreme court has handed down an important opinion, deciding that the proposed loans of $8,000,000 and $3,000,000 by the city of Philadelphia for municipal purposes are not authorized by the eighth section of the constitution and that the indebtedness by the municipality beyond 2 per cent of the assessed valuation, except by a vote of the people, is illegal.

Shot by Her Husband.

New York, June 1.—Virginia Johnson, 25 years old, was shot and killed at 533 West Forty-second street. Her common law husband, Edward Ronn, was shot in the left side and is thought to be serious hurt. Austin Steward, 40 years old, who lives in the same house, did the shooting. He has been locked up. The shooting occurred after a disagreement over a dice game.

His Parents Will See Him Hanged.

San Quentin, Cal., June 1.—Theodore Durrant has made the declaration that if he must meet his fate on the gallows he will die like a man. The mere suggestion of suicide is repulsive to him, he says. He also declares that he will die in the presence of his parents, who will insist on attending the execution as his invited guests.

Overcome by Gas.

New York, June 1.—Mary Pasteur, aged 25 years, unmarried, residing at 117 East One Hundred and Twenty-seventh street, was taken to Presbyterian hospital suffering from the effects of asphyxiation. She was discovered in her room in an unconscious condition.

DEATH ON A TALLYHO

Five Killed and Many Injured at a Grade Crossing.

STRUCK BY A LONG ISLAND TRAIN.

Unhappy Fate of a Gay Party of Brooklyn People on a Coaching Excursion. Not One Escaped Uninjured. Several Will Die.

Brooklyn, June 1.—A tallyho coach loaded with members of a society attached to the Greene Avenue Baptist church of this city was run into at Valley Stream by a passenger train of the Long Island railroad. Five persons were instantly killed, seven were mangled so seriously that their lives are despaired of, and all the others were more or less hurt.

The dead were taken to Inwood and the wounded removed to St. John's hospital in this city.

The conductor and engineer of the passenger train were placed under arrest.

Eyewitnesses say that the horses ran away and, despite the endeavors of the drivers, dashed upon the track just ahead of the train.

The following were instantly killed:
Lester Roberts of Putnam avenue.
Miss Burch, 259 Stuyvesant avenue.
Gilbert Smith.
W. W. Lewis, 1081½ De Kalb avenue.

John J. Lewes, 882 Greene avenue.
Mrs. Andrews, 524 Macon street.
Flora Stewart, 306 Macon street.
Miss Burch, sister of one killed, 259 Stuyvesant avenue.
Earl Barnes, 257 Stuyvesant avenue.
Walter Welbroch, 695 Quincy street.

The accident occurred at the point near Valley Stream where the Merrick road crosses the West Hampton branch of the Long Island railroad. The party was on its way to Rockville Center.

There were 22 of the party in all, many of them riding on the outside of the coach. It was those who escaped with their lives. All those inside the coach were instantly killed.

At the point where the accident occurred the Merrick road is surrounded by dense shrubbery. High trees, now in full leaf, prevent any view of the track being obtained from the road, and beneath the trees bushes grow thickly.

Just before the tallyho reached the tracks the horses became frightened at the whistle of the passenger from Mineola bound for Valley Stream, which was approaching.

Horses Became Unmanageable.

Sounded as a warning, the whistle caused the accident, for it rendered the horses unmanageable.

Realizing the danger of his position, the driver tried to stop the team. They had become too frightened to obey, and then the driver decided to try to cross the tracks.

Lashing the horses to their full speed, he endeavored to force them across the tracks.

The animals had cleared the rails, and the coach was just upon the track when the locomotive struck it.

The persons in the tallyho had not realized their danger until it was too late. When they saw the locomotive it was almost upon them. Several leaped from their seats, but only to be crushed in the fearful wreck that followed. The locomotive struck the coach squarely in the center and carried it for many yards before the train could be stopped. Not until then did the engineer realize the extent of the catastrophe.

The accident had been witnessed by many persons who live near the crossing, and they hurried to give aid. On reaching the scene, they found six persons dead, while the wounded, so badly hurt as to be helpless, were groaning with pain. Word was sent at once to Valley Stream and from there to Long Island City.

Medical aid was asked, and Drs. Bradbury and Ayer of Linbrook and Hutcheson of Rockville Center responded. They did what they could to relieve the sufferings of the wounded, but were so hampered that they were able to do little.

As soon as word of the accident reached Long Island City a relief train was sent out and the wounded men removed to Brooklyn and taken to hospitals.

The dead were left on the turf close to the spot where they lost their lives, and Coroner Coombs was notified. He hurried to the spot and began an investigation.

From the story of those who saw the accident it is said that blame cannot be justly placed upon either the engineer of the train or the driver of the tallyho. They say that had not the horses been so frightened the driver would have been able to control them and would not have driven upon the track. Strange to say, the horses escaped unhurt.

THE SHAKERS' IDEAS of MEDICINE.

Nowadays when a man goes to his doctor, he is usually told that he has some unheard of disease with a long name, and when he leaves the office he does not know whether it is St. Vitus Dance or consumption that is gradually undermining his health.

It is therefore refreshing to talk with the Shakers, for their very simplicity commands confidence and respect, and we have the further satisfaction of knowing that they have devoted themselves to the study of disease and its cure for more than a hundred years.

The venerable old man whom the writer saw was only too glad to discuss his pet subject. He said that strange as it might seem, very few doctors realized that three-quarters of the most prevalent diseases were all attributable to faulty digestion.

He then went on to say that a child of average intelligence knows that putrid meat or decaying vegetables are poisonous and must be avoided, and yet these same foods, even if taken into the stomach in the freshest possible condition soon decompose unless digested and absorbed.

In such cases the resulting poisons enter the system, when aches and pains, weakness and debility soon follow as a natural consequence.

It was recognition of this that led the Shakers to devote their energies to the perfection of a product which stimulate the digestive organs and assist them to perform their proper work.

The first symptom of disordered digestion is loss of appetite, and the Shaker Digestive Cordial is wonderfully efficient in supplying any deficiency in this respect, at the same time it relieves all distress after eating. Furthermore, as was carefully explained by our venerable friend, it is absolutely harmless.

Better evidence of the Shaker's confidence in it could not be found than in the fact that they have placed 10 cent sample bottles in the hands of all druggists, assured that if once tried it will produce such immediate and marked benefit that it will be continued.

From Two Points of View.

Looking at the price of the Harrison Town & Country Ready Mixed Paint by the gallon—there are plenty of mixtures on the market that can discount it. But by the job—there is no competition. A paint that will cover 300 square feet on a poor surface two coats per gallon, and stand all climatic changes, can afford to ignore the so-called cheap brands which spread and wither under the brush, although they have the weight of adulterants in the can. No better opportunity to deceive is offered for the unscrupulous than in Ready-Mixed Paint. Get the product of the makers of a century, and you get the pure article—that's Harrisons' "Town and Country" Ready-Mixed Paints, with this big "H" on every can.

A Valuable Prescription.

Editor Morrison, of Worthington, Ind., "Sun," writes: "You have a valuable prescription in Electric Bitters, and I can cheerfully recommend it for Constipation and Sick Headache and as a general system tonic it has no equal." Mrs. Annie Stehle, 2025 Cottage Grove Ave., Chicago, was all run down, could not eat nor digest food, had a back ache which never left her and felt tired and weary, but six bottles of Electric Bitters restored her health and renewed her strength. Prices 50c and $1. Get a bottle at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

Mrs. J. H. Ackerman, of West Seventh street, has returned from New York, where she has been stopping for some time.

Mr. Isaac Horner, proprietor of the Burton House, Burton, W. V., and one of the most widely known men in the state was cured of rheumatism after three years of suffering. He says: "I have not sufficient command of language to convey any idea of what I suffered, my physicians told me that nothing could be done for me and my friends were fully convinced that nothing but death would relieve me of my suffering. In June 1894, Mr. Evens, then salesman for the Wheeling Drug Co., recommended Chamberlain's Pain Balm. At this time my foot and limb were swollen to more than double their normal size and it seemed to me my leg would burst, but soon after I began using the Pain Balm the swelling began to decrease, the pain to leave, and now I consider that I am entirely cured." For sale by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

Mrs. G. Thorn and daughter, Miss Lillian, of East Second street, and Mrs. A. C. Wyckoff and daughter, Helen, of LaGrande avenue, spent last Monday with Miss Grace Blackwell, of Brooklyn.

A. H. Patter, with E. C. Atkins & Co., Indianapolis, Ind., writes: "I have never before given a testimonial in my life. But I will say that for three years we have never been without Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy in the house, and my wife would as soon think of being without flour as a bottle of this Remedy in the summer season. We have used it with all three of our children and it has never failed to cure—not simply stop pain, but cure absolutely. It is all right, and anyone who tries it will find it so." For sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

THE LATEST WAR NEWS.

The Greeks Desire Peace—Germany Said to Be Playing a Bold Game.

Athens, June 1.—The Ephemeris demands the immediate prosecution of the leaders of the Ethnike hetairia for recent illegal acts. It states that M. Melas, a former mayor of Athens, is president of the governing body of the brotherhood, which includes also the legal adviser of the ministry of finance, two professors of the University of Athens and seven officers of the Greek army.

Greeks Want Peace.

London, June 1.—The Athens correspondent of The Times urges the powers to make a speedy and firm statement as to the Cretan difficulty and to insist upon Turkish evacuation, after which, he says, the Cretan chiefs would be willing to accept autonomy. If, on the contrary, Turkey is allowed to send more troops to Crete, there will be a renewal of the horrors of 1866-8.

Greeks Hear Good News.

London, June 1.—The corresponden: of The Standard at Athens says the Greeks are greatly encouraged by the rumor that a navy contractor named Kolla has received an order to provision the British fleet of 40 men-of-war, to be concentrated at Phalerum.

Germany's Bold Game.

London, June 1.—The correspondent of The Standard at Constantinople says that the prevalent opinion there is that Germany is playing a bold game in order to force Russia to declare openly either for or against Turkey.

PICTURES IN MIDAIR.

A New Idea In Photography Successfully Carried Out.

New York, June 1.—William A. Eddy took the first double photograph in midair that has ever been secured. He did this with special apparatus after a year of study.

By his invention it will be possible to take from midair a perfect photograph of the entire horizon line. With such an apparatus Eddy claims that a photograph can be taken at sea which will show a ship approaching when it is 10 miles beyond the horizon line as seen from a ship's deck.

The inventor is confident his apparatus can be used to great advantage during war. The photographs were taken with two cameras, but it is proposed to arrange eight so that they will photograph the entire horizon at once.

CONDENSED DISPATCHES.

An earthquake shock was felt in Washington, Cleveland and Zanesville.

Eight little children were killed at Denver, Colo., by the collision of a train with a wagon.

H. B. Niles, president of the Equitable Mercantile company of New York city, killed himself.

Memorial day was observed with parades and the decorating of graves in New York and neighboring cities.

Former Assistant Secretary of State Joseph D. Hall, who fell from a second story window at Trenton, has died from his injuries.

Official reports state that over 200 cases of black plague occurred in two of the largest towns in Formosa during early May.

EARTHQUAKE SHOCKS

Reports From Different Places Show Their Wide Range.

FELT IN THE NATIONAL CAPITAL.

Although They Caused Some Alarm, but Little Damage Was Done In Any Place. Seem to Have Been Prevalent Over a Wide Territory.

Washington, June 1.—An earthquake shock was felt here. It lasted about 50 seconds and caused chandeliers to sway and doors to tremble perceptibly.

It was noticed at the capitol, in the Telephone Exchange and in several of the high buildings.

In the Associated Press office, in The Post building, the vibrations were felt very distinctly.

A watchman at the Naval observatory said that the shock lasted nearly a minute, and that the movement was from south to north.

The self recording instrument in the weather bureau shows that the disturbance began at 1:58¾ and lasted five minutes. The movement was from south to north.

Two Distinct Shocks.

Knoxville, June 1.—Two distinct shocks of earthquake were felt in Knoxville. Reports vary as to the length of the shocks, some claiming they were at least half a minute in duration. Several large buildings were badly shaken, and two chimneys fell. The movement of the disturbance was from west to east. Reports from all over east Tennessee and southwest Virginia indicate that in some places the shock was felt stronger than in Knoxville. At Bristol it continued 30 seconds. It came from the southwest and shook buildings so that persons ran into the streets. Several chimneys were thrown down. Middlesboro, Ky., also felt the shock.

Two Shocks at Norfolk.

Norfolk, June 1.—Two distinct earthquake shocks were felt here, lasting seven and eight seconds respectively. There was an exodus from several office buildings and dwellings and considerable alarm caused in various parts of the city, but no damage was done. The shocks were about ten seconds apart.

People Ran From Their Houses.

Charleston, W. Va., June 1.—A severe earthquake shock was felt here. In many buildings the furniture was moved by the vibrations. The people were panic stricken, and many ran out of the large business houses. The vibrations were from north to south and lasted about 15 seconds.

Alarm at Danville.

Danville, Va., June 1.—An earthquake shock was felt here and caused much alarm. Buildings were shaken, but no damage resulted. The shock, which consisted of three distinct vibrations and lasted over one minute, was preceded by a roaring sound, resembling that by a conflagration.

Charlotte, N. C., June 1.—A very perceptible earthquake shock of 30 seconds' duration was felt here. Many of the pictures in the art rooms of the Woman's exposition were found hanging out of their correct positions after it was over. Bricks were thrown from chimneys.

Only Slight In Savannah.

Savannah, June 1.—Savannah felt a slight earthquake. Its direction was from east to west. The tremor was recorded at the weather bureau, seventy-fifth meridian time. Windows and doors were shaken throughout the city, and many were made dizzy by the vibrations.

Distinct Shock at Wheeling.

Wheeling, June 1.—A distinct earthquake shock was felt all over this city and in the surrounding towns. No damage was done so far as could be learned. The earthquake lasted about 30 seconds and was violent enough to shake brick buildings slightly.

Chimneys Shaken Down.

Lynchburg, Va., June 1.—A shock of earthquake was experienced here. Bricks were shaken from a number of chimneys and furniture and crockery jostled. Considerable alarm was created in some quarters. No damage of consequence was done.

Slight In East Tennessee.

Chattanooga, June 1.—A slight earthquake shock was felt throughout east Tennessee from Bristol to Chattanooga. No damage is reported, but the shock was very perceptible.

Slight at Newport News.

Newport News, Va., June 1.—A slight earthquake shock was felt here. The disturbance was so mild that it was imperceptible to many persons, and no damage is reported.

Greensboro Shaken.

Greensboro, N. C., June 1.—This city was severely shaken by an earthquake, but no damage was done. Similar shocks are reported from many surrounding towns.

Felt Over the State.

Raleigh, June 1.—Reports from all over the state report an earthquake shock. Very little damage was done. In a few instances chimneys were shaken down.

Felt Over Several States.

Cincinnati, June 1.—Special dispatches report earthquakes felt distinctly all over Ohio, Kentucky and West Virgina.

At Wilmington, N. C.

BOROUGH GOVERNMENT.

The many boroughs of the State formed under the several laws since declared by the courts to be unconstitutional, are apparently not yet out of the woods so far as their legality goes, notwithstanding that the act of 1896 sought to give a legal existence to those boroughs that confessedly at that time were only de-facto municipalties. The Court of Errors and Appeals in a decision rendered a few days ago in a Belmar case, refused to pass upon the constitutionality of the act of 1896, and referred the case back to the Supreme Court for a decision on this point. If the act of 1896 should be declared unconstitutional the scores of boroughs formed under the acts of 1890 and 1891 and the act for the formation of seaside boroughs would be as badly off as ever. Their only hope then would be in taking refuge under the general borough act of 1897. Good lawyers who have given the matter study, say that the act 1897 is not so open to attack on a question of constitutionality as is the act of 1896, and that it is probable that legislation has at last been enacted which will at last convert these de-facto boroughs into boroughs with an unquestionable legal existence.

NEWSPAPER KICKERS.

An observing contemporary says it is worth remembering that no paper is printed for one person, any more than a hotel is built especially for one guest. People who become displeased with something they find in a newspaper, should remember that the very thing that displeases them is often the very thing that pleases somebody who is just as important as they are.

Cooking Lectures.

The Plainfield Gas and Electric Light Company has engaged Mrs. Lemcke, of Brooklyn, to deliver a series of three lectures on cooking on gas stoves, with a view of demonstrating the fact that anything done on a coal range can be equally as well done on a gas stove. The first lecture was delivered this morning in the Casino of the Union County Country Club at 10:30 o'clock and the two remaining ones will be at the same place and hour tomorrow and Thursday. The menus will be different at each lecture, so that all three may be attended with interest and profit.

An Opportunity You Now Have of testing the curative effects of Ely's Cream Balm, the most positive Cure for catarrh known. Ask your druggist for a 10 cent trial size or send 10 cents, we will mail it. Full size 50 cents. ELY BROS., 56 Warren St., N. Y. City. My son was afflicted with catarrh. I induced him to try Ely's Cream Balm and the disagreeable catarrhal smell all left him. He appears as well as any one.—J. C. Olmstead, Arcola, Ill.

Bitten by a Dog.

Harold Fenno, of Watchung avenue, nine years old, was bitten by a dog while on his way to school this morning. The canine was following a carriage but left it and ran at the boy who was passing at the corner of Watchung avenue and Franklin place. The boy's leg was badly torn and lacerated so that it was necessary for Dr. Murray to cauterize the wound.

Accepted a Call as Pastor.

Arthur Ernest Crane, the son of Rev. Arthur Crane, the evangelist, who is pursuing his studies in Crozer Theological Seminary, has received a call as acting pastor of the Baptist church of Milton, West Virginia, during the summer vacation. He has accepted and will enter on his studies the second Sunday of June.

Arguing for a New Trial.

Counselor W. K. McClure went to Trenton today to argue for a motion for the purpose of securing a new trial in the case of Phelps against Howell. On Friday an effort will be made to show cause why a new trial should be granted.

HONORED DEAD HEROES

any sort of a celebration. So with Memorial Day, it is not what it used to be when it was instituted by Gen Logan. The speaker dwelt on the fact that in 1861 it was the best men the country had that enlisted to save the Nation and to preserve it from destruction. While the men in blue were fighting on the battlefield he was doing his part in the pulpit and on the platform. The doctor related the story of how the Prince of Wales came to this country just before the war broke out and how the First Division, New York Regiments, refused to turn out and act as an escort, but when the call came for men to go to the front and fight for the country they were very quick to respond.

The war, he said, was the crisis of elements which has been simmering for years and it was no child's play. There were many partisan forces and these all worked against the soldier to his own destruction. It was not the politicians that secured the victory, but a hard and desperate struggle on the part of loyal, patriotic men. Washington adopted the idea of liberty, and ever since there has been a fight to maintain it.

Dr. Lowry related many personal incidents during his address which were greatly enjoyed by all, and at the end his remarks were given a hearty round of applause, and he was presenten with a beautiful bouquet of flowers by the members of the Woman's Relief Corps.

After a selection by the chorus of children a recitation was given by Miss Try Mattox, which was followed with an act entitled "Decorating the Graves of the Unknown Dead." On the stage was an improvised grave beside of which stood Charles Stephens representing the veteran with one arm, and while Retta Nash sang a solo the grave was decorated by Gene Knowland and Frank Weigmann. In this part Mrs. Clarence Leland represented the Daughter of Veteran, H. S. Thatcher the Son of Veteran, while W. R. Mattox took the part of a Comrade. The last number on the programme was a tableau arranged by W. R. Mattox entitled "America." Then there were recitations from forty girls representing each State in the Union. In this Mrs. Summers acted the part of Liberty, Charles Stephens the wounded soldier, Raymond McVoy the Son of Veteran. Miss Sadie Mattox the Daughter of a Regiment, and I. Stites a sailor. All were arranged in an attractive and picturesque manner, and the burning of different colored lights made a pretty effect. The scene closed with the singing of America in which all took part. Miss Nash was the efficient accompanist, and she was also presented with a large bouquet of flowers.

This concloded the exercises, and as the band played a patriotic air the assembled audience gradually left the hall, all feeling as though they had passed a most instructive and profitable time

Wrecked His Wheel, Saved Himself.

William Johnson, the colored janitor at the Seminary, met with an accident Saturday evening that resulted in the wrecking of his wheel and a very narrow escape for himself. He was riding down West Seventh street, near Central avenue, on the left hand side of the street, when he suddenly encountered a carriage coming in the opposite direction. Johnson crashed into the horse but escaped by throwing himself off the wheel into the gutter. The horse trampled on the wheel and wrecked it. The driver of the carriage was evidently afraid that he was to blame for he refused to give his name, and afterwards drove away as fast as possible.

Two men from Newark, while riding on a tandem between Bound Brook and this place, yesterday, had a very bad smashup, mashing the front wheel completely. They came to this place and took the cars for Newark.

SCOTCH PLAINS.

A very delightful musicale was given by the pupils of Miss Avis Lillian Nicholl at her residence on Mountain avenue, on Saturday afternoon. The selections evidenced taste and discrimination and were performed in a manner that elicited general approbation and applause from those present and bore strong testimony to the conscientious application and classical appreciation which are so prominent in Miss Nicholl's own work. Among those participating were the Misses Marion Hall, Mamie Miller, Lillie Fancher, Mary Westcott, Janet Carter, Florence Bettman, Christine Bettman, Ethel Kyte and Harriet Collins.

LINCOLN.

On account of the rain, instead of having the dedication ceremonies in Lincoln Park, where all arrangements had been made for it, a platform was erected in the depot park and an interesting programme carried out. Members of Pioneer Council, J. O. U. A. M., of Bound Brook, took charge of raising a large American flag. Drake's Band gave a concert until 12 o'clock. An interesting feature was when S. D. Drake made arrangements to have the telephone at the depot convey to the editorial rooms of The Daily Press, several parties in Elizabeth, New Brunswick, Bound Brook and Somerville, the music of the band, 125 feet away from the instrument. A repast was furnished at Lincoln villa for the orators and many guests. The band concert was resumed at 1:30 until 3 p. m., when S. D. Drake, acting as master of ceremonies, addressed an appreciative audience, and introduced Gen. J. Madison Drake, of Elizabeth, who gave an interesting address. He was followed by J. B. Cleaver, of Lincoln, who delivered an oration on the life, virtues and qualities of Abraham Lincoln.

Mrs. William E. Love, of Park avenue, sailed on the steamer St. Louis on Saturday to join her daughter, Miss Love, who is at school in Paris.

WESTFIELD

COMRADES REMEMBERED

MEMORIAL DAY FITTINGLY OBSERVED IN WESTFIELD.

Patriotic Addresses in the Churches—Flags Were at Half-Mast and Veterans' Graves Were Decorated by the G. A. R.

Memorial Day in Westfield began on Sunday evening with the holding of patriotic services in the churches. Rev. N. W. Cadwell gave a talk on "The Dead Heroes of the War" in the Presbyterian church, and National airs and patriotic songs were rendered by the large chorus choir. In the Methodist church there was a patriotic young people's meeting, Sunday evening, under the auspices of the Epworth League. The topic was "God and Home and Native Land." The rain of Sunday night and yesterday morning interfered somewhat with the events of Memorial Day proper. The parade of the G. A. R. veterans to Fairview cemetery, at 10 o'clock a. m., under escort of the Jr. O. U. A. M., did not take place, much to the disappointment of a fair sized crowd who gathered to witness the patriotic spectacle. The dead were not unremembered, however. Comrades Harden, Reese, Fink and Mitchell drove in a carriage to Fairview and to the old Presbyterian cemetery and there placed flowers and flags upon the graves of twenty two soldiers. Two handsome silk flags that were placed upon the graves of D. F. Staples and W. H. Miller, in Fairview, were the gift of U. S. Grant Post, 327, G. A. R., of Brooklyn. Throughout the town flags were displayed at half mast. At the Children's Country Home a successful lawn festival was held from 2 until 6 o'clock. Tables were placed at convenient places upon the lawn, and decorations of flags and lanterns were arranged. The stages which ran from Westfield post-office every twenty minutes, were heavily laden with passengers. The good things went off rapidly, and a comfortable sum was realized for the home.

A tie game of baseball was played in Westfield last Saturday between the Westfield club nine and the Manhattan Field Club, of New York. The feature of the game was the perfect pitching of Higgins, of the Westfield team, who struck out the first twelve men who came to the bat before him. No runs were scored until the third innings, when Westfield pounded the ball hard and scored six runs. In the fifth the Manhattans had made one run; two men were out and one man was on third. The ball was pounded. McDede at second made a phenomenal stop, but instead of playing the ball to first he played it home and made a wild throw. In this inning the visiting team also scored six runs, and as no more runs were made on either side, the score remained a tie, 6 to 6. At the end of the seventh innings the game was called. The fielding of the Westfield team in this game showed much improvement.

A successful strawberry and ice-cream festival for the benefit of St. Paul's Episcopal church, was held on the lawn or Charles N. Codding's residence, corner of Boulevard and Park street, Saturday afternoon and evening. Decorations of flags and Japanese lanterns were arranged so as to secure an effect. The five tables were were in charge of the Miss Ada Sergeant, Miss Hazel Wallace and Miss Hilda Green. The grab-bag was presided over by Miss Ethel Green. The large number of patrons present thoroughly enjoyed the good things, and incidentally added a neat sum to the church fund.

A game with Rutgers College, in Westfield, was scheduled for yesterday afternoon, but the New Brunswick boys failed to appear, probably on account of the uncertainty of the weather. A practice game took place instead between the Westfield club team and a picked nine. Wm. Stitt umpired the game in a creditable manner.

The Westfield Stars defeated the Roselle Junior baseball team at Roselle Saturday, by the score of 18 to 10.

The pupils of Miss Ella Ferris will give their musicale Thursday evening, the 10th.

Mrs. John Dorvall has returned from Europe.

Master Raymond Smith has whooping cough.

His Boss to the Rescue.

Henry Schaeder, a resident of Roselle, came to Plainfield yesterday and wandered into the borough, where he imbibed too freely and became rather noisy. Chief Marshal Wilson arrested him. Schaeder resisted the officer, and the latter found it necessary to use force. This morning he was arraigned before Recorder Thomas and Schaeder was sentenced to pay a fine of $12 or go to jail for sixty days. At the request of Schaeder, Chief Wilson telephoned to Daniel Schwartz, employer of Schaeder, who keeps a butcher shop at Roselle, and Schwartz said that he would come to Plainfield this afternoon and pay his workman's fine.

To Consider Church Enlargement.

A congregational meeting of Trinity Reformed church, for discussing the subject of raising the present church edifice and providing a commodious Sunday-school room under the church nearly even with the ground, has been called for Wednesday evening, June 9th, at which time a full and free discussion of the contemplated improvement will be entered into and a vote of the congregation will be taken on the subject. It seems almost certain that the project will be voted for by the congregation, as the needs for a larger Sunday-school are very necessary to meet the present crowded room.

A Family Reunion.

The Fenner family living in this locality held a reunion at Weston, Somerset county, yesterday. There was present about 150 people, nearly all of whom were relatives. The day was passed in renewing family acquintances and not the least pleasing was the very fine dinner served at noon. Among those present from Plainfield were: Mr. and Mrs. Henry Van Middlesworth, Mrs. Horace J. Martin and family and Miss Ella Fenner.

And There Was Light.

On Saturday night last about forty visitors met at Lincoln depot, the occasion being the turning on of the electric lights in the new town for the first time, which was performed by J. B. Cleavers, young son and daughter, and Mrs. L. D. Drake. The Somerset county telephone company also connected Lincoln with Bound Brook for the first time on this night.

THE AMERICAN QUEEN COMPETITION.

A Columbia FREE!

A lady's Columbia Bicycle, 1897 Model, will be given to the winner in THE AMERICAN QUEEN competition, which will be open to all the subscribers to THE AMERICAN QUEEN until June 30, 1897.

The Columbia, the standard bicycle of the world, has been selected for this competition, because the publishers of THE AMERICAN QUEEN are convinced that it is the best and that the woman who wins it would have it in preference to any other make.

The Columbia is now on exhibition at our store and will remain on exhibition until June 30th, when the competition will close and the Columbia will be awarded to the fortunate winner.

The contest which we have just inaugurated, through which some subscriber to THE AMERICAN QUEEN is going to win a fine, high grade $100 Columbia Bicycle, is already well under way. The contest will remain open until June 30 1897. The conditions and plan of this contest are simply these: We purpose presenting a Columbia Bicycle 1897 Model, to the lady subscriber who furnishes the best menu, for one week, for a family of five, the cost of such menu not to exceed $10 for the week. The merits of the menus submitted will be passed upon by the Editor of THE AMERICAN QUEEN, Miss Mary [illegible], and the person furnishing the best menu, in Miss Bisland's judgment, will be presented with the bicycle.

The menu submitted should be enclosed in one envelope and the name of the sender in a separate one, the two being handed in or sent in together, addressed to us. The envelopes containing the menus will then be numbered and sent to Miss Bisland and the envelopes containing the names reserved by us, and when Miss Bisland makes her choice of the menus she will inform us of the number of the winner and we will then announce the result in local newspapers and THE AMERICAN QUEEN.

The only requirement necessary to admit you to this contest is that you be a subscriber to THE AMERICAN QUEEN.

The splendid wheel which will go to the winner is on exhibition in the store and may be seen at any time.

We want everybody to feel free to go into this contest and we hope that hundreds of our customers will fix their minds on good things to eat and mould them into an acceptable menu for the week, and at the same time keep the cost down to $10.

THE COMPETITION. Our aim in offering this competition is to have every lady we can reach with this announcement become a reader of THE AMERICAN QUEEN. THE QUEEN is published at $1 a year, but to give all our friends a chance to get this splendidly useful home publication for the ensuing year and at the same time have a chance to become the proud possessor of the standard cycle, we shall until the 30th day of June receive subscriptions (only one, however, will be taken from each family) for the nominal fee of 25 Cents a year. Come to the store at once, register your name receive your receipt for THE QUEEN for one year and try to win the Columbia.

ATTEMPTED MURDER.

Proprietress of a Fashionable Boarding House Shot by Her Admirer.

Atlantic City, June 1.—Mrs. Phoebe H. Phillips, proprietess of the Kennett House, a fashionable boarding house on Ocean avenue, was shot and fatally wounded by Robert Hibbert.

Mrs. Phillips is 43 years of age and has three grown children. Hibbert is only 22 years of age. They both formerly lived at Kennett Square, Pa. Mrs. Phillips said in her antemortem statement that for some time Hibbert has been importuning her to marry him, but that she declined, owing to the disparity in their ages.

He entered the kitchen where she was and almost immediately began to shoot at her. He fired five shots, four of which took effect. Hibbert then turned the revolver on himself and pointed at his head, but the weapon failed to explode. He then left the house and went to police headquarters, where he gave himself up.

He could assign no cause for his act except that he thought Mrs. Phillips treated him coldly when he entered the house. He said he hoped she would die. The woman can live but a few hours. She pleads with those about her to save her assailant from punishment. She believed that Hibbert was not in his right mind.

The President Confers Degrees.

Washington, June 1.—President McKinley conferred the degrees on about 50 graduates of the senior and postgraduate classes of the National University Law school at the annual commencement exercises held in this city. The theater was crowded, and on the stage were many people of note. President Grant was the first head of the institution and conferred the degrees on its graduates, a custom that was followed by Presidents Hayes, Arthur and Cleveland in his first term.

Dispensary Law Killed.

Columbia, S. C., June 1.—Judge Simonton has filed a decision which looks like a deathblow to the state liquor dispensaries. He holds unconstitutional parts of the act of 1897 restricting the importation of liquor in original packages for personal use or the sale of such packages within this state for use in the state. Governor Ellerbe is astonished at the decision. It is believed he will close the dispensaries or call an extra session of the legislature.

Died of Starvation Caused by Lockjaw.

Camden, N. J., June 1.—William H. Parks, a dealer in coal, died here of starvation caused by lockjaw. No food or drink had passed his throat for five days. Ten physicians were in consultation to save his life. He was sick for three weeks. For the first two weeks after his jaws set he was able to take nourishment owing to an operation. Parks was hurt by a cake of ice falling and striking him on the back of the head.

Shot Down From Ambush.

Winder, Ga., June 1.—Edward Wright was killed by an unknown person on one of the back streets of this place. He had just left the chapel, where he sang in the choir for the commencement exercises of the Windser institute, when he was shot down from ambush. Suspicion rests on a young man with whom Wright had some words over a young woman with whom both were infatuated.

A Needle In Her Wrist.

Trenton, June 1.—Mrs. Annie Riker of 14 Ogden street four years ago ran a needle into the tip of one of her fingers, which broke off, and a part remained under the skin. A few days ago she felt a pain in her wrist near the pulse, and on careful examination the broken part of the needle was located. She will have it removed as soon as it comes nearer to the surface.

Chinese Will Control Railways.

London, June 1.—A dispatch to The Times from Hongkong says the Belgian-Chinese railway syndicate will be under Chinese control if the loan is floated, and Sheng Ta Jen's position will become very strong. The syndicate will have the exclusive privilege of furnishing railway material and of supplying engineers for building all the important lines in the future.

Government to Control Trusts.

London, June 1.—The Vienna correspondent of The Daily Mail says the government submitted to the reichsrath its bill providing for the state control of rings and trusts in the sugar, petroleum, salt and beer industries, with a view of preventing the abuses of combinations and the extortion of high prices. The bill will be applied later to other industries.

American Securities Stronger.

London, June 1.—On the strength of the currency statement of Mr. Gage, the American secretary of the treasury, American securities were stronger on the Stock Exchange, and competition for them more active than for a long time has been the case. Purchases were made over the whole list by both London and continental operators.

Killed by the Fire Truck.

Dobbs Ferry, N. Y., June 1.—While running to a fire Charles Lange was dragged to death under the wheels of Resolute Hook and Ladder company's truck. Young Lange attempted to help pull the truck, when he slipped in the mud under the wheels. He was a son of Police Justice John Lange and was 16 years old.

Chapel Dedicated.

White Plains, N. Y., June 1.—The Divine Compassion chapel has been dedicated. Archbishop Corrigan officiated, assisted by many dignitaries of the church. The chapel was built in memory of Mgr. Preston, founder of the order of the Sisters of the Divine Compassion.

Decoration at Chattanooga.

Chattanooga, June 1.—The graves of the 14,000 Union soldiers buried in the National cemetery at this place were decorated with elaborate ceremonies. Captain J. H. MacGowan of Washington delivered the annual oration. An immense throng of people was present.

Suicide of a Japanese.

Hoboken, June 1.—Yane Kaw, 35 years old, a Japanese cook for a family at 1034 Bloomfield street, cut his throat with a razor. He had been expecting to receive money from Japan and was despondent because it had not been sent. He died from the wound.

A POINTER

better worth following than any other will bring you direct to our store when you want anything in the line of paints. When a mistake is easily avoided it's scarcely worth while to run the risk of making one. Buying poor paint is a needless waste of money. It's paying for something you don't want, because it won't answer the purpose. Only paint that wears and is proof against the exposure of our climate is worth the cost of putting on. Ours are best and cheapest.

Delicate Dress Goods.

Some gowns are so dainty in the weave, so delicate in tint, that they seem to soil by being looked at—one or two wearings making them unpresentable, NOT USELESS. We make a specialty of cleaning fine fabrics, the more delicate the material, the better the results. Sometimes an accident will ruin a gown, without injuring the texture We dye them then, sometimes we get a prettier effect than the original color. Fine goods stand redyeing. The finer the material the better the new color. We charge so little for cleaning or dyeing, that even if you are in doubt as to the result, it's worth while to experiment. Want a new evening gown for a dollar or two? Laundry drives will receive your work.

MAKE LIFE EASY

For the Old Folks—Lighten the Burden Their Aged Backs Must Bear.

Old age has many infirmities, some of which are more prevalent than kidney disorders. Have you ever noticed how the old people complain of backache, lame back and general listlessness? And there are many other symptoms of which they do not speak, such as bloating of the limbs, painful and infrequent urination, of excessiveness of urinary discharge. Most people think they are too old to find relief and cure, but, this is not so. No better evidence than the following, which comes from a Newark citizen.

Mrs. E. Knott is a resident of Newark. Her address is 95 Academy street, where she has a little vegetable and grocery store. Mrs. Knott is seventy-two years of age, and kidney trouble has made the work of attending to her little store a burden. She says:

"For a number of years I have been very bad at times, and during the past year I have grown worse. The stooping over and lifting in my store nearly broke me down. I could hardly sleep at night, and the only position in which I could get any relief was flat on my back. I even found it painful to rise after sitting any length of time. Every little exertion or the slightest cold affected the kidneys and would settle in the back. It would cause retention to the urine also. I began to take Doan's Kidney Pills for my trouble, and grew much better. Continuing their use I got entirely over my trouble. I derived so much benefit from Doan's Kidney Pills that I have recommended them to many friends and shall always do so in the future."

Cheyennes on a Raid Against the Whites.

WHITE SETTLERS ARE ALARMED.

Reports of the Killing of Soldiers and Settlers Received—Some Bloody Work May Soon Be Expected.

Denver, May 31.—A special dispatch from Helena, Mon., says that the Cheyenne Indians have gone on the warpath and are said to have killed about a dozen men, including five United States soldiers.

The Indians have no reservation of their own, but roam over the southern part of the state near the Crow Indian reservation.

The white settlers are up in arms and the women and children are being sent into the northern towns for safety.

The Cheyennes make the Lame Deer agency their headquarters. Hoover, a sheep herder, was recently shot while herding sheep, and it was proved that Indians did it.

He was killed because he caught several Indians killing sheep. This so incensed the stockmen that they armed themselves and will fight to protect their homes, help and stock.

Two companies of colored cavalry from Custer were ordered to the agency Wednesday, and on Saturday a courier arrived from the agency with information that George Walter, the postmaster, and Lou Alderson, a stockman, had been shot and killed; also that the Indians had shot into the cavalry and killed 5 soldiers and had 60 cowboys surrounded.

Outbreak May Spread.

There are great grounds for fear of the outbreak spreading. The Cheyennes are determined, and they are being reenforced by renegade Crows.

Rosebud ranchers received a consignment of rifles and ammunition at this point today. Settlers have moved all their families from near the reservation.

Ranchmen and stockmen have organized at Cheyenne agency and demanded the Indians who killed Hoover. The names of the Indians are known, and they are protected by 50 bucks.

Sheriff Gibbs and Coroner Bateman have returned from Barranger's ranch, in the neighborhood of which the inquest was held on the body of Hoover. The verdict charged the Cheyenne Indians with his murder.

While the inquest was proceeding 60 men under Legislator James Brown arrived on their way to the agency.

The sheriff pleaded with them to return and told them that 60 of them against 400 or 500 Indians, armed and such fighters as the Cheyennes are, would be helpless.

The sheriff learned that the crime was committed by three of the band, led by White Bull, who said a day or two previous that his heart was bad—that "he wanted to eat white man's heart."

The agent said he knew one of the murderers and thought, with a little time, he could arrest all of them.

He said he had a sufficient number of soldiers to surround the Indians and would cut off their rations till the murderers are turned over.

Ranchers Will Wait.

Though there was much dissatisfaction at the turn affairs had taken, the ranchers agreed to disperse for two weeks to allow the agent time to make the arrests. If not then done, the original plan of attacking the Indians is to be carried out.

On the way down on Friday a courier overtook the sheriff and his deputies, saying that White Bull's band had during the night escaped from the agency, that the force of settlers was being reassembled, that two troops of cavalry from Custer had been sent over and the Indians had killed some of them, and that this band of Indians was liable to do much damage to ranchers, white men and cattle.

Deputy Sheriffs Smith and Winters have arrived at Miles City after having been ordered off the Cheyenne reservation by the military agent, Stouch. They report that when the negro troopers from Fort Custer arrived at the agency the Indian who admitted doing the killing could easily have been arrested, as he was pointed out to the troops, who were prepared for action if necessary to make the arrest, but the agent did not desire the arrest made at that time and prevented the officer in command of the troops from exercising authority then.

Indians In War Paint.

The Indians were decked out in war paint and riding the ominous circle, waving their blankets, displaying their winchesters and challenging the citizens to come out and fight them. They claimed they did not want to fight the soldiers, but did want to fight the citizens. Captain Stouch asked the citizens to leave the agency. The deputy sheriffs refused to go unless upon a written order. This he gave them, stating their presence might excite the Indians to further deeds of violence. The deputies who came to Miles returned with Sheriff Gibbs, having a warrant for the arrest of Agent Stouch for interfering with officers in the discharge of their duty and warrants for the known Indian and two John Doe warrants.

Orders were given to the ordnance officer at Fort Keogh to have 10,000 rounds of ammunition ready for use.

It is supposed more troops are to go to the agency. There are now here six companies under command of Major Merell of Fort Custer. Settlers' wives and children from the Tongue river country are arriving from Miles City in all kinds of conveyances. All kinds of rumors are rife, but as news has to come most of the distance by courier, nothing definite is known as to those reported killed.

Secretary Alger Has Doubt.

West Point, N. Y., June 1.—Secretary of War Alger, when asked about the Indian outbreak in Montana, said that he had no information in regard to the matter. He has received no official news of the Indian outbreak. Adjutant General Ruggles also said that he had received no recent news, though about a week ago, he said, the bodies of two white men were found, and two troops of cavalry were sent out from Fort Keogh to investigate the matter.

GOSSIP OF THE CYCLERS.

TEMS INTERESTING TO DEVOTEES OF THE STEEL STEEDS.

The Popular Exercise Provides Incidents and Expressions That are of Especial Moment When Wheeling is the Rage

Yesterday was not as great a day for the cyclists as was expected, for the rain came at the most inopportune time. The Crescent Wheelmen declared their races off in the morning and decided to postpone them until some future date. The track dried off more rapidly than was expected and a number of wheelmen were there in the afternoon and speeded on the track. Despite the mud and water, the Irvington-Milburn road-race was held in the morning. The course was mostly in poor condition and spills were numerous. One hundred and seven riders started and fifty-four finished. George W. Soden, 6:30 handicap, of Newark, a member of the Hunter squad, won the race in 1 hour, 21 minutes, 4 2-5 seconds. R. M. Alexander, of Hartford, won the first time prize from a scratch in 1 hour, 17 minutes, 9 seconds.

The New York Evening Telegram is arranging a bicycle parade for June 5th, at 3 o'clock, on Riverside Drive and the Boulevard. Captain Charles P. Staubach is the Grand Marshal. The New Jersey Club Division will be under the charge of F. L. C. Martin. The Evening Telegram parade is one of the events of the wheeldom. This year participation in the parade is made particularly desirable to New Jersey clubs. If it happens that a New Jersey club has more men in line than any other club in the parade, a magnificent trophy will come to this State. The smaller clubs will also have a chance for the trophy to be awarded to the club having a membership of from twenty to forty, and turning out the best percentage. Two prizes are sure to come to New Jersey. One will be for the best New Jersey club parading over sixty members, and the other to the best New Jersey club parading between thirty and sixty members. The winners will be decided by taking into consideration three things—members, appearance and riding. The prizes are magnificent. Entries should be forwarded to the Grand Marshal, care of the Evening Telegram, New York city. All other information may be obtained of Frank L. C Martin, of this city.

GOLF.

A great deal of interest centred in the opening of the golf season last Saturday afternoon on the grounds of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club when the preliminary play in the contest for the Chapman Cup was held. Those who qualified were: Williard Wadsworth, H. W. Beebe, F. W. Walz, Carl Wadsworth, Lester Glenny, Evarts Tracy, Dr. Ard and Harry West. Yesterday morning the above players met and continued the match and they were only three who survived so that they can play the semi-finals and finals. They were Dr. Ard, Harry West and H. W. Beebe. Beebe beat Fred Walz 1 up; Dr. Ard beat C. Walz 5 up and West beat Glenny 4 up. The finals will be played this week, probably.

TENNIS.

An interesting tennis match was played yesterday afternoon on the grounds of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club, when two Campbell racquets were offered as prizes to the winners. In the first round Fisk and Mason beat Messrs. Fish by default; Hunter and Richardson beat Rowland and Baker 6 0, 6-1; Finch and Simmonds beat Rider and Myers 6-2 9-7. The second round resulted in Walz and Wadsworth scoring a victory over Finch and Simmonds, 6-2 6 4; Hunter and Richardson beat Fisk and Mason 6 3, 6-1 In the finals Walz and Wadsworth beat Hunter and Richardson 6 2, 6-4.

AROUND THE BASES.

The P. A. C's were defeated at Flemington yesterday by a score of 12 to 5.

The crack team from the Bound Brook Athletic Club won two victories Saturday and Monday from rival teams. The Plainfield Athletic Club fell victim to the crack players from Bound Brook on Saturday afternoon and were defeated by a score of 12 to 9. Yesterday, the Bound Brooks administered a defeat to their old rivals, the Somerset base ball club of Somerville. The game was played in Somerville before a thousand people. Bound Brook won by a score of 21 to 12.

DECORATION DAY DRUNKS.

City Judge DeMeza Called to Pass Sentence on a Batch of Them.

Ed Hoover, alias "Smokestack Jack," was found dead drunk by Patrolman McCue on East Front street, yesterday afternoon. He took twenty days as an atonement.

Patrick Hayes went to Elizabeth and sentence was suspended on Joseph Traynor for fighting on West Third street, last evening. Patrolmen Myers arrested them.

William Drake, Philip Sheridan, Peter Reuter and Fred Randolph, colored, appeared before City Judge DeMeza, charged by Patrolman Totten with disturbing the peace of Paradise Alley. They were charged with trying to embrace and assault Bertha Monroe, a colored maid, from the alley. They were fined $15.

Bicycle a Finger Gasher.

Louis Drake, aged seventeen years, living at the corner of West Third street and Grant avenue, was cleaning his wheel yesterday morning preparatory to taking a ride, when his hand caught in one of the wheels with the result of crushing two fingers. The young man went to the hospital and Dr. Long found it necessary to amputate one of the fingers.

—A handsome monument has been placed in St. Mary's cemetery, erected to the memory of Rev. Father P. E Smyth's sister.

—Archie Laramour, who pleaded guilty to the charge of removing lead pipe from a West Seventh street residence, was brought before Judge McCormick at Elizabeth, Saturday. S.S. Swackhamer, of the firm of Swackhamer & Williams, made an eloquent plea for the lad. The Judge suspended sentence.

Dr. T. S. Davis and daughters returned home Saturday night from Old Point Comfort, where they have been stopping for ten days.

Editor Frank W. Runyon and wife, of this city, have returned from Old Point Comfort. Mr. Runyon's health was not much improved by the trip, but Mrs. Runyon came back much benefitted.

NURSERIES ON RAILROAD TRAINS

A Convenience for the Benefit of small Travelers.

Now comes the travelling nursery to take its place alongside the barber shop, bath room, etc., on our fast trains. The travelling nursery is to take up about the same amount of space as the private stateroom of the ordinary sleeping car. There will be a saving of space of several feet, however, as the wide seats on the sides of the state room below the berths are not needed in the nursery, being replaced by ottomans and tiny easy chairs scattered over the floor. In this way any danger from sudden starts or sharp curves is obviated. As a further protection against injury to the little ones, the walls of the nursery are heavily padded and the floor thickly carpeted, so that bumps and bruises will be altogether avoided. At each end of the compartment and firmly secured are two cosy cots in which the smaller children lie and watch the games of the older ones. Each car containing the nursery attachment will carry a matron or nurse, who will be selected with a special reference to her ability to amuse and care for her little charges, and she will have at hand supplies of milk, cookies and other edibles and drinkables dear to the infantile heart. She will also have charge of a medicine chest containing a full assortment of the simpler remedies for childish ailments. A miniature toy-shop is another adjunct of the travelling nursery, and it will contain everything from baby rattles to picture books and fairy tales. Nothing, in short, will be missing that would add to the comfort or amusement of the young travellers.—Railway Review.

WHY SHE BECAME AN ACTRESS.

Mrs. Siddons' Mother a Widow, forced to Keep Lodgers as a Means of Support.

Here is an anecdote said to have been related by Mrs. Scott-Siddons herself many years ago, when a friend asked what had impelled her to go upon the stage. In the early sixties she was living with her mother, the widow of an Indian officer, in a seaside village. They were very poor, their lodgings were more than humble, and the girl was anxiously wondering how she could contribute to the support of the little family. The problem was a hard one, for in those days the "sphere" of women was smaller than now, and their opportunities to make money were not numerous. Meanwhile her immediate duty was to try to make the shabby rooms pleasant and homelike. While engaged in this task she discovered that an old chiffonier which stood in one corner of the sitting room had only three legs. The missing fourth member had been replaced by a crumpled-up newspaper, which, judging from its dusty condition, had not been disturbed for many years. Mary Siddons removed the paper, found that it was a very old copy of the Annual Register, and on glancing over it found a long article detailing the triumph of her greatgrandmother in some long-forgotten play. The girl decided that this was a "leading," and at once resolved to seek fame and fortune as an actress. Being beautiful and intelligent, she soon obtained a chance to test her histrionic abilities, and won enough of success to raise her mother and herself to what, compared with her previous state, seemed almost like wealth.—New York Times.

A BEAUTY'S FACE ON A BANKNOTE.

Mme. Blaha, a Handsome Actress, Given this Distinction.

The proverbial repute for gallantry which the Hungarians have enjoyed through the centuries is being demonstrated with a vengeance these days by the Austro-Hungarian States Bank of Budapest. Its ultra-gallant director has induced the Government to permit the engraving of vignettes of the leading soubrettes and chanteuses of the country on its thousand gulden notes.

Director Gustav Kautz is an ardent votary of the histrionic art, and adores the celebrated Hungarian prima donna, Mme. Luise Blaha. Her radiant countenance, which, despite her advancing years, is still ravishingly beautiful, has been selected as the first to be engraved on the thousand gulden notes of 1897, which have already been issued. There is no doubt that the scheme will increase the circulation of the bank notes, as all the scions of nobility and all the dudes and dandies of the Slavic metropolis will be anxious to be able to boast of the possession of one or more of these notes, for Mme. Blaha, who has personified nearly all the great dramatic conceptions of Hungarian playwrights, is perhaps the most popular woman of the thrifty kingdom. She is accustomed to homage in the superlative, but this excels any eulogies ever bestowed upon her. In fact, the incident stands alone in history.—New York Journal.

Victoria's Rewards to Musical Artists.

When a singer has been commanded to Windsor her Majesty does not, as a rule, send a check as a return for the pleasure she has enjoyed. Instead, she forwards some useful or pretty gift. Mme. Albani is frequently the recipient of books, jewels, framed photographs, Scotch plaids, shawls, &c., and M. Jean de Reszke, [illegible] Wolff and Signor Toste are all possessors of costly pins, bestowed on them by the sovereign. When Mme Patti last appeared at Windsor she received a very beautiful diamond and sapphire brooch, and when Mme. Antoinette Sterling sang before the Queen she was presented with an exquisite silver tea service, upon which this amiable lady of quaint remarks is said to have exclaimed: "I have provided for her Majesty's aesthetic, and she provides for my temporal enjoyments."—London Figaro.

Heartlessly Deceived.

Ethel—You say Algy has been heartlessly deceived by a young woman. Did she lead him on to think that she loved him?

May—Oh, no; she led him on to believe that she didn't care a rap for him, and then when he carelessly proposed, accepted him on the spot.—Truth.

"I told her I would lay the world at her feet." "What did she say?" "She said that if I was that athletic I ought to be travelling with a show."—Roxbury Gazette.

He (who has just proposed)—"Don't give me your answer now. Think it over." She (calmly)—"I did think it over. I thought it all over when I saw you flirting so outrageously with the Barstow girl."

ESTABLISHED MAY 10, 1887. PLAINFIELD, N. J., WEDNESDAY, JUNE 2, 1897. TWO CENTS A COPY—$5 A YEAR.

ON MOUNT MINSI'S TOP.

THE DELIGHTFULLY RUSTIC SUMMER PLACE OF A PLAINFIELDER.

A Spot Designed by Nature to Make a Stay Romantic and Pleasureable—Party of Plainfielders Who Were There.

Nestled among the mountains of Pennsylvania is located the Delaware Water Gap, noted the world over for its natural beauty. Not far distant, about three miles, through a most romatic portion of the country, is located that particularly favored spot, Mount Minsi, towering far above its sister mountains. The natural beauty prominent in every nook and corner attracts the eye and one is almost bewildered as he finds himself surrounded with so much that is rustic and charming. Separating the Keystone State from that of New Jersey is the broad and rapidly flowing Delaware River, winding its way onward to a larger body of water. On the Pennsylvania side of the river traverses the Delaware and Lackawanna Railroad, while on the other side is the New York, Susquehanna and Western Railroad.

This is the spot where a party of Plainfielders had the delightful pleasure of spending Saturday, Sunday and Monday as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Nightingale, who have a residence in this city. Charming, indeed, was the host and hostess, and that they know full well how to entertain was clearly evidenced by the way they provided every comfort for those who were favored with an invitation to the above place.

The guests, which included a number of New York people as well as the Plainfielders, arrived at the Mount Minsi House early Saturday afternoon, and every one felt perfectly at home from the start. The reception was in true Pennsylvania style and this feature pervaded the atmosphere throughout the stay in the mountains. Of course, every one was seized with a large appetite upon their arrival and when supper time was reached a tempting repast was soon disposed of. Manager Warner had anticipated such a state of affairs and had prepared for it, and although this was the opening of the house everything worked with clock-like regularity. After supper the guests enjoyed a short stroll or a seat on the broad veranda where the cool breeze made one feel as though they were ten years younger.

When the time came to retire the guests were all provided with comfortable quarters. Surrounding the house in romantic places were five cozy cottages, each one made in a truly rustic manner and amply large to accomodate a number of people. Some of the cottages were located on the mountain-side while others were nearer the house. In the cottages every convenience is provided and living there is like being at home. The very excellent drinking water is obtained from a spring at the top of Mount Minsi and to drink this water is, indeed, invigorating.

After a comfortable night's rest the guests awoke rather early Sunday morning to enjoy all that was possible during their short stay, and after a good substantial breakfast small parties were formed and short trips were taken through the country, and the bracing atmosphere brought everyone home with a sharp appetite for dinner, which was a most delightful one.

In the afternoon the guests separated again and some enjoyed a drive to near by places, while others preferred to walk among the mountains. In the evening there was a social gathering of the happy party in one of the cottages and the evening was passed in singing to the accompaniment of a banjo.

Monday was one of the best enjoyed in the mountains. The weather was perfect and the many forms of amusement were all sought by the guests and tney never seemed to tire of any. Monday morning all were indeed sorry that the time for departure had arrived and it was with regret that the genial company separated. In a few hours each one had reached home and the trip to the mountains will be a life-long reminder of all that is pleasant and enjoyable. Anyone desiring to spend a summer or even a few weeks could find no better place than Mount Minsi, for everything that is healthful and enjoyable is there. An additional feature of the trip was the presence of G. Thorn and Bert Wyckoff, of this city, who made a number of very excellent views, both of the party and the surrounding country. The guests were all loud in their praise of the host and hostess and the best wishes of everyone was extended.

Those who formed the party included "Uncle" Dan and Mrs. Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. William F. Arnold, Assemblyman and Mrs. W. R. Coding-

HIGH SCHOOL STUDIES.

CHANGES THAT ARE PROPOSED FOR THE NEXT YEAR.

A Business Education to be Given by a Capable Instructor—More Room to be Given to the Scientific Department.

While all immediate action regarding a new High School by the Board of Education of Plainfield has been dropped, the members of the Board still speak of it and it is only a question of a few years when ground will be broken for a new edifice to take the place of the present building which has been outgrown by the school. Meanwhile it is necessary for the Board to do something to supply the growing needs of the students in the High School.

There will be several important changes in the courses in the High School in the next school year. For the benefit of the young men and young women who are now compelled to go to a business college to take a course in stenography and typewriting, a practical business course will be started in the High School. It will include stenography, typewriting, bookkeeping, commercial arithmetic and other needful studies of the same character. A professor, well up in those branches, will take charge of them.

The scientific department of a school grows more and more important in these days of scientific research when everybody finds a knowledge of the sciences of great value in almost any branch of work and so plans are being laid for a broadening of the scientific department of the High School, which has always been cramped in space and materials. There is at present but one science room in the High School for four classes. Another room, equipped with individual desks and tables for experimental work, so necessary in science, will be fitted up and ready for use in the fall. The room to be used is the one now occupied by Miss Day's class of the Grammar School, which will be transferred to the old Seventh-Day Baptist church structure in the fall. This room, in the days before the classes all sat in the assembly room, was known as the senior room. The old science room will be continued in its present use, but for classes where individual work is not so needful.

A BICYCLE SOCIABLE.

EPWORTH LEAGUE INAUGURATE ANOTHER WHEELING INNOVATION.

Chapter No. 1 to Have Their Summer Sociables Take the Form of a Bicycle Run on Country Roads Pleasant Evenings.

The Christian workers of Plainfield have taken the lead in the practical adoption of the bicycle among their methods of work. Plainfield was the first city in the country to have a church run. Last year, it will be remembered, Rev. C. L. Goodrich gathered the cycling members of his congregation and enjoyed a spin out on the country road together. Then Plainfield was the first to have a Christian Endeavor cycling squad, as has been organized this spring. Now the members of the Epworth League of the First M. E. church, Chapter No. 1, have planned a novel sociable in which the wheel is to play the all prominent part. The members are to assemble in wheeling dress and spend an evening on their wheels, enjoying a ride on Union county's famous roads.

The plan of a sociable on wheels has been spoken of by the officers of the League for some time but now the plan has taken practical shape and the run is set for Tuesday evening next. It will be for the members and such of their friends as they care to invite. The destination has not yet been decided upon, neither have the officers been chosen, but all that will be accomplished at the business meeting of the League on Friday evening.

There are an even hundred members of the League and it is estimated that nearly fifty per cent of them are riders of the wheel and will be able to go on the run.

Bound Brook Council Adjourns.

The Bound Brook Council was to meet last evening to take up the trolley ordinance. A large crowd was present, but to the surprise of all, when the time came for the question to be considered Councilman McNabb made a motion to adjourn, and being seconded by Councilman Ramsay, the body adjourned for one week. The time for the writ of certiarori served on the New York and Philadelphia Traction Company will expire on June 7, and as the Council adjourned for one week, the company proposes to call for immediate action.

HO! FOR VACATION DAYS.

A DESCRIPTION OF THE CAMP FOR Y. M. C. A. MEMBERS.

A Beautiful Place That is Endowed With All the Things That Make Camp Life One Round of Pleasure and Profit.

Ho! Ho! Vacation days are near! Tra la, Tra la, Tra la. Yes, the vacation days will soon be here, and the question comes to you and others, "Where are you going to spend your vacation?" Not an easy question to answer perhaps, but let me call your attention to the fact that up in the grand old "Bay State" (Massachusetts,) on the Connecticut river, is a little village by the name of Northfield, the birth place of the famous evangelist, D. L. Moody, and in this village, about one half of a mile from its centre, on an elevated piece of land, from which a beautiful view of the Connecticut river as it winds its way in and out can be had, and in the summer of '95, was organized the camp now known as "Camp Northfield," where young men from the heated and crowded cities have gone for the past two summers to get rest and pleasure and it is needless to say that they have found both in abundance. The "Old Camp Grounds" situated as they are, in a grove of stately pines, near the village and yet secluded, have grown dear to the camper who has spent many a happy day there. Four young men are assigned to a tent. No boughs for a bottom, thank you, but a good, solid floor of wood. A good cot, good mattress, warm blankets. Oh, how refreshing a sleep in the open air, with no New Jersey mosquitoes to bother the life out of you, and to entertain you with their charming (?) tune! Around the old camp fire, which is in the centre of the camping grounds, and around which the tents are formed in a circle, many a happy evening has been spent in singing songs, telling stories, cracking jokes, etc., etc. But what other pleasures are there for the campers? About a mile from camp is the Seminary ground where there are tennis courts, athletic field, etc. Baseball games are arranged throughout the season between camp teams and others Then there is the "Old Swimming Hole," where the campers have loads of sport. Three boats are at this point for the use of the campers and a swimming float adds to the pleasure of the swim. Many are the pleasures to be enjoyed at "Camp Northfield," too many in fact to mention, but if you will call at the Young Men's Christian Association rooms you can receive as much information as you may desire in regards to the camp and the cost of camping, which is moderate. This camp is open to all young men, whether members of the Y. M. C. A. or not.

WILL FIGHT MARTIN ACT.

PROPERTY OWNERS AGAINST PAYING TAXES PRIOR TO 1880.

Those Interested to Hold a Public Meeting and Formulate Plans and Employ Counsel and Fight the City to the End.

The recent action of the City Council in securing the enforcement of the Martin Act for those who, it is claimed, owe the city taxes previous to 1880, has not been received with any degree of satisfaction by a large number of those who are affected by the Act, and in consequence an opposition to the above action has been started by School Commissioner Lounsbury.

At an early date a meeting will be held in the Board of Trade rooms a large number of citizens will meet and organize for the purpose of fighting the Martin Act to a finish. At the same time counsel will be engaged and everything will be done in a strictly legal manner.

A representative of The Daily Press met Mr. Lounsbury today and confirmed the report of the proposed action on the part of the citizens. Mr. Lounsbury says that he does not propose to pay any amount of money for the mistakes of someone else, neither does he propose to pay the taxes owing the city from someone else. He received a bill of $300 for taxes supposed to be due the city on his property prior to 1880. He claims that he does not owe the money, but is willing to pay the city $1 in settlement. This the city has refused to accept.

Among those who are interested with Mr. Lounsbury as leaders in this movement are Joseph Sadford, J. T. Vail and Charles Hand. There are a host of others who have signified their intention to join the movement and have so stated their intention.

David Ryno, of East Second street, is among the latest to ride a wheel.

Mrs. G. T. Rhodes, of Grove street, has joined the great army of cyclists and enjoys many delightful spins on her silent steed.

FOUGHT AGAINST LIFE.

MRS. JOHN C. SMALLEY DIES BY THE ACT OF HER OWN HAND.

Drank a Cup of Poison Yesterday Afternoon and Died This Morning in Great Agony—The Third Attempt at Suicide.

After two unsuccessful attempts, Mrs. John C. Smalley, of 203 Manson place, succeeded in making away with her own life by swallowing several arsenical compounds. She made her attempt to commit suicide, yesterday afternoon, at 4 o'clock, and at 7 o'clock this morning she passed away in great agony, the victim of her own hand.

John C. Smalley is the proprietor of the Bijou Market, on South Second street, near Manson place. He lives in the corner house, which backs up to the store. There has been some trouble in the Smalley family for some time and about two years ago, Mrs. Smalley, in a fit of despondency, tried to end her life. She was successful. A year ago she took a large dose of laudanum but the treatment of Dr. Simpson saved her and she recovered from the effects of the poison.

For several weeks Mrs. Smalley has been feeling very despondent, so her husband says. Yesterday she was worse than before. Mrs. Smalley assisted her husband in the care of his market and tended to the customers in his absence.

He had been to the storehouse of the meat company after a supply of meat and had just returned. He entered the store in time to see Mrs. Smalley raise a cup to her lips. From its appearance and her recent despondency, he suspected that it was poison and dashed the cup to one side. It contained Rough on Rats and water. It appears that she had already partaken of the poisonous draught before the appearance of her husband and had also taken the liquid for arsenical flypaper, which was kept for use in the market.

She hurried to the house where she drank more of the fatal solution of Rough on Rats before her husband realized what she had done.

Dr. M. S. Simpson was sent for but was not at home. The messenger met him on the street and the doctor hurried to Smalley's home, stopping to pick up Dr. Manning on the way.

They found that the would-be suicide had planned her work carefully and that the poison was beginning to act. She fought their every effort to relieve her and told them that though they had balked her before, she would now accomplish her object. It was, at last, found necessary to hold the woman while the stomach pump was used.

Dr. Simpson worked over the poisoned woman most of the night. She was conscious all the time and in great agony. She expressed no repentence for her act to the very last. At 7 o'clock, this morning, she died.

STYLE OF NEW BRIDGES.

FREEHOLDERS CONSIDER IMPORTANT JOINT COUNTY IMPROVEMENTS.

The Sycamore Avenue Span to be a Low Truss Plank One—Watchung Avenue to be Connected by a Concrete Structure.

The Bridge Committee of the Union County Board of Freeholders met with the Somerset County Board of Freeholders at Tier's lake house, yesterday afternoon, for the purpose of determining on the style of bridges to be erected on Watchung avenue and Sycamere avenue. Plans were submitted for both bridges. The members decided to build a concrete bridge on Watchung avenue with a centre pier. The span will be seventy-five feet. It will cost between $8,000 and $10,000, and it will be erected in such a manner as to provide for any heavy rise in the stream over which it will be placed.

Regarding the Sycamore avenue bridge, it was decided to erect a low truss plank bridge and will be full width. This bridge will cost about $8,000. There are several matters to be considered about the latter bridge and that will be done at the next meeting of the two Boards one week from next Friday.

Next Saturday the plans and specifications for the two bridges will be on exhibition at Mr. Tier's lake house, when all who desire can see the same and prepare to submit bids for the construction of the bridges. It is customary to allow about twelve days for the reception of bids and this rule will hold good in this case. It is confidently believed that the work of building the bridges will be started this month, and it is expected that it will require from two to three months to complete the Watchung avenue bridge.

WORK OF THE HOSPITAL.

REPORTS MADE AT THE GOVERNORS' ANNUAL MEETING.

A Slight Increase in the Number of Patients Treated During the Year—The Finances of the Institution.

At the annual meeting of Muhlenberg Hospital on Monday evening, the reports presented showed that the past year had been the most active in work and in improvements in its history.

The number of patients in the Hospital this year has been 238, as compared with 222 in the previous year, and the number of visits of patients to the dispensary 912, compared with 478 in the previous year. The ambulance has been called into service fifty-one times during the year, demonstrating again its great usefulness.

A great many improvements have been made, the more noticeable being the new laundry and the Nurses' Home, each complete in its way, thoroughly equipped and entirely paid for, and the X-ray apparatus.

But the demands on the Hospital call for still greater improvements, and the Board of Governors are aware that they must soon begin alterations and additions required for enlarging both wards and providing for the dispensary, for private patients and isolation wards, for erecting contagious disease buildings and for several other urgent needs.

The treasurer's report contains the kernel of the whole matter. From that it appears that while the contributors have been more numerous and the contributions larger than ever before, the expenses have overrun the current receipts so that the floating debt exceeds $1,000, the largest ever reported.

The figures in round numbers are as follows:

RECEIPTS.

Donations	$4,258
Hospital Sunday	358
Woman's Auxiliary Board	350
Patients	2,255
Training School	235
Other income	121

EXPENSES.

Fuel, light and water	$ 855
Provisions	2,253
Medicine, etc	1,079
Salaries and wages	2,707
Miscellaneous expenses	1,654

A part of the indebtedness comes from bills of the previous year, unpaid at the beginning of the present year, but the real deficit of this year amounts to $600 or $700, and it was stated that the hope of overcoming this growing deficiency depended mainly in increasing the list of regular annual subscribers, to accomplish which a special effort will be made.

HAS TWO BICYCLES NOW.

EDWARD WHITE RECOVERS IN JUNE A WHEEL STOLE IN SEPTEMBER.

The Bicycle Disappeared From Scotch Plains and Was Recognized the Other Day by Manager Price at Eldridge Store.

Edward White, the well-known merchant, has two bicycles now. It will be remembered that several months ago, he left his wheel standing in front of one of the hotels in Scotch Plains. When he came for it, the wheel was gone and he did not see it again until yesterday.

Several days ago, a young man came into the repair shop of the Eldridge Bicycle Company, on Park avenue, with a '96 Columbia wheel to have some trifling repair made. The young man said that his name was John Coles and that he lived in Scotch Plains. Mr. Price, manager for the Eldridge Company in Plainfield, noticed the wheel and recognized it as the one which Edward White had formerly owned but which had been stolen from him. Nothing was said to Coles in regard to the matter and he was allowed to depart.

Yesterday, Mr. White, who had been informed of the location of his missing wheel, went to Scotch Plains and appeared before a justice of the peace there. A search warrant was sworn out and placed in the hands of a constable who served it. The wheel was found in Mr. Coles' barn.

Mr. Coles, on learning that the wheel he had been riding was the property of another man, explained how he got it. An Italian came to him about a month ago and offered him the wheel for $5. The bargain was a good one and Coles bought the wheel. Then Mr. White and the constable went after the Italian.

A warrant was issued for the arrest of the Italian and he was found and placed in custody. When arraigned before the justice, he admitted selling the wheel to Coles, but said that he had found it on the mountain He told a straight forward story, and as there was no evidence to hold him, he was discharged.

—Former Assistant Secretary of State Joseph D. Hall, who fell from a second story window at his home in Trenton on Sunday night, died yesterday from his injuries.

DEMOCRATIC HARMONY.

A CONFERENCE OF UNION COUNTY LEADERS HELD YESTERDAY.

A Dinner to Be Given in a Few Weeks When it is Expected All Divergent Elements Will Meet and Thus Harmonize.

At the Winsor Hotel, in Orange, yesterday afternoon, there gathered by prearrangement fifteen prominent Democrats of Union county, who set down to a big dinner and then talked crops, weather and politics—mostly the latter subject, however, for the assemblage was called for the purpose of devising some way in which the divergent elements of the Democrtic party in the last campaign could be brought together to act in unity in the campaign next fall. Representatives were present from nearly every section of the county. The conference was understood to be a very quiet one, and for that reason it was held in Orange, but the fact of it leaked out here this morning.

While most of the conferees reported that things looked lovely in their particular bailiwicks, there were others who said that the gold Democrats in their section were still inclined to be backward in patching up the differences that set the party in twain last fall. Advocates of both currency platforms were present at the meeting. It was finally decided that some time in July the Jefferson Democratic Club, of Union county, should give a banquet that should be a veritable lovefeast for the members of the party—an affair modeled after the Jefferson Club dinner of a few weeks ago in Newark, only that all the toasts should be more conducive to harmony than was Allan McDermott's speech. The dinner will probably be given in Elizabeth, and distinguished Democrats from other States will be invited. Besides the harmony dinner, the prospects of candidates for county offices next fall were discussed. Special stress was laid on the importance of electing the Union county Surrogate, the only officer, besides the Assemblymen, to be chosen in November.

MONEY MAKERS IN A GOOD CAUSE.

King's Daughters Receive the Profits of Children's Lawn Fete.

The following letter has been received by the treasurer of the King's Daughters from Percy F. Philips, who had charge of the money made at the lawn fete conducted by the children at 921 Madison avenue:

It gives me much pleasure to hand you herewith check for $74 for the benefit of the Children's Camp. This amount was raised by thirteen little girls, whose names appear below, who held a candy and cake fair at 921 Madison avenue, last Saturday afternoon. Neumann Brothers, Tier & Son, Consolidated Ice Company, Rockfellow, Randolph's pharmacy, Drs. Shaw, Moy, Armstrong and others made liberal contributions, and also sold to the little girls various articles at wholesale prices, thus enabling them to make a profit.

The names of the girls in charge are as follows: Misses May Day, Anna Cahoone, Fannie Cahoone, Jean Dunham, Mamie Dunham, Edna Smith, Wilhelmina Patten, Ethel VanZandt, Ethel Murray, May Murray, Bessie Phillips, Virginia LeCand, Margie Phillips.

"PIC-NIC!"

A Study For Plainfield and Other People to Make.

The derivation of the phrase, "Pic-Nic." What is it? For a satitfactory explanation of this problem a handsome prize will be given at the tent of the press-committee—if you can find it. At the same time you will have a lesson in the theory of evolution: You will see that the change from Pic-Nic to Fete has been a change in fact as well as in name, a growth from the simple to the complex. The former was an informal, jolly frolic among friends and kindred; the latter is a world of amusement in miniature.

Do not, however, take our word for it, but go to Johnston Park and see it demonstrated.

Pleasantly Surprised.

Miss Lizzie Dunlap, of East Fifth street, was pleasantly surprised last evening by the members of Rebekah Degree Lodge, of which she is a member. Miss Dunlap was wholly unaware of the visitation of her sister members and she was completely surprised. A few games helped to pass a portion of the time and at a late hour supper was served. Miss Dunlap is one of the officers of the above lodge and is very popular among the members.

Conferred Masonic Degrees.

Jerusalem Lodge, No. 26, F. & A. M., held a communication last evening and conferred the degrees on two candidates. There was a large number of visitors present from nearby lodges, and after the business of the evening a fine banquet was served by the committee in charge. The work, as performed by the members of the home lodge, was very highly complimented by the visitors and they were delighted with their visit.

TO PLACE THE BLAME

A Thorough Investigation to Be Made of the Coaching Disaster.

TWO MORE DEATHS ARE PROBABLE.

The President of the Road Makes a Statement In Which He Tries to Defend His Corporation—Says the Signals Were In Order.

Brooklyn, June 2.—Coroner Coombs and District Attorney Young of Queens county state that a thorough and searching inquiry will be made into the cause of the Valley Stream disaster already reported in these dispatches and an effort made to fix the responsibility for the sad accident where it belongs.

There will probably be only one service for the funerals of the five victims. It will be held in the Greene Avenue Baptist church, Brooklyn, to which the deceased belonged.

Miss Clara Stewart, whose skull was so frightfully fractured, was operated upon and seemed to improve somewhat, although the doctors have little hope of saving her life.

Miss Emily Burtsch, who sustained a rupture of the liver and kidneys, is also in a very precarious condition.

None of the others injured is likely to die.

Story of a Survivor.

The most graphic and connected account of the disaster yet heard was told by Harry S. Lewis, who is only a young lad and who escaped injury. He said:

"I sat on the middle seat, and on one side of me sat Mrs. Andrus and on the other side Walter Welbrock and Cousin John. I was standing up when we neared the railroad, and as well as I can remember Walter was fooling with John, and both were laughing. I turned to look up the track and saw over the tops of the bushes the engine of the train. I just had strength enough to shout to the driver: 'The cars! Turn into the ditch! Never mind about upsetting!'

"But the driver did not hear me on account of the noise of the blowing horns and the laughter.

"He couldn't see the train, for no one could see it unless he stood up. I yelled again for the crowd to jump before it was too late. Then I grabbed Miss Stewart and made a jump.

"I could not take her with me. I was not strong enough. Her weight simply threw me on my side in the ditch. It was only a few seconds before I was up.

"Pieces of the coach and bodies were flying in every direction. I could hear a sickening, crushing sound. I saw the body of Walter Welbrock thrown into the air, turning and twisting. Then I found Thomas Wyatt, who wasn't much hurt. We got a drink of whisky from two wheelmen who were close by. Then we ran back on the tracks. Walter Welbrock was lying on his side. He asked us to see if his leg was broken. We started to lift him, but he yelled with pain. So we had to leave him where he was. Then we found Miss Stewart. Not a stitch of her clothing was left on her. She was screaming with pain. I covered her with something and hurried on.

"The next one we saw was Lawrence K. Barnes, Jr., whose fall was broken by the puddle he landed in. He was unconscious, and we lifted him from the pool to some sand. Another man helped us to carry him. Gilchrist was thrown about 50 feet upon a bank. He was dead when we found him. Others were hurled tremendous distances.

"No one waved to us or shouted a warning. The horses were all right. They hardly ran 50 feet after the collision and stood waiting for some one to get them."

The Driver's Story.

Henry McCormick, the driver of the tallyho coach, was seen in the hospital and said:

"I had six horses and sat on the right hand side of the box. We were just jogging along comfortably when the railroad track was reached. I am familiar with the road and familiar with the handling of six horses. I have driven such teams for many years. Four horses were across the track when I saw the train coming. The engine was about 200 feet away and at the time did not appear to be going very fast. I 'hollered' as loud as I could for the engineer to stop, but there was so much noise with the blowing of horns and the yelling and howling behind me that I am not sure whether I heard the whistle given or not, but I think I did. I believe the train had time to slow up and stop. At the moment I saw there was no stopping the train I tried to get across the track faster. The locomotive crashed into the coach about half way back, and I was thrown on my head and do not remember much else. My shoulder was injured, but I did not know how badly until later."

President Baldwin's Statement.

C. C. Baldwin, president of the Long Island Railroad company, said:

"When I heard of the accident, I was at Glen Cove, about 20 miles away. I took the first train and got a special and went to the scene of the disaster at once. I got there before the bodies had been removed and was in plenty of time to see everything that had happened.

"There are but three points to be brought out. The first is that the accident was one of those horrible affairs that seem to come like a thunderclap from a clear sky. It was a horrible thing, and we greatly deplore it.

"The second point to be made is that there were all the ordinary signs and signals given that any railroad has and that the railroad cannot in any way be blamed for the accident.

"The third point to be made is that as soon as the accident occurred the railroad did everything in its power for the victims that it was possible to do.

"The stories that the signal bells were out of order is not true. We have men whose duty it is to watch these signal bells constantly, and they attend to their duty. The bell rang for the train which was in the accident and for the train upon which I traveled."

Coal Miners' Strike.

Altoona, Pa., June 2.—Three hundred coal miners employed by the Mitchell Coal and Coke company at Gallitsin have struck because the company gave notice of a reduction of 5 cents a ton on coal used for coke. Since then the company has announced a general reduction of 10 cents a ton.

A SPANISH BRAGGART

Havana Commercial Sheet Makes Some Charges Against Us.

SAYS THAT WE INSPIRE REBELLION.

Threatens the United States With Dire Calamity In Case of War—Says That Spain Cares Nothing For Our Senate.

Havana, via Key West, June 2.—In its last issue El Comercio, the organ of the retail grocers, violently attacks the United States. It says in part:

"It has become necessary to prove to the United States that Spain needs neither their benevolence nor their commiseration. Those who ask for a policy of clemency and pardon for men who have desolated the country with torch and dynamite must be convinced that against such a policy all true Spaniards will become more and more resolute.

"These Yankees are never satisfied. They are far more guilty of hardness of heart (obduracion) than the Cubans themselves. After our denying atrocities invented by the American press; after our releasing various convicts charged with high treason to demonstrate to the American people the generosity which can look upon such people as amenable to the laws of civilized warfare; after all this, the Americans still believe these 'fakes' put up against us and believe that we fear them.

"It is necessary to prove to the Americans that we care nothing for the insulting and aggressive stand taken by the American senate. A country where the old have less judgment than the young is a degenerate country, a country of premature civilization, which will rot before it ripens. Let us tell them, or, better still, let us prove to them that we can laugh at their braggadocio.

"Foreigners cannot own property in the United States. Let us reciprocate. There pirates are overlooked. Let us do the same here. There are not wanting brave, audacious mariners, who would patrol America's seas and occasionally do what they pleased. The Americans would file their claims. Our courts would sentence the offenders to a 10 cent fine and a three hours' imprisonment or release them under a fictitious bond.

"Really the airs put on by these Americans require energetic action on the part of the Spanish people. At the very moment when the revolution is almost suppressed they appear again with their belligerency declaration. We care nothing for it. They can go ahead on this line if they please. It will only more clearly define the situation, and our heroic navy may yet prove what it can do with our enemies. Let it be demonstrated, aside from diplomatic methods, that the Spanish people depise the jingoes of the United States and know how to spit in their faces 100 times."

Weyler Issues Another Decree.

Havana, June 2.—A decree issued by Captain General Weyler, dated Sancti Spiritus, May 27, has just been published here. He announces the approaching commencement of military operations in the eastern part of the island of Cuba and orders the enforcement of the provisions of his decree of Jan. 30 in the provinces of Puerto Principe and Santiago de Cuba, the organization of cultivation zones, the closing of stores in unfortified towns, the concentration of the country people and the destruction of all resources which are undefended, as was done in the other provinces. The captain general gives the people of those two provinces one month in which to comply with the decree, the time to begin on the date of the publication of the decree in the various districts of those provinces.

Jumped Over the Falls.

Niagara Falls, June 2.—An unknown man jumped over the falls from Prospect point. The only witness of the suicide was Frank Bidwell. He says: "I was standing near the inclined railway house, when I noticed a man sitting on the railing about ten feet from Prospect point. He sat still a moment, then looked around and sprang straight into the river." Bidwell says that the man wore a brown overcoat and brown hat, and he thinks he was about 30 years of age, but was not close enough to tell definitely. Nothing further can be learned as to the man's identity.

Forest Preserve Board's Doings.

Albany, June 2.—The forest preserve board has decided to purchase all the land in the Adirondacks which has been offered for sale at $1.50 an acre. These offers were made to the fisheries, forest and game commission and were transferred to the forest board when it was created, and they comprise some 250,000 acres of land. Members of the board will make their second trip of inspection in the woods about June 20, and Governor Black will accompany them.

Gold and Silver Production.

Washington, June 2.—Mr. Preston, the director of the mint, has about completed his figures of the gold and silver production in the United States during the calendar year 1896. He finds the production of gold to have been about $53,000,000, an increase of over $6,250,000, as compared with 1895. The production of silver is given as 57,700,000 fine ounces, an increase of 1,900,000 ounces over 1895.

Railroad Allows Damages.

Ottawa, June 2.—A year ago Mr. John Charlton, member of the Dominion house of commons, met with an accident at Tonawanda, N. Y., on the New York Central railroad. The accident has seriously impaired Mr. Charlton's strength. He entered suit against the railroad company for $25,000 damages

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—John Butscher, of West Fourth street, is confined to the house suffering from an accident in which his big toe was crushed. It happened Monday at the Boys' Club while young Butscher was moving a heavy apparatus.

"There's no use in talking," says W. H. Broadwell, druggist, La Cygne, Kas., 'Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy does the work. After taking medicines of my own preparation and those of others, I took a dose of Chamberlain's and it helped me; a second dose cured me. Candidly and conscientiously I can recommend it as the best thing on the market." The 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

Inflammatory Rheumatism Cured in 3 Days

Morton L. Hill, of Lebanon, Ind., says: "My wife had Inflammatory Rheumatism in every muscle and joint, her suffering was terrible and her body and face were swollen almost beyond recognition; had been in bed for six weeks and had eight physicians but received no benefit until she tried the Mystic Cure for Rheumatism. It gave immediate relief and she was able to walk about in three days. I am sure it saved her life." Sold by T. S. Armstrong, druggist, cor. Park and North avenue, Plainfield.

Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption.

This is the best medicine in the world for all forms of Coughs and Colds and for Consumption. Every bottle is guaranteed. It will cure and not disappoint. It has no equal for Whooping Cough, Asthma, Hay Fever, Pneumonia, Bronchitis, La-Grippe, Cold in the Head and for Consumption. It is safe for all ages, pleasant to take, and, above all, a sure cure. It is always well to take Dr. King's New Life Pills in connection with Dr. King's New Discovery, as they regulate and tone the stomach and bowels. We guarantee perfect satisfaction or return money. Free trial bottles at L. W. Randolph's drug store. Regular size 50 cents and $1.00.

Arthur and Clinton Mosher, of Brooklyn, formerly of this city, have been spending a few days with their friend, Hervey K. Doane, of West Fifth street.

A Valuable Prescription.

Editor Morrison, of Worthington, Ind., "Sun," writes: "You have a valuable prescription in Electric Bitters, and I can cheerfully recommend it for Constipation and Sick Headache and as a general system tonic it has no equal." Mrs. Annie Stehle, 2025 Cottage Grove Ave., Chicago, was all run down, could not eat nor digest food, had a back ache which never left her and felt tired and weary, but six bottles of Electric Bitters restored her health and renewed her strength. Prices 50c and $1. Get a bottle at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

Ray T. Snodgrass, of Central avenue, has returned after a short visit with friends in Newark.

Mr. Isaac Horner, proprietor of the Burton House, Burton, W. V., and one of the most widely known men in the state was cured of rheumatism after three years of suffering. He says: "I have not sufficient command of language to convey any idea of what I suffered, my physicians told me that nothing could be done for me and my friends were fully convinced that nothing but death would relieve me of my suffering. In June 1894, Mr. Evens, then salesman for the Wheeling Drug Co., recommended Chamberlain's Pain Balm. At this time my foot and limb were swollen to more than double their normal size and it seemed to me my leg would burst, but soon after I began using the Pain Balm the swelling began to decrease, the pain to leave, and now I consider that I am entirely cured." For sale by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

—The Seaside Home, Cape May Point, has been put in order for the summer.

A. H. Patter, with E. C. Atkins & Co., Indianapolis, Ind., writes: "I have never before given a testimonial in my life. But I will say that for three years we have never been without Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy in the house, and my wife would as soon think of being without flour as a bottle of this Remedy in the summer season. We have used it with all three of our children and it has never failed to cure—not simply stop pain, but cure absolutely. It is all right, and anyone who tries it will find it so." For sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

SEIZURE OF A VESSEL.

The Crew Attack the Special Agent Who Made the Capture.

Miami, Fla., June 2.—The steamer Hayne's crew of six men are under arrest here charged with having transferred a cargo of arms, ammunition and men to the tug Dauntless. The men will be held until instructions are received from Jacksonville or Key West.

According to an eyewitness, the cargo was transferred successfully and consisted of several hundred thousand rounds of ammunition and 160 men.

The steamer was boarded by Special Agent Hambleton of the treasury department, who placed her under arrest. He was then seized by several Cubans, his revolver taken from him, and he was beaten about the face and body. He was held until the cargo was loaded, when he was put ashore. He telegraphed at once for assistance.

The cargo had not been entirely transferred when the cruiser Marblehead hove in sight, and the Dauntless proceeded south. The report of the capture of the Dauntless is not believed to be true.

A MYSTERIOUS CRIME.

A Farmer and His Wife Found Unconscious at Their Home.

Saratoga, June 2.—Ephriam Wilson, a farmer, 82 years of age, and his wife, 75 years of age, were brought to the Saratoga hospital in an unconscious condition. They lived alone in the town of Wilton, four miles north of this place, and were found in their home both unconscious.

Just how they received their injuries has not yet been learned. It is believed that the skulls of both man and woman are fractured and that both will die. They were otherwise terribly injured, and the theory is that they were set upon by some one whose intent was to commit robbery.

The police, however, have a theory that Mrs. Wilson attempted to murder her husband, who had been feeble for some time, and that she received the injuries from him in defense of his life. An investigation is being made, but from present appearances there is little to work on.

CORNELL'S NEW CREW

CAPTAIN SPILLMAN NOT RETAINED.

Professor Wheeler, Faculty Member of the Athletic Council, Is Pleased With the Men Who Will Struggle to Uphold Ithaca's Rowing Prestige.

Ithaca, N. Y., June 2.—Charles F. Courtney, coach of the Cornell navy, has picked the crew which is to row against Harvard and Yale and Columbia and Pennsylvania. It is practically the crew that rowed at Annapolis, all other varsity men, including Captain Spillman, being dropped. Only the 11 varsity men chosen will be kept at the training table. This weeding out was necessary in view of the fact that the navy could not afford to keep 30 varsity men at the training table any longer. The selected crew is the Annapolis crew, with these changes: Carter is put from stroke to No. 2 and Dalzell from No. 7 to bow. T. L. Bailey and Stamford, whom these men replace, are retained as substitutes, while W. Bentley, who went to Annapolis as substitute, is made stroke. Savage, who rowed No. 5 last year, is the only old Poughkeepsie man put in the boat. He is to row No. 7 this year.

Professor Wheeler, faculty member of the athletic council, in an interview said:

"That crew can win the race if any Cornell crew can. Mr. Courtney knows he has not been premature. This is the 1st of June, and it was considered time the final crew was selected."

Captain Spillman's Opinion.

Captain Spillman, who was unseated, said:

"I have no fears for the crew as selected. Although light men, three weeks will put them in condition to row in both regattas. I think they can stand two races."

Courtney has tried every combination possible and given last year's varsity men every chance to show their rowing powers. He said:

"I put the Annapolis varsity in the ice wagon (old '92 boat) but the first varsity could not beat them. Then I handicapped them with goose neck oars, and they kept winning. I can train young men to row, but I cannot build them over. The first varsity men are not in condition, so all I could do was to take this action and bank everything on the lighter lot."

The make up of the crew follows:
W. Bentley, stroke, Fluvanna, N. Y.
F. J. Savage, New Haven.
C. M. Oddie, East Orange, N. J.
M. M. Odell, Baldwinsville, N. Y.
A. C. King, Trumansburg, N. Y.
S. W. Wakeman, Bridgeport, Conn.
E. B. Carter, Owego, N. Y.
W. C. Dalzell, bow, Segremont, Mass.
T. D. Colson, coxswain, Buffalo.
T. L. Bailey, substitute, New York city.
W. B. Stamford, substitute, Grand View, N. Y.

Odd Reason For a Strike.

Buffalo, June 2.—Twenty-two men employed in the Lake Shore railway shops have quit work. This is the result of an order issued a few days ago that all men employed in the shops must wash themselves before quitting work at noon. The company provided places for the men to cleanse themselves, but they did not like the idea of being compelled to wash. The men claim that too many men are forced to use the same water, and they feared contagious diseases. Master Mechanic Elden says that the notice to the men in regard to washing was not an order, but a request. He says that the men who went out refused to comply with the request and left of their own accord.

City of Chicago Held Responsible.

Chicago, June 2.—Judge Grosscup of the federal court has upheld the liability of the city of Chicago for damages to railroad property by reason of the strike of 1894. The question was before him on a demurrer of the city to the suit of the Pennsylvania company for $50,000 damages at the Brighton park yards fire on the night of July 6, 1894, and a suit of the Yazoo and Mississippi Valley company for the destruction of $20,000 worth of property at One Hundred and Third street on the same night. The demurrer was dismissed.

The Burglar Had the Combination.

Boston, June 2.—When the safe in the furniture store of C. H. Robinson & Co. was opened, it was found that the money drawer had been tampered with and over $1,000 taken. Nothing else in the store was disturbed. It is thought the safe was opened by some one who knew the combination. The police are making an investigation.

RIGHTS OF VETERANS IN OFFICE.

The courts are likely to be called upon to place a construction upon a law passed by the present Legislature in the interest of veterans of the war. This law goes a great deal further than the act of 1899, which the Court of Errors a few days ago declared to be constitutional. The act of 1889 only prohibited the removal from county and municipal offices except for cause of veterans holding positions without fixed terms. The act of 1897 provides against the removal without cause from any public department or public works in the State or in any county, city, town or village of any veteran who is not a private secretary, a deputy to the head of a department, or who is not holding a position of confidential relations. It provides that veterans shall be given the preference for appointment or promotion to positions, if they possess the necessary qualifications. Age is not to serve as a barrier where the veteran has the capacity to fill the position to which he aspires. This latter provision may be held to set aside, so far as veterans are concerned, the rule now in vogue in the different fire and police departments that persons to be appointed must be under a certain age. Lawyers are not willing to give off hand opinions on the law, but they all agree that is very sweeping in its language.

PEACE MUST BE PRESERVED.

It is said that the taxpayers of Somerset county are objecting to the number of prisoners confined in the county jail. They say that many persons who are arrested and sent to the county seat should not be sent there, as the charges are insufficient to hold them.—Plainfield Press.

But The Press should remember that it is for the Grand Jury and not the Justices of the Peace to decide whether the charges against a prisoner are sufficient to warrant indictment and trial. The peace must be preserved and the safety of the community demands that all due precaution be taken. And at all events few law-abiding and peaceable citizens will object to paying their share toward keeping the other class in jail—manifestly the proper place for offenders against the peace—and it is certainly seldom that others than such are committed by any Justice.—Bound Brook Democrat.

DON'T PUSH.

The Common Council should be careful not to rush too fast the matter of flagging and curbing. They should remember that sewer assessments, sewer connections and water connections have already been a severe burden to property owners, and all revenues from investments have been curtailed. It should be the aim of a governing body to facilitate improvement through stages so easy as not to prove a burden.

—Andrew Marsh, of the borough, has secured a position as wheelwright with J. E. Flannery, of East Third street.

—The regular meeting of the Primary Teachers' Union was held yesterday afternoon. The devotional exercises were conducted by Miss Beeching, and the lesson was taught by Mrs. D. G. Darby. "Why am I a Primary Teacher?" was the special topic and the discussion was exceedingly interesting, as so many good reasons were offered.

—The June number of the American Queen is out and the Plainfield subscribers can secure their numbers at the drygoods store of Edward White. It is full of articles interesting to those seeking summer recreation, as well as prolific with advice and suggestions for the dressmaker, housewife and literary woman. The magazine is liberally illustrated with artistically executed pictures.

An Endeavor Lecture.

The second of the Christian Endeavor Missionary Extension Lectures will be given next Tuesday evening in the First Presbyterian church of Dunellen. Rev. John T. Kerr, of Elizabeth, will be the lecturer and will take for his subject, "Giving the Gospel to the World—God's Own Enterprise." Let Plainfield Endeavorers show their interest by attending in large numbers.

WESTFIELD

SCHOOL TRUSTEES MEET

NEW SCHOOL BUILDING AT MOUNTAINSIDE DISCUSSED.

Principal Edwards' and Committee's Report Interesting Matters—Cranford Will Consider Building a School at Garwood.

The Westfield Board of Education held a meeting in the Prospect Street School, last evening. All the trustees and Principal Edwards were present. A communication was received from the Cranford school trustees inviting the Westfield Board to a conference on the question of the establishment of a school at Garwood. The District Clerk was ordered to reply, stating that the invitation was accepted and that the Westfield Board would be represented at the conference by its special committee previously appointed to take charge of the matter in question. Chairman Green nominated Mrs. L. A. Lightfoot as the fifth member of the board of lady visitors. The nomination was confirmed. The District Clerk reported that the Misses Polk, Stryker, Binder, Jones, Harned, Clark, Apgar, Halsey, Hubbard and Wood had accepted reappointments for the coming year, and that Miss Peabody and Miss Scoville had declined. Miss Wood, the teacher at Locust Grove, offered some suggestions to the Board in connection with her acceptance, and pointed out the need of an assistant teacher in her school. Principal Edwards presented his monthly report, showing 708 pupils enrolled, with an average attendance of 430, and 118 pupils absent from illness. Miss Dower, now teaching in Miss Brewster's room, was engaged for the coming year at a salary of $600, to teach in the High School in place of Miss Scoville. On recommendation of the committee on buildings and grounds the janitors of the different school buildings were re-engaged for the coming year at their former salaries. Wm. Edgar, Lincoln School, salary $490 a year; Mr. Keppler, Prospect Street School, $400, and Chas. Roll, at Locust Grove, $50 a year. This committee also reported on the question of repairs upon the Locust Grove schoolhouse, recommending the expenditure of a sum not to exceed $200 upon the placing of a heater in the building and the provid- of additional desk accommodations so that fifty-four pupils could be accommodated instead of only thirty-four, as at present. Mayor Cory and Charles Forster, representing the people of Mountainside, objected to the proposed repairs, characterizing them as altogether inadequate to the needs of the district. It was their object, they said, to secure the erection of a new building in their district, and to this end they had visited the State Superintendent of Schools and endeavored to get the present building condemned. The twenty-six pupils who come here to school from Mountainside could be accommodated at home if an enlarged building and a grammar grade were to be established. Members of the board pointed out that it would be impossible to take any steps toward the construction of a new schoolhouse without calling a meeting of voters to secure a special appropriation, and as it was improbable that such a movement would succeed at this time, it was agreed to let the matter remain in abeyance until the annual school meeting for the voting of appropriations, and in the meantime to make such repairs upon the building as the committee suggested. An appropriation of $200 was voted for the purchase of apparatus for the use of classes in physics. The principal was instructed to introduce a fire drill into the schools, with frequent practice, so that the drill shall be really effective in case of an emergency.

A summons was issued today in the case of John M. Ledley against Chas. Crickenberger, on contract. The case will be tried by Justice Collins, next Tuesday.

Rev. G. A. Francis will lead the prayer meeting in the Baptist church this evening. There will also be a reception of new members in connection with the meeting.

A preparatory lecture will be given by the pastor in the Presbyterian lecture room this evening. The session will be present to meet and confer with candidates for church membership.

The regular business meeting of the teachers of the Presbyterian Sunday-school will be held in the lecture room this evening after the regular prayer meeting. Every teacher is expected to be present.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Methodist church will hold a strawberry tea in Gale's club house, on Elm street, tomorrow evening, from 5 until 9 o'clock. The proceeds will go to the parsonage fund.

The funeral services of Mrs. Albert Williams were held at her late residence on Spring street, yesterday afternoon at three o'clock, Rev. W. H Ruth and Rev. Dr. Mitchell, of Plainfield, officiating. Interment was at Fairview cemetery.

The case of Swinefurth against Blake for the possession of premises was tried by Justice Collins yesterday afternoon. Judgment was rendered for the plaintiff, and the defendant, who is in arrears for three months' rent, was ordered by the Justice to at once vacate the premises of Swinefurth.

The stock of L. R. Schofield's gents' furnishing store was disposed of at sheriff's sale yesterday morning, at 10 o'clock, by J. M. C. Marsh, auctioneer. The most extensive buyers were Charles Clark, H. C. Piker and J. Kaminetski. The stock was sold to satisfy a chattel mortgage held by Mrs. Elizabeth Brooks.

Edward Townley was the victim of a serious wheeling accident while riding in the vicinity of Metuchen, Monday morning. Townley and a friend named David Curtis were out for a long run, and were making good time. When near Metuchen they attempted to run past a wagon, and in doing so came unexpectedly upon two other cyclists coming in the opposite direction. Curtis fortunately glided between the two oncoming machines, but Townley collided with one of them, and was thrown violently to the ground. His left knee was severely lacerated and the front wheel of his bicycle was wrecked. The other party to the collision escaped unhurt.

THE AMERICAN QUEEN COMPETITION.

A Columbia FREE!

A lady's Columbia Bicycle, 1897 Model, will be given to the winner in THE AMERICAN QUEEN competition, which will be open to all the subscribers to THE AMERICAN QUEEN until June 30, 1897.

The Columbia, the standard bicycle of the world, has been selected for this competition, because the publishers of THE AMERICAN QUEEN are convinced that it is the best and that the woman who wins it would have it in preference to any other make.

The Columbia is now on exhibition at our store, and will remain on exhibition until June 30th, when the competition will close and the Columbia will be awarded to the fortunate winner.

The contest which we have just inaugurated, by or through which some subscriber to THE AMERICAN QUEEN is going to win a fine, high-grade Columbia Bicycle, 1897 Model, is already well under way. The contest will remain open until June 30, 1897. The conditions and plan of this contest are simply these: We purpose presenting a Columbia Bicycle, 1897 Model, to the lady subscriber who furnishes the best menu, for one week, for a family of five, the cost of such menu not to exceed $10 for the week. The merits of the menus submitted will be passed upon by the Editor of THE AMERICAN QUEEN, Miss Mary L. Island, and the person furnishing the best menu, in Miss Island's judgment, will be presented with the bicycle.

The menu submitted should be enclosed in one envelope and the name of the sender in a separate one, the two being handed in or sent in together, addressed to us. The envelopes containing the menus will then be numbered and sent to Miss Island and the envelopes containing the names reserved by us, and when Miss Island makes her choice of the menus she will inform us of the number of the winner and we will then announce the result in local newspapers and THE AMERICAN QUEEN.

The only requirement necessary to admit you to this contest is that you be a subscriber to THE AMERICAN QUEEN.

The splendid wheel which will go to the winner is on exhibition in the store and may be seen at any time.

We want everybody to feel free to go into this contest and we hope that hundreds of our customers will fix their minds on good things to eat and mould them into a acceptable menu for the week, and at the same time keep the cost down to $10.

THE COMPETITION.—Our aim in offering this competition is to have every lady we can reach with this announcement become a reader of THE AMERICAN QUEEN. THE QUEEN is published at $1 a year, but to give all our friends a chance to get this splendidly useful home publication for the ensuing year and at the same time have a chance to become the proud possessor of the standard cycle, we shall until the 30th day of June receive subscriptions (only one to a family) for the nominal fee of 25 Cents a year. Come to the store at once, register your name and receive your receipt for THE QUEEN for one year and try to win the Columbia.

DE MASSA OB DE SHEEPFOL'.

De Massa ob de sheepfol',
Dat guard de sheep fol' bin,
Look out in de gloomerin' meadows,
Whar' de long night rain begin—
So he call to de hirelin' shep'a'd,
"Is my sheep, is dey all come in?"
So he call to de hirelin' shep'a'd,
"Is my sheep, is dey all come in?"

Oh, den says de hirelin' shep'a'd,
"Dey's some, dey's black and thin,
An' some, dey's po' ol' wedda's,
Dat can't come home agin.
Dey is los'," says the hirelin' shep' a'd—
"But de res' dey's all brung in."
Dey is los'," says de hireling sherd'a'd—
"But de res' dey's all brung in."

Den de Massa ob de sheep fol',
Dat guard the sheepfol' bin
Goes down in de gloomerin' meadows,
Whar de long night rain begins—
So he le' down de ba's ob de sheep fol',
Callin' sof', "Come in come in.

A WOMAN'S HEART.

By Carl Baily Hurst.

The driving rain forbade our taking a walk, so we sat in the studio and smoked. The storm had come suddenly, and it was late in the afternoon. From the window-seat where I lay I could look down on Broadway and see the crowd of clerks and shopgirls hurrying up town. The noise of wagons and street cars, the babble of voices, and the beating of footsteps on wet pavements were borne noticeably to the third story of the old building which has stood for thirty years on a corner below Union Square. It is an old rookery, with rooms for artists and whosoever else will live in small quarters and not object to the odor of cooking wafted at all times from the gas-stoves of one's neighbors. The man in whose lodgings I was for the first time had lived there for over twenty years. He told me nothing could make him leave. He had become attached to the shaky stairs, the worn threshholds, and the dusty walls. It was here he had fought for fame—and had lost the battle; yet he would not remove.

We talked of a number of things—of art, of the ignorance of critics, of the capriciousness of fate—when I noticed my friend was not listening to me, but to some sound without. I stopped, and heard a woman walking down the hall. She went to the door opposite my friend X.'s lodgings, and after fumbling with the lock a few seconds, opened the door and entered.

X. did not move. He only turned his eyes toward me, still listening; but hearing nothing more, he leaned back in his chair, saying simply, "She's late."

"In time for dinner, at any rate," I hazarded.

"She doesn't live here."

"Oh! Only paints during the day, of course."

"She's not an artist; not even in a dilettante way. She used to paint, I believe; but I do not think she has had a brush in her hand for twenty years."

"Twenty years?"

"For twenty years she has had that room. None besides her has ever entered, except the janitor once or twice to put in a few panes of glass broken by the ball."

"She's not, not— She's in her right mind, isn't she?"

"As sane as you or I. I'll tell you about her. It's the story of a woman's heart. I do not believe two people besides myself know why she has that little studio, if, indeed, they are aware she has it at all."

Then he was silent for a minute. I heard the noise of the street, and fancied that I heard a woman moving in the room across the way. The story of a woman's heart. I mused—the story of a woman's heart. How many a one thinks he knows its depths or its shallowness, but what man has ever really fathomed it? It's a spring of water, I thought. It reflects the clouds and the sunshine. It varies with circumstances. There is nothing constant in it. It smiles back brightly to the man who has brought himself nearest. When he is gone, with the same ease and cheerfulness it mirrors his successor. A woman's heart, I laughed; there is no constancy in it.

"Listen," said X. "Not long after I returned from my two years at Munich I settled in the studio in which you see me now. About the same time a young man of about my own age took the one across the way. There was more than a passing acquaintance between us. We exchanged confidences, and I learned that a wealthy woman, somewhat older than he, stood to him more or less as a patroness. There was some understanding that when he should become established they were to marry. She was an ambitious person, strong willed, and, I surmise, she decided to fashion the beginner's career to suit herself. But she was not sympathetic. His frequent discouragements she took as natural events in any young man's career. But to him the difficulties seemed enormous and insuperable, and the sympathy he craved he found elsewhere, in the daughter of a boarding-house keeper at whose establishment he took dinner. The patroness was frightfully incensed when she learned of the new intimacy. She stormed, but he said nothing. Then she cried bitterly, and begged him not to throw his life away on a woman who had not the least thing in common with him.

"The little drama stretched itself out for several months, until a violent quarrel separated for good the artist and his benefactress. The woman wanted him to break his recent attachment. She became arbitrary and insisted. The young fellow was already tired of the boarding house keeper's daughter, but this commanding made him obstinate, and throwing down the key of the studio, he swore he would never come near his easel again. When she saw he was really leaving, she calmed and implored him to stay, but he doggedly walked away. She said she loved him more than her life that she would always wait until he returned. She would keep the studio, and that he must come back to her some time.

"That day he went to the woman scorned by the other, and a few days later together they drifted to the West, where one may be swallowed in the vastness and change, and be forgotten. The affair would have escaped me altogether had I not one day seen the former patroness coming to the studio, which, it seemed, she had kept, and to which she came once a fortnight. She did this for four or five years, until I read in the papers a notice of her marriage. For a year she never came near this place, but the studio was still unvacated. The janitor told me she rented the place by the year, and at the time of her marriage the studio belonged to her for several months longer. And then, that period expiring, she rented the room again, although she did not visit it. Incidentally I heard her marriage was a very unsatisfactory one, and that her husband treated her brutally. Once more she resumed her pilgrimages to the studio. But after her husband's death—for he died about two years after they were married—she kept away for another stretch of months; then she started once more, and she has now come at intervals ever since. She dusts the books and canvases, and keeps the room scrupulously clean. This much she has told me herself, although she is very reticent. But I have often wondered if she lingers over each object of her former lover's, and touches them tenderly, and thinks that he might now be near her had she been to him what she might have been. It is probably a solace for her to go there, and to feel that she keeps the place for his return; that she is watching for him, ready to welcome him, and to tell him that she loves him more than in those old days."

Then X was silent. Presently he resumed: "Perhaps he will return. But he has not returned yet. It is twenty years since he left."

"Yes," I said to myself, "a woman's heart indeed is like a spring. It gives forth at all times the same stream of love. The surface may reflect that which passes near it, but in its depths, clear and unchanging, lies that which fell there first."

Neither of us spoke. X.'s story moved me strangely, although I am not over-given to sentiment. The rain came beating against the windows, down on the foot-passengers in the street, and on the vehicles. The world seemed very gloomy. Unsteadily a man mounted to the top of the stairs near X.'s studio, and moved down the hall. He stopped not far away, but he made no sound. X. threw open the door, and I saw a man wasted with disease, thin and wretchedly clad. The rain dropped from his clothing to the floor. I could only see the side of his face, but it was haggard. He stood with his back to us, looking at the studio door opposite. He seemed not to hear us. He knocked, but there was no repsonse. He knocked again. The door opened suddenly, and a woman stood in the threshold. The man held out his hands and said, brokenly:

"Sweetheart, sweetheart, I have come back for one glimpse of paradise."

With a cry the woman threw her arms about his neck, and, drawing him into the room, strained his wet, dishevelled head to her breast.

X. closed his door quietly, and turning to me, remarked: "I always thought something like that would happen."—Harper's Weekly.

Ignorance in India.

Ignorance and superstition were among the greatest forces that the English Government had to overcome in dealing with the plague in India. It was found out by the authorities that one of the chief causes of the reluctance of the natives to enter hospitals was due to the fear that they would be killed, because they believed that the Queen, in revenge for the insult offered to her statue, had demanded the lives of 30,000 inhabitants of Bombay.—Philadelphia Ledger.

PEN POINTS.

It is not the expensive fashionable ball, but the cheap ball of the slum saloon that brings misery to the poor.

The prime of life is when we have learned to laugh at things that once would have made us weep.

Many a family that thinks it is keeping up appearances is keeping up nothing but a signal of distress.

Second thoughts may be the best, but they are usually too late for the band wagon.

A drama may be too good to be popular with the masses. It is a good deal so with a man

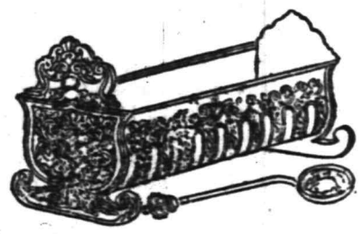
JUBILEE SOUVENIRS.

Pretty Things in Silver for the Great British Celebration.

In selecting articles to commemorate the long reign of Queen Victoria the English silversmiths have again brought silver spoons into vogue. Very handsome teaspoons have been made, with handles ornamented with a medallion of the Queen's head, encircled by "Victoria Reg. 1837-1897," and surmounted with a fac-simile of the English crown.

An especially beautiful design for a dessert or bouillon spoon has the royal arms in enamel and the bust of the Queen delicately chased upon the handle, the two dates being upon the stem of the spoon, which has a round gold lined bowl.



Designs for dainty little two-tined berry forks have twisted handles, finished at the end with the Queen's face as it appears at present, or was at her coronation sixty years ago. Silver book markers are very appropriate souvenirs for one desiring a useful little article; this also is decorated with the Queen's medallion, the English crown and the dates. Tourists in Great Britain at this season will have no difficulty in securing suitable little remembrances for friends not so fortunate in attending the celebration. Almost everything is to be found, from the little silver bangle to a Victorian chair. New christening gifts have the pap bowl, mug, knife, fork and spoon ornamented with particular designs for the jubilee year.

In souvenir jewelry the Jubilee badge meets with much approval. This badge may be worn as a locket, brooch or a charm for a watch guard. It is of gold, with the head of the Queen in the centre encircled by precious stones. At the top is the English crown, with the monogram V. R. I. underneath. The words "Great Britain, India, and Colonies" are carried around in red and blue enamel. Upon the back of this badge is the inscription: "To commemorate the sixtieth year of the reign of her Majesty Queen Victoria, 1897."

Perhaps the most original and attractive souvenirs are salt receivers of sterling silver, made after the model of the cradle in which the Queen when a baby was rocked. The salt spoon that belongs with this receptacle has the Queen's head chased in the round bowl, and a plain round handle finished at the end with the crown.—New York Sun.

Delicate Dress Goods.

Some gowns are so dainty in the weave, so delicate in tint, that they seem to soil by being looked at—one or two wearings making them unpresentable, NOT USELESS. We make a specialty of cleaning fine fabrics, the more delicate the material, the better the results. Sometimes an accident will ruin a gown, without injuring the texture We dye them then, sometimes we get a prettier effect than the orginal color. Fine goods stand redyeing. The finer the material the better the new color. We charge so little for cleaning or dyeing, that even if you are in doubt as to the result, it's worth while to experiment. Want a new evening gown for a dollar or two? Laundry drivers will receive your work.

REPORTED SUICIDE.

Special Indian Agent Olive Said to Have Killed Himself.

St. George, Utah, June 2.—Joel T. Olive, special Indian agent of the interior department, is reported to have committed suicide.

The information comes in a private message received here, and aside from this the authorities have been unadvised. No motive or date of the affair are given, and the circumstances are unknown. The news was a complete surprise to the officials. His health is supposed to have been good, and he is not believed to have been given to fits of depression.

The only clew to the cause of the affair that is suggested is his removal from the service, Alfred C. Hawley of Chicago having been appointed to succeed him last Friday. The department's notification probably had just reached him, and his suicide, it is thought, may have been due to the change.

MR. SEARLES ACQUITTED.

The Judge Holds the Committee's Questions Were Not Pertinent.

Washington, June 2.—Judge Bradley, in the district court, ordered the jury which had been summoned to hear the evidence against John E. Searles, the secretary and treasurer of the American Sugar Refining company, to find a verdict of not guilty.

The judge held that the questions asked by the senate committee were not pertinent. Mr. Searles was in court, accompanied by H. O. Havemeyer.

The judge's opinion was exhaustive. It had been reduced to writing and was read from the bench. He pointed out that Mr. Searles had testified specifically that no money had been contributed by the Sugar trust to the national campaign or for the purpose of influencing legislation or the election of United States senators.

THE FIVE COUNSELORS ACT.

A Law Doing Away With Apprenticeships In a Law Office.

Trenton, June 2.—The June term of the supreme court opened yesterday, and the names of a large number of persons were presented for examination for licenses as attorneys and counselors. Many of the names were submitted under the five counselors act. This act provides that a person may be examined upon certification of five counselors that the applicant has particular aptitude and does away with the necessity of having spent a term of years in a lawyer's office.

Among those who are to come up under the five counselors act is Annie Irving Keeler of Camden. Miss Keeler's application is certified to by ex-Judge John W. Westcott, Herbert Drake, John F. Joline, Jonas S. Miller and Frederick A. Rex.

Allowed to Do Business.

Topeka, June 2.—The Metropolitan Life Insurance company of New York is again permitted to do business in Kansas by reason of a temporary restraining order granted by Judge Foster in the United States district court preventing Insurance Commissioner McNall from interfering with the company's business until a full hearing can be had. The commissioner issued an order on May 20 revoking the company's license. John Dewitt Peltz of New York, general counsel for the insurance company, is in town and says he will bring suit against McNall for libel and $50,000 damages.

Tennessee's Anniversary.

Nashville, June 2.—The one hundred and first anniversary of the admission of Tennessee into the Union was appropriately celebrated at the Tennessee Centennial exposition. The programme of the day began with a parade through the principal streets, two battalions of the national guard, state of Tennessee, escorting Governor Taylor of Tennessee, Governor Russell of North Carolina and Lieutenant Governor McSweeny of South Carolina and their respective staffs and other invited guests to the exposition grounds. The parade was witnessed by thousands of people.

Ex-Consul to Be Tried.

Boston, June 2.—The case of the government against Joseph A. Iasigi, late Turkish consul at Boston, for embezzlement will be tried during the June term of the superior criminal court. This decision was reached by District Attorney Stevens, who will probably try the case himself for the government. The trial will probably not be begun till about June 20, as the criminal docket for the June term is larger than usual, and the Iasigi case will be the last matter taken up for consideration.

Festivities at West Point.

West Point, June 2.—By direction of the superintendent there was a review of the corps of cadets for the board of visitors. This was followed by a reception at the quarters of Colonel Ernst, to which were invited all the officers and ladies of the post, the members of the first class of cadets and many from society circles in the immediate vicinity of West Point.

Canada's Alien Labor Bill.

Ottawa, June 2.—The committee appointed to consider the alien labor bill passed it. It applies only to such countries as have similar laws against Canada, or, in other words, to the United States. The act can only be enforced by the attorney general of Canada or by some one appointed by him. The bill has yet to pass the house of commons and the senate.

Instantly Killed by a Train.

Centralia, Ills., June 2.—J. W. Roberts, wife and two children were struck by an Illinois Central north bound passenger train at Alma, 15 miles north of Centralia, and all were instantly killed. They were driving in a wagon and were caught at a crossing.

Locomotive Explosion.

Bluefield, W. Va., June 2.—Engine No 251 on the Norfolk and Western railroad blew up near Christiansburg, Va., killing Joe Waskie, an engineer, whose home was at Radford; Jim Gillespie, a fireman, and Flagman William Byrn of Roanoke.

Minister Tower Arrives.

Vienna, June 2.—Mr. Charlemagne Tower, the new United States minister to Austria, has arrived here.

GOOD PROGRESS MADE

Several Paragraphs In the Tariff Bill Completed.

MR. SMITH DENIES SPECULATING.

The House Has a Lively Session, at Which the Speaker and the Republican Majority Were Attacked—Some Special Orders Were Adopted.

Washington, June 2.—The senate made good progress on the tariff bill, advancing to the important metal schedule. During the session the paragraphs covering marble, stone, china, glass, brick and tiles were completed, with a few minor exceptions. Messrs. Vest and Jones of Arkansas, in behalf of the minority of the finance committee, proposed numerous amendments, which were defeated by majorities of from 8 to 14.

The votes were on party lines in the main, although Messrs. Rawlins and White (Dems.) voted with the Republicans to increase the rate on onyx, and Mr. McEnery (Dem.) voted with the Republicans against Mr. Jones' proposition for a reduction of the rates on china.

As a sequel to the recent sensational speech of Mr. Tillman, Mr. Smith of New Jersey rose to a question of personal privilege while the tariff debate was proceeding and made a brief but pointed denial of all speculation in sugar stock, either recently or at any time when sugar was the subject of legislation. Mr. Tillman was among those who heard the denial, but he made no comment on it.

Senator McLaurin of South Carolina was sworn in, raising the membership of the senate to 89. This establishes the personnel of the senate as it will remain for some time—viz: Republicans, 43; Democrats, 34; Populists, 7; silver Republicans, 5; vacancy, 1 (Oregon); total, 90.

House's Lively Session.

There was a lively session of the house, at which the policy of Speaker Reed and the Republican majority again were made the subjects of attacks by members of the minority. Mr. Richardson (Dem.) of Tennessee and Mr. Simpson (Pop.) of Kansas led the onslaught for the minority. The majority position was ably defended by Mr. Henderson (Rep.) of Iowa and Mr. Grosvenor (Rep.) of Ohio.

The appeal of Mr. Lewis (Dem.) of Washington, taken last Thursday from the decision of the chair, that a resolution relating to foreign affairs did not constitute a question of privilege, was laid on the table, and after the skirmish over the methods of procedure three special orders were successively adopted, by two of which the senate bills making a special appropriation for the government printing office and for granting the secretary of the navy permission to contract with any two vessels to carry contributed supplies to India were passed.

The other provided for the consideration of the Frye bill to prevent collisions upon harbors, rivers and inland waters of the United States connected with the ocean, but Mr. Payne, in charge of the latter bill, was forced to abandon it for the day to avoid the point of no quorum.

The conference report on the sundry civil bill was adopted.

Some New Nominations.

Washington, June 2.—William L. Penfield, who has been designated for the position of solicitor for the state department, is about 50 years of age and is at present judge of the court of the circuit in which De Kalb and Steuben counties, Ind., are included. He was a fellow student with Assistant Secretary of State Day at the Ann Arbor Law school and is highly regarded as a lawyer. He was indorsed by Senator Fairbanks.

Hon. J. J. De Haven, nominated to be district judge for the district of northern California, is a practicing attorney in San Francisco and about 55 years of age. He was a member of congress for two terms while President McKinley was a member of the house, and it was there that the president became acquainted with him. He resigned his seat in the house. He has since occupied a position on the supreme bench of California, but occupies no official position at present.

Some Naval Changes.

Washington, June 2.—Admiral Brown has been relieved of the command of the Norfolk navy yard by Captain Farquhar and has been granted leave of absence until his retirement from active service on the 19th of the present month. Admiral Brown is the ranking officer of the navy and will be succeeded by Admiral William Kirkland, now in command of the Mare Island navy yard. By the retirement of Admiral Brown, Commodore Matthews, chief of the bureau of yards and docks, becomes and admiral.

Appointments by the Postmaster General.

Washington, June 2.—Clarence E. Dawson of the District of Columbia and George L. Wood of Baltimore were appointed, respectively, private secretary and stenographer to the postmaster general. H. J. Barrett of Tryon, N. C., has been appointed law clerk of the postoffice department. He was formerly a United States commissioner in western North Carolina. Mr. Dawson is a veteran employee of the department and for a number of years has been the postmaster general's stenographer.

Nominations Confirmed.

Washington, June 2.—The senate has confirmed the following nominations: William Haywood of the District of Columbia to be secretary of the legation and consul general of the United States at Honolulu and James S. Fruit of Pennsylvania to be collector of internal revenue of the Twenty-third district of Pennsylvania.

To Be Nominated For Treasurer.

Washington, June 2.—It is understood that the president has fully decided upon Ellis H. Roberts of New York for United States treasurer and that his nomination will be sent to the senate in a day or two. Mr. Roberts at one time was assistant treasurer of the United States at New York.

New Postmaster.

Washington, June 2.—W. J. Norten has been appointed postmaster at Hightstown, N. J.

PASSING COMMENT.

"Tottie Tandem," the clever writer who furnishes the New York Journal with the news and gossip of the bicycle girls, is in town today securing material for a story on the Christian Endeavor Bicycle Squad. She paid a pleasant call to The Press office this afternoon.

* * * *

Frank W. Vermeule, who has been in the South during the last few months, recently sent the following from Alaga, Ala, to the New York Sun:

Pigs can swim. The fact was drawn particularly to my notice on Thursday last while working on a drawbridge over the Chattahoochie River between Georgia and Alabama, at a point where the river is about 350 feet wide and very swift. I heard a racket on the Georgia bank of the river and upon walking over found that a dog was chasing two large black hogs. He drove them to the river's edge, and as there was no other way of escape both took to the water and struck out for the Alabama shore and reached it in safety. They seemed none the worse for their experience and swam fully as well as any dogs that I have ever seen in the water. The incident was witnessed not only by myself, but also by eleven other members of our crew.

Intended by its promoters to be supremely attractive and interesting, by thoroughly covering the field to which it will be devoted the Dramatic Herald will make its initial appearance in New York next Saturday, under the editorship of Robert James Campbell, Jr., now on the staff of the New York Journal, and with Col. Clarence Walters, well known to the dramatic profession and the frequenters of the Rialto in general, as business manager. The contents of the paper will be distinctly of interest to that great and growing array of vaudeville talent that has developed in stageland during the last few years. In a general way the journal will cater to the other literary fancies of life and frolic in the metropolis. The conduct of the paper will be characterized by an aim to make it spicy and yet high-toned enough to give it prestige in the circles which it will reach. The ideas of its promoters are really clever, and no doubt success will follow its reception by the public.

HOUSE OF WORSHIP DEDICATED.

The First Reformed Church of Somerville is the mother of all the vigorous Dutch churches in the Raritan Valley. It was organized in 1699. The congregation yesterday dedicated a new house of worship.

The dedicatory services were conducted by the Rev. W. Stockton Cranmer, pastor of the church. There was a sermon delivered by the Rev. Dr. Edward B. Coe, of the Forty-eighth Street Collegiate Church of New York City. The Rev. J. Preston Searle, Professor of Theology in the New Brunswick Seminary, and the Rev. Edward Griffin Read, pastor of the Second Reformed Church, assisted in the services.

Addresses were made in the afternoon by President Austin Scott, of Rutgers College; the Rev. Wm. H. De Hart, president of the Classes of Raritan, and the Rev. Daniel Van Pelt.

The interior is finished in dark oak. There are several handsome windows One is the gift of the children of former Secretary of State Frederic T. Frelinghuysen, as a memorial to the Rev. Theodorus Jacobus Frelinghuysen, their ancestor, who was the first pastor of the church. His house is still standing in Somerville.

California Christian Endeavor Special.

The transportation committee of the Christian Endeavor has made final arrangements with the B. & O. Railroad for a special train to SanFrancisco. The train will be known as "The New Jersey Christian Endeavor Special," leaving Jersey Central depot, foot of Liberty street, 9 a. m.; Philadelphia, Twenty-fourth and Chestnut streets, 11:30 a. m., stopping at principal points enroute to pick up delegates. Further announcement will be made later on. Full information can be had by addressing any of the officers: Rev. F. E Davis, manager, Bound Brook, N. J.; Rev. Dr. French, Newark, N. J.; Rev. W. E. Davis, Lebanon, Pa.; Rev. E. W. Thompson, Paterson, N. J.; Rev. W. T. S. Lumbar, Moorestown, N. J., and E. E. Anthony, Plainfield, N. J.

A STRAWBERRY FESTIVAL.

Pleasant and Profitable Affair For St. Mary's Church.

The strawberry festival held at the Young Men's Catholic Lyceum last evening under the auspices of St. Mary's church was a great success. Notwithstanding the cool weather the building wrs crowded with people and everything was readily disposed of. The ice-cream and cake table was in charge of Mrs. DeRevere, Mrs. Conover, Miss Slevin, Miss Phillips and Miss O'Keefe, while the lemonade table was presided over by Miss Butscher and Mrs. McIlroy. Miss Lord had charge of the cane table, and Mrs. Reilly looked after the shooting gallery where some excellent scores were made. Those who served as waitresses were Miss Fanny Hillman, Miss Anna Daley, Miss Kate Roach, Miss Mamie Burke, Miss Anna Ryan and Miss Lizzie Day. Mrs. Slevin was chairman of the affair, and she was assisted in the arrangements by Mrs. McCarty, Mrs. Hillman and Mrs. Knowlton.

A feature of the event was the dancing which was continued throughout the evening. The floor manager was Michael Whalen and he was assisted by Michael Mack, Morris Owen and Charles McCarty. The music for dancing was furnished by Eugene O'Reilly.

SUIT FOR WAGES.

The Important Point Was as to the Length of Contract.

Justice Newcorn was called upon to decide a remarkable case this morning, for no matter whether he believes the statements of the plaintiff or defendent, he finds that he only can make one decision.

The suit is that of Miss Bessie Green against Mrs. Fannie Knight. Mrs. Knight resides on Woodland avenue. Sometime ago she hired a colored woman named Bessie Green as a household servant The employer says that she hired the servant by the month and was to pay her twice a month while the girl says that she was hired by the week, and was to receive her pay twice a month. Bessie Green left on her own accord after two weeks and a half had passed. Then she sued Mrs. Knight for three weeks pay.

As the testimony was the same on all the facts except that of the length of time for which Miss Green was employed, there remained but that to decide. On considering the matter the Judge has decided that it is impossible to give but one verdict, who ever is right. The payment of the monthly wages at the end of half the month practically makes the contract for that length of time.

A very successful entertainment was given at the Trinity Reformed church, last evening, for the benefit of the Sunday-school fund. It consisted of views from the bio-cinematoscope and stereopticon. The moving views of the bio-cinematoscope were very fine and greatly enjoyed. The instrument was well handled and the pictures given in a way that showed them at their greatest advantage. The stereopticon effects were excellent and the audience was treated to a surprise when a large picture of their pastor, Rev. Cornelius Schenck, Ph.D., was thrown on the screen.

Peddlers Fined.

Chief Grant captured two men peddling supposed gold watches on East Ninth street, yesterday afternoon They had no license. They were arraigned before City Judge De Meza this morning and fined $5. They wanted the city to pay their car fare to New York out of the fine, but changed their mind when the Judge suggested a trip to Elizabeth instead.

—Rebekah Degree Lodge will hold a meeting this evening, after which a social time will be enjoyed by the members.

—J Patterson advertised in yesterday's Press for a piece of silk that was lost. It was returned by Miss Charles H. Smith, who ran the advertisement in The Press.

—Great sale now started of men's, boy's, children's hats until Saturday, at Jaquetts. If you want fine goods, cheap, why he has them, and, by the way, don't forget to go yourself and take your sons, for everybody's going, and fit him to a first class suit at bankrupt price. Go and see and believe. Jaquett, 129 East Front street, Plainfield, N. J.

TOM'S SINGULAR DEMISE.

He Waited for the Boys to Fix Him Up Before He Would Consent to Die.

For weeks and weeks Tom Sheppard had been a sick man at our mining camp at Black Bear Valley, according to the Louisville Courier Journal. Everybody felt sorry for him, and yet a sick man in a mining camp was a great inconvenience and a burden. One day Judge Watkins went up to see him, and after finding him no better and no worse than he had been for many weeks he said:

"Tom, I don't want to seem cold-hearted about this thing, but the boys are beginning to wonder why you don't die or get well."

"Yes, reckon they are," replied Tom. "and you can tell 'em I'm goin' to die."

"Do you feel it's for the best, Tom?"

"I do. I ain't got much to live fur, and might as well peg out now as any other time. I've been waitin' fur a week or two."

"Waitin'! Fur what?"

"Fur to die decently. I'm no lord or duke, but I want things fixed up in good shape. I want to be washed up, shaved, hev my hair cut, and git into some decent duds and I won't die until I do."

The Judge told the boys what was required, and that afternoon two or three of 'em knocked off work and fixed Tom up. A shirt was borrowed of one, a coat of another, and by and by the sick man was rigged out in the best the camp afforded. When all this had been done he said:

"Now, then, I feel more like dyin', but there's one more thing I want. I want Joe Billings to come up with his fiddle and play me a few tunes."

Joe was sent for, and after considerable kicking he got his fiddle and went up to Tom's shanty. Tom was propped up in bed and waiting, and Joe sat down and gave him "The Old Oaken Bucket," "Old Folks at Home," "Nellie Gray," and half a dozen other well-known airs. He had been playing for an hour, his eyes on the hills opposite, when Judge Watkins looked in and said:

"Cut it off, Joe, Tom's dead!"

And so he was, and when the boys came to observe the pleased and contented look on his face they were agreed that he had died decently and been given a fair start on his way.

THE SULTAN PAINTS.

Not Pictures, but His Face When He Goes to the Mosque.

Turkish ladies of quality, and of no quality, paint their faces. The painting apparatus is formed with a row of small bottles containing the paints, and set in a little pad or cushion. The cushion is adorned with a network and fringe of many colored beads. The practice of painting, however, is not confined to the ornamental sex. It is resorted to by the Padishah and those Pashas forming his inner circle. His Sublimity has a thick coat of rouge on his cheeks when he goes on Fridays to the mosque. It is to hide the pallor to which the fear of assassination gives rise. The Grand Vizier and Ministers, to keep him in countenance, rouge also, and dye their hair and beards.

As the Sultan's hair and beard are still jet black, he doubtless uses a hair restorer, which may affect his mind. He is very cunning, very patient in "pipe-laying," and has managed to become vastly wealthy and to shelve the Sublime Porte. But he is not of sound mind, and is afflicted with any number of manias that conflict with each other. The terror of assassination never leaves him.

Fishes on the Mountain-Tops.

It sounds queer to hear of fishes on the tops of mountains. One of the Welsh mountains has a lake, 1,300 feet high, and well stocked with roach and perch. One wonders how they got there, as they couldn't swim or walk up.

How do they get there, then? The general belief is that birds do most of the work by carrying the eggs. It is well known that waterfowl distribute yellow perch by carrying the sticky eggs on their feet. Bass do not become distributed except by hand of man or by going up-stream. Trout go anywhere where there is water enough to float a chip, and pickerel get moved about from place to place the same as perch do

Gems In a Macadam Paving.

The costliest macadam on record once paved the streets of Kimberley, South Africa. This celebrated roadbed was studded with diamonds, and hundreds of valuable gems were taken from it. A pedler, thirty years ago, while hawking his wares from farmhouse to farmhouse, found a shining stone by the wayside, and, thinking it might be of some value, sent it to a geologist, who at once recognized it as a fine diamond. That was the beginning of the great Kimberley diamond mines.

A ROSE MONTH BRIDE.

FIRST JUNE WEDDING CELEBRATED IN THIS CITY.

The Contracting Parties Were Miss Louise Augusta Lewis and James Everett Kimball—Details of the Charming Event.

Forty-two years ago yesterday, Rev. Dr. and Mrs. A. H. Lewis were united in marriage in a town far away in Wisconsin, and last evening their daughter, Miss Louise Augusta Lewis, was wedded to James Everett Kimball, of this city, at the Seventh Day Baptist church in the presence of their many relatives and friends. It was the first June wedding in the city and a very pretty ceremony it proved to be, for the gowns of the bridal party were beautiful and the church had assumed a floral dress for the day. Everything passed off smoothly and the bridal couple were started on their tour without accident to mark the pleasure of the occasion.

At 7:30 o'clock, the bridal party made its appearance, entering the church through the door to the left of the church. As the strains of the wedding march pealed forth from the grand organ above, the ushers came slowly forward. They were Walter Kimball, of Brooklyn, Charles Deny Kimball, of New York and Amherst College, Cleveland Cady Kimball, of New York and Amherst College, Paul K Kimball, of Plainfield, all cousins of the groom, Frank J. Hubbard and George F. Rider, of Plainfield.

Then came the four bridesmaids, Miss Evelyn M. Lewis, sister of the bride, Miss Eleanor W. Kimball, of Orange, cousin of the groom, Miss Bessie E. Titsworth and Miss Margaret L. Tracy, both of this city. Miss Lewis and Miss Kimball were gowned in white point 'esprit trimmed with pink ribbons. Miss Titsworth and Miss Tracy wore white Persian lawn trimmed with pink ribbons. They all carried garlands of carnations and smilax with which they formed an aisle to the front of the pulpit through which the bride, leaning on the arm of her father, passed. The bridesmaids were followed by the maid of honor, Miss Mary A. Lewis, sister of the bride. She was gowned in white organdie over green.

The bride and her father, who was to perform the ceremony, followed her to the front of the pulpit where the party stopped and formed on either side of the bride and groom, who had advanced from the other side, accompanied by the best man, Benjamin F. Langworthy, of Chicago.

The bride looked very beautiful in a gown of white satin trimmed with duchesse lace. She carried a bouquet of Easter lilies.

The short service was conducted by Rev. Dr. A. H. Lewis, and again the organ burst forth into triumphant strains and Mr. and Mrs. Kimball led the way to the door on the right, through which they passed. They were followed by the others of the bridal party.

The ceremony was followed by an informal reception for the immediate families at the home of the bride on Central avenue, adjoining the church. Among those present were Dr. Charles O. Kimball and family, of New York; Alfred R. Kimball and family, of Orange; H. E. Kimball and family, of Orange; Prof. Arthur Kimball, of Amherst College; Miss Kate Kimball, of Buffalo; Miss Mary Kimball, of New York; Mrs. W. B. Maxson, Miss Mabel Maxson, Harry L. Maxson, Mr. and Mrs. William M. Stillman, Mrs. C. H. Stillman, Dr. Frank S. Wells, Miss Margaret L. Tracy, Miss Bessie E. Titsworth, Frank J. Hubbard, of Plainfield; Miss Anne Langworthy, of New York; Mrs. Rodney Kimball, of Brooklyn; Miss Fannie Kimball, of Brooklyn; Miss Gertrude Kimball, of Brooklyn; Mr. and Mrs. William Hallock, of Brooklyn.

The church was decorated with palms, daisies, and pink hydrangeas which were arranged in an artistic manner about the platform, pulpit and front of the church.

The decorations at the house were very pretty and consisted of palms, daisies and white peonies.

The gifts were numerous and valuable and included silverware, furniture, and many others, useful and ornamental. The gifts by the bride to the bridesmaids were dainty little stick pins. The ushers all received handsome scarf pins from the groom.

The departure of the newly married couple was not according to the programme. While their friends were awaiting them at the front door, the couple silently departed through the second story window with the aid of a ladder and a friend outside. They took another carriage, theirs having been decorated with white by the guests, and took a late train for New York. Their destination is a secret. The guests did not know of the departure of the couple until they were gone and so the showers of rice that had been prepared were not used.

MUCH INVOLVED ACTION.

HEIRS OF ONE ESTATE SUING EXECUTOR OF ANOTHER ESTATE.

Morgan Turton and Wife, Having Established a Disputed Will Drawn Their Favor, Seek to Recover Other Monies.

Morgan Turton and wife, of this city, are the interested parties complainant in a case to which the Newark newspapers are giving prominence. It is a suit brought by the estate of Catharine Craig against the estate of John A. Young. It will be remembered that the Turtons won a great victory in establishing an irregular will made in their favor a few days before her death by Mrs. Craig. Mrs. Craig had previously made a will leaving everything to John A. Young, and the latter engaged R. V. Lindabury to fight the case. Craig A. Marsh represented the Turtons and established the will. It came out in the trial that Mr. Young had from time to time received from Mrs. Craig upwards of $3,000 which he deposited in the Provident Savings Institution of Jersey City, entering the account in his name as Trustee for Catharine Craig. He swore that Mrs. Craig had made presents to him of all this money. Mr. and Mrs. Turton do not believe that Mrs. Craig did anything of the kind, and they therefore instructed their lawyer to bring suit to recovey the money which Mr. Young received, and which he admitted he had spent for purposes of his own.

Mr. Young died about a year ago and this suit was brought in the Court of Chancery against his executor. It is now being tried at Newark before Vice Chancellor Stevens. Compound interest is claimed for more than ten years on the ground of the alleged breach of trust.

THIEVES MADE A HAUL.

HOUSE OF CHARLES YOUNG IN WESTFIELD, ROBBED.

Attempts to Enter Three Other Residences Yesterday Morning—The Inmates Were Aroused and the Burglars Ran Away.

Burglars entered the house of Chas. Young, corner of Park and Summit avenues, Westfield, early yesterday morning, and carried off a quantity of money and jewelry. The thieves made their entrance through a front parlor window, and visiting the sleeping rooms, ransacked clothing and overhauled the contents of closets and bureau drawers. From the clothing of Mr. Young, $1.10 in cash and a gold watch and chain, valued at $80, were taken.

The work of the intruders was so quietly done that none of the family received any intimation of the robbery until they arose for breakfast yesterday morning.

At the house of W. C. Ferrar, on Westfield avenue, the burglars attempted to effect an entrance through a parlor window, about 1 a. m., and finding the fastenings too secure, unlocked the front door with a skeleton key, and were sawing a chain upon the inside of the door when the noise awakened Mrs. Ferrar.

She aroused her young son, Walter, who raised his bed-room window and yelled lustily for help. The boy's cries aroused tne neighbors, but the burglars took to their heels and escaped before any measures could be taken to capture them.

Attempts were made a short time afterwards to gain an entrance to the house of Frank Smith and A. K. Jones, on Summit avenue, but at both places the inmates were aroused and the burglars left hastily without accomplishing their design.

REFORMED SYNOD'S SESSION.

Dr. C. M. Fritts, of Fishkill, is Elected President.

Two hundred delegates attended the first session of the annual synod of the Reformed Church of America, in the Dutch Reformed church, at Asbury Park, yesterday. There were represented the four branch synods of Albany, New Brunswick, Chicago and New York. The session was called to order by the retiring president, Rev. Dr. John B. Thompson, and after the synod was constituted, Rev. Charles M. Fritts, of Fishkill, N. Y., was elected president, and Rev. Dr. John Scudder was chosen vice-president.

Five Months in Prison.

Judge McCormick, in the Union county Court, yesterday, sentenced George Stevens, Adam Glassen, Harry Stevens and Gustave Snyder to five months each in State Prison. These are the young men from Newark who stole brass journals valued at $80 from freight cars of the Lehigh Valley Roilroad Company and sold the brass to a Newark junk dealer. They pleaded guilty.

—The Middlesex Board of Freeholders increased the annual budget by $6,500, yesterday.

CUP'S TELLTALE FALL.

A BURGLAR'S MISSTEP SAVED A. C. PICARD FROM HEAVY LOSS.

Two Daring Men Had Prepared to Steal $2,000 Worth of Harness as Well as a Horse or Two to Carry the Booty Away.

A burglar's misstep and consequent knocking of a tin cup to the floor in in the barn of A. C. Picard, of 922 Central avenue, probably prevented the latter from being made the victim of a thieving haul of property to the amount of at least $2,000, and possibly more, early yesterday morning.

Mr. Picard has only been a resident of this city for a month past, and when he moved here he brought a number of high-bred horses, as well as an extensive line of harnesses and other horse trappings. The horses and other property were kept in the barn in the rear of his residence, where the second man slept at night.

Early yesterday morning the second man was awakened out of a sound sleep by the rattling sound made by a tin cup falling to the floor from a water pail. He listened intently for a moment and thought he heard someone moving about the barn floor.

"Is that you, 'Gene," yelled the second man from the upper floor, believing that he was addressing the coachman who sleeps in the house, but whom he thought had come to the barn for some purpose.

There was no answer to the query, but instead Picard's employe heard the soft patter of feet as they hurried across the barn floor. He jumped out of bed suspicious that everything was not all right and just as he did so he heard a crash as if someone had broken open the front doors of the barn by main force. He rushed to the window and saw the two men disappear over the fence of a neighboring backyard.

An investigation made later by Mr. Picard and his two men showed that the burglars had prepared to make an extensive haul. Harness to the value of $2,000 had been removed from the barn and piled up in the yard evidently ready to be loaded into a wagon hurriedly and taken away. It was found that the burglars had even unbuckled the halters on one or two of the horses with the probable intention of hitching them to a wagon and making off with their booty, horses and all, in this way. The misstep of one of the depredators, however, had sent all their plans amiss.

WILSON TO HANG TODAY.

One Hundred G. A. R. Men to Guard Morristown's Jail.

Sheriff Edgar F. Durling has completed all arrangements for the hanging of David Wilson, the colored murderer, in the Morris County Jail today. Wilson brutally chopped his wife to death in a Morristown tenement.

Van Hise, the hangman, will use the same scaffold on which young Clawson was hanged in Somerville two weeks ago. The condemned man was visited by his spiritual adviser, the Rev. Mr. Anderson, and said he had made his peace with God.

There will be about 100 G. A. R. men on the outside of the jail as a guard during the execution.

A Hospitable Hostess.

We have no authority to speak for the ownership of Johnston Park, but the public spirit of the mistress of that fair demesne has been plainly demonstrated by her activity in the work of the Town Improvement Society during the past year, and now is shown more than ever by the zeal of her labors for the approaching fete. Moreover, we know whereof we speak, when we say that it is the hope and wish of that mistress to welcome to the beautiful grounds about her home the honest toilers of our town, the mechanics from the shops and factories, with their families, to help them to enjoy the pleasures of the day and of the evening. The Press applauds this noble hospitality and earnestly calls for a hearty response from the people.

Intend to Raise $1,000.

A meeting of the Woman's Foreign Mission Society of the First Baptist church was held yesterday afternoon in the Sunday-school room of the church. The president, Mrs. Linda Butler, was in charge and several letters were read from foreign missionaries, also a number of missionary leaflets. The collection amounted to about $30 for the first quarter. It is the intention of the society ta raise $1,000 this year, so that at the end of the year, which will close the twenty-fifth year of the society, a grand silver jubilee can be celebrated.

Slander Suit Adjourned.

The slander suit of Neal against Sherman, which was to come up for trial in the Union county district court this week, has been adjourned indefinitely at the request of the plaintiff's counsel.

THIEVES FIRE FIENDS?

BARD BICYCLE COMPANY BURNED OUT IN WESTFIELD.

The Flames Got Too Much Headway and All the Firemen Could Do Was to Save Adjoining Property—Loss About $5,000.

The store of the Bard Cycle Company, on Elm street, Westfield, was discovered to be on fire at 12:35 this morning. The alarm was sounded and the firemen responded promptly, but the building which is a one-story frame structure was soon a mass of flames and little could be done by the firemen beyond preventing the spread of the fire. About thirty high grade wheels and a full stock of sundries that were in the store were destroyed. The loss upon stock is estimated at $3,000, covered by insurance. The butcher shop of Martin Snyder, in the same building, was slightly damaged by smoke and water. The building, which is owned by James T. Pierson, was damaged to the amount of $1,500. The fire started at the rear of the Bard company's store on the side towards the railway station. Its origin is unknown, but suspicions are entertained that the store was robbed of a number of wheels and then fired by the thieves to conceal the evidence of their work. George L. Colgate, of the Bard Cycle Company, states that several facts which have come to his notice, since the fire indicate that the place was robbed.

At 12:15, a few minutes previous to the fire, James Dougherty passed along Elm street, and when near the Bard Company's store saw two men run around the side of the building and disappear in the vacant lot at the rear. When about a block away from the store he heard a crash and the sound of falling glass. A few minutes afterward the fire was discovered. Wm. Archbold was on Elm street at midnight and saw two men in a wagon drive several times slowly around the block, and once stop near the Bard Company's store. When they saw themselves watched, they at once drove on. It is not unlikely that a number of wheels were taken from the store and placed in this wagon and the place then fired. Fred C. Decker, a fireman, had his left hand badly cut by falling glass while attempting to force open a front door in the burning building. Dr. R. R. Sinclair stitched and bandaged the wound and Decker was excused from further active duty.

BLUE LAW ENDS DAMAGE SUIT.

A Justice Holds that a Wheelman Riding on Sunday Has No Recourse.

The case of Crane against Hetfield, to recover damages sustained by the plaintiff as a result of a bicycle collision, was dismissed by Justice of the Peace Collins, in Westfield. The parties were riding bicycles along South avenue on Sunday, and Hetfield ran into Crane, damaging his wheel to the extent of $25, as claimed.

Justice Collins held that if a person sustains damages at the hands of another while he is committing an unlawful act, he cannot recover for the damages sustained. Under the Vice and Immorality Act, known as the Sunday law, "all dancing, fiddling, hunting, gunning, sporting, traveling, etc., are offences against the Christian Sabbath. As the plaintiff was violating the statute law of the State in traveling on Sunday, the Justice held he had no right to recover.

The case will probably be appealed.

CADETS TO ACT AS SENTINELS.

A Military Display to Be Made at the Fete Champetre.

It is going to be a wonderful event, that Fete Champetre which is to be held on the ground of John Taylor Johnston's place on East Front street, Saturday. As the time approaches when the Fete is to begin, new facts are learned concerning it. The ladies in charge have thought of everything, it seems. One idea, taken from the World's Fair, is the establishment of uniformed sentinels and guides all over the grounds who can direct the visitors where they wish to go. The Plainfield High School cadets have accepted the invitation to act in such a capacity. The cadets will be distributed around the regular beats, armed with musket and uniformed. They are on duty for a time when they will be relieved by others of the cadets and so on. The officers will have charge of the posting of the sentinels.

Taken to State Prison.

Sheriff Kirk took three prisoners from the county jail to State prison, yesterday morning. They were "Joe, the Italian," and Mary, the "Big Fat Woman," both of Westfield, who were sentenced to the State prison for keeping disorderly houses, and Joseph Ellis, who pleaded guilty to assault and battery on his wife. Each of the trio went to prison for one year.

REGALIAS PRESENTED.

BIG TIME AT IONA COUNCIL MEETING LAST NIGHT.

Great Sachem David Peterson, of Camden, Made the Presentations, After Which There Was a Pleasant Social Time Had.

The occasion that called the members of Iona Council, Degree of Pocohontos, together last evening was indeed a pleasant one. The feature of the meeting was the presentation of regalias to eight Past Pocohontas', Mrs. William Newcorn, Mrs. Westphal, Mrs. Stiglitz, Mrs. Richter, Mrs. Radin, Mrs. Holstein, Mrs. Weigmann, Mrs. Stephany. The present is a silk velvet collar covered with gold braid and is something very fine. William Westphal called on William Newcorn to make the presentations, but the latter in a very neat speech called on Great Sachem David Peterson, of Camden, to perform the duty. Mr. Peterson is an orator of note and his remarks were appropriate to the occasion. At the conclusion of his speech he presented each of the above women with a regalia as they were standing in a semi-circle about the platform.

During the evening there were several piano solos by Mrs. Canfield, and interspersing these numbers the members and their friends indulged in dancing music, which was furnished by Sam. Frazee. Supper was served at midnight and dancing was continued until early this morning.

Among the state officers present were Great Sachem David Peterson, Great Keeper of Records D. M. Stevens, of Camden; Great Senior Sagmor Wm Smyth, of Long Branch; Great Junior Sagmore Wm. Stiles, of Atlantic City; District Deputy Mrs. Coleman and Mrs. Madden, of Elizabeth At the meeting previous to the social features, remarks were made by the above officers.

The committee having in charge the affair consisted of Mrs. Westphal, Mrs. Holstein, Mrs. Bowman, Mrs. Weigmann, Mrs. Dodwell.

TAX BILLS NOT ALL OUT.

WHEN THEY ARE THERE WILL BE SOME SURPRISES.

Collector Cird Still Has 700 Bills to Be Sent Out—They Range From Small Amounts to $600—Much Dissatisfaction.

A number of people in Plainfield have been congratulating themselves that they are not affected by the Martin Act which is to be enforced at an early date. It might be well for those people to know that at present there are about seven hundred tax bills in the office of Collector Bird that have not been sent out.

These bills are for amounts ranging from a few dollars to $600, and it is possible that the ones who have been feeling easy in the matter may be affected to a considerable extent. Owing to the fact that there are so many bills it has been impossible for the collector to send them all out, and then it is impossible to learn the whereabouts of those for whom they are intended. The fact that only a portion of the bills were sent out has led some people to think that there were no more to be served and that they do not come under the Act.

It is probable that the bills will be referred to the Commissioners who are to serve under the Martin Act and that it will be their duty to hunt up the people who should have them.

It seems to be the general opinion that the city council should have taken no action in this matter until all of the bills were served. This would give every one an opportunity to prepare for what is coming.

WOULD NOT OBEY THE LAW.

So Fannie Bush Was Committed to the Industrial Home.

After several futile attempts Fannie Bush, the sixteen-year-old girl, who has caused the police of the city such trouble, has been committed to the State Industrial Home for Girls.

Two weeks ago, Fannie was arraigned before the City Judge for calling names, cursing and being otherwise disorderly. She was defiant and told the Judge that she had been arrested before and expected to be arrested again. Unable to pay the fine the Judge imposed, she went to the county jail for a term of forty days.

When she went to jail before, there was an effort made to have her committed to the Industrial Home, but it failed through her mother's efforts. Yesterday, Fannie was brought before Judge McCormick, in Elizabeth, and committed by him after an examination. She said that she was glad to go as she had not been treated as she ought at home.

—A special meeting of the members of Warren Engine Company will be held this evening.

WHEELMEN'S NEW HOME

THE CRESCENT'S OWN CLUB HOUSE NOW PRACTICALLY ASSURED.

Already a Considerable Sum of Money For Stock Has Been Promised—Committee Appointed to Push the Matter Along.

A suitable club house for the Crescent Wheelmen near the Crescent Oval is assured. The movement in favor of such a building was exclusively noted in the Daily Press several days ago. A meeting of the Board of Directors of the wheelmen was held in their present quarters on West Second street, last evening, at which the plans were discussed.

It was the regular meeting of the Directors and the question of the new club house was the principal business of the meeting. It has long been the ambition of the solid members of the club to have a club house near the track that would be an honor to the club and to the city as well.

The promoters of the new scheme have been at work among the members, of whom there are now eighty in good standing. Among them $800 was pledged with the promise of more when all had been consulted. It is proposed to have the shares valued at $5 each, of which each member shall own at least one.

The matter was left in the hands of a committee composed of Edward White, chairman, ex-Judge William A. Coddington, Judge George W. De-Meza, Councilmen Tunis J. Carey and L. B. Woolston. They were empowered to secure plans for the new clubhouse, to get new members and see the old ones in regards to the amount of their subscription of stock. They are also to see to the question of suitable grounds on which the proposed clubhouse is to be situated. It is thought that the structure can be built and equipped for $3,500, half of which will be raised by subscription and the other half to remain on mortgage.

It is the intention to disband the club and immediately reorganize, every member thus becoming a stockholder in the club.

Another meeting will be held next Wednesday evening, at which time the committee will report and the plans for the house decided upon. The building of the clubhouse will be started at once after that meeting, and it is hoped to have the same ready for occupancy by August 15th.

RECEPTION TO PASTOR AND MOTHER

German Lutheran Church Members Indulge in Sociability.

Mrs. Augusta Eyme, mother of Rev. H. Eyme, pastor of St. Peter's German Lutheran church, arrived in this city recently from Germany to make her home with her son who resides at 161 Duer street. Last evening the Ladies' Aid Society of the church passed a very pleasant evening with their pastor and his mother. The occasion was also the celebration of the fiftieth birthday anniversary of Mrs. Eyme, which made the event still more enjoyable. Previous to last evening the women of the church had not given their pastor a reception and this was a feature combined with the other portion of the programme.

A supper was served after which the guests departed wishing Mrs. Eyme many returns of the day and their pastor many years of success and happiness. Those present were Mrs. Zeisz, Mrs. Scheidecker, the Misses Scheidecker, Mrs. Schantz, Mrs. Koch, Mrs. Hunnaf, Mrs. Sutterlein, Mrs. Beitell, the Misses Beitell, Mrs. Conover, Miss Conover, Mrs. Frey, Mrs. Voegel, Mrs. Ficke, Mrs. Stenzenberger, Mrs. Schemp, Mrs. Seybelt, of Plainfield; Mrs. Schaefer, of Somerville; Miss Wetter, of Staten Island.

Captain of the Victors.

The race between the boat crews of the divisions of the Batallion of the East of the New Jersey Naval Reserves was held at the regetta on the Passaic river, Monday afternoon. The race was easily won by the crew from the Third or Engineering Division. Walter B. Rittenhouse, of East Sixth street, was captain of the victorious crew and pulled in the cutter in the race. The Second Division was second. This is the third race and third victory for the Third Division crew, which is composed of students at the Stevens' Institute of Technology, at Hoboken.

Standard Oil Company Wants Jersey Farm.

The Standard Oil Company, it is said, have offered $20,000 to John Hunt, of Plainsboro, for his farm, which extends along the Pennsylvania Railroad. Plainsboro is a small station fourteen miles from here. The farm consists of 200 acres. Mr. Hunt wants $40,000. The company will give him until Thursday to accept their offer, and in case of his refusal will endeavor to secure land at Monmouth Junction. Their plans are not known here.

ABOUT ARBITRATION

REPRESENTATIVE PEOPLE PRESENT.

Speeches Made by Distinguished Men and Women on the Subject—A Permanent Peace Tribunal Strongly Urged.

Mohonk Lake, N. Y., June 3.—The third annual conference on international arbitration began in this city with the largest opening attendance in the history of the conference. The recent rejection of the arbitration treaty by the senate was the subject of energetic discussion, and the question of the next step will enlist the attention of the conference during the week. The gathering includes representative and influential men and women from all parts of the country.

Hon. George F. Edmunds was elected president of the conference and Edwin D. Mead secretary. The executive committee members are Samuel B. Capen, Robert Treat Paine and Rev. D. F. Trueblood of Boston, Judge Stiness of Providence, Professor John B. Clark and Judge Learned of New York, Judge Ashman of Philadelphia, Hon. W. L. Wilson of West Virginia and President Slocum of Colorado college.

Mr. Edmunds, in opening the conference, contrasted the hope of last year with the disappointment over the rejection of the arbitration treaty. "But there is no occasion for discouragement. Senates come, and senates go, and we shall have a senate that will ratify a treaty representing the best thought and conscience of the nation. This is a government of public opinion, and it is for us to create a public opinion in behalf of international reason and justice which shall secure them."

He touched upon some unfortunate circumstances in the time when the treaty was submitted and spoke confidently of the future.

A Permanent Tribunal Urged.

Edward Everett Hale spoke upon the unsatisfactory character of diplomacy and urged a permanent tribunal to deal with international questions as the courts now deal with state and personal questions.

Dr. Trueblood reviewed the year, noticing, with the disappointments, the gains which the cause of arbitration has made. Edwin D. Mead spoke of the mischiefs resulting from the prejudice against England in this country and the means of counteracting them. In the evening there were addresses by Judge Alden Chester, Hon. W. M. Jones and Hon. John S. Gilbert of New York, George S. Hale of Boston, President Dreher of Roanoke college, Rev. C. H. Payne and others.

Insurance Company Brings Suit.

Topeka, June 3.—The Metropolitan Life Insurance company of New York has instituted a suit in the circuit court of the Unite States against Webb McNall, state insurance commissioner, claiming $100,000 damages. One-half of this amount is asked because McNall revoked or attempted to revoke the company's license to do business in Kansas and the other because he is alleged to have libeled the company in publishing interviews. The suit is against McNall as an individual, not as an officer of the state. This is the third damage suit against McNall. Some time ago the New York Life and Mutual Life of New York sued for $20,000 each.

Held For Counterfeiting.

Syracuse, June 3.—John A. King was examined before United States Commissioner Northrup on a charge of counterfeiting and held to await the action of the United States grand jury, which convenes Sept. 21 at Buffalo. King's alleged crime consisted of painting in water colors, while confined in Onondaga penitentiary on a charge of intoxication, a picture containing the reproduction of a $5 note. He also painted a cancelled stamp on an envelope and gave both to his keeper. King conducted his own defense. Commissioner Northup acknowledged that the prisoner had no criminal intent, but said that the law was strict.

To Preach Socialism.

Denver, June 3.—Three men will start out from Denver in a wagon, on which are painted the words, "Co-operative Commonwealth Van," to preach revolutionary socialism in every part of Colorado and prepare the way for the inauguration of Eugene V. Debs' co-operative commonwealth. The Colorado missionaries are James Hogan, vice president of the American Railway union; N. T. Griest of Denver and William Holmes of Chicago.

Arrested, Charged With Murder.

Jamestown, N. Y., June 3.—Fred Romer of Sinclairville has been arrested, charged with the murder of Axel Lawson. Fred Page of Fredona, who was with Romer on the night of the murder, will also be placed under arrest as soon as found. A watch said to have been carried by Axel Lawson was found at a Fredona jewelry store. It was left there by Romer and Page. Lawson's watch was stolen the night he was murdered.

Prominent Man Killed by Cars.

Atlantic City, June 3.—E. R. Sproul, president of the Fruit Growers' union of Hammonton, was instantly killed last night by a south bound express train on the West Jersey railroad. Sproul was in a wagon and while attempting to cross the tracks was struck. Deceased was an old resident and prominent business man.

Infant's Body Picked Up.

Sandy Hook, N. J., June 3.—Captain Mulligan of Seabright life saving station picked up on the beach the body of an infant wrapped up in cotton and very much decomposed.

Chicago Woman Gets an Office.

Chicago, June 3.—Corporation Counsel Thornton has selected Miss Cora B. Hertzel, an attorney, as his assistant. She is the first woman to receive such an appointment in this city.

Weather Predictions.

Partly cloudy weather, with prospects of thunder showers in the interior; slightly warmer; southeast to south winds.

SATISFACTORY WORK

More Headway on the Tariff Bill Than In Any Other Session.

QUESTION ABOUT CONFIRMATIONS.

The Postal Congress Takes Up the Consideration as to What Articles Shall Be Kept Out of the Mails.

Washington, June 3.—The senate made greater progress on the tariff bill than in any session since the debate opened, completing more than half of the important metal schedule.

The speaking was by the Democratic senators, the Republican senators taking no part in the debate except at rare intervals to answer questions which would expedite the advance of the bill. Messrs. Jones of Arkansas and Vest of Missouri urged numerous amendments, embodying in the main the Wilson rates, but these were rejected with only one exception. This exception related to anvils, on which Mr. Vest secured a reduction of the committee rate from 2 to 1¾ cents per pound. It was the first change made without the assent of the committee, and it was due mainly to the listless manner of many senators in voting.

Mr. Tillman of South Carolina secured the adoption of a resolution directing the judiciary committee to inquire into the recent decisions against the South Carolina dispensary law, with a view to reporting such legislation as might be desirable.

In executive session, the senate spent some time in discussing whether confirmations should be delayed because of the absence of a senator opposing them. The question arose in connection with the appointment of J. O'B. Schopey to be receiver and F. G. Deckabach to be register of the land office at Olympia, Wash. Senator Pettus objected to their confirmation, saying that Senator Turner, who is absent from the city, had requested that the nominations be held up until his return. Without settling the principle involved, the senate allowed the nominations to go over.

Senator Turner objects to the confirmation of these nominees because their predecessors were removed from office, which he claims was an unjustified procedure on the part of the executive.

— Session of Postal Congress.

Washington, June 3.—The universal postal congress held a long session and decided to restrict insects, dried leaves, etc., and other curios for scientific purposes allowed transmission in the international mails to those sent to recognized scientists or scientific museums. A few days ago the congress had the matter up for discussion and gave these articles practically unlimited admissibility. Attention was called to the abuse to which the privileges would be subjected for commercial purposes, and satisfactory restrictions were imposed. It was also decided to allow advertisements like cuts of hotels and sketches of scenery to be placed on the address side of international postal cards.

Nominations Confirmed.

Washington, June 3.—The senate in executive session confirmed the following nominations: John M. Ewing of Wisconsin to be deputy auditor for the navy department and John G. Thompson of Illinois to be assistant attorney general.

Rubber Company's Dividend.

New York, June 3.—A dividend of 2 per cent has been declared on the preferred stock of the United States Rubber company, payable July 15, from the earnings of the company for the fiscal year beginning April 1. The company has decided to reduce the prices of boots and shoes, and, it was announced, owing to the general depression in business, the directors thought it prudent to declare a smaller dividend than usual at this time. When the next dividend period is reached, six months from now, the earnings for the year, it is stated, can be better determined.

The Usual Complaint.

Grand Rapids, June 3.—Prominent local and surrounding growers predict for Michigan a peach crop this year that will not equal 10 per cent the usual yield. Extreme and prolonged cold and wet weather are responsible for the situation. Curls on trees are dropping off at an alarming rate, and with present conditions nothing can be done to stay the disaster.

Defrauding the City of Boston.

Boston, June 3.—The jury in the superior criminal court, before whom J. Richard Mulrey, formerly a clerk in the paving department of the city of Boston, and Thomas F. Finnegan, a contractor, have been tried on charges of larceny from the city by means of false entries, returned a verdict of guilty.

MAKE LIFE EASY

Old age has many infirmities, some of which are more prevalent than kidney disorders. Have you ever noticed how the old people complain of back ache, lame back and general listlessness? And there are many other symptoms of which they do not speak, such as bloating of the limbs, painful and infrequent urination, of excessiveness of urinary discharge. Most people think they are too old to find relief and cure, but, this is not so. No better evidence than the following, which comes from a Newark citizen.

Mrs. E. Knott is a resident of Newark. Her address is 95 Academy street, where she has a little vegetable and grocery store. Mrs. Knott is seventy-two years of age, and kidney trouble has made the work of attending to her little store a burden. She says:

"For a number of years I have been very bad at times, and during the past year I have grown worse. The stooping over and lifting in my store nearly broke me down. I could hardly sleep at night, and the only position in which I could get any relief was flat on my back. I even found it painful to rise after sitting any length of time. Every little exertion or the slightest cold affected the kidneys and would settle in the back. It would cause retention to the urine also. I began to take Doan's Kidney Pills for my trouble, and grew much better. Continuing their use I got entirely over my trouble. I derived so much benefit from Doan's Kidney Pills that I have recommended them to many friends and shall always do so in the future."

From Two Points of View.

Looking at the price of the Harrison Town & Country Ready Mixed Paint by the gallon—there are plenty of mixtures on the market that can discount it. But by the job—there is no competition. A paint that will cover 300 square feet on a poor surface two coats per gallon, and stand all climatic changes, can afford to ignore the so-called cheap brands which spread and wither under the brush, although they have the weight of adulterants in the can. No better opportunity to deceive is offered for the unscrupulous than in Ready-Mixed Paint. Get the product of the makers of a century, and you get the pure article—that's Harrisons' "Town and Country" Ready-Mixed Paints, with this big "H" on every can.

better worth following than any other will bring you direct to our store when you want anything in the line of paints. When a mistake is easily avoided it's scarcely worth while to run the risk of making one. Buying poor paint is a needless waste of money. It's paying for something you don't want, because it don't answer the purpose. Only paint that wears and is proof against the exposure of our climate is worth the cost of putting on. After taking medicines of my own preparation and those of others, I took a dose of Chamberlain's and it helped me; a second dose cured me. Candidly and conscientiously I can recommend it as the best thing on the market." The 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

Miss Hattie W. Hall, of New York, and Miss Marie Wendell Kasmire, of Brooklyn, are visiting Mrs. Charles L. Moffett, of Arlington place.

Mr. Isaac Horner, proprietor of the Burton House, Burton, W. V., and one of the most widely known men in the state was cured of rheumatism after three years of suffering. He says: "I have not sufficient command of language to convey any idea of what I suffered, my physicians told me that nothing could be done for me and my friends were fully convinced that nothing but death would relieve me of my suffering. In June 1894, Mr. Evens, then salesman fo the Wheeling Drug Co., recommended Chamberlain's Pain Balm. At this time my foot and limb were swollen to more than double their normal size and it seemed to me my leg would burst, but soon after I began using the Pain Balm the swelling began to decrease, the pain to leave, and now I consider that I am entirely cured." For sale by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

S. L. Dollner and family have returned to their home, 831 Madison avenue, much to the delight of their many friends and neighbors, after an absence of several months.

WORK OF RELIC HUNTERS.

They Deface Monuments In the Old Granary Grounds at Boston.

Boston, June 3.—It has been discovered that relic hunters had been getting in their work in the old Granary burying grounds, and several of the ancient gravestones show the effects of the vandalism. The work was evidently done on Memorial day, when the grounds were open for inspection by the public.

The stones that attracted the relic hunter or hunters were those over the graves of Paul Revere, John Hancock and Governor Increase Sumner, and each one was clipped as if by a hammer.

The stone at Paul Revere's grave had one piece about two inches long taken out near the base, and one of the corners was chipped off.

The stone over Governor Sumner's grave was treated in like manner, and the marks of the hammer were plainly to be seen.

EXPLOSION ON SHIPBOARD.

Austrian Man-of-War Seriously Damaged While Saluting.

Lisbon, June 3.—During an exchange of salutes an ill closed breech caused an explosion on the Austrian man-of-war Wien. The shock was terrific. One of the gunners was killed, and several others were severely injured. The barbette was completely destroyed.

The Wien is a steel coast defense ship of 5,550 tons displacement and 8,500 horsepower. She is 305 feet long and 55 feet 9 inches in the beam. She is driven by two propellers and has a maximum draft of 21 feet.

She was built at Trieste in 1895 at a cost of £339,062. She has four torpedo tubes, four 9.4-inch guns, six 5.9 quick firing guns, fourteen 47-mm. quick firing guns and two machine guns. She has a speed of 17 knots.

SPAIN'S CABINET OUT

CAUSED BY A PERSONAL ENCOUNTER.

The Duke of Tetuan Struck Professor Comas, a Liberal Member, and His Party Associates Refused to Attend.

Madrid, June 3.—Senor Canovas del Castillo has tendered to the queen regent the resignation of the cabinet, owing to the refusal of the Liberals to take part in the deliberation of the cortes.

This attitude of the Liberals is due to the personal encounter between the Duke of Tetuan, the minister for foreign affairs, and Professor Comas, a Liberal senator, on May 21, when the duke slapped the face of the senator after a heated debate on the Morgan belligerency resolution adopted by the United States senate.

After the meeting in the lobby of the senate between the Duke of Tetuan and Professor Comas the Liberal minority held a meeting, and ex-Premier Sagasta, the Liberal leader, was summoned to confer with his followers.

The Liberal senators and deputies eventually decided not to attend any more sessions of the cortes until full satisfaction had been accorded the Liberal party by the Duke of Tetuan.

A duel between the senator and the duke was proposed, but it was eventually abandoned.

The Duke of Tetuan tendered his resignation after the quarrel with Comas, but he withdrew it later on the advice of the premier, who, the personal question of the dispute having been settled by the seconds of the two parties deciding that a duel was not necessary, held that in view of the pending importance of international questions the ministry should not be disorganized.

On the following day the law students made a manifestation of sympathy in front of the residence of Senator Comas and then went to the house of the Duke of Tetuan and hooted that minister until they were dispersed by the police.

On May 24 the premier made statements in the senate and in the chamber of deputies in reference to the Tetuan-Comas difficulty, but they were not of a conciliatory nature, and the situation became still more unsatisfactory.

Conservatives Hold a Meeting.

After that day's session of the cortes the dissident Conservatives held a meeting and decided to ask the president of the chamber to enter into negotiations with Senor Sagasta with the view of inducing the Liberals to attend the meetings of the cortes, but their effort was fruitless.

Replying the same day in the senate to a question as to why the Liberals were absent, the premier said:

"In the opinion of the government the matter which the Liberals plead as an excuse for their absence from the senate is an incident of a purely personal character, which has already been arranged. The government respects the opinion of the Liberal minority, but it rejects their theory of the incident and their demands for the resignation of the minister for foreign affairs as being contrary to the constitution of parliament."

Missing Man's Body Found.

Gouverneur, N. Y., June 3.—The body of William Ashley, who disappeared on April 9, has been found in the upper part of the Gouverneur Wood Pulp company's pond, nine miles above this place. He was carried away in a log jam. Ashley had a sum of money in his possession and was an expert swimmer, and it was claimed at the time that he passed through the rapids safely and had afterward left the country.

Roosevelt Opens Naval War College.

Newport, R. I., June 3.—The Naval War college was formally opened, with an address by Hon. Theodore Roosevelt, assistant secretary of the navy. The address was delivered in the lecture room of the college. Among those present were Commodore Wallace and officers of the naval station, Colonel Pennington, commander of Fort Adams, and Commander McGowan of the naval training station.

Infirmary Destroyed by Fire.

Greenville, O., June 3.—Fire at the Darke County infirmary entirely destroyed the structure, only the bare walls remaining standing. Many helpless creatures are wandering about the farm, some of them partially insane. The city fire department was unable to control the flames. There was an insurance of $13,000. A temporary structure will be erected at once.

Bank Clerk Arrested.

St. Paul, June 3.—Charles Zchau, one of the two receiving tellers of the German American National bank, has been arrested at the instance of the bank officials on a charge of grand larceny, $13,600 in cash having disappeared on Saturday and an investigation having led to the belief that he had taken it. The clerk's bond amply covers the loss to the bank.

Memorial Bell Cast.

Troy, N. Y., June 3.—A memorial bell has been cast in this city for the United States revenue cutter Daniel Manning. It is the gift of the family of the deceased secretary of the treasury, after whom the cutter is named, and when completed will weigh 100 pounds. It is from the best of metal and will be highly polished.

Missouri Congressman Elected.

THE HARMONY DINNER.

There is every reason why the Democrats of Union County should make a desperate effort to get together and act in unity. The proposition to hold a harmony dinner at some future date, as outlined in The Press yesterday, is one that no doubt will be prolific with good results if carried out in the spirit in which it is suggested.

LEGAL MUSS IN PROSPECT.

The intention of some property owners who come under the scope of the Martin Act to fight the enforcement of the provisions of the law, as relating to those properties against which there are claims previous to 1880, will make a legal muss such as Plainfield has probably never before seen.

IMPROVING MIDDLESEX ROADS.

The Improved Highways to Connect With Union County System.

The Board of Freeholders at the meeting in New Brunswick yesterday afternoon placed $4,000 in the budget to gravel four miles of a country road from Monmouth Junction to Kingston. This will extend to the latter place the improved road from Trenton, through Lawrenceville and Princeton, and leave only about eight miles of unimproved road between Kingston and New Brunswick. From this city east the macadam road extends through Metuchen and connects with the Union county system. This eight mile gap will doubtless next receive the attention of the Freeholders and thus complete a system of excellent roads between Newark and Trenton.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address F. J. PASSING COMMENT.

In answer to a petition from the Woman's Club, of Orange, General Manager David Young of the Consolidated Traction Company has written the club a letter, stating that it is impossible for the company to enforce the rule forbidding expectorating on the floors of trolley cars. The manager promises, however, to have conductors prevent one person from occupying two seats or children from being seated while older passengers are standing.

"Cack" Carter, who is known in the city directory as William Carter, is home again and still continues to glide about the quiet streets of Plainfield in his old accostomed way. He shows no traces of his rough handling in New Brunswick, for "Cack" is just as lively as ever. When you suggest New Brunswick to him, it never phases him, and he continues his remarks but without reference to that eventful night when he left Zimmerman's Hall, his hat and a howling pack of enraged darkies in the rear and vanished into the fabled darkness of New Brunswick. How he reached home he does not say for, "Cack" is a trifle reticent on that subject.

DUNELLEN AND NEW MARKET.

Judge DeMeza, of Plainfield, was in town yesterday on business.

Mr. Bamberger, of Newark, called on his Dunellen friends yesterday.

Miss Lillian Staats has returned from a visit with friends in Newark.

Mrs. James Bailey, of Plainfield, spent yesterday with friends in town.

Miss Emma Beck, of Elizabeth, is visiting Mrs. J. E. Lowe for a few days.

After an absence of several months Miss May Giese has returned to her home.

Mr. Adams has been secured to conduct Mr. Stites's blacksmith business while the latter is confined to his home by illness.

Mrs. Charles Dickens went to New York yesterday to attend the wedding of her niece, Miss Elsie Baumueller, to E Gambol. The wedding was celebrated at the home of the bride's parents on Lafayette avenue.

It is reported on good authority that G. Elston Lowrie was seen in Dunellen one night recently. It is said that he called at his home and remained a few hours with his wife, and that he left before daylight

Among those who are mentioned as possibilities for the position of postmaster are Adam Dealaman, Mr. Gray, Charles Coriell, Geo. Huff, Thomas Todd, and Dr. Brakely. At present it is hard to tell who is in the lead for the plum.

One of the old landmarks in this vicinity is the office used by W. H. Cole, the popular coal dealer. Mr. Cole purchased the building eleven years ago and at that time there was no buildings of any account in Dunellen. The building has stood all kinds of weather and is just as good today as it was the day Mr. Cole bought it.

The term of Postmaster Staats will expire in September and already there are several aspirants for the office. While Mr. Staats has had the office the best of service has been given, and during the time there has not been one complaint made nor has an inspector been called to the office to straighten out any reports or difficulties. Mr. Staats has been assisted materially by his daughters, Mrs. J. W. Griggs and Miss Lillian Staats, and they have taken a personal pride in keeping the office as it should be.

Miss Anna D. Cooper, elocutionist, will give a recital in Scotch Plains School Hall, next Monday evening. The programme will also include renditions by Mrs. Eb. Hart, pianist, and Miss Carrie Dawes, a child soloist.

Owing to an error in the arrangement for the Memorial Day parade, the school children who had assembled at the school building were not notified of the arrival of the G. A. R. Post in time to participate in the general procession to the cemetery, so the children held a procession of their own, arriving at the cemetery in time to take part in the decoration of the graves.

Excelsior Hook and Ladder Company, Bucket and Engine Company, and the Jr. O. U. A. M., sent delegations to meet the members of the Plainfield G. A. R., who came to this place Monday to decorate the graves of their comrades, and escorted them them to the cemetery and back. At the cemetery an eloquent address was delivered by Rev. Dr. Parks, formerly of the Baptist church, and also a chaplain in the late war.

A successful strawberry and ice cream festival was held in Excelsior Hall, last evening, for the benefit of the Methodist Episcopal church. The attendance was large and the affair was a delightful one, socially. Much credit is due to the committee in charge, which was made up as follows: Mrs. Thomas Whitenack, Mrs. Delia Lyon, Mrs. Gibbs, Miss Lulu Hollingsworth, Miss Frentz, Miss Adams, Miss Bliss, Miss Poole, Rev. Mr. Winans, Charles Wade and William Hosel.

LINCOLN.

Friends and Fellow Citizens—We have gathered here this beautiful day to commemorate the memory of the fallen heroes of the War, and to take part in the ceremonies of dedicating a living monument to our martyred President, by building a town in his name. There are many things in life that I am thankful for, and some things that make my heart sad. One thing I am thankful for is that I lived in the days of Abraham Lincoln, and that I was old enough to be one of the 300,000 volunteers that he called for in 1861 to help crush out armed rebellion. The ceremonies today at Lincoln, in addition to observing Memorial Day for the dead soldiers, will be devoted to dedicating a living monument to our martyred President, Abraham Lincoln, and for any part I may take in this grand movement, I trust that my motives will not be misunderstood, and in after years when a mighty city shall have risen where now are seen waving fields of grain, it will be an honor to all who have attended these ceremonies. May God bless us all in our efforts to perpetuate the memory of Abraham Lincoln, the saviour of our country.

A. H. Patter, with E. C. Atkins & Co., Indianapolis, Ind., writes: "I have never before given a testimonial in my life. But I will say that for three years we have never been without Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy in the house, and my wife would as soon think of being without flour as a bottle of this Remedy in the summer season. We have used it with all three of our children and it has never failed to cure—not simply stop pain, but cure absolutely. It is all right, and anyone who tries it will find it so." For sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

THE AMERICAN QUEEN COMPETITION.

A Columbia FREE!

A lady's Columbia Bicycle, 1897 Model, will be given to the winner in THE AMERICAN QUEEN competition, which will be open to all the subscribers to THE AMERICAN QUEEN until June 30, 1897.

The Columbia, the standard bicycle of the world, has been selected for this competition, because the publishers of THE AMERICAN QUEEN are convinced that it is the best and that the woman who wins it would have it in preference to any other make.

The Columbia is now on exhibition at our store, and will remain on exhibition until June 30th, when the competition will close and the Columbia will be awarded to the fortunate winner.

The contest which we have just inaugurated, by or through which some subscriber to THE AMERICAN QUEEN is already well under way.

The contest will remain open until June 30, 1897. The conditions and plan of this contest are simply these: We purpose presenting a Columbia Bicycle, 1897 Model, to the lady subscriber of THE AMERICAN QUEEN, for one week, for a family of five, to exceed 500 for the week. The subscriber who furnishes the best menu, for one week, for a family of five, the cost of such menu not to exceed $10 for the week, will be presented with the bicycle.

The merits of the menus submitted will be passed upon by the Editor of THE AMERICAN QUEEN, Miss Mary J. Bisland, and the person furnishing the best menu, in Miss Bisland's judgment, will be awarded the bicycle.

The menu submitted should be enclosed in one envelope and the name of the sender in another, the two being handed in or sent in together, addressed to us. The envelopes containing the menus will then be numbered and sent to Miss Bisland and the envelopes containing the names reserved by us, and when Miss Bisland makes her choice of the menus we will inform us of the number of the winner and she will inform us of the result in local newspapers and THE AMERICAN QUEEN.

The only requirement necessary to admit you to this contest is that you be a subscriber to THE AMERICAN QUEEN.

The menu submitted should become a reader of THE AMERICAN QUEEN. THE QUEEN is published at $1 a year, but to give all our friends a chance to get this splendidly useful home publication for the ensuing year and at the same time have a chance to become the proud possessor of the standard cycle, we shall until the 30th day of June receive subscriptions (only one, however, will be received from each family) for the nominal fee of 25 Cents a year. Come to the store at once, register your name, will fix their minds on good things to eat and mould them into an acceptable menu for the week, and at the same time keep the cost down to $10.

THE COMPETITION. Our aim in offering this competition is to have every lady we can reach with this announcement become a reader of THE AMERICAN QUEEN. THE QUEEN is published at the store and may be seen at any time.

We want everybody to feel free to go into this contest and we hope that hundreds of our customers will fix their minds on good things to eat and mould them into an acceptable menu for the week, and at the same time keep the cost down to $10.

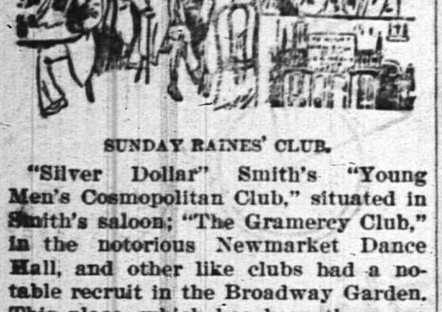
NEW YORK LETTER.

Each succeeding Sunday under the amended Raines law demonstrates beyond any shadow of doubt that the new law is a dismal and mirth-provoking failure—mirth-provoking for the saloon men and dismal for those whose duty it is to restrict the sale of liquor on the Sabbath Day. The statesmen who have predicted that the law would compel New Yorkers to go thirsty on Sunday or seek other more congenial climes are, like the doughty Douglass, defied. The ability of a saloonkeeper to misconstrue a law and convince those whose duty it is to enforce it that his construction is right would open the eyes of even those statesmen who make laws to meet conditions they are thoroughly unfamiliar with and prevail upon a Legislature to adopt them as the condensed wisdom of a Solon. The police have worked manfully to carry out the law, and they refuse to be held responsible for the evasions, and admit that they are powerless.

The first Sunday under the new law was comparatively dry, the second less so, and now all restrictions seem to have been swept away. The saloon men, after due cogitation, have found the loophole through which to crawl, and they have made wondrous use of the knowledge. Nearly all of the old Raines law hotels are now open, as in former days, and many saloonkeepers revived old clubs, with charters dating prior to May 23, 1897, and under the guise of running a club kept open house.



SUNDAY RAINES' CLUB.

"Silver Dollar" Smith's "Young Men's Cosmopolitan Club," situated in Smith's saloon; "The Gramercy Club," in the notorious Newmarket Dance Hall, and other like clubs had a notable recruit in the Broadway Garden. This place, which has been the scene of several raids by the police, and is the gathering place of many of the worst elements in the city, by some means managed to revive an old club with a sufficiently ancient license, and like the other places, is now open Sundays. A sign hanging over the cashier's desk announces that applications for membership in the club would be received by the cashier, who, it was learned, was also secretary and treasurer of the club.

When the Republican leaders insisted, against the protest of Lauterbach and the Republican organization in this city, in passing the Raines law amendments, it was suspected that they did so for the purpose of satisfying the demands of the country for a strong law yielding a big revenue, and at the same time so wording the amendments as to afford opportunity for evasion in case the city authorities did not care to make an honest effort to enforce the enactment. In other words, the Republican organization of the city, though obliged to accept an unpopular law, is given a chance to escape by the opportunities for lax enforcement. Whether the law is really adequate to stop liquor selling in illegal hours cannot be determined until an aggressive effort is made to enforce it, just as Roosevelt enforced the old Excise law when he first became President of th Police Board. Deputy Chief Cortright, indeed, says that he is satisfied with the way the police have enforced the new enactment, although he refers to the difficulty in dealing with notorious clubs which, having purchased old charters, are doing a regular liquor business under the guise of a regular club membership.

The Mayoralty contest has set out at such a lively pace that it is almost impossible to follow it. The control of Greater New York for four years will be a big thing for the party fortunate enough to capture it. The enlarged city will spend $70,000,000 a year and have 23,000 persons on its payrolls. One result seems to be foreshadowed by the early agitation that has started, and that is that no small man will be elected Mayor. Whatever his politics, the man himself must have a character measuring up to the dimensions of the great office. Nearly all the men thus far mentioned for the Mayorality are of the grade known as "first-class." Even "Lou" Payn names as his first choice Cornelius N. Bliss, Secretary of the Interior, and Mr. Bliss may now, therefore be considered as the first choice of the regular organization, with General Benjamin F. Tracy in reserve. It will be remembered that the Platt men urged Bliss for the Cabinet and the President took them at their word and selected him. Would the Platt men be really pleased if the people also took them at their word and actually chose Mr. Bliss for Mayor? It may be said that Mr. Bliss entered the Cabinet with reluctance, and prefers to reside in New York. But when he accepted the Cabinet place it was understood that he had enlisted for a full term. Three years ago Mr. Bliss might have been the candidate for Mayor instead of Strong, but he declined to run. Most of the other men named as candidates are, like Low and Schieren, of the highest standing. The only two of a second grade proposed for the office are Congressman Quigg, for whom Mr. Platt has a strong liking, and Lieutenant Governor Woodruff, who is suggested by Payn as second to Bliss.

CYRUS THROP.

A TRILBY VILLAGE.

It has a Svengali Square and a Little Billee Street.

Now that there is a town named Trilby down in Florida, with streets named for the characters of DuMaurier's book, it is fair to assume that for years to come the people of that neighborhood will hear nothing, see nothing, think of nothing but Svengali, Svengali, Svengali.

The founding and the naming of this town are part of a good story. It seems that H. B. Plant, the millionaire, who owns all the railroads on the western side of Florida, was called on to name the new town which he caused to have built at the crossing of two of his railroads. There had been a station there before the new town was started, and it had been called Macon. When it was decided to cut down the grade of the railroad at that point the old station house, which was about all there was to the old town of Macon, was left standing high upon the bluff. It had to be torn down, as it was of no use in its lofty altitude above the track. When the old building was demolished the death knell of Macon, Fla., was sounded, and then the question was asked Mr. Plant, the railroad President, "What shall we name the new town?"

Just at that time the railroad magnate was much absorbed in a second reading of DuMaurier's book, and when the question was asked he responded: "Let us call the little town site Trilby." And so it was. Strange to say, the little village at once began to grow. It was put down Trilby on the maps of Florida, and it became conspicuous by reason of the Trilby craze, which was in full frenzy just at that time. Real estate agents took hold and helped to build it up, while traveling newspaper men passing over the railroad wrote columns about the town that was growing there to perpetuate the name of Du Maurier's book. The town of Trilby is today a pretentious little place with a dozen or more stores, shops and dwellings. The streets are named appropriately. The principal square is called Svengali square, and the three leading streets which run parallel and lose themselves in this square are called "Little Billee street," "Taffy street," and "The Laird." There are several avenues named after the women folks of the book.—New York Sun.

Delicate Dress Goods.

Some gowns are so dainty in the weave, so delicate in tint, that they seem to soil by being looked at—one or two wearings making them unpresentable, NOT USELESS. We make a specialty of cleaning fine fabrics, the more delicate the material, the better the results. Sometimes an accident will ruin a gown, without injuring the texture We dye them then, sometimes we get a prettier effect than the original color. Fine goods stand redyeing. The finer the material the better the new color. We charge so little for cleaning or dyeing, that even if you are in doubt as to the result, it's worth while to experiment. Want a new evening gown for a dollar or two? Laundry orders will receive your work.

Purchased at 30c. on the Dollar.

New York Clothing Co.,

completed a deal about one week ago with S. Peek & Co., of Rochester, N. Y., the entire stock of Men's, Boys' and Children's Fine Suits; also their Summer Goods, bought by us for net spot cash.

S. PEEK & CO.,

of Rochester, N. Y., were noted in their city as very careful manufacturers of the Finest Clothing.

Only the very best makes and choicest lines were handled by them. Desiring to retire for the present, and hearing that we were in a position to close out the entire stock, we negotiated and the purchase for spot cash 25c. on the dollar was the result. Here's your opportunity to purchase a suit for what the linings would cost at any tailoring establishment in Plainfield.

A FEW PRICES

will tell the whole facts. It means a saving of 65c. on every dollar spent. We deal only Reliable Clothing, and will not undertake to sell a dollar's worth of clothing unless we know that what we sell will give the buyer as good wear as if he paid us what the garment is worth. Men's suits $3.25, worth $12; men's suits $4.50, worth $13.50, including light, medium and slate color cheviots and serges; men's imported cassimere, over plaids and cheviot or serge suits, worth $14 to $20, during this sale $5.25. We allow you to keep these suits home for three days and if not satisfactory for any reason whatever money back for the asking. ATTEMPTED MUTINY.

Sacramento, June 3.—An attempted mutiny at the state prison at Folsom was checked by the prompt and decisive action of Warden Charles Aull, who directed that the guards should shoot down the seven ringleaders at the first sign of revolt.

About 300 convicts are employed at the rock crusher, and the plan agreed upon by the mutineers was that when they returned to the rock crusher they should refuse to work. Warden Aull learned of the projected mutiny and secured the names of the ringleaders.

The warden waited until within a few minutes of the hour for the 300 convicts to strike and when they felt themselves about to become masters of the situation. Then he gave the order that at the first sign of the threatened revolt the guards should shoot down the seven ringleaders, whose identity the warden had made known to the guards. The convicts completely collapsed at this unexpected turn of affairs. There was no signal to strike, and they went about their work as usual.

ALLEGED FILIBUSTERS.

The Crew of the Dauntless Placed Under Bonds at Key West.

Key West, June 3.—The 33 men, including the crew, found on board the alleged filibuster Dauntless, which arrived here in custody of the United States cruiser Marblehead, were arraigned before United States Commissioner Otto and were each placed under a $100 bond to appear next Wednesday, when District Attorney Clark will be here to conduct the investigation.

Nothing of a contraband nature was found on board the Dauntless, although the cruiser's officers saw men throwing packages overboard before the Dauntless came to in reply to the shots of the Marblehead.

The capture took place near Palm beach after a three hours' chase. The cruiser fired three blank shots and one solid shot before the Dauntless stopped.

Among those arraigned were J. E. Cartaya, Colonel Emilio Nunez and Charles Silva.

THE VALENCIA'S EXPERIENCE.

Ward Line Steamer Fired on by a Spanish Cruiser.

Havana, via Key West, June 3.—The Ward line steamer Valencia, which has arrived at Cienfuegos, reports an exciting experience while off Guantanamo bay.

The Spanish cruiser Reina Mercedes signaled the Valencia to display her colors. As the Valencia did not immediately comply the Reina Mercedes fired a blank shot, which was followed almost immediately by a solid shot, falling out of range. The Valencia then displayed her colors.

It is understood that the United States vice consul at Santiago de Cuba has lodged a formal protest against the act of the cruiser. Captain Quesada left yesterday by the steamer Mexico to investigate the affair, which has a serious aspect.

A Singular Electric Accident.

Albany, June 3.—An extremely singular accident here caused the instantaneous death of two horses by electricity. While a wagon of the National Express company, drawn by two horses, was turning a corner near the Delaware and Hudson depot an electric light pole fell, landing between the horses and not touching them. The live wires, however, fell across the horses' necks and killed them instantly. One horse remained in a standing position, his head high in the air until the current was shut off. The other horse sank to his knees and remained in the rigid state until the current ceased.

Durrant's Appeal Fails.

San Francisco, June 3.—Murderer Durrant's first effort to gain a respite by appealing to the federal courts has failed, United States Circuit Judge Gilbert having refused to issue the writ of habeas corpus for which his attorney applied. Notice of the intention to appeal to the United States supreme court has been filed, and application for leave to appeal will be made formally. This, however, may be refused, as in the Butler case, although Durrant's attorneys are confident that the leave will be given.

Shot by His Drunken Friend.

Kingston, N. Y., June 3.—William Hommel of Saugerties was deliberately shot in the eyes by his friend, Tom Kelly, in the latter's residence near that place without any apparent provocation. Asking his father for his gun, Kelly said, "Do you want to see how nice I can shoot a man?" Returning from another room with the weapon, he fired directly at Hommel, destroying his sight, and, it is thought, with fatal effect. Kelly was drunk, and no motive for the deed is known.

A Big Cargo.

Buffalo, June 3.—The big steamer Andrew Carnegie came into port with a record breaking cargo. She was drawing about 16 feet 2 inches forward and 16 feet 6 inches aft. Her cargo weighs 5,570 tons net and consists of 171,000 bushels of oats, 55,000 bushels of barley and 51,000 bushels of wheat. This is the heaviest grain cargo ever afloat on the lakes.

Senator Aldrich Indisposed.

Washington, June 3.—Senator Aldrich, who has charge of the tariff bill, is confined to his room at the Arlington hotel by an attack of indigestion. The senator's physician says there is nothing serious in the attack, but advised him to refrain from his senatorial labors for a few days.

Cretan Chief Issues a Proclamation.

Khania, Island of Crete, June 3.—Hadji Michalis, as chief of the Cretan insurgents, has issued a proclamation calling upon the Cretans to elect a general assembly, to resume their ordinary everyday relations and to respect the lives and property of the Mussulmans.

Death of an Acrobat.

Montreal, June 3.—George Fyfe, one of the Martinetti brothers, who was injured while doing an acrobatic turn at Sohmer park last Wednesday, died at the General hospital at this place.

A NOTABLE BANQUET

Given to the Commercial Leaders at Philadelphia.

A BRILLIANT ASSEMBLY PRESENT.

Among the Distinguished Guests Were the President and Members of His Cabinet—Nearly Fifteen Hundred Persons Participated.

Philadelphia, June 3.—The commercial leaders of the western hemisphere assembled in the great exchange room of the Bourse last night at what was probably the most notable banquet ever given on this continent.

The banquet was notable not only in point of members, nearly 1,500 persons participating, but in the distinction of the chief guests. President McKinley was there, and he spoke to the assembly. Seated also at the table of honor were Secretary of Agriculture Wilson, Attorney General McKenna, Congressmen Dingley, Dalzell, Grosvenor, Heatwold and Tawney, the ministers from Mexico, Brazil, Chile, Argentine, Venezuela and other South American governments, the Chinese minister and a number of eminent officials from the capital.

The hall in which the dinner was held covers an entire block in area. It was gorgeous with light and color. The massive pillars supporting the gallery which stretches around the room were draped abundantly in the national colors, while between them hung in ample folds the flags of all the governments on the American continent. The guests on entering passed under an archway of ferns and smilax and were greeted by a magnificent sight. On every side stood huge potted palms, and the tables were literally smothered with cut flowers. But the most effective feature of the decorations was the light arrangement.

A Brilliant Spectacle.

Trailing lines of tiny electric lights in varicolored globes sparkled from the midst of the flowers which filled the centers of the tables, and others scintillated between the folds of the flags with which the walls were hung. Ensconed in a compartment formed by walls of flags at one end of the hall was the Marine band, under Director Fanciulli, which alternated with the Germania orchestra, stationed at the other end.

Owing to the great number of guests, nearly an hour was occupied in getting them seated, and almost immediately after this had been accomplished a great shout from the eastern end of the hall announced the arrival of the presidential party.

This was at 8 o'clock. Escorted by Mayor Warwick and Dr. William Pepper, president of the Commercial museums, and followed by Secretary Porter, the cabinet officers and foreign ministers, the executive passed to his seat amid a storm of cheers. To avoid undue delay in reaching the toasts the serving of the banquet was promptly begun.

Governor Hastings opened the postprandial talking with a response to a welcome from Pennsylvania.

Theodore C. Learch followed, with "Our Manufacturing Industries."

The Brazilian minister spoke briefly, and ex-Secretary Olney then responded to "International Law."

The Chinese minister responded to "The Orient," and then followed President McKinley's speech in response to the toast, "The President of the United States."

Following the president, Ministers Perez of Mexico, Fernandez of Costa Rica, the Argentine minister and Congressman Dalzell responded to appropriate toasts.

The Commercial Conference.

The banquet was given in conjunction with the international commercial conference, which had its inception in the Philadelphia Commercial museum, under the auspices of which institution the conference was held.

Among those in attendance at the conference were President McKinley members of the cabinet and quite a number of ministers and other representatives of foreign countries. The delegates themselves, about 50, were representatives of foreign commercial bodies, principally of Mexico and Central America. In addition to the foreign delegates to the conference there were also representatives present from commercial and trade organizations of almost every city of importance in the United States.

The principal address was delivered by President McKinley.

Dr. William Pepper, president of the Philadelphia Commercial museum, explained the objects and aims of the museum, for the advancement of which this conference had been called. He said it had been organized for the purpose of promoting trade with foreign countries and particularly with the object of obtaining information relative to the world's markets and all trade conditions in foreign lands which might lead to an increase of our export trade. He said that although the museum was located in Philadelphia it had no local significance, but was national in its scope and importance.

Fatally Injured by an Explosion.

Greenwich, Conn., June 3.—Thomas McCarty, employed at the Vorhis quarry, was fatally injured while attempting to draw a blast that had missed fire. After the explosion McCarty was found in a hole yards away with both eyes blown out, his hands shattered and injured internally.

Turkish Navy to Be Improved.

London, June 3.—A dispatch to The Daily Mail from Berlin says that the Turkish government has opened negotiations with an English firm for overhauling the entire Turkish fleet. All the ironclads will be reconstructed and six new men-of-war built.

Suicide With Strychnine.

Wallingford, Conn., June 3.—Mrs. John Brosnan, aged 40, committed suicide by taking strychnine at her home on Colony street. No cause can be assigned unless the woman was laboring under a temporary aberration.

GOSSIP OF THE CYCLERS.

TEMS INTERESTING TO DEVOTEES OF THE STEEL STEEDS.

The Popular Exercise Provides Incidents and Expressions That are of Especial Moment When Wheeling is the Rage

John E. Stewart, of West Seventh street, is mastering the mysteries of wheel riding and soon will be an accomplished rider.

The race meet officials of the Crescent Wheelmen last night decided to have the events postponed from Decoration Day take place July 5th, that being the day of celebration for the glorious Fourth, which will fall on Sunday.

Wheelmen will find that the lowering of the crosswalk over Grove street at the intersection of that thoroughfare with Craig place, is a great improvement. The crosswalk used to be several inches higher than the rest of the road and was a dangerous obstacle, particularly at night.

A Trenton minister is responsible for a new phrase in connection with the wheel, having announced on Wednesday that beginning with next Sunday there will be a "bicycle stable" attached to his church. He says he wants riders, whether in bicycle suits or bloomers, to feel free to attend his church at any time, and that they will find in the "stable" ample accommodations for the care of their wheels.

Everybody in Plainfield has learned to ride a wheel, is learning to ride one, or is thinking about it. Now Councilman Elliott T. Barrows, of the Police Board, is one of the converts to the bicycle and has purchased a Spalding wheel of W. H. Rogers. Robt. Rushmore and H. W. Beebe also have the right idea and have picked out the Spalding for their mount for the present season.

The Committee on the Inter-Club Century Run, Newark to Philadelphia, June 12th, reports a number of entries already received, and great interest in the run among club and unattached riders. The survivors' medals will be absolutely unique in design and far surpass any previous medals, it is even hinted that they may be solid silver, and winners can feel assured they are worth winning, for as the Inter Club makes no profit out of the run it has a handsome extra surplus to put into medals. The pace will not exceed 8 miles per hour, and every new rider should try and win centurian laurals in this the most famous century of the whole year. The secretary and treasurer, Madison Rush, 1004 Walnut street, Philadelphia, is well provided with entry blanks, checks and badges, and intending riders should send in their applications early to insure comfortable accommodations.

The work of the riders in the Irvington-Milburn race is regarded as remarkable considering the difficulties under which the race was run. It is significant that the leading positions were won by men of this State, indicating that those who constantly train on the course are best fitted to go over the twenty five miles. With a good road it is believed that some of the men who trained over macadam thoroughfares would have fared better if not won a prize. A number of riders declared yesterday that the condition of the Millburn course on Monday will now warrant the Associated Clubs in selecting some other place for this annual race. Complaint is made that while Millburn contains several big hills and furnishes an excellent test of a man's road riding qualifications, rainy weather makes it unfit for a 25 mile race. The idea of selecting a new course has been under advisement for some time, and it is more than likely that the event will be held elsewhere next year.

AROUND THE BASES.

A great game of ball may be expected, Saturday, when the Crescents will play the New Brunswick Y.M.C.A. on the grounds at the corner of La-Grande avenue and Richmond street.

A HAZER OFF THE LIMITS NOW.

Lewis H. Rand Has His Privileges Re-established at West Point.

At midnight, Monday night, the term of punishment which has kept three of the cadets at the West Point Military Academy at their duties for three years without furlough expired, and the cadets were allowed to visit the town nearby. One of the three cadets were Lewis H. Rand, of West Front street, who went from here three years ago after winning a competitive examination for the place.

Rand assisted in the hazing of one of the cadets and was kept at the Academy for a long time without furlough as a punishment.

Those who have seen Rand since his admission to the West Point Academy say that his friends would hardly know him. He has been doing very well in his studies and now stands second in his class in mathematics.

Brereton Platt, of this city, and Robert Shayne, of Brooklyn, formerly of this city, were his guests last Monday. Rand will leave West Point on June 11th for a furlough which will last until August 28th.

AN EMBRYO NOMADIC INVASION.

Rehearsal of the Gypsy Performers of the Fete Champetre.

There was a strange assemblage in the capacious barn of Charles W. McCutchen, in the rear of his residence on Rockview avenue, last evening The picturesque costumes of the gypsy maidens and their wild escorts were something unusual to be found in the staid borough of North Plainfield. It was not an invasion of these nomadic tribes, however, but merely a rehearsal of the gypsy dance which is to be such a pleasant feature at the Fete Champetre, to be held at Johnston Park on Saturday afternoon and evening.

There was some trouble in finding a place in which to hold a rehearsal, but Mr. McCutchen realized that the Town Improvement Association was as much for the benefit of North Plainfield as Plainfield, and very kindly loaned the use of his barn for the rehearsals.

Initiation Fee Increased.

At the meeting of the Exempt Firemen's Association last evening, eight new members were elected. The by-laws were so amended that the initiation fee was raised to $3, and the same will take effect in sixty days. The tenth anniversary of the association will be celebrated about July 20th, and the event was discussed at the meeting last night. It is proposed to make the celebration one of the best ever held.

Good News for Bicyclists.

Arrangements are being perfected to build a bicycle path, ten feet wide, from Dunellen to Lincoln, on the south side of the Central Railroad, and thence through Lincoln boulevard to Bound Brook. This movement will be a godsend to bicyclists who want to visit Bound Brook and Somerville It is expected that this improvement will be completed by July 4th.

Still Alarm of Fire.

A still alarm of fire was sent in to fire headquarters yesterday in response to a fire which broke out in the chimney on the house occupied by W. W. Stratton, on East Third street. No. 2 hose wagon was sent to the above place and with the aid of an extinguisher the flames were soon put out. The damage was small.

—The Borough Council will hold a regular meeting on Friday evening of this week. Business of importance will be considered.

—Paughcaughnaughsinque Tribe, I. O. R. M., will hold a strawberry and ice cream festival June 15th. At the meeting of the Tribe this evening arrangements will be made for the festival.

—The members of the Independent Fife and Drum Corps are arranging to give a big supper at an early date and they have extended an invitation to the members of Warren Engine Company, of the borough.

—Edward White will place on sale tomorrow one thousand dozen of fine hosiery for ladies, gentlemen and children. The goods were sold in auction room by one of the most prominent importers in New York. Mr. White was one of the largest buyers and bought them at one half their value.

OIL SHELL TO QUIET WAVES.

Automatic Device which Discharges Its Contents Over Half an Acre.

A shell for shooting oil upon the stormy seas from the shore, in order to reach wrecked vessels, has recently been invented and successfully tested.

The oil shell is a tin cylinder ten inches long that holds a quart of oil. the oil is kept in place by a brass piston at one end of the cylinder, which is connected by a rod to a wooden plug, which closely fits in the other, which is the rear of the shell.

The wooden plug projects three inches beyond the shell, and is grooved around its circumference and acts as a feather to hold the shell in position during its flight. The head of the shell is also weighted with a band of lead to aid it in holding its position while in flight and in maintaining its direction. When the shell in its flight strikes the water the impact drives in the piston head, forces out the plug and liberates the oil.—New York Herald.

He Got His Match.

One cold and stormy evening last winter a prosperous-looking business man stopped in the vestibule of a large office building, on his way out, and attempted to light a cigar. An urchin with an armful of papers also stood within the arch, stamping his feet on the stone step to warm them, as he lustily cried his wares.

The wind blew out the last match which the fur-coated broker had about his person, and he turned to the boy and said:

"Here, boy, give me a match."

The lad eyed the gentleman furtively, as he inquired, "Say, mister, is that a demand or a request?"

Instead of being angry at his reproof, the gentleman—for such he was—replied kindly:

"A request, my boy, a humble request; and I'll take a couple of evening papers, too, I guess," he added, as he received the match from the youngster's hand and passed him a quarter, "and you may keep the change."

"That man's got manners if he's a mind ter take time ter use 'em," said the boy as his patron boarded a car.

"That boy won't always have to sell papers if he practices what he preaches," thought the broker, as he sat down to read the news.

A Puzzle for the Barber.

Three brothers bearing a remarkable resemblance to one another are in the habit of shaving at the same barber's shop. Not long ago one of the brothers entered the shop early in the morning, and was shaved by a German who had been at work in the shop only a few days. About noon another brother came in and underwent a similar operation at the hands of the same barber. In the evening the third brother made his appearance, when the German, dropping his razor in astonishment, exclaimed: "Vell, upon my vord! dat man hash de fashtest beard I never saw; I shaves him dis morning, shaves him at dinner-times, and he gomes back now mit his beard so long as it never vash!"

Parson Goodman—Is there anything you would like to do before you die, Brother Jones?

Brother Jones—Yes, parson; I would like ter go an' sit in th' parlor fer one night before I die. I've got ten daughters, yer know, an' I hain't had a chance at thet parlor nights, fer over twenty years.—Judge.

Watch as a Compass.

Your watch may be used as a compass. Point the hour hand to the sun, and the south is exactly half-way between the hour and the figure XII. on the dial. For instance, supposing it is four o'clock, point the hand indicating four to the sun, and II. on the dial-plate is exactly south. Supposing it is eight o'clock, then the figure X. on the face of the watch will show due south.

The Smallest Screw.

The smallest screws in the world are those used in the production of watches. The fourth jewel wheel-screw is the next thing to being invisible, and to the naked eye it looks like dust; with a glass, however, it is seen to be a small screw, with 260 threads to the inch, and with a very powerful glass the threads may be seen quite clearly.

May Be Something In This.

"If I ever get to be a celebrity I mean to be gracious to everybody."

"Well, if you began by being gracious to everybody now, don't you think that would give you some ground for being considered a celebrity?"—Chicago Record.

Mrs. Kelly—"Yes, Mrs. Casey, me hoosband left home two wakes ago, an' Oi haven't seen him sinst."

Mrs. Casey—"An' phwat made him do that, Mrs. Kelly?"

Mrs. Kelly—"Faith, de doctor says he tinks he runs away in a fit of temporary sanity."

SHERMAN'S BAD MEMORY OF FACES.

An Amusing Incident Due to His Forgetfulness.

Secretary Sherman is making himself talked about a good deal by his inability to recognize his former colleagues when they call to see him. The dignity of two distinguished members of the United States Senate sustained a severe shock during the last few days, when they called upon Secretary Sherman, and were obliged to introduce themselves to him. Mr. Babcock, who has served as Mr. Sherman's secretary for neary twenty-five years, usually whispers the names of the callers in the ear of his chief when he gets an opportunity to do so, but when Mr. Sherman has no prompter he makes a mess of it. He never does know the members of the diplomatic corps apart, and when they are introduced to him he cannot pronounce their names. It is quite painful on diplomatic day to see him struggle with the tongue-tangling titles of the Ambassadors and Ministers from abroad.

It is even whispered that the venerable Senator did not recognize one of his colleagues in the Cabinet when they met at the residence of a friend the other day, but this is an old failing of his.

Some evidence of Sherman's preoccupation had recent exhibition when Newlands, of Nevada, called to make a play for a consulship for which it seems a constituent was suffering. It was the day Voorhees died. Newlands and Sherman shook hands.

"That was sad news," quoth Sherman, with a look full of the sympathetic, yet far away. "That was very sad about Newlands dying."

"What!" said Newlands, a bit disconcerted to be thus suddenly thrust into Summerland.

"Newlands, Newlands," repeated Sherman in tones of vague official grief; "the news of Newlands' death. He was a worthy Senator."

"You mean Senator Voorhees," corrected Newlands.

"No, Newlands," repeated Sherman, still vague, yet still tenacious. Newlands came away. He did not press for a consulship. Newlands said that to be thus cut down like a flower was too much for him. Nor did he think the Administration would heed a cry from the tombs in disposing of consulships. So Newlands filed sadly forth, and was dumb, opening not his mouth further.

THE LONG ANTICIPATED EVENT TO COME OFF TOMORROW.

The Grounds of Johnston Park Will be Graced and Beautified by Plainfield People and Effort in an Admirable Cause.

Tomorrow there will be held in Plainfield an entertainment charming and unique, for which must be used the descriptive French term Fete Champetre, in lack of an appropriate English or American phrase. "Picnic" is a name to stir the "long, long thoughts of youth," but it won't cover the ground in the present case. It is a picnic and a May-Day, a strawberry festival and a church-fair, all rolled in one, to which the New Jersey suburb invites the rest of mankind. For a day and a night the beautiful and ample grounds, the groves and grassy fields, the winding walks and running waters of the John Taylor Johnston estate will become a public pleasure ground. To the beauties of nature, the touch of art will add charms that will haunt the memory of the visitor. Reminders of old-world life, customs of the middle-ages and of later colonial days, here will mingle in picturesque confusion, under nineteenth century light. The fete will comprise joys and attractions for every age and many tastes. For the little folks the May-pole and lawn-dances, games, and pony-rides in care of careful men; for the boys and girls boat-rides upon the pond, games and dances galore; for youths and maidens fair more boat-rides, more dancing, with walks and talks, and visiting of booths and tents, in particular of the gypsy tent where fortunes will be told. In very truth not even the pen of a ready writer can begin to set forth all the delights for eye and ear, for mind and body, now being devised and prepared by many busy committees and individuals. But the reader may be assured that amid unnumbered details of preparation to gratify the sense of beauty, to mingle the fantastic, the artistic and the realistic into one memorable picture, not for an instant will the wants of the inner man be neglected. Throughout the afternoon refreshments will be served by dainty costumed maids, upon tables or stands in shady nooks. Speaking of wheelmen, how many do you think will visit the Plaihfield fete? Give a guess now beforehand, and you shall know the week after. A Boston Yankee, who knows a thing or two, has recorded 2,500 wheels as his guess. That's a good many wheels, and yet that number is said to be used in Plainfield alone. Few or many, the wheels and their riders will be cared for, that is checked, stored, repaired, and fed, as need may be. So let the jolly rubber-rollers come.

The following are the ladies in charge of the supper tables: Mrs. O. T. Waring and Mrs. G. W. VanBoskerck, chairmen, and Mesdames Pierri Mali, W. W. Howland, D. M. VanVliet, J. G. Foster, Robert A. Slausson. L. H. Bigelow, Robert Lowry, H. M. Stockton, W. D. Murray, N. Pendleton Rogers, J. T. Baker, J. H. Carman, R. M. Stover, Miss Tweedy and Mrs. Titus.

The aids are: Mesdames Charles E. Brooks, A. D. Shepard, Thomas Minford, W. Palmer Smith, H. B. Opdyke and the Misses Hellwig, Colles, Randolph, Halloway, Ryder, Hall, McCready, H. Brainard, M. Sterling, E. Sterling, Louise Bushness, C. Kampman, Edith Gilbert, Pierson, Flora Griffin, Clapp, Madiline Day, Taylor, Horne, Haviland, E. Tracy, Bushnell, Bonny, I. Bass, Drayton, Dryden, Swayze, Lulu Patten, Edna Thayer, Grace Miller, Rachel Coe, Clark, Middledith, Grace Yerkes, Elsie Brokaw, Susie Milne, Margaret Vermeule, E. VanDeventer, R. Bass, Lena Bass, Rambo, Bessie Coe, Edith VanBoskerck, Lulu Holly, Helen Weaver, Randall, Gertrude Rushmore, H. R. Shreve, May Cahoone, Lois Eastman, Wortherspoon, Ginna, E. McClure, K. McClure, Nancy Lawson, Katie Wood, Emma Miller, Jessie Bushnell, Laura Lovell, Helen Lovell, Cordilin Miller, Anna Miller, Fuller, Lucilli Rockwell, Agnes Minford, E. Little, F. Cahoone, the Misses Gibbon, Mrs. F. Moore, Mrs. Roger Murray, Mrs. Pfieffer and Mrs. Charles Stover.

Bradley Yields to Romance.

The latest novelty placed by Senator Bradley on his board walk is a "trysting tower." This structure is on the south side of the Asbury avenue pavilion, and its name the Senator posted on the tower today. The Senator erected this tower for romantic persons who delight in viewing the ocean undisturbed by a crowd.

The Gift of Coffee to the Fete.

Through the courtesy of a local grocer, a New York coffee company will give all the coffee used at the Fete Champetre to be held Saturday afternoon and evening at Johnston Park.

MAKING BETTER ROADS.

SEVERAL IMPORTANT CITY STREETS TO RECEIVE PROPER ATTENTION.

East and West Front Streets and Plainfield and Crescent Avenues are to be Put in First Class Shape During the Summer.

Councilman Frost, chairman of the street committee, says that West Front street will now be repaired from Central avenue to Compton's Lane and every bad spot in the road will be fixed. Especially at a point near Washington avenue where the street is in a wretched condition. It is the intention to build the road in such a way that the water will run off easily.

Plainfield avenue will also be treated and put in first-class condition the same as East Front street between Park avenue and Watchung avenue, and East Front street will be repaired as far as Berckman street. Crescent avenue is also slated for treatment. Some of the street work has been delayed on account of the delay in laying curbing and sidewalk. The men who are doing this work have difficulty in getting their material and at the same time their work increases.

The use of larger stone on the streets is giving great satisfaction and undoubtedly will make much better roads. The steam roller is kept busy whenever possible and this aids materially in the work.

At the meeting of the City Council next Monday evening the street committee through Councilman Frost will ask the council for a street sprinkling wagon. For sometime past the city has been using a wagon belonging to the county and if the city owns one it will be a great saving.

SOCIAL FEATURES ONLY.

A NEW DEPARTURE IN RECEPTION TO BOROUGH GRADUATES.

The Annual Business Meeting to be in Mid-winter and Thus Avoid the Disagreeable Delay That Has Before Ensued.

The invitations for the reception to the graduating class of the North Plainfield High School, by the Alumni Association of that school, will be out in a few days. Preparations are being made for the reception, which will be a departure from the usual customs of past years.

The reception will be held in the school building, on Somerset street, on the evening of Friday, June 25th, the night after commencement. Heretofore, a business session has been held at the first part of the reception which has consumed much valuable time. To obviate this, it has been decided to hold the business meeting at the reception in midwinter when the officers for the year will be elected. The early part of the evening will be devoted to a reception to the graduates. It will be followed by refreshments and dancing.

The building is to be decorated for the occasion with flowers and the colors of the graduating class. The committee in charge of the decorations consists of Miss Nora Williams, chairman; Miss Laura Emmons, Miss Bertha Thorn, Miss Maud French, Miss Alice Needham, Miss Lulu Avery, Walter Raynolds, Warren Church, John H. Van Winkle, Jr., and E. Maxwell Honeyman.

HULSIZER AT LAST GETS HOME.

Passes Metuchen Twice Before a Train Stops to Let Him Off.

Tidney Hulsizer keeps a hotel at Metuchen, about five miles from New Brunswick, on the road to New York. Wednesday night he left New Brunswick on the 8.28 train, which stops at Metuchen only to take on passengers. There were no passengers to get on, and he was carried through to Elizabeth. He boarded the first westbound train that stopped there, but it passed Metuchen, and at 11 o'clock he was landed safely in New Brunswick.

Hulsizer then waited for the 11:24 train, and, getting the conductor's solemn promise that it would stop at Metuchen, boarded it and at last reached his native village.

Historical Association.

Justice A. P. Sutphen, of Somerville, has been presented with a handsome cane, made from one of the pin oak timbers which originally formed the wooden piers of the old Van Veghten bridge at Finderne. Several of these old timbers were excavated last summer, near the old stone abutments, in laying the piers for the new bridge. The county records show that the wooden piers were sunk in 1710. Engineer Joshua Doughty has had a section of one of the ancient timbers, which is in an excellent state of preservation, made into canes, which will be presented to the members of the Board of Freeholders.

SUING FOR A DIVORCE.

MRS. ABNER BARTLETT WANTS HER MATRIMONAL BONDS SEVERED.

Papers Served on Mr. Bartlett this Morning, the Charge Being of a Statutory Nature—Called in Chancery on the 12th

What has been portending for some time past finally came to a focus this morning when Abner Bartlett was served with a notice that his wife' Mrs. Elizabeth M. Bartlett, would make application to Chancellor McGill at Trenton on June 12th for an absolute divorce on statutory grounds. The papers were served by a representative of James M. Trimball, a Newark lawyer, who has been engaged by Mrs. Bartlett to prosecute her case.

Mr. Bartlett has engaged Harry Runyon and Reed & Coddington to represent him.

The application will be made a week from tomorrow and then Mr. Bartlett will have twenty days in which to file an answer.

It has been known for a long time that Mr. and Mrs. Bartlett have indulged in frequent disagreements and a few weeks ago Mrs. Bartlett left her home on Westervelt avenue owing to her inability to live happily with her husband. Since then she has been boarding.

Mr. and Mrs. Bartlett have been married about eighteen years. Mr. Bartlett was the son of Abner Bartlett, Sr., of New York, one of the biggest contractors in the Metropolis during his career. He died a few years ago and left an estate valued at $250,000, from which his son now receives a yearly income.

Mrs. Bartlett is a French woman and came to this country with original production of "The Black Crook," in which company she was the ballet instructor.

Since her marriage Mrs. Bartlett has devoted a portion of her time in giving dancing lessons.

DISPUTE ABOUT A PIANO.

Estranged Couple's Matters in a Justice's Court, Too.

On May 19th last, the law firm of Pope & Runyon attached a piano belonging to Abner Bartlet to satisfy a claim of $150 which was due John Beerbower. At the time Mrs. Abner Bartlett claimed that the piano belonged to her and she applied to the court for a venire to try the right of property. The defendants failed to serve a notice on Constable Rockafellow demanding the re-delivery of the goods, and when the case was called this morning in Justice Moffett's office it could not be tried for the right of property.

The Justice instructed the jury to bring in a verdict of nonsuit, owing to the failure of the defendant to serve the proper notice on the constable, and the jury did as they were directed. June 10th, at 8 o'clock in the morning, has been set as the time for the trial for the right of property It will be tried before Justice Moffett at his office on North avenue.

EXPRESS WAR RE-OPENED.

Several Detectives at the Station This Morning, But Nothing Was Done.

The campaign against the package expressmen by the officials of the United States Express Company has re-opened with fresh strength. There was a stay in the proceedings while a trial case was up in the Union county court at Elizabeth, but when the package expressman, who was suing the company, was non-suited, the campaign was started afresh.

Whitney Frazee is the local package expressman against whom the company has been waging war for many weeks. There were half a dozen detectives at the station this morning on the lookout for him, to prevent him from carrying packages on the train. Frazee appeared in time for the 8:27 train, but without any packages. He took the train without opposition on the part of the railroad detectives, and the crowd, who had assembled to see the fun, was disappointed.

Fire Laddies House-Warming.

Next Monday evening the members of the West End Hose Company will have a house warming and they have invited the members of Warren Engine Company to join them in the celebration. At a special meeting of Warren Engine Company last evening the members accepted unanimously in invitation received from the West End Hose Company.

A CONVICTION VACATED.

MICHAEL WATSON GAINS ANOTHER POINT OVER THE CITY.

Supreme Court Decides That City Judge DeMeza Had No Right to Hold the Trial in Private Without Counsel Present.

Michael Watson, who has been before the City Court charged with breaking the excise laws more than any other alleged offender in the city, is to the fore again. He has not been in jail for some time but there has been a case hanging over his head for some months which was only decided yesterday.

Watson was charged with selling liquor from his store on Grant avenue, near South Second street, on Sunday, which is against the city ordinance. He was arrested and finally pleaded guilty. City Judge DeMeza sentenced him to pay a fine of $100 and go to jail for a term of sixty days. He was taken to Elizabeth and viewed the world from behind the bars for several days. Then he was released on a writ of certiorari, obtained by S. S. Swackhamer, one of his counsel.

James J. Bergen and Hugh Meehan, who are also cousel for Watson, obtained from the Supreme Court yesterday a decision setting aside City Judge DeMeza's conviction on Watson's plea of guilty. The ground of the decision is that the City Judge received the plea in his private office instead of the City Court room. Watson at first pleaded not guilty, and a day was set down for his trial in the City Court room. Before the day arrived, Watson went alone to the City Judge in the latter's office, withdrew his plea of not guilty, and put in a plea of guilty. The City Judge accepted the plea and imposed sentence of fine and imprisonment. Watson afterwards tried without success to withdraw the plea of guilty. The Court holds that the conviction cannot stand because it was made in the private office of the City Judge without the presence of counsel on either side. S. S. Swackhamer was associated with Messrs. Bergen & Meehan in the case.

The Corporation Counsel says that he has several courses under consideration as to Watson's case. The city may decide to take the case to the court of last resort, or to accept the decision and proceed against Watson by indictment. He was unwilling to give any opinion on the case until he should have had opportunity to read the decision.

TO ENLARGE THEIR HALL.

SAENGERBUNDS FIND THAT THEY NEED MORE ROOM.

An Extension to be Made to the Rear of the Present Building, and the Basement Altered in Many Important Ways.

The monthly meeting of the Gesang and Turn Verein was held last evening when much business was transacted. Two members were elected and four applications were received. The members decided to pay a visit to the Aurora Singing Society during the first part of next month, and Henry Haurand, Rudolph Spiegel and Louis Moraller were appointed a committee to arrange for the trip which will be made on some convenient Sunday.

The building committee, of which Robert Jahn is the chairman, made a report and presented plans and specifications for the proposed new additions to the present structure. The extension to the building in the rear will be 24 feet and 44 feet wide. A perfect system of ventilation will be introduced, and in the addition a commodious stage, with dressing rooms, will be erected. The bowling alleys will be made the regulation size and the dining room will be enlarged considerably. A great change will be made in the basement so that it will be large enough to use for any ordinary purpose, such as to hold meetings or social gatherings if the upper part is in use. The entire building will be heated with hot water and every modern convenience, including bath rooms for men and women, will be provided.

Mr. Oakley is the architect and when the improvements are completed they will cost the society about $4,000. Owing to the lateness of the hour last evening the members adjourned for two weeks when a special meeting will be held for the purpose of considering in detail the proposed changes.

Next Monday, known among the Germans as Pfingst Monday, will be celebrated by the Plainfield and North Plainfield members of the above society. This day is to the Germans what St. Patrick's Day is to the sons of Ireland. The members have decided to celebrate by holding a bicycle run to Elizabeth. All who intend going will meet at Henry Haurand's hotel next Monday noon when the start will be made. It is hoped that all who can will go.

ANOTHER JUNE BRIDE.

A PLAINFIELD YOUNG MAN GOES TO NYACK, N. Y., FOR A WIFE.

Miss Nellie May Smith Becomes Mrs. Edward Randolph-The Affair a Pretty Home Wedding—Those Composing Bridal Party.

A very pretty home wedding took place in Nyack, N. Y., yesterday afternoon, when Miss Nellie May Smith, daughter of Mrs. Catherine M. Smith, of that place, was united in marriage to Edward Fitz-Randolph, a rising young business man of this city. Mr. Randolph is a graduate of the Pennsylvania College of Pharmacy and is now in charge of one of the departments of the pharmacy of L. W. Randolph, on West Front street.

The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride, 64 First avenue, Nyack, by her minister, Rev. T. R. Davis. The relatives and friends of the couple, numbering 80, were present at the ceremony, which was performed at 3:30 o'clock. A reception followed and the wedding dinner was served. Dancing followed in the evening.

The bride was attired in cream satin and carried white bride roses Her maid of honor was Miss Sadie Randolph, of Plainfield, sister of the groom. Miss Randolph wore a gown of white organdie over nile green silk. She carried a bouquet of pink roses.

The best man was Edwin Polhemus, of Brooklyn. The ushers were George Snediker, of Plainfield, and Alfred Perry, of Nyack. The groom presented the best man and each of the ushers with a handsome scarf pin.

The house was charmingly decorated for the occasion with pink and white roses and potted plants. The effect was very pretty. The presents filled one of the rooms at the bride's home and were many and valuable. They included a number of pieces of silver and glass ware and furniture for the new home of the couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Randolph boarded the 8:40 train for New York amid showers of rice, and started on their wedding tour, in which they will visit Philadelphia and several southern cities. On their return they will reside at 145 West Front street, where a furnished home awaits them.

DRAKE'S DEFI TO RUNYON

LAND BOOMER CHALLENGES EDITOR TO A BICYCLE RACE.

The Contest, if Agreed to by Editor Runyon, Will be Held on Lincoln Boulevard—Stakes to Be a Dinner

Silas D. Drake is nothing if not original and daring in his ideas. Mr. Drake has distinguished himself in many ways during his career, and undergone criticism good, bad and indifferent, but above it all he carries his head high and exploits again and again in divers ways to the edification, amusement and benefit of the community in which his name is a syonym of enterprise and hustle. The latest novelty for Mr. Drake to surprise an unsuspecting public with is to challenge Editor Runyon to a bicycle race. Mr. Drake's challenge and conditions, if accepted, were sent to Editor Runyon this morning. It is as follows:

Bound Brook, N. J., June 4th, 1897.

Frank Runyon, Editor Courier-News, Plainfield, N. J.

In a friendly spirit I hereby challenge you to ride a bicycle race for a half-mile or mile, best two in three, on Lincoln Boulevard, Lincoln, on and after thirty days from accepting my challenge, the loser of the race to provide a good, substantial clam-bake to the editors and reporters of Union, Somerset and Middlesex counties; dinner to be given immediately after the race at Lincoln Park.

Surely there is no more healthful recreation than bicycle riding, and the fact that I have been identified with newspaper work since boyhood, and at present editor of the up-to-date Real Estate News, certainly gives us an opportunity to show the newspaper fraternity that there is a little sporting blood in the profession.

On your acceptance arrangements can be made that will be satisfactory to you.

Yours truly,

Silas D. Drake,
Editor Real Estate News.

The Pedagogical Library.

Somerset county is second on the list this year in raising the money for pedagogical library, and the additional amount from the State, making $200 in all, will soon be in the hands of the Superintendent. If now the teachers throughout the country would at once send in to the Superintendent the names of such books as they would like to have included in the library, it would greatly facilitate the work of the committee to be appointed for a selection of the library and the arrangement of a scheme for its most profitable one.

Fatal Play at Bonfire.

Russell Huff, six years old, of Still Valley, near Phillipsburg, was burned to death last night. While the little fellow was playing around a bonfire his clothing caught fire, and in a few seconds he was one mass of flame. Death came in a short time.

TALENT IN THESE GIRLS

MISS JACKSON'S CLASS GIVE THEIR CLOSING RECEPTION.

A Delightful Programme of Recitations and Drills Was Presented in a Creditable Manner in Y. M. C. A. Hall Last Night.

It is rare, indeed, when a more satisfied audience has left the Y. M. C. A. Hall than the one that departed last evening after attending the annual reception of Miss Addie Parker Jackson's classes in physical culture and rendering. Miss Jackson personally took no part, but the results of her efforts were to be seen in everything. The different recitations were given with spirit and showed the ability of the pupils as well as the excellent instruction they had received. Miss Jackson was exceedingly fortunate in selecting such recitations as seemed most adapted to the characteristics of those taking part. Some of the pupils have only been with her a year, but it can truthfully be said that there was not an unpleasant featuar to the entire affair and that everybody did very well. The programme opened with an Eastern Temple drill, the exercises in which were adapted from various forms of Oriental worship. The young women taking part were all gowned in white. The monotony of color was broken by the red sashes which were worn by all. Those who participated in the drill were the Misses Amy C. Burt, Mabel Bonnell, Katharine Dwight, Euphemia Demarest, Lucie Palmer Davis, Aimee Emmons, Mary A. Luckey, Alice Morgan, Marie Newman, Grace Overton, Rita Pond, Constance Patton, Lucy Pound, Ella Serrell, Elsie Smith and Eleanor Williams.

Then followed "An Hour with Standard Authors." "Marguerite of France," a thrilling poem by Felicia Hemans, was recited by Miss Lucy Pound with much feeling. Miss Euphemia Demarest recited "The Blind Girl of Castel Cuille," by Longfellow, simply yet effectively. One of Eugene Field's charming little prose compositions, "Little Mistress Merciless," was pleasingly given by Miss Marie Neuman. It was a difficult selection delightfully rendered.

The pathos in "The Swan Song of Parson Avery," by Whittier, was effectively brought out by Miss Amy G. Burt. Miss Aimee Emmons found favor with the audience at the start in her recitation of Tennyson's "In the Children's Hospital." The pathetic story was told in a way that almost drew tears to the eyes of many of her hearers.

Miss Mary A. Luckey recited a difficult selection by Elizabeth Phelps Ward, "St. Basil's Bell." She carried her audience with her from the start and heightened the dramatic effect of the story itself by her clever portraying of the parts.

In the interval that followed, Miss Jackson was called to the front of the stage and presented with a magnificent bouquet of roses. Each of the speakers received flowers after their selection.

Three character sketches, "A Little Quaker Sinner," by Miss Ella Serrell; "In Grandma's Chest," by Miss Constance Patton; "Aunty Doleful," by Miss Elsie Smith; "Autumn," by Miss Eleanor Williams. They were all excellent and the different characters were brightly and delightfully represented. Again was Miss Jackson's skill evident in the successful rendition of them.

Richard Harding Davis has written a very humorous sketch called "Traver's First Hunt," which was recited by Miss Lucie Palmer Davis. The selection was really very funny and Miss Davis' rendition of it made it seem doubly so. Her portrayal of the supposed famous hunter was most excellent.

"Swing Low, Sweet Chariot" was the name of a beautiful little sketch, recited by Miss Katherine Dwight. It was so sweet, soft, with here and there a touch of pathos, that it seemed most suitable to the girl who gave it so effectively.

Miss Rita Pond recited a thrilling poem, "The Song of the Market Place," most acceptably and deserved the hearty applause that was accorded her.

The programme ended with a monologue, "When Jack Comes Late," by Miss Grace E. Overton, one of the most talented of all Miss Jackson's pupils. The character represedted was "Sally Sanders," who the night of the first scene had just become engaged to Jack Hamilton. Jack was just supposed to be departing when she called him back. Her delight at the engagement was delightfully represented, particularly when she thought about the jealously of the other girls. Then she directed Jack to put the engagement in at least five papers. It was to go in the

BERMUDA EXPLORERS

A New York Expedition Goes to Study Its Marine Life.

TO ESTABLISH A SOUTHERN STATION.

It Is Proposed to Maintain a Laboratory to Be Open to Any One Who Wishes to Study Tropical Life.

New York, June 4.—Professor Charles L. Bristol, of the biological department of New York university, has started for the Bermudas at the head of an expedition which will make a scientific reconnoissance of the islands during the next two months.

The expedition is for the collection of specimens of the marine life of the tropics, but principally to select a site for the building of a permanent station for laboratory work.

Professor Bristol has decided that such a station is necessary to secure the best results in the work of his department of the university.

It is the intention to throw the laboratory open to every scientist who cares to investigate the wealth of tropical life found in the Bermudas. Such facilities for study have heretofore been lacking, and Professor Bristol is confident that the laboratory will prove of the greatest advantage in the advancement of biological investigation in the United States.

To Erect Buildings.

It is the intention to erect a two-story building at the most convenient site. The lower floor will contain the tank-room and aquarium, the upper the workrooms. The present expedition is well supplied with apparatus and preservative materials, and Professor Bristol hopes to bring back a rich load of biologic "truck" for the university museum, for classroom dissection and for exchange with other colleges. Part of the collection will be placed in the American Museum of Natural History in Central park.

Those who sailed with Professor Bristol on the steamship Orinoco are Dr. Tarleton H. Bean, superintendent of the New York City aquarium, who goes to study fishes; Dr. Walter M. Rankin of Princeton university, who will study mollusks and crustaceans; Warren H. Everett, an instructor of New York university; C. E. Brush, Jr., '99; F. W. Carpenter, '99; Mr. Rosenthal, 1900; Robert Brown, 1900, and H. B. Grose, Jr. They will be joined later by John D. Briggs, Jr., '98; M. D. Gates, '97, and Mr. Haycock of Harvard.

General Hastings Interested.

General Russell Hastings, who commanded the regiment in which President McKinley served during the war, is interested in the scheme to establish a permanent station. He has offered the university his assistance toward securing a site. General Hastings and his wife have lived some years in the Bermudas, where he is a large landowner. Both are enthusiastic students of plant and animal life. It was Mrs. Hastings who first introduced into the islands the Easter lily, which has since become one of their principal articles of export.

Professor Bristol says that the Bermudas hold forth peculiar attractions to the student of the marine life of the American tropics. There is but one biological station of this sort on the whole Atlantic coast—at Wood's Hill, Cape Cod, a resort for teachers and students of biology from all over the country. The work done there has accomplished much for the advancement of science. But there will be no rivalry between Wood's Hill and the Bermuda station.

At Cape Cod the only forms of life available for study are those of arctic and temperate coast lines, excepting occasional pelagic specimens driven in by heavy winds. The Bermudas, on the other hand, mark the most northern limit of purely tropical life, as shown by the coral growths.

The only previous attempts made to study the fauna of the southern Atlantic have been made by the summer expeditions sent out by Johns Hopkins university. These were only during the summer months, and their effectiveness was necessarily handicapped on this account and from lack of apparatus and chemicals. Yet they yielded splendid results, Professor Bristol says.

Constable Shoots a Woman.

Buffalo, June 4.—Charles Linke shot and fatally injured Mrs. Ida Strohaur. Linke is a constable and was sent to the Strohaur residence to remove a sewing machine upon an attachment. The woman declares that the shooting was deliberate, while Linke says it was accidental. Linke has been locked up. The hospital surgeons say the woman cannot recover.

Ex-Presidents Invited to a Banquet.

Montreal, June 4.—A banquet is to be given at the Windsor hotel on the evening of June 21 in honor of the queen's diamond jubilee, and invitations have been issued through the mayor to ex-Presidents Grover Cleveland and Benjamin Harrison to attend. It is expected that the former, at least, will be able to accept the invitation.

Movements of Naval Vessels.

Washington, June 4.—The Petrel has sailed from Yokohama for Nagasaki and the Lancaster from Buenos Ayres for Montevideo. The Wilmington has arrived at Jacksonville. The Brooklyn has sailed from New York for Southampton to represent the United States navy during the jubilee ceremonies.

Mr. Bryan In Buffalo.

Buffalo, June 4.—W. J. Bryan has arrived in this city and held a reception at the Hotel Genesee. He lectured on bimetallism before an enormous crowd in the Academy of Music. Mr. Bryan spoke for two hours and a half, delivering a carefully prepared address.

Suicide of a Minister.

Philadelphia, June 4.—Rev. Adam Boley, pastor of a Lutheran church in the northeastern section of the city, has committed suicide by shooting himself in a room at the Swiss hotel, a third class hostelry at Third and Buttonwood streets. No cause is known.

The Baroness Goes to Buffalo.

Montreal, June 4.—The Baroness von Turkheim, accompanied by her uncle of Boston and a detective, left with her boy for Buffalo to meet Lawyer Hutton, who has charge of the interests of the Fair heirs.

SPAIN WANTS CAMPOS

The Queen Regent Sends For the ex-Captain General.

HE MAY SUCCEED WEYLER IN CUBA.

Her Majesty Requested Senor Canovas to Continue the Government Until the Crisis Is Passed—Hatred of Americans Expressed by Spaniards.

Madrid, June 4.—A cabinet council has been held. The queen regent presided. The retiring premier, Senor Canovas del Castillo, made a long statement regarding Cuba, the Philippine islands, the internal situation and the relations between Spain and the United States, which led to his resignation.

Her majesty declared herself satisfied with the explanations of Senor Canovas and begged him to continue the government until the crisis was solved.

Senor Canovas, after the council, said the queen had asked him to telegraph to Marshal Martinez Campos, asking him to come to Madrid, and that the latter had replied that he would arrive here today.

The retiring premier added that a solution of the crisis will be difficult and will depend upon the conferences between the queen regent, Marshal Martinez Campos and Senor Sagasta, the Liberal leader. It is said the latter is preparing to apply extensive reforms to Cuba through the instrumentality of Marshal Martinez Campos who, it is believed, will shortly succeed General Weyler as captain general of Cuba.

Feeling Bitter Against Americans.

Havana, June 4.—The angry feeling against Americans in Cuba is increasing, as shown by the heated utterances of some of the newspapers in Cuba.

The Diario de la Marina shows bitterness against the American newspaper correspondents who have been sending reports to their papers of the Calhoun-Lee-Congosta investigation into the death of Dr. Ricardo Ruiz, a naturalized American citizen. The Diario says these correspondents are indiscreet and that they have sources of information not reached by the Diario.

The Diario also charges the American newspaper men with sending out fantastic reports and with concealing the real truth, which it claims is very favorable to Spain.

The newspaper trains its journalistic guns upon the United States consul general, Lee, charging him with ignorance of the Spanish language and with being surrounded by Americans born in Cuba, who are generally hostile to the Spanish government. The Diario further reflects upon the judgment of the United States consul general.

The Diario de la Marina prints a letter from a correspondent in Santa Clara making a savage attack upon the United States consul at Sagua la Grande, Mr. Walter B. Barker, charging him, among other things, with furnishing relief in the shape of provisions to Messrs. Seligli and Yova and their families, both of whom are said to be owners of sugar estates and not in need of assistance. The correspondent of the Diario de la Marina uses this allegation to reflect upon the honesty and good faith of the reports of Mr. Barker to his government.

Damages For an Assault.

Kansas City, June 4.—Dr. Charles S. Norris has been awarded $7,000 damages in a suit against Ebenezer Whyte, Jr., a Walnut street grocer, for assaulting him in September last. The testimony showed that Norris entered Whyte's store and during a conversation with Whyte, Sr., called the latter an old scamp. Young Whyte, who was standing near, overheard the conversation and struck the doctor, knocking him down. Dr. Norris was unconscious for three weeks. Defective eyesight, paralysis and a generally broken down constitution was declared to be the result. Whyte pleaded self defense.

Strike May Be Augmented.

New York, June 4.—It is probable that the ranks of the striking garment makers will soon be augmented by the pants and vest makers' organization, as well as the cloakmakers', the latter having given notice that they have decided to strike on June 15. The former have about 12,000 members and the latter 10,000. In the case of the cloakmakers, it is said that the pending strike can only be avoided by the manufacturers acquiescing to demands for an increase in the wage scale of from 25 to 35 per cent. The pressers are also said to be preparing for a strike.

Prominent Bostonian Dead.

Boston, June 4.—M. F. Whitney, cashier of the Lincoln National bank, died at his residence in Lexington. He had recently returned from Bermuda, where he had been in search of health. He was 60 years of age. He was a delegate to the National Republican convention at Philadelphia which gave General Grant his second nomination for the presidency. At the annual G. A. R. encampment in 1886 he was elected junior vice commander of the Massachusetts department.

Alleged Counterfeiter Held.

Gouverneur, N. Y., June 4.—George Flint, one of the alleged counterfeiters arrested a week ago, has been held for the United States circuit court, which sits in Buffalo in September. Bail was fixed at $500, but has not been furnished.

Forest Preserve Counsel Appointed.

Albany, June 4.—Assemblyman Alds has been appointed to the position of special counsel to the forest reserve board. Mr. Alds' principal duty will be to investigate the validity of titles to land which is offered to the board for sale.

THE SHAKERS' IDEAS of MEDICINE.

Nowadays when a man goes to his doctor, he is usually told that he has some unheard of disease with a long name, and when he leaves the office he does not know whether it is St. Vitus Dance or consumption that is gradually undermining his health.

It is therefore refreshing to talk with the Shakers, for their very simplicity commands confidence and respect, and we have the further satisfaction of knowing that they have devoted themselves to the study of disease and its cure for more than a hundred years.

The venerable old man whom the writer saw was only too glad to discuss his pet subject. He said that strange as it might seem, very few doctors realized that three quarters of the most prevalent diseases were all attributable to faulty digestion.

He then went on to say that a child of average intelligence knows that putrid meat or decaying vegetables are poisonous, and must be avoided, and yet these same foods, even if taken into the stomach in the freshest possible condition soon decompose unless digested and absorbed.

In such cases the resulting poisons enter the system, when aches and pains, weakness and debility soon follow as a natural consequence.

It was recognition of this that led the Shakers to devote their energies to the perfection of a product which stimulate the digestive organs and assist them to perform their proper work.

The first symptom of disordered digestion is loss of appetite, and the Shaker Digestive Cordial is wonderfully efficient in supplying any deficiency in this respect, at the same time it relieves all distress after eating. Furthermore, as was carefully explained by our venerable friend, it is absolutely harmless.

Better evidence of the Shaker's confidence in it could not be found, than in the fact that they have placed 10 cent sample bottles in the hands of all druggists, assured that if once tried it will produce such immediate and marked benefit that it will be continued.

DEBILITY.

To those who suffer pain the joy of relief is indescribable. Debility causes all the inconveniences of pain, though not its sharpness. It is a later stage of disease.

Pains and debility are symptoms of a deranged condition of the kidneys. They will disappear when the kidneys act right, not before. Diseased or inactive kidneys can be

I had been a great sufferer from a complication of diseases which mostly affected my kidneys, liver and stomach. I was confined to my bed for eight weeks. I consulted three different physicians and was under their care all this time with no relief whatever. My attention was called to your wonderful Sparagus Kidney Pills through an advertisement. I began taking them without much faith, but you can imagine my surprise when I discovered beneficial effects from the first dose and three boxes were sufficient to perform a complete cure. I would cheerfully recommend Dr. Hobbs Sparagus Kidney Pills to all persons suffering in any way from kidney disease and the other necessary following ills. GEO. N. DAVIS, Garland, N. Y.

better worth following than any other will bring you direct to our store when you want anything in the line of paints. When a mistake is easily avoided it's scarcely worth while to run the risk of making one. Buying poor paint is a needless waste of money. It's paying for something you don't want, because it won't answer the purpose. Only paint that wears and is proof against the exposure of our climate is worth the cost of putting on. Ours are best and cheapest.

Mr. Isaac Horner, proprietor of the Burton House, Burton, W. V., and one of the most widely known men in the state was cured of rheumatism after three years of suffering. He says: "I have not sufficient command of language to convey any idea of what I suffered, my physicians told me that nothing could be done for me and my friends were fully convinced that nothing but death would relieve me of my suffering. In June 1894, Mr. Evens, then salesman fo the Wheeling Drug Co., recommended Chamberlain's Pain Balm. At this time my foot and limb were swollen to more than double their normal size and it seemed to me my leg would burst, but soon after I began using the Pain Balm the swelling began to decrease, the pain to leave, and now I consider that I am entirely cured." For sale by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

COLLAPSE OF A BUILDING.

A New Business Structure Gives Way, Killing Two Men.

New York, June 4.—A new building, constructed after the latest methods and approved by the building department of the city, collapsed yesterday morning and killed two men. It was almost ready for occupancy, and in a few weeks hundreds of men would have been working there at the hour the accident occurred yesterday morning. Few of them could have escaped death.

The building that collapsed was the five-story structure just completed at Fifty-first street and the North river front as a soap works for David S. Brown & Co. The men killed were Jacob Jacobson, a Swedish carpenter, and an employee of the Otis Elevator company.

Immediately after the accident the police arrested David S. Brown, owner of the building; Alexander Brown, Jr., brickwork contractor; John F. Jackson, who was in charge of the men testing the kettles, and Macy, the superintendent of the building. They were taken to the West Forty-seventh street station and released. Subsequently Captain Schmittberger caused the arrest of Archibald Hamilton of 65 North Moore street, foreman for Post & McCord, the iron work contractor, and Alexander Brown, Jr. He said he was looking for Jackson.

Later Architect Kilburn was also arrested.

GUNBOAT LAUNCHED.

The Princeton Enters the Water at Camden, N. J.

Camden, N. J., June 4.—The United States composite screw gunboat Princeton has been launched at the shipyards of John H. Dialogue & Son, this city. She was christened by Miss Marguerite U. Updike, daughter of Mayor F. Mulford Updike of Princeton.

The bottle of wine used in the ceremony was adorned with the stars and stripes and Princeton's colors. Naval Constructor H. H. Varney had charge of the arrangements. The Princeton slid into the river at 3:19 p. m.

Many naval officials from Washington and prominent citizens of Princeton witnessed the launch. Among the former were Chief Engineer A. B. Canaga, Lieutenant T. D. Griffin, Naval Constructor R. C. Dashiel, Congressman J. J. Gardner, Naval Engineer S. C. Hahm, D. A. Green, chief clerk of the bureau of construction, and nearly the entire board of construction.

BIG PLOT UNEARTHED

By the Arrest of a Man and Woman For Counterfeiting.

SCHEME TO START A REVOLUTION.

Intended to Overthrow the Existing Government of Costa Rica—Several Million Dollars of False Bank Notes Have Been Captured.

New York, June 4.—By the arrest of Ricardo de Requesens and a woman of the name of Eugenia Reineman a conspiracy was revealed that was set on foot not only to cause a revolution in the republic of Costa Rica, but to supply the funds for overthrowing the existing government by means of counterfeited bank notes of the bank of Costa Rica.

Chief Hazen of the United States secret service caused the arrests, after an investigation by federal detectives that has lasted for over a month.

Counterfeit notes of the Costa Rica bank to the amount of several millions of dollars have been captured. The chief remarked that he had seldom seen such fine workmanship as the notes exhibited.

Early last month Mr. Calvo, the minister from Costa Rica at Washington, requested the government to investigate the conspiracy. It was found that De Requesens, who is a native of Costa Rica, had a printing establishment under the title of the Spanish American Printing union at 126 Maiden lane. The printing office is where the false notes were made, it is said, and many of the details of the conspiracy to cause the revolution was arranged there.

De Requesens and the Reineman woman made a trip to Costa Rica, but were turned back by the president of the republic after they had been there about two days. Several of the conspirators have been arrested in Costa Rica by United States secret service detectives who went there to investigate.

Alfred Wolcott, an English waiter of the Hotel Imperial, in San Jose, the capital of Costa Rica, has been arrested, and $847,000 in the counterfeit notes was found in his possession. Two other men were arrested with $70,000 worth of the bogus money, and a sofa which was shipped from this city and which had 4,039 of the counterfeit notes hidden in the lining, was intercepted. Chief Hazen said that he understood that all the bogus bills were of the $100 variety.

The prisoners were held by United States Commissioner Shields for examination on June 16. Other arrests are to be made.

Trolleys Must Not Carry Freight.

New York, June 4.—Judge Gaynor, in the supreme court, Brooklyn, has granted an injunction enjoining the Long Island Electric railroad and the National Express company from running freight cars of the express company over the railroad's tracks. The suit is brought by Aaron A. De Graw, a property owner along the line of the trolley. It is alleged that under the law governing surface roads they have no right to handle other than passenger traffic. The issue involves the right of express companies to operate their cars on any surface road in New York state.

To Allow Pictures of the Fight.

Ottawa, June 4.—Sir Oliver Mowat's bill to prohibit the exhibition in Canada of the kinetoscope pictures of the Corbett-Fitzsimmons prizefight was practically killed in the senate when the senators refused to take the bill seriously. Amendments were proposed and adopted providing that no newspaper in Canada shall be allowed to publish accounts of prizefights and that no foreign newspaper containing an account of a fight shall be admitted into Canada. Loaded with these amendments the bill is practically dead.

Struck by a Hurricane.

Port Natal, South Africa, June 4.—The Danish bark Nordby, Captain Christiansen, from New York Jan. 13 for this port, which arrived here May 30, reports when out two weeks from New York she was struck by a terrific hurricane, during which serious damage was sustained to the spars and rigging. Her wheel and all her boats were smashed and two seamen washed overboard and drowned.

Schooner Destroyed by Fire.

Vineyard Haven, Mass., June 4.—The Thomaston, Me., schooner Mary B. Smith, from Thomaston for New York, with a cargo of lime, caught fire here and was destroyed. The sails, rigging and movable property on the deck were saved. The loss is not known. The Mary B. Smith was built at Ipswich in 1854 and was principally owned in Thomaston, Me. She registered 81 tons.

A Peculiar Accident.

Waltham, Mass., June 4.—F. C. White, engineer at the Roberts paper mill here, met with a peculiar and possibly fatal accident. While sharpening the knife of a lawn mower upon a grindstone, in some manner the knife slipped, inflicting a deep gash in Mr. White's throat and reaching within a short distance of the jugular vein.

Drowned Body Identified.

Kingston, N. Y., June 4.—The body of E. S. Schmittman of New York was identified by his son by means of a safe key found in his pockets. The body was found in the Hudson river at Rhinecliff on Tuesday and was taken possession of by a coroner at Red Hook. A watch and a sum of money were found in the pockets.

Four Fishermen Drowned.

Halifax, June 4.—Four fishermen were drowned off this harbor. They were attending to their lobster traps when a heavy sea struck their boat, throwing them into the breakers. The drowned are Spencer Griffin, son of the lighthouse keeper near by; James Manthorne, John Burke and Thomas Burke.

Vandals In a Church.

Cohasset, Mass., June 4.—Vandals are evidently at work in this town, and St. Anthony's Catholic church suffered materially. The chandeliers were smashed, the communion service stolen, and the poor box was broken open. About $100 damage was done to the interior of the church.

STOP THE THIEVING.

The somewhat startling frequency with which burglaries are now occuring in Westfield and other nearby towns, suggests a need in those localities of an organized effort by the local authorities for the protection of property. A night patrol, if properly conducted, with trustworthy men as watchmen, ought to give a fair degree of security. Where such a system has failed, it has general failed because it was laxty adminis tered. With a proper system of time registers, patrolman can be kept constantly on their rounds during the night, and when this is accomplished, the business of the professional burglar becomes at once more difficult and more serious. This is only a suggestion, however. The point to be borne in mind is, that action of some sort is needed at once to check the wholesale pillaging that is going on.

TOO MANY BILLS.

Too many laws; too much government. In New York the Legislature passed this year nearly a thousand bills, and Gavernor Black has signed about 800 of them. In New Jersey the new laws will run well up into the hundreds, although Governor Griggs killed nearly a hundred of the bills passed by the Legislature. What under the sun is the use of so many laws, for all these are in addition to thousands of laws already on the statute books. There are too many laws; they are too complicated and conflicting. Even the courts can't reasonably constiue them. The people are governed altogether too much.—Elizabeth Journal.

AFFECTING BENEFICIAL ORDERS.

In a recent suit of a member of a secret and fraternal society to recover sick benefits claimed to be due him, the justice nonsuited the plaintiff on the ground that he had not laid his case before the highest court or tribunal known to the order, the Supreme Court of New Jersey, having held that members of fraternal societies must exhaust every remedy known to their order before resorting to courts of law. This is a point that members of lodges and other societies will do well to make a note of.

BEST MAN FULL OF JOKES.

By a Bit of Tact He Monopolized All the Fun Himself.

Mr. and Mrs. James Everett Kimball, who were married in the Seventh-Day Baptist church, Wednesday evening, are spending their honeymoon at Beachcroft, East Gloucester, Mass. They escaped the showers of rice that their friends had planned for them, thanks to the efforts of the best man, Benjamin F. Langworthy, of Chicago, who had provided a ladder down which they crept from the second story window. Mr. Langworthy looked out, however, that they should not go unannounced. He sent their trunk ahead all bedecked with white ribbons and saw that their pockets were filled with rice, even if they were not showered with it.

Yesterday morning, he sent a pair of old shoes tied up with white ribbon by express to Beachcroft, as a gentle reminder to the couple.

LOVER'S WALK NO HIGHWAY.

Path Randolph Made While Courting Was Not a Public Road.

Vice-Chancellor Reed has refused to issue an injunction in the suit of Cezare F. Randolph against Michael Fox The two are neighbors and reside near New Brunswick. Their difficulty arose because Fox refused Randolph permission to travel over his land in order to reach his mother-in-law's house. The complainant held that the path he travelled was a public highway, but the defendant proved that Randolph himself had formed the path while courting his present wife.

NEWS OF THE SUBURBS.

THINGS THAT INTEREST SCOTCH PLAINS AND DUNELLEN.

Brief and Terse Observations Gathered by Alert Press Reporters to be Perused at the Supper Table at Your Leisure

DUNELLEN AND NEW MARKET.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Griggs expect to go to housekeeping at an early date.

Charles Coriell was in New Brunswick yesterday on important business.

Justice Storms, of New Market, has returned from a business trip to New York.

The members of the W. C. T. U. held a very interesting meeting yesterday afternoon.

A regular meeting of the borough Board of Education will be held next Monday evening.

The borough council will hold a meeting next Monday evening and transact important business.

Mrs. A. J. Whitney has returned from a two months visit with relatives in Massachussets and Illinois.

Clarence Vliet, who has been visiting his sister, Mrs. Schievely, has returned to his home in Philadelphia.

Mrs. S. E. Dickenson is entertaining friends from Canada. They are delighted with Dunellen and vicinity.

It is said that Captain Thompson has purchased the Ryder property, where he has been residing for some time.

Next Thursday evening Rev. Frank Fletcher will deliver his interesting lecture, "Sherman's March to the Sea," in the M. E. church.

W. Dunham has a St. Bernard dog which is probably the largest in this vicinity. Mr. Dunham had the dog weighed recently and he tipped the scales at 195 pounds.

The building of the town hall and the improvements of the roads has increased the tax rate to $226. This is considered pretty high for the privileges enjoyed by Dunellenites.

Committees from Piscataway township and the borough will meet at Nelson's Hotel, New Market, next Monday evening, for the purpose of adjusting the State railroad tax matter. Counsel Willis will represent the borough and Counsel Suydam will be present for the township.

Today is known as "School Day" in Piscataway Township, and the scholars in the township, together with the teachers, are assembled on Mahlon Vail's farm. Addresses were made by J. C. Morris, president of the Board of Education of Piscataway Township, Prof. Maxson, of Plainfield, and a number of other prominent educators. An interesting programme was also rendered by the scholars. At noon a dinner was served to all.

A strange state of affairs exists in Dunellen, for the borough has no Justice of the Peace, and those who have business in a Justice's court are obliged to go to New Market where Justice Storms holds court. At the last election in the borough Thomas Todd was elected to the office of Justice but he did not qualify and is not likely to. It is understood that he does not want the position. Of course, there are cases which can be taken before Mayor Brakely and he usually disposes of all ordinary cases. It is a matter of considerable interest to know how the borough will get along without a Justice of the Peace.

An amusing story is related of a Plainfield young man who, until recently, has been calling on a young lady in Dunellen. A few nights ago he called as usual but did not find his girl at home. He learned that she had attended prayer-meeting and he thought that he would wait for her. When the service was out he noticed his girl coming down the street with another young man. This did not please him and he decided that he would ask for an explanation. Before he could do this he saw the two, as he thought, going for a trolley car at a lively rate of speed. The Plainfield young man gave chase and at the same time he called to his girl to wait for him. The two did not wait and before he could reach the car they disappeared from view. This was more than the young man could stand jumped aboard and came to Plainfield. It afterwards happened that it was not his girl that left the borough with the other young man, but another young woman. The Plainfield man's girl walked off in another direction in company with a Dunellen young man. It is said that the Plainfield youth has decided to remain away from Dunellen in the future.

WESTFIELD

VARIOUS BITS OF NEWS.

WESTFIELD HAPPENINGS SERVED UP TERSELY FOR THE PRESS.

The Ladies' Sewing Society of the Presbyterian church holds its annual strawberry and ice cream festival on the church lawn this afternoon and evening from 4 until 10 o'clock. From 8 until 10 o'clock a phonograph entertainment will be held in the lecture room in connection with the festival.

The strawberry tea and festival given by the Ladies' Aid Society of the Methodist church at Gale's clubhouse last evening, was a success, in spite of the severe storm, which compelled the committee and their patrons to give up the pretty lawn and take refuge within the clubhouse. After the storm passed over a large number of people visited the clubhouse and partook of the good things. The committee in general charge of the affair are: Mrs. W. Affleck, Mrs. L. M. Whitaker, Mrs. John Ingram, Mrs. Terry, Mrs. Giles, Mr. Townley and Mr. Woodring. In charge of the flower table were Mrs. S. S. Mapes, Mrs. C. E. Pearsall and Mrs. F. B. Hain. The cream and berries were served by the Misses Edith and Beth Morehouse, Miss Allie Crosby, Miss G. Woodruff, Miss Carrie Woodruff, Miss Ella Ferris and Miss May Moffett. The tea will be given again this evening in order that those who were afraid to venture out last evening may have an opportunity to attend.

SCOTCH PLAINS.

The trustees of the Baptist church held a meeting last night.

Justice Joseph Clark has been awarded the contract for painting the Baptist church buildings.

An interesting Eastern Temple drill will take place at the entertainment of Miss Anna D. Cooper, in the Scotch Plains school hall, on Monday evening.

Turton & Co. have received today their first lot of Jersey strawberries, from Keyport. They are of the famous variety known as the Lady Washington, and are of exceptionally fine flavor.

All Saint's Church, Scotch Plains—A full choral service will be rendered by the choir of the Holy Cross church, North Plainfield, on next Sunday evening, June 6th, at 8 o'clock. An address will be delivered on church music by the Rector, Rev. Edward H. True; and a cordial welcome is extended to all.

An exciting pig chase occurred in Scotch Plains yesterday. Two porkers belonging to Philip Jahn escaped and entered the field of C. M. Flanders, on Front street, and threatened considerable damage to the growing crops. Mr. Jahn offered a cash reward for the capture of the animals, and a large crowd of men and dogs turned out and joined in the chase. After half an hour's hot work the pigs were captured by Thomas Emery.

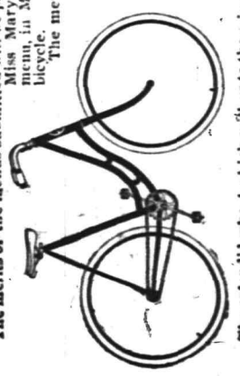
THE AMERICAN QUEEN COMPETITION. A Columbia FREE!!



A lady's Columbia Bicycle, 1897 Model, will be given to the winner in THE AMERICAN QUEEN competition, which will be open to all the subscribers to THE AMERICAN QUEEN until June 30, 1897. The Columbia, the standard bicycle of the world, has been selected for this competition, because the publishers of THE AMERICAN QUEEN are convinced that it is the best and that the woman who wins it would have it in preference to any other make.

The Columbia is now on exhibition at our store, and will remain on exhibition until June 30th, when the competition will close and the Columbia will be awarded to the fortunate winner.

The contest which we have just inaugurated, by or through which some subscriber to THE AMERICAN QUEEN is going to win a fine, high-grade $100 Columbia Bicycle, is already well under way. The contest will remain open until June 30 1897. The conditions and plan of this contest are simply these: We purpose presenting a Columbia Bicycle, 1897 Model, to the lady subscriber who furnishes the best menu, for one week, for a family (five, the cost of such menu not to exceed $10 for the week. The merits of the menus submitted will be passed upon by the Editor of THE AMERICAN QUEEN, assisted by Miss Mary L. Disland, and the person furnishing the best menu, in Miss Disland's judgment, will be presented with the bicycle.

The menus submitted should be enclosed in one envelope and the name of the sender in a separate one, the two being handed in or sent in to us. The envelopes containing the menus will then be numbered and sent to Miss Disland and the envelopes containing the names reserved by us, and when Miss Disland makes her choice of the menus she will inform us of the number of the winner and we will then announce the result in local newspapers and THE AMERICAN QUEEN.

The only requirement necessary to admit you to this contest is that you be a subscriber to THE AMERICAN QUEEN.

The splendid wheel which will go to the winner is on exhibition in the store and may be seen at any time.

We want everybody to feel free to go into this contest and we hope that hundreds of our customers will fix their minds on good things to eat and build them into an acceptable menu for the week, and at the same time keep the cost down to $10.

THE COMPETITION.—Our aim in offering this competition is to have every lady we can reach with this announcement become a reader of THE AMERICAN QUEEN. THE QUEEN is published at $1 a year, but to give all our friends a chance to get this splendidly useful home publication for the ensuing year and at the same time have a chance to become the proud possessor of the standard cycle, we shall until the 30th day of June receive subscriptions (only one, however, will be taken from each family) for the nominal fee of 25 Cents a year. Come to the store at once, register your name, receive your receipt for THE QUEEN for one year and try to win the Columbia.

Proceedings of the Board of Chosen Freeholders of Union County.

[OFFICIAL.]

Pursuant to the statute, the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union, for the year commencing on May 12, 1897, convened in the Court House in the City of Elizabeth, on Wednesday, May 12, 1897, at 11 o'clock a. m.

The Board was called to order by S. Rusling Ryno, Clerk, who administered the oath to Freeholders-elect Christian Ehrlich and John Farrell.

The roll was called by cities and townships, as follows:

Clark Township—Benjamin King.

Cranford Township—George W. Littell.

City of Elizabeth—Wm. H. Hulskamper, Frederick Miller, James C. Ogden, Jacob Brucklacher.

Fanwood Township—John Robison.

Linden Township—Henry Krause.

New Providence—John F. Wahl.

City of Plainfield—J. Frank Hubbard, John H. Tier.

City of Rahway—Christian Ehrlich, John Farrell.

Springfield Township—J. Martin Roll.

Summit Township—Wm. H. Swain.

Union Township—James A. Burnett.

Westfield Township—Addison S. Clark.

All members were present excepting Freeholder Hulskamper, of the City of Elizabeth.

The clerk stated that the first business would be the election of director of the board and called for nominations

Freeholder Swain nominated J. Frank Hubbard. There were no other nominations.

Freeholder Clark moved that the election of J. Frank Hubbard as director be made unanimous and that the clerk cast the ballot, which was carried.

Freeholders Roll and Clark were appointed as tellers.

Upon ballot being cast, it was declared by the tellers to read as follows: "For Director, J. Frank Hubbard," who was thereupon declared elected as director for the ensuing year.

Director Hubbard was escorted to the chair by the tellers and briefly returned his thanks for the honor again conferred upon him

RESOLUTIO S.

By Freeholder Littell:

Resolved, That the salary of the county collector be fixed at fifteen hundred dollars ($1,500) per annum.

On motion of Freeholder Roll, the resolution was on roll-call adopted unanimously.

Freeholder Littell nominated Edward M. Wood for County Collector; there were no other nominations.

Freeholder Clark moved that the election of Mr. Wood be made unanimous and that the clerk cast the ballot, which motion was carried.

Upon ballot being cast, Edward M. Wood was declared elected as County Collector for the term of three years as the unanimous choice of the Board.

Mr. Wood, in a short speech accepted the office to which he had been elected and thanked the Board for the honors as again conferred upon him; he briefly referred to the excellent economical management of county affairs by the Board during the past year, as evidenced in the handsome balance shown at the end of the year, and also by the unusual fact, that there had been a balance to the credit of all appropriations, thereby making unnecessary any transfer of funds.

By Freeholder Littell:

Resolved, That the salary of the County Road Inspector be fixed at sixty dollars ($60) per month.

On motion of Freeholder Roll, the resolutions on roll-call was unanimously adopted.

Freeholder Littell nominated James W. Fink for County Road Inspector; there were no other nominations.

Freeholder Littell moved that the election of Mr. Fink be made unanimous and that the clerk cast the ballot, which motion was carried.

Upon ballot being cast, Mr. Fink was declared elected as County Road Inspector for the ensuing year, as the unanimous choice of the Board.

By Freeholder Swain:

Resolved, That the rules of order governing the last Board be adopted as the rules of this Board.

On motion of Freeholder Miller, the motion was adopted without dissent.

By Freeholder Ogden:

Resolved, That the regular meetings of this Board be held on the first Thursday of each month at 2:30 p. m.

On motion of Freeholder Littell, the resolution was adopted without dissent.

By Freeholder Littell:

Resolved, That the proceedings of the Board of Chosen Freeholders be published in the following papers, at the compensation of $100 per annum each, viz: City of Elizabeth—Elizabeth Daily Journal, Daily Leader, Freie Presse, Contractor and Gazette. City of Plainfield—Courier-News, Daily Press. City of Rahway—New Jersey Advocate, Union Democrat. Summit Township—Summit Herald, Summit Record. Westfield Township—Union County Standard, Westfield Leader.

On motion of Freeholder Miller, the resolution on roll call was unanimously adopted.

By Freeholder Littell:

Resolved, That all papers authorized to publish the minutes of this Board, shall publish the same within one week from the time of receiving copy of the same and shall send to the clerk of this board a copy each month of said paper containing such minutes.

On motion of Freeholder Roll, the resolution was adopted without dissent.

By Freeholder Burnett:

Resolved, That the Director be and is hereby constituted a member of all committees.

On motion of Freeholder Brucklacher, the resolution was adopted without dissent

By Freeholder Tier:

Resolved, That a committee of five (5) be appointed to meet a committee from the Somerset County Board, to consider the advisability and probable cost of building two (2) line bridges on Watchung and Sycamore avenues in the city of Plainfield, over Green Brook, between Somerset and Union counties and report on same at the next meeting of this Board.

On motion of Freeholder Roll, the resolution was adopted without dissent,

By Freeholder Littell:

Resolved, That when this meeting adjourns it stands adjourned to meet on Thursday, May 20, 1897, at 2.30 p. m.

On motion of Freeholder Farrell, the resolution was adopted without dissent.

From F. W. Westcott, County Physician, his annual report as follows:

To the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the county of Union:

Gentlemen—I herewith submit to your Honorable Body my first report, ending May 1, 1897.

I have investigated 105 cases during the past year. Number of cases due to natural causes, 42; number of deaths due to railroad accidents, 30; number of deaths due to other causes than railroad accidents, 7; number of cases from drowning, 6; from burns, 3; from heat, 2; number of still births, 2; from hemorrhage following operation, 1. Of this number, five remain unclaimed and unknown.

(Signed.)

Frank W. Westcott, M. D.,
County Physician.

On motion of Freeholder Robison, received and placed on file.

The Director then announced the appointment of the standing committees for the year 1897-98 as follows, viz.:

Collector's Bond—Wahl, Miller, Burnett.

Publication—Hulskamper, Wahl Swain.

Discharge of Prisoners—Krause, Roll, Robison.

Settle with Collector—Littel, King, Krouse.

Audit Accounts—Ogden, Roll, Burnett.

Lunacy—Miller, Roll, Clark.

Public Grounds and Buildings—Farrel, Ogden, Clark.

Jail Inspection — Tier, Krause, Swain.

Stationery — Little, Hulskamper, Ehrlich.

Settle with Sheriff—Robison, Tier, Wahl.

Miscellaneous Accounts and Agreements—King, Robison, Brucklacher.

Legal Questions—Ehrlich, Tier, Brucklacher.

Appropriations — Farrell, Ogden, Littell, Clark, Brucklacher.

County Roads—Roll, Ogden, Littell, Krause, Swain.

Elizabeth Drawbridge—Hulskamper Miller, Burnett.

Rahway Drawbridge—Ehrlich, Farrel, King.

There being no further business, Freeholder Roll moved to adjourn, which was carried.

The Director declared the board adjourned until Thursday, May 20th, 1897, at 2:30 p. m.

S. RUSLING RYNO, Clerk.

BREAKING A $20 GOLD PIECE.

When Tapped by a Connoisseur the Center Fell Out.

One of the most puzzled men in town is a Montgomery street restaurant keeper who recently took in a $20 gold piece which filled all the ordinary requirements of genuineness so far as a superficial test could reveal true facts. But a few days ago a banker stepped into his place and saw the $20 gold piece which the restaurant man had received only a short time before. The banker had a queer look in his eyes as he took the coin and rapped it sharply with his knife, and the restaurant keeper had a stranger expression as he saw his supposed $20 piece break into two pieces, says the San Francisco Call.

"How is this?" he demanded.

The banker answered: "It is the same old game. I had one of these pieces myself, and since that I have tested gold pieces of the $20 denomination very carefully. If that had been genuine my test would not have broken it."

Then the restaurant keeper and the banker carefully examined it together. The outside of the gold piece was all right, seemingly, when the dissevered parts were placed together. The milling seemed to be up to the standard. The weight was correct.

But the inside of the piece was half filled with a composition which was not the customary gold and alloy. Still closer examination revealed that the gold had been sawed through with exquisite care and skill just inside of the milling. Then the milling had been removed, and from the interior of the piece some of the gold had been extracted and the baser composition was made to take the place of the more precious metal. Then, with equal deftness and skill, the milling had been replaced and soldered in some way, and the trick was done.

Hard Luck.

First Tramp—Didn't I see you sawin' wood yesterday?

Second Tramp—Yes. Dat was one of dem sad occasions when a man what's lazy finds he can't afford to be idle.—Truth.

Delicate Dress Goods.

Some gowns are so dainty in the weave, so delicate in tint, that they seem to soil by being looked at—one or two wearings making them unpresentable, NOT USELESS. We make a specialty of cleaning fine fabrics, the more delicate the material, the better the results. Sometimes an accident will ruin a gown, without injuring the texture We dye them then, sometimes we get a prettier effect than the origina. olor. Fine goods stand redyeing. The finer the material the better the new color. We charge so little for cleaning or dyeing, that even if you are in doubt as to the result, it's worth while to experiment. Want a new evening gown for a dollar or two? Laundry drivers will receive your work.

EMBASSADORS MEET.

First Sitting Between Representatives of the Different Countries Held.

Constantinople, June 4.—The first sitting of the peace negotiations was held at the Tophane palace between the embassadors of the powers and Tewfik Pasha, the Turkish minister for foreign affairs.

No secretary was present, and the only record that will be kept of the proceedings was such as each embassador would make for himself.

It is understood that the result of three hours of deliberation was that Count Nelidoff, the Russian embassador, will prepare a memorandum as to the rectification of the frontier; M. Cambon, the French embassador, a memorandum as to the capitulations in the case of Greek subjects in Turkey, and Sir Philip Currie, the British embassador, a memorandum as to indemnity.

The conference then adjourned, to meet again Saturday to consider these memoranda.

An Armistice Signed.

Athens, June 4.—It is officially announced that an armistice has been signed between the Greek and Turkish military commanders in Thessaly and Epirus.

MAGOWAN'S PROPERTY.

Disposal of Part of It at Public Auction at Trenton.

Trenton, June 4.—The sale of ex-Mayor Frank A. Magowan's personal property under executions representing nearly $200,000 worth of judgments was adjourned without disposing of the furniture of the colonial mansion. The sale, apart from wagons and horses, embraced Magowan's holdings of stock in the various companies with which he has been connected.

The stock was put up in large blocks and was sold for nominal sums, after a statement in each case that the stock had been hypothecated for loans and that it was sold subject to this hypothecation.

The buyers were persons interested in the loans made on the stock. Magowan was at the sale, and after entering a protest and showing indignation became suppliant and begged Senator Skirm, who has been his principal financial backer, to stop the sale.

The mansion in which Magowan and Mrs. Barnes Magowan are living is mortgaged for $15,000. Foreclosure proceedings are now pending.

DIFFICULTIES AMONG VESSELS.

A British Steamer Charged With Having Interfered With an American Vessel.

Halifax, June 4.—Reports have just been received here of several difficulties that have occurred on the New Foundland fishing grounds between American, French and Canadian schooners and the captain of her majesty's steamer Pelican.

A complaint has been made against the captain of the Pelican that he interfered a few days ago with a Nova Scotia schooner and compelled the captain to sell herring to French vessels at 40 cents per barrel.

It is supposed that the captain of the Pelican maintained that the fish were taken in French waters. Other schooners, it is said, were treated in the same manner.

On May 22 two American schooners and several French vessels had a difficulty over the cargoes of the former, which the Americans were obliged to sell to the French. One of the fishermen, Captain Ozon, says the warship had no right to compel the sale of the fish.

THE DURRANT CASE.

An Appeal May Delay the Execution For Six Months.

San Francisco, June 4.—The attorneys for Theodore Durrant again appeared before Judge Gilbert in the United States circuit court and applied for a writ of supercedeas for the purpose of staying the execution of sentence, but this was denied by the court.

An application for leave to appeal from this decision to the supreme court of the United States was then granted. Although it is an open question whether, in view of the denial of the stay of supercedeas, the order of the court acts as a stay of proceedings, Attorney General Fitzgerald told Warden Hale to take no action in the premises pending the appeal.

As the United States supreme court does not meet again until October next this virtually means a respite for six months at least.

VIOLENT ELECTRIC STORM.

Roofs Blown Off, Windows Broken and Other Damage Done.

Rome, N. Y., June 4.—This vicinity was visited by the most violent electric storm that has been experienced since 1893. The rain fell in sheets for about 10 minutes, accompanied by high wind and a part of the time by hail. There was incessant thunder and lightning. Within a mile west of Rome 35 Western Union telegraph poles were blown down. A part of the roof of the State Custodial asylum was blown off. Many of the asylum windows were broken by hail. The fire alarm, electric light and telephone wires were badly tangled. A new 100 foot smokestack at the electric light works was blown down. Lightning struck one or two buildings.

Town Struck by a Waterspout.

Sioux Falls, S. D., June 4.—Reports from Jasper, a small town six miles northeast of here, say that a waterspout struck there. The Great Northern track for miles is two feet under water, and nearly all culverts and bridges in that region are washed out. Crops are damaged greatly.

Bluejackets Desert.

Boston, June 4.—Word was received at police headquarters from the Charlestown navy yard that seven bluejackets belonging to the flagship New York, now lying at this port, had deserted. The customary $20 will be paid for the return of each one.

Collision Between Vessels.

L'Original, Ont., June 4.—The steamer Hale, bound from Ottawa to Montreal, collided with the tug Sir Hector. The latter vessel sank within two minutes. The captain and crew were saved with difficulty.

New Postmaster.

Washington, June 4.—E. R. Allen has been confirmed as postmaster at Columbus, Pa.

MAKING GOOD RECORD.

The Senators Doing Remarkably Well In the Tariff Matter.

MR. TILLMAN SPEAKS ABOUT SUGAR

He Defends Himself From Charges—Some Lively Exchanges Occur Between Him and Other Members—The House Makes Several Amendments.

Washington, June 4.—The senate has again made good progress on the tariff bill, covering about 10 pages of the metal schedule and almost completing it. The formal contest against the measure was maintained, but all the amendments tending to change the bill as reported were voted down and the finance committee sustained. The debate was mainly of a technical character, the Republican senators continuing the policy of refraining from making speeches.

Before the tariff bill was taken up Senator Tillman of South Carolina gave the senate another hour of exciting controversy over the proposed sugar investigation. He defended himself from public charges relative to his administration of the governorship of South Carolina and then moved that the committee having charge of the sugar resolution be discharged from further consideration of it, thus bringing the subject directly before the senate.

Mr. Gallinger of New Hampshire, in behalf of the committee, made a spirited protest against this course, and also urged that the senate should not turn aside from its public work to investigate charges affecting the private character of senators.

There were frequent lively exchanges between Mr. Tillman, Mr. Gallinger and Mr. Jones of Nevada, but in the end Mr. Tillman withdrew his motion.

Senator Pettigrew gave notice of an amendment he will offer to the paragraph in the tariff bill relating to iron ore. The amendment takes sulphuret of iron from the free list and imposes a duty of $2.25 per ton. Mr. Pettigrew made an effort to have the amendment considered at the time, but was met with objections from several Republican senators, including Senator Pritchard. Mr. Pritchard afterward stated that his reason for objecting was to be found in the fact that he has a similar amendment pending, which he has been led to believe the finance committee may accept.

House Proceedings Quiet.

The house proceedings were enlivened by a single incident, the attempt of Mr. Terry (Dem.) of Arkansas to secure consideration as privileged matter of a resolution for the immediate appointment of the committee on foreign affairs, in order, as the preliminary whereases recited, to permit action on the senate Cuban belligerency resolution. It was ruled out of order, and an appeal taken from the decision of the chair was laid on the table by a strict party vote.

Mr. Simpson, the Populist leader, was absent, and several bills were passed by unanimous consent. The Frye bill to prevent collisions on certain harbors, rivers and inland waters of the United States and the senate resolution for the relief of the El Paso flood sufferers, amended so as to make the appropriation of $10,000 available out of the unexpended balance of the appropriation for the Mississippi flood sufferers, were passed, and the conference report on the Indian appropriation bill was passed.

Tariff Reform Club's Work.

Washington, June 4.—The tariff reform committee of the Reform club has established headquarters at room 77 Corcoran building, and it is intended to maintain an organization till the close of the pending tariff legislation. Mr. James G. Parsons is in charge of the undertaking here. Mr. Calvin Tompkins, the chairman of the committee, has been here for the past few days and states that he has completed arrangements for the satisfactory conduct of the work. Mr. Tompkins says that the presence of leading business men has been arranged for, representing the following industries: Cotton, lumber, wool, woolens, linens, silk, paper and tobacco. Representatives from these trades and industries will be present in Washington in advance of the debate which is to take place in the senate on each schedule, so that ample opportunity for discussion will be provided.

Mail Service Contract Awarded.

Washington, June 4.—The postmaster general has awarded to the Starin transportation line of New York the contract for performing the newly instituted New York harbor mail service. This provides for a vessel to carry the mails from Quarantine station to the government pier near the Battery, to the Pennsylvania railroad depot at Jersey City and to a point adjacent to the Grand Central depot in New York city. The mails for New York are landed at the Battery pier, while landing at the other two points obviates the necessity for sending the outside mails through the New York office and expedites them by many hours through direct train connections. The contract price is $29,740, and the contract is to run four years.

Orchards Damaged.

Hudson, N. Y., June 4.—The apple tree worm is causing great destruction in the orchards of Columbia county. Large numbers of trees have been wholly or partly stripped of leaves by the pest. The big gray nests hang everywhere in the bare branches of the trees. All attempts to stay the work of destruction by the worm have proved unavailing, and there are fears that every orchard in the county will be ruined.

Unable to Obtain Bail.

Newburg, N. Y., June 4.—Former Assemblyman Grant B. Taylor, arrested last week on the charge of forgery in the first degree, is still in jail here, having been unable to procure bail. It is probable that all attempts to obtain bail will be abandoned until after the grand jury acts next week. It is stated that losses by reason of certain mortgages have been made good.

Death of Editor Lynk.

Amsterdam, N. Y., June 4.—Martin Lynk, a well known newspaper man and one of the founders of the Amsterdam Sentinel, died in Syracuse, aged 48 years. For several years he was publisher of the Fort Plain Standard. He leaves a family.

GOSSIP OF THE CYCLERS.

TEMS INTERESTING TO DEVOTEES OF THE STEEL STEEDS.

The Popular Exercise Provides Incidents and Expressions That are of Especial Moment When Wheeling is the Rage.

Miss Manning, of West Front street, has purchased a new wheel.

George Zimmer, of Linden avenue, has received his new wheel, built by P. H. Zimmer.

J. W. Crawley, of the Plainfield Electric Light Company, has purchased a Pierce of E. Frank Vail.

F. W. L. Fullerton, of Montclair, rode over to Plainfield, Wednesday afternoon, on a tandem with a friend to call on his Plainfield friends.

F. L. C. Martin will pilot a party of Plainfield cyclists through the Inter-Club century run on Saturday, June 12th. Those who can take advantage of the run will do well to consult Mr. Martin.

C. Elmer Willis and Clarence Trelease, of Newark, left New York last evening on a tour to San Francisco and return. They arrived in this city at 10 o'clock this morning, and will leave tomorrow morning.

F. L. C. Martin is to act as Marshal of the New Jersey Club Division at The Telegram parade on the Boulevard, tomorrow afternoon. He has selected Meredith Dryden and Albert Woltmann, of this city, as his aides.

The Y. M. C. A. cyclers will receive and entertain the members of the Y. M. C. A. Cycling League of Northern New Jersey at the association building, this evening. The visitors will arrive here between 8 and 9 o'clock and will be given a short programme and refreshments for the body.

The committee of the Associated Cycling clubs of Philadelphia in charge of the Inter-Club Century Run from Newark to Philadelphia, announces that positively no scorching or fast riding will be permitted on the run. The time will average eight miles per hour. Ample time will be allowed at each stop for rest, and no one need become tired or exhausted by keeping up an unusual pace. It is intended that every starter shall come in a winner at the end and be able to sport one of the Inter-Club medals, as the handsomest trophy of the year, if he chooses to. The roads are superb; their grades almost entirely level the greater part of the way and easily rolling where not strictly so, while their surface is finer than any city park drive, and the unsurpassed scenery makes up a trip unequalled in this country.

AROUND THE BASES.

The Plainfield Athletic Club will play the Elizabeths on the latter's grounds Saturday afternoon at the Linden race track.

Ben. Eddy, the baseball player, expects to go to California at an early date where he will play on one of the crack teams in that State.

Tomorrow afternoon the New Brunswick Y. M. C. A. baseball team will come to this city and play the Plainfield Athletic Club team on the LaGrande avenue grounds. A good game is promised.

TENNIS.

The New Jersey state championship originally scheduled for yesterday on the courts of the Hohokus Valley Tennis Club, has been indefinitely postponed at the request of the management of the club. There has been such a falling off in the interest of tennis during the last year, due in part to the increase of bicycling and golf, that the club has not yet been able to put its grounds in proper condition for a tournament.

Lightning Killed a Cow.

Lightning struck and instantly killed a cow last evening owned by John Kelly, of Clinton avenue. The cow was in pasture at the time and when Mr. Kelly went for her he found the animal dead in the field. The animal was a valuable one and Mr. Kelly feels the loss very much.

FARM BUILDINGS BURNED.

A Stirling Farmer the Victim of a Careless Employe's Pipe.

Yesterday afternoon, between the hours of 2 and 3 o'clock, a large barn owned by J. McGraffs, and located this side of Stirling, was totally destroyed by fire. The structure was an old-fashioned one and was worth about $3,000. The contents, including a number of wagons, harnesses, calves, a quantity of hay, straw and feed, and a large collection of farming utensils, were all destroyed.

Mr. McGraffs was out in the field working at the time when he noticed smoke coming from the roof of the barn. When he reached the spot he discovered that the interior of the structure was ablaze. There was no one about the place at the time. Mr. McGraffs believes that one of his workmen was in the barn smoking a pipe and that accidentally some sparks set fire to the hay or straw. There being no fire protection in that vicinity all hopes of saving anything was useless.

The barn and contents were partially insured.

GALA DAY FOR PUPILS.

Annual School Day of Piscataway Observed in Vail's Grove.

Today will be a gala day for the pupils, parents and friends of the public schools of Piscataway township It is known as School Day and the occasion is under the management of the Board of Education. The exercises are being held in Mahlon Vail's grove in New Market and began at 10 o'clock in the morning, when the pupils of the ten schools arrived in charge of their teachers. The procession was formed at the schoolhouse and a march made to the grounds, where seats were provided for 500 people. Among the speakers scheduled is Prof. Maxson, of this city.

Through a Bottle at the Clerk.

Yesterday afternoon about 4:30 o'clock Miss McGee, of Somerset street, called at F. W. Rowley's drug store and asked for a quanity of alcohol. She had a bottle with her and she desired that no label be placed on the same to designate its contents.

The clerk refused to give the woman the alcohol without a prescription. This angered her and she threw the bottle at the clerk. It missed its aim and struck the wall.

After a while Miss McGee was removed to the home of Mrs. Randolph, on Somerset street, where she has been stopping for some time. Proper treatment was given her and in a short time she became quiet.

Euchre Playing the Feature.

The members of the Thursday Evening Euchre Club were entertained last evening at the home of Miss Etta Krymer, of West Second street. As usual, euchre was the feature of the evening. The first prizes in the game were won by Mrs. Will Tier and Robt. M. Clark, and the second prizes by Miss Etta Krymer and Edward O. Clark. Refreshments and a social time followed.

Seeking an Assailant.

The Hunterdon County authorities are seeking the person who is charged by John Cronce, a well-to-do farmer living near Oak Grove, whith attempted assassination. Cronce was on his way toward Flemington late in the evening with his two children. While passing a lonely spot a bullet fired from ambush whizzed past Cronce and struck his horse, which fell dead in the road.

Bicycle Sociable Details.

There will be an important business meeting of the Epworth League of the First M. E. church this evening, in Vincent chapel. The officers will be elected for the ensuing year and the report of the old officers will be read. The final details for the bicycle sociable will be made. The business session will be followed by a sociable, when refreshments will be served.

Chimney Collapsed.

Last evening during the heavy storm a chimney on the house located at the corner of Watchung avenue and Harmony street, and occupied by Mr. Moffett, the Somerset street photographer, collapsed. At first it was thought that the chimney was struck by lightning, but later it was discovered that the bricks were loose and that the wind and trees was responsible for the accident.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Mrs. Peter B. Bogart, formerly of this city, but now of Brooklyn, spent yesterday as the guest of A. E. Bushnell and family, on Park avenue.

Cards are out announcing the approaching marriage of Helen Coriell, of Dunellen, to Clarence White, of Red Bank, at the home of the bride's parents on Wednesday, June 16th, at 7 p. m. Mr. White is of the shoe firm of White & Knapp, of Red Bank.

Slashed by a Razor.

The young colored people of this city, held a dance in T. A. B. hall last evening and a lively fight resulted before the affair came to an end. Just how it started is not known, but a white man was present and became engaged in a row with some of the colored men.

The latter crowded the former so hard that he drew a razor from his pocket and slashed it back and forth. While doing this the instrument caught Sam Conway in the breast, inflicting a painful wound. The cut is not a serious one and no arrests have been made.

WHAT'LL VOORHEES DO?

AN INTERESTING SITUATION FOR THE JERSEY REPUBLICANS.

The Union Senator Bound to Bob Up as a Pesky Problem in the Gubernatorial and U. S. Senatorship Campaign.

One fact was developed at last week's special session of the Legislature which has thus far received but little attention. Its importance with relation to the United States Senatorial campaign is bound to bring it out in all its pesky obtrusiveness, however, and it will rise up to vex the Republican managers in the days to come. Toward the close of the late regular session of the Legislature, in which so much peanut politics figured, it was conspicuously noticed that a severe frost has settled upon the relations of Governor Griggs and Senator Foster M. Voorhees, leader of the majority in the Senate.

The demonstration of disaffection came during the Senatorial caucus on Monday night last, preceding the extra session. There was a long, informal talk among the fourteen Republican Senators as to the course to be pursued. It was a well established and thoroughly understood fact that the Governor and the other State leaders desired the Legislature to simply correct the typewriter's error in the anti gambling amendment and skeedaddle home. How well the leaders had things in hand was demonstrated later when the crucial test came. Many of the Senators had felt the withering stroke of the veto pen upon pet measures, and they hoped to gather enough support to resurrect these bills from the "executive graveyard," but they were enjoined by the leaders to leave it all alone because the regular session had done enough mischief for one year. At length it was unanimously agreed that no new legislation should be considered and that the vetoed bills should be allowed to moulder in their grave.

Senator Voorhees was not entirely satisfied. Holding fast to the theory that the proposed judiciary amendment to the Constitution was not new business, but simply the taking up of neglected duty, he made an earnest plea for his amendment. But when put to a vote Voorhees was the only one who gave it an affirmative; all the others were opposed to bringing up any subject whatever except the correction of the typewriter's error.

Surprised by the unanimity with which his request was turned down, disappointed over the turn affairs had taken and chagrined by the apparent disregard of his colleagues for the wishes of the people, Senator Voorhees restrained himself with difficulty. He warned the Senators that a day would surely come when this act would rise up to vex them. He said it was a mistake they would regret some day and he intimated pretty openly that Governor Griggs was back of it all; that the fight had been made purely personal for political reasons and that the one to blame for the blunder would come face to face with his day of reckoning.

Now, this unpleasant and dangerous family disturbance among the Republicans bodes no good and if the Democrats can only pour oil on their wounds they will find a way open to them to walk off with the two big prizes which the people of the State have in waiting for somebody. The Griggs-Voorhees feud is more likely to grow in strength and virulence in the coming summer when the wire pulling at the county fairs and the sea-shore resorts begins. Voorhees is a power among the younger element of the party. In very truth it would not surprise many if that were the secret of the opposition to him. He loomed up as a probable obstacle in the slate making.

He had led the fight for the selection of his warm friend and colleague, Senator Stokes, as Secratary of State. When that effort failed and Stokes was turned down, Voorhees declined to keep up his spirit and activity. His outburst at Monday night's caucus was not the first intimation of his displeasure. He had showed on previous occasons that he was disappointed with the turn events had taken, particularly as he had played a somewhat conspicuous part in shaping up a course which he had calculated would be steered by the Republican ship of State. Now, the question arises:

What will Voorhees do?

Surely he will be needed in the campaign so rapidly approaching. He will remain a member of the Senate to vote for a successor to United States Senator for James Smith. He may again be a candidate for Governor.

Whatever happens Voorhees must be spelled with a big V and the prospects for smooth running for the great Republican machine are not over bright.

TO DINE AND HARMONIZE

UNION COUNTY DEMOCRATS LOVE FEAST NOW ASSURED.

The Event to Be Held at Elizabeth—Those at the Head of the Affair—James E. Martine to be a Prominent Speaker.

The proposed harmony dinner of the Union County Democrats, reported exclusively in The Press, is assured. A conference was held yesterday afternoon in a law office at Elizabeth to perfect arrangements.

Dr. Saenger, of Orange, son in-law of Freeman O. Willey, the author of the book, "The Way Out of the Wilderness," who ran for Congress unsuccessfully against Charles H. Fowler, came from Orange on his wheel to help the Union county men to push the thing along.

The leaders in the project are W. D. Wolfeskeil, State Committeeman, Dr. Saenger, who it is said is willing to be the next Congressional nominee; Jacob W. Sheppard who is being urged by his friends to run for Surrogate; Samuel Schluner, who is ambitious to be City Attorney; B. C. Harris, Fred Zior, the Tall Sycamore of Union county, former Fire Chief Oliver Conlon, late sergeant at-arms of Elizabeth District Court, who hired a band during the Bryan campaign; Assistant Prosecutor Frank H. Dunn, Joseph Mannifield, President of the Carpenters' Union; Lawyer James P. Powers, who tried to beat Foster Voorhees for State Senator, and Surveyor William J. Lansley, the chief promoter of the reunion.

Lansley has his heart set on being Elizabeth's next City Surveyor, and was manager of the Bryan and Sewall campaign in Union county.

James E Martine, of this city, the farmer orator, will be the chief speaker.

The list of other speakers will be announced later.

It is the intention of the promoters to have the dinner at Clark's Hotel the latter part of this month.

RAIN A MESSAGE TO STOP.

THE FETE CHAMPETRE POSTPONED FOR A WEEK.

Everything Was in Readiness for the Grand Affair But Inclement Weather Put a Damper on the Elaborate Plans.

The Fete Champetre has been postponed. The broad lawns of Johnston Park will not be the scene of life and gayety, this afternoon, as was expected. Instead all the preparations have come to a sudden halt and the Fete will wait over until next Saturday when the members of the Town Improvement Association intend to hold it if the weather permits.

The skies were watched by many anxious eyes all yesterday afternoon. When the storm of the early afternoon broke away and the blue sky appeared, everybody thought that fair weather was assured for the Fete, but again the dark clouds rolled up from over the mountain and just at the dinner hour the big drops of rain began to patter down in quick succession. Even then it was hoped that the Fete might come off successfully. The thought that the storm was to be of short duration was an unfounded one, and, at intervals, all through the night, the rain fell. This morning, the leaden skies and falling rain quickly decided the question of postponement and great posters were immediately posted all over the town telling that the Fete Champetre has been postponed until next Saturday.

While the promoters of this wonderful affair were greatly disappointed by the weather and the necessity of postponement, it will not make any real difference with the Fete itself. Nothing of a destructable character had been placed in position before the rain fell so there was nothing for the water to soil. In some cases, more time will enable those in charge to make it even better than was first planned and in no case will it tend to injure the Fete.

Junior Endeavorers Rally.

The Junior Christian Endeavor Society of the Congregational church held its last meeting of the season until fall, in the church at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The president, Miss May Serrell, led the meeting. The special musical programme included a quartette selection by Agnes La Boyteaex, Carrie Fuller, Harold Nomer and Edward Weseman, and a charming solo by little Miss Josphine Serrell. A collection was taken for foreign missions, and before adjournment the social committe announced that on next Saturday afternoon the society will go to Washington Rock on its annual picnic.

Out of the Justice's Jurisdiction.

The case against Louis Dunavan in the city court was dismissed by Judge DeMeza this morning, as he declared the case beyond his jurisdiction. It was a case for a justice's court, he said.

THE BOROUGH AFFAIRS.

COUNCILMEN AND MAYOR CONSIDER MANY IMPORTANT THINGS.

Fire and Police Departments Receive Considerable Attention—New Marshals Appointed—Appropriations Ordered Levied

A great deal of important business occupied the attention of the borough Council at the regular meeting held last evening, and all of the members were present to attend to it. The financial report of the borough clerk was as follows:

Borough balance, $1,608.23; fire department, $988.02; light, $1,980.65; roads, $895.05; poor deficit, $336.62; paid county and State, $3,443 36; total balance, $1,691.97. There was collected from fines, etc., $107.50. The following collections were reported by Tax Collector Spencer: 1896, $272.02; 1895, $95.05; 1894, $82.17; received from the County Clerk from liquor licenses, $712.50.

The West End Hose Company extended an invitation to the Council to attend an informal opening of the new house next Monday evening and the same was accepted.

The resignation of ex-Marshal Walter G. Smalley was received and accepted.

The Plainfield Ice and Cold Storage Company in a communication stated that their reservoir at Washingtonville was now about completed and they asked the Council to inspect the same. They desired that the Council try and arrange to be present when the company's engineer could be there.

The residents of Craig place petitioned for an electric light and asked that it be located at 19 Craig place. The matter was referred, with power. The taxpayers and property-owners of Sycamore avenue asked the Council to macadamize their street and stated that they would pay their share, $271 25, toward the work. Later the petition was granted, with the understanding that if the part already macadamized is not to the proper grade the property owners will make it so, and also pay 50 per cent. of the cost of doing the work. J. C. Peck petitioned for a culvert on Myrtle avenue, at the corner of Sycamore avenue, and the same was granted.

Mr. Woolston, in reporting for the street committee, stated that $294.60 had been expended on streets in the borough during the past month, and $1,095 80 had been spent on Somerset street. Of the latter amount one-third will be returned by the street railway company. Mr. Woolston also said that the work of laying sidewalks is progressing satisfactorily and that the Mayor had given valuable aid in this line.

Mr. Rogers offered several suggestions, which later took the form of resolutions, and were adopted. One was that carpenter work was needed at Warren Engine and West End Hose houses to the amount of $45. At the former place the stalls, ceilings and front doors needed repairing. Another suggestion was that at Fourth of July time several extra firemen would be required to do duty night and day and for the purpose $75 would be needed. Still another suggestion was that the supply of badges for the firemen was exhausted and more are in demand. He said that the most excellent chief of the department had suggested that the new badges be numbered from No. 1 upwards. To secure these badges would mean an expenditure of about $35. The last suggestions were that in accordance with custom the members of the West End Hose Company be presented with a sufficient number of chairs for their house, and that the necessary grading be done about their house. As above stated, resolutions were offered by Mr. Rogers covering all of the suggestions, and all were adopted.

Mr. Burtis offered an ordinance regulating the police department and the same was adopted on its second reading and laid over until the next meeting for final adoption. The same action was taken with another ordinance offered by Mr. Burtis which regulates the office of borough engineer. The former ordinance is chiefly a set of rules which in the main are the same as used in this city.

Mr. McLoughlin stated that the tax maps were about completed and he offered a resolution that the Mayor and clerk be authorized to draw a warrant for $600 which amount is to be used under the direction of the Streets and Public Health Committee for the payment of the maps.

At this time the Mayor appointed William Campbell and C. H. Graeder as night marshals and George Kliner as marshal to take the place of Marshal Smalley, resigned. The Mayor in making the appointments said that the borough was not sufficiently protected, and he felt as though the de-

THE CITY RESPONSIBLE?

CHARLES H. HAND REFUSES TO PAY TAXES UNDER MARTIN ACT.

He Makes Two Strong Points in His Own Favor—The Matter to be Referred Directly to Martin Act Commissioners.

In a mild way, Charles H. Hand, the well-known real-estate owner and operator, has got his dander up and does not propose to be mulcted by the city by paying taxes on a piece of property that, on the authority of the city's own tax officials, was said to be entirely clear of tax encumberances when he bought it. Among those properties that fall under the provisions of the Martin Act is the house and lot known as the Frazee property, at the corner of Watchung avenue and Second street, which Mr. Hand bought some years ago.

Mr. Hand argues that he has every point in his favor as against the enforcement of the Martin Act for the collection of $69, which is said to be due the city for taxes previous to 1880. He says that the property was once sold by Corporation Counsel Craig A. Marsh at a special master's sale and advertised and announced from a public place at the time of the sale as entirely clear of all encumberances, taxes or otherwise. Mr. Hand thinks that when the Court of Chancery guarantees the title of a piece of property sold under its authority that that is enough and the city is taking upon itself a good deal of responsibility in endeavoring to collect from an innocent purchaser an encumberance which the highest court of the State said did not exist.

Mr. Hand's second point is also a strong one. He insists that the city, the same as a private corporation, must be responsible for the acts and errors of its employes. There is no disputing the fact that all this trouble about delinquent taxes previous to 1880 being paid now by innocent parties, is clearly the fault of the tax officials during the period in which they accumulated. If the records had been kept properly there would have been no complications such as have arisen. Mr. Hand says, and it is the same with others, that when he sought information from the Tax Collector as to tax claims against the property in question, he was informed that none existed. If the Tax Collector, the city's recognized authority on such a matter, gave erroneous information, then it is the plain duty of the city to stand the costs of these errors, the same as would any responsible corporation. Numerous lawyers who accepted information from the Tax Collector in the same manner as Mr. Hand did, and then passed on the title of lands submitted for their approval by prospective purchasers, are also greatly interested in this last point raised by Mr. Hand. If the latter succeeds in having the city recognize the point as well taken, it will release them from the errors that will be charged up against their professional ability otherwise.

Mr. Hand made a statement to the committee on taxation at the Council meeting a few evenings ago, and they were so strongly impressed with the points made by him that it is their intention to refer his case directly to the Martin Act Commissioners. If Mr. Hand does not have the case adjusted without expense to him he says he will carry it to the State Board of Taxation.

Operation Was Imperative.

Miss Mary Kenney, aged twenty-one years, a resident of Spooner avenue, was taken to the hospital last evening about 11 o'clock suffering with septic peritonitis. It was learned that an operation was imperative and Drs. Long and B. VanD. Hedges performed the operation last night. It was successful and the patient is doing nicely.

Church Auditorium to School Rooms.

The work of converting the old Seventh-Day Baptist church edifice into a schoolhouse is to begin Monday. The plans have been filed with Building Inspector T. O. Doane and are approved by him. There are to be four rooms on the first floor and an entrance at either end. The second floor is not to be finished at present.

The Misses Pound, of West Front street, have purchaseed new wheels and have learned to ride.

EPWORTH LEAGUE ELECT

AND ARRANGE FOR THEIR NOVEL BICYCLE SOCIABLE.

Robert W. Davis Will be President For the Coming Year—The Bicycle Run Will be Held Next Tuesday Evening.

Tuesday evening, if the weather is pleasant, the cyclists of Chapter No. 1, of the Epworth League, at the First M. E. church, will inaugurate their plan of a bicycle sociable. Last evening, the League held its business meeting at which the final arrangements for the run were made.

The meeting was held in Vincent chapel and was the annual meeting, at which the officers for the ensuing year were elected. Reports of the retiring officers were made and told of the League and its flourishing condition at present.

It was decided to send a delegate to the international convention to be held at Toronto, on July 15th, and pay the expenses of the delegate. Announcement was made of the entertainment to be held in Vincent chapel on the evening of June 17th. The first part of the entertainment will consist of a miscellaneous programme including vocal and instrumental selections. The second part will consist of one of William Dean Howell's farces, "The Mouse Trap."

The election of officers was held with the following result: President, Robert W. Davis. first vice president, Miss Anna Smalley; second vice president, Miss Elsie Horne; third vice president, Miss Ada Angleman; fourth vice president, Miss Madiline Day; secretary, James A. Stafford; treasurer, David S. Dunavan.

There has been a movement among the members, as was exclusively told in the Press, to get up a bicycle run for some evening in the near future for the benefit of the members of the League and their friends. The question was discussed and found general favor with the members last evening. It was finally decided to have the run, or "bicycle sociable," on Tuesday evening of next week. There will be no regular organization with captain or lieutenants but the run will be under the chaperonage of Mr. and Mrs. James R. Joy. The start will be made form Vincent chapel at 7:30 o'clock on Tuesday evening.

RECEPTION AND MUSICALE.

William E. MacClymont's Pupils Had a Social and Musical Time.

The reception and musicale given by William E. MacClymont and pupils at Mr. MacClymont's residence, 73 Washington avenue, yesterday afternoon, from 4 to 7 o'clock, was in every particular a pleasing affair. The rooms were attractively decorated with palms chiefly.

The programme consisted of instrumental selections by some of Mr. MacClymont's best pupils, including Miss Lillian Nicholl, Miss Clara Van Fleet, Miss Beatrice Miner, Miss Ida M. Tallamy, Miss May Batchelor, Miss May Doane. Some of the selections rendered were Mr. MacClymont's compositions. "Rosalie" and "My Dream Lady," composed by Mr. MacClymont, were sung effectively by Robert M. Clark.

The house was thronged with friends of Mr. MacClymont and his pupils, there being fully three hundred present. Mrs. J. C. MacClymont, Mrs. William E. MacClymont and Miss Lillian Nicholl received the guests, and those who presided at the table while tea was served were Miss Josie Dally, Miss Lottie Dally, of New York; Miss Jennie E. Marlow, of Roselle; Mrs. Frank Jones, Miss Nora Williams, of North Plainfield. Miss Ida Shaefer, of Trenton, was among those entertained by Mr. and Mrs. MacClymont.

The pupils acquitted themselves with great credit to themselves and their teacher, and the guests were loud in their praise of the programme and its rendition.

MAKING WAY FOR THE TROLLEY.

Three Important Meetings to Consider Applications for Right of Way.

Next Tuesday night trolley matters will be considered by the Common Council at Bound Brook and a franchise will probably be granted to one of the companies, providing the certiorari proceedings are decided next Monday.

The Piscataway Township Committee will consider the ordinance of the Brunswick Traction Company on its third reading on Thursday, June 17th, when the Committee will meet at New Market.

The Raritan Township Committee will consider the local traction company's ordinance on Friday, June 18th.

Epworth League Parade Postponed.

The parade of the Junior Societies of Epworth League and Christian Endeavor, which was to have taken place next Tuesday, has been postponed until fall.

DUSKY FLATS EPISODE.

ITS COLORED DENIZENS AIR THEIR TROUBLES IN POLICE COURT.

Barber Champion and Mrs. Jackson Indulged in an Exchange of Compliments and Then Raced to See the City Judge.

Paradise Alley has a rival in the chase for notriety in the police court. "Dusky Flats," as that portion of Madison avenue in the vicinity of the old Alert Hose Company's house between Front and Second streets, has been called, is rapidly rising in reputation by the wonderful performances of its denizens.

Three passing colored characters from "Dusky Flats" lined up before the City Judge this morning on the charge of disturbing the neighborhood with their profane and indecent language. It is the belief of the people of that district that the first one to reach the Judge's office is the best, which will explain the race for that office yesterday.

There was trouble in the "Flats" between Albert Champion, who runs a barber shop and incidentally an intellegence office, and Mrs. Rosie Jackson and her daughter, Annabel, who is known to fame as "Mag" or "Bell." Champion is a little man, agile and spry. Mrs. Jackson has a ponderous form, and, like all large bodies, moves slowly. So it was the Champion who reached the Judge's office first and made a complaint against his neighbors.

The trial was exciting and grew more so as time flew by, for Rosie became excited and it took the combined efforts of her daughter, a friend and two officers to keep her quiet. Champion explained that he had been a good boy but that she had called him improper names. Rosie reciprocated and told how he had said very improper things to herself and daughter. Witnesses were sworn and added their testimony.

Anabel is the dusky belle of the flats and she immediately tried her blandishments on Roundsman Flynn, who administered the oath. The officer was not to be captured, however, and all her smiles were then turned on the court.

The Judge decided that Champion was guilty and fined him $10. Mrs. Jackson was also found guilty and fined $5, while the belle of the flats escaped with a reprimand.

TOO DRUNK TO REMEMBER.

But His Victim's Face Bore Evidence of the Assault.

Michael Welch had a forgetful mind when he appeared before City Judge DeMeza, this morning, charged with quarreling and fighting. He couldn't remember who struck the first blow. In fact, he could not remember whether any blow was struck or not, and his idea of the fight that followed was singularly indistinct and hazy.

John Sloan, the other prisoner, had very forcible rememberances of the affray as his face bore witness It was scratched and bitten, he said, by Welch. His story was that Welch who lives next door to him on West Third street rushed the growler all of last Monday morning and afternoon in company with a few friends and was soon fighting drunk. Sloan said that he was passing down the yard when Welch grew ugly in his actions and after a few words that Welch and his friend, Doyle, started for him. A lively scrap ensued in which Welch set his teeth in the side of Sloan's face and used his finger nails with dire effect on Sloan's cheek. Sloan's statements were substantiated by his witnesses.

Welch admitted that there would have been no trouble if he had not been drinking but could remember nothing, he was so drunk, he explained.

The Judge declared Sloan not guilty and discharged him. He was well represented in the case by ex-Judge W. A. Coddington. Welch was fined $10.

LOST A COLLECTION OF A LIFE TIME.

L. E. Howard Suffer $3,000 Loss by an Explosion of an Oil Stove.

L. E. Howard suffered a severe loss by fire at the Peek-a-mose Club ground in Ulster county, New York, a week ago Thursday, when his private studio was laid in ashes, with its valuable contents, by the explosion of an oil stove. Mr. Howard had gone to the club grounds three weeks ago to spend the summer there. Though the building was a small one and of little value itself, the contents, including all the mementos, curios, hunting outfits, etc., of a personal nature, were destroyed. A valuable diamond stud, a gold and aluminum nugget chain, and a gold match box set with diamonds. Mr. Howard estimates his loss at $3,000. His many Plainfield friends will regret to hear of the loss, which it will be impossible to replace, as the articles were the collection of a life time.

TROOPS FIRE ON MOB

In Protecting a Prisoner From Violence Several Are Killed.

THE URBANA LYNCHING EPISODE.

After Being Repulsed by the Soldiers the Crowd Rallies and Captures the Prisoner and Hang Him to a Tree In the Jailyard.

Urbana, O., June 5.—Four men were killed and 10 wounded by shots fired by a company of the Ohio national guard in defense of Charles Mitchell, in jail at this place on the charge of assaulting a woman. In spite of the militia the mob finally entered the jail and lynched the prisoner. All of the victims were innocent citizens, who were spectators of the scene of excitement. In addition to this list it is feared that Mrs. Eliza Gaumer, who was assaulted by the negro, will not recover, and several of the injured are in a serious condition. There is intense feeling against some of the officials, and further complications are apprehended.

One week ago Mrs. Eliza Gaumer was assaulted by Mitchell at her home in this city, near the courthouse.

The negro was first held for robbery, but on last Wednesday was arraigned for criminal assault. Mrs. Gaumer was unable to appear in court, and the hearing was held at her home. As Mitchell entered her room she exclaimed: "The brute, hang him! How dare you face me again, you brute!"

Threats of Lynching.

Soon after the identification Wednesday at Mrs. Gaumer's home there was talk of lynching. Crowds surrounded the jail that night, and the sheriff and the local militia had trouble in protecting the prisoner. Thursday a grand jury was impaneled, and it soon returned an indictment for criminal assault. Mitchell, disguised in a soldier's uniform, was brought from jail into court. He waived the reading of the indictment, pleaded guilty and was promptly sentenced to 20 years in the penitentiary, the maximum punishment for his crime. An attempt was made to take Mitchell to Columbus, but the crowds which had gathered about the courthouse made a rush for the jail when the wagon drew up. The militia drove them back, but the mob increased in numbers and grew more threatening. Sheriff McLean and the troops had all they could do to hold the jail, and the trip to Columbus was given up before the departure of the last train.

In the meantime crowds had also surrounded the depots so as to make sure their man should not be taken away. As the night wore on the mob increased, and the shouts and murmurings indicated that it was in dead earnest. Inside of the jail, the sheriff and his deputies and one company of militia were posted to the best advantage, for it was apparent that grim work would be necessary to protect the wretch who cowered in his cell as the angry roar of the mob surged and rose on the air.

Early yesterday morning an attack was made on the jail, and the military began firing. Over 20 volleys were poured into the crowd. The mob was repulsed, leaving four killed and 10 wounded. The range was close, but the soldiers fired wildly. Of the killed and wounded, nearly all were on the outskirts of the mass of men. Those immediately in a direct line of fire escaped. The volley drove the crowd back a little way, and it was found that two men, named Higgins and Bell, had been instantly killed. When their bodies were picked up in the courthouse square, it made the crowd furious.

Second Attempt Successful.

After the dead and wounded were cared for the crowd rallied and made a second and this time successful attempt to capture the prisoner. The local militia had been on duty two nights, and they did no more shooting. The mob then broke for the jail. No force was needed, as Sheriff McLean delivered the keys, and the crowd soon found Mitchell's cell. Throwing a rope over the trembling wretch's head, he was dragged out, receiving some kicks and blows. When the outer door was reached, the noose slipped off, and Sylvester Zimmerman tied it so securely as to receive the cheers of the crowd. The rope was thrown over one of the limbs of a tree in the courthouse yard, Mitchell was jerked up until his head struck the limb and his neck was broken, and then his body dropped to the ground. The crowd repeated the jerking several times until they were sure he was dead. While the body of Mitchell was lying on the ground hundreds crowded about to see it. The colored people were greatly excited. They had previously met and adopted resolutions for the punishment of Mitchell, but many of them offered the opinion that he was not guilty. Women and children, as well as a multitude of men, witnessed the lynching, which occurred in broad daylight. There was no attempt at disguise or secrecy.

Governor Bushnell has arrived here to investigate the trouble and especially the action of the troops. Governor Bushnell was attending an encampment at Wooster and was met by a delegation from here on his return to Columbus. These citizens of Urbana asked for protection by troops for Sheriff McLean, against whose life threats had been freely made, and if he was now here it is believed that there would be serious trouble. Sheriff McLean is now in Dayton. He escaped by the back door of the jail and claims that dynamite was being prepared to blow him up. In the excitement and bitterness that prevails it is almost impossible to get at the facts as to the responsibility for the loss of life, but it is generally claimed that Sheriff McLean ordered the troops to fire.

It is believed that there will be a thorough investigation into the action of the mayor, as well as that of the sheriff and military officers.

Mrs. Gaumer, the victim of the lynched negro, is the widow of a well known newspaper publisher. Her brothers-in-law are D. H. Gaumer, publisher of the Zanesville Signal and an ex-state senator, and C. N. Gaumer, formerly publisher of the Mansfield Shield and an ex-state representative.

A STRIKE INQUIRY.

Administration Has Sent Agents to Investigate the Matter.

ASK ABOUT IMMIGRANTS ESPECIALLY

It Is Alleged by the Inspectors That the Unrestricted Influx of Polish and Russian Hebrews Cause the Trouble.

New York, June 5.—The administration at Washington has sent agents to this city under special directions from Secretary of the Treasury Gage to investigate the tailors' strike.

One of the investigators is the chief factory inspector of Pennsylvania, and another is Samuel N. Marks of this city.

They called upon Leader Schoenfeld and asked him for an explanation of the strike, what brought it about, etc., but it is understood that Schoenfeld would give no answer.

The investigators have also made inquiries at the United Hebrew charities and attended a meeting of the strikers on Tuesday night at Cooper Union.

Inspectors Marks and Watchhorn of the immigration bureau have been busy interviewing the striking tailors and the manufacturers and contractors who gave them employment. The inspectors have been engaged on the work since last Monday at the instance of the senate committee on immigration.

The committee is anxious to learn just what part the influx of immigrants plays in the existing labor difficulties and with that end in view the committee sought the assistance of Secretary Gage, who detailed two inspectors to look the matter up among the tailors in this city.

Inspectors Busy.

Since Monday last the inspectors have been at work among the striking tailors. Yesterday they began with the manufacturers and contractors and also called on the local factory inspectors.

They visited the establishment of Alfred Benjamin & Co. at 53 Lafayette place, one of the largest clothing manufacturing concerns in the country.

Marks and Watchhorn have gone into the subject most thoroughly. In talking to the members of the firm of Benjamin & Co. they learned that the manufacturers thought a restriction of immigration would be a good thing.

While in the office of Benjamin & Co the inspectors said that the striking tailors lay the source of their trouble to the unrestricted immigration of Polish and Russian Hebrews.

The strikers favor a restriction of immigration, so the inspectors said.

Cloakmakers' Impending Strike.

The impending strike of the cloakmakers has caused some excitement in that trade. Secretary Marcus O. Braff of the United Brotherhood of Cloakmakers of New York and vicinity said that there are over 5,000 men in that organization, and hundreds have applied for membership. He expects that unless the manufacturers grant living wages 10,000 cloakmakers will strike before the expiration of this month.

Every wholesale cloak manufacturer in this city has received a circular from the United Brotherhood of Cloakmakers requesting the former to co-operate with the latter in crowding the small east side manufacturers out of existence.

Pursuant to this request, Daniel Richman, president of the Cloak Manufacturers' association, met Secretary Braff and two other members of the United Brotherhood and promised to take the matter into consideration and if he found the plan practicable lay it before his association. He was to have given the Brotherhood his answer by May 25 but failed to do so.

The plan suggested by the Brotherhood was to get the co-operation of the big manufacturers in compelling every cloakmaker to join the Brotherhood.

Charitable Bequests.

Troy, N. Y., June 5.—The will of Lewis E. Gurley will be presented for probate Tuesday. The estimated value of the estate is $300,000. Among the bequests are $5,000 to the American Baptist Missionary union, $3,000 to the Hudson River Baptist association, and $5,000 to the American Baptist Home Missionary society. The Fifth Avenue and South Baptist churches, Rensselaer Polytechnic institute, Troy Orphan asylum, Mohawk and Hudson Humane society and Troy Young Men's association receive generous gifts.

Old Newspaper Man Dead.

Indianapolis, June 5.—William F. Clark, Sr., is dead. He was supposed to be the newspaper worker and editor of longest continuous service in the country. With the exception of three years, he had been identified with the press since his fourteenth year and was 88 years old. His house at Mercer, Pa., was formerly a station on the "underground railway" that took negroes to Canada.

Looking at the price of the Harrison Town&Country Ready Mixed Paint by the gallon —there are plenty of mixtures on the market that can discount it. But by the job—there is no competition. A paint that will cover 300 square feet on a poor surface two coats per gallon, and stand all climatic changes, can afford to ignore the so-called cheap brands which spread and wither under the brush, although they have the weight of adulterants in the can. No better opportunity to deceive is offered for the unscrupulous than in Ready-Mixed Paint. A Valuable Prescription.

Editor Morrison, of Worthington, Ind., "Sun," writes: "You have a valuable prescription in Electric Bitters, and I can cheerfully recommend it for Constipation and Sick Headache and as a general system tonic it has no equal." Mrs. Annie Stehle, 2025 Cottage Grove Ave., Chicago, was all run down, could not eat nor digest food, had a back ache which never left her and felt tired and weary, but six bottles of Electric Bitters restored her health and renewed her strength. Prices 50c and $1. Get a bottle at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Miss Ethel Staples, of Brooklyn, is the guest of her friend, Miss Lucie Palmer Davis, of East Fifth street.

Mr. Isaac Horner, proprietor of the Burton House, Burton, W. V., and one of the most widely known men in the state was cured of rheumatism after three years of suffering. He says: "I have not sufficient command of language to convey any idea of what I suffered, my physicians told me that nothing could be done for me and my friends were fully convinced that nothing but death would relieve me of my suffering. In June 1894, Mr. Evens, then salesman for the Wheeling Drug Co., recommended Chamberlain's Pain Balm. At this time my foot and limb were swollen to more than double their normal size and it seemed to me my leg would burst, but soon after I began using the Pain Balm the swelling began to decrease, the pain to leave, and now I consider that I am entirely cured." For sale by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

MAGOWAN'S PROPERTY.

Continuation of Its Sale at His Residence In Trenton.

Trenton, June 5.—The sale of the personal property of ex-Mayor Frank A. Magowan was continued, and the sale was closed with the exception of a lot of wine and bric-a-brac. The wine is claimed by other parties under a bill of sale and the bric-a-brac, Magowan says belongs to his wife, Mrs. Barnes. The furniture in the house, which was put in at a cost of $50,000, was sold for $5,700.

The furniture was all bought by two or three persons, who are understood to have been bidding in the interests of Senator Skirm, the principal judgment creditor. Magowan was present at the sale all day and made several efforts to stop it.

Mrs. Barnes offered her jewelry. This led to the story that the furniture was being bought in for her.

Mr. and Mrs. Magowan still occupy the house. The furniture has not yet been removed, and it is the belief that Senator Skirm will permit them to use it for the present.

DISHONEST BANK TELLER.

Confesses His Crime and Exonerates an Alleged Accomplice.

St. Paul, June 5.—Charles R. Zchau, the receiving teller of the German American National bank, who has confessed to stealing the package of $13,600 on last Saturday, has added to that confession the further statement that during his connection with the bank he has taken at least $9,700 more.

Upon one occasion he stole a package of $6,000, and there has also been traced to him the disappearance of $3,700 more. He admits all this and declares that he will throw himself on the mercy of the court.

Zchau insists that the man Jackson arrested as an accomplice had no connection with the crime, explaining that he hired a stranger to take the package away for him. It is thought the full confession has not yet been made.

ORDERED TO SETTLE UP.

The Boston Loan and Trust Company Must Pay Depositors In Full.

Boston, June 5.—In the Suffolk supreme court Judge Holmes has ordered that, upon the depositors of the Union Loan and Trust company being paid in full, the temporary receivership of the company be discharged and that its remaining property and affairs be turned over to its stockholders. This order does not, however, give the company the right to resume business.

The capital stock of the company is $100,000, and its president was W. A. Clark, Jr. It was placed into the hands of Congressman McCall as receiver on Oct. 9 last. Presently it has $30,000 in cash, has time loans amounting to $107,000 and call loans amounting to $24,920 outstanding and overdue.

MESSAGE OF THE CZAR

Sent to the Sultan After the Fall of Domokos.

MASS FOR VOLUNTEERS IN ATHENS.

Conditions of the Sea Armistice—Germany Said to Advocate Turkish Evacuation of Thessaly—Greece Advised to Accept Turkey's Demand.

Constantinople, June 5.—The following is the text of the telegram sent by the Emperor Nicholas to the sultan on May 17, after the fall of Domokos:

"Your majesty will not be surprised if our relations of sincere friendship and neighborly feeling induce me to appeal to your noblest sentiments and inspire me with the firm hope that you will not fail to crown the success achieved by your valiant armies in heroic struggle by a faithful adherence to the moderate and pacific intentions which your majesty proclaimed at the beginning of the war.

"By concluding an armistice and by a favorable reception of the mediation of the powers your majesty would acquire a fresh title to the high esteem you now enjoy and would accomplish an act of profound wisdom, an act which I personally should always retain in remembrance.

"I beg your majesty to believe in my unchanging friendship."

Russian Minister Expresses Sympathy.

London, June 5.—It is officially stated that Count Muravieff, the Russian foreign minister, has expressed to the Greek minister at St. Petersburg his personal sympathy and his hope that Greece will be able to save the harvest in Thessaly.

It is also understood that Germany now advocates the Turkish evacuation of Thessaly, provided Greece gives a satisfactory guarantee of payment of the indemnity.

But there is still every indication that Turkey means to remain in Thessaly. Several Turkish officials, accompanied by their harems, have arrived in Thessaly from Constantinople. Edhem Pasha has ordered granaries to be prepared for the storage of the harvest and is using every inducement to get the peasants to return and accept Turkish rule.

The powers have advised Greece to accept Turkey's demand and to raise the blockade. Greece in return insists upon some guarantee that Turkey will keep her promise not to land munitions of war. It is therefore still uncertain whether the armistice difficulty will be settled.

It is reported from Constantinople that the peace preliminaries have been agreed to, but this probably means that the embassadors have been invited to submit drafts of details.

Mass Said In Athens.

Athens, June 5.—A requiem mass was celebrated in the Catholic church here for the repose of the souls of the foreign volunteers killed during the war with Turkey. A magnificent catafalque, upon which was a sarcophagus enveloped with Greek flags and palms, occupied the center of the aisle near the main altar. The sarcophagus was surmounted by the sword of the Italian, Santa Rosa, who fought during the war of Greek independence. All the ministers and many members of the diplomatic corps were present, in addition to an enormous gathering of Garibaldians and other foreign volunteers, who also furnished a guard of honor for the occasion.

Conditions of Sea Armistice.

Athens, June 5.—The cabinet decided to sign a sea armistice on the following conditions:

The Greek fleet will quit Ottoman waters; vessels under Turkish or neutral flags bound to or returning from Turkish ports and vessels north of the armistice line will not be examined; vessels carrying troops and munitions for the Turkish army will not be allowed to enter ports north of the line; the Turkish fleet must not leave the Dardanelles; the dispatch of re-enforcements to garrison towns in the archipelago is prohibited.

Indians to Visit the President.

Tahlequah, I. T., June 5.—A delegation of full blood Cherokee Indians have left for Washington, where they hope to protest to President McKinley against the changes proposed in the Indian Territory. Claiming to represent 12,000 full blood Cherokees, they will ask the president not to sign the Indian appropriation bill, which carries some of the obnoxious measures. They will also protest against the proposed Dawes treaty.

Suicide by Hanging.

Lockport, N. Y., June 5.—Lawrence Hammer, a German, about 33 years of age, employed in a glass factory in this city, committed suicide. Hammer was tramping clay in a bin in what is known as the pothouse. Hanging from the rafters in this building were three noosed ropes, by which the workmen supported themselves while at work, and there he was discovered hanging. No cause is assigned for the act.

Indians Reported Quiet.

Washington, June 5.—A telegram from Captain Stouch at the Tongue River agency was received at the Indian office, stating the Indians are now quiet. He adds that the Indian under arrest for murder will be escorted today by military to the Rosebud agency and delivered to the sheriff.

Free Sons of Israel.

New York, June 5.—It is announced that the national convention of the Independent Order Free Sons of Israel, which meets every five years, will take place at the Auditorium hotel, Chicago, Sunday, June 13. This institution has expended $5,000,000 for charitable work.

Warden Allowed to Make Purchases.

Albany, June 5.—In response to a communication from Warden Sage of Sing Sing, the attorney general holds that the warden can purchase "scrapers" to equip the street brooms which he is manufacturing for the New York street cleaning department.

Distillery Company Assigns.

Owensboro, Ky., June 5.—The M. V. Monarch company, a distillery corporation, has assigned to J. A. Lyddane. Liabilities $100,000; assets, $50,000.

At 2 o'Clock the Thermometer at Leggett's Pharmacy Registered 82 Degrees.

WEATHER ILL LUCK.

In recent years there has scarcely been an effort made in Plainfield for a celebration of an outdoor event of a public nature that the scheduled plans have not been enjoined by a rainfall of volume sufficient to either cause a postponement or an utter abandonment. The announcement that the Fete Champetre will not take place today on account of the inclemency of the weather is simply a continuation of the weather ill luck characteristic of this community. But, profiting by the experience of others, the women of the Town Improvement Association considered this weather problem, and announced that in the event of a display of the elements the Fete would be held next Saturday, and so it will—unless rain again puts on a damper. And the week that follows will doubtless be improved by the women to make the Fete greater and grander than, perhaps, it would have been today.

HIS FAME WANES.

Notwithstanding the fact that Congressman Fowler presumes to keep the newspapers of New Jersey well acquainted with his part in the National Legislature, by frequent distribution of documents in which his name is the principal thing that greets the eye on the title page, a Burlington county editor has erred greviously by referring to the rotound Union county statesman as Mr. Flower. Down in the 'Port the Congressman may sometimes be referred to as a "peach," but to be spoken of as a perfumed and spectacular plant growth is an appellation hardly expected.

MONEY WELL SPENT.

The Somerset county Board of Freeholders expend annually over $2,000 for advertising, printing and stationery, and this is distributed about even among the five weekly papers in the county. For publishing the County Collector's annual statement, which fills 23 columns of space, the county pays $700 to five newspapers, which is about half the legal rate for such advertising. This money is wisely expended, for it shows the taxpayers where every dollar of their money goes.—New Brunswick Home News.

TO NORWAY AND SWEDEN.

A. V. D. Honeyman Arranging a Trip That Will Be Full of Delight.

The Honeyman party for Norway and Sweden sails June 30th by the Red Star Line S. S. "Kensington." Mr. Honeyman states that his party this year will be smaller than usual, but that it will be over new ground and, in many respects, more interesting than any foreign tour he has ever made.

The party will land at Antwerp, spend the Sabbath there and a day beside, then immediately cross over to England and make a coaching trip for five days in the heart of the Shakespeare country, covering parts of four of the central counties of England. After a brief stay in London, and a stop at Lincoln to see the marvelous old cathedral there, they go over from Hull to Bergen, Norway, and from there make a delightful journey of four hundred miles over Norwegian fjords, reaching Trondhjem as the most northerly point in Norway; a place where in July there is no night. Then they proceed by rail overland through Norway to its capital and across Sweden to Stockholm, to see the Swedish Exposition. From Stockholm the tour is over to Finland and St. Petersburg, with sufficient time at the latter place for a flying trip to Moscow. Returning to Stockholm, the party will go on a three days' trip through the Swedish lakes and Gotha Canal, which is spoken of as one of the most attractive things in the world, and will then visit Copenhagen, Denmark; from there to Holland, making stops at Amsterdam and the Hague; and then down through Belgium to Antwerp, whence they sail home on the "Friesland," August 21st.

Mr. Honeyman states that he has one room for four more, two ladies and two gentlemen.

Mayor Wilson Wants No Rubbish.

Mayor Wilson, of the borough, is determined to prevent Plainfield persons from coming to the borough with their rubbish and leaving it there, and measures to carry such orders into effect have been taken.

—The Burlington County Board of Assessors has decided to make a general reduction in the assessed value of farm lands this year.

—The fines collected thus far by Recorder Thomas, of the borough, amount to more than half of the whole amount received last year.

—George L. VanEmburgh will lead the meeting at the East Third Street mission tomorrow evening. The music will be a feature of the service.

—The Christian Endeavorers of the Church of Christ will have their June business meeting, Tuesday evening next, after which a social time will be enjoyed.

—Next Tuesday evening the Rebekah Degree Lodge will hold an entertainment in the Salvation Army Hall. A programme of unusual excellence is being prepared for the event.

—The new marshals appointed last evening by Mayor Wilson will go on duty as soon as the new uniforms arrive. George Kliner is now doing duty, having taken ex Marshal Smalley's place.

—The first dog captured by the borough dog-catcher was one owned by Rudolph Spiegel. The canine's name is "Monkey," and Mr. Spiegel prizes him very much, and quickly redeemed him.

—Plainfield women all say that they can get anything they want at Woodhull & Martin's, and at prices to suit. There is no doubt but what the stock of dry and fancy goods kept at the above place are of the kind to please.

—A class of fifty-three seekers for the title of attorney underwent the examination ordeal at Trenton yesterday. In the class was Mrs. R. Storr Kehler, of Camden, who will be New Jersey's second woman lawyer if she passes.

—The alleged assailants of James Keachin, of Rahway, Bernard Crahan, William Stoll and Edward Dunphy, will all be placed on trial Monday in the Union County Court at Elizabeth. They will be defended by former County Attorney Clarence Ward.

—The strawberry crop in South Jersey is unusually large, and as fair prices are being realized, the Farmers' Alliance of Landis township gave a hop and strawberry festival in their large building adjoining the shipping depot at Vineland, on Wednesday evening.

—The members of the Mt. Olive Baptist church and Sunday-school will not join the First Baptist church and Sunday-school this year on their annual excursion to Asbury Park. It has been arranged that the former take another day and they will probably go to Neshanic.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. partment should be increased. The action met with the approbation of the members of the council, and the new marshals were confirmed. In connection with this Mr. Carey offered a resolution to the effect that the collector and assessor be instructed to secure that amount of money. This amount is inclusive of the amount voted at the last election and is as follows: Lights, $5,000; police, $3,300; fire department, $1,800; streets, $3,250; poor, $1,500; water, $1,200; bonds, $675; Watchung avenue bonds, interest, $1 700; incidentals, $1,025.

Mr. McLoughlin offered a resolution that a book of records be purchased for the clerk as it is very much needed A resolution offered by Mr. Rogers confirmed the election of officers chosen in the fire department sometime ago, and another resolution by the same councilman provided for the grading about West End Hose house. The work will be done under the direction of the street committee.

Two resolutions were presented by Mr. Schutt. One was that a loan of $1 500 be secured and charged to the borough account, and the other was that the action of Collector Spencer in paying the monthly pay roll, $294 60, be confirmed. There being no further business the meeting adjourned.

Funeral of Mrs. Marfenz.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Marfenz was held yesterday from the house on West Third street, and Rev. H. J. Johnston officiated. The remarks by Mr. Johnston were especially helpful to the bereaved ones. The deceased's husband is an employe of the street railway, and Superintendent Adeleman together with all of employes who were not on duty, attended the funeral in a body. The following employes of the street railway served as pallbearers: William Brown, Martin Lantz, Frank Blatch and Edward Hoppock. Interment was made in Newark yesterday afternoon.

NEWS OF THE SUBURBS.

THINGS THAT INTEREST SCOTCH PLAINS AND DUNELLEN.

DUNELLEN AND NEW MARKET.

An infant child of Dr. and Mrs. Whitford died yesterday after a short illness.

The case of Hayes against Messerole was settled yesterday by the parties interested.

Mr. Craig is making some noted improvements about his very handsome residence.

C. W. Johnson is in Albany, N. Y., on business. He will return home the first of next week.

Mr. Currin has returned from a short trip to Philadelphia, where he was the guest of friends.

Mrs. Oakley and children, of New Brunswick, have returned home after a pleasant visit with relatives in town.

The Ladies' Orchestra, of the Schubert Club, furnished some excellent music at the school children's picnic yesterday.

On Flag Day, June 14th, a number of Dunellen people will go to Boynton Beach where the day will be celebrated on a large scale.

Lawyer Hayes has a trotter, "Ryland Tea," which has a record of 2:08. Every fine day Mr. Hayes can be seen out on the road enjoying a ride.

The school children are rehearsing every day for the exercises to be held in connection with commencement, and the programme this year promises to exceed that of previous years.

The celebrated Tingley re-union will be held this year as usual on the Blackford farm, South Plainfield, Wednesday, August 25th. It is expected that the attendance this year will be very large.

Miss Helen Coriell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Abner S. Coriell, and Clarence White, of Red Bank, will be married in the Presbyterian church on Wednesday evening, June 16. It will be a large and fashionable wedding.

Unfortunately the rain yesterday interfered with the picnic held on the Mahlon Vail farm, and in consequence the exercises were not concluded. There were, however, several excellent addresses, and the part taken by the children was enjoyed by all.

A meeting of the Dunellen Gun Club was held Thursday evening in the office of Alvah Gray, when the members discussed the advisability of joining the State League. Alvah Randolph and Whit. Randolph were appointed a committee to meet with a committee from the State League and to ascertain some important facts in connection with joining. The committee was given the power to enter the Dunellen Club if they thought best. The committee will report at a later meeting. The Dunellen Club is one of the strongest in this section and their twelve men team is noted for victories.

SCOTCH PLAINS.

Henry Kuehne has purchased a new Metropolitan bicycle.

A union service will be held in the Baptist church tomorrow evening. Rev. G. H. Winans, of the Methodist church, will preach.

Justice Clark is arranging a fishing excursion to Echo Lake, next week. Land locked salmon is the game that the fishermen will seek.

Miss Anna D. Cooper, of the New York School of Expression, will give a recital at the school hall, Monday evening. Miss Carrie Dawes, a child singer of much talent, will render selections.

Complaint has been made to Justice Clark against certain boys in Fanwood borough, who make a practice of robbing birds' nests. Several warnings have been given the lads, and if their offence is repeated, they will be punished severely.

Much dissatisfaction is expressed by citizens of Scotch Plains and Fanwood at the poor street lighting service given by the Electric Light Company. For some evenings past a large part of the lamps have been totally out, and the remaining ones have burned very dimly.

WESTFIELD

THIEVES AT BACK DOOR

RESIDENCE OF J. S. IRVING VISITED THURSDAY NIGHT.

Family Were Aroused and Burglars Skipped Without Booty—Township Committee Discusses Police Protection—Other Items.

The house of J. S. Irving, on Prospect street, received a visit on Thursday night from the burglars who are terrorizing the town. The family retired at about half-past ten, after securely fastening the house. They either did not sleep soundly or the nocturnal visitors made a great deal of noise, for between 11 and 12 o'clock Mr. Irving was awakened by the noise of someone attempting to force open the kitchen door. He aroused his son-in-law, C. W. Crooks, the famous base-ball and foot ball player, who went at once to investigate. Although Crooks approached the door quietly in the hope of making a capture, the men on the outside heard his movements, and skurried off in the darkness. It is probably well for the cracksmen that they did not come to a personal encounter with Crooks, as he is one of the best all-round athletes in the town, and a man of very large stature.

The question of police protection was discussed by the Westfield Township Committe at its meeting, last evening. Committeeman Embree suggested having a constable or two appointed on night duty in the business portion of the town. Mr. Cohen was present, and objected as usual. He questioned the power of the Committee to arrange for special protection without first getting a special appropriation voted for the purpose. He was informed that the Committee has power to appoint to special duty any of the regular constables, and to pay for such extra services out of the money appropriated for township expenses. No definite action was taken upon the matter, however. Bids were received for furnishing the township with 2,000 tons of crushed stone. The contract was awarded to H. D. C. Richard, of Scotch Plains, his price being $1 per ton delivered upon the roads. A communication from Frank W. Morse, superintendent of the Garwood Land Improvement Company, complaining of the condition of roads near Garwood, was referred to the superintendent of roads, with instructions that he inspect the roads in question and report to the Committee. A number of property owners sent communications stating in what manner they wished to pay sewer assessments. The Township Clerk read a communication to Engineer Dunham written in 1894 by Frank Bergen on behalf of the Union Water Company, in which the price for water to flush the Westfield sewers is given as ten cents per 1,000 gallons, making a cost of 36 cents a day for the amount used by Westfield. The clerk was ordered to purchase lockup keys and handcuffs for the use of Constable E. W. Chamberlain. Mr. Embree reported that the Suburban Electric Light Company will erect the new street lights on Highland and North avenues next week. Bills amounting to $282 52 were ordered paid. The township treasurer was authorized to issue a note of $2,000 for two months on school account, and to replace the note for $10,000 on sewer account, coming due the 15th, with one for $5,500, reducing the sewer debt $4,500. The question of issuance of $30,000 of sewer bonds was raised by the township treasurer, who reported the total cost of the sewer system to be $87,839, which is $30,000 in excess of the amount raised by assessment. It is this additional $30,000 which the committee are to convert into a bonded debt. The law requires that these bonds cannot be issued for a period longer that than 30 years, that they must not bear interest larger than 6 per cent, and must be sold at par. The committee will meet again next Thursday evening, to talk over the question of bonds. Property owners are invited to attend this meeting and express their views upon the subject to the committee.

A. V. Lightbourne has returned from Sheepshead Bay, L. I.

George Sandt, a former resident of this place, is spending a few days in town.

George T. Crittenden, of Brooklyn, visited friends in this place yesterday.

Children's Day exercises will be held in the Willow Grove Sunday-school tomorrow.

Mrs. Elizabeth Vreeland has returned from a two week's visit with friends in Rahway.

William Shannon, of New York city, has been the guest of Westfield friends this week.

Mrs. T. R. Harvey returned yesterday from a visit with her parents in Newfoundland, Pa.

Rev. George A. Francis will preach the baccalaureate sermon to the High School graduates this year.

Harry M. Evans will lead the Christian Endeavor prayer meeting in the Congregational church tomorrow evening.

Rev. William H. Ruth will preach a memorial sermon to members of the G. A. R., in the Methodist church tomorrow evening.

The property of Stratford & Hawkes, the sewer contractors, has been attached to satisfy a judgment of Nichola Orchetti.

A meeting will be held at the Westfield Club hall this evening for the purpose of organizing a citizens' vigilance committee.

A writ of attachment has been issued by Justice Collins against the goods and chattels of Louis Dor, to satisfy a judgment held by Nicola Sarviro.

The Woman's Association of the Congregational church will meet at the residence of Mrs. J. F. Cowperthwaite, on Prospect street, Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

A complimentary piano recital will be given by the pupils of Miss Ella Ferris in the Methodist Episcopal church, next Friday evening. Admission will be by ticket only.

Mrs. Nellie Hale suffered the loss of a valuable bicyle, which she left at the Bard Cycle Company, on Wednesday, for repairs. The wheel was destroyed with the other stock in Thursday morning's fire.

Herbert E. Neddaugh, aged 35 years, a painter, of Elizabeth, died in the Elizabeth General Hospital yesterday afternoon, from injuries received by falling in front of a trolley car in that city Wednesday morning. Neddaugh, with some companions, had been attending a picnic, and while returning home about 2 o'clock a. m. attempted to board a trolley car. He stood too near and was struck by the car and thrown some distance, receiving internal injuries, which ended in his death.

The Westfield Board of Health held a meeting last evening and received a number of bids for cleaning out the brook, from Lawrence avenue to First street. It was considered by the Board that the bids were all too low to secure a proper execution of the work, and a new lot of bids will be called for, with specifications showing in what manner the work will be done. Superintendent of Roads Connolly was instructed to clean up the dumping grounds on Addison street, about which several complaints have lately been made. C. A. Smith was ordered to abate a nuisance which exists in connection with the property occupied by him on Spring street.

THE AMERICAN QUEEN COMPETITION.

A Columbia FREE!!

A lady's Columbia Bicycle, 1897 Model, will be given to the winner in THE AMERICAN QUEEN competition, which will be open to all the subscribers to THE AMERICAN QUEEN until June 30, 1897.

The Columbia, the standard bicycle of the world, has been selected for this competition, because the publishers of THE AMERICAN QUEEN are convinced that it is the best and that the woman who wins it would have it in preference to any other make.

The Columbia is now on exhibition at our store and will remain on exhibition until June 30th, when the competition will close and the Columbia will be awarded to the fortunate winner.

The contest which we have just inaugurated, by or through which some subscriber to THE AMERICAN QUEEN is going to win a fine, high-grade $100 Columbia Bicycle, is already well under way. The contest will remain open until June 30 1897. The conditions and plan of this contest are simply these: We purpose presenting a Columbia Bicycle, 1897 Model, to the lady subscriber who furnishes the best menu, for one week, for a family of five, the cost of such menu not to exceed $10 for the week.

The merits of the menus submitted will be passed upon by the Editor of THE AMERICAN QUEEN, Miss Mary L. Bisland, and the person furnishing the best menu, in Miss Bisland's judgment, will be presented with the bicycle.

The menu submitted should be enclosed in one envelope and the name of the sender in a separate one, the two being handed in or sent in together, addressed to us. The envelopes containing the menus will then be numbered and sent to Miss Bisland and the envelopes containing the names reserved by us, and when Miss Bisland makes her choice of the menus she will inform us of the number of the winner and we will then announce the result in local newspapers and THE AMERICAN QUEEN.

The only requirement necessary to admit you to this contest is that you be a subscriber to THE AMERICAN QUEEN.

The splendid wheel which will go to the winner is on exhibition in the store and may be seen at any time.

We want everybody to feel free to go into this contest and we hope that hundreds of our customers will fix their minds on good things to eat and mould them into an acceptable menu for the week, and at the same time keep the cost down to $10.

THE COMPETITION.—Our aim in offering this competition is to have every lady we can reach with this announcement become a reader of THE AMERICAN QUEEN. THE QUEEN is published at $1 a year, but to give all our friends a chance to get this splendidly useful home publication for the ensuing year and at the same time have a chance to become the proud possessor of the standard cycle, we shall until the 30th day of June receive subscriptions (only one, however, will be taken from each family) for the nominal fee of 25 Cents a year. Come to the store at once, register your name, receive your receipt for THE QUEEN for one year and try to win the Columbia.

A BREATHING SPELL.

Speechmaking Causes a Let Up In the Tariff Consideration.

SENATOR TILLMAN'S LIQUOR BILL.

It Is Intended to Meet In Part the Objections to the State Dispensary Law—Higher Duty on Wool Is Expected.

Washington, June 5.—The senate had a period of speechmaking, and as a result little progress was made on the tariff bill. The advance covered about two pages, or seven paragraphs, and brought the senate up to the wood schedule, the first item of which was considered, but not completed.

Mr. Mantle of Montana spoke for two hours on the wool schedule, urging increased rates for the woolgrower, and Mr. Butler of North Carolina made a plea in behalf of an income tax.

Senator Tillman from the committee on interstate commerce reported the bill introduced by himself giving states the same control of liquors imported into a state which they exercise over liquors of domestic manufacture. The bill is intended to in part meet the objections to the state dispensary law pointed out in the recent decision of Judge Simonton.

Senator Allison, who, in the absence of Senator Aldrich, has charge of the tariff bill, expressed the opinion that the sugar schedule would be reached in its order on Monday and that it would be taken up then if Senator Aldrich by that time should have so far recovered as to be able to take charge of the schedule on behalf of the Republicans. If Mr. Aldrich finds it impossible to be in the chamber when the schedule is reached, the Republicans will ask that it be passed temporarily because of his generally conceded superior information on the subject. Senator Allison says, however, that it is his desire that the schedule shall be disposed of as promptly as possible.

The Tobacco Schedule.

There is a possibility that the tobacco schedule may also be passed over in case Senator Aldrich is not able to be present when it is reached in its regular order.

The advocates of a higher duty on wool are quite confident from assurances received from members of the finance committee that they will secure an increase over the rates originally reported by the committee of an average of a cent a pound. This increase would give a duty of 9 cents on first class wool, 10 cents on second class and 5 cents on the lower quality of third class wool. They are also hopeful that the dividing line in third rate wools can be lowered to 9 cents. Senator Warren is among those who express the opinion that this concession will be made, and he says that if the changes are ordered the schedule will be fairly satisfactory to the wool interests.

Senator Warren also expresses the opinion that if necessary to appeal to the Republican caucus the increased rates will be assured, as he has a promise of the support of a majority of the Republican senators in aid of the proposition.

Missing Heirs Found.

Norwich, Conn., June 5.—James Williams died in California a few months ago, leaving a will bequeathing his estate of $60,000 to his brothers William and George, whom he had not heard from in many years. The brothers formerly lived here, but no one knew just what had become of them. After two months of search and inquiry the attorneys who had the matter in charge have just learned that one of the brothers was a printer in New Haven, who died four years ago, leaving a family. The other brother, they learn, enlisted in the Union army in the civil war and was killed. The estate will go to the family of the New Haven man.

International Commercial Conference.

Philadelphia, June 5.—The international commercial conference elected its advisory board for the ensuing year. The new officers are: President, Robert Bleakley of the New Orleans chamber of commerce; vice presidents for the United States, P. A. B. Widener of Philadelphia; William R. Grace of New York and Zina R. Carter, vice president of the Chicago board of trade. Vice presidents for the southern republics were also chosen.

Supposed Murder.

Albany, June 5.—Ray Jennings, a lad of Freehold, Greene county, was found dead on Wednesday with bullet holes in his back. He had gone hunting, and, not returning, search was made for him. It is believed that he was murdered, as the body was 100 feet away from the gun. A coroner was summoned, and an investigation will be made.

Naval Vessels' Whereabouts.

Washington, June 5.—The Texas has sailed from Boston for Hampton Roads to be present at Old Point Comfort at the convention of Railroad Master Mechanics. The Massachusetts will remain at Boston until after the 17th, Bunker Hill day. The New York will leave for Tompkinsville Monday.

Appointment In G. A. R. Department.

Albany, June 5.—George H. Lester of Oswego, the present commander of G. A. R. Post 586, has been appointed as assistant adjutant general to the State G. A. R. department by Department Commander A. D. Shaw. Mr. Lester will have charge of the department headquarters in this city.

Justice Urges Indictments.

Trenton, June 5.—Justice Gummere charged the Mercer county grand jury in connection with the recent investigation into county affairs. He particularly directed the indictment of Freeholder Miller Cross, who had sold coal to the county in the name of a third person.

Execution of a Murderer.

Columbia, Ga., June 5.—Henry White, aged 20, was hanged here. White was executed for his share in the murder of three policemen and the serious wounding of a fourth in this city on the 14th of last October.

New Bank to Be Organized.

Washington, June 5.—Authority has been granted for the organization of the Paris National bank of Paris, Tex.; capital, $120,000.

better worth following than any other will bring you direct to our store when you want anything in the line of paints. When a mistake is easily avoided it's scarcely worth while to run the risk of making one. Buying poor paint is a needless waste of money. It's paying for something you don't want, because it won't answer the purpose. Only paint that wears and is proof against the exposure of our climate is worth the cost of putting on. Ours are best and cheapest.

Some gowns are so dainty in the weave, so delicate in tint, that they seem to soil by being looked at—one or two wearings making them unpresentable, NOT USELESS. We make a specialty of cleaning fine fabrics, the more delicate the material, the better the results. Sometimes an accident will ruin a gown, without injuring the texture We dye them then, sometimes we get a prettier effect than the origina. olor. Fine goods stand redyeing. The finer the material the better the new color. We charge so little for cleaning or dyeing, that even if you are in doubt as to the result, it's worth while to experiment. Want a new evening gown for a dollar or two? Laundry drivers will receive your work.

Finest Clothing.

Only the very best makes and choicest lines were handled by them. Desiring to retire for the present, and hearing that we were in a position to close out the entire stock, we negotiated and the purchase for spot cash 25c. on the dollar was the result. Here's your opportunity to purchase a suit for what the linings would cost at any tailoring establishment in Plainfield.

A FEW PRICES

will tell the whole facts. It means a saving of 65c. on every dollar spent. We deal only Reliable Clothing, and will not undertake to sell a dollar's worth of clothing unless we know that what we sell will give the buyer as good wear as if he paid us what the garment is worth. Men's suits $3.25, worth $12; men's suits $4.50, worth $13.50, including light, medium and slate color cheviots and serges; men's imported cassimere, over plaids and cheviot or serge suits, worth $14 to $20, during this sale $5.25. We allow you to keep these suits home for three days and if not satisfactory for any reason whatever money back for the asking. Men's clay diagonal, over plaids and worsted suit, cassimere and worsted, worth $15 to $20, during this sale at $6.90; men's elegant dress suits, cassimere and worsted, worth $18 to $20, during this sale $6.50; men's elegant suit, sack or cutaway, worth from $18 to $23, during this sale $8.25; compare these suits with others of the same price and if ours do not prove the better come and get your money back. Silk mixtures and hairline and rin check suits worth $14, at $4.90, worth three times the amount. In order to prove what

A CYCLONIC STORM.

Great Damage Done by the Wind In New York State.

Utica, N. Y., June 5.—A cyclonic storm swept over a territory about 20 miles long and a half mile wide in the western central part of this county. Great damage was done by the wind, especially in the town of Westmoreland, where at least half a dozen barns were blown down and several houses were moved from their foundations. In one barn Mrs. Charles Cook took refuge with her son, 8 years old. The barn fell in the storm, and Mrs. Cook was instantly killed and the boy crushed so badly that he cannot live.

She was a greatly respected lady in the neighborhood and was of a quite prominent family. In every direction the highways are blocked by trees that were blown across them. Telephone and telegraph lines are broken. It would not be possible to estimate the damage, as it is widely spread and runs all the way from $10 to several hundred to each farm.

PARDONS GRANTED.

Governor Black Exercises Clemency In Several Cases.

Albany, June 5.—Governor Black has granted pardons to the following persons:

James O'Grady of Buffalo, who was sentenced to the Erie County penitentiary a year ago for two years and nine months for attempted assault. The pardon is granted "on the recommendation of the judge and district attorney who tried the case on the ground that the evidence showed that the complainant was a dissolute woman.

Edward Ryan of Rochester, sentenced last fall to the Monroe County penitentiary for one year. Ryan is set free by the governor because of ill health.

John Bannert, convicted of forgery in Herkimer 18 months ago and sentenced to Auburn for two years and six months. The governor pardons Bannert because he thinks that he has been punished sufficiently.

Crook Brought Back.

Schenectady, N. Y., June 5.—Homer B. Willard, a well known crook, whose particular line of work is passing bogus certified checks, and whom the police of many cities want, was brought here from Chicago, where he was arrested last Monday for passing a worthless check on a Schenectady hotel keeper last fall. The police in half of the cities in the country have been looking for Willard for a year past. Last week the local police were told by Willard's father where he was, and his arrest followed. He has been held for the grand jury.

Death of a British Officer.

Toronto, June 5.—A private cablegram received here announces the death of Lieutenant General Edward Osborne Hewett, C. M. G., governor of the Royal Military academy at Woolwich, England. Lieutenant General Hewett was well known in Canada, having been sent out here in 1861, at the time of the anticipated war with the United States in connection with the Trent difficulties, to occupy the position of commanding royal engineer of Ontario, west of Toronto, in which district over 3,000 regular troops were stationed.

No Game Law Publication.

Albany, June 5.—Owing to Governor Black's veto of an item in the supply bill the fisheries, forest and game commission will not be able to publish a revision of the game laws as amended by the last legislature. The commission, ever since its organization, has made an annual publication of this sort for the purpose of keeping the sportsmen and public in general acquainted with the provisions of the game laws, which are materialy amended every year.

Alleged Wire Tappers.

Denver, June 5.—Two men, giving their names as Charles Moran and H. M. Summerfield, aged respectively 23 and 26 years, who have been posing as expert electricians in the employ of the Western Electric company of New York, have been arrested on the charge of wire tapping and swindling the poolrooms of this and other cities. Their rooms in the Burke block were raided, and one of the most complete and expensive outfits for wire tapping ever seen was found.

Foreign Tariff Probabilities.

Berlin, June 5.—According to The Kolnische Zeitung, the powers are paying great attention to the Canadian tariff, and the foreign diplomats in London, who have repeatedly held exhaustive discussions on the subject, are convinced that Great Britain will denounce the trade treaties with Germany and Belgium. Austria's formal adherence to the German and Belgian protest has been postponed.

Big Strike at Pittsburg.

Pittsburg, June 5.—When the men were paid off at Jones & Laughlin's mill, each man was told the mill would start Monday and was asked if he intended to report for work then. Every man said "No," unless their demands were granted, and all were discharged. There are now 3,700 men on strike, and trouble is feared when an attempt is made to start with nonunion hands on Monday.

Many Bears In the Catskills.

Catskill, N. Y., June 5.—Bears are unusually numerous in the Catskill mountains this summer and are very bold, invading the sheepfolds and carrying off lambs. Several big bears have been killed lately by the farmers whose flocks have been depleted.

Music Dealers Assign.

Baltimore, June 5.—Otto Sutro & Co., music dealers, 119 and 121 East Baltimore street, have made an assignment for the benefit of their creditors to Francis P. Clark. The bond has been fixed at $100,000, indicating assets at half that amount.

Two Persons Drowned.

Galveston, June 5.—H. S. Towne, wife and sister, went bathing shortly after a squall. Mr. and Mrs. Towne were drowned, while the sister narrowly escaped. Mr. and Mrs. Towne came from Tampico, Mexico. They leave two children.

Measles Epidemic.

Monroe, N. Y., June 5.—There is an epidemic of measles at this place. Half the children in the village are sick, and the public school is thinly attended.

FINE MURAL DECORATION

THE HOME OF L. V. F. RANDOLPH BEAUTIFIED BY A TALENTED ARTIST.

Though the Decoration is in Its Infancy in This Country the Idea is Older Than the Christian Era—Bound to be Popular.

Mural decoration is as yet in its infancy—particularly in America. The idea, indeed, is older than the Christian era—as old, for example, as Pompeii, the walls of whose elegant residences, still standing where first erected, or transferred in portions to the Naples museum, bear testimony today to the art and grace and taste of an age long gone by.

But the direct application of this sort of embellishment has always been limited. The conception of art as applied particularly to the ornamentation of walls were but primitive and partial, and were in any case only to be availed of by the very wealthy. Later, when the Renaissance developed so great an awakening and growth, it became the fashion to adorn public halls and private homes with pictures quite separate from the walls themselves. And this was on the whole the wiser plan. The paintings on canvass and on wood of the 14th, 15th, 16th and 17th centuries are in a much better state of preservation than are the early frescoes. But in our day frescoes are again coming into vogue. It is found that they can be done in a manner that will prove enduring, and they have in some cases a charm of their own such as the framed and movable picture cannot possess. In the great public buildings very recently erected, especially in America, artistic conceptions and representations have largely been directly conveyed to the side walls, domes and cieling of great rooms and assembly halls. This plan is now coming more considerably into use, also in the ornamentation of private residences. The old-fashioned stencil-plate work on the walls of dwellings and the conventional designs which must inevitably fade or crumble after a few years have given place in some of our homes to the thoughtful scheme, comprehending in its scope and plan the beautiful, the significant and the permanent.

In Plainfield we have as yet but few examples of this higher class of mural decoration. But these are indicative of progress in culture and taste. One example has just been completed at the residence of L. V. F. Randolph, on East Front street. It was designed last winter by Bryson Burroughs, of New York, who (whilst pursuing a course of study of five years in Europe as winner of the Chanler prize) had given much study to mural art and who has certainly done some superior work.

The design is two-fold, and comprises the walls and ceilings of the two large rooms on the south side of the main hall of the Randolph residence. In the room on the front of the house the theme is that of "Home, or the Family Tie," with its joys and blessings. The scene depicted is taken from the Mask in Shakspeare's drama of "The Tempest." The happy union of Fernando and Miranda, made under the countenance of Prospero, receives the blessing of Juno and Ceres. The oil painting on the wall embodying this agreeable scene is framed by a further design, through which are wrought ideal faces of Ariel, Caliban, Gonzalo and Alonzo, together with various delicate representations of ripened fruits. On the ceiling of this room are four medallions in which are depicted festal and harvest scenes.

In the adjoining apartment, which is the music room, the thought in the decoration is the music thought. The chimney-piece here embraces the ideal figure of Saint Cecilia, with angelic attendants; and the four large medallions in the ceiling are representations of other graceful figures in harmony with the chief design. All these again are painted in oil, but in quiet tints, the manner and colors being in perfect agreement with the paintings and medallions in the sister room. The medallions are each somewhat more than four feet in diameter—the figures being about half of life-size. All the figures and faces—numbering about a score, and displayed in ten distinct works of art—were painted from life-models by Mr. Burroughs and are marvels of chaste and accurate drawing and of classical and graceful pose. The surroundings of wall canvas and of furniture and woodwork, as arranged and carried out by C. G. Davis, are in perfect keeping with Mr. Burroughs' schemes.

During Mr. Randolph's absence with his daughters in Morocco, Spain, Italy and other countries this artistic mural work was accomplished under Mrs. Randolph's supervision. At the same time she arranging other pleasant surprises for the travellers in the

IT'S A SEPERATION WITH ALMONY NOT DIVORCE, SHE WANTS.

She Says That Up to a Few Weeks Ago She and Her Husband Lived Happily Together — His Courtship Was Short.

Mrs. Elizabeth Menzeli Bartlett writes a long letter to The Press in which she takes some exceptions to the statements made in the news report that she had instituted proceedings for a divorce from her husband, Abner Bartlett. Mrs. Bartlett says that it is not a divorce that she wants, but a seperation with alimony. She says that it has not been known to anyone that she and her husband lived unhappily while together, in contradiction of which she says that prior to her going to Newark to conduct a children's carnival some weeks ago they were on the best of terms. Since her return, she alleges, Mr. Bartlett has failed to support her.

Concerning her own life, Mrs. Bartlett says that she is of German parentage, her father having been an officer in the German army. She adopted stage dancing as a profession, in company with her sister, when quite young, both of them having shown a decided talent in that direction, but she never appeared in the "Black Crook."

The marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Bartlett was solemnized in New York in 1893, the latter having left the stage some three years previous to that. At the time Mr. Bartlett made the acquaintance of his wife the latter was studying elocution under F. F. McKay. She was also cultivating her voice under the instruction of a well-known artist. The acquaintance of the couple was of short duration when they were joined in matrimony. Mrs. Bartlett met her husband in her brother's house through an introduction made by the latter.

NOVEL BURGLAR ALARM.

THE MARAUDERS' VOICES HEARD THROUGH A SPEAKING TUBE.

H. C. Christianson Made Aware of the Thieves and Then Fired a Revolver and the Former Soon Made Their Departure.

H C Christianson, who lives on the county road near the Fanwood station, has a rather novel burglar alarm, which served him faithfully last night, when it gave notice of the presence of two burglars at the back door of his residence. The alarm which did its work so well is an ordinary speaking tube which runs from Mr. Christianson's sleeping room to the kitchen.

Last night at about 12:30 o'clock Mrs. Christianson was awakened by a noise and listening she heard the voices of two men in conversation. She aroused her husband, and it was found that the sound of the voices came through the speaking tube from the kitchen.

Mr. Christianson, thinking that the men were inside of the house, raised a window and fired off a revolver to frighten them away. The shooting had the desired effect, as the two men downstairs quickly disappeared, running to the woods behind the house.

An investigation showed that the thieves had not entered the kitchen, but were at work trying to open the back door when the speaking tube upon the inside caught the sound of their voices and carried it upstairs.

JERSEY'S REPUBLICAN CLUBS.

Delegates to the National Convention Chosen.

The executive committee of the Republican State League of Clubs held a meeting Saturday evening at the rooms of the Republican Club in Trenton and selected five delegates to represent this State in the National Convention of Republican Clubs at Detroit, July 13th. The delegages are B. B. Howell, of New Brunswick; ex-Speaker Louis T. Derousse, of Camden; Assemblyman Harry E. Gledhill, of Paterson; John P. Landrine, of Jersey City, and Edmund C. Hill, of Trenton.

A resolution in favor of holding national conventions biennially instead of annually was adopted. It was also decided to hold a State convention during the second week in September. The exact date and the place were left open. The basis of representation to the State convention will be five delegates from each club.

Sprained Her Leg

Mrs. Robert Luckey, of Orange street, sustained a severe injury last Saturday afternoon while riding a wheel owned by one of the members of her family. She was thrown from the wheel and one of her leg was so badly strained that she is now confined to the house and unable to walk. Dr. Jenkins is in attendance.

A VICTORY AT THE START.

CRESCENT BALL TEAM DEFEATED THE NEW BRUNSWICK Y. M. C. A.

The New Club is Composed of the Pick of Local Crack Players and Put up a Game That Elated All.

The Crescent Baseball Club opened the season on its LaGrande avenue grounds, Saturday afternoon, by defeating the New Brunswick Y. M.C.A. nine in a closely contested game. The game really was exciting, for the visitors took the lead in the third inning and held it to the sixth and then kept the cranks in a continual state of excitement by almost scoring on many occasions.

The new club is composed of the pick of the players of last year's Plainfield Athletic Club and Y. M. C. A. nines. The old Crescent's field was arranged for the game, and the several hundred spectators that turned out for the game were decidedly well pleased with the general appearance of the team and field. A grand-stand with canvas shade had been erected, while a plentiful supply of camp chairs had been provided for the use of the other patrons.

As to the game, it cannot be said that the Crescent's outplayed their opponents, but by the bunching of hits and several costly errors on the part of the New Brunswick infielders, the Crescent's gained their victory. The score would have been larger by several runs but for a pretty running catch by Tallman. There were three men on bases and two men out when George Schoonmaker came to bat. He sent the ball apparently far over the centre fielder's head, but the latter ran and just managed to get it on the edge of the embankment on Richmond street.

Charley Mumford made the only home run of the game by knocking the ball into the chicken yard in far left field. While the New Brunswick fielders were trying to scale the wire screen, Charley flew around the bases amid the shouts of the spectators.

There was much enthusiasm shown. Both umpires were from Plainfield and did their work satisfactorily.

THE FARMER'S BOGUS FRIEND.

"Colonel Walker" Was Well Received and Got $100.

Mahlon Perdun, a prosperous farmer, living near New Brunswick, was visited Wednesday by a well-dressed man, who said he was "Colonel Charles Walker, of Philadelphia." "I want to buy your farm," he said, by way of introduction, and Perdun received him graciously.

Walker said he would like to drive to New Brunswick, Friday, and Perdun said one of his daughters would accompany him. Before leaving Walker said:

"By the way, friend Perdun, let me have $10 until my draft comes, will you?"

Wishing to oblige his guest, Perdun handed over the money. Late in the afternoon Miss Perdun drove into the farm yard, so excited that she could not speak.

"What's the matter, child? Where's the 'Colonel?'" asked Farmer Perdun.

"Gone!" was the reply.

"Buncoed, by cracky!" said Perdun. Rising early in the morning, he drove to New Brunswick, and after a vain search, reported the case to the police. Walker had not been seen, nor is it likely that he will be found.

CRUSHED UNDER A SPRINKLER.

Wheels Passed Over William Corbett's Head and Caused Instant Death.

William Corbett, of Mendham, was instantly killed Friday near Bernardsville. He was driving a sprinkling cart and at noon fed his horses on the road where he was working, taking the bridles off the horses.

Mr. Corbett, who was a small man, was unable to put the bridles on again, and in trying to reach the horses' heads he stood upon the tongue of the cart. The horses became frightened and ran, throwing Mr. Corbett to the ground. The wheels of the cart passed over his head, crushing the skull.

A FLAW IN THE TITLE.

A CHURCH BALKED IN SELLING A VALUABLE PIECE OF PROPERTY.

Scotch Plains Baptist Society Unable to Consummate a Deal for the Purchase of a Farm Owned by Them for 100 Years.

Great consternation has been caused among the trustees and friends of the Scotch Plains Baptist church over the discovery of flaws in the title of certain of their property, which may render it practically valueless to the church corporation.

The property in quesion is on Johnston's Drive. It is a plot of a great many acres, known as the Baptist church property, and has been claimed by the church corporation for over 100 years.

A short time ago the church trustees advertised the property for sale, and secured a purchaser, who agreed to pay the price asked, provided a clear title could be furnished.

The New Jersey Guarantee Company was engaged to search the title, and their report, rendered on Saturday, was unfavorable to the church trustees' title. The company expressed itself as unwilling to guarantee the title as it had discovered several incumberances and other blemishes. Immediately, upon hearing this, the intending purchaser discontinued making improvements about the place, and announced his unwillingness to accept the property.

It is understood that if the purchase had been made about $25,000 would have been expended upon the place in building, grading and other improvements. The action of the Title Guarantee Company came as a genuine surprise to the trustees and others interested, as the title was considered perfectly good. There is much discussion now as to what can be done, and some are of the opinion that the State legislature should be called upon to pass a special act clearing the title.

RECEPTION TO BICYCLERS.

Y. M. C. A. Members in Adjoining Towns Given a Good Time.

Sixty-seven cyclers came on the bicycle run to Plainfield on Saturday afternoon and they were well entertained at the rooms of the Young Men's Christian Association. It was after 9 o'clock before some of the wheelmen arrived. The run was to have been on Friday evening, but on account of the weather was postponed to Saturday evening. Having so little time in which to notify the associations, several associations were not represented on Saturday. It was thought by Heywood, the physical director of the local association, that over 100 cyclers would be present, but on account of the reasons already given that number of wheelmen did not show up.

Following is the list of associations represented and also the number present: Rahway, 16; Passaic, 5; Madison, 7; Montclair, 3, New Brunswick, 7; Elizabeth, 21; Summit, 8.

The next run of the league will be made on the 17th of this month, and will be to Madison.

SERVICE IN THE NEW CHAPEL.

The New Church in Bound Brook to be Finished by Next Christmas.

Contractor James Vosseller has finished a portion of the new Presbyterian church, Bound Brook, and yesterday morning services was held in it. The chapel's seating capacity is 375.

The Presbyterian church at Bound Brook is one of the oldest in New Jersey, having been founded in 1688. It has had eleven ministers and five church buildings. The last was burned in 1896. It was built in 1823.

The new church, now being built, is at Union and Mountain avenues. Contractor Vosseller expects to have the church finished by Christmas.

No One Wanted a Scholarship.

The eighth annual examination for the free scholarship in the State College at New Brunswick was set for Saturday. County Superintendent A. W. Hartwell and City Superintendent of the Public Schools Leslie W. Pierson waited almost two hours, but as no candidates presented themselves they adjourned.

Raised in Grade With the Postoffice.

Postmaster John L. Derby, of Cranford, has received from the First Assistant Postmaster-General that the grade of the Cranford postoffice has been raised from the third to the second class, and the Postmaster's salary fixed for the year beginning July 1st at $2,200.

Dined at the Inn.

Mr. and Mrs. Janeway, of New Brunswick, entertained a party of friends at dinner at Mountain Park Inn, Saturday night. Manager Moulton distinguishes himself by the excellent menu served as well as the hospitable treatment accorded the guests.

THE POSTPONED FETE.

THE DELAY WILL PERMIT GREATER PERFECTION OF FEATURES.

Programme Arranged For Last Saturday Will be Carried Out in a Complete Manner on Saturday of This Week.

The Fete Champetre, planned for Saturday, June 5th, that was to have been the coming out party of the Town Improvement Association, was postponed on account of the weather to Saturday, June 12th from 3 to 10 o'clock. Fortunately, no features of the Fete will suffer by postponement. It is hoped that the delay will only serve to bring nearer perfection some of the arrangements for the entertainment and heighten some of its charms. The pony carriages and boats will be there next Saturday, as will the May Pole at 4 o'clock to be wound by the wee ones and at 5 o'clock by older children. The Gypsy encampment with its gaily costumed queen and dark browned men and maidens, who will dance and sing and play, as only gypsies can, the camp fire, flapjacks and wonderful Palmist, whose skill in reading your life from your hand, is celebrated far and near, will all be there, only the better for the waiting. The music will be as sweet, the illuminations as fine, the ice cream, fruit and flowers just as fresh and the supper quite as good as if the Fete had been held last week. We trust the skies will be brighter and the roads harder, that bicyclists may be tempted to share these pleasures, for every arrangement has been made to repair all mishaps to wheels and make the cyclists trip one of comfort and unalloyed pleasure.

If there should be uncertainly about the weather, as there was last week, the Fete will still be held, the supper being served on the piazzas and in the house, while the gypsy camp will be moved from the island to the rear of the house, under the electric lights.

JAPAN MISSION WORK.

MRS. HILTON PEDLEY GAVE TWO INTERESTING TALKS.

The Dress and Customs of the Japanese Described to Sunday-School Scholars—Sang Hymns in the Japanese Language.

Mrs. Hilton Pedley, a missionary of the American Board, who has been in Japan for nearly ten years, is now in America on a short furlough, and has many interesting things to tell about her life in that most fascinating of foreign countries. Yesterday afternoon she spoke for few moments to the Sunday-school of the Congregational church, and in the evening the Christian Endeavor Society of the church held a special meeting, at which she gave a more formal address.

In the afternoon, Mrs. Pedley described the dress of the Japanese, illustrating her words by references to the Japanese customs in which she had dressed Miss Sadie Howell and Master Arthur Robinson. She also related little incidents which had occurred in her Japanese Sunday school, and described the room and the young Orientals who composed the school.

In the evening, the lecture room was crowded to its utmost capacity with eager listeners. Mrs. Pedley pointed out upon the map the various mission stations which the American Board has established in Japan, told of the first mission work done in the country, and then gave her audience many interesting bits of information about the daily life of a missionary in that far-away land. She told of the tremendous difficulties in the way of learning the language, to get a fair idea of which requires about five years; of the home life of a missionary's family, with its studying, working, and teaching; of the towns made into the country to preach and teach; of the work in the Sunday-schools; and of the strange but wonderfully fascinating ways of the people.

At both services Mrs. Pedley sang several hymns in Japaness, some of which were set to native tunes, wierd and Oriental enough, but with something strangely attractive about them.

Behr Called to Court.

Bernard Behr, father of Edith Behr, who was recently sentenced to three months in the Union County Jail for assault and battery will be re-arraigned in the Union County Court Wednesday, as the Supreme Court at Trenton last Tuesday dismissed the writ of error that was taken out for him by his lawyer when he was sentenced to serve five months in jail for the same offense for which his daughter Edith was punished. Prosecutor Marsh has notified Behr's bondsman to produce him in court June 9.

Episcopal Convocation.

The convocation of the Episcopal Diocese of New Jersey will be held on June 15 at St. Paul's church, Rahway. Right Rev. Dr. Scarborough will preside.

WHEEL NOT HIS TO PAWN

JOHN RICKERT, CHARGED WITH FRAUD, SETTLED OUT OF COURT.

F. L. C. Martin Alleged That Rickert Bought a Wheel on the Installment Plan and Never Paid for All of It.

John Rickert, of Paterson, formerly a resident of this city, was brought before Justice Nash, this morning, on the charge of fraud, preferred by F. L. C. Martin, president of the F. L. C. Martin Cycle Company.

In 1895 Rickert bought a Cleveland wheel of the F. L. C. Martin Cycle Company, on an installment lease. In about a year from that time he left town suddenly, pawning his wheel at a local store. From here he went to Paterson, where he has been ever since. Mr. Martin has been on the lookout for him ever since, but it was not until last evening that it was learned that he had returned to Plainfield. This morning Rickert was arrested by the police on a warrant issued by Justice Nash and brought before that magistrate. Mr. Martin agreed not to push the complaint after good security was given for the payment of the rest of the money due.

ENTERTAINED AT EUCHRE.

Mr and Mrs. W. E. MacClymont Give a Party in Honor of a Guest.

A progressive euchre party was given last Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William E. MacClymont, of Washington avenue, in honor of Miss Ida E. Schafer, of Trenton, and Miss Lillian Kline, of Elizabeth. The hospitality of the host and hostess was a pleasing feature of the event, while the sociability of the guests was marked. Miss Laura Emmons was awarded a hat pin as the first prize for the ladies, and a pair of silver cuff buttons was presented to William Holmes as first prize for the gentlemen. Miss Kline won the consolation prize, a Faunt leroy pack of cards.

After the game dainty refreshments were served and the rest of the evening was devoted to sociability. Those present were Miss Ida E. Schaefer, of Trenton; Miss Lillian Kline, of Elizabeth; Miss Nora Williams, Miss Laura Emmons, Miss Margaret Long, Miss Sara Long; Robert M. Clark, E. O. Clark, H. C. VanEmburg, William Holmes, G. H. Smith and George C. Worth, of Plainfield.

SLAUGHTER OF HENS.

Dogs Brought Death to Andrew Huff's Poultry Yard.

Andrew Huff, of Park avenue, suffered a great loss last Friday night and Saturday morning when sixty-five valuable hens and roosters were killed by dogs. Mr. Huff did not discover his loss until late Saturday morning when he went to the place where his chickens are kept. When he arrived he found the dead chickens lying all about the place with their feet turned upward. Some of them were carried a great distance from the coop. Mr. Huff has an idea as to who owns the dogs that killed his chickens and it is his intention of bringing the owners to justice. There is a law which provides for the destruction of sheep by dogs and Mr. Huff thinks that he is entitled to some compensation for his loss. He now has about twenty hens left.

Pet Dog Went Mad.

A pet canine, belonging to William A. Stimpson, of the reportorial staff of the News, began to act queerly, yesterday morning, when out for a walk with its master. Stimpson hurried to his home on West Sixth street, when the dog began to show evident signs of rabies. The canine frothed at at the mouth and howled and barked. He tried to bite the trees and house while shut in the yard. Stimpson sesured a friend with a shot gun and ended the canine's existence without delay. The dog was very gentle heretofore and was a great favorite with the family.

Death Caused by Paralysis.

Mrs. Smith, aged about sixty years, and a resident of Orange, died very suddenly last night at the home of home of her daughter, Mrs. Vanderhoof, of East Front street. Death was due to a stroke of paralysis. The body was removed to Orange this afternoon and the funeral services will be held at that place tomorrow.

Free Stereopticon Lecture.

George C. Needham will deliver a free lecture on "The Jewish Tabernacle" this evening at 8 o'clock in the Y. M. C. A. hall. All members of Dr. Stearn's Union Bible class and Christian friends invited. The illustrations are very rare and beautifully colored.

State Board Offers Services.

The State Board of Arbitration has offered its services in settling the strike among the carpenters in Orange. The strikers insist upon the justice of their claim for shorter hours and increased pay.

DEMOCRATIC PLANS.

Statement Made by State Committeeman Campbell.

HOPE TO ELECT NEW YORK'S MAYOR.

National Issues Will Not Be Forced Into the Various Local Campaigns and Elections This Fall.

Albany, June 7.—The National Democratic party will not force national issues into the various local campaigns and elections in this state this fall, and while repudiation of the Chicago platform will not be allowed it will not be brought forward as an issue paramount to anything else. That is the statement of the national Democratic state committeeman from New York, Frank Campbell of Bath, a former comptroller of the state. Mr. Campbell is in this city, fresh from a conference with the leaders, and said:

"The policy of the Democratic party of the nation, as laid down in the platform of the Chicago convention of 1896, cannot be disturbed until the next Democratic national convention, which will be held in 1900. It will make no difference whether a state, city or county convention indorses it or repudiates it. It will stand unaltered. In the election last fall the regular organization of the state of New York was loyal and true to the nominees and platform of the Chicago convention. The same organization heartily supported Mr. Cleveland four years ago as the Democratic candidate for president, although their delegates were opposed to him in the national convention.

"I believe in home rule. If the Democrats of the city of New York, Buffalo, or Rochester deem it expedient and wise for party success to conduct their local elections without injecting into them state or national issues, I believe they have a perfect right to do so without interference of any state or national committee.

"Democrats living in the state outside of the city of New York are looking anxiously for the election of a Democratic mayor for Greater New York. If this could be accomplished, it would encourage the rank and file of the party and enable the organization to get into fighting shape for the important state election that is to take place a year from this fall, when the governor, state officers and the legislature are to be elected.

"If we carry Greater New York and elect these officers next year, then the party will be in shape, with a fair chance of placing New York state in the Democratic column in 1900.

"As the representative of the regular organization of New York on the national committee, I can state that so far as I know the national committee has no desire to interfere in New York state in its local elections this fall or to dictate to the Democracy of New York what their issues should be in these elections."

Pillsbury Wins Blindfold.

Brooklyn, June 7.—A remarkable exhibition of simultaneous blindfold chess playing was given at the Brooklyn Chess club by Harry N. Pillsbury, the American chess champion. Eight members of the club studied the games at chess tables in one room, while Mr. Pillsbury played from memory in an adjoining room. The games were well conducted on both sides, Mr. Pillsbury frequently startling his opponents by his combinations. He announced a forced mate in four moves in one game and another in two moves. After four hours' playing the score showed that Pillsbury had won six games, lost none, two games being drawn.

Cloudburst In France.

Paris, June 7.—A cloudburst in the hill country of the province of Isore, in southwestern France, has caused the overflow of the river Morge and the destruction of a number of paper mills and silk factories, as well as houses along the banks. At the towns of Voiron and Moirans, the river rose suddenly 20 feet. One person was drowned, and the loss of property is estimated at 10,000,000 francs. Four thousand factory operatives are thrown out of employment.

Plunged Over an Embankment.

Warren, Pa., June 7.—A colt hitched to a surrey in which was seated Louis Laih, a meat dealer of this place, took fright while in the Oakland cemetery and plunged over an embankment 200 feet high. Neither horse nor driver was killed, but Laih is not likely to recover. Laih's wife and children had just stepped from the vehicle when the horse took fright.

Dickinson College Opens.

Carlisle, Pa., June 7.—The one hundred and fourteenth commencement of Dickinson college has been formally opened. Professor George Edward Reed delivered the baccalaureate sermon in Allison Memorial church. There was a large attendance, and the music was rendered by a large selected choir. Prayer was said by Rev. John A. Roche of New York.

Bryan Goes to Church.

Montreal, June 7.—W. J. Bryan, who is resting here for a day after his lecture, yesterday attended the American Presbyterian church and was afterward entertained at lunch by Hon. George W. Stephens, M. P., a millionaire lawyer and politician. Mr. Bryan was driven around the city by the Knights of Pythias in the afternoon.

Bicyclist Struck by a Train.

Camden, N. J., June 7.—Miss Florence Brain of this city, while attempting to cross the tracks of the West Jersey and Seashore railroad in front of an Atlantic City express while on her bicycle, was struck by the engine and thrown 20 feet into a ditch. She was injured internally and has since died.

Oklahoma Marshal Resigns.

Guthrie, O. T., June 7.—Patrick Nagle, United States marshal for the district of Oklahoma, has wired his resignation to President McKinley. He announces that he is tired of the place and desires to be relieved. The affairs of the office were recently investigated by special agents from Washington.

STILL ON THE TARIFF

Uncertainty as to the Order of Consideration.

WILL AWAIT RETURN OF ALDRICH.

The Sugar Question Is Liable to Consume a Large Portion of the Time of the Senate—The Demands of Tobacco Men.

Washington, June 7.—While the tariff will continue the general topic of discussion in the senate during the present week there is no certainty as to what portion of it will receive especial attention. This uncertainty is due largely to the difficulty of determining when the sugar schedule will be taken up. It is so generally understood that this schedule will consume considerable time that there is no effort to outline beyond it the course of proceeding. The wood schedule will afford a brief respite before reaching the sugar question, as that subject was left undisposed of when the senate adjourned on Saturday.

Senator Allen probably will enter a motion to strike out the entire paragraph relating to sawed lumber, and the motion may lead to other speeches than his own.

Whether the sugar schedule will be taken up in order is still undetermined. There are many differences of opinion on the subject, but the prevailing desire is to get the schedule out of the way as soon as possible. This is the case on both sides of the chamber, but it is especially true of the Republicans, as the responsibility for action rests there.

Still there is a desire among Republican senators that there should be absolute agreement among themselves on the rates of this schedule before entering upon its discussion in the senate, and it is realized that they may be difficult of attainment without a further exchange of opinions than has yet been permitted. There is no doubt in any event of a postponement until Senator Aldrich's return to the senate. He is still confined to his room, but is expected to be out early in the week.

That the Hawaiian treaty will be protected by the finance committee is considered settled, but a caucus may be necessary to determine whether other changes should be made. Senator Pettigrew has decided definitely to offer his antitrust amendment in connection with this schedule, but beyond the fact that it will lead to a number of speeches there is no certainty as to its course or its fate.

The Tobacco Schedule.

The tobacco schedule immediately follows the sugar schedule. The tobacco men will have a hearing tonight. They will ask for $2 on wrapper and 35 cents on filler tobacco. There is also an inclination to return to the language of the Wilson law on this subject. This is understood to be the wish of both the importers and the tobacco growers.

There are many sharp contests ahead on the paragraphs of the agricultural schedule, which is next after tobacco, including those on rice, on which there will be an effort to secure a return to the house rates; on cattle, on which it will be claimed there should be an ad valorem rather than a specific duty, and on fish, fruits, chicory and salt. The innovation of a duty on tea is also proposed on the schedule, but it is practically certain that this provision will be withdrawn by the committee. Thus what would have been one of severests contests will be avoided. The cotton and spirit schedules will, it is now thought, excite comparatively little debate.

The house has no work ahead of it this week, and it is the intention of the majority leaders to adjourn until Thursday and from Thursday until Monday. Mr. Simpson and other members of the minority doubtless will essay the usual maneuvers, with the purpose of embarrassing the Republicans, but in the present condition of the house their latitude is narrow, and they easily can be overborne by their adversaries.

Body Recovered.

Newton, Mass., June 7.—The body of Ernest A. Gammons, the well known member of the Wabewawa club who was drowned in Charles river at Riverside, was recovered this forenoon by the West Newton police, who had dragged for it all night.

Suicide by Hanging.

Hudson, N. H., June 7.—The body of an unknown man was found hanging in the woods here, having been there a week. The suicide was about 30 years of age, dressed in brown coat and vest, blue pants, with a red handkerchief around the neck.

Fell From a Roof.

Haverhill, Mass., June 7.—George Young, 12 years of age, fell from the roof of a four-story building. His skull was crushed and when picked up was beyond medical aid.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—The crosswalks at the corner of Park avenue and Second street have been fixed so that all surplus water will now run off. Heavy stone has replaced that which was used previously.

Hundreds of thousands have been induced to try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy by reading what it has done for others, and having tested its merits for themselves are to-day its warmest friends. For sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Miss Long, of Park avenue, is entertaining a friend from out of town.

—Apgar Brothers, contractors, are erecting a commodious workshop on their property, on West Front street.

"There's no use in talking," says W. H. Broadwell, druggist, La Cygne, Kas., "Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy does the work. After taking medicines of my own preparation and those of others, I took a dose of Chamberlain's and it helped me; a second dose cured me. Candidly and conscientiously I can recommend it as the best thing on the market." The 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

—It was arranged so that the new borough marshals went on duty Saturday night. There new uniforms have been ordered and until they arrive some of the old uniforms will be used.

Mr. Isaac Horner, proprietor of the Burton House, Burton, W. V., and one of the most widely known men in the state was cured of rheumatism after three years of suffering. He says: "I have not sufficient command of language to convey any idea of what I suffered, my physicians told me that nothing could be done for me and my friends were fully convinced that nothing but death would relieve me of my suffering. In June 1894, Mr. Evens, then salesman fo the Wheeling Drug Co., recommended Chamberlain's Pain Balm. At this time my foot and limb were swollen to more than double their normal size and it seemed to me my leg would burst, but soon after I began using the Pain Balm the swelling began to decrease, the pain to leave, and now I consider that I am entirely cured." For sale by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

—Next Sunday will be celebrated as Children's Day and the various churches in this city will observe the day appropriately. For sometime past plans have been in preparation for the event.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by L. W. Randolph.

Miss Ida Schafer, of Trenton, who has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. MacClymont, of Washington avenue, has returned home.

Stands at the Head.

Aug. J. Bogel, the leading druggist of Shreveport, La., says: "Dr. King's New Discovery is the only thing that cures my cough, and it is the best seller I have." J. F. Campbell, merchant of Safford, Ariz., writes: "Dr. King's New Discovery is all that is claimed for it; it never fails, and is a sure cure for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. I cannot say enough for its merits."

Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds is not an experiment. It has been tried for a quarter of a century, and to-day stands at the head. It never disappoints. Free trial bottles at L. W. Randolph's drug stor .

—J. H. Carney, of the borough, has received an invitation to appear at an entertainment to be given this week by a Camp of Sons of Veterans at Woodbridge.

Electric Bitters

Electric Bitters is a medicine suited for any season, but perhaps more generally needed when the languid, exhausted feeling prevails, when the liver is torpid and sluggish and the need of a tonic and alterative is felt. A prompt use of this medicine has often averted long and perhaps fatal bilious fevers. No medicine will act more surely in counteracting and freeing the system from the malarial poison. Headache, Indigestion, Constipation, Dizziness yield to Electric Bitters. 50c. and $1.00 per bottle at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

Miss Margaret Milligan, of Clinton, Hunterdon county, is visiting her aunt, Mrs. S. W. Milligan, 419 West Fourth street.

Protect yourself against sickness and suffering by keeping your blood rich and pure with Hood's Sarsaparilla. Weak, thin, impure blood is sure to result in disease.

Hood's Pills are easy to take, easy to operate. Cure indigestion, biliousness. 25c.

A RIOTOUS SCENE.

Disorder Prevails In the French Chamber of Deputies.

London, June 7.—The Paris correspondent of The Times says:

"The scene in the chamber of deputies on Saturday during the Jaures incident, when M. Brisson, president of the chamber, suspended the sitting and sent for the military guard to remove M. Richards, the Socialist deputy who had referred to some of his colleagues as 'police spies,' was one of unwonted scandal and violence.

"M. Brisson, after business was resumed, declined to hear M. Jaures, who interpellated the government on what he called an 'attempt to muzzle a deputy,' basing his refusal on the ground that no notice of interpellation had been given.

"A furious uproar followed. M. Brisson was quite pale with anger, but kept himself well under control. Never in the bitterest invective employed against an Opportunist minister by demagogues of the Extreme Left was there greater violence than in the language of which M. Brisson, who owes his seat largely to the Socialist vote, was the unjust object.

"'Bas, Brisson!' 'Canaille de Brisson!' 'Mont a Brisson!'

"'Miserable reactionary, you will never be president; traitor that you are!' 'Old rascal, resign, resign!'

"These are fair samples of the epithets which the entire Socialist party, standing on the floor of the chamber, hurled at the president, while he, unable to maintain order, brought the sitting to an abrupt close."

THE TORPEDO BOAT PORTER.

Ready For Her Final Trial, She Takes a Fast Preliminary Spin.

New York, June 7.—The United States torpedo boat Porter has been taken out of drydock, with new paint on her steel bottom, which had been swept bare within three weeks by friction of water occasioned by her remarkable speed. Her final trial is understood to have been fixed for tomorrow, and yesterday the Porter dropped around to Communipaw to take in coal preparatory thereto. Incidentally, to ascertain if all else were in proper form, Lieutenant J. C. Fremont, in command, took her down around Scotland lightship and back again.

The stretch from the Battery to Scotland lightship is 21 miles, the round trip 42 miles, and the time in which the Porter traveled this distance was 1 hour and 50 minutes. And she did it easily, for at no time was more than 200 pounds of steam pressure developed, and that for only a short time.

Below Swinburne island and through the Horseshoe the little craft slipped along at about 30 miles an hour, and at this speed she was a beautiful spectacle viewed from astern.

Standing directly over her screw, whirling 400 times per minute, there was not vibration enough to interfere with letter writing, had that been possible in the rush of air occasioned by her speed.

JAPAN AND HAWAII.

The Immigration Difficulty May Sever Diplomatic Relations.

San Francisco, June 7.—The steamer Coptic has arrived from Honolulu, bringing advices up to May 31. According to the latest information procurable, the difficulty between Japan and Hawaii growing out of the immigration question has been increased rather than diminished by the diplomatic proceedings.

Officers on board of the Japanese cruiser Nanial, now at Honolulu, state that a second Japanese man-of-war is now en route to Honolulu and that a third vessel is about to depart from Yokohama for the islands.

Mrs. Shimamura, wife of the Japanese minister here, has arranged to leave for Japan on June 5. The intended departure caused a rumor in Honolulu to the effect that the minister would soon follow her.

He admitted that he was not satisfied with the answer of the Hawaiian government in regard to the immigrant controversy, and he gave close friends to understand that unless a reply satisfactory to him was made he would depart for Tokyo, thereby severing diplomatic relations between Japan and Hawaii.

PEACE NEGOTIATIONS.

The Sultan Leaves Them to His Ministers to Protect Himself.

London, June 7.—The correspondent of The Standard at Constantinople says:

"Acting upon the advice of Izzet Bey, the sultan is leaving the peace negotiations wholly in the hands of his ministers, thus evading personal responsibility and placing himself in a position to sacrifice them to popular indignation if necessary.

"It is reported that the palace party has entered into extensive stock exchange operations on the theory that the market will show a rise as the prospects of peace increase. The Ottoman embassador at St. Petersburg has informed the porte that Count Muravieff, the Prussian foreign minister, told him he personally objected to Russian intervention on behalf of Greece and had counteracted the feminine intrigues started with that object, but the holy synod induced the czar to intervene."

Prison Trouble at San Francisco Ended.

San Francisco, June 7.—The trouble with the convicts employed in the jute mill in the San Quentin prison is about over, and no further disturbance is looked for. Work has been started up in that portion of the mill known as the "old jute" with 400 men. This leaves about 250 of the most desperate and mutinous of the criminals still confined on a diet of bread and water, and it is expected that of these all but the ringleaders of the attack will soon be at work again. The ringleaders and those who took part in the attempt to break from the dungeon will be brought up before the board of directors and their cases considered for punishment.

Dry Town Votes to Sell Liquor.

Albany, June 7.—Under the enabling act the village of Stamford, a summer resort in the Catskills, held a special election and voted by 27 majority to allow the hotels to sell liquor, heretofore it being a dry town.

Earthquake In Iowa.

Decorah, Ia., June 7.—An earthquake shock was distinctly felt in this vicinity shortly after daylight yesterday morning. No damage is reported.

CABINET CRISIS OVER

Senor Canovas Will Continue as Premier of Spain.

CUBAN POLICY TO REMAIN UNCHANGED

The Queen Regent Desires the Present Ministry to Retain Control—Strongly Advised to Recall Captain General Weyler From Havana.

Madrid, June 7.—The queen regent has confirmed Senor Canovas, the premier, in his ministerial powers, and the cabinet will remain in office, with personnel and policy unchanged. The leading members of the cortes, who were consulted by her majesty, as well as three marshals, have advised the recall of Captain General Weyler from Cuba.

The solution of the crisis is a general surprise, as much perhaps in the ministerial ranks as in the world at large. It was thought, not without reason, that the counsels of the higher military authorities, as represented by Marshal Campos, Marshal Blanco and Marshal Dominguez, would have inclined the crown toward a radical and distinct change of policy in the Cuban campaign.

This idea was especially prevalent, as Senor Canovas has himself admitted that, both as regards reforms and the conduct of the war by Captain General Weyler, his own hopes and aspirations have scarcely been fulfilled.

The only explanation is that the first thought of the premier is to vindicate his amour propre so far as the Liberals are concerned, and, when this is established, to find occasion at an early date so to modify the cabinet as to satisfy the Liberals and to terminate the deadlock before the cortes reassembles, which will probably not be for several months. It can hardly be doubted that the modifications will include the replacing of Captain General Weyler by some other commander.

At a cabinet council held at his residence Senor Canovas, the premier, announced that the queen regent had renewed his powers and those of the cabinet in terms most flattering to him and to all his colleagues.

It is understood that the government does not contemplate any immediate change in the supreme command in Cuba.

The surprise and displeasure of the various sections of the Opposition are not easy to describe.

De Lome Gets Information.

Washington, June 7.—Spanish Minister Dupuy de Lome has received a cablegram announcing the result of the queen's decision in the matter of the Spanish premier and cabinet ministers, who recently tendered their resignations. The minister's dispatch says the queen had reached her decision after consulting with the former premiers and marshals.

Included in the former were Senor Sagasta, the present leader of the Liberal party, and Martinez Campos, the captain general of Cuba who gave way to General Weyler. Mr. De Lome declined to discuss the possibilities of the retention in office of the present ministry in relation to the policy to be pursued with regard to Cuban affairs and the incumbency of Captain General Weyler.

Secretary Sherman also received a long cable dispatch from United States Minister Taylor at Madrid. Presumably it is in connection with the happenings of the day in that city, but as it was in cipher the secretary was unable to disclose its contents. The secretary declined to make any statement in regard to the matter further than to suggest that it indicated the confidence of the queen in the ministry.

Death of Judge Gibson.

Salem, N. Y., June 7.—Hon. James Gibson died at his home here, aged 80 years. For the past 60 years he had been a lawyer and one of the most prominent members of the bar in northern New York. In 1850 he was elected judge of Washington county and served four years. Judge Gibson was elected state senator from the Twelfth district, then Washington and Rensselaer counties, in 1866, serving his term with distinguished ability. For many years he was a member of the national guard and in 1867 was made brigadier general of the Twelfth brigade.

A Divine Healer Found Dead.

Denver, June 7.—Francis Schlatter, who claimed to perform miraculous cures by divine power, was recently found dead in the foothills of Sierra Madre, 35 miles southwest of Casa Grande, in the state of Chihuahua, Mexico. He had been fasting, and apparently starved to death. While in Denver, from Aug. 22 to Nov. 13, 1895, about 200,000 people visited Schlatter to receive treatment.

On a Sightseeing Tour.

Philadelphia, June 7.—Delegates from cities and towns of Mexico and of the Central and South American states, 49 in number, who came here to the big pan-American trade congress, which closed on Friday, have left this city for their six weeks' sightseeing tour of the United States. All the commercial and industrial centers of the eastern and western states and some few of the southern states will be visited.

Railway Contract Awarded.

Montreal, June 7.—Dan Mann of this city and William McKenzie of Toronto have been awarded by the Canadian Pacific railroad the contract for the building of the Crow's Nest railway from Lethbridge, N. W. T., to Robson, B. C., a distance of 300 miles. It is said that the work will cost from $25,000 to $29,000 per mile.

Sunk In a Collision.

London, June 7.—In a dense fog off the mouth of the Tyne, the British steamer Ganges, Captain Dykes, from Montreal May 18 for Newcastle, collided with and sank the Norwegian steamer Diana. The latter went down almost immediately, but her crew clambered aboard the Ganges and were saved.

Kentucky Democrats.

Louisville, June 7.—The National Democrats of Kentucky will hold a state convention in Louisville July 14, and put out a candidate for clerk of the court of appeals. County mass conventions will be held on Saturday, July 10, to select delegates.

NO ROOM FOR ROAD HOGS.

There are so many road hogs on bicycles and in wagons, so many respectable riders who are ignorant of the ordinary rules and ordinances with reference to riding and driving, and such a demand for a definite and reliable statement of the rights and privileges of all who use the highways, that it has been suggested that all these matters should be fixed by statute. There are reason and commonsense in the suggestion. A few years ago bicycle riders did not know and could not know what ordinances governed them with reference to lamps, bells, etc., when they left one borough and went into another. There were no rules at all in some and very severe penalties in others. In 1896 the Legislature passed a law requiring uniform ordinances in all cities, boroughs and townships, and now the law is the same everywhere. There should be uniformity of rules and regulations with reference to passing wagons and carriages, with reference to turning out upon carriages and bicycles meeting, and in short, with reference to all the privileges of the road. Courteous drivers and riders have no difficulty, but the road hogs need to be restrained.—Elizabeth Journal.

A TRIO OF LOST BOYS.

Cried Because They Did Not See Their Aunt —Had Her Address All the Time.

Saturday afternoon, Roundsman Flynn found three little boys crying at the North avenue station. Between their sobs, they explained that their elder brother had put them on the train at Jersey City and that their aunt, whose name they did not know, was to meet them here. They did not find her and therefore wept accordingly. They gave their names as James, William and John Monroe, of 363 East Seventy first street, New York, aged ten, eight and six years respectively.

Chief Grant telephoned to New York to find their destination in this city when the oldest of the three produced a slip of paper with the name and address of his aunt, which he had had in his possession all the time but had forgotten in the excitement. Their aunt was Mrs. Mackafee, of 137 Berckman street, and the children were escorted to her home by Chief Grant.

G. A. R. Goes to Westfield.

A delegation numbering about fifty, from Winfield Scott Post, G. A. R., the Woman's Relief Corps and the Sons of Veterans went from this city to Westfield, last evening, to attend the memorial services held in the Methodist church of that place. The visit was made in response to an invitation from the pastor of the church, Rev. William H. Ruth, who preached an interesting sermon commemorating the heroes of the late war. Westfield members of the G. A. R. were also present.

Fell and Broke His Arm.

Henry Roose, of Grove street, while playing upon the roof of the Babcock building, Saturday evening, fell off at the rear of the building. Both bones of the boy's forearm were injured and a bad bruise was sustained upon the forehead. He was taken to the office of Dr. Endicott where ether was administered and the bone was set.

Festival Season Here.

Pfingst Monday, the anniversary which the Germans observe to mark the opening of summer festivals and picnics, was celebrated today by a bicycle run of members of the Saengerbund, to Elizabeth and return.

Christians Cycle Run.

The bicycle sociable of the Epworth League of the First M. E. church will be held tomorrow evening, if the weather is suitable. It is not only for the members of the league, but for their friends as well.

way of new hard floors, windows, electricity and other accessories of a beautiful home. These were all found charmingly complete on their arrival. The gentlemen and business firms who have assisted in these improvements during the past few months include Messrs. O S. Teale, architect; A. D Phillips, electrician; Spicer & Hubbard, Woolston & Buckle, Boughton & Terwilliger, John P. Emmons, G. Q. Packer, J. W. Gavett and C. M. Thorp.

To the decorations thus prepared for the delight of the returning travellers, they themselves have contributed in things of art and beauty gathered in their journeyings through many countries. These consist in parts of divers curious and oil paintings and photographs, and include a very dignified and handsome marble bust of the "Young Augustus" brought from the studio of Larkin G Meade, of Florence.

Runaways in the Borough.

A team of horses owned by Milkman Waldron, of Coddington avenue, started to run away on Watchung avenue early this morning. The horses were caught by Street Commissioner Conover before they had gone very far, and there was no damage. A little later a horse owned by W. L. Smalley, the Somerset street butcher, was standing in front of former Mayor B. A. Hegeman's house on Myrtle avenue, and while the driver was in the house the horse ran away, and before being caught had reached Race street. The animal, fortunately, did not strike anything, and in this case there was no damage.

Assisted in Laying a Corner Stone.

The members of Stone Square Lodge of Colored Masons had charge of the laying of the corner stone of the new colored Baptist church in Cranford yesterday morning. They attended in a body. Past Grand Master William J. Douglass was present and took the leading part in the laying of the corner stone.

NOTICE!

Is hereby given that the subscribers, Commissioners of Adjustment in and for the City of Plainfield, appointed by the Circuit Court of the County of Union, on the Twenty-ninth day of May, A. D. 1897, for the purpose of performing the duties and executing the powers conferred by Chapter CXII of the Laws of 1886, entitled "An Act concerning the settlement and collection of arrearages of unpaid taxes, assessments and Water rates or water rents, in Cities of this State, and imposing and levying a tax, assessment and lien in lieu and instead of such arrearages, and to enforce the payment thereof, and to provide for the sale of lands subjected to future taxation and assessment," passed March 30, 1886, and the amendments thereof and supplements thereto, will meet at the Council Chamber, No. 109 Park Avenue, in the said City of Plainfield, on the eighth day of July, A. D. 1897, at the hour of two o'clock in the afternoon of that day, to hear, either personally or by counsel, all persons interested in the re-assessment or adjustment under said act, of the taxes, assessments or water rates in arrears in the said City

WESTFIELD

VICTORY AT ELIZABETH.

WESTFIELD'S BASEBALL TEAM WON, SCORE 19 TO 5.

Married and Single Men Teams Played an Interesting Game on the Home Grounds—Other Items of Interest to Westfield.

The Westfield Club's baseball team went to Elizabeth on Saturday and defeated the team of that city by the easy score of 19 to 5. The game was exciting until the sixth innings, at which time the score stood 4 to 4. In the sixth and seventh innings, however, Westfield being 4 to 4. In the next two innings, however, their pitcher weakened, and was pounded all about the field by the visiting batsmen. Westfield scored fourteen runs in the sixth and seventh innings, and one in the eighth, while in these three innings Elizabeth only scored one run. The Westfields exhibited excellent all-around team work. Higgins pitched an excellent game, striking out twelve men. In the sixth and seventh innings, Rogers and Crooks made fine catches, while McDeed, Crooks and Higgins led in the batting for Westfields, each making a two-base hit. Next Saturday the Westfields will play the strong Steiton Athletic Club team on the North Broad street grounds. The Steltons are composed largely of Rutgers College men, and may be depended upon to furnish an exciting game.

Teams representing the married and single men of the Westfield Club played an interesting game of baseball on the North Broad street grounds, Saturday. The contest was close, the single men winning by the of 28 to 26. Both teams hit the ball hard, and good humor reigned throughout. An unfortunate incident of the game was the illness of Charles Harbison, a member of the single men's team, who was overcome by the heat while at the bat. The batteries were: For the single men, Ayers and P. Randolph; for the married men, Griswold and Flagg. Among those who did brilliant work were: John Dorvall, C. E. Pearsall, E. Baker, Payne and William Knight. William Stitt umpired the game.

Dr. and Mrs. Alfred H. Scofield are at home to their friends after today.

The Baptist Sunday school teachers will hold a meeting in the church this evening.

Rev. Wm. H. Ruth, of the Methodist church, has been ill today, the probable result of over-work.

A successful operation for gravel was performed upon Albert A. Drake, at his residence on Westfield avenue, yesterday, by Dr. Sherman Cooper, of this place, and Dr. Geeen, of Elizabeth. The patient is now said to be doing nicely.

Interesting Children's Day services were held at the Willow Grove chapel yesterday afternoon. Superintendent Martin Clark was in charge of the exercises. All the Westfield pastors were present and said a few words. The singing, under the direction of Roland Randolph, was excellent.

John King, the nine-year-old son of Carson H. King, of Dudley avenue, will fight shy of bone grinding machines, hereafter. He amused himself on Saturday afternoon by playing with such a machine in the cellar of his father's house, and had the index finger of his right hand nipped off. Dr. Cooper was summoned and dressed the wound.

The strawberry and ice-cream festival which was given by the Ladies' Sewing Society of the Presbyterian church on the church lawn, last Friday evening, was a success, notwithstanding the storm. The phonograph entertainment in the lecture room in connection with the festival was under the direction of Charles Johnson. The different selections were much enjoyed by a good-sized audience. The proceeds amounted to about $60.

Alexander Hamilton, a colored lad about 10 years of age, forgot to take his rabbit foot along when he attended the base ball game in Westfield, Saturday afternoon. As a result a stone that that was hurled at another youngster, struck him on the head and took away his senses for a time. A number of boys about the grounds had been amusing themselves by poking fun at William Morrow. One of them prodded their victim in the back with a stick, and in a rage he caught up a large sized stone and threw it wildly. The missle struck the inoffensive boy and made a scalp wound. He was dazed for several minutes. Bystanders carried him to the office of Dr. Cooper a short distance away where the wound was stitched up. In half an hour Alexander had recovered from the effects of the blow sufficiently to walk home.

THE AMERICAN QUEEN COMPETITION.
A Columbia FREE!

A lady's Columbia Bicycle, 1897 Model, will be given to the winner in THE AMERICAN QUEEN competition, which will be open to all the subscribers to THE AMERICAN QUEEN until June 30, 1897.
The Columbia, the standard bicycle of the world, has been selected for this competition, because the publishers of THE AMERICAN QUEEN are convinced that it is the best and that the woman who wins it would have it in preference to any other make.
The Columbia is now on exhibition at our store and will remain on exhibition until June 30th, when the competition will close and the Columbia will be awarded to the fortunate winner.
The contest which we have just inaugurated, by or through which some subscriber to THE AMERICAN QUEEN is going to win a fine, high-grade $100 Columbia Bicycle, is already well under way. The contest will remain open until June 30 1897. The conditions and plan of this contest are simply these: We purpose presenting a Columbia Bicycle, 1897 Model, to the lady subscriber who furnishes the best menu, for one week, for a family of five, the cost of such menu not to exceed $10 for the week.
The merits of the menus submitted will be passed upon by the Editor of THE AMERICAN QUEEN, Miss Mary L. Bisland, and the person furnishing the best menu, in Miss Bisland's judgment, will be presented with the bicycle.
The menu submitted should be enclosed in one envelope and the name of the sender in a separate one, the two being handed in or sent in together, addressed to us. The envelopes containing the menus will then be numbered and sent to Miss Bisland and the envelopes containing the names reserved by us, and when Miss Bisland makes her choice of the menus she will inform us of the number of the winner and we will then announce the result in local newspapers and THE AMERICAN QUEEN.
The only requirement necessary to admit you to this contest is that you be a subscriber to THE AMERICAN QUEEN.
The splendid wheel which will go to the winner is on exhibition in the store and may be seen at any time.
We want everybody to feel free to go into this contest and we hope that hundreds of our customers will fix their minds on good things to eat and mould them into an acceptable menu for the week, and at the same time keep the cost down to $10.
THE COMPETITION.—Our aim in offering this competition is to have every lady we can reach with this announcement become a reader of THE AMERICAN QUEEN. THE QUEEN is published at $1 a year, but to give all our friends a chance to get this splendidly useful home publication for the ensuing year and at the same time have a chance to become the proud possessor of the standard cycle, we shall until the 30th day of June receive subscriptions (only one, however, will be taken from each family) for the nominal fee of 25 Cents a year. Come to the store at once, register your name, receive your receipt for THE QUEEN for one year and try to win the Columbia.

Proceedings of the Board of Chosen Freeholders of Union County.

[OFFICIAL.]

Adjourned meeting of the Union County Board of Chosen Freeholders held on Thursday, May 20th, 1897, at 2:30 p. m.

Roll call showed all members of the board present.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read.

Freeholder King moved that the words, "for the ensuing year" in so far as they referred to the election of Jas. W. Fink, as County Road Inspector, be stricken out, which motion was unanimously carried.

The minutes were then on motion approved as read.

COMMUNICATIONS, PETITIONS, ETC.

From E S. Edwards, State Supt. N J. S. P. C. A., stating that E. P. Edwards, Pres. of the Union County District Society, had called on him with reference to certain fines that were withheld from his society by the county authorities, and who said that he was unable to get the fines which legally belong to the society.

The attention of the board was called to Sec. 19, session laws of 1880, as amended by act of March 23, 1883; also Sec. 15, same act.

Mr. E. S. Edwards had been informed that all the cases tried were brought in the name of the New Jersey society; such being the case, it was clear to him that the county authorities were culpable and legally liable for withholding said fines.

Freeholder Roll said he believed the society was engaged in a good work, and if entitled to anything from the county the society should receive it. On his motion the matter was referred to the County Attorney.

From Mrs. Fannie E. Bates, Pres of the Cranford "V. I. A.," stating that the said association was interested in providing a street sprinkling service for the township of Cranford.

As North avenue, running through said township, was a county road, it was asked if the county would pay towards the said service on North avenue.

Received and on motion of Freeholder Littell referred to the county road committee.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

From James W. Fink, County Road Inspector, and presented as the annual report of the county road committee:

Elizabeth, N. J., May 12, 1897.

To the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union:

Gentlemen—The undersigned would respectfully submit to your Honorable Body the following report of county road repairs for the year 1896, and to the present date of 1897:

On North or Westfield avenue 11,578 feet have been repaired with 1½ inch stone at the following places: In Elizabeth at Elmora 123 ft. on Bayway, Pope's Summit to Lorraine in Roselle, at Lehigh Valley R. R. bridge in Cranford, and at Garwood. 2,760 ft. have been top dressed with fine stone, and 34,105 ft. of gutters have been cleaned.

On St. George's avenue 7,823 ft. of road have been repaired with 1½ inch stone at the following places: West of Glaser's bridge at the Forty Acre Road, and in Rahway 18,126 ft. of gutters have been cleaned.

On Morris avenue 9,339 ft. of road have been repaired with 1½ inch stone at the following places: In Springfield at Springfield and Summit township line, and at Spring Lake Hotel, 2,955 feet have been top dressed with fine stone, and 25,120 ft. of gutters cleaned.

On Mountain avenue 3,068.11 of road have been repaired with 1½ inch stone at the following places: From the residence of Mr. Brill to Style's Corner and at Westfield and Scotch Plains township line 1,800 feet have been top dressed with fine stone, 6,933 feet of gutters cleaned; also near the residence of Mr. Vanderpool, on Morris avenue, 56 feet of road have been taken up and relaid with Telford and MacAdam, and 80 feet of tile drain laid; also 190 feet on the Boulevard have been repaired with 1½ inch stone, making a total of 6½ miles of road repaired with 1½ inch stone, nearly 1½ miles top dressed with fine stone, 15¼ miles of gutters cleaned, 33 miles of road top dressed with clay. The total cost of this work is $14,003.21.

March 26, 1897—To present date, 3 days and 6 hours work of man, ¾ day of team, and 6,700 of stone, 63c per ton at crusher, repairs on water wagon; total, $13.61. Grand total, $14,016.82.

Very respectfully,
James W. Fink, Inspector.

On motion of Freeholder Miller received and placed on file.

From the committee on Collector's bond:

To the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union:

Gentlemen:—Your committee on the Collector's bond respectfully report that they have examined the bond of the County Collector submitted to them, and consider the same in proper form, with good and sufficient sureties, and we recommend that the same be accepted by the board, and filed in the County Clerk's office.

Signed John F. Wahl, Fred Miller, James A Burnett, committee.

The bond was for the sum of $20,000, with John W. Whelan, Meline W. Halsey, John Kean and E. C. Woodruff as sureties.

On motion of Freeholder Farrell the report of the committee was received and the recommendations adopted.

From the committee on appropriations as follows, viz:

Elizabeth, N. J., May 20th, 1897.

To the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union:

Gentlemen:—Your committee on appropriations, after carefully estimating the probable necessities of the various departments of the county government, providing for the payment of twenty-seven thousand dollars ($27,000) bonded debt, maturing during the year, and making ample provisions for the interest charges now falling due on county road and other bonds, are of the opinion that with an economical and business-like administration of county affairs, notwithstanding the very large increase in election expenses, over which they have no control, would respectfully report and recommend that the sum of two hundred thousand dollars ($200,000), together with the sum of twenty-two thousand dollars ($22,000) assets now on hand be appropriated for the current year.

Your committee would further recommend that the amounts above mentioned be certified to the county Board of Assessors, and placed in the tax levy for 1897, as per accompanying resolution

Resolved, By the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the county of Union, that the sum of two hundred thousand dollars ($200,000) be raised by tax for the use of said county for the years 1897 and 1898, to be appropriated, together with twenty-two thousand dollars ($22,000) of the assets of the county, for the following purposes:

For Courts	$36,000
For County Jail	6,000
For Lunatics	37,000
For Compensation and Lawful Expenses of Chosen Freeholders and Committees, and Salaries of their Officers	9,000
For Fees of Coroners	1,00
For Elections	17,000
For Stationery	3,000
For Advertising, Publishing and Printing	2,000
For Incidental Expenses and Schools, Burial of Soldiers and Monuments	12,000

To be assessed and collected in the manner and at the times prescribed by the laws for the assessment and collection of taxes for the use of the State, and the laws for the assessment and collection of taxes in the cities of Elizabeth, Plainfield and Rahway, in said county respectively; and that the board hereby direct the assessors of the respective townships, boroughs and wards in said county to assess the said sum of two hundred thousand dollars ($200,000) on the inhabitants and their estates, agreeable to the law for the time being for the raising of money by taxation for the use of the county of Union, State of New Jersey; and that said assessors meet at the Court House in the city of Elizabeth, on the third Monday in July, next, at 10 o'clock a.m., to adjust and ascertain the proportion of said sum to be levied in each township, borough and ward in said county; and that the clerk of the board send a copy of this resolution to each of said assessors.

Signed, John Farrell, Addison S. Clark, James C. Ogden, George W. Littell, Jacob Brucklacher, Committee.

Freeholder Krouse moved that the report be received and the resolution adopted, which motion on roll call was adopted unanimously.

From the Committee on Plainfield bridges:

To the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union:

Gentlemen: Your committee appointed to examine, etc., as to the need and probable cost of two (2) new line bridges on Watchung and Sycamore avenues, over Green Brook, in the city of Plainfield, between Somerset and Union counties, would respectfully report that they met the Somerset county board, and after due examination would recommend that an iron beam bridge, brick arches, center pier, concrete filling, 75 ft. span over all, 60 ft. wide, be built on Watchung avenue; also a culvert on same avenue over mill race, same width; further, that a low truss iron bridge be built on Sycamore avenue, 45 ft. span, 60 ft. wide, 36 ft. roadway, and 12 ft. sidewalk on both sides of bridge. The total cost of both bridges not to exceed $8,500 to this county.

It is further reported that the Somerset county board have agreed to the construction of said bridges, at a similar cost to said county.

Signed, John H. Tier, J. M. Roll, Jas. C. Ogden, Addison S. Clark, John Robison, Committee.

Freeholder Farrell moved the adoption of the report, and on roll call it was unanimously adopted.

NEW BUSINESS—RESOLUTIONS.

By Freeholder Ehrlich:

Resolved, That a committee of five (5) be appointed to examine into the condition of the Monroe street bridge, at Rahway, and report at the next meeting of this board as to the probable cost of making whatever repairs may be deemed necessary and advisable.

Freeholder Littell moved the adoption of the resolution, and it was adopted without dissent.

The director appointed as the said committee Freeholders Ehrlich, Farrell, King, Hulskamper and Brucklacher.

By Freeholder Swain:

Resolved, That the County Attorney be and is hereby requested to prepare a bill to authorize the Board of Chosen Freeholders to construct and maintain a street railroad, or street railroads, either single or double track, on the county roads of this county, or any part of said county roads, and to widen or change the grade of such county roads, or any part thereof, where necessay, to permit the construction and operation of a street railroad thereon, and that said bill contain a provision authorizing the Board of Chosen Freeholders to lease such street railroad, or street railroads, when constructed, to any person or corporation, for a terms of years, on such terms as may be agreed upon, and to renew such lease from time to time; and be it further

Resolved, That said bill, when prepared, be presented to one of the members of the Legislature from this county for introduction in the Legislature at the special session to be held on the 25th inst.

After some discussion Freeholder Roll moved that the resolution be referred to a committee of one (1) said committee to obtain all the data possible on the subject, and report to this board at the first meeting in September next.

By Freeholder Roll:

WHEREAS, It is the opinion of this Board that it is needful and necessary for county purposes that the county should acquire the land adjoining the county property on the south, known as the Sheridan House property, and the lot belonging to John M. Hetfield; therefore be it.

Resolved, That the said properties be purchased by the county at the price already agreed upon, and that the Director, County Attorney and Building Committee of this board be and they are thereby authorized to complete such purchase.

On motion of Freeholder Swain the preamble and resolution were on roll call adopted unanimously.

By Freeholder Farrell:

Resolved, That bonds to the amount of twenty-eight thousand dollars be issued by this county, the proceeds of which are to be used for the purchase of property adjoining the county property, and the expense attending same, and that the Director, County Attorney and County Collector be authorized to procure such bonds, which shall be coupon bonds, and bear interest at four per cent., payable at the option of the county after ten years, and become due at the end of twenty years, and shall be dated July 1st, 1897.

On motion of Freeholder Brucklacher the resolution on roll call was unanimously adopted.

There being no further business, Freeholder Krouse moved to adjourn, which was carried.

The Director declared the board adjourned until Thursday, June 3d, 1897, at 2:30 p. m.

S. RUSLING RYNO, Clerk.

WASHINGTON NOTES.

The recent police census of Washington shows a population of 277,483 persons, 87,853 of whom are negroes. At first the significance of these latter figures does not occur to the casual observer. They represent the largest negro population of any city in the United States. Other cities may have a larger per cent. of their population black, as do some of the smaller Southern cities, but none has so many negroes as the capital has. In fact, excepting the cities of New Orleans and Louisville, no city of the South is as large as the colored population of Washington. Atlanta and Nashville are claiming their hundred thousand now, but the census of 1890 shows either of them as twenty thousand or more short of the blacks of Washington. In other words, if the black people of Washington should move down South and build themselves a city it would be the third city in size in all that section.

The present colored population is larger that the entire population of the District in 1860. It is larger than the population of either Arizona, Idaho, Nevada, Oklahoma, or Wyoming, and is greater than the vote in 1896 of Delaware, Florida, Idaho, Mississippi, Montana, Nevada, New Hampshire, Vermont, North Dakota, Rhode Island, South Carolina, South Dakota, Utah, or Wyoming.

It is larger than the entire Italian population of New York State and nearly half the Italian population of the United States, and more than half the entire French population of the whole country. The English, Irish, and German population of New York exceeds it, but it exceeds the Irish population of Boston by 3,000 and that of Chicago by 17,000. New York, Chicago and Brooklyn are the only cities which have more Germans than Washington has negroes, and there are nearly seventy thousand more negroes at the capital than its combined population, which is 18,770.

No city in the Union is equal in population to the colored population of the national capital except Boston, Denver, St. Paul, Providence, Indianapolis, Albany, and Columbus. It is larger than the Irish population of any city in the Union except New York and Philadelphia.

The bicycle is helping to expedite the clerical work of the executive departments at the State, War, and Navy building. Stands for bicycles were erected in the basement of the big stone structure some time ago. Others are now to be added, and a stationary pneumatic-tire pump has been placed in the courtyard. This extraordinary kindness on the part of the Government toward its employees is not wholly unselfish. There is a method in it, which an official instrumental in having the stands and pump erected explained to a Sun reporter.

"We found," he said, "that the men and women who ride wheels got down early in the morning, so we decided that bicycle riding was a good thing to encourage. The cyclists are always on time, usually ahead of time, while many of those who walk or depend on the street cars are not. Then again the clerks who ride bicycles work with a vigor lacking in some of the other employees. They spend more time in the open air, wheeling develops their muscles and brains, and altogether the bicycle is helping the Government, particularly in clerical efficiency.

The especial pet of Washington society at present is the new Secretary of the Turkish Legation, Seifeddin Bey, whose Apollo-like form and features have earned for him the name of "The Greek God." He is one the handsomest and most dashing men attached to the Diplomatic Corps for many years, and is a striking figure in the daily promenade of the West End. Although a Turk of pure blood, Seifeddin would pass in any company not acquainted with his lineage for an American, Russian, or anything but a Turk. He is of medium size, strongly and compactly built, with a round head, covered with short, crisp, blond curls, and eyes as blue as those of a Norseman. His form and features recall the pictures of the young gladiators of the Roman arena and the busts of Augustus Caesar. Seifedden Bey is very much of an American in his manners and dress, and but for the fact that he can scarcely articulate a word of English he would pass in a crowd for a typical New Yorker. His clothes are evidently made by a Fifth avenue tailor, and he is always dressed in the height of fashion. He astonished even the members of the Metropolitan Club last Sunday when he appeared on Connecticut avenue wearing a long black frock coat, a black silk hat, and gloves as white as the driven snow. At the running races at Bennings, patronized by the beauty and fashion of Washington, who seclude themselves in a private clubhouse from the spectators on the grand stand, the young diplomatist, wearing a loose-fitting sack suit and a white slouch hat much the worse for wear, was seen the other day engaged in placing bets with the bookmakers and was constantly in and out of the stables studying the points of the runners. He seemed to be thoroughly informed on racing matters and perfectly able to make his bets intelligently despite his lack of acquaintance with English. SENATOR.

SPANKING AN ELEPHANT.

An Occurrence in India in which One Animal had to Punish Another.

Did you ever see an elephant spanked? Scarcely, for they don't do such things in this country, but they do in India. Captain Martin, of the British army, stationed at Campbellpore, vouches for this story. Elephant Abdull (No. 15) was on trial for killing his keeper, Syce Rambouclies, by picking him up by the legs and crushing his skull against a tree.

The president of the court-martial was Major Cameron, of the Thirty-fourth Hagras Native Infantry. He read the charge and then witnesses proved that Abdul was guilty as charged. The president then sentenced the culprit to fifty lashes and to two years' imprisonment.

Two elephants led Abdul to an open space and in the presence of the whole battery the punishment began. The culprit trumpeted in fear and made an unearthly noise.

There were fourteen elephants on one side and the officers and men of the battery on the other three. In the centre of this hollow square stood Lalla (No. 1), the flogger, and the prisoner. The latter was chained by the four legs to as many heavy iron pegs, and could not move.

Fastened to Lalla's trunk was an immense cable chain. When all was ready, the Major gave the word, and down came the chain with a resounding whack. Abdul roared for all he was worth. Fifty times was the operation repeated, and then Abdul was taken to a compound, where he remained a prisoner for two years.—New York Journal.

Delicate Dress Goods.

Some gowns are so dainty in the weave, so delicate in tint, that they seem to soil by being looked at—one or two wearings making them unpresentable, NOT USELESS. We make a specialty of cleaning fine fabrics, the more delicate the material, the better the results. Sometimes an accident will ruin a gown, without injuring the texture We dye them then, sometimes we get a prettier effect than the original color. Fine goods stand redyeing. The finer the material the better the new color. We charge so little for cleaning or dyeing, that even if you are in doubt as to the result, it's worth while, to experiment. Want a new evening gown for a dollar or two? Laundry drivers will receive your work.

CRUSHED BY FALLING WALLS.

Three Fireman Lose Their Lives at a Fire In San Francisco.

San Francisco, June 7.—A fire in the southeastern part of the city cost three firemen their lives and entailed a property loss of $100,000.

The killed are John Mahoney of chemical engine No. 6, Frank Keller, steward of hose cart No. 2, and James Hallinan, driver of truck No. 1.

The fire started mysteriously in the four-story brick building owned by Schoth & Westerfield and leased to the Standard Biscuit company. After the first alarm the fire chief turned in a second and general alarm. A stiff breeze fanned the fire within the brick walls, causing it to spread with extraordinary rapidity. Adjacent to the brick factory was a row of old wooden buildings, including a branch of the Salvation Army barracks and the Southern police station.

Floor after floor of the cracker factory fell in, rendering the walls unsafe. Then the east wall of the factory toppled over, and a sheet of flame spread over the area adjoining. With the crash of the east wall occurred the tragedy of the conflagration. A falling timber struck Fireman Mahoney on the leg, breaking it. He refused to allow his comrades to carry him away in their arms, insisting that he must be borne off on a shutter. All but two of the band of firemen ran to procure a shutter, and just as they left their injured comrade, the wall fell, burying beneath a mass of brick and mortar Mahoney and his faithful friends. The three bodies were recovered. The loss to the brick building is estimated at $40,000, with $60,000 loss on the contents, consisting of machinery and stock. The damage to the Salvation Army barracks was $1,000, and the police station nominal. The biscuit factory was operated by a corporation organized a year ago.

TO VISIT THE FAIR.

Programme of the Presidential Trip to Nashville on Friday.

Nashville, June 7.—The week of the exposition just ended has been most satisfactory from every point of view. Large numbers from distant states were here every day, and the coming week undoubtedly will show a great increase in attendance. This week will end with the visit of President McKinley upon Ohio and Cincinnati day. Preparations are being made to give him a hearty and enthusiastic welcome, and all parts of the state will be represented.

The programme for Friday, the day President McKinley arrives, is as follows: The president, Governor Bushnell of Ohio and party will be escorted to the Maxwell House for breakfast, after which Governor Taylor will be received. At 10:30 the presidential party will be escorted to the centennial grounds, accompanied by Governor Bushnell and staff and Governor Taylor and staff. The escort will include United States and Tennessee troops.

At 11 o'clock, in the auditorium, addresses of welcome will be delivered by President Thomas, Mayor McCarthy and Governor Taylor. Responses will be made by State Senator Clark of Ohio, Governor Bushnell and the president. Luncheon will follow and then the inspection of buildings and grounds.

At 5 o'clock the president, Mrs. McKinley and the ladies of the party will hold a reception for ladies in the Woman's building. Saturday morning at 11 o'clock President McKinley will hold a public reception in the auditorium and also will participate in the exercises of Cincinnati day. Saturday night the president and party leave for Chattanooga.

THE MAGOWAN FAMILY.

Quite a Pretty Squabble Occurs at Their Residence In Trenton.

Trenton, June 7.—People residing in the neighborhood of ex-Mayor Frank A. Magowan's colonial mansion were awakened about midnight Saturday by a disturbance, in which the ex-mayor, his two boys and a policeman were the central figures. Mrs. Magowan and her children live next door to the house occupied by the ex-mayor and Mrs. Barnes. It is claimed that Magowan and Mrs. Barnes walked past the house where Mrs. Magowan and her children reside an unusual number of times. The boys believed it was done with the deliberate purpose of annoying their mother.

They began to shout at Magowan and told him to take Mrs. Barnes into the house, and, it is said, made uncomplimentary remarks about her. Magowan walked into the yard of his former wife's house after the boys. They ran into the house.

Meanwhile Mrs. Magowan sent for a policeman and ordered the arrest of the ex-mayor. The latter ordered the policeman to arrest the boys, but the policeman declined to do either without a warrant. The matter was soon quieted down by Magowan leaving. There has been some talk about warrants being issued, but at police headquarters it was said no steps had been taken as yet by either side.

PASSING FORGED CHECKS.

J. Standwood Dodge In Jail on That Charge In Virginia.

Alexandria, Va., June 7.—A well dressed man, giving the name of J. Stanwood Dodge, has been arrested here for passing a forged check. When searched at the station, a large number of checks on Washington and Alexandria banks were found in his possession, also a letter supposed to have been written by his wife, Mrs. Kate S. Dodge, of New York city.

Dodge claims that he has a wife living in Maine and that he was a lieutenant in a company in the Fifth Massachusetts regiment during the war. He denies that he or his wife was ever in New York. Sergeant Smith, who made the arrest, believes the man to be an all around crook, as he answers the description given on several postal cards received at police headquarters of a man who is wanted for crooked work. The prisoner is about 50 years of age.

Incendiarism Suspected.

Altoona, Pa., June 7.—Fire was discovered in the New York Clothing company's store, and before it was extinguished all the stock was badly damaged by fire and water. The fire was without doubt of incendiary origin. Manager Louis J. Greenberg says there was $20,000 worth of goods in the store, but that statement is not credited. The stock was insured. The building, which is owned by Postmaster Wilson, was not badly damaged.

TO SUE FOR DIVORCE

Mrs. Yarde Buller Arrives Here to Commence Proceedings.

WIFE OF LORD CHURSTON'S BROTHER

Was the Daughter of a Wealthy Californian and a Widow When She Married the Man Whom She Now Seeks to Be Freed From.

New York, June 7.—The Hon. L. K. Yarde Buller of Churston court, in Devonshire, England, the wife of Walter Yarde Buller, brother of Lord Churston, has arrived from England. She brought with her the two sons of her first husband—Lieutenant R. Kirkham Blair of the First Devon, and Arthur Kirkham Blair.

Mrs. Yarde Buller announced that she intended to bring suit for absolute divorce against her husband. Her proceeding against him for a legal separation last July attracted much attention, both in this country and in England.

She is a daughter of the late General R. W. Kirkham of Oakland, Cal. She was the widow of D. Boyle Blair, an Englishman, when she met Mr. Yarde-Buller in 1885. They were married in the following year. Lord Churston settled Churston court upon her, and she became a lady in waiting to the queen.

General Kirkham died in 1894, and she came over to join in a contest growing out of his will. When she returned to England, she took back Valentine Gadesden, who acted as her agent. She brought suit for divorce against her husband, charging him with statutory offenses and with extreme cruelty. He made a counter charge of cruelty and named Gadesden as corespondent. She secured a legal separation in July, 1896.

Will Sue For Absolute Divorce.

"I shall bring a suit for absolute divorce," she said. "If Mr. Yarde Buller says that he is too poor to come over and answer it, a bailiff will be sent to his house at Lupton. This man will sit before the door all summer, so that all the guests can see him. They can't get rid of him, and they will have to feed him. I shall not ask for alimony, because all he has is mine anyway.

"I left England because I wanted a rest. I am tired of the law. I have had 28 different suits growing out of this trouble, and I have won them all. Lord Russell is one of my counsel. Lord Churston has brought suit against me to recover Churston court. He says that now that I have separated from his brother it is his.

"The judge said that he was really suing himself, because he is my guardian and trustee. He never heard of such a case. I told them to send for Gilbert and Sullivan. The judge reserved his decision.

"I will not hear anything against Mr. Gadesden. He was the best man in the world, and he slaved for me. He found them neglecting my interests when he got to England, and he took charge of them. He helped to educate my boys and looked after all my affairs.

"I made the speech for the county at the golden jubilee, and they chose me to do the same again, but I just came away. The people will all leave London during the jubilee. It gives the Americans, the Rothschilds and Barney Barnatos a chance to spend money, and it will be a good thing for trade. Diamonds will go up, but the people will not stay there."

Mrs. Yarde Buller will remain in the city for a few days and will then go to San Francisco, where she will consult her counsel. She is a slight woman, with an animated manner and a knowledge of the law, of which she says she is fond. She has plenty of determination.

"They wanted the law," said she, referring to her husband and his family, "and they have had enough of it."

Mr. Gadesden died near Baden, in Germany, in September of last year. Mrs. Yarde Buller nursed him in his last illness.

Butchers' Association.

Albany, June 7.—The Butchers' Mutual Protective association of New York state has begun its annual state convention. Over 100 delegates will be here from Troy, Schenectady, New York, Brooklyn, Syracuse, Utica, Binghamton, Rochester, Buffalo, Poughkeepsie, Newburg, Kingston, Auburn, Rome and Lyons. The butchers will parade and hold a monster picnic.

Insomnia Causes Suicide.

Lockport, N. Y., June 7.—Roger Keep, 30 years old, a member of one of the wealthiest families in Niagara county, committed suicide at his home in this city by shooting. Keep was a sufferer from nervous prostration and inability to sleep. It is believed that he killed himself while temporarily insane.

CONDENSED TELEGRAMS.

The San Francisco board of supervisors unanimously adopted a resolution petitioning congress not to abrogate the Hawaiian reciprocity treaty.

There have been 50 desertions from the battleship Oregon since it arrived in Puget sound, about two months ago. As a rule, the deserters were new men, who chafed under the restraint and discipline.

An Italian laborer at Clinton Point, N. Y., was crossing the track when the Chicago flier, running 55 miles an hour, struck him and threw him to one side. With the exception of a few scratches, the man was uninjured.

R. B. McCornell, the defaulting president of the defunct Merchants' National bank of Ocala, Fla., has committed suicide. He sent a bullet through his brain and before medical aid could be summoned was a corpse.

Thomas C. Smith, a wealthy resident of Greenpoint, N. Y., was arrested, charged with embezzlement in accepting money belonging to the government from John Corwin, his son-in-law, a paymaster in the navy.

Aeronaut John Walters was killed at Centerville, Ia., while dropping from his balloon with a parachute. Walters was caught in a cluster of telegraph wires, the parachute rope broke, and he fell 40 feet, dying shortly afterward.

The Hamburg-American line steamer Fuerst Bismarck, Captain Albers, from New York for Hamburg May 27, ran down an English fishing boat in the North sea while in the midst of a thick fog. Five occupants of the boat were drowned.

GOSSIP OF THE CYCLERS.

TEMS INTERESTING TO DEVOTEES OF THE STEEL STEEDS.

The Popular Exercise Provides Incidents and Expressions That are of Especial Moment When Wheeling is the Rage

Cort Adams and Fred Adams, of Netherwood, rode their wheels to Coney Island, yesterday.

James Whalen, of Newark, rode his wheel to Plainfield yesterday and spent the day with his father on West Third street.

The meet of the Crescent Juniors' which will be held on Crescent Oval, June 12th, gives promise of being very successful. The entry list is already large.

Although Justice Collins, of West field, has declared that bicycle riding for pleasure on Sunday is illegal, it is not likely that the practice will lessen. Justice Collins, by the way, is himself a Sunday cyclist.—Elizabeth Journal.

The Atalanta Wheelmen of Newark will hold a race meet at the Waverly track on June 19. The following events will be contested: Half-mile novice; one-mile handicap; one mile open; one and a half miles tandem, handicap; half-mile handicap; one-mile triplet. The club cleared $1,500 on its Decoration Day meet.

The road hog is increasing in number. Cyclists should report every instance where they are wantonly kept out of their road rights by drivers. The publication of such facts, including the names of the "hogs" will have a great tendency to stop the practice, as law breakers do not court publicity of their contemptible acts.—Elizabeth Journal.

VARIOUS SPORTS.

The ground in the rear of the Y. M. C. A. building has been fixed up for out-door games and is now in good condition. The ground has been leveled off and a wire screen placed at the rear. It is proposed to have tennis courts there, a net having been donated by Albert Finch, of Belvidere avenue. Preparations have been made so that minton, volley ball, shot putting, high jumping and pole vaulting can be enjoyed by the members. The baseball team will also be able to practice throwing and catching on the grounds.

AROUND THE BASES.

George McBeth, of Zanesville, Ohio, has secured a position at the Potter Press Works. Mr. McBeth is a crack base-ball player and last season he played with the crack team at the above Ohio town. He has been secured to play on the Plainfield Athletic Club team and will occupy second base next Saturday for the first.

—The Junior Christian Endeavor Society of Warren chapel is preparing its annual missionary offering to go to Miss Rachael Maier in Africa. Friends who care to send contributions can send them to Mrs. J. O. McKelvey, 61 Grandview avenue.

—Ben, George and Charley, formerly with the Plainfield Packing House, 153 West Front street, would be pleased to see their friends and customers at their present place of business, City Market Meat Company, 104 North avenue, opposite The Daily Press office.

—Car No. 19, of the street railway, while making its last trip last evening killed a cat on East Front street opposite the store of Powlison & Jones. The car was stopped by the police but the feline was too far gone to do anything. This morning the animal was removed.

Mrs. J. M. Dryden, of West Seventh street, has returned after a visit with relatives in Baltimore.

Miss Nora Schenck, of Manning avenue, is confined to her home by illness. Dr. Zeglio is in attendance.

A. D. Porter and family, of New York, who resided last summer at No. 43 Craig place, spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Leader, of Duer street.

APPEAL TO MINISTERS.

ANTI-GAMBLING AMENDMENT SAID TO BE IN DANGER OF DEFEAT.

Leader of the Crusade Against the Racetracks Sends a Letter to all Pastors in the State Urging Them to Action.

Rev. Dr. Kempshall, the anti-racetrack crusader and president of the Citizens' League, sent out Saturday to all the clergymen in New Jersey the following document:

"Dear Brother—This circular letter is addressed to the pastors of churches in New Jersey in order to 'stir up their minds by way of remembrance' of the vote which is to be cast on September 28 next upon the anti-racetrack amendment to the Constitution, which is now submitted by the Legislature to the people for their approval or disapproval.

"We have good reason for believing that a determined and desperate effort will be made to defeat this amendment. There is no less reason to fear that, unless the friends of this measure are thoroughly awake to the danger and prepared to marshal their forces in full strength at the appointed time, this effort may be successful.

"Our success up to the present point has been gained very largely through the efforts of the pastors of our churches, with the cordial co-operation of the press of the State, in informing the people and arousing them to concerted action against the iniquities of the race-track gambling. We turn to you again in most urgent appeal that you will not relax one iota in your interest and vigilance in this question of so momentous importance to the civil and moral interests of New Jersey. One more determined effort, dear brethren, and by the help of God, victory, final and complete, will be ours. We are only asking of you now that you keep this issue, in full realization of its importance, upon your minds and hearts."

Miss Maud French, of Craig place, is spending a few weeks at Alexandria Bay, N. Y., with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Coriell, of West Front street, are at the Labelle Inn, Atlantic City, for a couple of weeks.

J. L. Bird and Mr. Matthews, of Jersey City, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Kettenring, of Race street, yesterday.

Miss Kenney, of Spooner avenue, is improving from a recent operation performed at the hospital for septic peritonitis.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Jackson have closed their home on Crescent avenue and gone to their beatiful summer residence at Alexandria Bay, New York.

Mrs. Alonzo Brokaw and Miss Sophie Elliott, of Grove street, were visiting in Beechwood Heights, last week. They rode there on their wheels.

Ralph Campbell, of Netherwood avenue, is home from the University of New York for the summer vacation. He successfully passed all his examinations and is now a full-fledged senior.

Andrew Krog, of South avenue, who has been confined at the hospital for a few days as the result of an operation to his hand, was discharged this morning and he will be able to go to work soon.

Mrs. J. S. Harberger has returned from New York where she spent the winter at the Waldorf, and has opened her country House, "The Homestead," on West Front street, where she will pass the summer with her daughter and son in-law, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Bachem.

—Arthur Beekman, of West Fourth street, has secured a position with W. L. Smalley, the Somerset street butcher.

—Presiding Elder George W. Smith preached at the First M. E. church, yesterday morning. His discourse was a very interesting and helpful one.

—"The White Wings," as the squad of men working under Street Commissioner Gavett are called, are now at work on Watchung avenue improving the roadway.

—The work of wiring the West End Hose house is being done today so that everything will be ready for the informal opening this evening. The borough council has accepted an invitation to be present.

—The Children's Camp, on the mountain, needs a large oil stove, for cooking, several small rockers, five window shades and a pair of piazza steps. Anyone having either of the above articles will please notify Mrs. Zabriskie, 437 East Fifth street.

—The celebration of Holy Communion was observed at Warren chapel yesterday morning. There were four candidates who were admitted to membership upon confession of faith.

BARLEY-RAISING A SIN IN MAINE.

The Farmers will not Grow It to Sell for the Manufacture of Malt.

The brewing of malt and distillation of alcohol are and long have been regarded as very wicked by many people in Maine. But down in the big Aroostook country the farmers, or a portion of them, are actually up in arms against a proposition to increase their prosperity by the cultivation of barley as a crop. Frank Jones of Portsmouth, N. H., who uses a vast amount of barley in his breweries and who is also very largely interested in Maine, conceived the idea that it would be a good plan to have enough barley for his use produced on the fertile plains of Aroostook instead of sending to Canada for most of what he uses, as he does now. The Secretary of the State Board of Agriculture and the State land agent thought the idea a most admirable one. An arrangement was made whereby Mr. Jones, at his own expense, sent several carloads of barley into the Aroostook region, and Land Agent Oak undertook to supervise its distribution among the farmers.

One would have supposed that the tillers of the soil would have been grateful for such aid and opportunity as were thus gratuitously offered to them. But they were not. Far from it. Instead of meeting with gratitude and commendation, the State's agent has had to face what is described as "a storm of opposition." The Aroostook grangers are up in arms against barley and barley-raising. The members of the Houlton Grange have formally condemned barley-raising for beer-making purposes, and as no farmer can be absolutely certain that, if he raises barley and sells it, it will not be used for the manufacture of malt, it is obvious that they have practically pledged themselves not to raise any barley, except for their own use. It is asserted that the grangers in every town in the county have joined the county temperance league in a "crusade" against what was intended to be a beneficent project. The clergymen have joined in the hue and cry against the grain.—Hartford Times.

AN APPLICATION FOR A POSTOFFICE.

A Happy Idea for Husband and Wife not to be of the same Politics.

About four years ago a Republican in a Western town, who kept a general store, helped his wife, who is a strong Democrat, to get the appointment as postmaster. The office was in his store, of course, and naturally stimulated trade. But, as a Republican is now likely to be appointed in her place, the husband thinks he might as well be that Republican, and so has written a letter to his Congressman, in which he says: "I suppose there will be several applicants for the post office here. I think that a change should be made here at once. I have nothing to say against the character of the present incumbent and no charges to make against her. But, George, as you well know, she is one of the most bitter Democrats in this county. She talked and worked for Bryan so openly and persistently that I think it would be well to have her fired at once, and I want the place. I don't send you a petition in my behalf because the folks here don't seem to think it would be proper, under all the circumstances. I rely on our old friendship to secure your hearty indorsement.—New York Tribune.

"Amatory Theatricals."

An old lady who lived in the West, and two daughters being educated in Paris. She desired them to return and they pleaded for a longer sojourn. "The girls," she said, "has been so long in Paris, they begin to think themselves Parasitas." These same girls were warmly devoted to private theatricals, and often took part in them. Somebody told the old lady that one of her daughters had engaged herself to a Frenchman, one of the actors, whereupon she exclaimed, "I always said no good would come of them amatory theatricals!"

Revision Needed.

Wilkins—"Such idioms as 'Between the devil and the deep sea,' though very expressive, are not exactly up to date."

Simpson—"They're not? Well, how would you improve on the one you quoted, for instance?"

Wilkins—"Well, I think a more modern plan would be to say 'Between the trolley car and the scorcher.'"—Punch.

Bear in mind that we manufacture all our bedding, and guarantee every article produced in this department as strictly first-class in its grade. We make Excelsior, Husk, Cotton and all grades of Hair Mattresses in strictly high grade tickings.

It is neither nice nor neat to use bedding from one year's end to another without having it thoroughly cleansed. You change your bed linen every week, in fact you wouldn't sleep in unclean sheets. Why not, then, see that your bedding is renovated at least once a year—and oftener? We will thoroughly cleanse it and make it as pure and sweet as the sheet that covers it. For this we charge you but five cents a pound. Our method for renovating is a perfected and patented process, which has been indorsed by physicians and hospital authorities.

RE-UPHOLSTERING — We give particular attention to the re-upholstering of couches, lounges, chairs, etc., in the best possible manner at reasonable prices. Let us give you a figure.

LEGISLATED FOR CITY.

COMMON COUNCIL CARE FOR THE WELFARE OF ITS CONSTITUENTS.

Charge Made Against a Firemen—Ben Hall's Case to be Carried to a Higher Court—Not to Interfere With Bicyclists.

The city fathers were all present at the regular June meeting of the City Council held last evening and peace and harmony reigned supreme. One man occupied a seat in the lobby and before the meeting adjourned he retired. There was not a great deal of important business transacted, but that which was considered was put through in a reasonable amount of time.

Residents of Netherwood avenue, between North avenue and George street, asked for two electric lights, and the merchants of the city asked that the centre of the town be illuminated with eleven arc lights instead of the incandescent lights. Both petitions were referred to the proper committees. The Plainfield Water Supply Company, in a communication, stated that three additional fire hydrants had been located as directed by the Council and were now ready for use.

Petitions were received from J. O. Campbell and Wm. Rockwell, in which they presented their side of the case in the matter of the collection of back taxes under the Martin Act. Mr. Campbell,s bill amounts to $205 53, and Mr. Rockwell's is $17 50. The former stated that he was assessed for more property than he owns, but is willing to settle the bill for $100. Mr. Rockwell said that he has a certificate showing that his taxes are paid, and that he only owns half of the property for which he is assessed. Both matters were referred and the clerk was instructed to communicate with the two petitioners, telling them that the matter of settlement had passed out of their hands and would be referred to the Commissioners appointed to adjust such cases.

In a letter the Mayor stated that charges had been presented to him by J. L. Blackford against L. S. Dunavan, a member of the fire department. The charges are that on the evening of May 19th. the defendant assaulted Mr. Blackford by striking him with his fist in the breast, and that by so doing did violate an ordinance regulating the fire department. These matters were placed in the hands of the Fire and Building Committee.

Corporation Counsel Craig A. Marsh, in a communication, presented several matters to the council for their consideration. The case of the City against Benjamin Hall was cited first. Mr. Marsh stated that the Common Pleas Court had set aside a conviction of City Judge DeMeza in imposing a sentence of fine and imprisonment upon Benjamin Hall, and he doubted whether the above Court had the authority to do such a thing. He asked the council to give him the power to take the case to a higher court for the purpose of ascertaining the right in the matter. Later in the evening the power was granted. Mr. Marsh also reported concerning the case of Michael Watson. He said that Watson had been released upon a technicality purported to have been committed in the office of City Judge DeMeza by a clerk who had accepted a plea previous to the trial of the case.

The last matter reported on by Mr. Marsh was regarding the bonds of the Plainfield Sanitary Company. The bonds were referred back owing to the fact that the location of the plant was not located in the bond. The matter was adjusted and later in the evening the bonds were referred to Mr. Marsh for certification.

Street Commissioner Gavett reported $32 having been received from the granting of sewer permits, and Chief Doane for the Board of Engineers reported the resignation of Abner Bartlett from Alert Hose Company, and the election of R. F. Murray as first assistant and Townsend Rushmore as second assistant foreman of the company. The resignation was accepted and the election of Messrs. Murray and Townsend was confirmed. Chief Doane, as inspector of buildings, reported that twenty-one permits had been granted during the month. This report, together with the monthly reports of the Collector and Treasurer, was filed.

Mr. Barrows stated that the Police Board had been given the option of three places for a police station, but in the judgment of the committee it was thought best for the city to erect a building of its own, and he asked for the committee the privilege of taking the preliminary steps toward the erection of a suitable building for the above-named purpose. The permission was granted and the committee will first learn under what law they can proceed and they will then report to the Council.

A CHARMING MUSICALE.

PUPILS AT THE SEMINARY RENDERED A PROGRAMME.

The Various Numbers Given With Skill, Accuracy and Expression to the Enjoyment of Those Who Were Present.

Yesterday afternoon a delightful musicale was given in the parlors of the Plainfield Seminary by the pupils of the musical department under the training of Miss May, of New York. The following programme was rendered with skill, expression and accuracy, for not only is Miss May's own command of the piano masterful, but she has the power of imparting to her pupils such a knowledge of music that composers like Schubert, Mendelssohn and Greig were interpreted with real artistic power:

March Militaire.....Schubert
Misses Harriet Elnar Strong and Ruby Kieb
Sunday Morning.....Kullak
Merry Wanderer.....Stichl
Master Will Schoonmaker.
Song Without Words.....Mendelssohn
Miss Ruby Kieb.
Waltz Elfentanz }.....Greig
Shepherd's Dance.....Gregh
Miss Mary Wadsworth.
Minuet.....Schubert
Papillon.....Greig
Miss Harriet E. Strong.
Impromptu.....Schubert
Miss Ruby Kieb.

One of the pleasing features of Miss May's instruction is the teaching of her pupils to memorize their pieces when learned, so that, for the most part, the performers played without notes.

In the absence of two of her pupils, Miss May, herself, gave by request, the "Flatterer," by Chaminade, and "Widmung," by Schumana, with such rare execution that they elicited an enthusiastic encore. Miss May gave in response "Gondilera," by Moskowski.

At the close of the musical programme, Mrs. Charles Sprague Smith, of New York, the instructor in the art department, read a deeply interesting paper entitled, "How to Criticise a Picture." The knowledge of the artist's conception and study of the artist's thought, she considered indispensable to just criticism. An exhibition of the art student's work was given in an adjoining room, while light refreshments were served. In this exhibit the work done by the life class and composition in black and white, was of especial merit.

An Engagement Announced.

The engagment is announced of Miss Edna Burnett Hanshew, a granddaughter of Mrs. Peter Wyckoff, of East Sixth street, to Alfred Poole, a wealthy young Englishman, who has spent some time in the United States. Miss Hanshew formerly lived in this city but for the last three years, has been residing with her parents in London. Mr. Poole is, at present, a resident of that city and there the couple will live after the marriage. Her sister, Miss Leona Hanshew, fourteen years old, recently won first prize in English composition at the Crystal Palace, London, with an essay on "Cruelty to Animals."

A Good Fraternal Insurance.

J. H. Primrose, special organizer for the Improved Order of Heptasophs, is in town for the purpose of instituting a Conclave. This is an insurance order giving $1,000 to $5,000. It is well-known in this section, having several Conclaves at Newark, Paterson, Passaic, Red Bank, Asbury Park, and Somerville. It has been running twenty years at an average cost of only nine assessments per year. It only costs $7 50 to be a charter member. For further information call on the agent at the City Hotel and get your name on the charter list.

Knights Templar Field Day.

The Grand Commandery of Knights Templar of New Jersey will hold its field day at Morristown, on Thursday, October 14th. There will be the drill and dress parade and the banquet in the evening. Trinity Commandery, of this city, has secured its headquarters at the United States Hotel, in which the Grand Commandery has also established its headquarters. The field day was held in this city, last year and proved a very successful affair. This year the people of Morristown will be given a chance to show their hospitality.

On the Seductive Cigarette.

J. W. Pierce, Picture Evangelist, of Montclair, will open one week's engagements of illustrated temperance meetings, tomorrow night, in Washington Hall, on West Second street. By the aid of the stereopticon Mr. Pierce will fully illustrate his subjects. The first subject will be "The Cigarette, and How They Are Made." Following this, will be many beautiful views showing the workings of the Epworth League and Christian Endeavor societies. Admission free.

NEW LAWYERS IN TOWN.

WILLIAM NEWCORN AND F. J. BLATZ TO HANG OUT SHINGLES.

The Latter Will Graduate from New York University Law School Tonight—Mr. Newcorn to Combine Legal and Judicial Duties

Francis J. Blatz, of Somerset street, and William Newcorn, of West Front street, are now both full-fledged lawyers, have successfully passed their examinations at Trenton. Yesterday they went to Trenton to take their oral examinations and both passed with flying colors. They were formally notified in the afternoon that they were attorneys-at-law.

This evening, Mr. Blatz will attend the commencement exercises at the New York University Law School, when he will graduate. He has been studying in the law offices of ex-Mayor John H. Van Winkle when not in college and will remain there for the present. He already has many friends and is bound for a successful legal career.

Mr. Newcorn will continue as before at his offices on West Front street, combining his services as an attorney with those of the justice of the peace, which office he already holds. His earnest work in the past promises him to be a careful and skillful lawyer, capable of handling the affairs of his clients with satisfaction. He passed under the Five Counselors act and his certificate was signed by five of the best-known lawyers in this part of the State. Among the signers was James J. Bergen, who was well known as one of the principal opponents to that act.

At the same time that the two already mentioned passed their examinations, Mrs. Keeler, of Camden, the first woman to go through under the Five Counselors act, successfully passed her examinations.

Writ of Attachment Issued.

Legal proceedings have been started against Dr. J. D. Wood, of Crescent avenue, by his creditors. Neuman Brothers and Jed. M. Smalley secured writs of attachment from Justice Mosher through their lawyers, Swackhamer & Williams, which were served yesterday by Constable Rockafellow. Dr. Wood owes both dealers large bills. Dr. and Mrs. Wood have been absent for nearly three weeks and the creditors claim that the household goods are quietly being removed. Hence the writ was served yesterday and Constable Rockafellow stocd guard during the night,

Loyal Temperance Legion Officers.

Until yesterday afternoon, the Loyal Temperance Legion has had no officers except the two superintendents, Miss Beekman and Wickham Williams Beekman. Yesterday, however, after the lesson of the day, a business meeting was held and the following officers were elected to hold office two months: President, Sarah Head; vice-president, Dora Wilson; secretary, John McClelland; lookout committee, Ethel Day, Edna Barth, F. Long, Walter Wilson; department committee, May Weigman, Frank Weigman.

Sanitarium to be Enlarged.

Dr. J. Cooley is planning to build a large additiou on the Jackson avenue side of his sanitarium on Westervelt avenue. The new wing is to be sixty feet long and three stories high. It will contain twenty rooms and an electric elevator running from the basement to the third story. A porte cochere is to be built on the other end. The plans for these improvements have been drawn by Lancaster and Rogers.

Boys' Club Exhibit.

The Boys' Club house on Sycamore street was crowded last evening with the friends of that organization who came to see the annual exhibition of work done by the boys. This exhibition was held several weeks ago and was repeated last evening to give all a chance to see it. The exhibition was very creditable and the numerous visitors were much surprised at all that had been accomplished by the boys, a number of whom were present and went through the regular work.

Paul's Advice to Timothy.

Mrs. Powlison led the devotional exercises at the meeting of the Primary Teachers' Union yesterday afternoon, and Mrs. Mosher taught the lesson, "Paul's Advice to Timothy." A short business meeting followed and the treasurer reported that there is a little over $5 in the treasury. It was announced that Mrs. Petit, of Elizabeth, would teach the lesson next Monday afternoon.

Councilman Barrows Honored.

A Plainfield citizen was greatly honored at the Produce Exchance, yesterday, by being elected to the vice-presidency of that institution. Councilman Elliot T. Barrows, of West Eighth street, was elected to fill that office after an exciting contest. He was chosen by a vote of 600 to 317.

JUNE, MONTH OF BRIDES.

A HAPPY UNION OF LOVE CONSUMMATED AT HYMEN'S ALTAR.

Miss Minnie B. Timpson, of Newark, Married to Robert S. Osborne, of Belleville, at the Bride's Uncle's in New Market.

A charming June wedding was celebrated yesterday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Bird, of New Market, when their niece, Miss Minnie B. Timpson, of Newark, and Robert S. Osborn, of Belleville, were united in marriage by Rev. Mr. Durand, pastor of St. James' P. E. church, of Newark.

The home was a scene of beauty by a profusion of choice flowers. Especially in the parlor, where the ceremony was performed, was the floral display the most attractive. The flowers were banked in a tasteful manner each side of the doors through which the bridal party entered, while smilax was prettily festooned about the room.

While the bridal party entered the parlor the Mendelssohn wedding march was executed by Miss Mollie Chapin, of Newark.

At the altar they were met by the officiating clergyman who performed the ceremony according to the Episcopal church. The bride was gowned in white brocaded satin trimmed with duchess and point lace. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses. The bridesmaids were Miss Eva Chapin and Miss Minnie Farley, of Newark. The former was gowned in white and green organdie trimmed with lace and ribbons, while the latter wore a gown of white and pink organdie also trimmed with lace and ribbons.

The best man was Benjamin H. Timpson, brother of the bride, who gave his sister away in marriage. Following the ceremony the happy couple were showered with congratulations by their friends and relatives.

After congratulations a wedding dinner was served to the guests. The table was prettily decorated with flowers of many colors.

Later in the afternoon the bride and groom left for an extended bridal tour and on their return they will reside where they were married. The groom is an employ of the United States Trust Company. Both he and his wife were handsomely remembered in receiving two beautiful and costly presents. The other presents were equally costly and useful.

Those present to witness the ceremony were Mr. and Mrs. John H Osborne, Spencer Osborne, Hanford Osborne, Elsie Osborne, Mrs. Perry, of Belleville; Mrs. Benjamin Timpson, Benjamin Timpson, Mrs. Chapin, Miss Mollie Chapin, Mrs. Palmer, Mrs. Arthur McMahon, Mr. and Mrs. Urquhart, Miss Cooper, Miss Urquhart, Charles J. Urquhart, Frank Urquhart, W. H. Bruen, E. A. Bruen, of Newark; Mr. and Mrs D. H. E Jones, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Cochen, Mrs. Chase, of Brooklyn; Mrs. Edward Timpson, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Andrews, of Montclair; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Bird, of New Market.

TROLLEYED TO A DINNER.

Mayor and Mrs. Fisk Entertained Guests in a Novel and Royal Manner.

Mayor and Mrs. Charles J. Fisk last evening treated a number of their friends to a trolley ride and a dinner at Mountain Park Inn. The party left the home of the host and hostess shortly after 6 o'clock, taking possession of a special car on the Somerset street trolley. Mountain Park Inn was reached in due time and at 7 o'clock the party sat down to supper. Covers for thirty were laid. After the supper a ride back to the city was enjoyed.

Among the party were Mayor and Mrs. C. J. Fisk, Mr. and Mrs. R. Cox, Miss Cox, Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Mas r, Mrs. W. T. Kaufman, Mrs. Pliny Fisk, Miss Schoonmaker, the Misses Coe, Miss Fisk, Miss Lawson, W. W. Stockton, Master Mason, Augustus Fisk, F. Schoonmaker, C. W. Fisk, Reeve Stockton, T. Earl Stockton, Arthur Talmage, G. Jarvis Coe and H. Chapman.

A Costly Residence.

Lancaster and Rogers, the Babcock building architects, have completed plans for a $5,000 residence for David C. Smalley, which is soon to be erected on East Front street, near Richmond street, on the Grace church property. It is to be a frame dwelling of modern style with a tower and octaginal piazza on one corner. The house will be fitted with all the modern improvements.

Warren Chapel Repairs.

Repairs are now being made at Warren chapel. A new piazza is being erected and the fence and board walk re-laid and put in good condition. In the interior, improvements are also being made. The Berean room is being papered and a new coat of paint on some of the woodwork will greatly add to the improvement of the rooms.

HOSE HOUSE OPENING.

BOROUGH FIREMEN AND OFFICIALS HAD A FESTIVE TIME.

West End Hose Company Now Ready to Do Battle With the Fire Fiend—Speeches and a Good Time in General Last Night.

The formal opening of the West End Hose house was held last evening and was in every particular an auspicious one. The commodious and pretty little house was filled with the members of the West End Hose Company, Warren Engine Company and friends of both companies, while the presence of the Plainfield Cornet Band was the occasion of a fine selection of music. The meeting was called to order by Foreman Kellar, of the West End Hose Company, after which the seat of honor was given to Chief David Bodine, of the Fire Department. Mr. Bodine in a well-chosen speech welcomed the friends of the two companies to the new house and complimented the home company in having such a complete hose house.

During the festivities speeches were made by former Mayor B. A. Hegeman, Jr., Councilmen Burtis and MacLoughlin, ex-Chief G. H. Fairchild, Assistant Chief James D. Anderson and Electrician Julius Stahl. Following the speeches several selections were rendered by the band and refreshments served. After the inner man had been well supplied the cigars were passed around and those present indulged in relating amusing stories. Mayor Wilson was unable to be present, owing to a slight indisposition, and other members of the Council were detained for good reasons.

The house and equipments are now complete and the company ready for duty. They appreciate the efforts of the borough Council to furnish fire protection for that section, and they will endeavor to give the best of service.

TROUBLE OVER A BICYCLE.

A Dealer and His Customer Almost Come to Blows Over a Bill.

A bicycle was the innocent cause of a quarrel yesterday afternoon that ended in the City Court this morning. Sigmund Frucht keeps a bicycle store at the corner of West Second street and Park avenue. Yesterday afternoon, he rented a wheel to a young man who is employed in Schwed's clothing store and the young man went to Elizabeth. On the way the chain broke and he had to stop and have it repaired. He paid for the repairing and secured a bill which he presented to Frucht for payment. Frucht refused to pay the bill and then they young man laid hands upon the wheel which he had brought to the store and said that he would not give up the wheel until the bill was paid.

Frucht laid hands upon the wheel also and trouble followed. Chief Grant arrived on the scene and ordered the combatants to desist and also appear before the City Judge, this morning.

This morning, both appeared before City Judge DeMeza and were ordered to appear for trial on Saturday morning.

ARGUMENT MADE OF IRON.

A Coupling Pin Wielded in the Hand of an Angry Man.

Trouble arose at the car house of the Plainfield Street Railway yesterday afternoon, at about 5 o'clock, between two of the helpers, in which one of them was knocked down and cruelly beaten.

Richard Higgins is a lad, nineteen years old, who is employed about the car house. A young man named Doty is also engaged there. A dispute arose between the two over some question and after wards flew about in rather unseemly haste. Higgins alleges that Doty started the fight and assaulted him.

Higgins' story is that Doty was angered at something that Higgins said and set upon him with a coupling pin. Higgins was evidently struck in the back of the head with something for a gash was cut there. Higgins said that the blow knocked him down and that Doty then set upon him and kicked and beat him until one eye was closed and his head was a mass of bruises.

Doty, it is understood, denies that he was to blame in the matter, but claims that Higgins was the aggressor and that he, Doty, merely defended himself.

Reported Fall of Snow.

Farmers coming in from over the mountains report that there was just a slight flurry of snow for a few minutes last night. It started with a cold drizzle which turned into frozen crystals, but did not continue long. In some places it was feared that there would be a frost.

—The Daughters of Rebekah will give an entertainment for the benefit of their lodge in Washington Hall this evening.

EDUCATIONAL MATTERS.

CONDUCT OF CITY SCHOOLS CONSIDERED AND DECIDED ON.

Changes in the Corps of Teachers Made Necessary by the New Departments That Have Recently Been Established.

The appointment of the teachers for the next school year was the principal business that attracted the attention of the Plainfield Board of Education at its meeting, last evening. It was the regular June meeting of the Board, the last before the public schools close for the summer, and there were several details for the Commencement to be arranged.

The meeting was held in the Board room in the Stillman building and all the members, the clerk and Superintendent Maxson were present. After the usual list of approved bills were read and ordered paid and other routine business transacted, the Board considered a bill from the Dunellen Board of Education for tuition of pupils living in the city limits but close to Dunellen. The bill amounted to $20.42 and was ordered paid if found correct.

The regular communication was received from Collector Bird, showing that taxes amounting to $935.72 had been collected, with interest amounting to $73.42, making a total of $1,009.-05, which had been deposited in the First National Bank to the credit of the Board.

A communication from the Mutual Life Insurance Company announced that interest of $950 was due. The interest was ordered paid and also $1,000 toward the principal.

A circular letter from the Department of School Administration, of Wisconsin, was read, telling of the annual convention of School Board Associations at Milwaukee. The Board was invited to send a delegate. The clerk was instructed to acknowledge the receipt of the invitation, and it was remarked that any member who cared to go would be made the delegate. It is probable, however, that Plainfield will not be represented.

Stevenson R. Hope, janitor of the Bryant School, wrote to the Board asking for a vacation of ten days after school closes, stating that his son would look after the building. The Board gave him a favorable reply.

Although the members of the Board have been already importuned regarding the appointment of a janitor for the old Seventh-day Baptist church edifice, which is now being converted into an overflow school, there was but one formal application made to the Board. It was from H. O. Corsa and was placed on file to await action. It was suggested by one of the Board that there should be one janitor for the Wadsworth school and the old church as neither was very large nor required much time.

A check from Superintendent Maxson was received by the Board, representing fines paid to him for damage done to the school books by the pupils.

Mr. Maxson also reported the request of Miss Force, of the Bryant school, that she be relieved of her duty as pianist for the morning exercises and be allowed to continue her other duties at her present salary. As she has been a teacher in the school for twenty-five years, the Board decided that she was justified in making the request and granted it. Mr. Maxson stated that Miss Mabel Mitchell was recommended by Miss Bullock, the principal, and other of the teachers to fill the vacant place. The Board accepted the recommendation and advanced her salary $25 for the extra work.

There was a general discussion over the question as to whether the Board should continue to pay the car fare for the teachers who teach in the Irving school. Mr. Maxson explained that it was done because there were no suitable boarding houses within easy walking distance of the schoolhouse and that the car fare had hitherto been allowed to equalize the advantages of the other schools. Mr. Lounsbury thought that all should have the same chance, but the rest of the Board was in favor of continuing the old plan.

President Probasco next read the report of the committee on teachers, Miss Sims, of the Washington school, and Miss Low, of the Bryant school, had declined reappointment and the committee recommended for their places, Miss Genevieve Laning for the Washington school and Miss Agnes B. Freeman for the Bryant school. They also recommended Miss Blanche A. Voorhees to take the place at the Bryant school of Miss Susie Davies, who is appointed to the Lincoln kindergarten, and Miss Ines B. Green to supply the place made vacant by Miss Marshal, who declined appointment before the list was made up. The rest of the

THE DREYFUS CASE.

Attempt to Prove That the Verdict Was Obtained by Fraud.

FORGERY IS STRONGLY SUSPECTED.

The Condemned Officer Has Steadfastly Claimed to Have Been Innocent—A New York Expert on Handwriting Will Examine the Documents.

London, June 8.—The Daily Chronicle gives prominence to the report that Professor Carvalho, the expert in handwriting, is going from New York to Paris to assist in reopening the case of Captain Albert Dreyfus, who on Jan. 5, 1893, on the parade ground of the Military school in Paris, in the presence of 5,000 troops, was drummed out of the French army and sentenced to life imprisonment on conviction of having sold war department maps and plans to a foreign government.

Professor Carvalho's evidence is invited by those who insist that the documents upon which Dreyfus was convicted are forgeries.

Dreyfus throughout his incarceration before the trial, throughout the brief trial, during the terrible ordeal of "execution parade," when his sword was broken and his buttons and insignia of rank were torn off, steadfastly protested his innocence, declared that even if he had given up documents to a foreigner it had been as a bait to obtain more important ones and said significantly, "In three years the truth will be known, and the minister himself will take my part."

Shortly before the "execution parade" Captain Lebrun, in whose charge he was placed at the Ecole militaire, where he was degraded, asked him if he had ever thought of committing suicide. He replied that he had thought of it on the day he was condemned, but that subsequent reflection convinced him that, being entirely guiltless, he had no right to take his own life, as he was certain that justice would be done him in three years.

His Statement After Condemnation.

Dreyfus made the following statement after his condemnation:

"In the chiffonier of a foreign embassy a paper is discovered announcing that four documents are about to be sent. That paper is submitted to experts in handwriting. Three of these report it to be my handwriting, two report that it is not, and on that evidence I am condemned. At 18 I entered the polytechnic school. I had a splendid military career before me, a fortune of £20,000 sterling and a certainty of an income in the future amounting to £2,-000 sterling a year. I have never run after women, never touched a card in my life. I had no need for money. Why, then, should I have turned traitor?"

The following is the text of the document found, it is said, at the German embassy:

"Having no news of you, I do not know what to do. I send you in the meantime the condition of the forts. I also hand you the principal passages of the firing instructions. If you desire the rest, I will have them copied. The document is precious. The instruction has only been given to the officers of the general staff. I leave for the maneuvers."

The report which caused the arrest of Dreyfus was signed by General Mercier, the minister of war; General Boisdeffre, chief of general staff, and Colonel Gomce, his assistant. The arrest was decided upon by the unanimous vote of 11 ministers, all of whom bound themselves to keep secret the details of the crime and the trial.

Sorg Wants to Be Senator.

Cincinnati, June 8.—The Times-Star publishes an interview with Congressman Paul J. Sorg, in which he officially announces his candidacy for United States senator in the event that the Democrats secure a majority of the members of the legislature to be elected next November. While other names have been mentioned the only other announced candidate is John R. McLean, proprietor of the Cincinnati Enquirer, who is now in the city conducting his canvass.

G. A. R. Department Appointments.

Albany, June 8.—Commander A. D. Shaw of the G. A. R. department of this state, has made the following appointments to his staff: Assistant quartermaster general, James Dolan, post 123, Watertown; judge advocate, O. P. Clark, post 498, Mount McGregor; department inspector, Frank Z. Jones, post 47, Rome; chief mustering officer, Michael J. Cummings, post 148, Brooklyn; senior aid-de-camp and chief of staff, George H. Stowitz, post 9, Buffalo.

Low Willing to Be Mayor.

New York, June 8.—President Low sent a letter to the Citizens' union last night, in which he said that he would be pleased to be the mayor of Greater New York and would be a candidate, but his responsibilities as president of Columbia university would deter. The letter intimates, however, that if the nomination were a spontaneous one and he was given full power, as he was when he was mayor of Brooklyn, he might accept it.

Instantly Killed by Lightning.

Macon, June 8.—While standing in a doorway at his home in South Macon during an electric storm Thomas Welch was struck by lightning and instantly killed. His wife, who was in a front room, was knocked insensible, but her baby; who was in the same room, escaped uninjured.

New Hospital For Printers.

Colorado Springs, June 8.—The plans submitted by architects of this city for a new $10,000 hospital for the Union Printers' Home in this city have been accepted, and its construction will be begun immediately.

Five Killed In a Collision.

Minneapolis, June 8.—A freight train and a work train collided on the Omaha road near Hudson, Wis. Five men were killed and their bodies burned in the cars. Several other persons were injured. Both engines were demolished.

Slanderer Sent to Jail.

Salem, Mass., June 8.—Jeremiah T. O'Sullivan of Lawrence, convicted of criminal libel of three city officers, has been sentenced to 18 months in jail by Judge Bishop.

THREE FRIENDS FREE

The Decision of Judge Locke Dismissing the Libel

NO PROOF OF VIOLATION OF LAW.

Other Cases Pending Against the Alleged Filibuster May Be Dismissed—Return of Commissioner Calhoun From Cuba With Official Information.

Jacksonville, Fla., June 8.—In the United States court Judge Locke has handed down a decision in the case of the steamer Three Friends, charged with violating the neutrality laws by carrying a filibustering expedition to Cuba, and also as an armed vessel, dismissing the libel for forfeiture. In giving the decision Judge Locke said:

"The care in examining the evidence in this case fails to find any testimony showing that the vessel was fitted out and armed within the limits of the United States. It does not show that she was loaded with arms and ammunition within 15 or 20 miles of the shore.

"The further charge that the vessel took on additional arms or ammunition on the island of Navassa, which is American soil, was not confirmed by the testimony. It shows that the vessel touched there for a short time, but it does not show that it did anything that is in violation of the neutrality laws of this country."

Three other cases are pending against the vessel, but they are likely to be dismissed, as the evidence is much the same as in the present case. The district attorney will await advices from Washington as to what future action to take in the present case.

Commissioner Calhoun's Return.

New York, June 8.—Among the passengers who arrived by the Ward line steamship Saratoga from Mexico and Havana were Ramon O. Williams, former United States consul at Havana, and William J. Calhoun, United States commissioner to Cuba, accompanied by George W. Fishback and Charles Pepper.

Mr. Calhoun, who was sent to Cuba to investigate the Ruiz case, said the commission, composed of General Lee, who represented the United States, and Dr. Congosta, Spanish consul at Philadelphia, who represented Spain, held three sittings between May 20 and June 1 in Havana, Regulus and Guanabacoa.

The papers examined in the case were chiefly military records, and the final report would be made to Washington by General Lee.

Mr. Calhoun declined to give his opinion in the case. Mr. Williams, when seen at Quarantine on board the steamer, said he had been traveling through Mexico and had a very enjoyable trip. When informed that his name had been mentioned for the Spanish mission, he looked surprised and said he had not received the offer.

Locomotive Hits Flat Car.

Chicago, June 8.—Three men and one woman were more or less seriously hurt at Twenty-seventh street, near the Park row station, when a rail which was loaded on a flat car was struck by an express train on the Illinois Central railroad. The rail stove through the front of one of the passenger coaches and struck a woman passenger who was occupying a seat. The others injured were laborers. Those who were injured are Mrs. C. L. Olmsted of Chicago, Thomas Murphy, section foreman; Louis Guzza and an Italian laborer, name not known. All are expected to recover.

Actress Attempts Suicide.

Niagara Falls, June 8.—Pearl Diamond, an actress, 35 years old, tried to commit suicide here by swallowing laudanum. She is out of danger now and will recover. The woman's right name is Mrs. James Keith. Her husband traveled with her, and they worked as a sketch team in vaudeville shows. Of late the woman has had a mania for telling her fortune with cards, and once she declared if her fortune did not come out right she would kill herself.

Fell From a Locomotive.

Binghamton, N. Y., June 8.—A man was discovered lying beside the Erie tracks about a quarter of a mile from Union, ten miles west of this city. He was unconscious and was carried to the station, where he was recognized as Michael Whalen of Corning, N. Y., a fireman on the Monitor. He was oiling a valve on the engine when he slipped and fell to the ground. No bones were broken, but it is feared he may be internally injured.

Explosion In a Coal Mine.

Monongahela, Pa., June 8.—By an explosion of gas in the Black Diamond mines of the Brown Coal company, two miles south of here, several men were injured, but none fatally. A rescuing party went immediately into the mine and all of the men were taken out before they were overcome by the deadly afterdamp. The gas is said to have been ignited by an open lamp, and the escape of the 300 miners was remarkable.

Woman's Work

Is never done, and it is especially wearing and wearisome to those whose blood is impure and unfit properly to tone, sustain, and renew the wasting of nerve, muscle and tissue. It is more because of this condition of the blood that women are run down,

Tired, Weak, Nervous,

Than because of the work itself. Every physician says so, and that the only remedy is in building up by taking a good nerve tonic, blood purifier and vitalizer like Hood's Sarsaparilla. For the troubles Peculiar to Women at change of season, climate or life, or resulting from hard work, nervousness, and impure blood, thousands have found relief and cure in

Bear in mind that we manufacture all our bedding, and guarantee every article produced in this department as strictly first-class in its grade. We make Excelsior, Husk, Cotton and all grades of Hair Mattresses in strictly high grade tickings.

It is neither nice nor neat to use bedding from one year's end to another without having it thoroughly cleansed. You change your bed linen every week, in fact you wouldn't sleep in unclean sheets. Why not, then, see that your bedding is renovated at least once a year—and oftener? We will thoroughly cleanse it and make it as pure and sweet as the sheet that covers it. For this we charge you but five cents a pound. Our method for renovating is a perfected and patented process, which has been indorsed by physicians and hospital authorities.

RE-UPHOLSTERING — We give particular attention to the reupholstering of couches, lounges, chairs, etc., in the best possible manner at reasonable prices. Let us give you a figure.

better worth following than any other will bring you direct to our store when you want anything in the line of paints. When a mistake is easily avoided it's scarcely worth while to run the risk of making one. Buying poor paint is a needless waste of money. It's paying for something you don't want, because it won't answer the purpose. Only paint that wears and is proof against the exposure of our climate is worth the cost of putting on. Ours are best and cheapest.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—The members of the Naval Reserve held a spar drill on the Portsmouth, Saturday afternoon. The members of the hospital corps were not required to attend, but Volney F. Green, of this city, a member, was present and took part in the drill.

Hundreds of thousands have been induced to try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy by reading what it has done for others, and having tested its merits for themselves are to-day its warmest friends. For sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

William C. Hubbard, of West Seventh street, has been confined to his home for a week with illness.

Mrs. W. L. Russell, of Willard, N. Y., has returned home after a visit at the home of her father, Rev. Dr. A. H. Lewis, of Central avenue.

"There's no use in talking," says W. H. Broadwell, druggist, La Cygne, Kas., "Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy does the work. After taking medicines of my own preparation and those of others, I took a dose of Chamberlain's and it helped me; a second dose cured me. Candidly and conscientiously I can recommend it as the best thing on the market." The 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

Lewis R. Blackford, of this city, is visiting out-of-town friends.

Miss Barker, of Grove street, is entertaining company from Brooklyn.

Mr. Isaac Horner, proprietor of the Burton House, Burton, W. V., and one of the most widely known men in the state was cured of rheumatism after three years of suffering. He says: "I have not sufficient command of language to convey any idea of what I suffered, my physicians told me that nothing could be done for me and my friends were fully convinced that nothing but death would relieve me of my suffering. In June 1894, Mr. Evens, then salesman fo the Wheeling Drug Co., recommended Chamberlain's Pain Balm. At this time my foot and limb were swollen to more than double their normal size and it seemed to me my leg would burst, but soon after I began using the Pain Balm the swelling began to decrease, the pain to leave, and now I consider that I am entirely cured." For sale by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

—The Seminary at Mattawan closed last evening and William E. MacClymont, of this city, was among those who assisted in the rendition of the musical programme.

—A rose festival will be held in the chapel of the First Presbyterian church on Thursday, June 17th.

Stands at the Head.

Aug. J. Bogel, the leading druggist of Shreveport, La., says: "Dr. King's New Discovery is the only thing that cures my cough, and it is the best seller I have." J. F. Campbell, merchant of Safford, Ariz., writes: "Dr. King's New Discovery is all that is claimed for it; it never fails, and is a sure cure for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. I cannot say enough for its merits.'

Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds is not an experiment. It has been tried for a quarter of a century, and to-day stands at the head. It never disappoints. Free trial bottles at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Randolph have returned from their wedding trip and taken up their residence on West Front street.

Electric Bitters

Electric Bitters is a medicine suited for any season, but perhaps more generally needed when the languid, exhausted feeling prevails, when the liver is torpid and sluggish and the need of a tonic and alterative is felt. A prompt use of this medicine has often averted long and perhaps fatal bilious fevers. No medicine will act more surely in counteracting and freeing the system from the malarial poison Headache, Indigestion, Constipation, Dizziness yield to Electric Bitters. 50c. and $1.00 per bottle at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

—The annual meeting and election of officers of the Christian Endeavor Society of the Seventh-Day Baptist church will be held on Thursday evening in the church parlors.

HARD TIMES IN NICARAGUA.

Economy the Watchword From the President Down.

Washington, June 8.—The extent of the financial distress in Nicaragua must be considerable from the account rendered to the state department by United States Consul Weisike at Managua. He says the government is trying in every way to pass safely through the present state of affairs by observing strict economy. Salaries have been lowered from the president of the republic down to the last employee, and a great many offices have been abolished.

The coffee planters are confronting bankruptcy, and to make matters worse the foreign and native commercial houses, on whom the planters depend for advances, have withdrawn their credits, owing to heavy losses.

OIL WORKS SHUT DOWN.

The Standard Company Close Their Entire Cleveland Plant.

Cleveland, June 8.—The entire plant of the Standard Oil works in this city shut down for an indefinite period. The foreman told the men that there would be no work for weeks. The men believe that during that time another section of the plant will be abandoned, carrying out the Standard's policy of making in this city only enough oil and other products to supply the home demand. Close to 1,000 men are thrown out of work by the shutdown.

It is said that the Standard has an immense stock on hand in the warehouses at Kingsberry Run, enough, in fact, to supply the demand in this district until Jan. 1, 1898, or longer.

Trouble In a Rubber Factory.

Hudson, Mass., June 8.—The rubber goods factory of ex-Congressman L. D. Apsley, where a sweeping reduction in wages was announced last week, did not open as usual yesterday. A notice was posted on the door announcing that the factory would be closed this week for the purpose of taking stock and adjusting prices. There was also a notice to the effect that the old employees could have their places by applying to Mr. Apsley in person. Several of the old employees read the notice, but few manifested a disposition to go to work under the reduction. It is thought, however, that the difficulty will be amicably adjusted during the week.

Spice Company Reorganized.

Toledo, June 8.—The Woolson Spice company, a controlling interest in which was recently acquired by H. O. Havemeyer and his associates, has been reorganized. Mr. A. M. Woolson retires from the position of president, the new officers being: Lawrence Newman, president; James Secor, vice president; W. A. Brigham, secretary and general manager; directors, A. M. Woolson, Lawrence Newman, John Berdan, James Secor, W. A. Brigham, R. A. Bartley, H. O. Havemeyer, Herman Sielcken and John H. Doyle. Mr. Woolson was relieved of the duties of president at his own request, on account of his health.

State Wants Damages For Felled Trees.

Malone, N. Y., June 8.—The state has begun an action against Stephen A. Roake of Onchiota, N. Y., for $25,000 damages for cutting 1,000 trees on state land two years ago on lot 226 in the town of Franklin. Mr. Roake was its superintendent and a member of the Smith & Leonard Lumber company. The penalty is $25 per tree. The attorney general has retained John P. Badger of Malone as special deputy, and Mr. Roake has engaged District Attorney F. G. Paddock of Malone to defend the suit.

Smallpox Not Epidemic In Toledo.

Toledo, June 8.—There is no smallpox scare in Toledo. Over a month ago the disease broke out in the Polish settlement, beginning with some men employed as ore shovelers on the docks. The locality was put under strict quarantine, and the disease has not spread beyond the infected center. There have been 17 cases. Two have died—one a baby, the other a woman. Four have been discharged, and 11 are still under treatment, but all will recover.

Accidentally Shot.

Wellsboro, Pa., June 8.—Frank Smith, aged 13 years, started out with a party of four other young men to walk up the mountain near Ansonia. Smith had a gun with him, and as he was climbing over some rocks he laid the gun on a rock above him. It slid towards him and was discharged, the charge entering his breast, killing him instantly.

Postal Congress to Meet In Rome.

Chicago, June 8.—The universal postal congress will hold its next sextennial convention at Rome, in February, 1903. This decision was reached at the last meeting of the body at Washington, but was withheld from publication. It will be formally announced at the close of the present convention next week.

Went Swimming Too Early.

Middletown, N. Y., June 8.—Three boys, aged about 16, went in bathing a week ago, when the water was extremely cold. Friday Charles H. Corwin died of quinsy. J. Cilton Sloat died yesterday morning, the result of a fever, and Harry Picot, the sole survivor of the party, is now at the point of death.

Shot the Burglar.

Shamokin, Pa., June 8.—Alexander Pierson, colored, aged 23 years, of Tower City, was shot and instantly killed by Dairyman George H. Brewer of Irish Valley while burglarizing the latter's farmhouse. The coroner's jury exonerated Brewer by finding that the shooting was justifiable.

Death of a Missionary.

Pittsburg, June 8.—Word has been received in Pittsburg that Rev. Dr. Methery, senior missionary of the Reformed Presbyterian church, died at Mensine, Syria, June 4. The deceased was well known throughout this country.

Stock Exchange Election.

Brick Wheelers' Strike.

Catskill, N. Y., June 8.—The brick wheelers employed by the Catskill Paving Brick works have struck for an increase of wages from $1.60 to $1.75 a day. They are still out.

CRANKS' COLUMN.

Suggestions that Emanate from Pens of Bicycle Riders.

During the past three years there has been a tremendous boom in the bicycle business in England. New companies have been formed, and old companies have doubled and trebled their capital stock, until the total amount of money invested in making these wheels is something enormous. Now it is seen that the business is overdone. There is a large surplus stock of wheels on hand, and the one way to sell them is to cut the price; but if that is done there will be a shrinkage of dividends on the vast capitalization, and that means a semi-panic in that line. The only chance is to sell the wheels in foreign countries. But there is small chance of that. France and Germany supply their own demand, and there is no market elsewhere in Europe. This country will not buy English wheels, because they are heavy and clumsy, according to our notions. Altogether, the outlook is stormy in the isle across the sea.

Owners of suburban real estate and farmers living near a city should be the last to urge a tax on bicycles. Nothing has exerted so marked an influence upon the rise of land values as the wheel. Thousands of residents of the city owe to the bicycle their first introduction to country life. They see the country under the most favorable auspices, and it is only a question of time when they will take up their residence in the suburbs. This increases the value of building lots, and every year sees farming land mounting in price as it is sought after by builders. Wheelmen demand good roads, and good roads mean good buildings. It has taken a long time for farmers to realize how wasteful they are in spending thousands of dollars every year to patch earth roads, instead of building stone roads that do not need patching, but there is evidence that they are learning the lesson.

Riding with extremely high gears will be overdone before the 1897 season is half over. An 80 gear is too high for all-round use under any circumstances. Numerous riders are starting out this year with 84's or higher. Nothing can be gained by any rider, no matter what his muscular power, by using anything higher than 72 or 74, speaking, of course, with reference to road riding. Extremely high gears have been judged excellent for track work by many well-known racing men, but there should always be a distinction between road gear and racing gear.

Women riders have some trouble with the lacing on the dressguards on the rear wheel. It occasionally breaks or becomes detached, and a writer recommends insulated wire as a substitute. This sounds very well in theory, but experience has proven the contrary. The wire will spread at the eyeholes, and when it does, is almost certain to tear the rider's skirt. With care in renewal, the soft cord dressguard is better than any substitute that has yet been devised.

It is announced by the great Pennsylvania Railroad that hereafter bicycles will be carried free as baggage throughout Pennsyvania and New Jersey. The wheelmen are jubilant over the news, and it is pleasant to record that the company made the concession without any coercion by the law-making powers. One by one the railways are falling into line in this matter.

In Baltimore parks wheelmen are not allowed to coast between 10 A. M. and 9 P. M., and we hear that "they complain bitterly against the restriction." According to their notion, they should be allowed to coast at all hours, the pedestrians to get out of the way or be run over. It is this class of wheelmen who create all the opposition to the sport that is occasionally manifested.

Two wheelmen are employed by the House of Representatives at Washington. Their salary is five dollars a day each, and their duty is to carry copy and proofs between the Capitol and the Government Printing office. This is what may be called combining a little bit of business with a great deal of pleasure.

Those short-sighted people who are in favor of taxing bicycles and applying the proceeds to make smooth and substantial roads should read up on Russia. In that country bicycles are taxed, and her roads are the worst in the world.

It is estimated that a bicyclist can travel over fifteen miles of good road on his wheel with less exertion than he can walk four miles on foot.

A bill for the taxation of bicycles has been defeated by the Vermont Legislature.

"It is imply astonishing the way the bicycle is displacing the horse!"

"It is, indeed. Yesterday I found a piece of rubber tire in my sausage!"

June 8—Festival at Hope chapel.

HE IS A CRANK.

We are astonished. In this, as we have always considered, quiet, beautiful homelike town, there lives a man who presumes to say that it is a noisy place—even distractingly clamorous in residential sections. "L. N." this man signs himself, this presumptous indicter of Plainfield's noise making elements. We don't know who "L. N." is—and don't care—but we think he is a crank of 42 000 Jackass power; else why should he allege what no one else is able to hear. Read his plaintive wail, the despairing cry of a fault finder whose own breathing must disrupt his serenity like a thousand of brick falling on his neck—in The World this morning:

I am just recovering from an attack of nervous prostration. At first it was thought that it was brought on by work and worry. But after the doctor had visited me two or three times in my apartment and had heard my neighbors above and below at their devilish noise-making, he said: "This must be stopped or you must get out of here." But the neighbors would not stop. So here I am, and Heaven only knows how I am going to go back to my apartment when I get well. I shall surely have another attack. My neighbors denounced me for asking them to respect my rights. L. N.

EDUCATIONAL MATTERS.

teachers will remain in the same positions as last year. The report of the committee was adopted without change.

The judges for the English composition and penmanship competitions were next selected as follows:—English composition. Mrs. Israel C. Pierson, Mrs. D. E. Titsworth, and Mrs. Hugh Hastings; penmanship, Frank E. Kinsman, Dr. T. S. Davis, and Rev. Charles E. Herring. The Board then went into executive session.

The financial statement for the month was as follows:—Receipts—From City Collector, $1,009.05; payment on loan to building account, $2,000; total, $3,009.05. Payments—teachers, janitors and clerk, $4,460.59; school books and supplies, $232 53; repairs, etc., $125.76; building account, $9.38; sundies, $366.24; total, $5,194.50. City National Bank, $2,455 87. First National Bank, $1,884.48.

After a brief executive session, the Board met again in open session. J. F. Hubbard was present to explain matters regarding the necessary changes at the old Seventh-Day Baptist church edifice. Mr. Hubbard reported that he could make the changes according to the plans presented for a little less than $4,000, and his bid was accepted. Work will begin tomorrow. The Seventh-Day Baptist Society has agreed to remove the steeple and put in two rows of windows in place of the old ones. The Board will divide the first floor into four class rooms and lay a floor so that other class rooms may be made on the second floor when necessary.

There was also a discussion regarding the plans for the proposed addition to the Stillman building to accommodate the sanitary toilet rooms, which have been requested by the Board of Health. The old shed in the centre of the yard will be removed as has already been told in The Press. It was definitely decided that the addition will be built, although the contract has not been formally awarded. The bids were reported in The Press two weeks ago.

For a Good Purpose.

A children's fair was held on Saturday afternoon at the home of Miss Mollie Templin, on East Sixth street. Those who assisted were the Misses Florence Hill, Mollie Templin, Juliet Hill, Ethel Weseman and Ella Acheson. A nice amount was realized, which will be donated to the Children's Home, of this city.

—J. W. Pierce, the picture evangelist, is doing a wonderful work in Union county. He has been in the county for four weeks, closing last Sunday night at Rahway. He is a forceful and earnest speaker. He has great power with the poor drunkard.

LEGISLATED FOR CITY.

On a motion offered by Mr. Baker the bills of the three Madison Avenue Commissioners for $85 each, the bill of Seaman Williams for $25 for services on the avenue, and also the bill of F. A. Dunham for $137.25 for services, were ordered paid. These bills are for work done in attempting to secure the opening of Madison avenue, which failed.

Mr. Stebbins offered a motion that 1,000 copies of the building ordinance be printed, as the supply was exhausted. The motion was adopted.

Mr. Runyon reported on the matter concerning the petition of the physicians of the city asking the council to take some steps to prevent cycle riders from carrying children on wheels. Mr. Runyon said that he had consulted with the Corporation Counsel in the matter and was informed that the city has no right to legislate in the matter.

A resolution was offered by Mr. Baker which fixed the salary of Collector Bird for 1897 at $2,000 for all work outside of the special work of collecting the sewer tax, and for the latter work he is to receive $500.

Mr. Frost offered an ordinance accompanied by a map which provides for the widening of Westervelt avenue, as previously reported to the council. The ordinance was adopted on its second reading and was ordered engrossed and duly advertised.

At this time Mr. Frost asked the Council for the necessary power to purchase a watering cart for street purposes. He said that one could be secured for $200 and it was very much needed by the city in the work on the streets. The request brought out a considerable amount of discussion on the part of the members, some of whom thought it would be just as cheap to hire a wagon. Mr. Frost and Mr. Barrows were successful in convincing the remaining members that the wagon was needed and a resolution was adopted to the effect that a suitable watering cart be purchased at a cost not to exceed $200. Mr. Dumont voted in the negative on the question for the reason that he thought the appropriation for street work would not allow such an expenditure.

The vote on the substitute resolution granting the Plainfield Sanitary Company the right to establish their plant was divided. Messrs. Newman, Runyon and Stebbins voted in the negative. It was necessary that the plant should be located in the bonds before they could be accepted and in consequence a resolution to that effect was offiered as a substitute for the one which was defective.

In accordance with a resolution offered by Mr. Barrows the use of the Council rooms is now available for all contested city court cases.

Mr. Frost reported on the petitions from residents along the line of the street railway in which they asked the Council to take some steps toward having the Street Railway Company sprinkle the streets through which the road travels. Mr. Frost stated that he had interviewed both Mr. Riker and Superintendent Adleman. From the former he had been given assurances that the company were willing to do what is right, but Mr. Adleman had informed him that the company could not afford to sprinkle their streets at a cost of about $7 per day, which amount it would cost them.

On a motion of Mr. Barrows the ordinance relating to the opening of Sycamore avenue was adopted on its third reading, after which the Council adjourned to meet in two weeks.

WESTFIELD

WILD DASH OF A TEAM.

JAMES FRENCH'S HORSES CAUSE CONSTERNATION IN WESTFIELD.

The Steeds Became Frightened and Plunging Through Broad Street Threw the Occupants Out—One Man Hurt.

People who happened to be on Broad street at an early hour this morning witnessed a wild plunge of frantic horses through the heart of the town. The animals were attached to a heavy stone wagon, and spread consternation among drivers of vehicles, wheelmen and pedestrians who happened to be in their path. The team belongs to James French, and took fright at 7 o'clock. Mr. French had hold of the reins, but his efforts to curb the horses were useless. Upon the seat with the driver was Thomas Kenney. At the corner of North avenue where the horses turned into Broad street, the swing of the wagon was so great that Kenney was thrown out, striking upon his head. The wheels of the wagon passed over both his legs. French managed to keep his seat for another block, but at the corner of Prospect street, he also was flung out. The horses continued their wild flight along Broad street, causing a panic among wheelmen and others in their scramble to avoid the ponderous wagon which was being swung from curb to curb. In front of the Presbyterian church the animals were captured and brought to a standstill.

Kenney when he fell was picked up by Constable E. W. Chamberlain and taken to his home on North avenue in a carriage. His legs and body were badly brruised and an ugly gash was found upon his head. Dr. Kinch was summoned and gave proper treatment to Kenney's injuries.

Mr. French escaped from his fall more fortunately than his companion. A few slight bruises were the only result, and when the team was captured he was able to walk down the street and take possession of them. The damage to the wagon and harness was slight.

The seventy-first anniversary of the Willow Grove Sunday-school was celebrated last Sunday afternoon with appropriate exercises. Children in the primary department rendered an interesting programme of recitations, dialogues and music. Under the direction of the women the chapel was prettily decorated with flowers. Addresses were made by Revs. Cadwell, Greaves, Francis and Ketcham, of Westfield, and Rev. Mr. Saulter, of Maplewood. The report of the secretary showed that there are 98 members on the roll, and during the past year eight new members were added. The treasurer's report showed a balance of $57.

BOUND BROOK.

Through the courtesy of Mr. Radel, a party of forty-five of Bound Brook's most influential citizens were given an afternoon and evening of rare enjoyment and profit on Saturday, while inspecting the trolley system of the Brunswick Traction Company. They left Bound Brook in twelve carriages and were driven direct to the Masonic Temple, where they were joined by Aldermen Davis, Housell, Becker, Runyon, Haumesser, Banker, Miller, Kinney and Daly, of the New Brunswick City Council, Supt. Hoffmann, of the water works, ex Chief Grenwald, of the fire department, City Physician Shannon, Street Commissioner Hageman and several others. The party after taking a ride on the trolley cars were conveyed to the Mansion House, where a course dinner was in readiness, through the hospitality of the Traction Company. Speeches were made by Rev. John O. Jones, Counsellor Suydam, Editor Wilson, of the Democrat; Alderman Daly and Messrs. Swayze and Radel.

Corporation Notice.

Notice is hereby given that the following Ordinance has been introduced before the Common Council, read the second time and ordered engrossed preparatory to its third reading, and that it is the intention of the Council to adopt the same.

J. T. MacMURRAY,
City Clerk.

Plainfield, N. J., June 7th, 1897.

AN ORDINANCE

to Widen Westervelt Avenue from the Northwesterly side line of East Front Street to a point 108.66 feet Southeast of Orange Place.

WHEREAS, The Common Council has judged and hereby judges that the public good requires the widening of Westervelt Avenue between the points named in the title of this ordinance, therefore,

The Inhabitants of the City of Plainfield, by their Common Council, do enact as follows:

Section 1. That Westervelt Avenue, in the City of Plainfield, from the northwesterly side line of East Front Street to a point one hundred and eight and 66-100 feet southeast of Orange Place, be widened and laid out so that said Westervelt Avenue shall be of the uniform width of twenty-five feet on each side of the center line thereof, which said center line is described as follows: Beginning at a point in the northwesterly side line of East Front Street, said point being distant three hundred twenty-four and 56-100 feet in a southwesterly direction along said northwesterly side line of East Front Street, from the centre line of Sandford Avenue, as now laid out and opened; and running from said point in a magnetic course of north forty-four degrees and fifty-six minutes west, a distance of three hundred sixty and 3-100 feet to the northwesterly line of property owned by William C. Kelly.

The land to be taken for the widening of said Westervelt Avenue includes that portion of the property of Antoinette De Baud, Mrs. Sarah Bird and William C. Kelly, which lies between the present Southwesterly side line of said Avenue as now laid out and opened and a line parallel with the center line of said Avenue and distant therefrom twenty-five (25) feet in a Southwesterly direction.

The land to be taken and the lines of Westervelt avenue, as the same is hereinabove ordered to be widened, are shown on a map on file with the City Clerk entitled: "Assessment Map for the widening of Westervelt Avenue from East Front Street to a point 108.66 feet Southeast of Orange Place, March, 1897," to which reference is hereby made for greater certainty.

NOTICE!

SECTION 22. If any person leave any horse or team standing untied in any of the streets of this Borough unless the same is in charge of some person competent to take care of the same, he shall be liable upon conviction of the same to be fined any sum not exceeding ten dollars or imprisonment not exceeding ten days in the Borough lockup for each offense.

682 JOHN F. WILSON, Mayor.

Notice of Dissolution.

Notice is hereby given that the partnership lately subsisting between Harry S. Potter and Frank B. Kellogg, both of the Township of Raritan, County of Middlesex and State of New Jersey, under the firm of Potter & Kellogg, retail coal dealers, doing business in the City of Plainfield, County of Union and State of New Jersey, was dissolved on the seventh day of June, 1897. Harry S. Potter is authorized to settle all debts due to and by the firm.

THE AMERICAN QUEEN COMPETITION.

A Columbia FREE!!

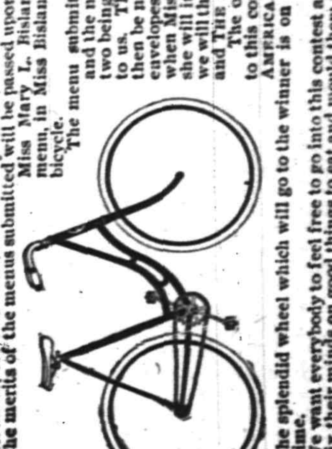
A lady's Columbia Bicycle, 1897 Model, will be given to the winner in THE AMERICAN QUEEN competition, which will be open to all the subscribers to THE AMERICAN QUEEN until June 30, 1897.

The Columbia, the standard bicycle of the world, has been selected for this competition, because the publishers of THE AMERICAN QUEEN are convinced that it is the best and that the woman who wins it would have it in preference to any other make.

The Columbia is now on exhibition at our store and will remain on exhibition until June 30th, when the competition will close and the Columbia will be awarded to the fortunate winner.

The contest which we have just inaugurated, by or through which some subscriber to THE AMERICAN QUEEN is going to win a fine, high-grade $100 Columbia Bicycle, is already well under way. The contest will remain open until June 30, 1897. The conditions and plan of this contest are simply these: We purpose presenting a Columbia Bicycle, 1897 Model, to the lady subscriber who furnishes the best menu, for one week, for a family of five, the cost of such menu not to exceed $10 for the week.

The merits of the menus submitted will be passed upon by the Editor of THE AMERICAN QUEEN, Miss Mary L. Bisland, and the person furnishing the best menu, in Miss Bisland's judgment, will be presented with the bicycle.



The menu submitted should be enclosed in one envelope and the name of the sender in a separate one, the two being handed in or sent in together, addressed to us. The envelopes containing the menus will then be numbered and sent to Miss Bisland and the envelopes containing the names reserved by us, and when Miss Bisland makes her choice of the menus she will inform us of the number of the winner and we will then announce the result in local newspapers and THE AMERICAN QUEEN.

The only requirement necessary to admit you to this contest is that you be a subscriber to THE AMERICAN QUEEN.

The splendid wheel which will go to the winner is on exhibition in the store and may be seen at any time.

We want everybody to feel free to go into this contest and we hope that hundreds of our customers will fix their minds on good things to eat and mould them into an acceptable menu for the week, and at the same time keep the cost down to $10.

THE COMPETITION.—Our aim in offering this competition is to have every lady we can reach with this announcement become a reader of THE AMERICAN QUEEN. THE QUEEN is published at $1 a year, but to give all our friends a chance to get this splendidly useful home publication for the ensuing year and at the same time have a chance to become the proud possessor of the standard cycle, we shall until the 30th day of June receive subscriptions (only one, however, will be taken from each family) for the nominal fee of 25 Cents a year. Come to the store at once, register your name, receive your receipt for THE QUEEN for one year and try to win the Columbia.

DEATH OF A HERMIT.

Lived Alone For Almost Forty Years. Was Formerly a Physician.

Hammonton, N. J., June 8.—A man who lived in Hammonton for almost 40 years without his name or antecedents becoming known to the curious is dead in the little house he erected on the corner of the 20 acres he purchased when he came here. He was a recluse, and two persons only knew his real name. He was W. Potter, and he was formerly a doctor. He attempted raising fruits, but it was never a successful venture, because he was experimenting, and tried to raise about twice as much on an acre as the ground would support.

Some years ago he advertised for a wife, but although he received many answers, none of the women answering suited him. When he first came here, the hermit confided his story to William Frost. Frost died without telling the story.

After the hermit began to fail he made a confidant of L. B. Joslyn. Mr. Joslyn cared for him during his last days and communicated with the dead man's relatives. Mr. Joslyn says the dead man was born in Medina, N. Y., where he has a brother and sister living. He was 72 years old and was the youngest member of a large family. He once had a lucrative practice, but for some reason he dropped medicine. He was said to be a Spiritualist.

HIS BELIEF.

Public Expression of It By a New Brunswick Citizen.

A man's creed of belief always has a foundation, it's either a matter of faith or personal experience. The belief on one subject at least had many changes in our locality of late and as the question is one of intense public interest we have been investigating a few cases with a view of placing the facts before our readers. Our representative called on Mr. John Gray, who resides at No. 32 Jersey avenue, New Brunswick, a well-known man in his business, which is that of stone mason. Mr. Gray has found his trade quite a load on his back, the heavy lifting being very trying and causing lameness and weakening of the back. For 7 or 8 years he has been troubled from the kidneys; the complaint has kept Mr. Gray off and on a sufferer varying in its severity as it does with thousands. But this change has come at last, and he hails the conqueror of his trouble with the expression of praise: "I believe in Doan's Kidney Pills." This is his belief, and good reason he has for it. We will let him give the particulars in his own words. He says: "For seven or eight years I have had a bad back, so bad that it laid me up for three months. When suffering I could not stoop or lift anything, in fact even when not doing anything it hurt me. Headache, scalding urine, shooting pains that started from the back round the side, were other marked symptoms. One box of Doan's Kidney Pills, that I got at Van Pelt's drug store checked the pain within two days. I kept on using them, and grew better, and although I cannot say I am cured, the help received by one who has suffered so long and so severely, is so welcome that I cannot fully express it." Yes, I believe in Doan's Kidney Pills.

Price 50 cents per box. For sale by all dealers or mailed by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

Some gowns are so dainty in the weave, so delicate in tint, that they seem to soil by being looked at—one or two wearings making them unpresentable, NOT USELESS. We make a specialty of cleaning fine fabrics, the more delicate the material, the better the results. Sometimes an accident will ruin a gown, without injuring the texture We dye them then, sometimes we get a prettier effect than the origina. olor. Fine goods stand redyeing. The finer the material the better the new color. We charge so little for cleaning or dyeing, that even if you are in doubt as to the result, it's worth while to experiment. NO CONSUMPTIVE WILL DIE

SO LONG AS HE CAN DIGEST AND ASSIMILATE FOOD.

All physicians admit this. Yet here the difficulty begins. How can we build up the consumptive's body as fast as the disease tears it down? Let us consider.

Cough mixture must be avoided because they frequently contain opiates which arrest the digestion. There only effect on the cough is by stupefying the nerves. Let them alone.

All foods that are hard to digest must be avoided, especially fats and oils. Only those foods that are easily digested and assimilated should be eaten. Foods not thus accepted by nature do no good; they do harm. Not what is merely eaten but what is digested and assimilated gives flesh and strength.

Consumption is starvation, slow or rapid, as may be. The first symptom is not necessarily a cough, but a tendency to lose flesh, to grow thin. Stop this tendency now. Don't wait for obvious lung trouble. That's only a later development—only a minor point.

Stop the wasting and you master the disease,—even though it may have made some slight inroads already. Increase the flesh and the danger is past.

What is needed is an especially-prepared food,—a nutriment in itself and a digester of other foods.

Such an article is the Shaker Digestive Cordial, made by the Shaker Community, of Mt. Lebanon, N. Y. It creates a natural appetite and insures the digestion of what is eaten with it. It overcomes the wasting which is fatal in the consumptive process.

A man may lose money and not die a bankrupt. One may have consumption and not die of it. This is science and sense. The success of this new remedy proves it.

VETOED BY HASTINGS!

Pennsylvania's Governor Reads the Legislature a Lecture.

HE STRONGLY ADVISES ECONOMY.

Thinks the General Assembly Could Best Please the Commonwealth by a Speedy Adjournment—Expensive and Questionable Investigations Criticised.

Harrisburg, June 8.—Governor Hastings has sent to the senate without his approval the concurrent resolution requesting him to state what new subjects of taxation he has to recommend to the general assembly to increase the revenues. The executive reminds the legislature that if in its duty it deems it necessary to pass additional revenue laws there is no duty resting upon him to name the subjects of taxation. As it is the fundamental law of the commonwealth that all bills for raising revenue shall originate in the house of representatives it would be contrary not only to the letter, but also to the spirit of the constitution that all bills should originate with the executive.

"I am not aware," Governor Hastings adds, "that in any time in the past the executive has been called upon by the general assembly to take part in legislation, and the resolution under consideration has therefore neither precedent nor authority of law upon which to stand.

"Your honorable bodies were furnished by me more than five months ago with a detailed estimate of the probable revenues during the next two fiscal years and were advised at the same time that appropriations would not be approved in excess of the estimates so made unless additional revenues were provided. During the period that you have been in session but one revenue measure has reached me, commonly known as 'the direct inheritance tax bill.'"

Advises Reduction of Salaries.

The amount that will probably be realized from this measure will be $14,000,000 per annum.

"At this time, when almost all industries are suffering, when trade is stagnant and when willing labor can find no employment, economy in the expenditure of public moneys should control the general assembly in its appropriations and will certainly control the executive in the consideration of all measures. I have steadily withheld my approval from various bills increasing the salaries of public officials, but I would gladly approve any bill that might be lawfully passed decreasing reasonably existing salaries from the highest to the lowest.

"Representing as you do all portions of the state, being familiar with its public institutions, your committees having visited them for the purpose of ascertaining their needs, your honorable bodies will best understand how judicious reductions may be made without working serious injury to any. Whereas, if necessity compels the withholding of executive approval from appropriations in order to keep the treasury solvent, much harm may be done to worthy institutions by withholding all where half would greatly help.

"Our public schools must be sustained, our penal institutions provided for and the unfortunate in mind and body whom we have always with us must receive our sheltering care. There is money for all these if wisely administered.

Two Ways to Meet the Exigencies.

"There are two ways for states as well as individuals to successfully meet such exigencies as the present conditions impose. The first is to increase the income to meet existing outlay. This is practically impossible for state or individual at this time. The other is to reduce expenditures so as to live within the income. This is good housekeeping. Instead of searching through the crippled business interests of the state for new subjects to tax or calling upon me to point them out it will be much easier and more in the line of duty as public servants to exert our energies in finding where the burden of taxation may, in some measure, be lifted from the shoulders of our people.

"Existing conditions should admonish us to exercise the strictest economy in all matters and in every direction. The enormous expense incurred by investigating committees, some of them perhaps of doubtful necessity, and the liberality with which the public funds have been heretofore used in contested election cases, have very probably arrested public attention, and I earnestly urge upon your honorable bodies the curtailment of expenses of this character.

"Your prompt action upon and speedy disposition of the work remaining before you, making an early adjournment possible, will, I am confident, meet with the approval of the people of the commonwealth."

The governor also states in his message that, according to the estimate of the fiscal officers of the state, there will be a deficiency of about $3,620,594.18 on Nov. 30.

Shot His Brother.

St. Louis, June 8.—George Feiferlick, a son of one of the oldest and best known families in St. Louis, fatally injured his brother Joseph, aged 27, in a terrific hand to hand fight in their home, on Allen avenue. The family attribute this sudden outbreak of homicidal mania to hypnotic influence. Young Feiferlick has not been under the hypnotic spell for almost a year, but it is claimed his one experience in this line had a powerful effect upon his mind.

An Election Judge Shoots Himself.

Chicago, June 8.—August Miller, an election judge in the Twenty-eighth precinct of the Twenty-sixth ward, shot and killed himself after having been excused for half an hour on account of illness. Miller had been acting peculiarly all morning and was finally told to go home for a while. Without a word he walked out, went to his room, got a revolver, and, going to the barn, about 100 feet from the house, put a bullet in his brain.

Fraud Order Issued.

Washington, June 8.—The postoffice department has issued a fraud order against Francis Robinson, alias Francis Watson, and Violet Cleveland, alias Violet Gleason, alias Winnie B. Hunter, both of Niagara Falls, who are alleged to have used the mails for a matrimonial scheme.

TEMS INTERESTING TO DEVOTEES OF THE STEEL STEEDS.

The Popular Exercise Provides Incidents and Expressions That are of Especial Moment When Wheeling is the Rage.

F. L. C. Martin and R. I. Richardson were the guests of friends in Asbury Park, Sunday.

John Barry, John Carty and Peter Galbraith, of this city, enjoyed a spin on their wheels to Newark last Sunday.

Mrs. Henry VanName, of Elmwood place, has received her new Spalding wheel which was purchased from Rogers, the North avenue cycle dealer.

William J. Kiely and a party of friends from Newark enjoyed a century, Sunday, visiting Coney Island, the Hudson county boulevard and Paterson.

William Schaeffer has just received his new Iver-Johnson tandem, on which he expects to do considerable riding this summer. James McLean will be his wheel partner most of the time.

The cyclometers have decided that they have been "worked for a good thing" too long and hereafter their guarantees will be for defect only. It has been the custom of the manufacturers to replace every broken cyclometer with a new one free of charge, but the demand has been so great that they find it impossible to do it, and hereafter their agents are instructed to sell the cyclometers without guarantee against breakage.

William M. McCutchen, of this city, quite distinguished himself Saturday as a member of the Yale University bicycle squad and won the right to wear the famous "Y," the second of Plainfield's sons to secure that coveted honor this year. Wesley Abbott was the other, finishing third in the shot-putting contest in the intercollegiate games. The intercollegiate bicycle races were held at Manhattan Beach last Saturday, and Columbia won everything. Yale only scored three points, two-thirds of which McCutchen made one. He rode in the quarter mile race, finishing third, defeating all the rest of the Yale team, Fearing and Powell, of Columbia, being the only ones that passed him.

GOLF.

The Fisk cup was played for at the links of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club on Saturday morning. The contest was a junior handicap of eighteen holes, medal play. There were twelve contestants entered. The cup was won by Parker Mason. The scores of the contestants were as follows:

In Justice Newcorn's Court.

Justice Newcorn has returned to his court duties with renewed vigor after successfully passing his entrance examinations for the New Jersey bar. There were several cases to come up for trial today in his court. The contract case of Suhr against Totten was settled. The contract case of Reed et als against Frey was adjourned for a week. The landlord and tenant case of Martin against Hubbler was tried and judgment rendered for the plaintiff and a dispossess warrant issued. Summons were issued in the contract cases of Roger against Brewer, Woolston against Smith, Hovet against Dickenson, all returnable on June 14th; and the case of Marx against Angleman, in tort, returnable on June 15th.

A PERILOUS RIDE.

Little Richard Campbell Guided a Runaway Horse at South Plainfield.

An exciting runaway aroused the residents of South Plainfield for a time, yesterday afternoon. Ellis Campbell drove over from his home at Avon Park, accompanied by his eight-year-old grandson, Richard Campbell, yesterday afternoon, on an errand. He stopped in front of Laine's barber shop and went in, leaving the lad sitting in the buggy alone. A drunken man came reeling up the street and fell in front of the horse, which is a very spirited animal. The frightened equine turned and ran up Front street. The lad had presence of mind to keep the horse in the middle of the road. After several fruitless attemps to stop the runaway, Thomas Brantingham and several others succeeded in bringing the animal to a halt after an exciting run. The only damage done was to the harness, although there were a number of narrow escapes.

A Friendly Critic.

Sir John Millais was once attending a celebrated case at Bow street, and was accommodated with a seat in the press box. In front of him sat a youthful new addition to the staff of a leading London illustrated paper. "Don't you think that would be an improvement?" suggested the great artist mildly, pointing out some technical defect in the sketch the youngster was engaged on. The young fellow was highly indignant at first, but eventually adopted the alteration, which so improved the sketch that he turned round and inquired somewhat patronizingly, "Who may you be, sir, who presume to correct my work?" For answer he received a card, on which was inscribed, "John Millais, R. A.," accompanied by the kindly remark, "We are never to old to learn. Perhaps you may be able to give me a timely wrinkle one of these fine days."

LANDLORD SMALLEY SUES EX-SENATOR KEYS FOR A CAMPAIGN BILL.

Somerset County People Interested in the Novel Dispute—The Senator Says He Never Ordered Drinks for the Boys.

In the Somerset court, yesterday, there was gathered a crowd of Democratic politicians, attracted by a suit against former Senator Wm. J. Keys. He was elected Senator in the fall of 1890 after an exciting canvass. The convention which nominated him met on Oct. 13th of that year.

Charles W. Smalley, proprietor of the County Hotel, of Somerville, at that time, was the complainant. He said on the witness stand that on the day of the convention he was directed by a man purporting to come from Mr. Keys that he should let those who came to his bar have what they wanted nd Keys would pay the bill. The itemized bill which Smalley presented to the court was as follows: Soft drinks, $6; wine and whiskey, $8; cigars, $4 60; interest for six years, $6.63; total, $25.33.

Counsel for Mr. Keys inquired why there was so much for soft drinks, and Smalley replied because it was a Democratic crowd.

Senator Keys denied on the witness stand that he ever gave an order for the drinks, and said he had paid ante-election bills ever since his election and he was tired of it.

Prosecutor Dungan, counsel for Keys, called the attention of the court to the fact that the first suit had not been brought in Justice Sutphen's court until October 15th, 1896, and that the bill was outlawed under the act of limitations two days previously. The court reserved decision, but this two days will probably relieve the Senator from paying the bill.

Mr. Keys is a member of the Democratic State Committee and has been a leading figure in county politics for a number of years. He thought the bill was unjust.

ASBURY PARK MUSIC TOO GAY.

Ministers Object to Secular Airs at Sunday "Sacred" Concerts on the Beach.

The Sunday evening concerts on "Founder" Bradley's beach pavilion at Asbury Park are meeting with opposition from ministers and church people. The band is employed by the city authorities at an expense of $4,500 for the summer.

At the meeting of the Common Council last night the opposition took the form of a petition, and the Rev. Dr. W. E. Jones, of Philadelphia, who owns a cottage there, said that the better element of the people are opposed to the so-called sacred concerts. Last year, he said, the pastors of all the churches in the city entered a remonstrance against secular airs being played by the band on the Sabbath. "It is a serious matter," he said, "for Asbury Park, and if continued will eventually hurt the city, morally and financially."

"Founder" Bradley, who is a member of the Council, offered a resolution that the Music Committee prepare each Sunday night programmes as shall be appropriate to the Sabbath.

Residential Improvements.

Louis R. Howard, of Sandford avenue, has purchased the large residence on La Grande avenue, near Franklin place, from J. T. Vail, and is now planning to greatly improve the place and take possession of it in the fall. Lancaster & Rogers, the Babcock building architects, have drawn up plans for the alterations which promise to transform the appearance of the place. A potre cochere will be added on the right of the house connecting with a large octagonal piazza, which is to be extended in that direction. The projection over the entrance is to be removed, a bay window placed instead on the second story, and the third story left even The house is to be fitted with new sanitary plumbing and with a handsome tiled bath-room.

Hurt by a Lead Pencil.

Wm. Cadmus, an employe at Woodhull & Martin's dry goods store, is carrying his hand in a bandage, and all because of a slight accident. He, together with some young men were fooling, when accidentally a lead pencil with a sharp point entered that part of the flesh between two of the fingers, inflicting a painful wound. At first Mr. Cadmus paid little attention to the accident, but very soon his hand began to pain him considerably, and he was obliged to have it attended to. He does not, however, apprehend any serious results from the wound, although he is deprived temporarily from the use of his hand.

Children's Day.

Next Sunday will be Children's Day in all the churches except the Episcopal and Roman Catholic. Elaborate programmes are being prepared in several of the churches.

YOUNG WOMEN ASSISTED

AN INNOVATION AT THE TEA GIVEN BY MRS. W. L. PATTON.

The New Idea Found Favor Among the Many Society People Present—The Interior of the House Decorated for the Event.

A delightful tea was held at the home of Mrs. W. L. Patton, of West Fifth street, yesterday afternoon. Although the outer world was bleak and uninviting, the interior of Mrs. Patton's home was quite the contrary. The decorations consisted of pink roses and wild flowers, and were artistically arranged about the rooms with pleasant effect.

The tea was an informal one and something of an innovation, for it was the young ladies who poured tea and assisted the hostess. The new idea found general favor with the guests, for the young ladies filled the role in delightful fashion.

At the tea table, Miss Mary Anderson Reinhart and Miss Ethel Bowen poured tea. Miss Addie Parker Jackson was in charge of the strawberry cup. She was assisted by the Misses Constance Patton, Wilhelmina Patton, Elsa Pfeiffer, Helen Brainard, Sarah Richards, Bessie Bowen, Hattie Goddard, Elsie Goddard, Margaret Goddard, Marjorie Fleming, Dorothy Fleming.

Among those present during the afternoon were Mrs. Alfred Slausson, Mrs. A. D. Shepard, Mrs. John Doull Miller, Mrs. E. W. Conklin, Miss Hellwig, Mrs. F. S. Martin, Miss Martin, Mrs. Frederick Mead, Miss Mead, Mrs. Lawrence Myers, Mrs. Samuel Kimball, Miss Erskine, Miss L. R. Krom, Miss Krom, Miss Lyon, Mrs. Charles S. Case, Mrs. Irving Brown, Mrs. D. T. Van Bureu, Mrs. Edward Morris Van Buren, Mrs. F. H. Andrews, Miss Cook, Miss Dewey, Miss Thorn, Miss Newman, Miss Mary Brown, Mrs. Samuel Clark, Mrs. Groendyke, the Misses Ellis, Miss Newton, Mrs. John Gray Foster, Mrs. Bowman, Mrs. Fleming, Mrs. T. F. Budlong, Mrs. Josiah Browne, Mrs. W. L. C. Glenny, Mrs H. E. Bowen Mrs. Stover, Mrs. Batson, Mrs. J. W. Reinhart, Miss Reinhart, Mrs. Francis Wood, Miss Katherine Wood, Miss Stewart, Mrs. O. T. Waring, Miss Spicer, Mrs. W H. Sterling. Mrs. George D. Patten, Miss Patten, Mrs. Isaac Bushmore, Mrs. W. D. Murray, Mrs. Georgo H. Frost and Mrs. W. R. Richards.

BICYCLE STOLEN.

The Wheel Removed From the Piazza of C. J. Baxter's House.

Two bicycles sat on the piazza of the residhnce of Charles J. Baxter, State Superintendent of Schools, of 930 Putnam avenue, last evening. A debased man entered through the side gate, fell in love with one of the wheels and departed through the same gate with the wheel. This is, in brief, the story of the robbery that occurred in that neighborhood, last evening.

Mr. Baxter lives at the corner of Putnam avenue and Richmond street. His daughters were the recipients of new Crescent wheels this spring. They ride considerably, but yesterday, owing to the dampness of the atmosphere, they did not enjoy their usual spin. The wheels were left on the front piazza. At 9 o'clock, one of the family went out on the pizza on an errand and found that one of the bicycles was missing. It was the one belonging to Miss Adelade Baxter. Her sister's wheel was still there.

The loss of the wheel was immediately reported to the police, but no trace of the bicycle has yet been discovered.

It was a ladies' Crescent, '97 model, No. 278 334. It was enameled maroon, had natural wood trimmings, rims and handle bars, was geared to 70, and equipped with a Messinger saddle

The wheel was found on the Crescent's baseball grounds this morning, minus the handle bars, by Constable Robert Mattox.

Work in Missionary Fields

Rain put a very effective damper on the second of the Missionary Extension lectures, under the auspices of the Christian Endeavor Local Union, which was to be held at the First Presbyterian church, last evening. The lecture was held but the audience was a very small one. The speaker of the evening was Rev. J. T. Kerr, of Elizabeth, and his subject was "Giving the Gospel to the World of God's Own Enterprise." He spoke of work in the different missionary fields and said that it was the work pointed out by God and as such, it should be looked after by all. It was not for man, he said, to criticize God's plans but to use them.

Miss Adelaide Runyon and her sister, Miss Alma Runyon, of Arlington avenue, will return the last of this week from a visit with relatives in New York State.

JERSEY'S COMING BATTLE

THE GRIGGS-VOORHEES BREACH TOO WIDE TO BE HEALED.

Kean's Boom Looming Up—Troubles Ahead for the Republicans Who Hope to Keep the Democrrts at Odds on Money Question

"Few men among the rank and file of the Republicans know just how far apart Governor Griggs and Senator Voorhees have fallen," said one of South Jersey's leaders, who was at Trenton the other day. "I tell you the breach is so wide that there is no prospect of its being cemented and in the next eighteen months you'll see the liveliest fight in our party you've seen in many a day. Voorhees will stake his all in the battle, for he has much to gain and little to lose. Should he win he will be at the pinnacle of his political career, for then he will be the most formidable candidate for Governor. If he loses he can still remain a power in the Senate, where he has yet two years to serve. He is strong at home, and has a large following among the rank and file, although few of the leaders are with him. Governor Griggs assumed a grave responsibility—viewing the situation in the light of his ambition to succeed United Senator Smith—when he arrayed Voorhees and Voorhees' friends in opposition. It was neither diplomatic nor polite, and I am surprised that it ever came about, for the Governor has always been given wide credit for the keenest sagacity.

"There is a heap of trouble ahead for us," continued the South Jerseyman, "and for the life of me I can't see how it is going to be healed. The wires are now being pulled for United States Senator and for Governor, and we confidently expect to land both. but we've got to do a tall heap of harmonizing At this day John Kean has all the best of it for Senator down our way It was South Jersey that stood by him in 1895, when he came so near being nominated for Governor. Had his own county of Union stood by him as well he would have captured the convention on the first ballot. It was Senator Voorhees who then made it possible for Griggs to run by dividing up the Union delegation. He held more than a third of the vote from his county, and beside the figure it cut in the ballot it had conspicuous influence upon the delegates from other counties, for when a man goes into a convention without solid backing from his own home his chances of victory are slender, indeed. Now, Voorhees is still popular in Union county, and exerts a very wide influence. He will undoubtedly bring all his strength to bear upon the campaign for Senator, and it is safe to say that that strength will not be exerted in behalf of those Assembly candidates who favor Governor Griggs. Voorhees makes no effort to conceal the true condition of affairs between himself and the Governor, and it's the greatest pity in the world for two such good men to be at swords' points.

HIS VISITOR WAS DEAD.

Farmer Tallman Will Probably Not Survive the Shock.

William Tunis, a real estate and insurance broker, of Somerville, 60 years old, died suddenly of heart disease on the farm of Samuel P. Tallman, near Flaggtown, Saturday afternoon. Mr. Tallman was so severely shocked by the death of Mr. Tunis that his death is momentarily expected.

Several weeks ago Farmer Tallman, who is over 70 years old, was severely injured by the accidental discharge of a shotgun which nearly blowed his both hands to pieces. Mr. Tallman acted with remarkable coolness and was driven nearly twelve miles after the accident to the nearest surgeon where he underwent an operation.

Mr. Tallman was seated on the piazza of his home Saturday afternoon suffering with nervous prostration. At which time Dr. William J. Swinton, of Somerville, who is attending him was at his side when a light wagon containing Mr. Tunis and his driver stopped in front of the house.

Mr. Tunis was in a reclining position, and his head hung helplessly to one side. The driver hastily alighted and said that when Mr. Tunis got out of the carriage to look over the farm he fell and fainted. The driver placed him in the carriage again and drove him to the house. Dr. Swinton examined Mr. Tunis and pronounced him dead. As the body was carried into the house Farmer Tallman collapsed, and his physicians say that he is dying.

St. Mary's Commencement.

The children of St. Mary's parochial school are now preparing for the commencement exercises, which are to be held during the latter part of this month in the school hall. Last year's exercises were very successful, but those this year promise to be even better.

PALMISTRY AS AN ART.

THE READING OF CHARACTER AT THE FORTHCOMING FETE.

While the Reading of Lines in the Hand is Not a Science, it is Claimed as an Accomplishment in Studying Human Nature.

By force of association and tradition the beautiful art of Palmistry is commonly enough thought of and spoken of as something akin to fortune telling and clairvoyancy; and the palmist is classed with the Wizard and the Gypsy. Wherefore it is that some good people who would not find fault with it as a pastime, a game for the home-circle deceiving neither the teller nor seeker of fortunes, do wildly question the propriety of any public recognition of Palmistry.

Now, in point of fact, there will be no "fortune-telling" at the Fete, nor has it, at any time been proposed in the management, and all references thereto in these columns, whether of news or advertising, have been based on an innocent misconception, and serve to illustrate the force of association above named.

On the other hand Palmistry will be a feature, a charming feature of the Fete. The real scope and character of the art will be demonstrated by an expert, a lady pupil of the most illustrious teacher of modern chiromancy. But it should be clearly understood that it has nothing in common with fortune-telling, with any pretence at reading the future. There is in it nothing mysterious or supernatural

Palmistry is an art in the same sense as is physiognomy or phrenology, differing as they do, from physiology—and exact science. It is, nevertheless, a legitimate subject of study, not without influence upon human reason, even upon human affairs. In forming our judgments of our fellow-men we are guiding however unconsciously by the rules of art and science; and the trained Palmist is also a physiologist, a phrenologist, a physiognomist; in fine, a student of human nature, a reader of character; not a "Prophet or son of a Prophet." You may be startled to hear from a stranger, gazing intently at your outstretched palm, that the course of your life has been thus and so; that your likes and dislikes, your tastes and sympathies are such and such; or that given certain conditions, you are likely to act in this way or that; for you know in your heart it is all substantially true and correct. But it is quite unnecessary to attribute the reading of your life-story to any magical love. and you will quickly note that there is no pretence at pointing out the shadows of coming events.

We repeat, then, our assertion that modern Palmistry—while it neither holds nor asks a place with the sciences—may well be classed as a charming art, a worthy and legitimate branch of the study of human-nature. And we would, with confidence, add that it will be presented in the most interesting and becoming manner at the forthcoming Fete.

OPENING OF WALLACE HOUSE.

Historical Exercises to be Held in Somerville June 17th.

The formal opening of the historical Wallace House at Somerville will be celebrated on Thursday, June 17th, at 3 p. m. by the Revolutionary Memorial Society of this State. The literary exercises will consist of an invocation to the Almighty by Rev. Mr. Wright, then a flag will be presented by a representative of Jr. O. U. A. M. and received by the president of the Society, Richard F. Stevens. After which Rev. Dr. George S. Mott will deliver an address upon the history of the American flag, followed by an original poem to be delivered by Rev. Lyman Whitney Allen, D. D. Then the exercises will close with an address on the history of the Wallace House and vicinity Interspersed between these, patriotic songs will be sung and the band will discourse national airs.

After the literary exercises the ladies of Somerville will provide a collation.

In case of stormy weather the exercises will be held in some suitable hall.

Borough Fire Alarm Test.

Boroughites need not be alarmed tomorrow afternoon at about 3 o'clock if they hear the borough fire alarm ring. It will not be a call to the citizens to turn out and help extinguish the flames that might be rapidly eating up the place, but merely a test of the alarm system. Firemen, therefore, need not respond to that call.

Price of the Building.

According to the lease which the Plainfield Board of Education has of the old Seventh Day church edifice, the Board has the privilege of buying the building, at any time during the four years for which the lease extends, for $7,000.

NEW BULLY IN TROUBLE.

"CACK" CARTER HAILED BEFORE HIS HONOR, CADI DEMEZA.

"Cack" Insisted on Having a Friend Stay at His House, and When the Stepfather Objected There Was a Hot Time There.

Although the general public thought that Walter Carter, better known as "Cack," just grew like the famous "Topsy" of Uncle Tom's Cabin, it appears that "Cack" possesses a mother and a stepfather, but the relations between these individuals and "Cack" have been growing rather strained of late.

Before "Cack," who is well-known in town as an expert crap shooter, paid his famous visit to New Brunswick and hid himself in the New Brunswickian darkness to escape the mob of dusky avengers, the trouble began.

Carter has been going to Somerville for some time and fascinated one of the dusky belles of that town. His remarkable walk quite captivated her and she came to Plainfield to see him about three weeks ago. Solomon Lewis is a respectable colored man living on Battle row, who, some ago, married Mrs. Carter, the mother of the famous "Cack," and is the one with whom the trouble has been. Carter took his friend to call at the home of his stepfather and Mr. Lewis objected. Carter invited his guest to make herself at home and words between the two men followed. Carter, it is said, threatened the grey head of his stepfather with trouble.

Lewis informed the police of the incident and was instructed to have 'Cack" locked up if he should grow troublesome in the future.

The neighbors have it that the stepfather began to make significant remarks about New Brunswick and the waiters' ball to "Cack" and that they aroused his ire. At any rate, there was trouble and Lewis says that his naughty stepson had the audacity to punch him in the jaw and sundry other places, besides threatning to eat him up and "do" him in true African fashion.

Patrolman Higgins was called in and arrested Carter. This morning, he was arraigned before City Judge DeMeza on the charge of being disorderly. "Cack" said that he wasn't and that his stepfather was to blame for all the trouble. His Somerville friend, he explained, had the permission of her mother to come and see him and that Lewis had nothing to do with the case. The Judge set the trial down for Saturday morning at the station house and held Carter under $100 bail for his appearance at that time.

A STRAWBERRY FESTIVAL

Profitable and Sociable Affair Given by a Hope Chapel Society.

The elements without had no material effect on the strawberry and ice cream festival held last evening at Hope Chapel under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society, and a large crowd was present to enjoy the good things provided by the committees in charge. The forepart of the evening was devoted to an entertainment and that everyone was thoroughly pleased cannot be denied. The programme opened with a piano solo by Miss Gray, and was followed with several vocal solos by William N. Runyon. He captured his audience by storm and it required a number of selections to satisfy them This was the case with Miss Addie Parker Jackson who gave some of her best recitations. She found it quite difficult to satisfy the demand of her audience which was well sharpened. Mr Guest rendered a cornet solo and he was obliged to respond to an encore, as was also Miss Harris who sang a pleasing selection. Each one of the above persons were called several times so thoroughly did the audience enjoy their efforts.

Rev G. Kennedy Newell, the pastor, was the master of ceremonies and he announced the various numbers. At the conclusion he invited all to remain and assist the women of the chapel by purchasing freely of the ice cream, cake and strawberries which had been provided. The audience followed the above advice and thus the treasury of the society was enriched considerably.

Mrs. S. R. Struthers was the chairman of the affair, and the refreshment committee consisted of Mrs. Sweeney, Mrs. Mundy, Mrs. Gray, Mrs. Young, Mrs. Montgomery, Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Higgins had charge of the cake, while Mrs. McComas and Mrs. Sheppard received the money and tickets at the door.

Water Company Superintendent.

Thomas Dowd, of Plainfield, has been appointed superintendent of the Union Water Company for the small towns between Elizabeth and this city, in place of Bert Kline, who has resigned to take charge of the Aldene Villa.

DISPUTE OVER FIRE WOOD

FANWOOD FARMERS CARRY THEIR QUARREL TO THE COURTS.

The Case of Amza Hetfield Against Leo Scherer on the Charge of Stealing Wood is the Culmination of an Old Disagreement.

The culmination of a long standing disagreement between two farmers of Fanwood township was reached yesterday when Amza Hetfield of that place caused the arrest of his neighbor Leo Scherer on the criminal charge of stealing wood for fuel from Hetfield's woodland.

The two men occupy farms about one mile from the Fanwood station in the direction of Rahway. Hetfield is the owner of about eighty acres, fifteen of which are woodland. Sherer's farm is on Terrill road and adjoins the land of Hetfield. The two men have not been on the best of terms for a year past; and when last winter Hetfield was informed by friends that his neighbor was poaching upon his wood reserves, he decided to keep a lookout and find out the facts for himself.

On February 10th last it is alleged by Hetfield that he discovered Scherer and his son upon his land cutting and carrying away fire wood. When Hetfield accosted Scherer, some hot words passed between the men, the latter claiming that he was upon land leased by him and had a right to the wood.

Shortly afterward Hetfield brought a civil action for damages against Scherer, before Justice Clark, of Scotch Plains, and was awarded a verdict of $100. The case was appealed to the county court, and Judge McCormick yesterday reversed the decision of Justice Clark on a technicality, and non-suited Hetfield. The criminal charge was made against Scherer as soon as the decision of the county court became known to Hetfield.

Scherer was arrested last evening, and, failing to give bonds, was committed by Justice Mosher to the city jail until 11 o'clock this morning, when he was released by the Justice under $200 bond to appear at 4 o'clock this afternoon for examination.

PRESENTED A WORK BASKET.

Miss Pessinger Given a Pleasant Surprise by Associate Workers.

When the Warren chapel sewing-school closed for the season, the superintendent, Miss Pessinger, presented each of the teachers with a suitable present and, in return for this expression of kindness, the teachers gave their superintendent a surprise. They met at the home of Mrs. William Wilson, on Somerset street, yesterday afternoon and went to the home of Miss Pessinger, on Summit avenue, in a body. The object of their visit was to present her with a handsome work basket. Miss Pessinger appreciated the gift and thanked her donors. The assistant superintendent, Mrs. Snyder, was also presented with a work basket, but owing to the fact that she is confined to the house by illness, was unable to be present. Following the presentation the guests were served with refreshments and the balance of the afternoon was passed in a social manner.

AN EARLY PLAINFIELD GARDEN.

Horticulture Receives Careful Attention on the Part of Walter Scott.

Probably the earliest dinner of home grown new potatoes and green peas which has been served of recent years, was enjoyed at the residence of Walter Scott, on Front street, Sunday last.

The potatoes were of good size and the peas of excellent flavor. The early maturity of these vegetables is considered a great rarity hereabouts, and is more remarkable considering the general cool weather.

Mr. Scott's garden is quite an extensive affair, fronting on East Second street, and presents an attractive appearance the entire season, especially when the flowers are in bloom in great variety. The garden is under the personal supervision of Martin Whalen, whose careful study of horticultural peculiarities undoubtedly accounts for its phenomenal early products.

Convention of Letter Carriers.

New Jersey State Letter Carriers' Association will hold its annual convention in Arcanum Hall, Bayonne, on July 3d. Frederick J. Schmidt, president of the organization, has arranged to have the local letter carriers entertain the delegates. Officers are to be elected and a delegate chosen to the national convention, to be held in California.

Mrs. Snyder, of the borough, is confined to her home by illness.

Mrs. Harry Green and daughter, of Manning avenue, have returned from a visit with relatives at Newburgh-on-the-Hudson.

PEACE NEGOTIATIONS

Do Not Seem to Be Making Satisfactory Progress.

GREAT UNEASINESS FELT IN ATHENS.

The Powers Said to Be Trying to Induce Turkey to Sign General Peace Conditions — Leaving the Details to the Two Contending Nations.

London, June 9.—The peace negotiations do not seem to make much progress, and there has been considerable disquietude in Athens, caused by the apparently reliable statement that the negotiations were in danger of collapsing altogether. The ministers who were questioned on the subject, however, had no definite news of an official character and expressed the opinion that the report was without foundation.

It is said on good authority that the powers are now trying to induce Turkey to sign general peace conditions defining the broad limits within which Turkey and Greece should afterward settle details by direct negotiations.

This news is regarded at Athens with dismay, as a breach of faith on the part of the powers and as leaving Greece to the slender mercies of the sultan. It is believed by many good judges at Athens that Greece may yet have to fight for her very existence. Already there are reports that the Turks have advanced in the Agrapha district and occupied several villages and are still advancing toward the town of Agrapha. Greece has protested to the powers against this violation of the armistice, and Colonel Tosamados, the minister of war, has gone to Lamia.

Premier Ralli, who has conveyed the thanks of the government to the Greeks of New York city for five cannons, says: "The government does not forget that armistice is not peace and that it is its duty to be prepared for every eventuality."

The Greek newspapers all publish the statement by General Miles that the positions at Thermopylæ are impregnable.

Advices from Constantinople are equally pessimistic. It is alleged that Tewfik Pasha at Saturday's meeting of the council of ministers announced that the shiek ul Islam had issued a fetva declaring that territory once acquired by the sacrifice of Ottoman blood cannot, under the Ottoman law, be surrendered.

If this be true, it will require a good deal of persuasion to induce the sultan to retire from Thessaly. In addition to this report comes the rumor that Bulgaria has made an informal demand that Macedonia, with the exception of the province of Adrianople, shall be formed into an autonomous administration.

Alleged Turkish Outrages.

Constantinople, June 9.—On Monday last it was officially announced at Athens that the Turks in Epirus were guilty of abusing women, defiling churches and engaging in general pillage, and it was further announced that the Turkish irregulars had committed similar excesses in the villages around Larissa. The Turkish government has issued an official and categorical denial of the statements on this subject made officially at the Greek capital.

The Powers Make Little Progress.

London, June 9.—A dispatch to The Times from its Constantinople correspondent says that the powers, to whom Greece has intrusted her interests, show no sign of yielding either of the three points in the Turkish demand—the annexation of Thessaly, the abolition of the capitulations in the case of Greek subjects in the Ottoman empire and an exorbitant indemnity.

To Determine the Amount of Indemnity.

Paris, June 9.—The Temps publishes a dispatch from Constantinople saying that the report of the representatives of the British, Russian and Italian embassadors who are going to Thessaly is intended to serve as a basis upon which to determine the amount of indemnity which Greece will have to pay Turkey as a result of the recent war between those two countries.

Stormy Sessions In Constantinople.

London, June 9.—A dispatch to The Daily Chronicle from Constantinople says it is rumored that stormy scenes have taken place during the sessions of the peace conference and that German obstruction has provoked lively indignation among a majority of the embassadors.

Assessments Against Corporations.

Trenton, June 9.—The state board of assessors have filed with the state comptroller the first batch of assessments against miscellaneous corporations. There are 2,475 companies in the list, against which there is a total tax of $699,697.30. Another list will be filed later on. The total number of companies assessed last year was 4,593. The number this year will probably reach 4,800. The two companies paying the biggest tax are the Prudential Insurance, which pays a tax of $81,409.49, and the Mutual Benefit Life Insurance company, $67,151.70.

Killed by a Jealous Woman.

Huntington, W. Va., June 9.—Florence Williams killed her lover in McDowell county after a heated quarrel and escaped. Both are members of prominent families. There is much excitement over the matter. The man was killed in a fit of jealousy and was at the time preparing to take up a large tract of timber land to make ties for the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern railroad.

Bank President Accepts Responsibility.

Dover, Del., June 9.—President Harry A. Richardson of the First National bank, whose teller a short time ago disappeared with part of the bank's funds, has entered into an arrangement with the bank's directors by which he accepts all responsibility for the losses sustained by the bank by Teller Boggs' defalcation.

Cold Weather In New York.

Middletown, N. Y., June 9.—The weather has been more cold and disagreeable than heretofore known in June, which has kept New York's early visitors to their country homes clustered about great wood fires.

TARIFF ON COTTON.

The Raw Material Has Been Placed on the Dutiable List.

CAUSES A VERY SPIRITED DEBATE

The Republicans In Caucus Instruct the Finance Committee to Alter the Proposed Duties In the Sugar Schedule—Imports to Be Specific.

Washington, June 9.—By the decisive vote of 42 to 19 the senate has adopted an amendment to the tariff bill placing raw cotton, the great product of the south, on the dutiable list at 20 per cent ad valorem. It is the first time in the history of tariff legislation that a duty on cotton has been incorporated in a bill. The amendment was proposed by Mr. Bacon (Dem.) of Georgia on his individual responsibility and without the approval of the finance committee, which thus far has been requisite to the success of every amendment except a minor one, which went through by default.

The amendment led to a spirited debate, Democratic senators disclosing a wide difference of views and at times exchanging sharp personal criticisms. On the final vote six Democrats—Bacon and Clay of Georgia, McEnery of Louisiana, McLaurin and Tillman of South Carolina and Rawlins of Utah—voted with the Republicans for the Bacon amendment, while the negative vote was solidly Democratic with one exception—Kyle (Pop.).

The debate on cotton took up the most of the day, and but little progress was made on the bill. Early in the day the sugar schedule was passed over and the agricultural schedule taken up. Less than two pages were disposed of during the day. The paragraph on cattle went over, but the balance of the agricultural schedule up to and including paragraph 228 was agreed to as reported, all amendments except that of Mr. Bacon's being rejected.

In executive session the following nominations were confirmed: John K. Thompson to be marshal for the district of West Virginia, Ellis H. Roberts of New York to be treasurer of the United States, Conrad N. Jordan of New York to be assistant treasurer of the United States at New York city, Henry H. Morgan of Louisiana to be consul at Horgen, Switzerland; Carl Bailey Hurst of the District of Columbia to be consul general at Vienna and L. A. Pradt of Wisconsin to be assistant attorney general.

The Sugar Tax Agreed Upon.

Washington, June 9.—The caucus of Republican senators by a nearly unanimous vote decided to accept the sugar schedule in the house bill, with an amendment making the differential in favor of refined sugar one-fifth of a cent a pound. It was also decided to make the rate 10 per cent less on sugars testing below 87 degrees.

The senators present, on motion of Mr. Quay, pledged themselves by a roll call to stand by the sugar schedule and also to stand by every amendment proposed by the finance committee.

It was agreed that this was the only means by which the tariff bill could be brought to a vote promptly. There are conflicting views on many schedules but all are to be reconciled, amicably if possible and by caucus if necessary. The next formal caucus will probably be over the tobacco schedule, which Senator Pritchard of North Carolina wants changed for the benefit of the tobacco growing states.

Revival of Cuban Question.

Washington, June 9.—There is a revival of Cuban talk about the senate on account of the return of Mr. Calhoun. The Republican senators, some of them members of the foreign relations committee, say there is no doubt that the president will take action as soon as Mr. Calhoun's report is received. No definite information was given concerning the attitude of the president, but the impression of the senators, from such reports as they had heard, was that there would be a change from the present negative policy and the adoption of a definite line of action, with a view to endeavoring to secure a settlement of the present unfortunate state of affairs in Cuba.

The Spanish Minister Denies a Report.

Washington, June 9.—Senor Dupuy de Lome, the Spanish minister here, characterizes as absurd reports that he has advised his government to withdraw Captain General Weyler from his command in Cuba. The minister pointed out that it would not be within his province to advise his government as to the lines of its policy concerning any country outside of the United States, to which he is accredited. If the government of the United States had any suggestions to make as to the conduct of affairs in Cuba, it would, if it followed the usual customs of diplomatic exchanges, make its representations to the Spanish government through the United States minister at Madrid, Mr. Taylor.

Senator Jones' Denials.

Washington, June 9.—Senator Jones of Arkansas, chairman of the Democratic national committee, was asked as to the truth of the report that a fund of $100,000 was being raised in Colorado and western states for the continuation of the agitation in behalf of the free coinage of silver. He replied: "I have not received a cent of money from Colorado since the election, and if any such sum as is mentioned is being raised in the interest of silver I don't know it. I should like to be assured of its truth." Mr. Jones also referred to the report that Senator Teller is in Colorado in this interest, declaring that it was absolutely without foundation.

In the Very Heart of Newark.

Bear in mind that we manufacture all our bedding, and guarantee every article produced in this department as strictly first-class in its grade. We make Excelsior, Husk, Cotton and all grades of Hair Mattresses in strictly high grade tickings.

It is neither nice nor neat to use bedding from one year's end to another without having it thoroughly cleansed. You change your bed linen every week, in fact you wouldn't sleep in unclean sheets. Why not, then, see that your bedding is renovated at least once a year—and oftener? We will thoroughly cleanse it and make it as pure and sweet as the sheet that covers it. For this we charge you but five cents a pound. Our method for renovating is a perfected and patented process, which has been indorsed by physicians and hospital authorities.

RE-UPHOLSTERING — We give particular attention to the reupholstering of couches, lounges, chairs, etc., in the best possible manner at reasonable prices. Let us give you a figure.

better worth following than any other will bring you direct to our store when you want anything in the line of paints. When a mistake is easily avoided it's scarcely worth while to run the risk of making one. Buying poor paint is a needless waste of money. It's paying for something you don't want, because it won't answer the purpose. Only paint that wears and is proof against the exposure of our climate is worth the cost of putting on. Ours are best and cheapest.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—The case of Reed et als against Frey, on contract, has been adjourned for a week. The defendant is represented by W. G. DeMeza.

Hundreds of thousands have been induced to try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy by reading what it has done for others, and having tested its merits for themselves are to-day its warmest friends. For sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Miss Lizzie Burn, of Paterson, spent Sunday with Mrs. S. R. Robinson, of West Second street.

Clifford Spencer, of New York, formerly of the borough, has been visiting Harry Williams, of Somerset street.

"There's no use in talking," says W. H. Broadwell, druggist, La Cygne, Kas., "Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy does the work. After taking medicines of my own preparation and those of others, I took a dose of Chamberlain's and it helped me; a second dose cured me. Candidly and conscientiously I can recommend it as the best thing on the market." The 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

—The third Sunday in June will be celebrated as a rally day at the Mt. Zion A. M. E. church, and three special services will be held.

Mr. Isaac Horner, proprietor of the Burton House, Burton, W. V., and one of the most widely known men in the state was cured of rheumatism after three years of suffering. He says: "I have not sufficient command of language to convey any idea of what I suffered, my physicians told me that nothing could be done for me and my friends were fully convinced that nothing but death would relieve me of my suffering. In June 1894, Mr. Evens, then salesman fo the Wheeling Drug Co., recommended Chamberlain's Pain Balm. At this time my foot and limb were swollen to more than double their normal size and it seemed to me my leg would burst, but soon after I began using the Pain Balm the swelling began to decrease, the pain to leave, and now I consider that I am entirely cured." For sale by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

—The quarterly meeting of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society of the Presbyterian churches was held in the parlors of the Crescent Avenue church yesterday afternoon. The attendance was not large on account of the storm.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

The best Salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by L. W. Randolph.

—The silver anniversary will be held by Perseverance Lodge, No. 74, Knights of Pythias, on Friday evening. An enjoyable and entertaining programme has been provided for that occasion.

Stands at the Head.

Aug. J. Bogel, the leading druggist of Shreveport, La., says: "Dr. King's New Discovery is the only thing that cures my cough, and it is the best seller I have." J. F. Campbell, merchant of Safford, Ariz., writes: "Dr. King's New Discovery is all that is claimed for it; it never fails, and is a sure cure for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. I cannot say enough for its merits.' Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds is not an experiment. It has been tried for a quarter of a century, and to-day stands at the head. It never disappoints. Free trial bottles at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

Rev. James Groves, pastor of the Mt. Zion A. M. E. church, and Rev. Grant Cannon, of this city, are attending the district conference at Asbury Park.

Electric Bitters

Electric Bitters is a medicine suited for any season, but perhaps more generally needed when the languid, exhausted feeling prevails, when the liver is torpid and sluggish and the need of a tonic and alterative is felt. A prompt use of this medicine has often averted long and perhaps fatal bilious fevers. No medicine will act more surely in counteracting and freeing the system from the malarial poison Headache, Indigestion, Constipation, Dizziness yield to Electric Bitters. 50c. and $1.00 per bottle at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

SILVER REPUBLICANS

First Meeting of the Provisional Committee Held In Chicago.

THIRTY-TWO STATES REPRESENTED.

Desire the Speedy Re-establishment of True Bimetallism In the United States, With Equality In Money Power of Silver and Gold.

Chicago, June 9.—Thirty-two states were represented at the first meeting of the provisional committee of the National Silver Republican party, which met in executive session at the Leland hotel. Besides the committeemen of the various states represented over 100 silver Republicans were present from all parts of the country. The states represented were Alabama, Arkansas, California, Colorado, Connecticut, Delaware, Idaho, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, New Jersey, New York, North Dakota, Ohio, Oklahoma, Oregon, Pennsylvania, South Dakota, Utah, Washington, Wisconsin, Wyoming and West Virginia.

The meeting was called to order by ex-Congressman Charles A. Towne of Minnesota, chairman of the provisional committee, who delivered the opening address, in the course of which he said:

"Our motives are these: We desire above all things else of immediate political concern the speedy re-establishment in the United States of true bimetallism, the same privilege of free coinage at the mint for both gold and silver and absolute equality between them in all money power, when coined, with the option to every payer, whether the government or an individual, to choose what coin shall be the basis of payment in every instance. We wish to do all in our power to advance this happy consummation, and we realize that if this great cause is to succeed in the elections of 1898 and 1900 it can do so only through the addition to the allied armies of 6,000,000 that followed the banner of the joint standard in 1896 of at least some hundreds of thousands of Republicans of that contest."

In conclusion, he said the immediate business in hand was the determination of the time and place for holding a national convention, the membership of which could make an authoritative declaration of principles, and the discussion and adoption of a plan of general organization in the states and territories would follow.

Committees on order of business and plan of organization were then named, of which latter ex-Senator Dubois of Idaho was made chairman.

A resolution was passed admitting to the meeting the visiting silver Republicans who were not members of the provisional committee and giving them all privileges except that of voting.

Plan of Organization.

The committee on plan of organization presented the following report:

Whereas, It is not the province of this committee to anticipate the action of the national convention in the formation of a platform and declaration of principles; but,

Whereas, In order to preclude any basis for either misunderstanding or misrepresentation as to the object of this organization, it is prudent to make known the controlling principles of its existence, therefore,

Resolved, That the Silver Republican party of the United States favors the immediate establishment of bimetallism by the independent action of the United States through the free coinage of both silver and gold at the ratio of 16 to 1 and the clothing of both metals equally with every attribute of full money, with the right of every debtor to choose which coin shall be the basis of payment; and,

Resolved, That the achievement of this great object is deemed by us of paramount political importance and shall form the controlling motive of our political action until it is accomplished.

Your committee on plans and organization for the Silver Republican party of the United States begs leave to submit this, our report:

First.—We recommend the appointment of a national executive committee of seven members, including the national chairman, to be apointed by the chairman of the national committee.

Second.—That this committee be empowered to take such action as may be necessary in order to fill any vacancies which may exist at any time in the national committee.

Third.—The executive committee, with the advice and consent of the national committee, is authorized to call a national convention of the Silver Republican party to meet at such time and place as they may designate and to perfect the necessary details therefor.

Fourth.—In those states where organizations are not complete the members of the national committee for such states shall take such steps under the direction of the national executive committee as are necessary to complete such organization.

Sues the State For Damages.

Albany, June 9.—A claim for $15,000 against the state has been filed by Fred Zieman and Augusta Zieman of Rome as administrators of the estate of Frederick Zieman. The claim is for damages for the death of the last named, which was caused while he was at work for the state near Oriskany, Oneida county, on May 22, in lifting a sunken canalboat, when the machinery being used broke, causing a lever to crush the skull of the deceased. The claimants allege that the machinery was defective through negligence on the part of the officers of the state

THE ROBINSON CASE.

Decision Rendered by the Referee In the Proceedings.

IT IS IN FAVOR OF THE PLAINTIFF.

The Defendant Has Been Indicted For Embezzlement and the Company Had Advertised the Sale of Securities Pledged by Him.

Elmira, N. Y., June 9.—Judge John F. Parkhurst of Bath has handed down a very important decision as referee in the five actions brought by the Mutual Life Insurance company of New York against David C. Robinson and Emma A. Robinson of this city and others to foreclosure mortgages aggregating nearly $500,000. The defendants had put in counter claims to the mortgage of over $1,000,000, so that the total amount involved was about $1,500,000. In each of the five actions Referee Parkhurst dismissed the counter claims of the defendants upon the merits and awarded judgments of foreclosure.

The following are the amounts of the judgments in each of the five actions:

The total judgments in the five actions aggregate $438,093.59.

Hearings have been in progress in this city and New York for the past three months. A few days ago Colonel Robinson was indicted by a grand jury in New York for alleged embezzlement of the money of the insurance company in August, 1892, and about the same time the company advertised for sale securities of Colonel Robinson which he had pledged to secure loans exceeding $1,000,000 in value. The sale was advertised to take place yesterday in New York, but Colonel Robinson obtained a temporary stay from County Judge Pratt of this city ordering the matter to be argued before the special term in this city as to whether the stay should be extended. After hearing the argument Justice Lyon refused to grant the stay. The matter will be appealed.

Labor Riot In Illinois.

Pontiac, Ills., June 9.—A serious labor riot has occurred at Mononk. The coal miners there have been on strike since May 1. During the last week a few men have been working against the wishes of the majority. While Superintendent A. W. Morgan and one of the bosses, Joseph Erbeland, were escorting one of the men to work a crowd of miners interfered. A fight ensued, and Morgan and Erbeland commenced to shoot, killing instantly a young married miner named John Weloski and wounding another. This so enraged the miners that they attacked Morgan and Erbeland with clubs and stones and beat them badly. Morgan may not live. The town is excited, and there is no telling where the trouble may end.

Do Not Believe the Confession.

Chester, Pa., June 9.—The grand jury has ignored the bill against James Marshall, the self accused murderer of C. A. Danne, or Hanne, of St. Louis, whose body was found along Cobb's creek, near the Philadelphia city line on the morning of Feb. 7, 1893. Marshall was taken back to Governor's island, he having been brought here immediately after confessing to a cellmate that he had murdered Danne. The authorities believe that Marshall concocted the story in order to be released from confinement at Governor's island.

Big Mortgage Filed.

Buffalo, June 9.—The $50,000,000 mortgage given by the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern Railway company to the United States Trust company of New York and John T. Dye of Indianapolis as trustees has been filed with the county clerk. It is given as a part of the refunding scheme of the Lake Shore road, which is to pay off its outstanding obligations and bonds, amounting in all to $43,192,000. It is dated June 1 and runs 100 years. It contains a gold clause and bears 3½ per cent interest.

Killed In a Scuffle.

Newburg, N. Y., June 9.—James Mannix, aged 28 years, was taken to Matteawan hospital, suffering from a fractured skull. He died yesterday morning. Mannix had been engaged in a scuffle with some drunken bricklayers and fell, or was pushed down a bank near the Methodist cemetery at Fishkill Landing. The bricklayers left him lying in the road. He was taken later to the hospital. The coroner is investigating.

Tax on Unnaturalized Males.

Harrisburg, June 9.—The senate has passed the bill, which has already been passed by the house, taxing each unnaturalized adult male employed in the state 2 cents a day. The house bill providing for the payment of interest by banks on state deposits was amended to increase the interest rate from 1 per cent to 1½ per cent on active de-

WEATHER INDICATIONS.

(Furnished by Weather Observer Neagle.)

Showers This Afternoon and Tonight; Thursday Fair; Warmer Thursday Evening.

At 2 o'Clock the Thermometer at Leggett's Pharmacy Registered 58 Degrees.

GROWING PLAINFIELD.

If the word of contractors and builders in other sections of New Jersey can be relied upon, Plainfield is growing faster than any other city in the State. On good authority the Press learns that today there is more building going on in this city than in Newark, a city fifteen times as large. So far as the comparative amount of building in such towns as Elizabeth, New Brunswick and Rahway goes, Plainfield is doing a good deal more than all three combined. There is every reason to believe that in another decade Plainfield—that is, city and borough together—will crowd the 30,000 population mark.

A REDUCTION IN REALITY.

Regarding the apparent increase in the salary of Tax Collector Bird, if the News had taken the pains to investigate as to what had been paid in the past its editor would have seen that the change in the salary is really a reduction from that of former years. Last year Mr. Bird received $1,500 as City Tax Collector and $1,103.99 as Delinquent Tax Collector, making a total of $2,603.99. This, it is very easy to see, is considerable more than he will receive under the new salary arrangement which gives him the stipulated amount of $2,000 in lieu of all fees. The $500 for collecting sewer assessments will be used principally by the Collector in paying for the extra clerk hire that the collections will entail.

Demented Woman Fled.

The police of Rahway are searching today for Mrs. Younger, an alleged demented woman, of fifty-five years. The Overseer of the Poor at Rahway and Woodbridge, together with the Freeholder committee of Middlesex county, were in a squabble as to who shall care for the woman. Meantime she has been living in the house of Andrew McManus, in Lower Rahway, and yesterday he made a complaint to Police Justice Frazee that the woman was acting in a violent manner and terrifying his household. The Justice issued a warrant for the woman, but when an officer went to serve it she had fled.

Rahway Man's Sad Condition.

Former Water Commissioner W. G. Rathburn, of Rahway, is seriously afflicted with what is said to be softening of the brain. He had to leave the Water Board six weeks ago on this account and his condition since then has grown worse. He has been taken to the home of a relative in Rhode Island, in hope that his health may be benefited by the change of air. He is about fifty-four years old and was formerly foreman of the Gordon Press Works at Rahway.

Did Not Know the Town.

There have been many changes in Plainfield in the last fourteen years, Michael O'Neil found that while fourteen years ago he could get drunk and have a good time without interruption, now the moment he attempted to paint the town even a dark maroon, a policeman locked him up. Patrolman McCue found him drunk on Park avenue yesterday afternoon and locked him up. When the Judge heard his story this morning, he suspended sentence on the man who had not been here for fourteen years.

Dennis Kane Stops a Runaway.

A horse attached to the wagon of Kersting & Klinsman, the West Front street bakers, while left standing on East Third street this morning, took fright and ran away. The animal was stopped near Watchung avenue by Dennis Kane, a trolley motorman, before any damage resulted from its flight.

Crop Report.

The following is Weather Observer Neagle's crop report for the past week: Crops in general are looking good; grass and grain will yield a full crop; sunshine and warmer weather are greatly needed for the rapid growth of garden truck; light frost on the 2d, but no damage reported.

—There was a light fall of snow in Newark yesterday.

$100 REWARD, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address F. J. Biglow, Jr., Mrs. W. O. Chapman and several others.

THIS COLD WEATHER.

The Records Show That it Was Only Equaled in 1881.

Never, since the Weather Bureau has been in existence, except in 1881, has this part of the country been visited by such unprecedented cold weather in the usually balmy monthy of June. With the chilly breezes, now comes three days of continuous storm which, promise, however, to come to an end this evening.

"Nice day, isn't it?" remarks some sarcastic friend as he dodges out of the steady downpour that has kept up for the last seventy-two hours. Everything is completely soaked and the streams out in the country are swollen far above their usual height. The combination of storm and cold has put an effectual check to all the usual summer pleasures. Nobody cares to sit out on the piazza in this weather while wheel riding is somewhat at a discount.

The rain storm is not out of season for there is usually a severe storm to arrive in June, but the cold weather has completely surprised the weather prophets. This morning, the thermometer fell as low as fifty degrees, and all day it has been damp and chilly. Today, as far as the temperature was concerned, is merely a repetition of yesterday and the day before. It is not likely that the entire summer will be a mild one as it has started out. The weather authorities predict that there will be plenty of hot weather to encounter before July is over and that the warm season will

OLD DISPUTE RENEWED.

SUPERINTENDENT HOLMES WOULD EXAMINE PULPITS.

Sends a Communication to the School Trustees Which Principal Edwards Endorses-Arrangements for Commencement

The Westfield Board of Education met in the Prospect street building last evening. Principal Edwards and all the members of the board excepting Mr. Schoonover and President Green were present. Mr. Welles was elected chairman. The matter of employing a special constable to guard the Prospect street building on July 4th, and to prevent anyone from entering and ringing the bell, was discussed, and was referred to the committee on buildings and grounds with instructions that a constable be engaged. A communication was received from County Superintendent Holmes, enclosing a list of the textbooks which the State-law prescribes for use in schools. Mr. Holmes also brought up the old dispute about the examination of classes in the high school, maintaining that while it was his duty according to law to examine candidates for graduation, he had heretofore been ignored in the matter. Principal Edwards upon being invited by the board to express his views upon the matter stated that in his opinion the position taken by the County Superintendent was correct, and that he should allow that official to conduct the examinations in question. The committee in charge of the arrangements for graduation exercises reported that the exercises will take place on Friday evening, the 18th, in the Westfield Club Auditorium, and that the baccalaureate sermon to the graduation class will be preached on Sunday evening the 20th in the Methodist church by the Rev. Rufus S. Green, D. D. The question of purchasing a new flag for the Prospect street building was discussed and was referred to the committee on supplies. The flag now in use, which was presented to the school, is in very tattered condition. The graduation class this year is the largest in the history of the high school, and the final exercises promise to be of unusual interest. The members of the class are Miss Belle Morrow, Miss Gertrude Noe, Miss Clara Connoly, Miss Hazel Wallace, Lloyd Thompson, John McCormick and Charles Foster. The graduation honors have not yet been announced.

It is now assured that Westfield's contemplated old-time Fourth of July celebration will come off in royal manner. The committee appointed by Bucket and Engine Company has already secured subscriptions amounting to over $300, and are now figuring on the amounts to be expended on the various features of the celebration. The day will be ushered in by the firing of cannon and the ringing of bells. Bicycle races, foot races, horse races, a tub race on Clark's Lake and a base ball game will be among the events. In the afternoon a clambake will be held in the woods, with a dancing pavilion. In the evening a fine display of fireworks will take place, and a grand stand will be erected for the comfort of spectators. The Union county band will furnish music during the day.

NO TROLLEY FRANCHISE YET.

Bound Brook Council Again Postpone Important Action.

The Bound Brook Borough Council, last night, did not decide on a trolley franchise. It only adopted a street grade upon which the trolley expects to go.

Much dissatisfaction is expressed by the citizens because the writ of certiorari served upon the New York and Philadelphia Company expired Monday and one company expected to have the right of way granted.

The Board adjourned to June 16th.

Willard P. Voorhees and Frederick Weigel, lawyers, representing the Brunswick Traction Company, were at Trenton, yesterday, to look out for the interests of the company in the certiorari proceedings in the Supreme Court, instituted by William Schure, of Bound Brook, in the matter of granting a trolley franchise through that town. The Brunswick Traction Company has the right of way and consent of the Township Boards between New Brunswick and Bound and is making a hard fight to get through the town.

A. H. Patter, with E. C. Atkins & Co., Indianapolis, Ind., writes: "I have never before given a testimonial in my life. But I will say that for three years we have never been without Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy in the house, and my wife would as soon think of being without flour as a bottle of this Remedy in the summer season. We have used it with all three of our children and it has never failed to cure—not simply stop pain, but cure absolutely. It is all right, and anyone who tries it will find it so." For sale by T. S. THE AMERICAN QUEEN COMPETITION.
A Columbia FREE!

A lady's Columbia Bicycle, 1897 Model, will be given to the winner in THE AMERICAN QUEEN competition, which will be open to all the subscribers to THE AMERICAN QUEEN until June 30, 1897.

The Columbia, the standard bicycle of the world, has been selected for this competition, because the publishers of THE AMERICAN QUEEN are convinced that it is the best and that the woman who wins it would have it in preference to any other make.

The Columbia is now on exhibition at our store and will remain on exhibition until June 30th, when the competition will close and the Columbia will be awarded to the fortunate winner.

The contest which we have just inaugurated, by or through which some subscriber to THE AMERICAN QUEEN is going to win a fine, high grade $100 Columbia Bicycle, is already well under way. The contest will remain open until June 30 1897. The conditions and plan of this contest are simply these: We purpose presenting a Columbia Bicycle, 1897 Model, to the lady subscriber who furnishes the best menu, for one week, for a family of five, the cost of such menu not to exceed $10 for the week. The merits of the menus submitted will be passed upon by the Editor of THE AMERICAN QUEEN, Miss Mary L. Bisland, and the person furnishing the best menu, in Miss Bisland's judgment, will be presented with the bicycle.

The menu submitted should be enclosed in one envelope and the name of the sender in a separate one, the two being handed in or sent in together, addressed to us. The envelopes containing the menus will then be numbered and sent to Miss Bisland and the envelopes containing the names reserved by us, and when Miss Bisland makes her choice of the menus she will inform us of the number of the winner and we will then announce the result in local newspapers and THE AMERICAN QUEEN.

The only requirement necessary to admit you to this contest is that you be a subscriber to THE AMERICAN QUEEN.

The splendid wheel which will go to the winner is on exhibition in the store and may be seen at any time.

We want everybody to feel free to go into this contest and we hope that hundreds of our customers will fix their minds on good things to eat and mould them into an acceptable menu for the week, and at the same time keep the cost down to $10.

THE COMPETITION.—Our aim in offering this competition is to have every lady we can reach with this announcement become a reader of THE AMERICAN QUEEN. THE QUEEN is published at $1 a year, but to give all our friends a chance to get this splendidly useful home publication for the ensuing year and at the same time have a chance to become the proud possessor of the standard cycle, we shall until the 30th day of June receive subscriptions (only one, however, will be taken from each family) for the nominal fee of 25 Cents a year. Come to the store at once, register your name, receive your receipt for THE QUEEN for one year and try to win the Columbia.

EXPLOSION OF FIREWORKS.

The Careless Dropping of a Match Does Immense Damage.

Chicago, June 9.—A match carelessly dropped by one of the workmen in the fireworks factory of M. Shure, at the corner of West Van Buren and Halstead streets, caused a terrific explosion a few minutes after 6 o'clock last night.

It was shortly after the closing time of the factory, and many of the workmen had gone home, otherwise the loss of life must have been very heavy. As it was, a number of the employees were badly hurt, and the flying rockets and candles struck several people who were passing in street cars and on the sidewalks.

The force of the explosion was so great that nearly all the windows in the block were demolished, and the Shure building, which is a four-story structure, was badly damaged. Immediately following the explosion the building was ablaze from cellar to roof, and the fire department had a desperate struggle before it succeeded in extinguishing the flames.

The building was almost entirely destroyed by the fire, however, and such portions of the large stock of fireworks as had not been scattered throughout the neighborhood by the explosion were also destroyed, causing a heavy loss to Shure.

The explosion caused a panic in that portion of the town for a time, and the wildest stories were current regarding the number of killed and wounded. It happened at a time when the street was crowded with people on their way to their homes, and the street cars which pass in front of the building every minute were packed with passengers.

The flying missiles from the factory struck a number of persons, and one man who was gazing into a store window fully 400 feet distant had his attention suddenly attracted to other matters by a rocket which hit him squarely in the back. He fell to the sidewalk unconscious and was carried to the hospital before he was able to give his name. The majority of those injured have received but trifling hurts and will be around within a day or two. The loss to the building and contents is estimated at $60,000.

Delicate Dress Goods.

Some gowns are so dainty in the weave, so delicate in tint, that they seem to soil by being looked at—one or two wearings making them unpresentable, NOT USELESS. We make a specialty of cleaning fine fabrics, the more delicate the material, the better the results. Sometimes an accident will ruin a gown, without injuring the texture We dye them then, sometimes we get a prettier effect than the origina. olor. Fine goods stand redyeing. The finer the material the better the new color. We charge so little for cleaning or dyeing, that even if you are in doubt as to the result, it's worth while to experiment. Want a new evening gown for a dollar or two? Laundry drivers will receive your work.

A Victory for Science.

A TORTURED WOMAN CURED BY CAPSULOIDS.

The Remarkable Experience of a Philadelphia woman. Her Blood Turned to Water and Life Was Slowly Ebbing Away. The New Discovery of Science Saved Her Life.

From the Evening News, Newark, N. J.

One of the first persons in this country to be benefited by Capsuloids, the new discovery of science, is Mrs. Hanz Bensall, 2323 Jefferson street, Philadelphia. Mrs. Bensall's blood was turning to water. Her limbs were palsied with weakness, her head was tortured with neuralgia, her back was racked with indescribable pain. She was incapacitated for the ordinary duties of life.

That she lives to-day is remarkable. That she is as full of health, as buoyant of spirit, as radiant of face as any woman the mind of artist ever conceived, borders almost on the miraculous.

"Yes," she said, to a reporter, "my case has puzzled physicians. All of the time-worn methods of treatment were tried but they had no effect in my case. The physicians who treated me finally said the trouble was with my blood, but it proved beyond their reach until this new remedy, Capsuloids, was tried and then I recovered.

"I was married quite young and my trouble commenced shortly after. Despite the watchful attention of my husband and the skill of physicians my suffering increased. I lost flesh until I weighed but 98 pounds. I was so weak the least exertion exhausted me, my head was a nest of torture, my back was racked with pain until it seemed as if death would be a relief. I frequently fainted without any apparent reason. I looked so much like a corpse it frightened me to see myself in a glass.

"Shortly after Christmas of this year I was attacked with the grippe, and was confined to my bed for nine weeks. After I struggled to my feet I seemed weaker than ever and my old troubles were aggravated. I was despairing of life and the thought of death was not unwelcome. When my father heard of Capsuloids, the new discovery, he and my husband determined to try them at all events, even though it was necessary to send to England for them where we understood they had produced wonderful cures in the hospitals.

"Fortunately, we were able to secure the Capsuloids in this country, and I began taking them as directed without consulting a physician. Before the first box was finished I felt new life coursing through my veins; my limbs grew stronger, the throbbing pains in my head ceased, my back no longer ached, I felt I was getting well. My husband and my friends were overwhelmed with joy.

"To-day I weigh 117 pounds. My appetite is enormous, my household work a pleasure, and I fully appreciate the great blessing of good health."

Mr. Bensall who was present, fully corroborated the statement of Mrs. Bensall, and the reporter left the house with the belief that the practice of medicine was indeed on the verge of revolution.

This case substantiates the latest theory of leading scientists, that nearly every disease can be traced not only to the blood but to the loss of natural iron or hæmoglobin, the office of which is to attract oxygen, the vital element of life.

Physicians have long sought a method of restoring to the blood this natural iron with but meagre success. Dr. Campbell, of London, discovered that the blood of healthy bullocks contained iron in the same condition as it exists in human blood. To extract it required ingenuous methods, the invention of new devices. Nothing daunted Dr. Campbell persevered until success resulted.

Dr. Campbell's Red Blood Forming Capsuloids are sold by all leading druggists at 50 cents per large box, six boxes for $2.50, or sent direct at the same price from the office of The Capsuloid Company, Downing Building, 108 Fulton Street, New York City.

SUIT AGAINST AN EXECUTOR.

Dismissal of the Case Brought by a Boarding House Keeper.

Albany, June 9.—The court of appeals has dismissed the complaint of Martha Keery against John F. Dimon, the executor of the will of Stephen C. Dimon, who died in New York city Jan. 12, 1893, leaving personal property of the value of $25,000 and a seventh interest in the property bounded by Third and Fourth and Lewis streets and the East river, the value of which is placed in the vicinity of $500,000.

Dimon was an eccentric bachelor. For eight years he had lived in the furnished room house kept by Mrs. Keery at 117 West Forty-seventh street. For several years prior to his death he had not been on friendly terms with his relatives, and it is stated that he declared that none of them should receive a dollar of his fortune.

Mrs. Keery averred that he made a will in her favor about September, 1884. She declares that she saw the will, and that Mr. Dimon told her to read it carefully, as he intended that she should have all of his property and that he did not intend that his relatives should get a dollar of it.

He did not believe that any one living could break it, as it was so short and to the point. After his death Mrs. Keery secured permission from the court for an inspection of the contents of boxes in the Mercantile Safe Deposit company and the American Safe Deposit company, but no will could be found. She said that the will had been lost or destroyed by accident or design.

IS HE THE DIVINE HEALER?

A Man Who Says He Is Schlatter Arrives In Cleveland.

Cleveland, June 9.—A man who declares that he is Francis Schlatter, the alleged healer, who was reported to have starved himself to death in Mexico, has arrived in Cleveland and is stopping at a boarding house on Huron street. With him is a man named Hollandeberger of New York, who says they intend to open an institute in this city.

It is difficult to prove or disprove the claim of the alleged healer, because if he is Schlatter he has shaved his beard, but there is certainly a strong resemblance between his features and some of the published pictures of Schlatter. He laughed when his attention was directed to the starvation story and declared that he had been visiting his mother at Bordeaux, a few miles from Nashville.

AGAINST CLUBS.

New York's State Excise Department to Begin War Against Them.

Albany, June 9.—Today, Thursday and Friday of this week the state excise department will begin war in earnest against the clubs in New York city which are alleged to be violating the excise law.

Motions will be made in the supreme court for orders to show cause why the certificates of the Young Men's Cosmopolitan club, the Gramercy club and the Plymouth Social club should not be cancelled. The state excise department will be represented in these cases by Assistant District Attorney R. R. Scott of New York, P. W. Cullinan, attorney for the state excise department, and Senator N. N. Stranahan as counsel.

Yale Club Incorporated.

Albany, June 9.—The Yale club of New York city has been incorporated with the secretary of state. The directors are Brayton Ives, Henry Holt, Edmund Coffin, Jr., George C. Holt, Robert W. De Forest, Thomas Thacher, Edwin D. Worcester, Henry W. Taft, Philip G. Bartlett, Alexander Lambert, Richard M. Hurd, Charles H. Shorrill, Herbert Green, Jr., Augustus F. Kountze, Alfred H. Swayne, John H. Hammond, Noah H. Swayne of New York city, Julian W. Taft of Greenwich, Conn., and William P. Eno of Saugatuck, Conn. Among the incorporators are Chauncey M. Depew, Ellis H. Roberts, Henry E. Howland, Ashbel Green and Frederick Ward.

G. A. R. Committee Appointed.

Troy, N. Y., June 9.—At a meeting here of the executive committee, having in charge matters pertaining to the coming Army of the Potomac reunion, the following committee was appointed to receive President McKinley should he accept the invitation to attend: Governor Frank S. Black, Senator Thomas C. Platt, Senator Edward Murphy, Jr., Mayor Francis J. Molloy, James A. Burden, Martin I. Townsend, George B. Cluett, C. L. MacArthur, John M. Francis, Charles E. Patterson and Seymour Van Santvoord.

The Sheriff Has Magowan's Wine.

Trenton, June 9.—Ex-Sheriff Ege went to the Magowan mansion and took from the cellar the wine which was not sold last week on account of its being claimed under a bill of sale by a third party. The question of the ownership of the wine has not yet been determined, but the ex-sheriff thought it proper to take possession of the liquor and put it in storage. The wine is valued at about $1,000. Magowan at one time had about $6,000 worth of wine in his cellar.

Massachusetts Doctors Meet.

Boston, June 9.—The Massachusetts Medical society began its one hundred and sixteenth anniversary meetings at Mechanics' building. After the formal opening of the convention the members of the society spent the forenoon in visiting the Massachusetts General hospital, the Boston City hospital, the Children's hospital and the Carney hospital. The annual Shattuck lecture was delivered by Dr. D. W. Cheever. His subject was "The New Surgery."

To Save a Stranded Steamer.

Boston, June 9.—The Boston Towboat company's steamer Orion, Captain Smith, has sailed for St. Lucia with wrecking gear and divers to attempt to save the British steamer Ethelgonda and her cargo of wool. The Ethelgonda, which was bound from Buenos Ayres for Boston, stranded at Micoud, near the entrance of St. Lucia harbor, last Friday.

GOSSIP OF THE CYCLERS.

TEMS INTERESTING TO DEVOTEES OF THE STEEL STEEDS.

The Popular Exercise Provides Incidents and Expressions That are of Especial Moment When Wheeling is the Rage.

Miss Julia Stelle is about to join the ranks of Plainfield's women bicyclists.

A. M. Shepard the well known bicycle rider, has been engaged in the repair shop of W. H. Rogers, on North avenue. Shepard is the rider who, it was charged entered the Irvington-Milburn road race for the purpose of pacing a friend. The matter was brought to the notice of the L. A. W. racing board and has attracted much attention among wheelmen.

At a meeting of the race committee of the Associated Cycling Clubs in reference to the charges of pacing of R M. Alexander, winner of the time prize at the Irvington-Milburn road race on May 31st, it was decided that Shepard was guilty of pacing, but that Alexander was not guilty of receiving pace. Shepard will therefore be debarred from any future participation in road races held by the three associations, and the evidence in the case will be sent to the National Racing Board, that they, too, may take action in the matter.

A Plainfield Chapter of the Epworth League, in search of a cause for diminished attendance at the weekly meetings, has found that the bicycle is responsible, and instead of weakly surrendering the League very properly has decided that the bicycle can well be adapted to a church function. Accordingly Chapter No. 1, of Plainfield, will have a bicycle sociable. It is notable in this connection that the pulpit is a strong supporter of the use of the bicycle under proper restrictions. At least one prominent clergyman in this city commends the use of the wheel on Sunday when the rider makes it a means to attend church service or uses to call upon the sick or for an errand of mercy. The time has almost arrived (or may be it is here) when the bicycle as a means of locomotion will be accepted as being as proper and fitting as walking or driving. The one thing that deters this end is the fashion of Sunday century runs for pleasure when all the church duties of the day are apparently neglected. Monday morning's papers record the fact that over two thousand wheeelmen finished a century run Sunday from Philadelphia to Atlantic City and return. Some figures as to how many of these went to church before or after the run would be interesting.—New Brunswick Home News.

AROUND THE BASES.

The hearty reception that the baseball-loving people gave the Crescent nine at their opening game, last Saturday afternoon, has greatly encouraged the backers of that team. On Saturday of this week, another excellent game is promised with the Somerset Baseball Club, of Somerville. The Somersets are to Somerville at the present day what the famous West Ends used to be. They are a strong contingent and with Warren MacLaughlin, brother of John MacLaughlin, who plays first base and captains the Crescents, in the box, they will give the local players a lively rub. Special arrannements have been made for the seating of the ladies and their escorts. Besides the regular covered grand stand a shade has been arranged to cover a number of camp chairs, which will be placed in a good position to see the game.

VARIOUS SPORTS.

Carroll L. Runyon and George Proctor Smith, of the Plainfield High School, have both entered for the national interscholastic games at New York, Saturday afternoon.

Captain Emily March, of the Salvation Army, is confined at the home of Mrs. Waldron, of North avenue, with erysipelas of the head. Dr. Endicott is in attendance.

Discipline—Military vs. Domestic.

A courier had arrived, bringing the intelligence that Troop B was surrounded by hostiles, and was standing them off with the greatest difficulty; that, unless aid reached them very shortly, Troop B was doomed to massacre.

The quiet post sprang to arms. Troopers and officers hurried hither and thither. Noise and confusion, tempered by discipline, reigned. In an incredibly short time the bugles sounded boots and saddles, and the battalion filed out.

There was no song, no jesting nor laughter to lighten the march in all that column. The peril of their comrades weighed upon each heart; the stern determination to save or terribly avenge was stamped upon each face.

Suddenly there was a sharp exclamation, and one of the troopers, with a pale, set face, turned his horse from the column and trotted back toward the post. In another moment an officer swiftly gained his side and, with a wrench that nearly jerked him from the saddle, stopped him.

"You cowardly cur," hissed the officer, "what does this mean?"

"I—I forgot to tell my wife that I wouldn't be home to supper," exclaimed the trooper.—Philadelphia Press.

A USEFUL DISCOVERY.

Utilization of Daylight in Poorly Lighted Rooms by Luxfer Prisms.

An exhibition, in Chicago, of a new method of increasing natural light in poorly lighted rooms has attracted much interest among architects, builders and property owners. Luxfer prisms, as they are styled by the company introducing them, are composed of plates of glass with semi-prisms comprising one face. The plates are electrically glazed together into whatever form or size may be required, and are then surrounded by a suitable frame. The complete frame of prism plates may be either hung in the window frame or inserted in the sash in place of the ordinary glass.

The advantages of the system are not limited to giving the light a mere horizontal direction, but by using different forms of prisms in different parts of a window all the light striking it may be sent to any part of the room where it is desired. It is the opinion of some architects that this means of utilizing daylight will not only modify new construction by changing the treatment of light shafts, but it will enable numerous old buildings, almost untenable for lack of light, to be made desirable.—Iron Age.

RIGHT TO TAX A LEGACY.

PETER WOODEN BEQUEST TO ALFRED UNIVERSITY THE ISSUE.

A Case in Somerset County Court That is of Importance in View of the Conflicting Interests of New York and New Jersey.

A case of considerable importance in the Somerset County Court, and one of which more will probably be heard in the future, is that involving the payment of $700 inheritance tax to the State, on a legacy by the late Peter Wooden, of North Plainfield, to Alfred University, a religious corporation in the State of New York. On the issue will depend a further sum of $5,700 already paid to the State as a similar tax on the Babcock legacy to the same institution, and of which repayment has been demanded. By statute, certain relatives and religious corporations are exempted from paying inheritance tax, but New York State desisions would preclude religious corporations in other States from this exemption. Gov. Griggs has deputized Prosecutor Dungan to look after the State's interests, and H. G. Whipple, of New York, is counsel for the university. The case has been argued by brief, and Judge Bartine compliments the counsel on the thoroughness with which each has gone into the subject. The Judge decided in favor of the State, and the case will, in all likihood, be taken before Chancellor McGill, on appeal.

WOMAN'S PLEA TO UNCLE SAM.

Succeeded in Getting $2,200 as the Only Living Relative of a Major-General.

An incident of a woman's tact and perseverance has been shown in this city. The woman in question has just succeeded in obtaining a certified check for $2,200 from the Pension Department at Washington, she being the only kin of a Major-General of the late war, and a few nights ago at the supper table she surprised her husband by presenting him with the check. There was great rejoicing among the members of the family who had not expected such a thing. As a result the husband used a portion of the amount to clear a debt on his home and a few other obligations, while $1,000 was put out at interest for the young son of the happy couple, and when he is of age he will have a nice little sum as a starter

The story leading up to the above facts are that the wife believed that she was entitled to a pension as her mother had married a second time and she was the only one of the family left who could prosecute the claim. Accordingly she undertook the task with the proper assistance and she kept the secret to herself. After all the necessary work on her part had been accomplished she waited results, and was surprised when she received the check.

Final High School Examinations.

The time has now come for the final examinations at the Plainfield High School. They begin tomorrow and end the following Friday. The examinations are as follows: June 11th, English history, ancient history and geometry; June 14th, literature in all classes; June 15th, rhetoric, senior Greek, junior literature, constitutional history and bookkeeping; June 16th, Cicero; June 17th, geology, French, physics, beginning Greek and junior Greek; June 18th, fourth class Latin, Cæsar, Virgil and higher English; June 21th, mathemathics in all classes. All the students are very busy at present, especially those who are preparing to take their examinations for college.

Unity Lodge's Good Time.

The members of Unity Lodge, No. 102, Knights of Pythias, who ventured out to the regular meeting of the lodge, last evening, were well repaid for going. It was the first of a series of entertainments which are to be given once a month this summer by the lodge. John H. Carney was at his best in his humorous Dutch dialect recitations and kept his audience in roars of laughter. Wilbur Sherwin gave an exhibition of sleight-of-hand and did some very neat tricks. The Martin quartette, composed of Joseph Martin, Horance J. Martin and the latter's two sons, sang several times very acceptably.

THE OAK TREE OUTRAGE.

SIX MONTHS IN STATE PRISON FOR JOHN TIGHE.

Lighter Sentence for McCann—Judge Strong Again Discourses Upon the Glaring Newspaper "Sensationalism."

Yesterday morning in the Middlesex County Court Judge Strong sentenced John Tighe and William McCann, who were convicted of breaking and entering the house of Noah Schumacher, at Oak Tree, and assaulting him. He gave Tighe six months with costs in State prison and McCann got four months in the county jail without costs.

When Prosecutor Voorhees moved for sentence, George S. Silzer, who defended them, made a plea on their behalf in which he said the story told with glaring headlines in the newspapers had dwindled down to a very simple case. He also spoke of the bad character of the two Schumacher girls. Prosecutor Voorhees said the crime was a grave one. The newspapers said the crime was a serious one and they were right in saying so.

In sentencing them Judge Strong said the crime was of a different grade from that charged by the newspapers and of which a detailed account had been sent broadcast. The harrowing stories had excited the community. The grand jury had refused to indict them on any graver offense than breaking and entering and assault.

THURBER—FISK.

The Bride a Sister of Mayor Charles J. Fisk.

A large and fashionable gathering from New York and vicinity was present yesterday at Riverside, the country home of Mrs Harvey E. Fisk, on the Delaware river, near Wilburtha, to witness the marriage of Miss Bertha Fisk and Dr. Samuel Wood Thurber, both of New York. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Edward E. Thurber, father of the groom, who is the pastor of the American church, Rue de Berri, Paris.

The bride's gown was of white satin en train, the front seams of the skirt being edged with point applique. The bodice was made entirely of point applique. The sleeves were puffed. A shirring extended the length of the sleeves, also edged with the point applique. The veil was of tulle, fastened by pearl and diamond ornaments. She carried a bouquet of bride roses and white carnations, bordered with maidenhair fern and tied with white satin ribbon.

The bridemaids were Miss Bertha Terrell, Miss Moore and Miss Vail, of New York; Miss Ames, of North Easton, Mass., and Miss May Fisk. The maid of honor was Miss Evelyn Fisk. The train bearers were the bride's two sisters, Miss Dorothy Fisk and Miss Anna Fisk. The ribbon bearer was Master Harvey E. Fisk, Jr.

Endeavorers Elect Officers.

The Christian Endeavor Society of the Christian church met Tuesday and elected the following officers: President Miss Mabel VanMiddlesworth; vice president, Rev. B. W. Hand; treasurer, H. VanMiddlesworth; recording secretary, Miss Anna Fenner; corresponding secretary, Mrs. E. Hand; chairman of lookout committee, C. Lewis; devotional committee, H. VanMiddlesworth; social committee, B W. Hand; Sunday school committee, Mrs. S. Staats; flower committee, Mrs. L. Wilson; music committee, Mrs. B. W. Hand. Two active members and one associate member were elected. After the business meeting the members enjoyed a social hour, and welcomed the new members. Daniel Traynor will lead the next prayer meeting of the society which will be held on next Tuesday evening.

How Cigarettes are Made.

The first of a series of illustrated lectures at Washington Hall by J. W. Pierce, the "Picture Evangelist," of Montclair, was held last evening. The subject was "The First Cigarette and How They Are Made." He told some very interesting facts concerning the manufacture of cigarettes and the materials used in them. Following this were a number of views of different workers in Christian Endeavor Societies and Epworth Leagues, and of different church buildings.

Dr. Hussey Honored.

Dr. Mary Hussey, formerly of this city and now of East Orange, has just passed the Junior examinations at the New York University Law school. Dr. Hussey spent last summer in Plainfield, and during her stay here was identified with many worthy movements for the improvement of the city and its people. Her many friends will be pleased to hear of this last honor which she has acquired.

PLIGHTED LOVE FOR LIFE

FASHIONABLE CHURCH CEREMONY IN SMITH-PLACE NUPTIALS.

Hymen Finished in Marriage That Which Cupid Progressed in Love—The Union of a Happy and Popular Young Couple.

One of the most fashionable weddings of the season was that of last evening when Miss Estelle Place, daughter of former Mayor and Mrs. Charles Place, of Grove street, and Bertram Llewellyn Smith, a banker, of Fishkill-on-the-Hudson, were united in marriage by Rev. Dr. W. R. Richards, at the Crescent Avenue church. That large and handsome edifice was thronged with Plainfield's society, while a large number of guests were present from out of town. The church was opened at 6:45 and from 7 to 7:30 the following select programme of classical music was rendered on the organ by William E. MacClymont, Agd., who appeared for the first time in the gown of the Guild Society of which he is a member:

Allegro Apassionati from Sonta No. 5, Guilmant
The Golden Wedding.....Gabriel-Marie
Polonaise Militaire.....Chopin
Intermezzo from Cavaleria Rusticana, Mascagni
Overture to the "Black Prophet".....Loretz
The trump of liberty sounds it's warning—Night—Camp of the army—Shadows moving about—Appearance of prophet—Chorus in the realms of the spirit of freedom—Arrival of the Mayflower—The sunshine marred by oppression—The distant tramp of the army—Uprising—Strife—Victory—Finale.

At the appointed hour, 7:30, the first notes of the Lohengrin wedding march were sounded and the bridal party entered the church from the main entrance. The ushers, Arthur Raymond Smith, brother of the groom of Fishkill; Walter Swift Place, brother of the bride, Dr. Frank M. Hallock and George Schoonmaker, of Plainfield, made their appearance first, and following them were the bridemaids, Miss Helen Adelaide Place, cousin of the bride, of Fishkill, and Miss Caroline M. Hunter, of Plainfield. Both were richly gowned in white organdie with Valenciennes lace over pink silk and trimmed with pink satin, and each carried a bouquet of pink roses. The maid of honor, Miss Elsie Smith, sister of the groom, of Fishkill, came next. She was gowned in white silk trimmed with lace and ribbon and she carried a shower bouquet of pink roses.

Then came the bride, leaning on the arm of her father, who gave her away in marriage. She was exquisitely gowned in white duchesse satin trimmed with point Guipure lace and on her hand was a diamond circlet ring, a gift of the groom. A most charming bride, indeed, was she, and she was fondly admired by all as she gracefully passed up the aisle.

At the altar the bridal party was met by the groom and the best man, Clarence Alexander Smith, brother of the groom, who entered from the front of the church. All formed in a circle about the altar, which was profusely decorated with potted plants, palms, ferns, and choice pink roses, banked in an artistic manner. While the ceremony was being performed by Dr. Richards, Mr. MacClymont played several favorite selections. The responses by the bride and groom were very distinct and could be plainly heard in any part of the edifice.

After the ceremony the bridal party reversed and the bride and her husband led the way down the aisle, while the Mendelssohn wedding march was being executed. They acknowledged graciously the recognitions of their many relatives and friends as they passed by.

Immediately after the wedding a reception was held at the Park Club from 8 to 10 o'clock, during which hours the pretty little club house was thronged with relatives and friends of the contracting parties. The decorations, pink and white, were the same colors that prevailed at the church, and these colors were beautifully presented through the use of the choicest flowers arranged in the most attractive manner.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith were showered with the best wishes and congratulations of a host of admiring people.

During the hours of the reception a pleasing wedding supper was served and later in the evening the bride and groom left Plainfield for Montreal, Canada, where the will travel among the various places of interest. On their return they will reside at Fishkill, where the groom's father has presented them with a handsome residence. The groom is a graduate of Williams' College, and is now engaged in the banking business in Fishkill.

The groom's gifts to the ushers were sunbursts of pearl stickpins, while the bride presented to her maid of honor and bridemaids breastpins in the form of gold ivy wreaths set with emeralds.

The gifts received by the bride and

UNDER A LOVER'S KNOT.

A HAPPY NUPTIAL UNION CEMENTED BY VOWS OF LOVE AND FIDELITY.

Charming Marriage of Miss Bessie Evelyn Titsworth to Frank James Hubbard—Joined at the Bride's Home.

Under a bower of white carnations and smilax, Miss Bessie Evelyn Titsworth, daughter of Joseph M. Titsworth, and Frank James Hubbard, son of Assessor Joseph A. Hubbard, were united in marriage at the home of the bride's father, on West Seventh street, last evening at 7 o'clock. It was a home wedding, but a very pretty one.

The ceremony was performed in the music room, under a bower of streamers of smilax and white carnations, while over all was a true lover's knot of white satin ribbon. Palms, smilax and pink roses were used in the decoration of the remainder of the room with very pretty effect. The bridal party entered from the parlor on the right of the hall. The ushers were first. They were William C. Hubbard, brother of the groom, Dr. Marc L Clawson and Dr. Frank T. Clawson, cousins of the bride, all of Plainfield. Then followed the maid of honor, Miss Ethel Titsworth, sister of the bride, charmingly gowned in pink silk gauze. She carried a bouquet of pink roses. Last of all entered the bride leaning on the arm of her father. She looked very beautiful in a gown of white satin, with Venetian point lace and pearl trimming. Her tulle veil was caught up with the engagement ring. Her only ornament was a diamond and pearl brooch, the gift of the groom. She carried a bouquet of white bride roses.

The groom entered at the other door and was escorted to the center of the room by the best man, Charles E. Lawrence, of Brooklyn, an old college friend of the groom. Rev. Dr. A. H. Lewis, of this city, was the officiating clergyman and received the couple. The simple ceremony was performed and the couple knelt for the final blessing.

The ceremony was only witnessed by the relatives and very near friends of the couple.

A reception followed the ceremony from 7:30 o'clock to 9:30 o'clock, and the many friends of the couple gathered in the bride's home to congratulate them on the step just taken. The hall was decorated with smilax and roses while a chain of daisies extended along the balastrade. The parlors were decorated with smilax, palms, jack roses and other cut flowers. The dining room was also artistically decorated as was the table, from which a supper was served later in the evening.

A handsome array of presents was displayed in one of the upper rooms, including silver and glass-ware, china, furniture, and many other valuable presents. Among them was a bed-quilt pieced by a great aunt of the bride. It was a wonderful work, containing 22,48 different pieces. There was also a tufted sofa pillow, made by one who had been a member of the family when they were children, which contained pieces of gowns belonging to the mother and grandmother of the bride and many of her other relatives.

Mr. Hubbard, the groom, has been residing at 109 West Fifth street, and is a rising young civil engineer in this city. Both he and the bride attend the Seventh Day Baptist church in this city. Their place of residence on their return from the bridal tour has not yet been decided. They will make their home somewhere in Plainfield.

Among the guests at the reception were: Joseph M. Titsworth, Miss Ethel L. Titsworth, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Hubbard, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Potter, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Titsworth Mr. and Mrs. G. B. MORE ROOM FOR TRINITY CONTEMPLATED CHURCH ENLARGEMENT TO BE CARRIED OUT.

Congregational Meeting Held Last Night and it Was Voted to Spend $6,000 in Making Room for the Sunday-School.

Formal steps were taken last night at a congregational meeting of Trinity Reformed church towards enlarging the present edifice in a manner already outlined in these columns. That the interest in this improvement is very active was attested by the large attendance of members. The building of a new Sunday-school room was thoroughly discussed and the plans prepared by Architect Edward W. Gayle, a brother of H. E. Gayle, the contractor, were viewed by nearly everyone present before the vote was taken.

The project is to raise the present church edifice about six feet and construct underneath it, nearly even with the surface of the ground, a large Sunday-school room the same size as the present church auditorium, which is about 65x100 feet. It is proposed to divide the floor into twelve class rooms—six on each side—besides having the main room in the centre, and also a large room for the use of the primary department. Other rooms will be a parlor and kitchen for the women of the church, a committee room, two toilet rooms, etc.

The total cost of the improvement is estimated at $6,000. Before the vote on the proposition to enlarge was taken, over $1,900 was subscribed. Subscription papers will at once be circulated and every member of the congregation asked to contribute. It is hoped to raise at least half the amount, and thus make it necessary to only put a mortgage of $3,000 on the church property. At present the church is free of debt. Contractors Pearson & Gayle will have charge of the work of making the alterations, and their well-known ability ensures an early and satisfactory completion of the improvement for Trinity's attendants.

The meeting last night was presided over by Rev. Cornelius Schenck, Ph. D., as chairman, while Horace J. Martin acted as clerk.

CARELESSNESS IN OLD TIMES.

How the looseness that characterized the real estate transactions of a century or more ago sometimes embarasses the present owners is illustrated in the case of a 100-acre farm on Johnston drive, in Scotch Pains, the sale of which is held up by the failure to record the original deed of conveyance made nearly 122 years ago. From 1775 to 1871 the farm was the property of the Scotch Plains Baptist church, one of the oldest church corporations in New Jersey. In 1871 it was conveyed by a quit-claim deed to Floreno Schetter, and then went to his heir-at law, Charlotte O. Schetter.

In 1889 it was quit claimed to Charles K. Moon and wife, who in turn quit-claimed it to Harry C. Runyon in 1893, and Runyon conveyed it by the same process in 1894 to Alice Maude Kyte. The present owner wishes to sell the property, and asked the New Jersey Title Guarantee and Trust Company to guarantee the title. This the company refused to do, and as a consequence the sale is held up and the ownership called into question for the first time in nearly a century and a quarter, and all on account of a bit of negligence in 1775.

Phonographic Recital.

The young men's meeting at the Y. M. C. A., Sunday afternoon at 4:15, will be conducted by Mr. J. W. Pierce, of Montclair, N. J. Prof. W. V. Gilday, of Brooklyn, will give a phonographic recital which will include sacred songs and testimonials. The sound is transmitted to the audience through a large horn, sixteen by nine inches long, and thirteen inches across the bell. Prof. Gilday has given over five hundred recitals in Pennsylvania, New York and New Jersey. Mr. Wistar H. Stokes, superintendent of the auditorium at Ocean Grove, says, "Mr. W. V. Gilday gave us two phonograph exhibitions, one in the auditorium and one in the tabernacle. Everybody was highly pleased with both and expressed a desire to have them repeated. The tabernacle was filled to overflowing."

Graduated at Centenary.

The graduation exercises at the Centenary Collegiate Institute at Hackettstown were held yesterday. Among those that graduated was Miss Persis Snodgrass, daughter of Rev. Dr. Winfield C. Snodgrass, of Central avenue, pastor of the First M. E. church. She will return to Plainfield today. Among the other members of the graduating class were Miss Clara Digit and Miss Edith Meise, both of whom are known in this city.

OWNERSHIP OF A PIANO.

JUSTICE'S JURY DECIDED AGAINST MRS. ABNER BARTLETT.

The Article was Claimed by John Beerbower, of the City Hotel, Who Attached to Satisfy a Claim against Mr. Bartlett.

The court of Justice Moffett was the scene today of an interesting legal struggle to determine the ownership of a valuable piano. The dispute was between Mrs. Abner Bartlett and John E. Beerbower, proprietor of the City Hotel. Abner Bartlett is indebted to Mr. Beerbower to the sum of $150, and the latter to protect his claim attached a fine piano which Mrs. Bartlett had in her possession, and which she was about to remove out of the State. Mrs. Bartlett then filed a a claim to the property. Both Mr. and Mrs. Bartlett were called as witnessee. The testimony of the former was to the effect that the piano had been purchased with his earnings, which he had been in the habit of allowing his wife to collect from his employer, Charles R. Reed, of New York.

The piano was his property, he said, and was simply held in trust for him by Mrs. Bartlett. Mrs. Bartlett in her behalf testified that while she had collected Bartlett's wages from Mr. Reed, she had also paid all the household bills and had expended for the same purpose her own money, earned by her in giving dancing lessons. Some of her money, she could not say how much, had gone to help pay for the piano. It had cost $150 in exchange for an old piano, which was the property of Mr. Bartlett. H. C. Runyon testified that he at one time served an attachment against Mrs. Bartlett and she had then stated to him that she had no interest in the piano in dispute. John Beerbower also testified. The pleas to the jury were well delivered by Mr. Pope, of the firm of Pope & Runyon, for Mr. Beerbower, and Nathan Cussey, of Newark, for the claimant. At half past twelve o'clock the case was given to a jury consisting of J. P. Mulhall, Caleb Dickson, David Arthur, Charles Suhr, Henry F. Bowers and John McPeek.

A verdict was reached at 2 o'clock in favor of the ownership of Mr. Bartlett, which enables Beerbower to retain possession of the piano.

TRIED TO LOOT A JUDGE'S HOUSE.

Attempt Made to Burglarize the Home of Justice Clark at the Plains.

That the burglars who infest the town of Scotch Plains are not lacking in nerve was conclusively shown early yesterday morning when they showed their contempt for the majesty of the law by trying to beard its representative in his den. Justice Joseph Clark, who deals out the law to the inhabitants of the town, was awakened at about 1 o'clock Tuesday morning by his wife, and was informed that burglars were downstairs in the parlor. The judge listened, and was soon convinced that his wife's fears were about right. From the noises that came from downstairs it was evident that someone was making an effort to force open a parlor window.

The thieves evidently heard Mr. Clark and his son descending the stairs and made their escape, not, however, before the two men caught sight of a fleeting form gliding off of the front piazza.

An investigation showed that the burglars had attempted to raise the bottom sash in the parlor window, but failed as it was nailed fast They then lowered the upper sash, and this moved with considerable difficulty, and caused the noise which awakened Mrs. Clark.

Y. M. C. A. Bicycle Run.

A large party of wheelmen from the Newark Y. M. C. A. took a run to this city last evening and visited the local Y. M. C. A. The night was an unfavorable one for wheeling, but as there were no prayer meetings or other religious gatherings in their churches to claim their time, the members decided to take advantage of the opportunity and not to wait for more favorable weather.

Scherer Held for Grand Jury

Leo Scherer, the Fanwood farmer, whose arrest on the charge of stealing firewood from the land of Amza Hetfield, a neighbor, was described in full in yesterday's Press, appeared for examination before Justice Mosher this morning. After hearing the evidence the Justice held Scherer under $100 bonds to await the action of the Grand Jury in October.

Women Meet With a Rebuff.

Several members of the Woman's Town Improvement Association are going among the local merchants asking permission to inspect cellars, with a view of seeing what the sanitary conditions are. This morning they asked for such permission from V. W. Frazee, the groceryman, and were refused.

FIGHTERS ARRESTED

The Maher-Sharkey Fistic Exhibition Ended by the Police.

STOPPED IN THE SEVENTH ROUND.

Maher Seemed to Be Having the Best of the Fight When the Officials Interfered--The Referee Declared the Match a Draw.

New York, June 10.—Maher and Sharkey met last night, and at the end of the seventh round the police interfered, and the contest resulted in a most unsatisfactory draw. Never in the history of the ring has there been such an enormous attendance at a boxing bout in this city. There were about 10,000 persons squeezed into the big building at One Hundred and Seventh street and Lexington avenue recently transformed into a fistic arena by the Palace Athletic club under the management of William A. Brady.

For months past the meeting of the sailor pugilist and his bigger built compatriot has been talked of almost hourly by sporting men all over the United States and in fact in every quarter of the globe where there are devotees of the art of self defense.

A more representative congregation of well known sporting men has never witnessed a boxing mill than that which assembled at the clubhouse last night. The quantity of money which would have changed hands had the bout resulted in favor of either man would have been well up in six figures.

Police Interference Feared.

That there would be police interference if the men fought hard was feared by the majority of those who purchased tickets, but after the two boys who took part in the opening bout had been allowed to pummel each other without being stopped by the police those present had hopes that the big fellows would have a good chance to settle the much mooted question of superiority.

Maher and Sharkey had trained carefully, and when stripped in the ring each one was the picture of health and strength.

Maher was a big favorite, but there seemed to be plenty of Sharkey money around.

When they began operations, Maher's advantage in height and reach was very marked.

Sharkey's style of leaving himself open when stepping away caused a good deal of comment, and it was easily seen that Maher was in no hurry to mix matters, as he evidently preferred to size his man up, and he looked as if he were holding back for a good opening.

Maher wore an anxious look from the very beginning of the bout, and his eyes had a very wild and hunted expression in them. The boxing was very tame for five rounds, neither man showing a mark.

Sharkey Commences Hostilities.

In the sixth round Sharkey, with a well directed straight right on the mouth, sent Peter sprawling half way through the ropes, where he struggled for five seconds before he regained his feet. As Maher was getting up Sharkey rushed toward him, but was called back by Choynski, who was evidently afraid that the sailor might commit a foul. Ten seconds later the gong ended the sixth round, and when Maher returned to his corner he spat a lot of blood.

Sharkey's friends, when they saw this, yelled, "First blood for Sharkey!" and there was a great deal of cheering.

The seventh round was nearly completed when Maher, after getting in some good blows on Sharkey, sent the latter to the floor near the ropes with a left in the wind and right swing on the jaw. Tom was up again inside of five seconds and rushed into a clinch.

In this clinch Maher kept working his right on the body, and when the gong sounded neither heeded the warning of the timekeeper, but kept on hitting each other. One of Maher's seconds rushed over and grabbed Maher. While he was trying to pull the big fellow away Sharkey swung his right on the second's face, dazing him. By this time the house was in an uproar, and there were cries of foul from the partisans of both men. The din was terrific, but it was increased tenfold when Inspector McLaughlin ordered the police to arrest all those concerned in the fight.

Fight Stopped by Police.

Policemen in uniform swarmed into the ring, and a number of detectives also climbed through the ropes. The principals were the first to be placed under arrest, and then the seconds and referee were told to accompany the officers. While all this was going on the thousands of spectators were clamoring for a decision from the referee, who was busily engaged arguing with the officers who surrounded him. Finally it was made known that Referee Colville had decided to call the bout a draw. This did not seem to please a good many; but, according to the conditions agreed upon by both men, the judgment of the referee was right and proper.

The relative merits of the men are just as much of a puzzle as ever, and until they meet again and get a definite decision their adherents will not be satisfied. It was said that over $40,000 were taken in at the box office, and, judging from the number of people in the house, this was a very conservative estimate.

Building Company Incorporated.

Albany, June 10.—A certificate of incorporation of the Southeast Building company of Brooklyn has been filed with the secretary of state. The capital stock is $500,000. The directors are Edward B. Coombs, James W. Edgett, William T. Butling, Samuel H. Coombs, Jacob Worth, Winslow F. B. Busby and Arthur A. Swany of Brooklyn.

Asphyxiated by Gas.

Lowell, Mass., June 10.—James A. Perry, an employee of D. Appleton & Co. of Boston, publishers, was found dead in his room on West Sixth street, having been asphyxiated by illuminating gas. There were evidences that death was the result of an accident.

Two Students Drowned.

Newtown, Pa., June 10.—John Fox and Alfred L. Watson, two students, were accidentally drowned near the Georges school, between here and Churchtown, in a freshet in the Neshaminy creek.

SPEECHES THE ORDER

Little Progress Was Made on the Tariff Bill on That Account.

CANNON SPEAKS FOR THE FARMER.

Wants an Export Bounty Placed on Agricultural Products—He Is Seconded by Senator Butler—Some Nominations That Were Confirmed.

Washington, June 10.—The senate had a period of tariff speeches, and as a result little progress was made on the bill. Mr. Rawlins of Utah and Mr. Mills of Texas discussed the Democratic attitude on the tariff from their respective standpoints. Mr. Rawlins was a member of the platform committee of the Chicago convention and proposed the tariff plank which was adopted. He held that the vote he and several other Democratic senators had cast for duties on cotton and other agricultural products was justified by that platform and by the traditions of the party.

Mr. Mills severely arraigned the bill as a class measure, designed to build up a vast fund for distribution among the beneficiaries of the bill and at the expense of the "forgotten man," the taxpayer. He indirectly criticised those Democratic senators who voted for the amendments to the bill putting a tax on cotton and other articles, contending that their course was a radical departure from the tenets of Democracy.

Mr. Cannon of Utah proposed an amendment placing an export bounty on agricultural products. He spoke for two hours on the need of giving the farmer a share of the benefits of the tariff. Mr. Butler of North Carolina also spoke in favor of giving the farmer equal benefits with other classes under the bill. Only half a page of the bill covering four brief and comparatively unimportant paragraphs (229 to 233) were disposed of during the day.

The senate has confirmed the following nominations: Henry L. Wilson of Washington to be minister to Chile, John G. A. Leishman of Pennsylvania to be minister to Switzerland, Lawrence Townsend of Pennsylvania to be minister to Portugal, Andrew D. Barlow of Missouri to be consul general at the City of Mexico.

Also Lieutenant Colonel John I. Rogers, Second artillery, to be colonel, and other minor promotions in the army.

Henry L. Wilson of Washington is a brother of Senator Wilson of Washington. He has been identified with the Republican party of Washington for some time. His appointment is personal to his brother, although he was indorsed for the position by Republicans in the state. He is a resident of Spokane. Mr. Wilson was quite prominently mentioned for minister to Japan.

Mr. Leishman is a resident of Pittsburg and is ex-president of the Carnegie Steel company. He has never held any public office before. His appointment was urged by Senator Quay.

Dauntless Men Set Free.

Washington, June 10.—The secretary of the treasury has received a telegram from the United States attorney at Key West stating that all of the men found on the suspected filibuster Dauntless when she was captured by the United States warship Marblehead a few days ago had been released by the commission before whom they were examined. The attorney also says that he cannot hold the Dauntless on the available evidence, and unless he is instructed to the contrary she also will be released.

Must Be Paid In Legal Tender.

Austin, June 10.—The state of Texas has secured confirmation in the court of civil appeals of a lower court judgment against the Galveston, Houston and San Antonio and Houston and Texas Central railroads for $1,250,000. This money was borrowed of the state school fund before the war by the roads and paid in Confederate scrip. Several years ago the state brought suit for recovery of the money, claiming that the payment of the debt in Confederate scrip did not settle the debt inasmuch as it was not legal tender.

Death Sentence Confirmed.

Austin, June 10.—The state court of criminal appeals has confirmed the death sentence rendered against Eugene Burt for murder. Burt was convicted of murdering his wife and two infant children at their home in this city last August. He hacked them to pieces with a hatchet and threw their bodies in a cistern in the cellar. Burt was trailed all over the country and finally, after 20 days' searching, was arrested in Chicago and brought here.

Drowned In a Creek.

Amsterdam, N. Y., June 10.—The Chuctanunda creek is bank high in consequence of the heavy rains. While Homer Bowdie, aged 12 years, was crossing a footbridge over the Bunn creek he lost his balance and fell into the stream and was carried down into the Mohawk river. The body has not been recovered.

HIS BELIEF.

Public Expression of It By a New Brunswick Citizen.

A man's creed of belief always has a foundation, it's either a matter of faith or personal experience. The belief on one subject at least had many changes in our locality of late and as the question is one of intense public interest we have been investigating a few cases with a view of placing the facts before our readers. Our representative called on Mr. John Gray, who resides at No. 32 Jersey avenue, New Brunswick, a well-known man in his business, which is that of stone mason. Mr. Gray has found his trade quite a load on his back, the heavy lifting being very trying and causing lameness and weakening of the back. For 7 or 8 years he has been troubled from the kidneys; the complaint has kept Mr. Gray off and on a sufferer varying in its severity as it does with thousands. But this change has come at last, and he hails the conqueror of his trouble with the expression of praise: "I believe in Doan's Kidney Pills." This is his belief, and good reason he has for it. We will let him give the particulars in his own words. He says: "For seven or eight years I have had a bad back, so bad that it laid me up for three months. When suffering I could not stoop or lift anything, in fact even when not doing anything it hurt me. Headache, scalding urine, shooting pains that started from the back round the side, were other marked symptoms. One box of Doan's Kidney Pills, that I got at Van Pelt's drug store checked the pain within two days. I kept on using them, and grew better, and although I cannot say I am cured, the help received by one who has suffered so long and so severely, is so welcome that I cannot fully express it." Yes, I believe in Doan's Kidney Pills.

better worth following than any other will bring you direct to our store when you want anything in the line of paints. When a mistake is easily avoided it's scarcely worth while to run the risk of making one. Buying poor paint is a needless waste of money. It's paying for something you don't want, because it won't answer the purpose. Only paint that wears and is proof against the exposure of our climate is worth the cost of putting on. Electric Bitters

Electric Bitters is a medicine suited for any season, but perhaps more generally needed when the languid, exhausted feeling prevails, when the liver is torpid and sluggish and the need of a tonic and alterative is felt. A prompt use of this medicine has often averted long and perhaps fatal bilious fevers. No medicine will act more surely in counteracting and freeing the system from the malarial poison. Headache, Indigestion, Constipation, Dizziness yield to Electric Bitters. 50c. and $1.00 per bottle at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

Mrs. Addison and son, Matthew, of New York, have been visiting at the at the home of S. C. Mundy, of Somerset street.

Mr. Isaac Horner, proprietor of the Burton House, Burton, W. V., and one of the most widely known men in the state was cured of rheumatism after three years of suffering. He says: "I have not sufficient command of language to convey any idea of what I suffered, my physicians told me that nothing could be done for me and my friends were fully convinced that nothing but death would relieve me of my suffering. In June 1894, Mr. Evens, then salesman fo the Wheeling Drug Co., recommended Chamberlain's Pain Balm. At this time my foot and limb were swollen to more than double their normal size and it seemed to me my leg would burst, but soon after I began using the Pain Balm the swelling began to decrease, the pain to leave, and now I consider that I am entirely cured." For sale by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

—H. C. N. Johnson has the contract for the laying of the new stone sidewalk, in front of B. D. Randolph's property on Grove street.

"There's no use in talking," says W. H. Broadwell, druggist, La Cygne, Kas., "Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy does the work. After taking medicines of my own preparation and those of others, I took a dose of Chamberlain's and it helped me; a second dose cured me. Candidly and conscientiously I can recommend it as the best thing on the market." The 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

—C. V. Culyer and H. R. Munger, of Washington avenue, have given H. C. N. Johnson the contract for two hundred feet of stone flagging in front of their properties on that avenue.

Hundreds of thousands have been induced to try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy by reading what it has done for others, and having tested its merits for themselves are to-day its warmest friends. For sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

Miss Anna Baldwin, of Halsey street, Brooklyn, is visiting her cousin, Miss Bessie Baldwin, of Willow avenue.

A. H. Patter, with E. C. Atkins & Co., Indianapolis, Ind., writes: "I have never before given a testimonial in my life. But I will say that for three years we have never been without Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy in the house, and my wife would as soon think of being without flour as a bottle of this Remedy in the summer season. We have used it with all three of our children and it has never failed to cure—not simply stop pain, but cure absolutely. It is all right, and anyone who tries it will find it so." For sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

Dubois will be the chairman of this body, according to the announcement of Mr. Towne.

CAPTAIN MURPHY FINED.

Compelled to Pay For Violating Foreign Enlistment Act.

Kingston, Jamaica, June 10.—Captain Edward Murphy of the steamship Laurada has been fined $500 for violating the foreign enlistment act. Captain Murphy is under $1,500 bail for his appearance in the United States district court at Wilmington, Del., charged with violating the neutrality laws by engaging in a filibustering expedition to Cuba.

His case was called before Judge Bradford, who ordered a forfeiture of the bond, but gave the captain's counsel until June 22 to file reasons why the order should not be made effective. It was said at that time that Captain Murphy was in a hospital in this city.

AFFECTS RAILROADS

Judge O'Brien's Finding Is Widespread In Its Effect.

SAYS RIGHT RESTS WITH THE STATE.

City Authorities Have No Power to Grant the Right of Franchise—Legislature's Prerogative Is Also Limited by the Constitution.

Albany, June 10.—Judge O'Brien, in writing an opinion declaring the invalidity of the franchise granted to the Third Avenue Railroad company, lays down important findings of law, which will affect every railroad and every common council in the state. He says: "The authority to make use of the public streets of a city for railroad purposes primarily reside in the state and is a part of the sovereign power and the right or privilege of constructing and operating railroads in the streets, which for convenience is called a franchise, must always proceed from that source, whatever may be the agencies through which it is conferred. A use or occupation of the streets for such purposes without the grant or permission of the state through the legislature constitutes a nuisance which may be restrained by individuals injuriously affected thereby.

"The city authorities have no power to grant the right except in so far as they may be authorized by the legislature and then only in the manner and upon the conditions prescribed by the statute. The power of the legislature to authorize the grant of such a franchise by local authority is limited by the constitution and forbidden except in cases where the consent of the owner of one-half in value of the property bounded on and the consent also of the local authorities having the control of that portion of the street or highway upon which it is proposed to construct and operate such railroad be first obtained.

May Be Regulated by the Legislature.

"The legislature, however, in virtue of its general power over municipalities, may regulate the mode and manner in which such consent shall be given by the authorities having control of the street and may prescribe the conditions upon which it may be given, and all these matters have been regulated by statute.

"In conferring the franchise upon the defendant to operate a railroad in the streets designated the common council did not act on the exercise of any natural or inherent power pertaining to the city, but under delegated powers to be used and exercised for public purposes, and in order to vest the defendant with the right claimed it must appear that there was a substantial compliance with the statute.

"The power to consent was not confined upon the local authorities for the sole purpose of securing a pecuniary profit or bringing money to the treasury, but was to be exercised with the regard to the interest and convenience of the public. This is manifest from the provisions of the statute, which requires that the consent for the construction of a branch or extension shall be conditional upon the right of the public to use both the new and old road.

"The opinion therefore holds that, these provisions of the railroad law of the state being violated in any one particular, makes void the grant of franchise of any local authority to any railway, such local authority being at all times amenable to the general railroad law."

Serious Collision In Boston.

Boston, June 10.—A serious accident, by which several persons were injured, one perhaps fatally, occurred here by a collision between an express team and an electric car at the corner of Bromfield and Washington streets. The car struck the rear of the heavy team which was pushed violently against the crowd of passersby, catching them between the wheels and a fence which surrounds a new building. The injured are Miss Cora Jackson of Lynn, struck on the head and picked up unconscious; G. E. Quimby of 244 Washington street, severely bruised; Israel Pratt of Malden, hip dislocated, and James O. George of Malden, internal injuries, may die.

Undertakers Elect Delegates.

ODDLY NAMED LOCALITIES.

If there is another State that can boast of the oddly named localities that New Jersey has, it would be well worth hearing from. We do not refer particularly to villages, for they, as a general rule, are commonplace enough in name, but there are localities which, although in some instances supporting only a couple or three houses, really go by some name, odd and antiquated though it may be. In the list the affix "town" seems to predominate. In this collection there appears Wolftown, Quakertown, Dogtcwn, Feebletown, Antonetown, Southtown, Wiretown, Kennedytown, Cobtown, Slabtown, Jugtown and Stumptown. Wolftown is near the village of Delaware; Quakertown is in Hunterdon county; Dogtown is located in a swamp south of Asbury; Feebletown is a settlement along the Morris Canal at the northeast corner of Washington; Antonetown is the old and prevailing name for Anthony; Wiretown is near Allamuchy; Kennedytown is above Tranquillity, and Stumptown is near Harmony; Jugtown is the much used name for Valley, which village has been called within the last few years West End, West Portal and Valley, although the old residents still cling to the familiar old name of Jugtown. Some of the very oddest names with which we are familiar are Guinea Hollow, Hard Crabble, Buttermilk Bridge, Quaker Settlement, Cat Swamp and Sin Corner, a bad place in the vicinity of Danville. These are in Warren county.—Washington Star.

ABOUT MACEDONIA PEOPLE.

Interested Audience Given a Word Picture of Customs and Manners.

A missionary, of Macedonia, was present at the mid-week service held in the chapel of the Crescent Avenue church last evening, and gave a short talk on the manners and customs of the people in his country. He stated in a clear and interesting way the conditions of his people and said that they were largely dependent upon the policy adopted by Russia as to their freedom. He said very little in favor of the Turk, and related how destructive they were with the property and personal effects owned by the people living in Macedonia. The speaker described briefly the religious condition of the people in his country, also that of the Greek and Turk. His remarks were listened to with great interest by those present and all felt as though they had a better knowledge of the country of which the young man spoke.

FATE OF THE FETE.

Success of the Event Will Depend on the Weather Conditions.

The fete champetre will now turn upon the mood of the weather clerk—a most uncertain factor. In case of doubtful or threatening weather, the fete will be held as advertised, for the spacious halls and verandas of the Johnston mansion will afford shelter for many people, if need be.

But in case of a really stormy day the fete must be indefinitely postponed; indeed it will almost postpone itself; and the problem will be to make the loss as light as possible. At best the balance will be on the wrong side of the books if Saturday shall prove a downright rainy day.

Death of a Young Man.

The death of Thomas McCue, aged twenty-one years, son of Patrolman McCue, of West Fourth street, occurred this morning at Muhlenberg Hospital after a long and tedious illness from consumption. The deceased was well known in this locality where he had a large circle of friends and acquaintances. The notice of funeral will be given later.

Cold Enough for a Furnace.

Yesterday was the first time in eleven years that Janitor Stephen A. Hope was compelled to start the furnaces under the Bryant school building in June in order to keep the children warm. The weather was so chilly that the building became cold and damp and it was feared that the pupils would take cold.

Freeholders to Award Bridge Contracts.

A joint committee of the Union county and Somerset county Freeholders will meet at Wm. N. Tier's on Front street tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 to receive bids and award contracts for the construction of a macadam and concrete bridge over the brook at Watchung avenue, and an iron bridge with plank flooring at Sycamore avenue.

$100 REWARD, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address F. J. PASSING COMMENT.

A few days ago R. M. Fountain, of Jackson avenue, enjoyed a carriage drive to Scooth Plains and vicinity. He selected the back road and while en route saw some pretty flowers which he desired to pick. He alighted from the carriage and after securing the flowers returned home. The next morning Mr. Fountain started for the North Avenue station to take a train to New York. When he arrived at the station he discovered that his commutation ticket was missing. It was a new ticket and Mr. Fountain had no desire to lose it. In a few minutes it dawned on his mind that he might have dropped it while picking flowers the day before, and he returned home with the determination to go the place where he found the flowers and see if his ticket was there. He did so and very much to his delight he found the ticket.

No Action on New Clubhouse.

The expected action of the Board of Governors of the Crescent Wheelmen to authorize the building of the new clubhouse was not taken last evening. A meeting had been called for last night, but the inclement weather kept many of the Board away and the intended meeting was not held. Instead a club meeting of the Wheelmen has been called for next Wednesday evening when all the members will be called together to discuss the question and to see exactly what financial support can be obtained from the members who have not already subscribed.

NEWS OF THE SUBURBS.

THINGS THAT INTEREST SCOTCH PLAINS AND DUNELLEN.

DUNELLEN AND NEW MARKET.

Walter Runyon has fully recovered from his recent severe illness.

Miss Snyder left town yesterday for Flemington where she will remain for an indefinite time.

Randolph Runyon, of Plainfield, has been visiting his father, Eugene Runyon, of North avenue.

The members of the M. E. church Sunday-school will meet this evening to rehearse Children's Day music.

Eugene Runyon, the real estate dealer, reports that the demand for Dunellen property is on the increase.

The Epworth League of the M. E. church will hold a business meeting this evening in the lecture room of the church.

Mrs. Fred Reed, formerly of this place, but now of New York, is spending the summer with her mother, Mrs. Palmer, of West Dunellen.

The people of Dunellen are expressing much surprise that the sewer beds are so inoffensive. They really seem to have nothing to object over.

Miss Maggie Hill, who has been visiting Elizabeth relatives, has returned to the home of Mr. and Mrs Frank Bowlsby, of Washington avenue.

The members of Friendship Council, Jr. O. U. A. M., will hold their usual Fourth of July games this year and arrangements are being made to have a fine time.

Messers. J. F. Snell and Edward Herlich were duly initiated into William G. Holton Council, Jr. O. U. A. M., Tuesday evening. A delegation was present from Somerset Council, of North Plainfield.

Rev. and Mrs. Kinzie, of Newark, were in town yesterday and attended the funeral of the late Rev. George Newton which was held at the M. E church. Mr. Kinzie, who was a personal friend of the deceased, made a few very appropriate remarks concerning the life of his friend.

SCOTCH PLAINS.

Miss Sadie Walpole visited in Plainfield today.

Miss Edna Nicholl is visiting relatives in Rochester, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Lee are expected home today from Paterson, where they have been spending a few days with Mr. Lee's mother.

A large black dog, evidently mad, ran through Front street, yesterday, biting several dogs on his way. Before steps could be taken to kill the animal he had disappeared in the direction of Plainfield.

A few citizens of Scotch Plains, with sporting proclivites, went to New York last evening to witness the Sharkey-Maher prize fight, and after paying their admission fees were much disgusted at the police authorities for interfering in the seventh round and stopping the fun.

James Jepson, the inspector of electric lights in Scotch Plains and Fanwood, has written a letter to The Press correcting the statement made in this column on the 5th inst., to the effect that the citizens of the two towns have expressed dissatisfaction at the dimness of many of the lights and the failure of others to burn at all.

The strawberry and ice cream festival given by the Ladies' Circle of the Scotch Plains Baptist church in the chapel last evening, was a success in spite of the stormy weather. The attendance was large, and the supply of good things was easily disposed of. Late in the evening games were played and a pleasant social hour was enjoyed. The committee in charge, whose labors made the festival a success, was composed of Miss Barr, Mrs. Westcott, Miss Bornmann, Mrs. Chas. Frentz, Miss Nicholl, Mrs. Habberly and the Misses Hayes. The waitresses were Miss Addie Johnston, Miss Gertrude Smalley, Miss Nellie Fancher and Miss Marjorie Collins.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Randolph have returned from their wedding trip and are living on West Front street, [illegible] shoe store.

WESTFIELD

VARIOUS BITS OF NEWS.

WESTFIELD HAPPENINGS SERVED UP TERSELY FOR THE PRESS.

Many People Go and Come in the Pretty Suburban Town—Items Interesting Because of Their Brevity.

Examinations in the public schools will begin next Monday.

The Shakesperean Society of the I. O. S. will meet this evening.

Miss Minnie Reger has joined the ranks of Westfield's wheelwomen.

William E. MacDonald, of Red Bank, is spending a few days in town.

Mrs. Nellie Hale and Master Arthur Hale leave for the Catskills, tomorrow.

The pastor's Bible class of the Baptist church will meet in the church this evening.

Arthur Knight, of Lehigh University, will spend the summer at his home, on Elm street.

The case of Barton against Weidner, on contract, will be tried before Justice Loucey today.

Mr. and Mrs. Tremain, of Brooklyn, are the guests of Mrs. Tremain's mother, Mrs. Cook, of Elm street.

Fireside Council, No. 715, R. A., will meet in its council rooms in the National Bank building this evening.

The managers of the Children's Country Home will hold a meeting at the Home, tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Harry P. Condit, of New York, will shortly spend a vacation of two weeks with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Condit, of Elm street.

The meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society of the M. E. church, which was to have been held yesterday afternoon, was postponed one week on account of the storm.

The case of Weidner against Barton will be tried by Justice Hart, tomorrow afternoon. Counsel for the plaintiff is Charles Angleman, and for the defendant, Paul Q. Oliver.

The Westfield Township Committee will meet tonight to discuss the question of issuing $30,000 worth of sewer bonds. Property owners are invited to attend and express their views upon the subject.

The case of Edgar against Gale for services performed on the lawn of Gale's clubhouse last summer, was called in Justice Collins' court yesterday. As the defense failed to put in an appearance, a judgment of $10 and costs was awarded the plaintiff.

George T. Cruttenden, formerly of this place, and Miss Jennie L. Austin, of Brooklyn, will be married on July 21st at the home of the bride's sister, Rutledge street, Brooklyn. They will spend their honeymoon in Connecticut, and will then take up their residence with Mrs. Elizabeth MacQuoid, on Elm street.

A committee of the Union County Board of Chosen Freeholders, consisting of Freeholders Roll, Clark, Robinson, Hubbard and Miller, were in Westfield yesterday afternoon examining the site of the proposed new bridge on Broad street, between Elm and Prospect streets. The bridge, if erected, will be an iron girder structure costing $1,500.

The special committee appointed by the Westfield Board of Education to consider the question of securing school facilities at Garwood, will go to Cranford Saturday evening to talk over the matter with the school trustees of that township. The school question has always been a vexing one at Garwood. The settlement lies partly in Cranford township and partly in Westfield, and it is therefore necessary for the school boards of the two townships to work harmoniously in order to secure school facilities. Complications have arisen from time to time however, and as a result Garwood has been without a school this winter. Most of the trouble seems to have been caused by Cranford's action. Her Board at the beginning of the present school year refused to discuss the matter at all until arrangements for constructing a new school building at Cranford could be completed. Another obstacle lay in the fact that a portion of Cranford's people wish to have the township's new school located on the south side of the tracks, in the direction of Garwood. This faction, of course, opposed the establishment of a school at Garwood, as tending to lessen the chances of their district to secure the new Cranford building. A sentiment favorable to the settlement of the question has of late been shown by the Cranford trustees, in spite of obstacles in their way, and they recently invited the Westfield Board to a conference. The meeting of Saturday evening will be in response to this invitation.

CHASED A DEBTOR.

Dr. Wood Found by Lawyer Williams After Visiting a Number of Towns.

Dr. Wood, formerly of Crescent avenue, on whose goods an attachment was made a few days ago, has been located at Harrisburg, Pa., by Lawyer Walter Williams, of the firm of Swackhamer & Williams, who left Plainfield last Tuesday morning in search of the doctor. Mr. Williams went from here to Phillipsburg, then to Easton, Allentown, Reading and Harrisburg. At each of the above places he found people who knew something of the doctor's residence but they refused to tell.

Mr. Williams arrived at Harrisburg about 1 o'clock yesterday morning and in a short time he learned that Dr. Wood was practicing in that city. He found the doctor and then went to the office of a Justice of the Peace where he took steps to prosecute the doctor in the interest of his creditors in Plainfield. Later he saw the doctor and the latter made promises that he would settle all claims. He said that he expected to pay his creditors as soon as he could collect the money. After Mr. Williams was satisfied that the doctor would pay up he returned to Plainfield, reaching here this morning.

Good Things to Eat.

The strawberry and ice cream festival held at the First Church of Christ last evening was a success. The attendance was gratifying, in spite of the disagreeable weather. Miss Anna Fenner was in charge of the candy table, while Miss Hattie Bush and Mrs. Woolley presided at the lemonade well. The strawberry table was looked after by Mrs. Bush and Mrs. Brown. A pretty flower booth was in charge of Miss Mabel Wilson and Miss Bertha Rockafellow. Mr. Staats served the ice cream, and the women of the church acted as waitresses. The cake table was in charge of Mrs. Van-Middlesworth.

Married at Bride's Home.

Joseph Brown and Mrs. Mary Emma Evans, both of this city, were united in marriage at the home of the bride's father, Jacob Cose, of Grant avenue, last evening. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Cornelius Schenck, Ph.D. The wedding was a very quiet one and was only attended by the relatives of the couple.

We sell goods cheaper than any Plainfield store.

It is Well to Remember

That the production of merchandise far outstrips its consumption. This will go far towards explaining the apparent modesty of prices on many seasonable goods. Hardly a day passes but what we have shown to us some special things that the manufacturer is overstocked—he needs money and the goods are offered to us in many cases at less than the cost of production. It's a wise loss for the maker, a good purchase for us, and a big bargain benefit for you.

SHE KEPT HIM A BACHELOR.

Yet Gave Him the Start in Life That Made Him a Success.

A Michigan lawyer, whose success has been an established fact for years, tells one incident in his life, from which he dates his prosperity:

"I had gone from a farm up in New Hampshire to Boston. In worldly matters I was deplorably ignorant, but in book lore I must have been something of a phenomenon, for so much that I have read was literature such as occupied the thoughts of the scholar a century or so ago. I had said farewell to the folks at home, and positively assured them that when I came back I would be a lawyer.

"I had my whole campaign mapped out, and you can infer I was a novice from my line of procedure. In my mind the Mayor of a great city exercised a sort of patriarchal sovereignty. From what I had read in my old books he was the father of his people. So I went to the Mayor of Boston; not to his office, but to his house, in the evening, and without invitation. He was the central figure in some sort of social function, and I was practically paralyzed when ushered into his august presence. The fine ladies about him put the finishing touches on my timidity. As I look back I can recall that I would speak at first, then think, and finally suffer indescribable horrors. I was in a state of irresponsible extinction. But it was one of those same fine ladies that came to my rescue. With a tact that would have won her fame as a cross-examiner, she drew me out, was delighted with the quaint knowledge that I possessed, interested the Mayor in spite of himself, and he actually put me into an office where I was self-sustaining from the start.

"When admitted to the bar I found an opening to come West and have always been satisfied that it was the Mayor who found it for me. I tried to induce that fine young lady to come with me, but she was just as tactful in refusing my proposal as she had been in helping me to a start. I think it is her fault that I am a lawyer, and I know it's her fault that I'm a bachelor."—Detroit Free Press.

THE CAMEL'S HUMP.

The Latest Scientific Explanation of Its Origin and Purpose.

Where did the camel get its hump?

Be it known that camels did not originally have humps on their backs. So says Professor Cattaneo, of the Italian Institute of Science. The proof that they did not and the explanation of why they have them now is given by this savant in a recently published monograph, which is the result of scientific study of the subject.

The llama is known to have been used as a beast of burden centuries before the discovery of the western hemisphere, but it is asserted that thousands of years before the first llama carried a load upon its back the camel had been domesticated and was used for the transportation of burdens.

It is upon this point that the Italian savant rests his theory as to the formation of that animal's hump. In the beginning, he says, the camel, like the llama, was straight of back, but a hundred centuries, perhaps, of making a pack animal of the camel have brought about the change. At first the skin grew loose upon the camel's back. Then there and upon its knees the skin grew thick and callous. Soon nature began to pad this burdened part with fat and muscle; then for countless generations heredity did its work; little by little the hump grew, until it finally acquired its present size.

The use of the camel in the desert places of the world also played its part in the formation of this portion of its anatomy. For, being forced to go without food for days at a time, nature came to the rescue of the camel and providently stored these humps with fat which should nourish the beast through its periods of privation.—New York Journal.

A Narrow Escape.

A very quiet and unobstructive grocer, now living in Omaha, was, so years ago, a scout and frontiersman in Nebraska and the Dakotas, when buffalos and Indians were plenty. One day he was out on a hunt for game to supply a party he was guiding, when he encountered a small herd of buffalo. He had brought down two of the big animals and was aiming at a third, when the herd, instead of running away, ran directly toward him. He was more surprised than alarmed, as he had a good pony under him, but as he wheeled when the herd surrounded him, the pony slipped and fell. There was only one way to escape being trampled to death; he seized the mane of the nearest buffalo and vaulted on its back. The strange steed stayed with the herd for a mile or more, and then struck off for itself. Taking advantage of this move, the scout, with his revolver, shot it behind the left fore leg, and down it came to the ground. "I was well satisfied with three buffaloes that trip," said the old-time hunter, "and I'd been satisfied with that last one only."—Golden Days.

Pleasant Woman to Live With.

"The weather is very trying for everybody," says the physician.

"Yes," replied Mr. Meckton, "I don't see how my wife is going to bear up under it. When the sun doesn't shine it gives her the blues, and when it does she says it's fading the carpet.—Odds and Ends.

OLD EMPEROR AND NEW EMPEROR.

How William the Grandfather Has Been Made to Contradict His Grandson.

The last "Bismarck Year Book" sheds a rather peculiar light upon the young Emperor's speech about the men who were "mere instruments" in the hands of his grandfather when Germany was unified. It contains several letters, hitherto unpublished, from Emperor William I. to his Chancellor. If these letters show anything they show the fulness of gratitude felt by the monarch toward the man who had made him great. Again and again the old man manifested his thankfulness to Bismarck, his confidence in him, and his modesty in yielding to him all the credit for the achievements that made the present empire a possibility.

The farewell words in some of the letters are: "God be with you. Your William;" "Your truly devoted William;" "Your thankful king, William;" "Your truly devoted and thankful William." In a birthday letter written on April 1, 1881, the Emperor apologizes for not offering congratulations in person; he was ill, otherwise he would have called to see the man "whose creative genius" had evolved and carried out "so many vast plans." Writing in 1882 the old man spoke of the labor rescripts, the prototype of the young Emperor's labor rescripts, as "Bismarck's own exclusive work." In 1888 he referred to Bismarck as the one "who wrought out and guided the mighty events that led to the glorious peace" of Frankfort.

In every letter the old Emperor inquired after Bismarck's health, not perfunctorily, but with an earnest solicitude and affection which are pathetic in their simple honesty. It is doubtful if the contrast between the modest honesty of the grandfather and the pompous presumption of the grandson could be marked more clearly than it is by the publication of these letters immediately after William II.'s last speech.

THE EMPRESS OF GERMANY.

She Loves Her Nursery Better than the Whole Empire.

The Empress of Germany, also Queen of Prussia, and just one year older than her energetic mate, Emperor William II., is the proud mother of seven handsome children, and came to the throne with her husband in 1888. The Empress Victoria Augusta plainly shows in her face that she is a contented, wholesome and unambitious woman. She takes no part in politics, is a happy wife, a devoted mother and ardently religious. Since her coronation she has, from her husband's treasury, expended something like $6,000,000 on the building of churches alone; she gives largely in charity, but her delight is her nursery, and it is a proverb in Germany that the Empress suffers more keen anxiety over the croupy cough of one of the royal babies than the most momentous question affecting the whole Empire, though her husband and the nation respect her none the less for this feminine trait and her maternal solicitude.

Delicate Dress Goods.

Some gowns are so dainty in the weave, so delicate in tint, that they seem to soil by being looked at—one or two wearings making them unpresentable, NOT USELESS. We make a specialty of cleaning fine fabrics, the more delicate the material, the better the results. Sometimes an accident will ruin a gown, without injuring the texture We dye them then, sometimes we get a prettier effect than the original color. Fine goods stand redyeing. The finer the material the better the new color. We charge so little for cleaning or dyeing, that even if you are in doubt as to the result, it's worth while to experiment. Want a new evening gown for a dollar or two? Laundry drivers will receive your work.

NEW YORK CLOTHING CO.,

completed a deal about one week ago with S. Peek & Co., of Rochester, N. Y., the entire stock of Men's, Boys' and Children's Fine Suits; also their Summer Goods, bought by us for net spot cash.

S. PEEK & CO.,

of Rochester, N. Y., were noted in their city as very careful manufacturers of the

FINEST CLOTHING.

Only the very best makes and choicest lines were handled by them. Desiring to retire for the present, and hearing that we were in a position to close out the entire stock, we negotiated and the purchase for spot cash 25c. on the dollar was the result. Here's your opportunity to purchase a suit for what the linings would cost at any tailoring establishment in Plainfield.

A FEW PRICES

will tell the whole facts. It means a saving of 65c. on every dollar spent. We deal only Reliable Clothing, and will not undertake to sell a dollar's worth of clothing unless we know that what we sell will give the buyer as good wear as if he paid us what the garment is worth. PARDONS GRANTED.

Governor Black Exercises Executive Clemency In Several Cases.

Albany, June 10.—Governor Black has granted the following pardons: Joseph Mintz, convicted of sodomy in New York on Aug. 9, 1894, and sentenced to five years and two months. Mintz was only 16 years old when convicted and had been a boy of excellent character. He has been in the penitentiary nearly three years.

Arthur W. Herring, 20 years old, convicted of assault, second degree, in Erie county, December, 1896. Pardoned on the recommendation of the district attorney.

Edwin Renner, sentenced in Monroe county to Elmira reformatory January, 1896, for stealing a bicycle. Pardon recommended by judge, district attorney and prominent citizens of Rochester.

Edwin Ellis, sentenced in January in Yates county to Auburn prison for one year and six months for bigamy. Pardon recommended by judge, district attorney and other citizens.

ARRESTED AS A SUSPECT.

The Authorities Believe They Have the Man Who Killed Young Long.

Greenwich, Conn., June 10.—Deputy Sheriff Miller of Stamford has arrived here with a man under arrest who is suspected of firing the shot that resulted in the death of young Long early Sunday morning. The sheriff will not say anything relative to who the prisoner is or where he found him, but expressed the belief that he would likewise be able to capture the woman connected with the affair before many hours.

The prisoner has been identified by some of the men who were held as witnesses as being the man last seen with Long previous to the shooting. The prisoner has already engaged Attorney Hurlburt to look after his case, and the attorney stated that when the case came up his client would readily prove an alibi.

WANTED IN BOSTON.

Circulars Sent Out Asking For the Arrest of a Gold Brick Swindler.

Boston, June 10.—The police here have sent out circulars all over the country, with a picture and description of Frank Aldrich, a professional bunko man, attached, to which is a request that he be arrested on sight.

Chief Watts has been looking for Aldrich for a long time and thought he would have him in prison long before this. For that reason circulars were not sent out before, although he was indicted by the grand jury more than a year ago.

Aldrich is wanted for working the gold brick game, and the chief has now in his safe two of Aldrich's bricks, for which, the police say, a New Hampshire man paid $14,000.

Mining Company Declares a Dividend.

Boston, June 10.—The directors of the Calumet and Hecla Mining company have just declared another dividend of $10 per share and made the same payable July 7 to stockholders of record June 11. The last previous dividend was $5 and was paid April 23, and the announced $10 really amounts to an "extra" of $5 and brings the total payments thus far this calendar year up to $30 per share, as against $25 for the corresponding period last year. It is the first payment in the new fiscal year, beginning May 1. The declaration of $10 calls for $1,000,000 and brings the company's aggregate dividend disbursements up to $49,850,000.

To the Jubilee In a Cattle Steamer.

Boston, June 10.—The Leyland line steamer Lancastrian steamed out of Boston harbor on her way to Liverpool with a load of cattle and a crowd of "cow punchers" of a very unusual nature. Half of them were of the ordinary sort. The other half was made up of college students, who are anxious to go across to attend the queen's jubilee, including 17 Harvard men, 2 "tech" fellows, 1 Princeton man and 1 Boston Latin school man, who have chosen this method of working their passage. The men are all shipped in the usual way, no objection being made to taking them.

Shot at For Calling Names.

Buffalo, June 10.—John Gittie, 70 years old, a railroad flagman, fired two shots from a revolver at Charles Blufuss and Frank Knoph, the engineer and fireman of a Lake Shore engine, as it flew past the Clinton street crossing. Neither of the men were struck. One of the bullets flew wide of its mark, and the other passed through the window of the cab, flattening on the wall opposite. Gittie was arrested. He claims that the crews of trains annoyed him by calling him names.

Stabbed Over Cards.

Kingston, N. Y., June 10.—At Hickory Bush, six miles from here, last night, Peter McMunn and Edward Geary while quarreling over a game of cards got to fighting, and Geary stabbed McMunn five times with a cheese knife. The injuries may prove fatal. Geary, who hails from Newburg, is still at large.

Ordnance Contracts Awarded.

Washington, June 10.—The war department has awarded to the Tredegar Iron works of Richmond and the Rome Locomotive works of Rome, N. Y., the contracts for supplying the army with 1,900 heavy shot and shell for siege and seacoast guns at the figures and under the conditions set out in their bids.

Hotel Guest Burned to Death.

Montrose, Colo., June 10.—The Montrose hotel, a two-story frame building, and a block of stores have been burned. Robert H. Mead, aged 65 years, of Portland, Colo., a guest at the hotel, burned to death. A dozen other guests were rescued uninjured. The fire is believed to have been of incendiary origin.

Poisoned by Ice Cream.

Catskill, N. Y., June 10.—More than 100 persons who ate ice cream at a festival given by the ladies of the Athens Methodist church were poisoned, but happily none seriously. The ice cream had stood for several hours in tin vessels.

To Build an Electric Road.

Albany, June 10.—The railroad commission has granted the application of the Greenbush and Nassau Railroad company for permission to construct an electric road from Rensselaer to Nassau, in Rensselaer county.

FRENCHMEN IN A DUEL

Fought In Paris on Account of a Lady's Remark.

SENT A CHALLENGE FORTHWITH.

The Challenged Party the Brother-in-law of the Author of the Remark—Refused to Accept, but Finally Agrees and Wounds the Challenger.

Paris, June 10.—All Paris is talking of the duel with swords fought between two members of the old nobility, Count Robert de Montesquien and Henri de Regnier at Neuilly le Vallois, growing out of a remark made by Mlle. Heredia, the sister-in-law of Regnier, a few days ago in the salon of the Baroness Alphonse de Rothschild.

Mlle. Heredia, who was with her sister, Mme. de Regnier, turned the conversation on a handsome cane carried by the Count de Montesquien, who stood near her, and remarked that it was just the sort of cane that might have been used at the charity bazaar fire to beat the ladies.

The count, who overheard the remark, interpreted it as an insinuation of cowardly conduct on his part toward women at the fire. Immediately withdrawing from the salon, he sent a challenge to M. de Regnier, who was escorting his wife and sister-in-law, and before midnight seconds were appointed and the preliminaries of the duel arranged. On reconsideration, however, the seconds of De Regnier submitted to the count's seconds that the remark was one of mere banter, upon which the count ought not to place so serious a construction and urged that the matter be arbitrated.

Accused of Being a Coward.

The Count de Montesquien thereupon twitted De Regnier with being afraid to meet him and branded him in the newspapers as a coward. This resulted in a challenge from De Regnier after three days spent in the discussion of conflicting statements as to the precise words used by Mlle. Heredia and Mme. de Regnier, who had echoed her sister's remarks.

The Count de Montesquien immediately accepted this challenge. His seconds were the Count Dion de Montesquien and M. Maurice Barros, and M. de Regnier's were MM. Henri Houssaye and Jean Doraud.

The duel was fought in the presence of M. Georges Hugo and the artists M. Forain and M. Carun d'Ache. The combatants attacked one another with the greatest vigor and for ten minutes fought to kill. In the third encounter the Count de Montesquien was severely wounded in the back of the right hand. The surgeons then interfered and refused to allow the combat to proceed.

The combatants, on withdrawing, declined even to bow to each other. The affair has made a tremendous sensation, as it may prove the first incident in a general boycott socially of a number of men who are persistently accused in certain quarters of having displayed the rankest cowardice at the Charity bazaar fire.

Telegraph Suit Stopped.

Boston, June 10.—The petition to declare William H. Baker, vice president and general manager of the Postal Telegraph company, in contempt of court has been dropped. The petition was brought by Marsden J. Perry, receiver of the United Telegraph company, in the United States circuit court, and it alleged that Baker's agent, E. C. Platt of New York, had received 6,500 shares of stock in the telegraph company, to be turned over to the receiver and that he had failed to do so. Since then, however, the 6,500 shares of stock have been returned to Receiver Perry, and the contempt proceedings will not be prosecuted.

Threw Himself From a Train.

Baltimore, June 10.—John Uim Snyder, a German, aged 25 and well dressed, attempted suicide by throwing himself from the window of the Baltimore and Ohio royal blue when near Van Bibber and while going at the rate of 45 miles an hour. He smashed the car window with his fists and jumped before he could be restrained. The train was backed, and Snyder, who was not seriously injured, ran to a nearby creek and tried to drown himself. He was rescued, however, by train people and brought to Baltimore. He now lies at the Maryland General hospital with a scalp wound and badly lacerated hands.

Arrest In the West Point Case.

Newburg, N. Y., June 10.—Thomas Kilbridge, a West Shore lineman, has been arrested here in connection with the West Point cannon case. The arrest was made by William J. McManus of the United States secret service, treasury department, on a warrant issued by Commissioner Shields of New York. Kilbridge was taken to New York and will be arraigned before Commissioner Shields. He is 36 years old and has a wife and three children.

Liquor Tax Rebates.

Albany, June 10.—The appropriation made by the last legislature for the payment of liquor tax rebates is now available, and arrangements have been made for liquidation. Commissioner Lyman has forwarded to county treasurers for delivery to owners his checks for the state's one-third and drafts upon local fiscal officers for their share of the outstanding rebates due upon surrendered liquor tax certificates of 1896.

Augusta's Centennial.

Augusta, Me., June 10.—Augusta yesterday celebrated the centennial anniversary of its birth, with many natives of the city present who have not visited their former homes in many years, who joined with the residents and other visitors in the exercises of the day.

New Insurance Company.

Albany, June 10.—Superintendent of Insurance Louis F. Payn has authorized the National Surety company of New York to commence business, with a capital of $500,000 and paid in surplus of $500,000. The deposit with the insurance department is $200,000.

Excise Clerk Removed.

Albany, June 10.—Excise Commissioner Lyman has removed from office Joseph A. Flanley, who has been a clerk in the excise department in New York city.

TO SQUELCH BOYS' PATRIOTISM

Westfield's Board Votes Against Ringing the School Bell July 4.

The youths of Westfield are up in arms over the adoption of a resolution by the Board of Education.

It has been the custom ever since the Prospect Street School was built for the boys to ring the school bell at midnight on the morning of July 4. The board has always appointed a man te be at the schoolhouse, let the boys in to the ring the bell and see that they did no mischief.

When the matter came up of appointing some one to oversee the boys when they rang the bell on July 4th, Mr. Knight moved that a man be appointed to watch the building and keep the boys out and not permit them to ring the bell, and the motion prevailed.

The bell will be silent on July 4th—perhaps.

POST OFFICE AGAIN ROBBED.

Burglars Force a Safe, Steal Money and Tear Open Letters.

The postoffice at Summit was visited by burglars again yesterday and looted of all the money and stamps that could be found. Entrance was effected by smashing one of the windows.

The safe was forced open and rifled. All of the letters in the office were torn open.

A Secret Marriage.

The marriage of George Gunther, of the borough, to a young woman, also of the borough, was solemnized last evening by Rev. T. L. Murphy.

Owing to the fact that there seems to be an air of secrecy concerning the marriage the name of the bride cannot be learned and the officiating clergyman refuses to divulge the same. Frank Rickert, of this city, was best man.

A Comparison.

The very loquacious man had come to a pause in his discourse, and an admirer took advantage of the lull to say:

"Hasn't he a splendid command of language?"

"It doesn't seem so to me," replied the weary-looking lady. "He has plenty of it. It's like riding a bicycle down hill. He can start easily enough, but he can't stop himself."

An Age Limit.

"Did you speak to my father?" said Miss Gushley.

"Yes," replied the young man with embarrassment.

"You told him that despite your humble fortune, we wished to marry?"

"Yes—or something to that purpose."

"And what did he reply? That I was too young?"

"No, not exactly. He said that I was old enough to have more sense."—Washington Star.

Lost Chance.

Simmons—What on earth are you so blue about?

Timmons—I was thinking of this awful European war.

"I didn't know you were so sympathetic."

"Sympathy be darned! I don't see why they could not have waited until Thanksgiving time to pull it off. Just think of the jokes I could have turned out."—Indianapolis Journal.

Method in Their Madness.

Mr. Park Plaza—What hospitable persons suburbans are! They are always inviting a person out to stay over Sunday.

Mrs. Citily (grimly)—Yes, and then trying to sell their place to you before you leave for the city.—Puck.

Not to be Declined.

A kiss is a noun, though generally used as a conjunction: it is never declined; it is more common than proper; it is not very singular, and is generally used in the plural number and agrees with me.—Roxbury Gazette.

ODDS AND ENDS.

Mistress—Mary, you have dated your letter a week ahead." Maid—Yis'm; it will take over a week for it to get to me mother, and she wouldn't care to be reading old news."—Boston Transcript.

Doctor—Madam, your husband has paralysis.

Wife—Oh, Doctor, I'm delighted. I thought it was nervous prostration, and that's so common, you know!

"And your advance met with a firm refusal?"

"It seemed to me more like a syndicate refusal before all the family got through with me."—Detroit Journal.

ARTIFICIAL FLIES.

The Natural Insect Closely Imitated—Color Carefully Studied.

Artificial fly making is a greater industry than any one outside the trade, save a practical fly fisher, realizes, and as it is work in which women are as capable as men, it follows that feminine labor is much employed by the wholesale firms. The qualities essential to success are a delicate hand, extreme dexterity, good eyesight and plenty of patience.

Besides the hundreds of natural flies that have to be more or less closely imitated, there are fancy flies of almost equal number to be made, for anglers, as a class, have more fads than any other of the sporting community.

In preparing her work the fly-tyer must collect all the necessary materials and place them on a table well exposed to the light, and must also see that the silk and feathers are dyed to the correct colors. This is very important, as unless particular dyes are used the fly will soon lose its original color and become worthless. Some colors, too, change when damp, and all these things have to be carefully calculated.

A vise is attached to the table, and is made in such a way that it is almost level with the chin of the worker, so that she will be able to avoid stooping. The other tools needful—and they are specially made—are a pair of tweezers, a sharp pair of scissors and a needle for arranging the feathers when the fly is completed.

The materials used for salmon flies are very numerous, consisting of silks and wools of various shades, silver and gold tinsel and a vast assortment of feathers. In many respects, however, it is more difficult to dress trout flies than salmon flies, the reason being that some of the former species are intended to represent very minute insects; the body of one fly is most carefully shaped out of a tiny strip of undyed quill taken from a starling's feather.

Naturally the smaller flies used for the commonplace fish do not call for so many materials in the manufacture as do the salmon flies, but to tie a midge, and tie it artistically and, at the same time, firmly enough to stand the wear and tear of continuous casting, requires a sure as well as delicate hand. A well-known medical man, who is an expert angler, tells me he has one fly on which he has caught more than seventy trout. The name of the man or woman who tied that fly ought to be immortalized.

There is a great art in arranging the small strips of feather for the split-winged flies that float on the water as the natural insect does. The material used has sometimes to be dyed in two separate colors to obtain the precise tint required. Perhaps the easiest flies to make are those known as "hackle" flies, which have no wings.—From Woman.

THE SENATOR'S THOUGHT.

Puzzled as to What He Should do With the Remainder of His Salary.

Apropos of the leasing of houses by officials a story is told of one of the new Senators, a man of moderate means. Senator X, it seems, made it known that he was looking for a residence, a furnished residence, and that he wanted to take a lease of it for six years. He was accordingly beset by agents and the owners of houses in different parts of town. One of these, more importunate than the rest, was a woman of wealth who owns and lives in a very handsome house, elegantly furnished and decorated with many fine pictures and rare pieces of bric-a-brac. She followed the Senator from pillar to post, and finally, to get rid of her, he promised to go through the house.

"Now, Senator," said she, when they had thoroughly inspected it, and had stopped in the drawing-room to talk the matter over, "I am going to rent this house to you for a mere song, because I am anxious to have some one in it who will look after my treasures and will keep things up."

"How much, madam," demanded the Senator, "do you propose to ask for your house by the year?"

"Four thousand five hundred dollars," said the lady, "and at that price I think it is the most reasonable house in town."

The Senator walked to a window, and stood with his hands in his pockets, looking out. He remained in this attitude for so long a time that his guide went up to him.

"What are you looking at, Senator?" she asked.

"I am not looking," said the Senator. "I am thinking."

"Well, what are you thinking about?"

"My dear madam, I am thinking," replied the Senator courteously, "if I took this house, what in the world I would do with the remaining $500 of my salary."

BERRIES AND CREAM.

THEY WERE SERVED IN PROFUSION AT TRINITY REFORMED CHURCH.

The Ladies' Christian Work Society Gave a Successful Festival in the Church Parlors, Last Evening—Those Who Assisted.

This is the season of strawberry festivals for the berries seem better than ever before and they are now in their glory. Consequently, festivals are numerous. It is rare that a more enjoyable one has been given than the one held in the parlors of the Trinity Reformed church, last evening, by the members of the Ladies' Christian Work Society. It was well attended, although the threatening weather kept many away.

The tables, on which the strawberries and ice-cream were served, were under the charge of the Misses Grace Smith, Cora Laire, Adelaide Baxter, Grace Emmons, Gertrude Tier and Jennie Dunham. Mrs. Frank Church acted as cashier, while Mrs. P. M. Demarest and Mrs. E. T. Van Winkle were in general charge of the eatables.

Then there was a candy table under the supervision of Miss Emma Gillem and Miss Laura Emmons, a cake table looked after by Mrs. Anna Gillem, and an apron table in charge of Mrs. Robert Clark and Mrs. L. C. Sheppard. The lemonade booth was presided over by Mrs. Harry M. Marshall. "The Strawberry Pie," which was a name for a grab-bag, was looked after by Miss Elizabeth Dunn.

During the evening Bert Harold presided over the piano and entertained the visitors with a number of selections which were well rendered

The festival was a success but it is impossible to state as yet the amount of money that was cleared.

ADMISSION TO THE FETE.

Some Important Information About Tomorrow's Great Event.

Admission tickets of fifty cents entitle one to the freedom of the grounds and full view of the entire spectacle; and a brilliant spectacle it will be, especially at night when electric lighs are twinkling on every side. "Music by the band" will fill the air at frequent intervals; and the May pole frolics are for the entertainment of all who choose to see.

For refreshments—as is customary—a charge will be made, but on a reasonable scale. Ice cream will be sold at ten cents a plate for the regular sort; while French cream (so called) will be priced at twenty cents.

For what may be styled "extras,"—pony-rides, boat-rides, entrance to the Gipsy camp, for example, a nominal charge will be made, namely ten cents for adults, five cents for children.

The question has been raised whether a visitor at the Fete, wishing to leave the grounds for a time, will, on returning thereto, be required to pay a second fee. The reply is—certainly not. But, in order to prevent misunderstanding visitors who wish to pass out, intending to return, should present their entrance badges to the gate-keeper to be punched or otherwise marked for identification when presented for re-admission. For this, of course, no charge will be made.

ED WHITE'S TROLLEY PARTY.

He Has Invited the People of Plainfield to Be His Guests.

Edward White, the enterprising West Front street merchant, is going to give a trolley party to the residents of Plainfield and North Plainfield, tomorrow evening. Of course, they can't all ride ot once but the party is to last from 7 until 10 o'clock and everybody is invited to have a ride.

Mr. White has chartered one of the open cars of the Plainfield street railway and will run it from 7 to 10 o'clock, between Dunellen and Netherwood free to all who care to ride. It will not only be for his customers, but for anybody who cares to go. The car, which will be decorated with flags and bunting for the occasion, will start from the North Avenue station at 7 o'clock and continue on its regular trips.

To Entertain the Firemen.

The Independent Fife and Drum Corps, of this city, will give a supper at the Hotel Tuilleries on Tuesday evening, at which time they will entertain the members of Engine Company, No. 2, of the Plainfield Fire Department, Warren Engine Company, No. 1, of the North Plainfield Fire Department, and the Somerville Hook and Ladder Company. There will be speeches and an entertainment following the supper.

School Year Ended.

Miss Rocap's school for boys closed for the school year today. Irving Day received a beautiful pearl pen knife for perfect attendance. Refreshments were served at 11 o'clock, and each boy carried home a remembrance from his teacher.

CRUSADE AGAINST IVY.

THE POISONOUS VARIETY IS TO BE DRIVEN OUT.

The Plainfield Board of Health Has Been Asked to Take Some Action to Prevent its Spread Around Here.

Those who have suffered from the effects of poisoning, or mercury, as it is sometimes called, can appreciate the feelings of those who have started a campaign against that poisonous vine. Plainfield, or rather the outskirts of this city, are overrun with it. It grows in yards, on trees and beside fences in vacant lots and private lawns. There are many who do not feel its effects, but to others it is a source of constant dread. Complaint has been made to the Board of Health and now the matter has been brought to the attention of the Town Improvement Association, which will take it in hand should the Board of Health refuse to take action in the matter.

Certain people are so constituted that they are very liable to poison from the vine. While with some it is necessary to touch the leaves of the vine, others are poisoned by the moisture it exhales and which is blown by the wind in their direction. It is the latter that suffer most from its effects. There are a number of people in this city who, every year, suffer terribly from ivy poisoning without ever touching the leaves on the plant. It is these people and their friends who are now starting a movement to compel all householders to look about their property and cut out and destroy the dangerous vine that now spreads unchecked in every direction.

While mercury is to be found to some extent all over the city, the districts in which it is the most flourishing are in the vicinity of Plainfield avenue, and around Putnam avenue. Kensington avenue and Carleton avenue. It grows on trees and fences and yearly extends its clinging arms.

The attention of the Board of Health has been drawn to it as a public nuisance and as being dangerous to the health of many of the community, but so far there has been no action taken on the subject. Some of the members of the Town Improvement Association have learned of the trouble and will bring the subject before a meeting of the association and promise that a determined effort will be made to completely rid the city of the weed, so unpleasant in its effects.

SMOKERS FIRED A BARN.

THREE OAKLAND BOYS SMOKED IN A HAYLOFT.

The Result Was Disastrous and the Building Went Up in Smoke—The Barn Was Owned by Frank Rogers.

The desire of three youngster to enjop a smoke in some secluded place, was the cause of a fire in Oakland, a suburb of Westfield, yesterday afternoon, which destroyed the barn of Frank Rogers, of that place. The boys crept into the haymow and after lighting their tobacco, threw the matches carelessly about. One of them set fire to the hay, and the boys barely had time to scramble outside before the building was wrapped in flame. The Westfield firemen responded to the call of the neighbors for protection. The barn was doomed by the time the firemen reached the scene, but they did excellent work in protecting the adjoining property. Some live stock that was in the barn when the fire started was saved. The other contents, including a large quantity of hay and some tools, were destroyed. The loss was about $800.

DISCUSSED THE MARTIN ACT.

The Board of Trade Met Last Evening for Informal Discussion.

A meeting of the Board of Trade was called for last evening and a goodly number of members were present The meeting took the form of an informal discussion of the recent action of the City Council in the enforcement of the Martin Act and many excellent suggestions were made. One valuable idea was brought out and that was that there has never been a lien made on the property upon which the city is now trying to collect taxes prior to 1880, and for this reason the persons present last evening are sure that the taxes cannot be collected under the Martin Act. Several cases were cited where the act had been tested in other places and the contestants had won. Among those present last evening were for former Sheriff Kyte, of Fanwood; School Commissioner Lounsbury, Borough Councilman Woolston, J. B. Coward, Harry Coward, George Hallock, James Pope and George Griffen.

Another meeting will be held next Thursday evening at the same place when it is thought that some action will be taken toward the organization of a body to contest the Martin Act.

MARRIED IN THE CHURCH

TWO COLORED RESIDENTS UNITED IN MATRIMONY.

The Ceremony Was an Elaborate One and Was Witnessed by the Many Friends of the Couple—Bridal Party.

One of the prettiest June weddings in colored circles was celebrated at the Mount Olive Baptist church last evening, when Miss Paulina Coles, daughter of Rev. Haskins Coles, of Virginia, and Eugene Johnson, of this city, were married by Rev. P. S. Gibson, pastor of the church. The edifice was thronged with a large audience a great number of whom were white people. The church was decorated with palms, ferns and cut flowers.

Previous to the hour of the wedding Horatio Randolph entertained the audience with a selection of music on the organ, and when the signal was given at 8:30 the ever-popular Mendelssohn wedding march was played as the bridal party entered the church. The procession was led by the ushers, William Burden and Frank Kelsor, and following them were the groomsmen and bridesmaids, Miss Nora Wolker, Miss Julia Randolph, Miss Nellie Pierson, and Jesse Henry, Isaac Fields, Fred White, of Plainfield, and Richard Oliver, of Newark. The bridemaids were all gowned in white with ribbons and lace trimmings. Next came the maid of honor, Miss Lulu Douglass, gowned in white trimmed with lace and ribbons, while a beautiful chain of roses were draped about her neck and waist. The flower girl, Florence Bowser, was gowned in white and she was also decked with roses of various colors. As she passed up the aisle here and there she droped a rose. Following her came the bride, accompanied by James Myers, of Philadelphia, who gave her away in marriage. The bride wore a rich gown of flowered organdie trimmed with duchesse lace and satin ribbon, while she wore the usual veil and orange blossoms.

The groom and best man, Jesse Henry, entered the main part of the church from the front and met the bridal party and the officiating clergyman at the altar. The ceremony was an impressive one and was performed perfectly by Mr. Gibson.

As the bride and groom left the church followed by the rest of the party the Lohengrin wedding march was played.

A reception followed at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Walter Binn, No. 306 Plainfield avenue, where the bride and groom will reside. There were present at the reception guests from Newark, Philadelphia and Plainfield. A supper was served during the evening and the time was fully taken offering congratulations and enjoying the sociability of the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson received a valuable collection of wedding gifts including silverware, furniture and many other useful things. The groom is in the employ of E. H. Ladd, Jr., of Franklin place, while the bride was a valued employee of Mr. Pinto, of this city. The happy couple were very handsomely remembered by their friends. The groom's gift to the bride was a gold watch. At a late hour they left the city for a short wedding tour and their friends showered them with old shoes and rice as they departed.

KINDERGARTEN CLOSING.

Interesting Exercises at Miss Scribner and Miss Newton's School.

The closing exercises of the kindergarten department of Miss Scribner and Miss Newton's school, at 303 La Grande avenue, were held at 10 o'clock this morning.

About fifty visitors, parents and friends of the pupils, were present and enjoyed the songs and recitations of the little people. The programme included English songs, "Father We Thank Thee," "The Year's at the Spring," "Baby is a Sailor Boy!" and "Five Little Children Climb Up a Tree;" a French song, "The Owl," two French plays, "Caterpillar" and "On the Bridge," an exercise in French conversation, wheelbarrow and cooper games, an English song entitled "Five Little Mice," and a "Good-bye Song."

The school's primary department will hold its closing exercises on Monday, and the commencement exercises proper will take place on next Wednesday.

Stephen Cahoone and family, of Watchung avenue, leave today for their summer home in Jamestown, R. I.

SILVER ANNIVERSARY.

WESTFIELD SOCIAL EVENT AT THE HOME OF WILLIAM J. BOGERT.

Held in Honor of the Twenty-Fifth Anniversary of the Marriage of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Bogert—A Brilliant Affair

A brilliant social affair took place in Westfield last evening in the reception given by Mr. and Mrs. William J. Bogert, at their home on Central avenue, in celebration of their twenty-fifth anniversary. The house was beautifully decorated with smilax, palms and roses, and the veranda was hung with American flags and Japanese lanterns. Miss A. C. Hamaker, of Philadelphia, Miss Gisburne, of Washington, D. C., and the Misses Matthews, of Brooklyn, assisted Mrs. Bogert in receiving the guests.

The guests to the number of about 200 thronged the house, presenting a brilliant picture.

Music was furnished by Powers' orchestra, of New York, and Caterer Russ, of Elizabeth, furnished the supper. The presents which were numerous and handsome, were all in silver, in recognition of the silver anniversary.

Among the guests were: Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Codding, Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Knight, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Naething, Mr. and Mrs. Max Cook and sons, Mr. and Mrs. Caspar Hagermayer, Mr. and Mrs. William Gomes, Mr. and Mrs. B. L. McClain, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Philip, Mr. and Mrs A. G. Troup, Mr. and Mrs L. C. Ganzel, Mr. and Mrs. Burt Klase, Mr. and Mrs. George Littell, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Bowler, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Howard, W. B. Toucey, Granville Toucey, Mr. and Mrs. George Schucker, Mr. and Mrs. Max Winkleman, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Connoly, Dr. and Mrs. F. A. Kinch, Mrs Adolph Ganzel, Dr. and Mrs. J. B. Harrison, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Cross, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Sergeant, Miss Sergeant, Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Rea, Mr. and Mrs. E. Francis, Mr. and Mrs. John Dorvall, Mrs. Albeat Bridges, Miss Bridges, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Delamater, of Westfield, and a number of out of town guests.

CAMP LIFE ON LAKE CHAMPLAIN.

A Talk That Will be Interesting to the Youngsters.

On Friday evening, June 18th, at the Y. M. C. A. hall, C. T. Kilborne, president of the Orange Young Men's Christian Association, will give an illustrated talk on camp life on Lake Champlain. All boys over 12 years of age are invited to be present with their parents and they will be told many interesting things about the boys' camp which is located on Lake Champlain, near Westport, N. Y. This boys' camp which has been held during the past twelve years under the successful leadership of the late Sumner F. Dudley, will be conducted this summer by those who were most intimately associated with him in this work, and along the same lines established by him, the results of which were so satisfactory. It is but fair to state that the new leader, George Gorham Peck, of Newburgh, N. Y., was associated with Mr. Dudley as first assistant for eleven of the twelve years, and also successfully conducted a local camp for five summers, besides having assisted in starting the Maritime Boys' Camp (Canada) which last year numbered 110 boys. The camp will open July 6th, the main camp continuing two weeks, with the privilege of remaining two more weeks if desired. For those going from New York city a rate of $8.00 for the round trip has been secured. The board is $5.25 per week, and includes the use of boats.

A Remarkable Discovery.

W. O. Overbaugh, who is employed in the bicycle hospital of the F. L C Martin Cycle Company, made a queer discovery several days ago. A case of sundries was received and they were removed, leaving the excelsior packing in the box Then the cover was nailed on again and the box put away. A strange peeping noise was heard in the direction of the box and after a long search it was located in the box. The cover was removed and there, under the excelsior, was found a wee chicken. How it got there nobody appeared to know, and Overbaugh adopted it and is now raising it.

Arbitrator Settled This Case.

The suit of Henry H. Apgar, an electrician, against Mrs. Marie Kuenlen, for the amount of a bill for electrical work done upon Mrs. Kuenlen's residence in this city, was called in Justice Mosher's court at 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The defendant did not contest the case as she had threatened to, but instead she sent an arbitrator who paid the full amount of the bill, with costs.

CLASS DAY THEATRICALS

THE JUNIORS OF THE SEMINARY ENTERTAIN THEIR FRIENDS.

The Programme Consisted of a Farce Written for the Occasion by Three of the Juniors—The Cast of the Play.

"A little nonsense now and then" is proverbially known to be "relished by the best of men," and it is certain the bit of fun, in the form of a farce, given last evening at the Seminary was thoroughly enjoyed by an audience composed of the "best of men," and women, the parents and friends of the pupils. It has been the custom of the Seminary for several years to have a play or class day exercises among the festivities of the commencement work, and in former years the seniors have been the chief performers. The farce of last evening was the work of the junior class, for the most part. "The Reign of the Ring" was written by the Misses Margaret Macready, Harriet Efner Strong and Emma Hawley Sterling, and was divided into three scenes. The following is the cast of characters:

Mrs. Audubon.....Ruth Peckham.
Polly Audubon, Dorothea Audubon—Grand Nieces to Mrs. Audubon, Margaret Macready, Emma Sterling.
Felice de Villon—Friend to Dorothea—H. Efner Strong.
Hannah Cook.....Ethel Von Boskerck.
Job Tompkins, butcher.....Edith Boone.
Friends to Dorothea, Edmie Corleis, Agnes Minford, Marjorie Sterling, Helen Talmage.

The story of the play hinged upon a magic ring which once in a hundred years had the power of rendering the bearer fascinating to any one beholding her, and this charm lasted eleven hours. The Cinderella in this modern romance receives the ring and has her share in her older sister's pleasures. Miss Margaret Macready was the younger and neglected sister and played her part with the ease and naturalness of more experienced stars. Miss Ethel Von Boskerck, as Hannah, the cook, was inimitable. She and Miss Edith Boone in the role of Job Tompkins, the butcher, brought down the house with laughter. Miss Peckham, Miss Sterling and Miss Strong acted their characters perfectly. The choice of the young ladies for the several parts had been made with great discernment, for each character proved just the right one for the part.

The farce closed with an artistic May dance, which was graceful and pretty. During the intervals, while the scenes were being shifted, music was rendered by Miss Ayane Macready.

After the play the floor was cleared, and the young people indulged in some merry dancing.

BURGLARSSECURETOOLS

INVADED A SCOTCH PLAINS BLACKSMITH SHOP LAST NIGHT.

They Entered Samuel Tainor's Shop by a Side Door and are Now Equipped For Work—No Clue to the Thieves

Citizens of Scotch Plains awoke this morning to learn that another robbery had been committed by the gang of thieves which has for some time past been carrying on depredations in the town.

Samuel Tainor a blacksmith whose shop is on Park avenne, found on going to the place this morning that thieves had entered the shop some time during the night by forcing open a door at the side of the building. A number of steel drills, hammers and chisels, valued at $25 were carried away by the invaders.

The constables are now thoroughly aroused and will keep a sharp watch on all strangers or suspicious cnaracters seen about the town.

The impression prevails that the tools taken from Tainor's shop are to be used for house breaking purposes by the burglars, and the citizens are buying guns and revolvers to protect their property.

The Great Wallace Shows Coming.

The Press received a call today from Messrs. Donovan and Harvey who are in the city making contracts in the interest of the Great Wallace Shows, known far and wide as the highest class circus in the world, and generally spoken of by the press as the one show that gives more than it promises. The Oakland (Cal.) Times says: "A magnificent exhibition that exceeds its promises to the people." The St. Louis Republic says: "The courtesy of employes, the high tone of everything about it, stamps it superior, and in magnitude it is of the first rank." The New Orleans Picayune and Times both unite in pronouncing the Wallace Show the greatest and best circus ever exhibited in the Crescent City. Thus indorsed the show comes to Plainfield and will exhibit here on Wednesday, July 14th.

A Good Showing.

The Plainfield Water Supply Company yesterday declared a dividend of 2 per cent.

TALKED AGAINST TIME.

SWACKHAMER DELAYED THE CASE UNTIL HIS CLIENT CAME.

The Case Was Tried in Elizabeth Yesterday and Was a Long Delayed Suit Between a Servant and Her Mistress, of Plainfield.

After months of delay and trouble, the case of Gartland against Ellis has at last been decided and the plaintiff given a verdict for the full amount, $14, over which this long and weary fight has been made. The costs have exceeded the amount of the suit many times, and the case has grown into one over a question of principle.

The suit was one brought by Miss Mary Ellen Gartland against her former employer, Mrs. Laura B. Ellis, of Fanwood, to secure wages alleged to be due for services at Mrs. Ellis's home as a domestic, The circumstances of the case briefly are that Miss Ellis employed Mary Gartland as a servant in the household, taking her on trial. After three weeks she was discharged, Mrs. Ellis refused to pay her, declairing that she was incompetent. Then Miss Gartland brought suit to recover the three week's wages. She employed S. S. Swackhamer of the firm of Swachamer and Williams, and the suit was brought in Justice Newcorn's court and tried before a jury. A verdict for the full amount was brought in.

The case was appealed and set down for trial in October. Ex-Judge W. A. Coddington, who represented the defendant, had the date of the trial changed so that it might be tried by jury. Mr. Swackhamer was not notified and a verdict was given for the defendant. Mr. Swackhamer applied for a rule to show cause why a new trial should not be granted. After some delay the new trial was set down for January, but had to be adjourned on account of the illness of the defendant.

Yesterday morning, at 10:35 o'clock, the trial came up, but the plaintiff had not appeared. Thinking that she might arrive on the 11 o'clock train, Mr. Swackhamer opened the case and started to talk against time until his client should arrive. Instead of occupying the usual three minutes, he took up twenty five minutes, and then sat down exhausted as his client came hurrying in the court room.

The case was tried and both counsel made eloquent appeals to the jury. After being out five minutes, the jury brought in a verdict for the plaintiff for the full amount.

A TIN WEDDING.

Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Van Arsdale Celebrate the Tenth Wedding Anniversary.

Yesterday Mr. and Mrs. Morris C. Van Arsdale, of Somerset street, celebrated the tenth anniversary of their marriage and, last evening, Mr. Van-Arsdale arranged a surprise for his wife in honor of the event. He invited just the immediate relatives to his home and when they arrived Mrs. Van Arsdale was so completely surprised that it was several minutes before she could regain her composure. All were made to feel at home and an evening of sociability interspersed with music was enjoyed. Mr. and Mrs. Van Arsdale were the recipients of a large collection of tinware, crockery, etc., all of which was received with many thanks. The serving of refreshments was a feature and the guests thoroughly enjoyed this part of the programme.

Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. A. C. La Boyteaux, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Powlison, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Powlison, J. K. Van Arsdale, Miss Anna Van Arsdale, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Brokaw, Mr. and Mrs. George Clark, Mrs. Wilkins, Miss Wilkins, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Lutkins, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Hummer, John Case, Louis Hummer, of Plainfield; Miss Mary Honeyman, of Somerville; Mrs. B. C. Amerman, of Pluckamin.

SUING FOR THOUSANDS

Testimony Being Taken in This City in a Famous English Lawsuit.

Herbert W. Knight who has been appointed by the English courts a special examiner to take evidence abroad, has been present in Craig A. Marsh's law offices today taking evidence in the case of Thomas H. Grove against Herbert W. C. Tweddle, and others, which concerns a large petroleum producing estate in Peru known as the Hacienda LeBrea. The case is now on trial in the English High Court of Justice, Queen's Bench division.

The plaintiff's claim is for $50,000 as compensation for the formation of a joint stock company to operate the petroleum deposits on the estate in Peru. He has already been paid $15,000, and seeks another $35,000. Craig A. Marsh is counsel for the defendants, and Mr. Butler, of New York, represents the plaintiff.

NEW ENGLAND FLOOD

Great Damage Caused by Heavy Rains and Rising Rivers.

SERIOUS BREAKS OF LOG BOOMS.

Business Suspended Because of Overflowed Streets—Dam Swept Away, Causing Damage to Manufactories.

Crops Seriously Injured.

Boston, June 11.—New England has been visited by a storm which, from the amount of damage done, has become one of the worst in many years, although according to official records the actual amount of rain was not unusual. Most of the rain which fell came down with great violence. The railroads suffered most severely, particularly the Boston and Maine and its branches in New Hampshire.

Wrecks occurred at Exeter and Seabrook, while trains were stalled in many other places by serious washouts. On this account traffic between Boston and the north and east was greatly impeded.

The only fatalities reported occurred in the wreck at Exeter, in which three men were killed. From Vermont and New Hampshire comes news of swollen rivers, the height of which approaches that reached in the famous freshets of the spring of 1896. There was a serious break in a log boom at Bellows Falls, Vt., whereby 12,000,000 feet of logs were released.

These rushed down the river to Turners Falls, Mass., where another boom held 80,000,000 feet. The pressure was too great, and the second boom parted, and the combined drive of logs was carried away.

At Dover, N. H., where in 1896 four bridges and a business block were carried away by the floods, the Cocheco mills were compelled to suspend operations, and at Amesbury, Mass., work in the carriage factories was impeded by flooded cellars.

In the western part of Massachusetts the Connecticut river swept away the dam of the Warner Manufacturing company at Greenfield and caused other damage.

Considerable damage to crops is also reported from some sections.

The Flood In Vermont.

Bellows Falls, Vt., June 11.—On Wells street in this village the water from the side hill has been so great that the catch basins could not take care of it, and the cellars of a dozen or more houses are filled with water. On the corner, where stands No. 4 school building, it is impossible to get around, as the water is two feet deep on the street at this point.

The manilla and card mills of the Fall Mountain Paper company are shut down, as the cellars where the driving pulleys that run the machines are located are from six to nine feet under water.

The boom which held the large drive of logs owned by the Connecticut Lumber company gave way yesterday, and the logs were jammed against the piers of the Fitchburg railroad bridge at this place and the team bridge at Walpole. At the latter place they were piled 20 feet high. Great fears were entertained that the bridge would be lifted from its foundations.

The hotels are filled to overflowing, as all traffic on the Rutland railroad is at a standstill, two bridges having been carried away between here and Chester. A young man by the name of Frank Noyes was crossing one of the bridges, little dreaming of the sudden death that was fast approaching, when suddenly the bridge was lifted from its abutments and he was carried with it into the water below.

Rains Cause Much Damage.

Whitehall, N. Y., June 11.—The recent heavy rains have caused very high water at this place. The farms between here and Fort Ann are completely under water. Oats, corn and potatoes have been washed away. The lowest estimate of damage to farmers is over $10,000. The high water has stopped all south bound boats moving in Champlain canal between Whitehall and Fort Ann. There will probably be a detention for four or five days.

Arraigned on a Charge of Murder.

Haverhill, Mass., June 11.—Robert E. Galvin was arraigned in the police court on a charge of willfully murdering Robert Kydd. He pleaded not guilty, waived examination and was held without bail for the action of the grand jury. The prisoner answered the charge boldly, but showed the effect upon him of the day and night passed without sleep. He will be taken to jail at Lawrence today.

Big Libel Suit Begun.

Des Moines, June 11.—The American Book company has begun suit in the federal court against G. A. Gates, president of Iowa college at Grinnell for $100,000 for malicious libel. Gates published some time ago a pamphlet charging the book company with bribery and corrupt methods in getting books adopted by school boards over the country.

No Sunday Baseball In Cleveland.

Cleveland, June 11.—The jury in the case of John Powell, the member of the Cleveland Baseball club charged with playing baseball on Sunday, has returned a verdict of guilty in both counts. This settles the fate of Sunday baseball in Cleveland.

Child May Be Tried.

Albany, June 11.—The attorney general has written an opinion in which he holds that a boy 10 years old who has committed burglary can be tried in a court of special sessions and can be received at the State Industrial school at Rochester.

Aged Woman Killed by a Train.

Oneonta, N. Y., June 11.—Mrs. G. M Dayton, aged 73 years, of Cooperstown Junction, was struck by a Delaware and Hudson train near her home and instantly killed. Her husband died two weeks ago. An investigation will be held.

Prizefighters Set Free.

New York, June 11.—Magistrate Cornell, sitting in the Harlem Police court, discharged Peter Maher and Tom Sharkey, the pugilists. He held that the bout at the Palace Athletic club was not a prizefight.

WHERE IS SHE GOING?

Mysterious Mission of the Big Cruiser New York.

UNDER SEALED ORDERS FROM BOSTON

It Is Intimated That the Flagship of the White Squadron Is Bound For Cuba.

Navy Department at Washington Reticent as to Her Destination.

Boston, June 11.—The crack United States cruiser New York, the flagship of the North Atlantic squadron, with Rear Admiral Montgomery Sicard on board, steamed out of the harbor last evening under sealed orders. It is generally believed that she has turned her nose to the southward and that her twin screws will not stop until she is somewhere in the immediate neighborhood of Cuba, if not in the harbor of Havana itself; for when she started she was fully provisioned and coaled and could if necessary go as far as Gibraltar or Rio Janeiro without laying in more supplies.

The New York arrived here on May 26 to participate in the ceremonies attending the unveiling of the Shaw monument. The battleship Massachusetts came with the flagship, while the battleship Texas had arrived some days previous, so that Boston on Decoration day had three formidable ships of the North Atlantic squadron in the harbor. The Texas left a few days ago, but the other two ships have been swinging at their moorings off the navy yard until yesterday.

Prepared For a Long Cruise.

That Rear Admiral Sicard must have had some inkling of an important cruise seems probable from the fact that for the past few days the entire crew of the New York have been hard at work getting the ship ready for sea, while her coal bunkers have been filled to overflowing.

It was supposed, however, that the cruiser would run around to New York, or perhaps Hampton Roads, and Pilot Colby of the local pilots was notified that the ship would probably proceed to sea in a day or two and that his services would be required to navigate the cruiser through the narrow channel of the harbor.

It was seen that all the steam launches were hoisted aboard and secured as if for a long voyage, while extra precautions appeared to have been taken to make everything snug.

An officer came ashore and notified Pilot Colby to report on board at once, and it became known that mysterious sealed orders, which always give wide room for conjecture, had been received from the navy department by Admiral Sicard.

It did not take long for the news to spread along the water front, and soon it was in every mouth, while that her destination must be Cuba appeared to be an accepted fact.

Navy Officials Reticent.

Washington, June 11.—The navy department officials are singularly reserved about the movements of the New York and show a reluctance to answer any questions. Secretary Long, in answer to a direct interrogation, replied: "The New York is not going to Cuba; she will next be heard from at some point on the Atlantic coast well north of Cuba."

The secretary refused to answer further, standing on the short reply above given. The chief of the navigation bureau, who usually is always ready to tell where a ship is bound, refused to say one word as to the destination of the New York. It is learned, however, that the cruiser is expected to report next at Hampton Roads, Va., and that she will be at sea about two days.

It is surmised that the navy department, which has been charged of late with the whole of the duty of looking after filibusters afloat, has been advised of the intention of some formidable expedition bound for Cuba to put out from some northern port, possibly out of Delaware bay, or perhaps there is to be a repetition of the Horsa expedition, and some steamer is to take on arms for the Cubans off one of the now deserted sand beaches of Jersey or Delaware. In such case the department would send out a smaller cruiser usually, but it is said that at this time it was a case of the choice of the vessel able to get under way first.

Insurance Men Meet.

New Haven, June 11.—About 150 delegates were present when the National Provident union began a series of sessions to continue three days. The union is an insurance order and has a membership of about 10,000. It is governed by a body patterned after the national house of representatives. A number of bills were introduced, the most important being one providing for the election of officers by a congress instead of the members at large.

Italians Take Strikers' Places.

Kingston, N. Y., June 11.—The strike of stonecutters at the Saugerties limestone quarries, which has delayed the delivery of stone to the new East River bridge, has been settled by the employment of other men not members of the stonecutters' union. They are Italians and get 25 cents per hour, 10 hours a day. A large gang arrived there yesterday morning, and work will proceed rapidly.

Congressman Not Guilty.

St. Paul, June 11.—On motion of County Attorney Anderson, Judge Lewis has ordered a verdict in favor of Congressman F. C. Stevens, on trial under an indictment for an alleged overdraft on his accounts with the Minnesota Savings bank, of which he was president. The prosecution had failed to make out a case.

When a mistake is easily avoided it's scarcely worth while to run the risk of making one. Buying poor paint is a needless waste of money. It's paying for something you don't want, because it won't answer the purpose. Only paint that wears and is proof against the exposure of our climate is worth the cost of putting on. I cannot say enough for its merits.' Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds is not an experiment. It has been tried for a quarter of a century, and to-day stands at the head. It never disappoints. Free trial bottles at L. W. Randolph's drug stor .

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Electric Bitters

Electric Bitters is a medicine suited for any season, but perhaps more generally needed when the languid, exhausted feeling prevails, when the liver is torpid and sluggish and the need of a tonic and alterative is felt. A prompt use of this medicine has often averted long and perhaps fatal bilious fevers. No medicine will act more surely in counteracting and freeing the system from the malarial poison Headache, Indigestion, Constipation. Dizziness yield to Electric Bitters 50c. and $1.00 per bottle at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

Lewis Vroom, of Somerset street, caught a carp in Tier's lake yesterday weighing two pounds.

Mr. Isaac Horner, proprietor of the Burton House, Burton, W. V., and one of the most widely known men in the state was cured of rheumatism after three years of suffering. He says: "I have not sufficient command of language to convey any idea of what I suffered, my physicians told me that nothing could be done for me and my friends were fully convinced that nothing but death would relieve me of my suffering. In June 1894, Mr. Evens, then salesman fo the Wheeling Drug Co., recommended Chamberlain's Pain Balm. At this time my foot and limb were swollen to more than double their normal size and it seemed to me my leg would burst, but soon after I began using the Pain Balm the swelling began to decrease, the pain to leave, and now I consider that I am entirely cured." For sale by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

Miss Piker, who has been visiting her parents in this city, returned to Arlington, this State, yesterday, where she is living with her sister.

"There's no use in talking," says W. H. Broadwell, druggist, La Cygne, Kas., "Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy does the work. After taking medicines of my own preparation and those of others, I took a dose of Chamberlain's and it helped me; a second dose cured me. Candidly and conscientiously I can recommend it as the best thing on the market." The 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

Alfred Garland, of East Fifth street, will leave the city July 5th for Asbury Park where he will spend the summer with his father.

Hundreds of thousands have been induced to try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy by reading what it has done for others, and having tested its merits for themselves are to-day its warmest friends. For sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

Motorman Hipp, of the street railway, is off duty owing to illness.

A. H. Patter, with E. C. Atkins & Co., Indianapolis, Ind., writes: "I have never before given a testimonial in my life. But I will say that for three years we have never been without Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy in the house, and my wife would as soon think of being without flour as a bottle of this Remedy in the summer season. We have used it with all three of our children and it has never failed to cure—not simply stop pain, but cure absolutely. It is all right, and anyone who tries it will find it so." For sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

TO BRING BACK EXPLORERS.

Steamer Leaves London For the Members of a Scientific Party.

London, June 11.—The steamer Windward has started again for Franz Josef Land in order to bring back from the arctic region the members of the Jackson-Harmsworth expedition who have now spent three winters at their little arctic settlement. Elmwood, near Cape Flora, where they erected an observatory 2,000 feet above the sea level.

During the present summer the expedition was to make an attempt to reach the highest point north through an opening in Queen Victoria sea, the open water discovered by Mr. Jackson. The Windward was enthusiastically cheered by a large crowd of people as she made her way down the river Thames.

Included in her freight are four kayakas, made by Dr. Nansen for Mr. Jackson, and a folding bed intended for Professor Andree, who expects to cross the arctic regions this summer in a balloon from Franz Josef Land.

SERIOUS RAILROAD WRECK.

Two Freight Trains Collide In Tennessee With Fatal Results.

Bradford, Tenn., June 11.—A serious railroad wreck occurred at this place. Two Illinois Central freight trains going in opposite directions crashed into each other at a slight curve just at the end of town, about 400 yards from the depot. It is impossible at present to learn the full extent of the damage done.

All of the injured were taken to the hotels, and a special train arrived from Jackson at 8:45 o'clock with medical aid. It is said that at least three and perhaps more are under the now burning ruins of the train. All of the trainmen have been accounted for.

The injured are: Edward Benz, engineer, collar bone and shoulder broken; G. H. Bobley, fireman, ankle sprained and bruised about the head; Edward Powers, slightly bruised; Bob Burk, back and leg hurt; Jim Northcut, both legs and an arm broken. Benz and Northcut are fatally hurt.

Debate Opened by Jones of Arkansas. Morgan Gave Notice of an Amendment—Tillman's Speech on Export Duty on Agricultural Products.

Washington, June 11.—The long deferred debate on the sugar schedule of the tariff bill came on abruptly after the senate had disposed of the cereals in the agricultural schedule. The interest in the sugar schedule had been whetted for weeks, and aside from the fact that more revenue is derived from sugar than from any other article there was the added interest due to the sensational charges made of late within and without the senate concerning irregularities in connection with the progress of the schedule. But the debate failed to develop any dramatic incidents.

Senators and spectators soon lapsed into a state of indifference as the speeches dealt with a labyrinth of technical details of vital interest to the sugar refiner and expert, but not to the general public.

Mr. Jones of Arkansas opened the debate, to some extent answering Mr. Aldrich's statement on the sugar schedule. It was argumentative and lacking in any severe denunciatory features. The senator held that the rates proposed gave the refiners an excessive differential and pointed out how they had thrived on the one-eighth differential of the present law.

Vest Denounces Sugar Trust.

Mr. Vest severely criticised the sugar trust and argued that the rates were a further tribute to its vast resources. Mr. Caffery of Louisiana also opposed the schedule as a whole.

No final action was taken on any feature of the schedule further than the withdrawal of the original senate committee amendments. This leaves the house provisions of the bill, with an amendment increasing the house differential from 875-100 to 95-100 cents per pound. The provisions relating to the Hawaiian islands went over by mutual consent.

Early in the session Mr. Tillman of South Carolina made a lively speech in favor of the amendment giving an export duty on agricultural products. He took occasion in this connection to criticise his Democratic associates who were giving a strict and literal construction to the Democratic doctrine of a tax for revenue only. The bounty amendment was defeated—10 to 59.

Morgan to Offer an Amendment.

Mr. Morgan gave notice of the following amendment to be offered at the proper time:

"A tax of 1 cent per pound is hereby levied and shall be assessed and collected on sugar that is the product of any refinery of sugar in the United States; but the persons or corporations engaged in the business of refining sugar in whose business there is employed less than $100,000 of cash capital and who are not connected in business by agreement with any other person or corporation engaged in refining sugar, are exempt from such tax. The laws for the collection of the tax on tobacco, so far as they are applicable to the subject of this enactment, shall apply to the collection of the tax imposed by this act upon refined sugar. And no person or corporation shall be exempt from the tax on sugar refined at any sugar refinery who shall not clearly establish the right to such exemption under the rules and regulations to be prescribed by the secretary of the treasury for the execution of this law."

An Amendment by Warren.

Mr. Warren of Wyoming introduced amendments to the tariff bill taking raw hides and skins not specially provided for from the free list and imposing duties upon them as follows:

On the skins of hair sheep, or half breeds or angora sheep, raw or uncured, with the hair on, 5 cents per pound; goatskins, kangaroo skins and hides and skins of all other animals not tanned and not specially provided for, 2 cents per pound; uncured sheepskins without wool on them, whether dry, salted or pickled, 50 cents per dozen.

Senator Warren also offered amendments increasing the rate on chamois and bookbinders' calfskins, etc., from 20 to 35 per cent ad valorem. Another amendment introduced by Mr. Warren strikes out the finance committee's amendments to paragraph 427, providing various duties on morocco, piano forte leather and boots and shoes made of leather, and inserts in their stead, after the word morocco, a provision for a rate of 30 per cent ad valorem on all tanned but unfinished skins and hides not specially provided for.

Pettigrew Makes an Inquiry.

The tariff bill was temporarily laid aside, and Mr. Pettigrew of South Dakota made inquiry as to what became of his resolution directing the committee on Pacific railroads to inquire into the issue of land patents to the Pacific roads.

Mr. Gear of Iowa, chairman of the committee, answered curtly that Mr. Pettigrew would hear in due time what action the committee had taken.

Mr. Pettigrew said he had expected the reference to the committee would be the graveyard of the resolution, and he called the attention of the country to the condition of affairs. Explanations were made later that the committee would meet Saturday to consider the subject.

Chinese Illegally Landed.

Washington, June 11.—The treasury department has received information that seven Chinese illegally landed at Dennis Point near Capistran had been captured and landed in jail at Los Angeles and the master and seamen of the boat Nalrid had been arrested for smuggling the Chinese into this country. The boat was also seized. The Chinamen will be deported and the officer and sailors prosecuted.

To Finish an Important Work.

Washington, June 11.—John B. Moore of New York, professor of international law at Columbia university and formerly third assistant secretary of state, has been selected by the state department to undertake the work of making a revision of Wharton's famous international law digest, a task begun by the late Hallett Phillips and cut short by his death.

GOOD ROADS.

The proposition to aid in the making of good roads, or to preserve them when made, by encouraging or requiring the use of broad tires on vehicles is not a modern one. Long before the war South Carolina so far recognized the value of such tires as to exempt from all vehicles so equipped when traveling on the old state road, for the especial reason that the broad tires "helped so much to keep the road in order," while a penalty of one dollar was imposed on the users of narrow tires. The regulation was in force as late as 1845, and it is supposed that it expired when the road was given up by the State. The roads were better then, presumably, than they are now, because they had not been in use so long; or were worse because there was more wagon hauling in those anterailroad days.

ENDEAVORERS ELECT.

The Seventh Day Baptist Society Held its Annual Meeting Last Evening.

The annual meeting of the Christian Endeavor Society of the Seventh-Day Baptist church was held in the parlors of the church, last evening. There was a large attendance of members. The reports for the last year were received. They showed that considerable progress had been made in the different lines of work. Twelve new members had been added during the year and a goodly sum devoted to the different missionary interests of the society.

The election of officers was then held and resulted as follows: President, Frank J. Hubbard; vice-president, Luella Clawson; secretary, Ida Spicer; treasurer, Dr. F. T. Clawson; corresponding secretary, Asa Randolph.

The chairmen of committees were selected as follows: Chairman of prayer meeting committee, Clarence Rogers; social, Ernestine Smith; lookout, Mrs. J. E. Kimball; music, Lena Tomlinson; missionary, Joseph Bakker; temperance, Mrs. D. E. Titsworth; flower, Mrs. Charles Dunham; literature, W. R. Mosher.

AN IMPRESSIVE SERVICE

Funeral of the Late Walter Drake was Held in Holy Cross Church, Yesterday.

The funeral of the late Walter Drake was held from Holy Cross church yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock and the attendance of relatives and friends was very large. Many who desired to attend were unable to do so owing to the large number of people present. Rev. T. Logan Murphy, rector of the church, officiated, and the service of the Episcopal church was used. The floral offerings were profuse and beautiful. There were three large pillows, and a harp, all from friends and Somerset Council, Jr. O. U. A. M., of which the deceased was a member. A beautiful cross was offered by the employer of the deceased. The members of the lodge were present in a body and Harry Barton, L. Rosensteil, Charles Layton, Harry Bennet, Geo. Townley and John Sheppard, of the lodge, acted as pall bearers. Interment was in the family plot in Plainfield avenue cemetery. At the grave the lodge conducted the service according to the ritual of the order. It was very impressive and the members who took part did well.

EUCHRE CLUB ENTERTAINED.

The Thursday Night Club Held Its Last Meeting of the Season.

A very successful season came to a very successful end last evening, when the members of the Thursday Night Euchre Club gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Will Tier, of Bank place, for the last meeting until next fall. Besides the regular club tables, there was a table for the guests who were invited in honor of Miss Core, of New York, who is visiting Mrs. Tier. At the guests' table the prizes were won by Miss Core and Fred Sandford. The first prizes in the club were won by Miss Ada Chandler and Theodore Mantz. The winners of the second prizes were Miss Mabelle Force and David Krymer. After the progressive whist the rest of the evening was taken up with dancing, music and refreshments.

Presiding Elder Smith Honored.

Presiding Elder Rev. G. W. Smith received from New York University at the commencement, last evening, the degree of Doctor of Divinity. Dr. Smith is to preach the missionary sermon at Baldwin University, in Berea, O., next Sunday evening.

PASSING COMMENT.

To the Editor of The Press:—Supplementing your report in The Daily Press of Wednesday on the remarkable return of Mr. Scott's garden, on Front street, allow me to add that my gardener presented us, at 830 Central avenue, with new onions on May 25th, new peas on June 2d, and new beets on June 7th, while we have had a full supply of salad, spinach, etc., for weeks. Can this record be excelled? Verily, Plainfield is a great place for early gardening. But then we have first-class gardeners and they get up early. M.

The Elizabeth, Asbury Park and Trenton baseball teams, of the short-lived New Jersey State League, have joined the South Jersey City with Millville, Bridgeton and Salem. A meeting next week will be held to complete the schedule. The season will probably open June 15th.

MIZPAH'S FESTIVAL.

It Was Successfully Held Last Evening on East Front Street.

An enjoyable strawberry and ice cream festival was held last evening in the Republican Association rooms on East Front street under the auspices of Mizpah Lodge, No. 1, U. O. of I. O. L. Mrs. Andrew Cox was the efficient chairman, and she was assisted by Mrs. Bushby, Mrs. Pierson, Mrs. Angleman, Mrs. Mattis and Miss Katy Cortwright. The waitresses were Miss Angleman, Miss Sadie Giles and Miss Gulick.

Early in the evening a programme of music and recitations was presented by young women gowned as "White Caps." There were recitations by the Misses Anna Jessup, Clara Weber and Mamie Richards, and vocal solos were rendered by the Misses Emma Angleman, Minnie Gulick, Dora Bennett, Nellie Bird, Sadie Giles, Mamie Devine, Tessie Karhman, while Mrs. Wm. Bohl was the accompanist.

The members of the lodge seemed to have no trouble in selling the ice cream and cake and a goodly sum of money was received thereby. A great deal of interest centred in an Odd Fellows' quilt, for which there was a contest between Mrs. Cox and Mrs. Corwin. The contest was started four weeks ago and it will be continued a little while longer. At the closing time last evening the two contestants were even as to the number of votes received.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. NO CONSUMPTIVE WILL DIE

SO LONG AS HE CAN DIGEST AND ASSIMILATE FOOD.

All physicians admit this. Yet here the difficulty begins. How can we build up the consumptive's body as fast as the disease tears it down? Let us consider.

Cough mixture must be avoided because they frequently contain opiates which arrest the digestion. There only effect on the cough is by stupefying the nerves. Let them alone

All foods that are hard to digest must be avoided, especially fats and oils. Only those foods that are easily digested and assimilated should be eaten Foods not thus accepted by nature do no good; they do harm. Not what is merely eaten but what is digested and assimilated gives flesh and strength.

Consumption is starvation, slow or rapid, as may be. The first symptom is not necessarily a cough, but a tendency to lose flesh, to grow thin. Stop this tendency now. Don't wait for obvious lung trouble. That's only a later development—only a minor point.

Stop the wasting and you master the disease,—even though it may have made some slight inroads already. Increase the flesh and the danger is past.

What is needed is an especially-prepared food,—a nutriment in itself and a digester of other foods.

Such an article is the Shaker Digestive Cordial, made by the Shaker Community, of Mt. Lebanon, N. Y. It creates a natural appetite and insures the digestion of what is eaten with it. It overcomes the wasting which is fatal in the consumptive process.

A man may lose money and not die a bankrupt. One may have consumption and not die of it. This is science and sense. The success of this new remedy proves it.

VALUABLE PROPERTY CHANGE.

William C. Kelly Has Sold His Park Avenue Block to Sigmund Frucht.

One of the largest real estate deals which has been consummated in this city for some time, was completed in the law offices of City Judge DeMeza, yesterday, when the valuable business block on Park avenue, between North avenue and West Second street, changed owners. Sigmund Frucht, of Park avenue and West Second street, was the purchaser, and bought the valuable tract from William C. Kelly, of Park avenue.

The property which is included in the deal are the stores now occupied by Miss A. E. Lincoln's florist establishment, James Dunn's grocery and L. A. Hummer's meat market.

The consideration was $20,000. It is understood that there will be no change in the tenants at present and that Mr. Frucht will make no attempt to rebuild any of the stores.

WESTFIELD

LAW COMPELS BONDS.

WESTFIELD'S TOWN COMMITTEE GETS LIGHT ON THE MATTER.

Justice Collins Explodes a Legal Bomb in Last Night's Meeting—Suggestion to Float Notes Is Plausible, but Conflicting.

Justice E. R. Collins exploded a bomb in the meeting of the Westfield Township Committee last evening. The meeting was called to allow property owners to express their opinions to the committee on the proposed issue of sewer bonds. Committeemen Endicott and Harden and Township Treasurer Morehouse were present.

The occurrence which called forth the ire of Justice Collins was the suggestion made by Martin Wells that of the $58,000 which the township must raise at once for sewer purposes, only $30,000 should be in the form of a bonded debt, and the remainder left in notes to be discounted at the banks and renewed until the collection of assessments on property should enable the township treasurer to pay off said notes. These notes, Mr. Welles said, could be discounted at five per cent, while the assessments on property owners drew six per cent to the township until paid. Several citizens present coincided with Mr. Welles' views.

Judge Collins arose and inquired if the sewer system had not been constructed under the laws of 1894. Chairman Endicott replied that it had. The Justice then aligned his gold eyeglasses and read the following extract from the law relating to sewer construction:

"All notes issued by the Township Committee shall be made payable within two years from and after the beginning of the work, and the Township Committee shall issue either registered or coupon bonds of the township for so much of the cost of such sewer or drainage system as shall not at that time have been collected by means of assessments for special benefits."

The Justice called the attention of the committee to the language of the law which leaves them no choice in the matter of issuing bonds for the total amount of indebtedness not paid off within two years from the beginning of the work. The committee's attention was called to the fact that the two years in question had already elapsed, the work of construction having commenced May 15th, 1895.

Mr. Cohen suggested the idea of an issue of $30,000 in bonds payable within thirty years and after ten years. Upon this a vote was taken and the meeting declared unanimously in its favor. Treasurer Morehouse then proposed that an issue of $28,000 in bonds, drawing 4½ per cent interest, be made, with $4,000 coming payable each year by which all would be paid in seven years. He suggested that arrangements be made to have the bonds guaranteed by a trust company. This he thought would facilitate their sale, and would prevent a fraudulent over issue of bonds, thus protecting the township as well as the purchasers.

Mrs. John Gluck is ill at her home on South avenue.

Town Committeeman George Embree is ill with tonsilitis.

Mrs. Wm. Hodge is seriously ill at her home on Clark street.

Thomas Kenney, who was injured in the runaway of James French's team, last week, is now improving.

Miss Annie McDeed has returned to her home in Jersey City, after a week's visit with her parents on Cumberland street.

The century run from New York to Philadelphia is expected to pass through Westfield on the Springfield road about 7:20 a. m. tomorrow.

Flag Day will be commemorated by the Jr. O. U. A. M., in Westfield on Monday by the raising of an American flag on the pole at Broad and Prospect streets.

Mrs. James Hannon returned yesterday from the Elizabeth General Hospital, where she underwent a successful operation for the removal of a tumor.

The case of Barton against Weider, on contract, which was set for trial in Justice Toucey's court, yesterday, was dismissed because of a defect in the summons.

The Westfield Township Committee have sent a request to Sheriff Kirk that he appoint five members of Bucket and Engine Company special deputy sheriffs for July 4th to keep order in the town.

The pupils of Miss Ella Ferris will give a complimentary piano recital in the Methodist church this evening. The programme will include a number of vocal selections. Admission will be by ticket only.

The case of Ledley against Crickenberger which was set for trial before Justice Collins this afternoon, was settled before trial by the payment of the plaintiff's claim and the costs, amounting in all to $11 50.

Miss Sophie Condit, Miss Jane Morrow, Miss Minnie Lynde, Miss Jennie Starr, Miss Lucy Starr, Miss Anna Warncke, John Morrow and Carle Whitehead attended the commencement exercises of the New York Law School in Carnegie Music Hall, last evening.

The Westfield Athletic Club baseball team will play the Stelton A. C. team on the North Broad street grounds tomorrow afternoon. The Steltons are a very strong team, being mostly old Rutgers College players, and they may be depended upon to furnish an exciting game.

To the Editor of The Daily Press:—Your correspondent in the issue of the 10th inst., in speaking of the school question at Garwood, and referring to the Boards of Education of Westfield and Cranford townships, says: "Complications have arisen from time to time, however, and as a result Garwood has been without a school this winter." This is an error. There has been, and is now, an excellent school, kindergarten and primary, free to all at Garwood under the direction of Mrs. Carrie G. Anderson, an experienced teacher, from New York. The school has been supported wholly by the Garwood Land and Improvement Company. By giving this space in your columns you will correct an error, give credit where it is due and greatly oblige. Respectfully, Frank W. Morse.

Plainfield's Busiest Store.

It is Well to Remember

That the production of merchandise far outstrips its consumption. This will go far towards explaining the apparent modesty of prices on many seasonable goods. Hardly a day passes but what we have shown to us some special things that the manufacturer is overstocked—he needs money and the goods are offered to us in many cases at less than the cost of production. It's a wise loss for the maker, a good purchase for us, and a big bargain benefit for you.

TAKE WASH GOODS

There never was a season known when the wholesale market has been so glutted with thin, cool, dainty summer fabrics. The result is a price break.

MUST BE SOLD

In Three Weeks.

OUR ENTIRE STOCK OF MEN'S, BOYS' and CHILDREN'S CLOTHING,

and Men's furnishing goods must positively be sold by July 1st; not a dollar's worth do we want on our hands, and in order to dispose of so large a stock we will cut the prices down so low that you can come to our large store and buy a whole suit for what other stores will ask you for a single pair of pants. Don't buy a dollar's worth of clothing until you see our stock and prices. Every garment will be marked down in plain figures, and there should be no mistake of your getting the right price and the right goods. Remember that we sold over 45,000 dollars worth of clothing in Plainfield in one year. Ask anyone and everybody who ever bought of us and they will tell you that we give 3 times as many goods for the same amount that any other store in Plainfield will give you, in order to prove what we say. We will give you

A WHOLE STATE RUN BY WOMEN.

Farm the Land, Repair the Roads, and Send the Men to Work in the City.

The woman question has been on trial for years in a country the conditions and tendencies of which seems more outspokenly opposed to progress in that particular direction than those of any other land. It may sound strange, yet Russia is the empire referred to.

In Central Russia is the township of Besjukovschtschina. There, in 1861, after an epidemic that reduced the peasants to starvation, the women, led by Saschka, ordered the men to leave and go to the city to find work. The women remained alone and began to till the farms. The men were allowed to return only for the holidays.

The woman state comprises a territory of ten square miles, and is divided into seven villages. Saschka and seven other women, the wives of the exiled elders, administer to all public affairs, such as the levying of taxes, the allotment of acres to the various families, the keeping up of the churches, the paying of the shepherds, etc., etc. They also assume the recruiting officer's duties by sending those men who attained the proper age to town in order to submit to medical examination.

In the Summer the fields of the district afford a peculiar aspect. One may ride over the Besjukovschatschina domain from morning till night without encountering a single male being. All the work, the hardest as well as the lighter manipulations, is executed by women and girls of different ages. With naked feet and arms they trot behind the plough, throw out seeds and gather fruit. Here we observe a dozen or more sturdy members of the weaker sex engaged in lifting a mighty rock; again, we see others cutting down trees or subduing a bucking horse or a wild bull. Toward evening all hands assemble in the church squares of the seven villages to hear reports of common interest, the women acting Mayors being the speechmakers, who discuss public questions in decisive and businesslike manner. This done, the women go home to attend to their own affairs.

Besides cultivating the fields, they keep the roads in order, and occasionally set up a new cottage or stable.—New York Journal.

DIAMOND JIM BRADY.

The Fad of a Man Who Travels with Precious Stones Worth $60,000.

Accompanying a party of Southern Pacific officials returning from a conference at Monterey, Cal., that passed through Denver the other day was James R. Brady, who is engaged in the business of railway supplies. Mr. Brady is known as "Diamond Jim by his associates. When he dresses for a pleasure excursion, it is said, he goes about with $60,000 worth of diamonds hidden about his person.

He displays ordinarily a diamond scarf pin, a pair of diamond cuff buttons, and a ring or two. His watch is studded with diamonds, and cost $3,000. The diamonds that are not displayed conspicuously are said to be the costliest. He wears diamonds upon his garter buckles, the buttons of his silk underwear have small diamonds set in them, and his suspender buckles are incrusted with gems. The chains of his suspenders are of gold. He carries with him a collection of umbrellas and canes, all of which have golden handles set with diamonds. He also carries matches in a diamond ornamented match case, and his cigars are offered to his companions from an elaborately enamelled and diamond incrusted cigar case. He lets his fad run unchecked in the matter of cuff buttons. He has twelve sets of cuff buttons, nearly as many sets of shirt buttons, and scarf pins innumerable, with the ornaments always diamonds. Of his many diamond rings of curious designs there is one that bears a solitaire torquoise set within a cluster of diamonds. This he calls his mascot, and he never lets it leave his possession.—New York Sun.

The Spider Growing Industry.

When mine host in the ideal country inn, which all of us seek but none of us find, brings up a bottle of crusted wine covered with cobwebs and dust, this outward and visible sign is taken as convincing evidence of age. We grieve to have to record that the trust may now be misplaced. A bulletin (No. 7) of the division of entomology of the United States Department of Agriculture says that in France and Pennsylvania an industry has recently sprung up, which consists of the farming of spiders for the purpose of stocking wine cellars, and thus securing almost immediate coating of cobwebs to new wine bottles, giving them the appearance of great age. This industry is carried on in a little French village in the Department of Loire, and near Philadelphia, where "Epeira vulgaris" and "Nephila plumipes" are raised in large quantities and sold to wine merchants at the rate of $10 per hundred. This application of entomology to industry is one which will not be highly commended.—From Nature.

The Smallest Picture in the World.

Probably the smallest piece of painting in the world is that executed by a Flemish artist. It is painted on the smooth side of a grain of common white corn, and pictures a mill, and a miller mounting a stair with a sack of grain on his back. The mill is represented as standng on a terrace, and near it is a horse and cart, while a group of several peasants is shown in the road near by. The picture is beautifully distinct, every object being finished with microscopic fidelity, yet by careful measurement it is shown that the whole painting does not cover a surface of half an inch square.

LEGION OF HONOR DECORATIONS.

A Law Passed Limiting the Number of Members to 12,000.

Of all the French institutions, perhaps only one of any national importance is a monument to the consulate. That one is the Legion of Honor, which Napoleon organized while that most transitional of governments was in existence. It appealed strongly to French instincts, has survived all the changes through which France has passed since that time, and its bit of red ribbon is still considered a sufficient reward for most important services to the state. Napoleon III bestowed the decoration so widely and with so little regard for the character of the men whom he made chevaliers that for a while the order fell into some disrepute. Toward the close of that unfortunate monarch's reign there were about 25,000 civil members, besides all those who had been decorated as soldiers. To restore the prestige of the order an act was passed in 1872 providing that only one new chevalier should be nominated for every two vacancies caused by death. The effect has been to reduce the number of civil knights to 10,000, but recent ministries have found the awarding of the few favors of this sort at their disposition created for them vastly more enemies than friends. The Meline cabinet has solved the difficulty for itself, at least, by introducing and securing the passage of an act repealing the law of 1872, and substituting for it one fixing the number of civil knights permanently at 12,000. There was a long debate in the chamber of deputies on this bill, and the socialists opposed it fiercely, but the measure finally passed by a vote of 344 to 124.—New York Times.

GREELEY'S WRITING.

Two Roosters Imitated His Chirography and the Old Compositor Set It.

There was only on printer who could read Greeley's writing well euough to put it in type. He used to boast that he could read the great editor's wondrous scrawl a mile away.

One night the boys in the New York Tribune composing room "put up a job" on the old man. They took two roosters, made them walk around on a newly inked form, and then run all over ten sheets of copy paper.

The foreman wrote over it, in Greeley's well-known scrawl, "The Plain Duty of Congress," and put it on old man Lawton's hook. I think his name was Lawton, but if it was not it does not matter much.

The old printer picked it up, swore a little, remarked that they had to shove the stuff on the old man as usual, adjusted his spectacles and began sticking type.

The other printers watched him for a few minutes, but beyond a muttered oath or two he gave no sign. Lawton went on setting type until about half way through the "copy."

Then he was stuck.

He took the copy over to the foreman and asked:

"Jack, what is that word?"

"I don't know," replied the foreman. "You know I could never read that stuff."

Lawton took the sheet down to Greeley and pointed out to him a particularly awful scrawl of the rooster's foot, asking what that word was.

Greeley looked at it a moment, and replied with a frown:

"'Unconstitutional.' of course."

Lawton went back to the composing room and finished his task with the utmost sangfroid.

The old man never knew how the "copy" was produced.—Journal of Education.

Refurbishing the Fez.

A business in Constantinople, monopolized by the Greeks or Armenians, is the renovation of the fez. This headgear, which is worn almost universally by the male population, is manufactured in France. It very soon, however, loses its pristine jauntiness, and becomes a limp and dejected affair, that gives to its owner a rakish air of imbecility not to be borne. In this condition it becomes necessary to resort to the fez restorer, who promptly adjusts the offending headgear over a heated brass pot, shaped like a flower pot. Over this goes a second conical pot, which is made to revolve briskly around the lower one by means of two handles. When this is removed the fez is found to have regained its youthful appearance and vigor, and is returned to its rightful owner, who stands patiently by.—Leslie's Magazine.

Co-operative Applause.

Sarah Bernhardt was playing Fedora to a crowded house. The poison scene, as usual, elicited a tempest of applause from the audience, but ere the clapping of hands and the stamping of feet had completely died away loud peals of laughter burst forth from the upper part of the theatre. The sober-minded people in the boxes and stalls gazed reproachfully at the boisterous "gods," but in a moment, they, too, began to laugh, for in the front row of the balcony and in full view of all stood two one-armed men, who, unconscious of the amusement which they caused, were energetically co-operating to prolong the applause by clapping their remaining hands together.—Philadelphia Ledger.

A Point not Well Taken.

She—"John, you are a perfect bear about the house."

He—"Maria, that assertion won't stand the test of science a single moment. A bear sleeps all winter. He doesn't have to get out of bed before daylight every morning to stir up the fire and call the hired girl. Try some other metaphor, Maria."—Chicago Tribune.

Delicate Dress Goods.

Some gowns are so dainty in the weave, so delicate in tint, that they seem to soil by being looked at—one or two wearings making them unpresentable, NOT USELESS. We make a specialty of cleaning fine fabrics, the more delicate the material, the better the results. Sometimes an accident will ruin a gown, without injuring the texture We dye them then, sometimes we get a prettier effect than the original color. Fine goods stand redyeing. The finer the material the better the new color. We charge so little for cleaning or dyeing, that even if you are in doubt as to the result, it's worth while to experiment. Want a new evening gown for a dollar or two? Laundry drivers will receive your work.

ORIGINAL PACKAGE STORE.

Opened For Business In Charleston—Others to Be Started Soon.

Charleston, June 11.—The first original package store for selling liquor in this state under the provisions of the recent decision of Judge Simonton of the United States court was opened here. An agent of a New York firm imported 1,000 cases of liquor. The goods were hauled through the streets and without being molested by the state constables were lodged in a storeroom.

The establishment was opened at once and began selling liquor in original packages. It continued business all day without trouble. Within the next few days several other similar establishments will be opened here. All the stuff sold was in gallon packages, but in a short time packages containing pints and half pints of liquor will be placed on sale. Exactly what action is to be taken by the dispensary authorities is not yet known.

CYCLONE IN MINNESOTA.

Six People Killed, Many Injured and Much Property Destroyed.

Mason City, Ia., June 11.—At 6:50 o'clock last night a cyclone struck northwest of Lyle, Minn., taking a southeasterly course. Six people are reported killed and many injured. The cyclone tore up houses and other buildings in its course, and the territory is now bare. The path of the storm was about half a mile in width. All telegraph lines north are down, and box cars on sidings were smashed into kindling.

A cyclone passing over the town of Kandiohi, Wilmar county, Minn., entirely demolished the buildings on the farm of John Berquist.

A CURIOUS CASE.

Trial In Dublin of a Suit For Criminal Conversation.

Dublin, June 11.—Considerable interest has been excited by the trial of an action brought by the Rev. William Vanston against Dr. Launcelot Whitecroft for £1,000 damages for criminal conversation with the plaintiff's wife.

The defendant set up a general denial and pleaded as a second defense that the marriage of the Vanstons had been annulled by a judgment of a Dakota court in November, 1896, Whitecroft and Mrs. Vanston having subsequently married in New York city.

The jury gave the plaintiff a farthing damages.

Desperate Fight With Tramps.

Whiting, Ind., June 11.—A desperate battle took place between eight tramps who had taken possession of a Lake Shore and Michigan Southern freight house and two officers, during which two of the tramps were wounded. The tramps refused to vacate the building when requested to do so by the yard watchman, and when the officers arrived a fight ensued. The officers were finally forced to use their revolvers and succeeded in capturing all of the tramps. The presence of a Lake Shore train gave rise to rumors that a hold up had been attempted.

Big Distillery Deal Probable.

Owensboro, Ky., June 11.—H. C. Wathen and Henry Wilkins, agents of a syndicate, are here to take an inventory of distillery property on which owners have fixed a price. The deal embraces Sour Mash, Eagle, Glenmore, Fields, Daviess County, John Hanning and M. P. Mattingly distilleries. Whiskey men say the deal is sure to be carried out, and that in 60 days the syndicate will own seven-tenths of the distillery property in Kentucky and 50,000,000 gallons of whiskey in bond.

Vessels Imprisoned In Ice.

Gloucester, Mass., June 11.—Advices received from Newfoundland are to the effect that the schooner Concord of this port, together with about 25 other Gloucester vessels, including halibut catchers and cod fishers, are imprisoned in the ice on the Newfoundland coast. The vessels are reported on the eastern coast of the island, in the vicinity of Bay Bulls and St. John, which section is practically barricaded by immense fields of ice.

Yale College Purchases Property.

New Haven, June 11.—Yale university has purchased a piece of property on the corner of Library and York streets having a frontage of 133 feet on York and 181 feet on Library. The price paid was $60,000. Yale nows owns nearly all the property on the square inclosed by York, Elm, Library and High streets. No buildings will be erected on the newly purchased lot this year, but probably a new dormitory will go up there soon.

Found Guilty of Murder.

Bridgeport, Conn., June 11.—Guiseppe Fuda, charged with the murder of his wife, has been found guilty of murder in the first degree. The murder took place in a lonely spot in East Norwalk on the night of February 17. The jury were out but 54 minutes. Three ballots were taken, the first being 10 for murder in the first degree and two for murder in the second degree.

Held For Homicide.

Newburg, N. Y., June 10.—The coroner's jury in the case of the Fishkill Landing affray, in which John Mannix was fatally injured, found that death was due to fracture of the skull, caused by Charles Donoghue. Patrick Feeley and John Fleming are held as accessories. The three were lodged in Poughkeepsie jail to await the action of the grand jury.

Gold Bricks Seized.

Ogdensburg, N. Y., June 11.—The customs inspector has reported to the treasury department the seizure of two spurious gold bricks found in a trunk which arrived there five days ago from Morristown, N. Y. The owner of the trunk and bricks is supposed to have been on the same train, but made his escape.

Sentenced For Postoffice Robbery.

Montpelier, Vt., June 11.—James F. Atwood has been convicted in the United States district court here of robbing the postoffices in Hartford and White River Junction two years ago and sentenced by Judge Wheeler to four years at hard labor.

Woman Cuts Her Throat.

Saratoga, June 11.—Mrs. William Saxby, wife of a prominent citizen of Ballston Spa, cut her throat at that place and will probably die. Ill health was the cause.

COLONIAL TROOPS IN THE PARADE.

They Will Form Her Majesty's Escort. Canada Will Cut a Conspicuous Figure. Cordial Welcome For Premier Laurier—The Procession.

London, June 11.—The Times gives this morning the official programme of the procession for June 22, the diamond jubilee day.

An imposing array of regulars, with bands and seven batteries of artillery, will form the vanguard. Then will come the royal aids-de-camp, the field marshals and their equerries, the foreign attaches and deputations, the queen's Prussian dragoons, the lord mayor, 36 English and foreign princes, the Indian escort and Lord Wolseley, the commander in chief, immediately preceding the queen, who will have the Duke of Cambridge on her right hand and the Prince of Wales and the Duke of Connaught on her left.

Then will follow the gold sticks in waiting, the masters of horse and the masters of buckhounds with their equerries and the royal grooms.

A large body of home and colonial troops will come next, the colonial troops forming the queen's escort. In the separate colonial procession it will be noticeable that the Canadian troops are followed immediately by Mr. Wilfrid Laurier, the premier, who will be first after the advance guard of the Royal Horse guards, while a portion of the Canadian troops will bring up the rear.

All the papers publish editorials welcoming the colonial premiers and delegates, especially Mr. Laurier.

The Times in an editorial upon the evident design displayed in the arrangement of the procession says that the presence of the colonial premiers, headed by Mr. Laurier, a Frenchman and a Catholic, testified to the breadth and solidity of the constitutional freedom the British colonies enjoy.

One of the Irish newspapers publishes a letter from Mr. Gladstone, in which he refers to the "insolence and audacity of the sultan's imperious request to be permitted to sends envoys to the jubilee." Mr. Gladstone expresses the hope that prudence and decency will induce the government to stifle the request, adding:

"The envoys of the great assassin would meet with a disagreeable reception in England."

The Porter's Fast Time.

New York, June 11.—The United States torpedo boat Porter made the circuit of Long Island in faster time than it has ever been made before and successfully proved that she is the best boat of her class. She left her anchorage in the East river at 6:10 a. m., and in spite of a heavy swell went around the island and returned to the place of anchorage at 6:45 p. m., exactly 12 hours and 35 minutes from the time of starting, having covered nearly the 300 miles in time never approximated before. No mishaps occurred, except the breaking of a small pipe, necessitating the use of salt water for a time in the boiler.

Guilty of Forgery.

Cleveland, June 11.—Charles N. Cunningham has been found guilty in criminal court for forging the name of Judge E. T. Hamilton to a check for $75,000. Strenuous efforts were made to prove that he was insane at the time he committed the crime. The claim was made that years ago an indentation was made in his skull by a fall from a horse. His attorneys sent him to a hospital and had part of the skull removed during the pendency of the present case, but it availed nothing with the jury. Cunningham was sent to the penitentiary a number of years ago for a swindle perpetrated at Yonkers, N. Y.

A Steamboat Fireman In Luck.

Newburg, N. Y., June 11.—Clifford Williams of this city has just been notified by his lawyer in San Francisco that by the death of his uncle, Dr. James Williams, in San Francisco, he and his mother and brother, Mrs. Arville Williams and Frederick Williams of New Haven, have inherited a fortune of $75,000. Cliff Williams is a fireman on the propeller Newburg, but will leave his employment on Saturday. He and his brother and mother will start for California next week to claim their fortune. The late Dr. Williams was engaged in silver mining in Nevada.

Fatally Stabbed by an Italian.

Newburg, N. Y., June 11.—William Kerrigan, a brickyarder, died near Fishkill from the effects of a stab wound in the abdomen inflicted a few days ago by an Italian, who escaped. Kerrigan received the wound while trying to separate the Italian and the former's friend, Patrick McNamara, who were fighting with knives. The Italian's name and whereabouts are unknown to the Fishkill authorities.

Death of a Famous Indian Character.

Norwich, Conn., June 11.—Moses Fielding, a famous Indian character and a member of the tribe of Mohican Indians, is dead at Mohican village, between here and New London. He was 64 years of age and a direct descendant of Chief Uncas. In his day he was the greatest hunter in the state. Only three members of this family now survive.

Waylaid by Masked Men.

Richmond, June 11.—News has reached here that three masked men waylaid Dr. W. A. Smith of Madison near his home and after robbing him beat him into insensibility. Dr. Smith may die. If his assailants are caught, there may be a lynching.

Killed While Unloading Logs.

Galeton, Pa., June 11.—W. J. Dillon, aged 32, was killed while superintending the unloading of a log train on the Buffalo and Susquehanna road. Mr. Dillon was prominent in lumber circles.

Brewing Company's Plant Seized.

Buffalo, June 11.—The plant of the Lancaster Brewing company has been seized by the sheriff on a chattel mortgage for $19,500.

The Popular Exercise Provides Incidents and Expressions That are of Especial Moment When Wheeling is the Rage.

Mrs. Frank Manchester, of Lafayette place, has purchased a new wheel and enjoys riding very much.

Benjamin Martin, of South Second street, has purchased an Iver Johnson wheel of George V. Batchelor, agent.

A series of races will be held on the Linden race track, near Elizabeth, tomorrow. They will be open to Union county riders only.

E. Frank Vail, the agent for the Pierce bicycle, is expecting a Pierce tandem in a few days. He will use the tandem for his own use part of the time and place it on the rental list

Lindley M. Hillman and Harry Cuming, of the Plainfield High School bicycle squad, are entered in the bicycle race at the National interscholastic games in New York, Saturday afternoon.

The New Jersey Division of the L. A. W. has placed danger signs at the tops of the several hills in the neighborhood of Summit, warning wheelmen not to coast. The work of placing warning signs on dangerous hills was begun last year under the chief consulship of Mr Gentle, and his successor, Chief Consul Kireker, is appararently fully determined to keep up the good work.

The first race meet of the Linden Wheelmen will be held on their one-mile bicycle track at Linden on Saturday afternoon. The events, which are open to riders from Union county only, are as follows: One mile novice, one mile open, two mile open, one half-mile open, five mile open. The professional events will be a one mile open and a five mile open. Entry blanks can be obtained at this office.

The Atalanta Wheelmen, of Newark, will hold a half-holiday race meet on the Waverly track, Saturday afternoon June 19th. The events will be a half mile novice, one mile handicap, one mile open, one and a half-mile tandem handicap, one half-mile handicap, and one mile triplet. The events are all amateur ones. The Atalanta Wheelmen are also planning a Fourth of July meet, including events open to amateurs and professionals.

The Union County Roadsters, of Rahway, intend to try the experiment of running a twenty-five-mile tandem race over the Irvington-Milburn course, on July 3d. The event will be open to all riders. Valuable prizes will be offered. In addition to the tandem race a fifteen-mile run will be held, open to riders of single wheels. The tandem race should prove interesting and result in some fast times. Entries will close with A. H. Chamberlain, Rahway.

The Associated Cycling Clubs of New Jersey propose to conduct a century run from Newark to Philadelphia during the week of the National meet, which embraces August 2d to 7th. Several thousand riders, it is expected, will participate in the run. The excellent roads leading to Philadelphia will induce a large number of cyclists hereabouts to ride to the National meet. Club parties are now being made up among the road riders of the leading clubs, and it is likely that club "century" parties will ride down to Philadelphia during the week of the meet. The National championships will be held on August 6th and 7th, and it is more than likely that upon these two days the Quaker City will be filled to overflowing with bicycle riders, All the metropolitan clubs intend to be represented at the meet.

All preparations for the great Inter-Club Century Run, from Newark to Philadelphia, tomorrow, are completed. Headquarters will be at the largest hotel in Newark, The Continental, where all can be accommodated, and from in front of which, after a 4 o'clock breakfast, the run starts at 5 o'clock a. m. A large staff of experienced road officers and pacemakers, chosen from the prominent clubs of Philadelphia and adjoining cities, will lead the van, while large arrow route cards all along the route, will enable every one to follow the route at all times, accurately. Dinner will be served at Trenton. At 3 o'clock p m., the great run leaves Trenton for its home run, and at 6:45, precisely, it will come down Broad street from Rising Sun lane, and dismiss at Girard avenue, Philadelphia. The Associated Cycling Clubs of Philadelphia make no profit out of the run. Every dollar paid in first pays off the expenses of printing, etc., and all the surplus is put in the handsome prizes and survivors medals.

The Continental Hotel in Newark has been selected as the headquarters of the Inter-Club Century run, and from in front of that hostelry the run will start at 5 a. m., tomorrow. There will be no road racing on the Inter-Club run, no scorching ahead of schedule time, and no point will be left until the proper time arrives. The following is the schedule:

The committee has just gone over the roads, every route card is posted up, every repair shop ready to give aid if needed, and every detail perfected. The roads are superb, and the scenery through the Oranges, over the famous Plainfield-Princeton turnpikes and along the banks of the Delaware, unsurpassed. All the weather charts promise fine weather, and as the recent rains have compacted the roads and washed away all the dust, the riding could not be easier. It will be an ideal century, and the run of the year for novices to make their first century on.

AROUND THE BASES.

The Elizabeth Athletic Club have organized a strong amateur team for the coming season and will play its first game Saturday with the Plainfield A. C., at Elizabeth, on the Chestnut street grounds. The Plainfield team will line up as follows: Erickson, catcher; Winn, pitcher; Frentz, first base; Macbeth, second base; Cooney, third base; Sprowl, right field; Moran, short stop; Guinee, centre field; Fleming, left field; Barton, extra.

—A special sale of 1,000 quarts of strawberries at special prices will take place tomorrow at Neuman Brothers.

Louis Mack, of Somerville, was the guest of Plainfield friends, last evening.

A DOG ASSISTANT.

Wakes the Boarders in the Morning and Announces Breakfast.

An Asbury Park landlady has a dog that calls the boarders to breakfast. At 7:30 in the morning she says: 'Here, Jeff! Go wake up the boarders."

Jeff mounts the stairs and seats himself in the hall and bowls. He "bays the moon" on every landing in the house, and finally makes a tour of the hallways, howling all the time. This is the rising bell.

At 8 o'clock the landlady says: "Jeff, call them to breakfast."

This time Jeff emits joyful barks as he makes his tour of the house. He has a short, sharp bark that is his breakfast call, and the boarders recognize it. Jeff only barks that way once a day. The rest of the twenty-four hours he is a quiet house dog, but in the morning is uneasy and suspicious until he is sent on his morning rounds.—Chicago Inter-Ocean.

A WISE CROW IS DICK.

The Bird Seemed to Understand His Mistress' Remark.

Mrs. James D. Martin of North Bennington, Vt., has a crow that is a born humorist. It is continually playing pranks on the different members of the Martin household. The bird's name is "Dick."

"Dick" has a strong love for jewelry, and never allows an opportunity to steal a ring or other ornament to pass. Recently Mrs. Martin missed a plain gold ring. She at once suspected the crow of being the thief.

"'Dick,'" she said, "where is the ring you stole?"

"Dick" cocked his head pertly to one side, and then looked at his mistress from the corner of his little beady eyes. He shook his black head violently, and then flew out of the open window to the limb of a nearby tree.

"There's no use trying to do anything with that crow," said Mrs. Martin. "The rascal has hidden it somewhere, and we will never find it again. I know what I'll do. I'll just have the men kill that crow."

"Dick" evidently had overheard every word, for he peered into the room anxiously, even in a manner betokening fright. When Mrs. Martin entered the room an hour or so later she found the ring lying on a table. "Dick" was demurely perched on the back of a chair.

"So you did bring the ring back, did you?" said Mrs. Martin, sharply eyeing the bird.

"Dick" looked at her for a moment, and then hopping from the chair to the floor, tried in a manner that was extremely ludicrous to beg her pardon.—Cor. New York Press.

A BATTLE IN THE SEA.

The Menhaden More Afraid of the Blue Fish than the Shark.

Did you ever see bluefish charge a school of menhaden at sea? That is something worth seeing. The bluefish throw their lines forward until they almost surround the menhaden, and then attack them flank and rear. The menhaden fairly make the water boil in their efforts to escape, while all around the enemy is at them tearing relentlessly.

Into all this commotion comes a great shark. It's a picnic for the shark, a school of menhaden all herded up for its benefit. It swims leisure into the midst of them, opens its mouth, and takes in half a dozen menhaden at a gulp. It swims around and bites out half a dozen more from the school. It gorges itself without effort.

But the menhaden are not nearly as much disturbed by the presence of the monster swimming about among them as they are by the charging bluefish. The shark takes half a dozen fish or more at a bite, while the bluefish only bites a piece out of a single fish, but there is only one shark, while there may be thousands of bluefish, plunging and tearing incessantly and maiming at every stroke.

The shark's a brute, but under such circumstances the menhaden has less of fear than it has of contempt for him.

SOLDIERS' BEDS.

The French Soldiers Bed the Best of Any in Foreign Countries.

The soldier's bed varies notably in the different European armies. According to Dr. Viry, the following are the principal varieties, in which, perhaps, we may see the reflection of national characteristics. In England the bed is hard; the soldier lies on a thin mattress that rests on canvas stretched over a frame. In Spain the soldier has only a straw bed, but he is allowed besides this a pillow, two sheets, two blankets and a covered quilt, sometimes even a cover for the feet. It is almost sybaritic. In Germany and Austria he has a simple straw bed with one or two covers, neither sheet nor mattress. In Russia, until recently, the soldier slept with his clothes on, on a camp bed; but now ordinary beds begin to be used—the result of contact with more civilized countries. After this, it cannot be doubted that the French soldier's bed is the best of all, with its wooden or iron bedstead, a straw bed, a good mattress, sheets, a brown woolen coverlet and an extra quilt for cold weather. Thus the bed of the French soldier is the softest of all soldiers' beds, as that of the French peasant is acknowledged also to be the best of all European countries.—British Medical Record.

Typewriting Injurious.

Now that type-writers are found in homes almost as commonly as the writing desk, it is perhaps, pertinent to remind women that the use of the machine is very hurtful to a piano player. The sharp staccato movements of the writing machine stiffen the fingers and tend to lessen the suppleness necessary for the piano keys.—Philadelphia Ledger.

RELIGION ON BICYCLES.

DETAILS OF EPWORTH AND ENDEAVOR CYCLE INNOVATIONS.

The Former to Turn Out Awheel Simply for Sociability While the Latter Will Combine Devotion With the Exercise.

The Christian Endeavorers and Epworth Leaguers of this city will next week inaugurate their long talked-of plan of introducing the bicycle into the plans of their work. The Christian Endeavorers are planning to combine bicycling and worship by visiting one of the outlying societies on their wheels and attending one of their prayer meetings. The members of the Epworth League intend to keep up with the times by taking a sociable on wheels and enjoying a moonlight spin on the delightful roads of this section. Both organizations have taken advatage of the full moon of next week and will hold their runs while "fair Luna" illuminates the scene in all her pale glory.

On Monday evening, Chapter No. 1, of the Epworth League, which is located at the First M. E. church, will hold a bicycle sociable. The reason for the holding of the affair on bicycles, the members state, is not as some newspapers remark. It is not because the cycling habit has so thinned the ranks of tne League that an attempt is being made to win them back by the use of the wheel but because a great majory of the members ride wheels and enjov a summer evening on their bicycles much better than in a warm room.

The members and their friends will assemble in front of the Vincent chapel at 7:30 o'clock prepared to start It is expected that there will be a large turnout on that occasion. Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Joy will chaperone the party while James A. Stafford will be in command. He will pace the run and appoint his lieutenants to assist him in the direction of the column of cyclers. Of course, there will be no scorching but a moderate pace will be set that will be easily within the bounds of the wheelmen and wheelwomen who belong to the League.

The run will be to Pumptown, going by the way of the main road and returning by Oak Tree. There will be no stops unless found necessary for repairs or rest and the party will return to Plainfield and disband.

The next evening, Tuesday, the Christian Endeavor bicycle squad will gather and ride to Mount Pleasant where they will attend the weekly prayer meeting at the Mount Pleasant chapel Early in the winter, the plan was first suggested that the different societies should visit each other on their wheels. The weather was not exactly suited to such kind of visitations at that time and all talk was given up until the summer came. At the meeting of the executive committee of the Local Union, some time ago, Miss Ernestine Smith was placed in charge of the runs as was told in the Press at the time. Mr. DeForrest, of Mount Pleasant, invited the Union to make his society the destination of the first run and the invitation was accepted.

The run, Tuesday evening, is something of an experiment and so the cycling squad has not been organized as yet. If the run finds favor with the Christian Endeavorers of the city and they turn out in sufficient numbers to warrant it, the runs will be continued through the summer.

Miss Smith, who is chairman of the committee in charge, has sent a request to each of the societies to choose one rider from among their number to serve regularly on the committee to take charge of the runs. The other members of the committee will be the members of Miss Smith's staff. She has not yet chosen her staff, but will wait to see who the interested ones are. Her staff will consist of two lieutenants, a color sergeant, a bugler, a repair corps sergeant, or bicycle surgeon, and such other officers as she may deem necessary.

Miss Smith has announced her orders for the first run. Christian Endeavorers living east of Park avenue will assemble in front of the Park Avenue Baptist church promptly at 7:45 o'clock. Endeavorers living west of Park avenue are requested to assemble in front of the Seventh Day Baptist church at the same hour. The two detachments will meet and proceed out Park avenue. At Avon Park, the road to Mount Plasant turns to the left. After riding some distance, a fork in the road is reached and the party will turn to the right. The wheels will be stacked in front of the chapel and left under a guard, while the Endeavorers will adjourn to the chapel where a short prayer, praise and testimony service will be held. Then the column will start homeward returning by the same route.

BULLETS FOR BURGLARS

BUT THEY MISSED THEIR MARK AND THE HOUSEBREAKERS ESCAPED.

A Daring Attempt Made to Loot a Westfield Residence—Thieves' Plans Frustrated by Arrival of the Man of the House.

A daring burglary, in which one of the cracksmen narrowly escaped the bullets of a pursuer, occurred in Westfield at an early hour this morning.

James C. Walden, who resides on Westfield avenue, was awakened about 2:30 o'clock by the barking of a large dog that is kept upon the premises of Fred Meserole, next door.

Some suspicious sounds were also heard proceeding from the front parlor, and Mr. Walden armed himself with a revolver and crept quietly down stairs.

He reached the parlor door, from which place he caught sight of two men, one standing upon the piazza and the other with one foot in the house, half way in the open window.

At this man Walden pointed his revolver and fired. The shot probably missed its mark as the man quickly left the window and with his companion ran down Westfield avenue.

Walden followed the fleeing burglars for half a block, once more firing at them unsuccessfully. He then gave up the chase, and returned to see what the invaders had accomplished at his residence.

The parlor was found in a state of great disorder, showing that the men had been inside the house. Nothing of value was secured, however, and Walden now has a soft place in his heart for his canine friend next door, whose barking probably saved him from a serious loss at the hands of the burglars.

The Gambler's Pathway.

J. W. Pierce, of Montclair, will give a grand stereopticon lecture in Salvation Army Hall, West Second street, tonight. Subject, "The Gambler's Pathway." There will also be a number of beautiful views illustrating the Salvation Army's work in the slums and Rescue Homes, and on Sunday night the subject will be "Sowing and Reaping," beautifully illustrating the life scenes of Jesus from the manger to the cross. There will be good singing and a hearty welcome to all. Admission free.

Missionary Workers Celebrated.

The first anniversary of the Missionary Society and Society of Willing workers of the Fillmore Avenue Baptist church was celebrated Thursday evening in Reform Hall. Reports were presented by Mrs. Louis Scott, president of the Missionary Society, and Mrs. Mary Thomas, president of the Society of Willing Workers. Each report gave evidence of steady growth and interest.

Risberg Convicted.

The trial of John Risberg, of this city, who was indicted for misdemeanor in helping to procure the death of Mrs. Mary Noble by a crimnal operation, came to an end in the Newark court, Thursday. The jury was charged and Thursday afternoon brought in a verdict of guilty. Mrs. Amelia Francisco, who pleaded non vult to the same charge, is now awaiting sentence.

A House for Himself.

A. W. TenEyck, manager of the carpet department of Woodhull & Martin's west Front street store, is building a new $2,800 residence for himself on Westervelt avenue. It is a two story frame house with attic, equipped with all the modern improvements. The plans for the house were drawn by Lancaster & Rogers, of the Babcock building.

Another New Residence.

Another new residence is being added to the pretty group at West End Park. Arthur A. Stryker, of West Front street, is having a new $3,500 home built next door to his present residence. The house was designed by Lancaster & Rogers, and is a two story and attic frame dwelling of rather novel design. The first floor is clap boarded and the second and third shingled.

Received a College Degree.

Rev. W. C. O'Donnell, pastor of the Monroe Avenue M. E. church, returned yesterday from Syracuse after successfully passing his examinations at the University of Syracuse and receiving the degree of Ph.D., which was conferred upon him by the university from which he graduated, after a five years' course.

A Homeless Child.

ROMANTIC REALISM AT THE FETE CHAMPETRE.

The Progressive Women's Great Event Now Ready For Visitation.

The Country Grounds of Mrs. Pierre Mali the Scene of Splendor in Modern and Ancient Arrangements and Attractions—Decorations Are Indicative of a Modern Fairyland—Some of the Things That Are Waiting to Entertain Those Who Wend Their Way Thence This Afternoon and Evening.

The day of the Fete Champetre has arrived and the week's postponement has not hurt it in the slightest. In fact, it has been improved in many ways over the Fete that was to be held last week. The effects of the recent storm are not to be seen, the grass is green and cool, and the foliage is in its beauty. Yes, the Fete is now a reality, ready to be enjoyed by all. The broad stretches of Johnston Park, as the palatial residence of the late John Taylor Johnston and its surrounding lawns are called, are alive with a gay throng decked in holiday attire. The familar strains of some inspiring march float out from the scene of the Fete while the busy hum of voices makes a steady accompaniment to the music. And once inside, what a wonderful panorama is opened to the view of the visitor. Bright gowns, glad faces, are to be seen, picturesque Gypsies flit among the crowd, while here and there a uniformed sentiment, rifle on shoulder, marches steadily along on his beat, his bayonet flashing in the sun shine.

There in the shade of yonder mighty elms the children merrily wind the May pole while their elders watch them and wish that the Fete Champetre had been an event in their early life. Little pony carriages pass along the gravel paths that lead about this modern "fairyland" and their youthful occupants shout with glee as each new pleasure presents itself to their view. Altogether the Fete Champetre is a delightful reality accessable to all the good people of Plainfield.

What a world of work has been done and all through the efforts of a party of determined women. During the winter, cold and bleak, Mrs. Pierre Mali, daughter of the late John Taylor Johnston, offered the use of her magnificent summer home on East Front street for a Fete, to be held there some bright June day, for the benefit of the Town Improvement Association, of which Mrs. Malli is the president. The idea was elaborated upon and gradually the plans grew until the Fete Champetre in all its detail was spread before the eyes of those interested in the scheme. Since then, the work has gone steadily forward until now, the Fete, destined to raise sufficient funds to permit the Association to place the City Park in a condition to be an honor instead of a disgrace to the city, has become an event which will be long remembered in the households of Plainfield and the neighboring towns.

It is not a fete intended only for Plainfielders, other places are well represented. Of course, nearly everybody in this city is either at the fete, has been there or are going this evening, but then there are parties of wheelmen and wheelwomen who rode over during the afternoon and intend to take their evening meal under the shelter of the spreading limbs.

Everybody has either read or heard something about the Fete Champetre, but to many the ideas of the fete are shadowy at best. Few realize the full extent of this wonderful event which has been planned and executed here right among them. The fete has begun and one can say with all truthfulness that it is well worth a visit. It is the event of a lifetime and every citizen should turn out with his family to do honor to the occasion. It is not limited to a certain class, it is open to all. The gathering is distinctively a democratic one. The cyclist in knickerbockers and negligee attire walk side by side with the fair lady in silks and satins. There are no ironclad rules to frighten one away ere he enters the gates. The object is to furnish enjoyment for all in countless different ways and everybody is there to help in its accomplishment.

The attractions are manifold at the Fate Champetre, but there are certain of them that are not to be missed under any circumstances.

The visitor is given his choice of two entrances, one at the corner of East Front street and Farragut avenue, where an arch and tower tell of something out of the ordinary within, and at the lodge near Netherwood avenue. The visitors who come in carriages, on wheels, or on foot, from Plainfield will naturally choose the first entrance. A road winds in among the trees to the residence, around which is grouped many of the attractions. The road is smooth and well graded, and the small round pebbles with which it is covered are not to be feared in the slightest by the bicycle riders.

A word of advice to the wheelmen. The "bicycle stable" has been established in the commodious stables on the place, which are located in the rear. By circling around the drives, following the boundary hedge on the right, the rider is thus given a delightful little spin through a beautiful place and may then find his way easily to the stables, check his wheel, and go forth in search of adventure.

One of the principal attractions of the afternoon will be the winding of the May pole on the broad green in the rear of the house. Here a large pole has been placed and at the hours of 4 and 5 o'clock, bright, merry children will gather and wind the Maypole as their ancestors did years ago on the shores of "Merrie England."

Leading to the left from the main drive by which the visitor enters, there is a shady path that goes toward the stream that flows placidly along between green banks, now dotted with many a laughing couple. Lawn seats are placed at intervals for the accommodation of the guests who care to stop a minute and listen to the music. Booths have been built beside the path and in them the choicest of candies and flowers are to be found. A lemonade well furnishes that with which to quench the thirst of the tired one. Passing the booths, the path leads to a rustic bridge, where the guest is told that he has now reached the borders of the Gypsy encampment, and must pay the required fee of ten cents, which answers as the "open se ame" to this domain. Over the rustic bridge is the island on which the Gypsy palmist reigns supreme. There, in an Oriental tent, the palmist awaits her visitors. She is no common reader of the palm, but comes here especially for the Fete to read the characters of the visitors from their outstretched hand. She studied with Chiero and was his favorite pupil.

Another rustic bridge leads to the camp of the rest of the Gypsies. Tents and an old fashioned wagon are their abode and they sing their wierd songs and dance wild whirling dances while the fire burns brightly about the crane and old-fashioned flapjacks are served up to the hungry guests.

The Gypsy dances will be held at 4:30 and 5:30 o'clock in the afternoon and 8 and 9 o'clock in the evening, and those who have been favored to the extent of being allowed to attend the rehearsal say that it will be well worth a visit. Tea will be served during the afternoon.

Behind the Gypsy encampment are the "bicycle stables," where countless racks have been installed to support the wheels of the many visitors who care to wander about the grounds on foot and leave their silent steeds in a place of safe keeping.

Green brook, which divides Johnston Park in two parts, has its attractions for the visitors, too. A rustic boat house nestles away under the trees, close by the entrance to the domain of the "Queen of the Palm," and here are a fleet of rowboats, propelled by sturdy oarsmen, which carry those who care to go out for a row up the brook to the boundary bridge and back on the other side of the island, a row of ten minutes, and all for ten cents.

As the supper hour approaches, the Mecca for the great throng of pilgrims will be the supper department, which has its headquarters on the green sward close by the house and on the broad verandas. A wonderful supper will be served at moderate prices and in bountiful quantities.

Wonderful, isn't it? But wait until the rosy sun has disappeared behind the hills in the west and the time time comes for the illumination of the grounds. If it was "fairyland" before, what will it be then? Expert hands have twined the wires among the branches of the great trees on every side and scores of little electric lights sparkle out among the leaves and shed a soft radiance on all beneath. The paths leading to and from the house are strung with Japanese lanterns. There are hundreds of them swaying in the gentle breeze. The boat house too has blossomed forth with countless lanterns. The effect is simply grand.

And the music? There will be plenty of it. A band stand has been erected on the left of the broad lawn in the rear of the house, and here the Plainfield Cornet Band will play all

BATTLE BY THE BROOK.

SIX UNKNOWN MEN SETTLE THEIR DISPUTES WITH A SCRAP.

They Had Attended a Dance on Orchard Place and Quarrelled—They Went to the Brook to Have It Out By Fists and Clubs

A air of mystery surrounds a disturbance that took place in the neighborhood of West Front and Sycamore avenue at an early hour this morning. One of the participants has given himself up to the police, but the others are still missing. Who they were the police refuse to say, and it can only be learned that there were six Swedes implicated in the trouble. Two were badly hurt and the others somewhat rueflid in appearance.

There was a dance or party in the neighborhood of Orchard place, last evening. A quarrel arose between several of the guests and after it was over at an early hour this morning, they went outside to settle their troubles. Blows were exchanged in front of the house and then the party went down the street to continue the fight. Deciding that the corner was too public a place they went over to Sycamore avenue, which has just been cut through, and finished the fracas by the side of the home of Mrs. Swartz, of West Front street.

What took place then is not exactly known. Mrs. Swartz was aroused by the noise and found that there had been trouble. One man was knocked unconscious by a blow delivered by someone, while another was stunned by a blow on the side of the head with a club that caused him to bleed freely Both men were covered with blood and their comrades carried them down to Green brook where the water was bailed up from the brook and most of the gore washed off. One of the participants walked downtown and notified the police.

There are all sorts of exciting rumors about the fight current about town, but it is impossible to verify them, as the police are very reticent on the subject.

THE OMINOUS YELLOW CARD.

It Silently Tells of the Presence of a Contagious Disease.

Residents of Orchard place, between Liberty and New streets, are complaining over the importation yesterday of a case of scarlet fever in their neighborhood.

For several weeks past a Hebrew peddler has been boarding with Kalman Rochberg, a fellow-countryman, who has a grocery store on West Third street. About a week ago, the peddler rented the premises at 452 Orchard place from Thomas Clacy, his tenancy to begin on the 15th inst

On Thursday the peddler asked his landlord for the key of the house, saying that he wished to show his wife over the premises. A wagon drove up to the house yesterday afternoon and left some clothing and bedding. A woman and a sick child were shortly afterward brought and placed in the house.

Then Health Inspector Addis came and tacked up a yellow placard giving warning of a contagious disease. Investigation by some interested neighbors and a Press reporter showed that the woman and child were the wife and daughter of Rochberg, the West Third street storekeeper with whom the peddler had boarded while in this city. The child is suffering with scarlet fever, and it was on this account that the Rochbergs secured its removal from their premises.

The owner of the house has been informed that he cannot now compel the removal of the sick child, and it is likely that the neighbors in Orchard place will have to endure the sight of the hateful yellow placard in spite of their protests and indignation.

BRIDGE CONTRACTS.

William T Kirk Will Build the New Structure.

The Bridge Committee of the Union County Board of Freeholders, together with the members of the Somerset County Board of Freeholders, met yesterday afternoon for the purpose of giving out the contracts for the erection of the Watchung avenue and Sycamore avenue bridges. There were about twenty-eight bids present, but William T. Kirk secured the contracts for building both bridges, and F. Farrio was awarded the contracts to do the mason and stone work. On the Watchung avenue bridge Mr. Kirk's bid was $8,200 and on the Sycamore avenue bridge it was $3 500. Mr. Farrio bid $5 per cubic foot on the Watchung avenue bridge and the same on the Sycamore avenue bridge.

Both bridges must be completed on or before September 15th, and papers were signed to that effect by the successful bidders.

PYTHIANS CELEBRATE.

TWENTY-FIFTH ANNIVERSARY OF PERSEVERANCE LODGE.

The Event Attended by a Large Concourse of the Lodge's Friend—Addresses by Several Officers of High Degree.

Never before in the history of Pythianism in this city has there been such an assemblage of people as that of last evening when Perseverance Lodge, No. 74, K. of P., celebrated its twenty-fifth anniversary in Washington Hall, on West Second street for there was not standing room in the large hall and many were unable to get inside.

For months past the members of the lodge had been preparing for the event, and when the time arrived to celebrate, everything was in readiness and the whole affair passed off without a hitch of any kind to mar the pleasures of those who had planned the affair and those who attended. The hall around the platform presented an attractive sight, gaily decorated with flowers, ferns and flags, while in the centre, suspended from the ceiling, was the familiar shield of the order. On the platform rested two large portraits. One was that of Justus H Rathbone, the founder of the order, and the other was that of John Ulrich, the only past Grand Chancellor Perseverance Lodge has on her roster.

The guests as they arrived were met at the door by Jacob Blimm, Jr., J. E. Flannery, Louis Mowhring and W. E. Martin, who served as ushers. The master of ceremonies was J. B. Higgins, who was chairman of the committee having in charge the anniversary exercises. He was assisted by J. C. Blimm as secretary, W. J. Ford as treasurer, S. J. Robinson, A. D. Pope, Lewis De Camp and James Stewart. The entertainment was in charge of Chairman Higgins and W. J. Ford. They presented a most admirable programme, which opened with an address by Grand Chancellor Daniel S. Rockafellar, of Somerville. The speaker, who is an interesting one, complimented the members of Perseverance Lodge on the celebration of their silver anniversary, and then made a few remarks concerning the grand principles of Pythianism. His concluding remarks were in the form of a historical sketch of the Plainfield lodge, and it proved to be of great interest. The lodge was organized June 13, 1872, with 11 charter members, three of whom are now living, Julius Centrowitz, of Philadelphia; John McCall, of Dunellen, and J. C. Van Dyke, of Plainfield. All three men were present. Since the organization the lodge has never missed a meeting. During the twenty five years there has been received $24,238.86 and $13,671.49 has been expended. Of the above amount $2,838.77 is secured by investment. The members have expended for relief $5,892 35 and for the burial of deceased members and their wives $2,619.35 has been paid. The number of deaths recorded are nineteen. At present there are 188 members.

The remarks of Grand Chancellor Rockafellar were heartily applauded. The second number on the programme was a soprano solo by Miss Jomni, accompanied on the piano by Clifford Braider. Her singing was thoroughly enjoyed by all. The appearance of the "Western Sisters' was a source of pleasure to everyone. These juvenile performers gave musical selections on the banjo, violin, cornet and concertina, while they convulsed the audience with their witty remarks. Following the above number there were two selections by a quartette composed of E. E Runyon, Wm. N. Runyon, George O. Stevens and Fred Walz. These popular vocalists were cordially received and loudly applauded for their singing. One of the best numbers on the programme was the alto solo by Miss Charlotte Messerschmith, accompanied by Miss Mabelle Force.

At this point an unlooked for surprise was given the audience when Secretary McGinley, of the lodge, read a congratulatory letter from Past Grand Chancellor John Ulrich. The letter was composed in true Pythian style and the members of the lodge present greatly enjoyed it. Part first of the programme concluded with a selection by Roger's orchestra, and this was followed with a stirring patriotic address by Rev. DeWitt C. Cobb, Grand Vice Chancellor, of Trenton. This speaker's remarks were founded on the Scriptures and from them he drew many strong and forcible lessons. The next number was a tenor solo by E. E. Runyon, accompanied by Wm. N. Runyon. Mr. Runyon's selection was a pleasing one and its rendition was perfect. This was followed with an instrumental duet, S. J. Highm on the

RICHARDSON'S WILL.

How the Eccentric Millionaire Disposed of His Money.

WEALTH GREATER THAN SUPPOSED.

His Estate Amounts to About $30,000,000. Pallbearers at His Funeral Represent $300,000,000—Buried In a Coffin Built Thirty Years Ago.

New York, June 12.—According to Mayo W. Hazeltine, the editorial writer and book reviewer of The Evening Sun and a lifelong friend of Joseph Richardson, who was buried yesterday, the wealth of the dead man is greater by many millions than was at first supposed. His riches were estimated by general consent at $20,000,000. Now Mr. Hazeltine says they will go much nearer and he thinks over $30,000,000.

His possessions were all in personal property, paying large interests and large dividends, all of which were constantly allowed to accumulate, as the personal expenses of Mr. Richardson and his family did not exceed $1,500 a year. Mr. Richardson's will was drawn under the direction of Mr. Hazeltine, who is a lawyer, and this will was read last night in the presence of the heirs.

Aside from the family only two bequests are made.

The Rev. H. M. Warren, pastor of the Central Park Baptist church, of which Mr. Richardson was an attendant, receives $50,000 absolutely. The other bequest is $17,500, to lift the mortgage on the Central Park Baptist church.

Family Get Bulk of His Fortune.

All the rest is divided into three equal portions, one of which goes to the widow, another to the son George and a third to the daughter, Della Richardson. These children are the fruits of Mr. Richardson's first marriage.

The son George and the widow are made co-executors, and neither is required to give a bond. The widow will continue to live in the house that has become famous as the "spite house."

George Richardson, son of the dead man, is about 45 years old and is a prominent citizen of Bridgeport, Conn.

The Rev. Mr. H. M. Warren, to whom $50,000 was left, was born in Hudson, N. H., and is the son of Congressman William Warren and a descendant of General Warren of Bunker Hill fame.

Acts of Generosity Recounted.

After the funeral the pallbearers told of many acts of generosity by Mr. Richardson. One of them said that during the panic of 1893 a corporation in which he was interested fell into difficulties from lack of $500,000. He went to Mr. Richardson as a last resort, and the latter loaned the corporation the $500,000 without a word and without any bonus. Other similar stories were told of Mr. Richardson's generosity.

The pallbearers at Mr. Richardson's funeral were John W. Ambrose, Mayo W. Hazeltine, Joseph Hellen, A. C. Hawley, Edward Hawley, Collis P. Huntington, H. W. Nichols, Sam Sloan, Arthur W. Sober, James Talcott, Joseph Walker, J. H. Jenkins and J. M. Toucey. They represent in the aggregate fully $300,000,000.

Richardson was buried in the coffin which he had made at Bridgeport over 30 years ago and which he had kept for years in the five foot house at Eighty-second street and Lexington avenue. After his death, however, it was found to be too small, so it was taken apart and the boards of it screwed inside a larger coffin, so that Richardson's expressed wish might be fulfilled.

Maher and Sharkey May Fight In the West.

New York, June 12.—It is announced that W. A. Brady, who unsuccessfully attempted to pull off the Maher and Sharkey fight on Wednesday night, is making arrangements to have the same fighters meet in the west. Although Brady does not care to give out any of the details of his plans, it is stated on good authority that he has offered a purse of $14,000 for a fight to a finish between Maher and Sharkey somewhere in the vicinity of Carson City. The date of meeting will probably be late in August or September. Sharkey will leave on Wednesday next for a trip to Ireland, where he expects to remain for about three weeks.

Death of an Old Guard Member.

New York, June 12.—Captain Joseph Nalor of the Old Guard died yesterday. He was an old Knickerbocker and one of the oldest and most highly esteemed members of the Old Guard. Captain Nalor in his younger days became a member of the Pulaski cadets, which were afterward merged into the old New York city guard and eventually became the Old Guard of the city of New York of today. On his eightieth birthday, February, 1897, the Old Guard gave for him a dinner, which was one of the largest military affairs of the kind that has ever taken place in New York.

Took Poison by Mistake.

Harrisburg, June 12.—Herman J. Wolz, a well known Democratic politician, took strychnine by mistake and died several hours later in great agony. He was 40 years old and until recently held a position in the internal revenue service. Mr. Wolz was at one time publisher of the Harrisburg Sunday Capital and afterward one of the proprietors of The Evening Star. He was also for several years chairman of the city Democratic committee. A wife and one child survive him.

Lost In a Fog.

Halifax, June 12.—The steamer Ravensdale, which has arrived from St. Johns, N. F., brought as passengers four fishermen, George Chin, Lloyd Henderson, Charles Brown and David Henderson of the Gloucester halibut catcher Josie M. Calderwood, Captain Crowbridge. They went astray on New Seattle bank during a fog Friday, June 5, and rowed to Bacalieu light, where the lightkeeper came to their aid.

Cyclist Fatally Injured.

Hudson, N. Y., June 12.—While returning here from a trip in the country on his wheel William Kisselbrack collided with a horse and wagon. He was thrown to the ground and badly injured about the head. His injuries are likely to prove fatal.

Counterfeiter Fined.

Syracuse, June 12.—Dr. Harold Marcisee of Utica has pleaded guilty in the county court to counterfeiting. He was fined $200 by Judge Dunmore.

AN UPRISING IN INDIA

Attack on a Force of British Soldiers on the Frontier.

SEVERAL OFFICERS WERE KILLED.

The Government Will Immediately Send Out an Expedition to Subdue the Natives and Prevent Further Outrages.

Simla, June 12.—News has been received here of a serious disaster to British troops in the Tochi valley, on the Afghan frontier.

A body of 300 Sikhs of the Punjab infantry, with two guns of the Bombay mountain battery, were resting in the afternoon when they were surprised and attacked by a large party of Mullicks.

A colonel, a captain and a lieutenant were killed and all of the other officers severely wounded.

Twenty-five men of the native regiments were killed and an equal number wounded. A large number of horses and mules were also killed.

The British troops were pursued for miles by an overwhelming force of the enemy.

Mr. Gee, a political officer, is going with an escort of Shiranis to inquire into the recent outrages in the Gomal and Tochi valleys. The attack upon the British troops in the Tochi valley occurred at Maiza.

Running Fight With Natives.

London, June 12.—The Times correspondent at Simla says: "Mr. Gee was sent to fix the site of a new outpost at Sherani and to recover the fine imposed on local tribesmen for past misconduct.

"The troops, after the attack, retired toward Dattakhel, sustaining a running fight for four miles. As the Waziris were in such strength it was impossible to do more than act on the defensive.

"Two companies of native infantry sent from Dattakhel re-enforced the party, which brought in its guns safely. No reason is yet given for this sudden outbreak, but the garrison in the Tochi valley will be re-enforced pending a decision as to punitive operations.

"The present garrison consists of two regiments of native infantry, one mountain battery and a squadron of cavalry."

An Expedition to Be Fitted Out.

London, June 12.—The Bombay correspondent of The Daily Mail says: "A punitive expedition will be fitted out from Rawalpindi. It is expected that severe fighting will follow and that another chitral will be enacted. Unfortunately the great frontier general, Sir William Lockhart, is now on leave in Germany, while Sir Power Palmer, the general commanding the British forces on the African frontier, is on leave in England."

Receivers Agree.

Little Rock, June 12.—The clash between the receivers appointed by the Arkansas courts to settle up the affairs of the Southern Building and Loan association, which threatened to involve a large amount of the property of the insolvent association in Arkansas, has been amicably settled in the United States circuit court. Judge Williams of the Tennessee receivers was appointed to act as co-receiver with the receiver appointed by the state courts of Arkansas. The Tennessee receivers sought to oust the Arkansas receiver, but the action of Judge Williams settled the matter satisfactorily to both sides in the litigation.

Accessory to Murder Convicted.

Fonda, N. Y., June 12.—Peter Gonyea has been convicted as accessory to the murder of Lewis Erkenbrack, a Johnstown farmer, on Dec. 22, 1896. He will be sentenced on Monday. Tubby Glynn, convicted of the murder, was some time ago sent to prison for life. Gonyea conducted a hotel east of the village where, it is alleged, Erkenbrack was killed. His body was found on the bank of the Mohawk river. The trials of Seneca Hastings and Frank Horner, who were indicted as accessories to the murder have been put over until next term.

Women's Narrow Escape From a Fire.

Hudson, N. Y., June 12.—Frank Devoe's grocery store at Kinderhook was gutted by fire. The stock, which was valued at $3,000, is a total loss; insurance, $1,200. Miss Frances Van Alstyne and Mr. and Mrs. I. Vener occupied rooms over the store and barely escaped with their lives. Miss Van Alstyne was carried out of the building by a fireman. The origin of the fire is a mystery.

Brown's Class Day.

Providence, June 12.—The annual class day exercises at Brown university were held at Sayles Memorial hall. Gregory Dexter Walcott of Warren delivered the class oration on "The Nature of Culture," and Charles Ernest White of Bellows Falls, Vt., read a poem on "The Sound of Light."

Nervous

People often wonder why their nerves are so weak; why they get tired so easily; why they start at every slight but sudden sound; why they do not sleep naturally; why they have frequent headaches, indigestion and nervous

Dyspepsia

The explanation is simple. It is found in that impure blood which is continually feeding the nerves upon refuse instead of the elements of strength and vigor. In such condition opiate and nerve compounds simply deaden and do not cure. Hood's Sarsaparilla feeds the nerves pure, rich, red blood; gives natural sleep, perfect digestion, is the true remedy for all nervous troubles.

—Harmony street in the borough is being macadamized under the direction of Street Commissioner Conover.

Stands at the Head.

Aug. J. Bogel, the leading druggist of Shreveport, La., says: "Dr. King's New Discovery is the only thing that cures my cough, and it is the best seller I have." J. F. Campbell, merchant of Safford, Ariz., writes: "Dr. King's New Discovery is all that is claimed for it; it never fails, and is a sure cure for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. I cannot say enough for its merits.' Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds is not an experiment. It has been tried for a quarter of a century, and to-day stands at the head. It never disappoints. Free trial bottles at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Mrs. Laing and grandson, Percy Sandford, of Washington avenue, are visiting relatives in Philadelphia.

Electric Bitters

Electric Bitters is a medicine suited for any season, but perhaps more generally needed when the languid, exhausted feeling prevails, when the liver is torpid and sluggish and the need of a tonic and alterative is felt. A prompt use of this medicine has often averted long and perhaps fatal bilious fevers. No medicine will act more surely in counteracting and freeing the system from the malarial poison. Headache, Indigestion, Constipation, Dizziness yield to Electric Bitters. 50c. and $1.00 per bottle at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sandford, of East Front street, will leave the city next month for their summer vacation. They will return to Plainfield next fall.

Mr. Isaac Horner, proprietor of the Burton House, Burton, W. V., and one of the most widely known men in the state was cured of rheumatism after three years of suffering. He says: "I have not sufficient command of language to convey any idea of what I suffered, my physicians told me that nothing could be done for me and my friends were fully convinced that nothing but death would relieve me of my suffering. In June 1894, Mr. Evens, then salesman fo the Wheeling Drug Co., recommended Chamberlain's Pain Balm. At this time my foot and limb were swollen to more than double their normal size and it seemed to me my leg would burst, but soon after I began using the Pain Balm the swelling began to decrease, the pain to leave, and now I consider that I am entirely cured." For sale by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

Horace Martin, Jr., of West Front street, is entertaining company from out of town.

"There's no use in talking," says W. H. Broadwell, druggist, La Cygne, Kas., "Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy does the work. After taking medicines of my own preparation and those of others, I took a dose of Chamberlain's and it helped me; a second dose cured me. Candidly and conscientiously I can recommend it as the best thing on the market." The 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

Mrs. W. V. White, of Brooklyn, is the guest of Plainfield friends.

Hundreds of thousands have been induced to try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy by reading what it has done for others, and having tested its merits for themselves are to-day its warmest friends. For sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

Miss M. A Kuntz, of Grove street, has returned after a visit with friends at Albany, N. Y.

A. H. Patter, with E. C. Atkins & Co., Indianapolis, Ind., writes: "I have never before given a testimonial in my life. But I will say that for three years we have never been without Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy in the house, and my wife would as soon think of being without flour as a bottle of this Remedy in the summer season. We have used it with all three of our children and it has never failed to cure—not simply stop pain, but cure absolutely. It is all right, and anyone who tries it will find it so." For sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

THE CIGARETTE TRUST.

Jury Selected to Try the Officers of the American Tobacco Company.

New York, June 12.—The trial of the officers of the American Tobacco company, commonly called the Cigarette trust, which has been going on for several days in the court of general sessions before Judge Fitzgerald, has reached as far as the selection of the jury, which is composed of the following gentlemen:

William W. Dixon, clerk, 227 East One Hundred and Eighteenth street.

Henry M. Dewart, clerk, 124 West Ninety-fourth street.

Hobart C. Fash, insurance agent, 34 Pine street.

Foster Milliken, iron, 34 Cortlandt street.

Solomon Strauss, silk salesman, 128 East Eightieth street.

Edward Goett, wood flour manufacturer, One Hundred and Seventy-seventh street and Pleasant avenue.

Charles A. Hill, milk, Ferris place, Williamsbridge.

Louis J. Binsse, retired real estate, 91 Second avenue.

Paul Bernhardt, grocer, 2031 Third avenue.

Fred G. Brewster, candy manufacturer, 236 West Fourteenth street.

Adolph Gluck, dry goods, 163 East Seventy-fourth street.

After they had been sworn in the court adjourned until 10:30 o'clock next Monday morning.

A NEW SURBURBAN RAILROAD.

Articles of Incorporation For the New York and Orange Railway.

Trenton, June 12.—Articles of incorporation of the New York and New Orange railroad have been forwarded to the secretary of state. Following is a list of the officers: Robert Grimes of Elmira, N. Y., president; Dennis Long, Union, N. J., vice president; W. S. McCord, Elmira, N. Y., treasurer; C. W. Manahan, East Orange, N. J., secretary. The directors consist of the above named executive officers and Theodore C. English, Elizabeth, N. J.; Nicholas C. J. English, Elizabeth, N. J., and George B. Frost, Newark, N. J.

The capital stock given in the articles of incorporation is $100,000. The railroad will run from Roselle, N. J., through the town of New Orange, forming a new suburban belt line railroad and connecting the five trunk lines, the Jersey Central, Lehigh Valley, Philadelphia and Reading, Baltimore and Ohio and Delaware, Lackawanna and Western a dozen miles to the westward of New York city and in the suburbs of Jersey City, Newark and Elizabeth.

Work will be commenced on the new railroad next week, and it will be pushed forward to completion this summer.

SHOT BY HIS FRIEND.

Playfully Pointed a Pistol Which, Being a Self Cocking One, Exploded.

Newark, N. J., June 12.—Frederick Miller, aged 18 years, died in the City hospital from a wound caused by a pistol bullet fired into his head in a joke. Charles Zebulka, 28 years of age, fired the shot and is now locked up.

The shooting took place in Charles Steigler's saloon, on Morris avenue. The two men went there together, and shortly afterward Zebulka picked up a revolver which was lying on a shelf for the purpose of examining it. He pointed it at his friend, and in the customary approved manner pressed the trigger, his friend remarking about the same time that he was not afraid.

An explosion followed, and a bullet entered the right side of Miller's head. He fell without a word and died soon after being taken to the hospital.

After Zebulka was arrested he made an explanation that as the trigger was down, he did not think the revolver would go off. The weapon, however, happened to be a self cocking one.

Professor Brown Improving.

New York, June 12.—Professor Francis Brown of the Union Theological seminary, who underwent an operation for appendicitis at the Presbyterian hospital, was reported to be improving. The operation was performed by Dr. Andrew J. McCosh and was entirely successful. No complications were present and all the circumstances in the case were entirely favorable.

Suicide by Drowning.

Boston, June 12.—Patrick Hennessey, 35 years old, committed suicide by jumping into the Charles river here. A few days ago his wife, Margaret, attempted suicide by taking paris green, and she is still at the hospital.

SHORT TERM CABINET

The Spanish Queen Will No Doubt Remove Her Ministers.

WEYLER'S RETIREMENT IS DENIED.

The Captain General Goes Right Along Making Suggestions—An Understanding Between Canovas and Sagasta Regarding Their Positions.

London, June 12.—The Madrid correspondent of The Pall Mall Gazette says: "It is thought that the cabinet as at present constituted will continue only during the summer sojourn of the court at San Sebastian and that on the queen regent's return to the capital it will be radically changed.

"Senor Canovas del Castillo denies the report of the retirement of Captain General Weyler, but although for the moment he remains at his post there is the best reason for believing that his resignation has been received by the premier, to be accepted or not as the latter deems best according to the circumstances of the moment.

"In the meantime Captain General Weyler has sent a telegram to the premier recommending that municipal elections be held immediately in Cuba. This may be the precursor of other conciliatory measures on his part, but Captain General's Weyler's antecedents are not such as to inspire confidence among the people of the island with regard to his bona fide direction of liberal reforms, nor is the present rehabilitated government in a position to keep him long at his post in view of the path that will have to be followed for a general pacification of Cuba.

"Reports are current that an understanding exists between Senor Canovas and Senor Sagasta, by the terms of which the latter is to succeed the former at the proper moment, but not at the present critical juncture, so that the succession to power shall always be kept between the two chief parties, to the exclusion of minor factions, including the Carlists and the Republicans."

Cuban Insurgents Hopeful.

Tampa, Fla., June 12.—Colonel Nunez is here in company with Senor F. Garcia, a resident of Havana, who was forced to flee from that city.

Colonel Nunez said that the concentrados, who are gathered in large numbers in all the fortified cities and towns under Spanish rule are suffering terribly for want of food, medicine, clothing and attention and that they are dying like sheep from yellow fever, smallpox and other contagious diseases.

Senor Garcia especially referred to San Antonio de los Banos, in Havana province, where concentrados are in greatest numbers and where consequently the greatest suffering exists from General Weyler's inhuman edicts, which seem to have been issued and rigidly enforced for no other purpose than to assist in the extermination of pacificos.

He says that the patriots are steadily gaining ground and that they are all well armed, well clothed and well fed and have no fears as to the final result. They are confident that the United States will soon take definite action in relation to granting Cuban patriots belligerent rights.

Camp Meeting of Adventists.

Worcester, Mass., June 12.—The two weeks' camp meeting of the New England Seventh Day Adventist association has been opened on the old ball grounds. The annual address of the president, Elder H. W. Cottrell, showed the conference to be in a good condition spiritually as well as financially. The treasury has a surplus of over $3,000. The membership is over 1,000. The First church of Lowell was admitted to the conference. The sermon was preached by Elder F. W. Moe of Amherst.

Stabbed With a Cheese Knife.

Newburg, N. Y., June 12.—George Geary has been arrested here charged with stabbing Peter McMunn in the town of Rosendale, Ulster county, Tuesday night in an altercation over a game of cards. He was taken to Rosendale for an examination. He used a cheese knife and gave McMunn five severe cuts in the arm and back. John McMunn, a brother of the injured man, was slightly wounded in the struggle with Geary.

To Succeed Judge Conrad.

Washington, June 12.—On July 1 Judge J. K. Richards, ex-attorney general of Ohio, will succeed Judge Holmes Conrad as solicitor general in the department of justice. Judge Conrad placed his resignation at the president's disposal early in March, but was induced to remain in office until certain important cases in the supreme court, with which he had been prominently identified, had been argued.

Killed by a Live Wire.

Baltimore, June 12.—James Minningham, a lineman employed by a local telephone company, was instantly killed by electricity here. Minningham was on a high pole stringing wires when he received a shock from an electric light wire and fell to the ground. It is thought that he was dead before he struck the pavement. This is the second death in this city from similar causes within a week.

Reinstated to a Clerkship.

Washington, June 12.—Jacob Springsteen of Indianapolis, the youngest enlisted man in the Union army, has been reinstated to a government clerkship. He was a drummer boy in an Indiana regiment, entering the service at the age of 9 years and six months, and served 4½ years.

Shot the Girl and Himself.

Pipestone, Minn., June 12.—F. N. Bliven of Pipestone has killed himself after fatally wounding a daughter of Frank Weigel, a German farmer living in Moody county, S. D. Bliven asked the girl to elope with him. Upon her refusal he pulled his revolver and began shooting.

Death of an Old Engineer.

Schenectady, N. Y., June 12.—Thomas Cox, a retired veteran and a New York Central engineer, died at his home in this city, aged 79 years. Mr. Cox had been an engineer with the Central for 39 years, and during his service was one of the best known men on the road.

DANGEROUS CYCLE PRACTICE.

The Plainfield Medical Association, composed of the practicing physicians of that city, have made a vigorous and proper effort to protect the children from peril to life and limb through the recklessness and folly of parents owning bicycles. At a meeting of the Common Council on Tuesday night last the doctors asked that the Council take some action looking to the prevention of bicycle riders from carrying children on the front of their wheels. They insisted that this is a very dangerous practice, and that eventually some severe accident or death will result from its continuance. Unfortunately the Council could not see that they had any authority in this matter, but the very fact that the physicians have thus publicly condemned the practice will in itself tend to induce some parents to abandon it. And yet, there ought to be a law against such practices, just as their is a law against dangerous acrobatic performances in which children are made to take part. Undoubtedly more children would be killed or maimed by carrying them on bicycles, if the practice became common, than through all the acrobatic performances put together; because the peril is scarcely less and the number of children carried on wheels would be much the greater. A man who has no more sense than to carry his helpless child with him on his bicycle ought to be subject to arrest and a heavy fine, if not a much heavier penalty—Elizabeth Journal.

CENTURY IRIDERS PASS.

They Arrived in This City on Schedule Time Looking Fresh, But Dusty.

The long talked of Inter-state century run passed through here this morning, a few minutes before eight o'clock, on the way to Philadelphia. The run left Newark promptly at five o'clock and followed the route printed in yesterday's Press. The run was paced by F. L. C. Martin, of this city, who will lead the column from Newark to Trenton.

The run entered Plainfield by East Front street and turned into Park avenue, stopping at the salesrooms of the F. L. C. Martin Cycle Company for light refreshments. A tub of ice water was set in front of the store for the accomodation of all the wheelmen. The riders were checked by William Sweeney and Roy Radford. There were four hundred and seventy riders, of which over a score were women. Everybody looked fresh but a little dusty. A Philadelphia club, numbering a hundred, lost their way and went by way of South avenue, missing the checkers.

Besides Mr. Martin, the Plainfield riders were Albert Woltmann and Allan Taylor. They will remain in Philadelphia over Sunday with Mr. Martin and visit the famous Fairmont Park.

More

Curative power is contained in Hood's Sarsaparilla than in any other similar preparation. It cost the proprietor and manufacturer more. It costs the jobber more and it is worth more to the consumer. More skill is required in its preparation and it combines more remedial qualities than any other medicine. Consequently it has a record of more cures and its sales are more than those of any other preparation. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best medicine to buy because it is an honest medicine and thousands of testimonials prove that it does actually and permanently cure disease.

To Fight the Devil.

The Volunteers of America in this city will open their summer campaign under canvas this evening at 8 o'clock. A tent is to be placed near the corner of Somerset street and Lincoln place and the battle will begin in North Plainfield at the start. The first guns will be fired by A. D. C. Tippets and the Australian cornetist. The meetings in the tent will be continued Sunday at 11 o'clock in the morning and 3 and 8 o'clock in the evening.

War With Spain.

It looks very much as if our war with Spain was to be fought as the pugilists fight their battles—with words. This, however, has nothing to do with your battle with the question as to what you should select for vacation gifts. This question you can easily settle by a visit to Colliers. You will find there just the thing for mother, father, sister, brother, sweetheart or the bairns.

Joseph Sandford, of Plainfield, was in the borough yesterday and called on friends.

Mrs. Ransom and daughter, of Plainfield, are visiting Mrs. Larrabee, of New Market.

J. C. Probasco, of Pittstown, this State, was the guest of Postmaster P. C. Staats yesterday.

Mrs. Evens G. Lake, of Somerville, spent yesterday with Mrs. A. N. Randolph in the borough.

Miss Henrietta Cuming, of Plainfield, rode her wheel to Dunellen yesterday and called on friends.

The fire department engine was out for a wash Thursday evening and everything was found to be all right.

The commencement exercises of the Dunellen Public School will be held Thursday evening, June 17th, in the M. E. church.

A number of Dunellen people went to Plainfield last evening and attended the silver anniversary of Perseverance Lodge, K. of P.

Mrs. Charles Conover and her sister-in-law, Miss Ella Conover, of Elmwood place, Plainfield, were the guests yesterday of Mrs. George Van Nest, of the borough.

A test of the borough fire alarm was made yesterday afternoon for the purpose of getting the machinery in good working order. The noise attracted considerable attention and many people appeared on the streets thinking that there was a fire. It is so seldom that the alarm is sounded that people are frightened when they hear it. It sounded yesterday as though it had several kinds of throat trouble.

Norman Dunn is recovering from a severe illness.

Landlord John Blimm has hung out a handsome new sign in front of his hotel.

Miss Susie Edwards, of Long Branch, is visiting her niece, Mrs. Geo. Clark.

Rev. James S. Braker is staying in Netherwood during the absence of his family.

Miss Jeanette Carter yesterday lost her pocketbook, containing a small sum of money.

Mrs. John R. Marsh, of this place, and her daughter, of Plainfield, have returned from Greenwood Lake, N. Y.

Justice Joseph Clark, Robert Walpole and Edward Verity went on a fishing excursion to Willow Lake, yesterday.

A horse attached to Sheelen's grocery wagon ran away on Park avenue, Scotch Plains, yesterday afternoon. The animal started from the post-office, where it had been left standing, and ran in the direction of Fanwood. Samuel McCaully gave chase upon his bicycle and made a gallant capture of the horse after it had gone about a mile. No damage resulted to the wagon or harness.

Observation Sleeping Cars on B. and O.

Commencing Sunday, June 13, the B. & O. R. R. will place in service, between Baltimore and Chicago, Pullman Observation Sleeping Cars. WESTFIELD

THE JURY DISCHARGED.

OVER OWNERSHIP OF A WESTFIELD CARRIAGE FACTORY.

In the Case of Cora Weidner Against Barton, Defense Claimed the Debt Was Owing to Weidner—Brilliant Musicale.

The court of Justice Hart was the scene yesterday of an interesting trial, the result of which depended upon the question whether H. L. Weidner is the proprietor of the carriage and wagon business carried on under his name, or whether the establishment really belongs to Cora Weider, his wife. The suit was brought in Mrs. Weidner's name against William H. Barton, a liveryman, to collect a bill of $25 for repairing carriages. The defense set up by Barton's counsel, Paul Q. Oliver, was that the bill was owing to Weider, and not to his wife. Barton in his testimony stated that he had never before received any intimation that Mrs. Weidner owned the business. All the bills that he had received had been made out in the name of Weider, proprietor; not Weidner, manager. Mr. and Mrs. Weidner both testified to the effect that the business belongs to the wife and that in the transaction with Barton, Weidner acted merely as agent. Some interesting tilts on the admission of certain evidence occurred between Lawyer Oliver for the defence and Charles H. Angleman for the prosecution. At 4:30 o'clock the case was given to a jury consisting of John M. Ledley, A. H. Barnett, John Knapp, Charless E. Burtis, Samuel Packer and Charles Michel. At 6 o'clock they reported a disagreement, and were discharged. New papers will now be drawn and the case will be tried again.

The pupils of Miss Ella Ferris gave their annual piano recital in the Westfield Methodist church, last evening. The building was filled by a large and very friendly audience, and the really excellent work of the performance called forth frequent favorable comment. Those who took part were: Misses Brainerd, Pearsall, Miss Mabel Hurst, Miss Lucy Baker, Lester Ris, Miss O'Blemis, Miss Mary Fink, Master Chester Pearsall, Miss Hattie Pearsall, Miss Natalie Brainerd, Herbert Knight, Miss Huffman, Miss Lucy Fitch, Miss Dorothy Knight, Miss Nela Huffman, Miss May Clark, Miss Kunkle, Miss Lillian Davis and Miss Ethel Pearsall. The vocalists were: Mrs. C. E. Pearsall, soprano, and Miss May Moffett, contralto.

Miss Eva Wright has recovered from an attack of measles.

Justice Collins yesterday awarded judgement for $21.35 to the plaintiff in the case of Orchetti against Denechi.

William Hensell, formerly of this place, has purchased a hotel at Garwood and will shortly take possession as its landlord.

Children's Day services will be held in the Methodist church, tomorrow, at 10:30 and 4 o'clock. Offering will be taken for the cause of education.

The Westfield Junior baseball team was reorganized last night at a meeting held at the residence of E. H. Taylor. Chas. LeMatty was elected captain and E. H. Taylor, manager and a schedule of games will shortly be arranged.

Two other lawsuits have preceded that of yesterday in the quarrel between Weidner and Barton. Some weeks ago Weidner in his own name sued Barton for the bill which figured in yesterday's trial. The summons was defective, however, and the case never came to trial. Later on Barton sued Weidner for a bill of $37 for carriage hire. In this suit, also, the summons proved defective, and the case was dismissed by Justice Toucey, on Thursday.

Children's Day will be observed at the Congregational church tomorrow. At the morning service there will be a presentation of Bibles and baptism of children. The pastor, Rev. Henry Ketcham, will preach a special sermon to the children, who are invited to be present and occupy the front seats. The offering at this service will be for the Sunday-school. The evening service will be held at 7 o'clock and will be in charge of the Sunday-school. Interesting recitations and songs by the children and a short talk by the pastor will be some of the features of this service.

Right Methods.

What we want to sell you is precisely what you want. If you are not sure of what you want and ask advice, we prefer your interests to our own and advise you as though we were buying instead of selling.

This is where our methods differ from others. There's no use of taking drug chances. Have your wants supplied at Rowley's and be content. There will be no doubt about the quality of the goods and you can feel certain that you have bought them at the lowest possible price.

piano and Ernest Highm on the violin. There efforts were accorded due appreciation, as was also the vocal duet by Mrs. A. D. Pope and Mrs. Clark. The last speaker of the evening was Past Grand Chancellor W. E. Hitchcock, of Newark. He related several amusing stories and kept the audience in good spirits. This address was followed with a cornet solo by Mr. All. of the orchestra, and then came the last but not least number on the programme, the appearance of Wm. Runyon. This popular Councilman was given a cordial reception. He rendered a number of his best vocal selections and his audience was not inclined to let him stop. He was called for, and, as Mr. Runyon is always obliging, he responded in his usual happy manner.

After the rendition of the above programme the floor was cleared and all who desired remained and enjoyed the dancing, music for which was furnished by Rogers' orchestra. During the evening the orchestra played some of their best selections, and this part was one of the most enjoyable. The dancing was continued until the very small hours of the morning, and when the guests departed they all wished Perseverance Lodge, No. 74, K. of P., many happy returns of the day.

S. J. Robinson and A. D. Pope composed the committee in charge of the dancing.

RELIGION ON BICYCLES.

The road is fine as far as Avon Park, after which it will be necessary to ride single file, as there is only a side path to the chapel. Several of the Endeavorers rode over it yesterday, however, and report that it is in good condition for riding and there will be no trouble for the riders in reaching the chapel without accident. The scenery is very beautiful and well worth a trip through the road.

Fined $10 For Not Tying His Horse.

C. R. Rogers, of Bound Brook, was arrested this morning by Chief Marshal Wilson, of the borough, for allowing his horse to remain untied in front of Boyce's Hotel. Rogers did the same thing yesterday afternoon in another part of the borough and he was warned by the Chief not to leave his horse in that way. When the man appeared before Recorder Thomas he admitted having left his horse untied. For that offence he was fined $10. Immediately afterward Chief Wilson entered a complaint against the man for using profane language and for that he was fined $5. Both fines were paid and the man departed in peace.

Coles' Gift to the State.

The painting, "The Good Samaritan," painted by Daniel Huntington and presented to the State by J. Ackerman Coles, of Scotch Plains, was hung in the State House opposite the front stairway yesterday. Daniel Huntington is now more than 80 years old. "The Good Samaritan" was painted in Paris in 1853. Paul De Laroche, the famous historical painter of France, made many suggestions as to color and detail of which Mr. Huntington gratefully made use.

We sell goods cheaper than any Plainfield store.

It is Well to Remember

That the production of merchandise far outstrips its consumption. This will go far towards explaining the apparent modesty of prices on many seasonable goods. Hardly a day passes but what we have shown to us some special things that the manufacturer is overstocked—he needs money and the goods are offered to us in many cases at less than the cost of production. It's a wise loss for the maker, a good purchase for us, and a big bargain benefit for you.

MUST BE SOLD

In Three Weeks.

OUR ENTIRE STOCK

OF

MEN'S, BOYS' and CHILDREN'S CLOTHING,

and Men's furnishing goods must positively be sold by July 1st; not a dollar's worth do we want on our hands, and in order to dispose of so large a stock we will cut the prices down so low that you can come to our large store and buy a whole suit for what other stores will ask you for a single pair of pants. Don't buy a dollar's worth of clothing until you see our stock and prices. Every garment will be marked down in plain figures, and there should be no mistake of your getting the right price and the right goods. Remember that we sold over 45,000 dollars worth of clothing in Plainfield in one year. Ask anyone and everybody who ever bought of us and they will tell you that we give 3 times as many goods for the same amount that any other store in Plainfield will give you, in order to prove what we say. We will give you

A FEW PRICES

Men's all-wool royal blue serge suits, worth $12, at selling out price, $4.50; men's best all wool blue serge suit, worth $16, at selling out price, $5 90; men's fine gray clay serge, all-wool suit, worth $13.50, at selling out price, $5; fine men's gray or dark brown clay diagonal suit, worth $16, selling out price $6.25. No other store in Plainfield will sell the same suit for less than $18. A very fine business suit in all-wool worsted or cassimeres, worth $10, at $4.25; fine men's working suit, worth $8, at $2.50. This suit is all wool and warranted not to fade. Extra fine all-wool silk or satin lined clay diagonal all-wool suit in frocks, worth $20, at $8.25; a very fine English silk-mixed suit, worth not less than $22, at $6.90; over 500 suits in fancy cheviots and overplaids, dark or light colors, that we are selling at $2, $3, $3.50 and $4.50. Every one of them are worth from $8 to $15 of any man's money. Don't wait one minute, but come at once, as you never will have the chance again. Youths' suits in all-wool clay diagonal sacks, worth $10, at $4.50; young men's plaid suits, all wool, worth $8, at $2.90; boy's long pants suit at $2; children's suits, latest style plaids in brown and light colors at $1, $1.25, $1.50 and $1.75, worth from $2 to $5; men's fine summer underwear at 15c; men's bicycle suits, $1.75, $2, $2 50 and $3.50, worth from $ 4 to $10; men's bicycle pants from 35c up. Be on hand early and avoid the rush. Over 2,000 suits to choose from. Durable men's pants at 75c; fine Sunday pants at 95c, $1.25, $1.50 and $1 75; every pair of them all wool and they are worth from $2.50 to $6. This closing out sale commences Saturday, June 12, at 7:30 a. m.

THE WORLD MOVES.

AND THIS DESPITE EFFORTS OF GOOD PEOPLE TO STOP IT.

The Rev. Minot J. Savage Pitches Into the Dismal Moralists Who Fail to See Anything Good in Life—Hot Shot for Our Socialistic Ideas.

The Rev. Minot J. Savage is the latest acquisition of importance to the pulpit of the metropolis. He came from cultured Boston to assist the venerable Dr. Collier, "the learned blacksmith" as pastor of the Church of the Messiah.

Already his sermons are attracting wide attention. Recently he preached upon the theme, "Is it true that the world is really getting worse?" The preacher said, in part:

"There are a great many persons who say that, no matter how bad former times were, the present times are out of joint. They are reformers of a certain sort. They really wish to do humanity a service. They believe that if they can convert the world to their notions the millennium will shortly come. There are temperance orators who insist that there was never so much drunkenness in the world as there is to-day. Then, and this is most remarkable, there are leaders of religious thought in churches who can see nothing good in the present and little to hope for in the future.

"There is a certain type of men who can see everything better in the past than in the present, and this type has always existed. But, in spite of them and in spite of the patriarchs of old, there never was a time when the average length of life was longer than it is now, nor when man's nature was so large. We have heard that 'there were giants in those days,' but nobody has ever seen them. I know, from my own experience, that the mighty-statured men of ancient England, whose armor is now in the Tower of London, were smaller men than I am. I know because I know that I could not wear their armor, and I'm not a large man. And so we must conclude that these statements about the past are only fond delusions held by those who forget all the evils of the time, and remember only its romance and its glories.

"There are some leaders in church thought just now busy in prophesying all sorts of evil days to come. They tell us that the 'poor are growing poorer and the rich are growing richer,' and that, unless the barriers that guard accumulated wealth are broken down, evil days will be in store for us. Just what these men propose to do in order to make things better I can't make out. They can fill our eyes with the gloomiest of pictures, but they offer us no satisfactory shelter from the storm that they say is certain to descend. They talk about the misery of the laboring man and the heartlessness of the rich. I don't know just what they mean by the laboring man. I speak as a laboring man, because I work for a living, and would consider myself fortunate if my day's work were done after ten or even eighteen hours' labor. It is an unfortunate set of terms we have to designate the laboring man. Let me remark, though, here, that the man who is an enemy to accumulated wealth is an enemy to civilization; and he who is an enemy to civilization is an enemy to society. This is true, because accumulated wealth is the first condition of civilization. If all the men and women were obliged to work as hard as they could for the mere necessaries of life there would be no civilization. Man would be a mere animal. It would be death to civilization, in a technical sense, if everybody had to work for a living. If we are to have any books, any music, any statues, any paintings, some men must be set free.

"There is no use in being envious of those who are richer than you are. The finest things in the world cannot be monopolized. A rich man may be able to buy a rare work of art, but there will be a loan exhibition, and you and I can go and look at the rich man's possession. A rich man may be able to drive a coach and four, but you and I are healthier, because we can only afford to walk. And love, friendship, and the service of God and humanity—the richest of all blessings—are the heritage of the world.

"The percentage of profit to labor today is greater than it used to be. The percentage of profit to capital is less. The condition of the wage earner today is better than it ever was, because he gets what he needs cheaper. I don't know anything about the workings of the trusts that some men inveigh against. I do know, however, that, because of those trusts, you and I can get better and cheaper oil and better and cheaper sugar. Many small dealers may have been crowded out of business, but the great public, the laboring men, you and I, have been benefited.

"You owe your very existence to the toil of your fellow men. What we hold is only in trust. Let not the rich man flaunt in the face of the poor, and let not you and I, the laborers, the poor men, destroy that wealth with dynamite or croak at others' prosperity. Let us show to the world that we place our manhood first, and let us work together to make the world better. Let us not delude ourselves that we can get a patent for the improvement of freedom. The idea that we'll all get what we want and the world will stop for us to get it is a lotus-eater's dream. Humanity is on the march. We must keep up with the procession by our own exertions, or the chariot wheels of progress will roll over us and we shall be left behind."

BRIGHT'S DISEASE
is the most dangerous of all diseases that affect mankind because it does not announce its approach by unmistakable signs. Its symptoms are those which often indicate other ailments, and are Headache, Backache, Dizziness, Sleeplessness, Blurred Vision, &c. When it gets a firm hold it is hard to dislodge. Yet it can be CURED
I am a barber by trade and have been in the business for the past 15 years. Now work at 417 Wood St., Pittsburg. In the last year or so I have had pains in the back, heaeache, nervousness, troubled sleep, swelling of the feet, and in fact, I could mention a dozen other things. I tried different remedies, but they did me no good, so I finally decided that I had contracted consumption. I commenced to look for other employment, but could not get anything, so I was compelled to stay at the barber trade. While passing Fleming's Drug Store on Market Street, Pittsburg, I walked in and received a sample box of your Sparagus Kidney Pills. I took it home, read the little book that went with it, and I decided to use them. After that, I bought a box, and a vial of your Little Liver Pills, and have been using them ever since. The wonderful effect on me, you would be surprised to see, and I can safely say that I feel and look better than any barber in the state. Anything I can do in the way of recommending your pills, I am glad to do it at any time. H. F. Schmidt, 79 Middle St., Allegheny, Pa.

Delicate Dress Goods.

Some gowns are so dainty in the weave, so delicate in tint, that they seem to soil by being looked at—one or two wearings making them unpresentable, NOT USELESS. We make a specialty of cleaning fine fabrics, the more delicate the material, the better the results. Sometimes an accident will ruin a gown, without injuring the texture We dye them then, sometimes we get a prettier effect than the original color. Fine goods stand redyeing. The finer the material the better the new color. We charge so little for cleaning or dyeing, that even if you are in doubt as to the result, it's worth while to experiment. Want a new evening gown for a dollar or two? Laundry drivers will receive your work.

THE BUSINESS SITUATION.

Dun's Review Says That the Gain Continues Moderately but Distinct.

New York, June 12.—Dun's Review for the week says:

The gain in business continues, not without fluctuations and at the best moderate, but yet distinct. It is still in quantities rather than prices, although in some branches an advance in prices appears, but on the whole the number of hands employed, the volume of new orders and the amount of work done are slowly increasing. Prospect of good crops of wheat and cotton help, growing demand from dealers whose stocks a gradually gaining consumption deplete also helps, and in the money and exchange market large buying of American securities has an influence. Foreign purchases of stocks exceeded sales for the week by about 50,000 shares, and meanwhile commercial bills against products to be moved hereafter are larger than the market will take.

The outgo of gold means only that a price sufficient to cover loss by shipment is paid, and the slackened call for commercial loans this week is but evidence that preparations to carry extraordinary stock of raw material against future operations have been completed by many large manufacturers. Money coming hither from the west even as late as June 10, with great crops near at hand, indicates a healthy condition at the west.

Indications of the volume of business are seen in clearing house exchanges, which for the week exceed last year's 8.7 per cent, and in railroad earnings which amount, in the United States alone, to $34,708,987 on roads reported by Dunn's Review for May, 3.3 per cent larger than last year and .3 per cent larger than in 1892.

Wheat looks well, and the best trade authority now estimates the yield at 515,000,000 bushels, with many state and railroad returns to support it.

Iron furnaces in blast June 1 reported a weekly output of 168,380 tons against 170,528 May 1, and in unsold stocks, exclusive of the great steel companies, an increase of 11,613 tons for the month, to 1,050,252 tons.

The dispatches from cities in all parts of the country are especially worthy of notice, because they show a continuing though gradual increase in the volume of actual business in spite of the weather, which has extensively retarded dealings. A dull season approaches for most wholesale trades, but safe indication for the future is to be sought in accounts of retail distribution. Failures for the week ending June 3 showed liabilities of $1,974,742, manufacturing $767,643 and trading $1,174,769. Failures for the week have been 262 in the United States against 246 last year and 30 in Canada against 27 last year.

THE TORPEDO BOAT PORTER.

The More Experiments Tried With Her the Better She Appears.

New York, June 12.—The United States torpedo boat Porter has been put through her maneuvering paces and came up to all expectations.

The board of inspectors were taken down to the lower bay. The little black flier cut her way through the waters, and, although no attempt was made to obtain phenomenal speed, all other craft were quickly passed and left behind. Once out of the channel the work of testing the torpedo guns was begun.

Three torpedoes were fired. Two worked excellently, but the third was not successful, as the locking device refused to work. Then the little flier's ability to twist and turn was exhibited. Her turning circle was found to be about 1,100 feet.

In reversing from full speed ahead to full speed astern and vice versa she proved a wonder, taking only 25 seconds, and moving less than her own length before she gained momentum in the desired direction. After various other tests of her maneuvering qualities the Porter brought the board of inspection back to the city, and its members expressed great satisfaction over the results of the trip.

INTERESTING LAND CASE.

Decision Rendered by the Comptroller In a Tax Sale.

Rome, N. Y., June 12.—Comptroller Roberts has just decided an interesting case, setting aside the cancellation and sale of over 1,000 acres of land in the town of Williamstown, N. Y. Seven hundred acres of the land are owned by Hon. Edward Comstock of Rome and John Murray of Williamstown.

In 1859 the land was bought at tax sale by the late Hon. Calvert Comstock of Rome. In 1866 the courts held that the sale was invalid and could be set aside on application of the purchaser or former owner. In case it was the purchaser he could have the money paid for the property refunded.

In 1876 Calvert Comstock died, and in 1886, on an application to which was forged Mr. Comstock's name, some person received $518, the amount that had been paid for the property. In the hearing which resulted in setting aside the cancellation and sale the fraud was unearthed. Since the hearing closed the comptroller has traced the matter back, and although the name of the guilty party has not been revealed the $518 have been recovered, with interest from 1886.

CONDENSED DISPATCHES.

The house of Governor Smith of the National Soldiers' Home at Leavenworth, Kan., was blown up by dynamite.

Henry Hanson was killed by a tornado at Lyle, Minn. There were 10 injured, some of them so badly that further deaths are possible.

The postoffice at Collingswood, a few miles from Camden, N. J., was entered by burglars, the safe blown open and $200 in cash and $300 in stamps stolen.

Professor Fresenius, the wall known chemist, is dead at Wiesbaden, Germany. His demise was due to an apoplectic stroke. He was born in 1818 at Frankfurt-am-Main.

William H. Korn of Buffalo, aged 31 years, a passenger on the steamer Advance from Colon, died on board after the steamer anchored in quarantine, New York. Death was caused by yellow fever.

THE FIRST TEST VOTE

On the Sugar Schedule Results In Adoption of Amendment.

DAY WAS SPENT IN SPEECHMAKING

The Main Speeches by Mr. Allison For and Mr. Gorman Against the Bill. Full Text of the Sugar Clause as Submitted.

Washington, June 12.—The first test vote on the sugar schedule has been taken in the senate, resulting in the adoption of the Republican caucus amendment changing the house rate to 1.95 per pound by the close vote of 32 yeas to 30 nays. The affirmative vote was made up of 29 Republicans, 1 Democrat, McEnery of Louisiana, 1 silver Republican, Jones of Nevada, and 1 Populist, Stewart of Nevada. The negative vote was made up of 25 Democrats, 3 Populists and 2 silver Republicans. It was the closest vote thus far taken on an issue of importance and was accepted as showing that any amendment having the sanction of the caucus was assured of adoption.

The vote was taken after a day spent in speeches on the effect of the sugar schedule. The main speech of the day came from Mr. Allison, in charge of the bill, and was in the nature of an answer to the charges made against the sugar schedule as a whole and a defense of it. Mr. Gorman of Maryland spoke against the schedule and the entire bill, pointing out that its effect was to burden the people without opening up to us new foreign markets.

Mr. White reviewed the records of Republican senators on the sugar schedule during the debate on the Wilson bill, arraigning them for inconsistency. Mr. Caffery of Louisiana and Mr. Stewart of Nevada also spoke, the former against and the latter for the pending schedule, after which the vote was taken. The first paragraph of the sugar schedule was not finally disposed of up to the time of the adjournment.

Text of Sugar Schedule Amendment.

The following is the full text of the amendment to the sugar schedule of the tariff bill offered by Senator Hoar:

"Provided, That the president of the United States shall appoint a commission to consist of five persons who shall report to congress at its next regular session concerning the condition of the industry of producing and refining sugar in the United States, and what policy is best adapted to procuring a sufficient supply of sugar for the people of the United States at the least cost, and to encourage and promote the raising in the United States of a sufficient supply of sugar for domestic consumption, and what amount of duty on imports of sugar is necessary to enable the business of refining sugar in the United States to be conducted at a reasonable and moderate profit, and also what amount of duty upon such imports is expedient, having reference to raising a sufficient revenue to provide for the public expenditure, and to report such facts in regard to the business of producing and refining sugar, and whether the same is so conducted as to enable persons interested therein to exercise an improper control over the market, and such other facts as they consider important pertinent to the subject matter of their inquiry, no more than three members of said commission to belong to the same political party."

Senator Carter gave notice of an amendment readmitting free of duty stock which may have strayed across the boundary line of another country or been sent across for pasturage.

Senator Mantle gave notice of an amendment to the lead schedule as follows:

"That in respect to lead ores imported under the provisions of this section the refined metal set aside shall either be re-exported or the regular duties paid thereon within 60 days from the date of the receipt of the ore."

Nominations Confirmed.

Washington, June 12.—The senate has confirmed the following nominations: Harold S. Vanburen of New Jersey to be consul at Nice, France; Frank A. Leach to be superintendent of the mint at San Francisco, Robert S. Person of South Dakota to be deputy auditor for the interior department, William M. Lynch to be assayer of the mint at New Orleans, Herbert W. Lewis to be superintendent of charities for the District of Columbia, Fred P. Vincent and Michael J. Brown of Pennsylvania to be assistant appraisers of merchandise for the district of Philadelphia.

Terrible Accident In a Colliery.

London, June 12.—In consequence of overwinding, a terrible accident has occurred in the Garth colliery at Maesteg, Glamorganshire, Wales. The cage was precipitated to the bottom of the shaft, 360 feet deep. Ten men were killed.

Bequest For a Statue.

the afternoon and evening, under the direction of Prof. Guttman. Every fifteen minutes the band will strike up some inspiring selection. A special committee has selected a musical programme, which has already been published in these columns.

There are other attractions, some small, some large, but all pleasing to the senses. There will be plenty to see and plenty to eat, and everything will be arranged to give pleasure to the people of Plainfield and their guests.

But now, the strains of sweet music float in from Johnson Park. The Fete is in progress and everybody is wanted there to help the women of the Town Improvement Association in their worthy object of placing the City Park so that it will once more be an honor to the city and its inhabitants.

In City Court.

In the City Court this morning the case against Bridget Neuman was adjourned for a week. Sentence was suspended on the six little boys who were charged with breaking the windows of the Fillmore Avenue Baptist church. Howard Doty was arraigned on the charge of assaulting Richard Higgins in the street railway carhouse. He pleaded self defence and his trial was set down for next Saturday morning. Samuel Cramer, a peddler, was ordered to get a license at once, and was allowed to go on the harge of selling without one.

Plainfield Capital Interested.

The certificate of incorporation for the Hall Needle Company was drawn up in Rutherford, Friday, by Lawyer P. D. Kirch, of this city, one of the incorporators. The new company is to manufacture a patent sewing machine needle that is said to possess peculiar strength and is equipped with a special method of threading that appears to be very advantageous. The company is capitalized at $50,000. The following officers were then elected: President, William Locke Rockwell, of Plainfield: vice-president, J. P. D. Kirch, of Plainfield; secretary and treasurer, Edwin C. Abbott, of Rutherford.

The Funeral of Thomas McCue.

The funeral of the late Thomas McCue, son of Patrolman Thomas McCue, was held from the St. Mary's church this morning. The attendance was very large. The services was conducted by Rev. Father Murphy. The pall bearers were members of the T. A. B. Society and many of the other members turned out in a body. The floral tributes were magnificent. Among them was a handsome floral cross from the policemen of the city. The interment was at St Mary's Cemetery.

Owney, the Postal Dog Shot.

After years of wandering as the guest of postal clerks "Owney," the dog tramp, ended his days at Toledo yesterday. He has lately grown savage, and soon after entering the Toledo office bit Clerk Blankertz. Postmaster Brand ordered a policeman to shoot him, and that was done yesterday afternoon.

Good Bass Fishing

Miss Elizabeth P. Fuller, of Watchung avenue, will leave town tomorrow to spend the summer at her home at Plattsburgh, N. Y.

LIABLE TO CAUSE BLINDNESS.

It is Possible for Certain Kinds of Food to Endanger the Eyesight.

Few people know that some foods are very injurious to the eyesight, and, indeed, may cause total blindness. Medical men agree that defects of vision are often attributable to this cause, and warn their patients against eating certain foods.

Stale sausages, sour cream and tainted rabbit pie are injurious to the eyesight. In one instance a case was brought under the notice of an eye specialist in which the eyes of a whole family were affected by eating rabbit pie. In each instance the patient had become afflicted with a peculiar defect of vison that is technically known as "failure of accommodation."

The eating of chocolate was recently proved to be the cause in a case of weakening of the sight known as amblopia. Blindness resulting from eating tainted fish has been found almost impossible to cure, and quinine is also responsible for some persons half-blind condition. This drug affects the optic nerve in a manner that sometimes ends in blindness.—Golden Days.

GRANT'S DIFFERENT HATS.

Not Aware that His Japanese Servant gave Him so Many Changes.

In that trip after his return from abroad he had a little Japanese servant, who took charge of him as though the General was a bit of machinery and he was the engineer. Some of the newspapers noticed that in the course of one trip Grant had on six different hats, and they laughingly asked him what was the signinficance of the change. Grant said, "Why, I do not know; I supposed I had on the same hat all the time." Investigation brought out the fact that the little Jap, through the suggestion of some of the ladies of the party or some of the committee, had received ideas as to what kind of a hat the General ought to wear at certain towns. If it was a college town, just before he arrived the little Jap would tip-toe to the General, remove the slouch hat, place a silk hat carefully on the Generals head, and trip out, the General never losing a word of any conversation. At the next stop, if it was explained to the little Jap that it was a soldier town, off would come the silk hat and on went the General's military hat. He made it a rule for the General never to appear at two places in the same hat, and the joke of it was Grant himself did not know anything of the scheme.—St. Louis Globe Democrat.

A BICYCLE UNDER WATER.

Used by a Diver When Searching the Bottom of the Sea.

Another use has been found for the bicycle. Having conquered the land, the all-pervading wheel has invaded the water and has proved that it can be of use to a diver while searching the bottom of the sea. In diving operations of the future a part of the outfit of the man who dons a diving suit and explores the bottom of the sea in search of lost treasure, parted cables, anchors or wrecks frequently will be a bicycle.

David M. Tulloch, a practical diver of a dozen years' experience, who has been employed by the United States Government in many operations along the Atlantic coast and who has also worked in South American waters, was the first man to use a bicycle in submarine work.—New York World.

She Raised the Boys.

Nine men sat in an unbroken row on one side of an Alley "L" car the other morning. Near the door sat one lone woman. Five women were standing, swinging on to straps, as the train pulled out of Congress street terminus.

At 12th street two more women came in, standing before a row of men who couldn't see over their newspapers.

There was a mischievous twinkle in the eyes of the solitary young woman sitting near the door.

At 18th street the train slowed up with a squeaking and grinding of wheels. The gates rattled, and with a swing a young man in a fawn-colored coat, with a bunch of carnations in his buttonhole, stepped into the car. He was just reaching for a strap, when the young woman at the door touched him on the arm.

He looked around inquiringly.

The young woman was standing, with a perfectly serious look in her face.

"Won't you have this seat?" she asked in a beautifully modulated voice.

With his mouth open, the young man in his astonishment sat down.

But it was only for a moment. In the roar of laughter which followed every woman in the group found a seat.—Chicago Record.

Observing the Properties.

"Now," said Mrs. Cumrox, "I guess we're all ready for the dinner party."

"Sure you haven't forgotten anything?" rejoined her husband.

"Oh, yes! There's one little matter that I wish you would attend to for me. I want you to telephone to the confectioner and have him send up two or three pounds of bon mots. I understand it is considered proper to have some between the courses."—Washington Star.

Did He Mean It?

"So he praised my singing, did he?"

"Yes, he said it was heavenly."

"Did he really say that?"

"Well, not exactly, but he probably meant that. He said it was unearthly."

THE MAD KILLER.

Malay Methods of Suicide Somewhat Troublesome to the Public.

In the hush of the glaring noon, there sounded an angry scream up the street, three seconds later a yell of pain, and the sobbing cry of a man cut deep through the lungs. It touched off the whole teeming populace like a match in a powder barrel; there was a frenzied rush of swarthy loafers for safety, and a shrieking chorus of "Amok! amok!" the street cry of the far East which means many deaths in a short period. Out of a byway a lithe Malay tore blindly down the road, driving his knife into the stomach of a water-carrier as he passed. The carrier fell on his face with a thick cough, and the frantic man spun forward, with starting, bloodshot eyeballs, foaming at the mouth like a rabid dog, a narrow dripping kris in his right hand. He dashed furiously through the deserted stalls, and on through the town, till a big Lascar, fresh from his ship and hungry for a fight, sank his knife under the madman's ribs with the slipping upstroke which is the legacy of all Lascars throughout the earth.

These ten minute dramas occur twenty or thirty times a year in Batavia and in most cities of the remote East. The pleasant Malay prefers this method of suicide to any other; and after losing his wealth at a gambling den in the East city slums, or his betrothed through fever, he decides on an amok. It is far less cold-blooded than common self-murder, and the red, rabid frenzy appeals to the hot blood of the Malay. He buries his kris in the body of the nearest man, and keeps the line of a maddened jackal through the town, killing to right and left, till a readier knife ends him. Eleven victims have been known to succumb to one amok, and at times a powerful hillman will cut down a score of bystanders before he meets the point. In all countries of the farthest East you will find that ruin breeds this fever for the Running Kill. —From Answers.

W. W. ASTOR'S BIG TREE WAGER.

A Cross Section of a Giant of the California Forests Sent to London.

The German ship Maria Hackfield loaded in San Francisco for London, took on board a piece of cargo consigned to William Waldorf Astor. It is a great slab of red wood, the cross section of one of the big trees of California, 14 feet 4 inches in diameter.

Under present circumstances its shipment is of more than ordinary interest. It will decide a wager in favor of Mr. Astor, and will demonstrate that he did not tell a whopper about big trees to the Britishers.

At a dinner party given some time ago in London, during the story-telling stage, Mr. Astor spoke about great redwoods. Some of his hearers were skeptical. This nettled Mr. Astor, and to prove his assertion he offered a wager that he could procure from one cross section of a California big tree a table large enough to accommodate all of the forty guests assembled.

The wager was accepted and hence the shipment. The piece of redwood was cut from one of many giant trees of Humboldt county forests. There is not the least blemish in the piece. Heavy wire cables were bound around its outer rim and heavy planks protect it from being split.

It is about three feet thick, and weighs about nineteen tons. It was brought from the lumber woods in the steamer National City, and the ship's hatchway just gave the big slab a play of one inch as it was being lowered into the hold.

A VIEW OF THE GROUNDS WHERE THE FETE WAS HELD.

USED AXES AND KNIVES.

A BLOODY AFFRAY BETWEEN TWO ITALIANS AT NETHERWOOD.

Quarrelled Over a Game of Cards and Then Tried to Kill Each Other—One Man in the Hospital May Not Survive His Wounds.

Axes and knives were used with such disregard for life in a little Italian shanty, near Netherwood, yesterday afternoon, that now two of the Italian occupants lie in Muhlenberg Hospital sorely wounded, perhaps mortally hurt. Who handled the weapons with such disastrous results it is impossible to tell. All that is known at present is that there was a fight and two of the participants were badly hurt. One of them is thought to be fatally injured. A little shanty, built of boards, stands some distance from North avenue, near Netherwood avenue. It is there that the men were found.

James Brown is one of the Italians in this city who have become Americanized and is now conducting a flourishing business among his fellow-countrymen. He has a store on Paradise alley and another at the corner of North and Leland avenues. Yesterday, Jim, as he is usually called, rode up on his wheel to his Netherwood store, to feed the dog and chickens which he keeps in the rear of the house. While passing the shanty on the way up, he had seen a boy carry some clothing out to a wagon and then return to the shanty. Jim says that he understood that the boy was taking away the clothing of three Italians who were to go to Cranford last night. Then he heard shouts but knowing the excitable temperament of his fellow-countrymen he thought nothing of it.

When he rode back again towards town, another young Italian rushed down to the road and implored him to come in. Brown did not fancy figuring in a fight and refused at first, but seeing that something out of the ordinary had happened, he went in.

There were five Italians in the shanty. One of them, a horrible sight from the blood that covered him, was lying unconscious on the wooden bunk in the corner. Another, with the blood dripping from a deep wound in the side of the head, leaned against the wall. The tall Italian, who looks after the shanty, told Jim that the two injured men had quarrelled over a game of cards. He said one seized an axe and the other a knife and fought until he separated them.

Then Jim hurried down to Paradise Alley and notified Special Officer Dennis Carney, who, in turn, told Chief Grant of the affray. Chief Grant and Sergeant Kiely took a cab at Cole's stable. Just as they turned into East Third street one of the rear wheels dished. Wm. Robinson was driving and pluckily held the horse and prevented a runaway. Then the officers tried again and took another cab.

Meanwhile, the Italian who had received a blow on the head with the axe, walked down town. He was a horrible spectacle, covered with blood. He attracted a large crowd on his way. He was finally met by Patrolman Flanagan, who took him to the station house. Dr. Long was called and found the wound a serious one.

Grant and Kiely reached the shanty and found that the wounded Italian was terribly injured. He was covered with wounds inflicted with a stilleto, and the blood flowed copiously from a score of gashes on his body. The ambulance was summoned and he was conveyed to the Hospital. The other injured man was also taken there.

The three witnesses in the shanty told the officers they had arrived after the fight had started and knew nothing of the circumstances. They were locked up, however, and held for the hearing.

FOUGHT ABOUT A GIRL.

CROWLEY WENT HOME WITH HAMILL'S GIRL, AND TROUBLE CAME.

Six Offenders Against the Good Order of the Community Hailed Before Judge De Meza and Punished and Lectured

The mystery of the police, Saturday morning, concerning a fight near the brook is a mystery no longer. The participants were arraigned this morning before City Judge DeMeza and all were either fined or sent to jail.

The circumstances, as related in court this morning, were that all six of them attended a party on Orchard place, and did not leave until 5 o'clock in the morning, all pretty well under the influence of the stimulants taken at the party. They walked down the street and some of the younger ones began to quarrel. It seems that Michael Crowley had gone home with Thomas Hamill's girl earlier in the mornnig. Blows were struck, and soon Crowley and Patrick Wallace, who was of the party, were rolling in the gutter. Daniel Fitzpatrick ran to Crowley's rescue and pulled Wallace off, when Wallace's brother, Robert Wallace, took a hand and did up Fitz in a jiffy. Daniel Sullivan and Thomas Hamill watched the fun.

Then the scappers adjourned to Sycamore avenue, where the fight was renewed Wallace repeated his former action and laid poor Fitz out in an unconscious condition. Crowley thought he was dead and came down town and gave himself up to Roundsman Frederickson, who investigated.

Meanwhile Fitz came to his senses and Sullivan washed off the blood, which covered his face, at the brook. Then they all departed homeward, to be arrested yesterday on the charge of fighting.

Robert Wallace pleaded guilty and the rest not guilty. The charge was for being drunk and disorderly, quarrelling and fighting and being generally disorderly.

The Judge, after hearing the testimony, decided that they were all guilty. Robert Wallace, he picked as the chief offender, and sent him to jail for sixty days. Patrick Wallace was fined $15, Crowley and Hammill $10, and Fitzpatrick and Sullivan $5. Fitzpatrick appeared in court with his face all cut and scratched while he was so lame from a result of Wallace's blows and kicks that he could hardly walk. The evidence showed that Sullivan was with the crowd but did no fighting.

A Child's Lucky Escape.

While Antonio Narrar, a one year old child, was playing on Front street, Scotch Plains, Saturday afternoon, he was run over by a horse and buggy driven by George Rose. The little fellow fortunately escaped with a cut on the face and a serious fright.

SCRAPS O'ER THE BROOK

MANY DISTURBING ELEMENTS COME UNDER POLICE SURVEILLANCE.

One Man Thumped Over the Head With a Beer Bottle, While Another Is Thrown Into the Street on Account of Board Bill.

Saturday night and Sunday morn there seemed to be many disturbing elements in the North Plainfield atmosphere. Between 11 and 11:30 Saturday night a crowd was congregated in Charles Bock's restaurant on Somerset street. In one of the back rooms were James Conway, of West Fourth street, and Frank VanNest, of the borough. The two became engaged in an argument of some kind, when suddenly there was an outburst and those outside were attracted by the breaking of glass and loud talking. The crowd pressed in toward the back room and saw Conway in a bleeding condition about the head, the result of a severe cut. Young VanNest and his companions made their way toward the front door so as to escape, but before they could get away Marshal Kliner was on the spot and arrested VanNest as the guilty man.

Those present say that VanNest lost his temper in an argument he had with Conway and that he picked up a beer bottle and threw it at Conway, striking him in the head. The lacerated wound bled profusely and most of those present became frightened thinking that Conway was critically injured. VanNest was placed in the borough lockup and Conway was taken to Dr. Boone's office and had his wound dressed. The doctor discovered that the wound was not a serious one, but he was obliged to take several stitches in the laceration. Yesterday morning VanNest was released on bail to appear for trial today.

The second disturbance occurred about 1 o'clock yesterday morning on Race street. Sheridan Jones, colored, lives on the above street and he, too, engaged in an argument regarding a board bill. The war of words grew intensely exciting and when Jones came to his senses he found himself lying in the middle of Race street near his boarding house. Investigation developed the fact that the persons with whom he had disagreed had jumped on him, beat him into insensibility and left him in the roadway. It is said that the marshals know who the violaters of the law are and that they will be arrested soon.

Special Musical Service.

There will be a special musical service at the First Baptist church tomorrow evening, at 8 o'clock. The choir will give the entire cantata by Sir John Stainer, entitled "The Daughter of Jairus," besides other selections. E. J. Fitzhugh will conduct the chorus, and Howard Case will preside at the organ. Miss Harris, soprano; Mrs. Ward, contralto; George W. Smith, tenor; and William Holmes, baritone, will take the solo parts. The service is free to all lovers of sacred music.

Rev. P. S. Gibson, of the Mt. Olive Baptist church, and Rev. William Johnston, of Fillmore Baptist church, expect to leave on Wednesday night to attend the New England Baptist convention in Hartford, Conn.

PINNACLE OF SUMMER EVENTS WAS THE FETE.

Carried Out With a Dash and Completeness That Made it a Magnificient Success.

The Country Home and Grounds of the Fete Champetre's Sponsor, Beautiful by Nature's Touch Alone, Were Charmingly Attractive When Modeled by Mind and Hand in Appropriate Detail by Those Who Had Interested Themselves in the Success of the Affair—A Large Turnout of Patrons and a Consequent Reaping of Profits by the Promoters For Plainfield's Benefit—Those in Charge of the Different Details.

Nature and Plainfield favored the Fete Champetre that was held Saturday afternoon and evening on the lawn surrounding the summer home of the late John Taylor Johnston. It was a success, a complete success, and the hopes of the women of the Town Improvement Association, who labored so hard and so faithfully toward that end were more than realized, while their treasury received a substantial increase that will probably amount to nearly $2,000, if not more.

It was by far the most elaborate outdoor event of the kind ever planned and carried out in Plainfield. Everybody lent a hand and donated their services wherever possible. It combined the efforts of many Plainfield homes, for there was plenty to do and the fact that it was all done so well showed the interest which has been taken in the movement started by some of the progressive women of Plainfield toward improving the appearance of the city. The object of the Fete was to raise sufficient money to put the city park in presentable condition and it succeeded.

Now that a day has elapsed since the last guest bade a lingering farewell to the scene of the Fete, it all seems like a wonderful dream. In the afternoon were the crowds of visitors thronging every part of the grounds, most of them bright in holiday attire, everybody happy and smiling. Around the booths and tables that had been arranged under the trees were clustered the aides, kept busy attending to the wants of the guests. Under the tall evergreen trees that bounded the path in the rear of the house were the tables where the supper and light refreshments were served. The charming waitresses hurried in and out between the animated groups, while a steady stream of visitors passed through to view the other scenes.

Down by the brook all was animation. The boats were a constant attraction and the smooth surface of the little lake was lively with the merry boating parties that dotted it. The colony of Gypsies, that had taken possession of the island, found favor with all, and the rustic bridges that led in that direction across the brook saw many people pass that way. The dances and the singing were all delightful and the listener could hardly believe that he was not in some enchanted land instead of in staid old Plainfield. Curiousity to know the future filled the palmist's tent and there it was laid bare to the eye of the interested ones for a short space. Had there been a dozen palmists they would have been kept busy.

At intervals through the afternoon and all the evening the strains of sweet music were wafted over the lawn from the gaily-decorated bandstand, where the Plainfield Cornet Band, under the charge of Prof. Guttman, was installed. There was the hum of voices, broken now and then by the steady tramp of feet as a detachment of the Plainfield High School cadets marched along the pebbly paths to relieve their sentinels that kept guard about the grounds. The sun shone on the bright barrels of the muskets they carried and was reflected back by the shining swords of the officers. The latter, in their dark blue dress coats and white duck trousers, looked very natty, indeed.

As the shades of night began to fall, hundreds of Japanese lanterns began to shed their soft radiance over the place, while in the trees, surrounding the green, electric lights peeped out like giant fireflies. A monster log fire blazed with fitful gleam in the Gypsy encampment, while flaring torches aided in the illumination of that part of the grounds

As the night advanced, the crowd increased and the tables, on which the ice-cream was served, were filled. The guests strolled about the grounds or rested on some bench to watch the never ceasing procession. Other young people wandered away from the light to retired nooks to watch the Fete from a distance.

The hours passed, the cadet relief marched by, and still the people came and went, while all was activity in the different departments. The moon, though half hidden by thin clouds, chose to be one of the party and and lend her beams to light up the place. Then the visitors began to depart and carriage after carriage rolled away homeward, while the sharp ring of the bicycle bell warned stray pedestrians to look out for the departing wheelmen who had spent the evening at the Fete. The work of clearing up began, the lights were extinguished or allowed to burn out. The policemen, who had stood guard during the day, departed and the Fete Champetre was over. A solitary bullfrog sounded mournfully in the lake and all was quiet in Johnston Park.

Last winter, the Town Improvement Association discussed the plan of improving the condition of the City Park. The spirit was willing, but the treasury was low. Then Mrs. Pierre Mali, the president of the association, offered the use of Johnston Park, her summer home on East Front street, which comprises over a hundred acres of beautiful fields and woodlands, to the association for a gigantic garden party. The idea was a good one and found favor. The offer was accepted with thanks and the Fete Champetre, or rustic feast, was planned. As the time grew near the plans took form and everything went forward. Mrs. Mali was indefatigable in her efforts to bring the Fete to a successful termination, and she was ably second by the other women of the association. The men were interested in the scheme and so all of the best local talent was utilized.

The officers of the association are as follows: President, Mrs. Pierre Mali; vice presidents, Mrs. L. V. F. Randolph and Mrs. A. S. Patterson; recording secretary, Mrs. S. R. Krom; corresponding secretary, Miss Elizabeth Stewart; treasurer, Mrs. Alexander Gilbert.

The committee, which was in charge of the decorations of the entrances, was composed of Mrs. Craig A. Marsh, chairman; Mrs. George Wharton Edwards and Mrs. J. W. Reinhart. The entrance was modeled after two French towers and was designed by George Wharton Edwards, of this city.

The committee in charge of the music was composed of Mrs. J. Kirtland Myers, chairman; Mrs. Pierre Mali, William E. Cock and William N. Runyon.

The press committee, which so successfully accomplished its duty of telling the public about the Fete and its attractions, was composed of Mrs. Benjamin J. Shreve, chairman; Mrs. Florence Howe Hall, Miss Harriet R Shreve and H. P. Reynolds.

The wheelmen were specially provided for at the Fete, the commodious stables beyond the island being converted into a bicycle stable. The wheelmen were directed around the smooth roads to the stables, the road being lighted in the evening with huge headlights. Mrs. D. W. Pond was the committee in charge. William H. Rogers and Charles C. Lister had personal supervision over the bicycle stable and repair shop which was run in connection with it. 250 wheels were checked there.

Mrs. S. R. Krom was a committee to look after the printing of the tickets and menus. The tickets were little circular cards, with cords attached and the visitors were instructed to hang them where they might be seen. So it was that every one had the little green badge except the police and the cadets. The scheme worked very successfully.

Mrs. M. H. Eaton was committee on omnibuses. Stages ran to the grounds from the Y. M. C. A. building so as not to interfere with the hackmen.

The illumination of the grounds was done under the charge of J. Parker Mason. His method was very pleasing and successful. Two hundred electric lights were used, the current being furnished for nothing by the Plainfield Gas and Electric Light Company. The lights were wired in the trees by A. D. Phillips. The Japanese lanterns were of two styles. Some of them were the new French lanterns. Five hundred of the lanterns were used.

The decoration of the boats was done under the charge of Miss Edith Hyde. Flags, bunting and, in the evening, lanterns were used.

The pony carriages, that carried the little tots around the grounds, were under the superintendence of Miss Edith Smalley. Dr. W. H. Murray and William F. Arnold also looked after the safety of the little ones.

The fleet of boats were under the command of John Doull Miller. He had the boat house prettily decorated

SERVICES FOR CHILDREN

FLOWERS, SONGS AND RECITATIONS FILLED THE CHURCHES.

The Annual Custom of Devoting One Sunday in the Year to Special Services for Juveniles Was Appropriately Observed.

GRACE M. E. CHURCH.

The Children's Day exercises at Grace M. E. church yesterday morning were the best ever held at this church. The church was prettily decorated about the platform with choice roses by Andred Wilson who had charge of this part of the programme. The programme as rendered was as follows: Introductory address, Lizzie Hoagland; chorus, "A Garland for Jesus;" recitations, "Give Us a Chance," Arthur Van Arrdale; "Do Your Best," Malcolm Van Arsdale; "The Town of Used to Be," Lottie Benner; "Do All That You Can," Mabel Garey; "The Darling," Mildred Long; "Blooming for Jesus," Jennie DeMott, Anna Hoagland, Pearl Angleman, Ethel Most, Stella Kline, Ethel Noe; "If I Know," Alice DeMott; "Flowers Bring," Alice DeMott, Jennie DeMott, Ethel Noe, Kittie Rutledge, Ethel Most, Grace Titus. A dialogue entitled "The Young People's Republic," was given by Miss Lizzie Hoagland as "Liberty," and the following as stars: Grace Clark, Alice Layton, George Van Arsdale, Mabel Benner, Lillian Haberle, Mabel Loomis. During the service a short address was made by the pastor, Rev. H. J. Johnson, and violin solos were rendered by Clarence Mills. There was also special music by the choir who used for the first time the new anthem books which were received last week. The committee in charge of the exercises consisted of Mrs. Most, Miss Marguerite Schuck and Mrs. A. A. Taft.

TRINITY REFORMED CHURCH.

Children's Day was indeed a pleasant one at Trinity Reformed church. A beautiful floral display was arranged by teachers of the Primary department, Mrs. Reighton, Mrs. Tier, Mrs. Sheppard, Miss Berkaw, Miss Arnold and Miss Grace Smith. The special services were held in the morning and the Primary department, in charge of Superintendent Mrs. J. M. Tier and her assistant, Miss Arnold, marched in the church from the lecture room, passing up the aisles to the front row of seats, reserved for them. After singing by the choir and prayer by the pastor, Albert Yeager, a manly little fellow of the Primary department, welcomed everybody in a little address he had committed to memory. The entire school then sang very acceptably hymn 167. Then followed a recitation entitled "Nellie's Mission Class," in which six misses of the Primary department took part, as follows: Hattie Randall, Hazel Martin, Lena Bohan, Anna Randall, Lucy Corriell, Bessie Randall. This was followed with singing "The Rocky Hilltop" by the Primary department of the school.

At this point a very pleasant digression was made from the programme and the parents of nine little babies presented their children for baptism and dedication to God, the pastor officiating. Following this beautiful sight was a recitation by Anna Holder, entitled "On the Hills of Nazareth."

"A Coronet of Flowers," recitation, by Luella Day, Pauline Buckley Etta Trembley, Gussie Kreitling, Lulu Vail, Pansy Lucy, was then given, followed with more singing by the little people, entitled "Up the Mountain, Down the Valleys." Another recitation by eight little maidens, Bessie Randall, Lulu Vail, Minnie Nischwitz, Gussie Kreitling, Annie Bodine, Emma Yeager, Ida Tier, Mildred Caleen, was greatly enjoyed by all. Pastor Schenck then gave an interesting talk to the little folks, followed with singing by the entire school.

Superintendent Anthony was compelled to remain at home on account of the accident he met with one day last week and he was greatly missed by all. There was a large attendance at both the morning and evening services and the day was thoroughly enjoyed by the scholars and all in attendance.

FIRST M. E. CHURCH.

Children's Day exercises were held in the First M. E. church, yesterday afternoon, by the members of the Sunday-school of that church. The address of welcome was read by Miss Gertrude Anderson. Recitations were given by Gertie Guyer, Helen Whitney, George M. Rittenhouse, Jr., Raymond Lyman, Amy Morcum, Eddie Bingaman, Violet Knight and Helen Joy. An exercise, entitled "Flowers," was given by seven members of the primary department.

"The Young People's Republic" was an exercise that made up the

CLAIM AGAINST PERU

After a Long Delay the McCord Case May Be Settled.

PERUVIAN MINISTER TO ADJUST IT.

The Claimant Was Brutally Treated and Twice Imprisoned, For Which He Asks an Indemnity of $200,000.

New York, June 14.—The famous McCord claim against the government of Peru is about to be settled. At least this is the expectation, based upon the fact that Minister Eguiguren has just started for the United States. A cable dispatch says that the minister bears important documents and special instructions looking to a final adjustment of the claim.

The negotiations have drawn their slow length along for nearly 12 years. In view of the present diplomatic relations between our government and that of Spain in regard to Cuban affairs the McCord case is interesting. It shows what the policy of the United States government is under varying conditions.

Victor H. McCord is a native of Pennsylvania. In 1885, during the revolution in Peru, he was a railroad agent in that country. He was acting superintendent of the Arequipa and Cuzco railroad. He was directed to place a train at the disposal of the Peruvian officers and soldiers and did so. Through the perfidy of the engineer the train was delivered into the hands of the revolutionists.

Was Brutally Treated.

Mr. McCord was at that time a consular agent for the United States. Notwithstanding this, he was thrown into prison and brutally treated. That was in June, 1885. The authorities at Arequipa had not the slightest shadow of proof against him. It was enough that he was in charge of the railroad.

A court was convened, and, without a trial, he was ordered to be shot and was marched out at midnight for execution. But the suggestion of money caused a slight delay. Residents of the city paid $10,000 to the authorities, and Mr. McCord was released.

Mr. McCord stated his case to Mr. Bayard, secretary of state in Mr. Cleveland's first administration. Minister Buck, resident in Lima, reported that at the time of the outrage Peru was in a state of armed revolution, that the prefect, Manuel San Roman, who was charged by Mr. McCord with responsibility for his injuries, was a colonel in the Peruvian army and a revolutionary chieftain.

The perpetrators of the outrage, in December, 1886, referred the matter to the Peruvian government at Lima. The government indorsed the act of violence, thereby making the act its own.

The Peruvian authorities in 1888 again seized Mr. McCord. He was imprisoned in his own office for five days, so that $3,000 might be extorted from him. His captors kept him without food or water for 27 hours. Mr. McCord used a portion of the house of Mr. Thorndike, a New York man, as the offices of the United States consular agency. On Sept. 26, 1888, an armed force seized the offices, closed the consulate and took down the American shield.

Ignored Our Demands.

For these insults to the United States government and indignities to one of its citizens, who was a government official, Minister Buck demanded reparation of the Peruvian government. No notice was taken of the demand.

In the latter part of 1888 Mr. McCord's attorneys filed with the secretary of state a memorial in the shape of a bill in chancery asking our government to demand reparation of Peru, asking for $200,000 indemnity.

About that time there was trouble with Haiti, whose fighting power was vastly inferior to Peru's. Minister Bayard declared:

"The rights of persons and property of American citizens engaged in business in Haiti cannot be permitted to become the football of contesting factions and their evanescent authority, and the protecting arm of the United States will be interposed for their security."

The anomaly was pointed out to Mr. Olney, the secretary of state in Mr. Cleveland's second administration. In January last Mr. Olney sent a cable dispatch to Minister Mackenzie at Lima stating that Mr. McCord's claim must be settled without delay. The dispatch was followed by the United States cruiser Philadelphia, which anchored off Callao. The message and the cruiser seem to have settled the matter.

Terrific Wind and Hail Storm.

Caldwell, O., June 14.—A terrific wind and hail storm passed over this place yesterday afternoon. A number of buildings were unroofed, and hundreds of windows were broken by the hailstones, which were nearly as large as hens' eggs. The roof of the Free Methodist church at Perryopolis was blown off while a meeting was in session, but no one was injured. The hail stripped orchards of their leaves and did an immense amount of damage to crops. But meager information can be secured from points east of here on account of the telegraph lines being down.

Severe Storm In New Hampshire.

Manchester, N. H., June 14.—This city was visited yesterday afternoon by a severe hail and thunder storm. The streets were badly washed out. Lightning struck the First Methodist church in East Manchester and practically destroyed the tower. The Sunday school session was in progress at the time, and there was an unusually large attendance. The pastor and assistants barely avoided a panic.

To Inspect Land For New Park.

Albany, June 14.—The state fisheries, forest and game commission will leave on Wednesday to inspect the land offered for sale for the new St. Lawrence park, to form a portion of the international park which the state and Canada are establishing along that river. There are 40 individual offers for the sale of this land, aggregating some 2,000 acres.

Damaged by a Cyclone.

Kingston, Jamaica, June 14.—A cyclone has struck St. Vincent island of the Windward group, seriously damaging some of the public buildings, injuring a number of persons at Georgetown, capsizing a sloop and drowning three of the crew.

TRIED TO KILL FAURE

A Bomb Thrown at the French President In His Carriage.

TWO MEN ARRESTED ON SUSPICION.

The Perpetrator Is Supposed to Have Been an Insane Man—The Crowd Attacks and Roughly Handles a Policeman, Thinking Him the Culprit.

Paris, June 14.—An attempt was made yesterday to assassinate M. Felix Faure, the president of the French republic, while he was en route to Longchamps to witness the Grand Prix.

While M. Faure's carriage was passing a thicket near La Cascade restaurant in the Bois de Boulogne, a bomb, which subsequently proved to be a piece of tubing about 6 inches long and 2 inches in diameter, with a thickness of half an inch, charged with powder and swan shot, exploded.

No one was injured by the explosion. A man in the crowd suspected as the prime mover was arrested. He gave his name as Gallet and made only the briefest replies to questions put to him by the police.

Gallet said that he had no occupation but resided at Lovallois-Perrot. The police are making a thorough search of his lodging.

He is believed to be insane, for he shouted as the carriage passed along so loudly as to attract general attention in the crowd. The police have also made another arrest, in this case a youth, but it is thought probable that the actual culprit escaped in the thicket.

The news of the attempt spread like wildfire through the city, and when M. Faure returned to the Elysee the streets along the route where it was known he would drive were crowded with people who cheered him vociferously.

It was at first reported that the would be assassin was a young man about 25, who stood in the crowd 100 yards or more from the race course and discharged a pistol at M. Faure as he drove up to the entrance, and there was a subsequent report that both pistol and bomb were used, but the police now believe that the supposed pistol shot was merely the noise of the bomb.

The Bomb a Clumsy Affair.

The bomb was a clumsily made affair, to which a piece of fuse was attached, and the fuse was probably lighted by a taper fixed in the end of a stick as soon as the head of the procession came into view. The presumption is that the moment the fuse was lighted the culprit fled, and in any case the bomb could not have done much harm.

In the thicket where the police found the remnants of the bomb they found also a pistol upon which were engraved the words "Mort a Felix Faure" and the names "Alsace-Lorraine" and "Cologne." Near the pistol was a small dagger, bearing a similar threatening inscription, and a few feet away the police found a newspaper, with a cartoon grossly insulting to the president. This contained an offensive inscription hinting at the execution of M. Faure.

Several persons have stated to the police that the moment the explosion occurred a man was seen to run swiftly into the thicket, but reports of this character are more likely to be mere conjecture.

A press correspondent had an interview with an official who was riding with M. Faure, who said:

"When the report was heard, a dense cloud of smoke rose from the thicket, and there was terrible consternation until it was found that no one had been injured. The police sprang forward, but found the thicket deserted.

"When the crowd saw one of the policeman holding the bomb, they jumped to the conclusion that he was the perpetrator of the outrage and handled him roughly, clubbing him with heavy walking sticks and umbrellas until his comrades rescued him, badly bruised and covered with blood. The president's cortege then proceeded to the race course."

The attempt on the life of M. Faure was made on the very spot where Berezowsky tried to shoot the czar while driving to the military review at Longchamps in 1867 and where Francois, a lunatic, last year fired his revolver at M. Faure, on July 14.

Having this in mind, the police took extra precautions. Special officers were detailed to watch suspects and for searching houses known to be the resort of dangerous characters.

On his arrival at the race course M. Faure was warmly congratulated on his escape by the Grand Duke Sergius, M. Hanotaux and other members of the cabinet.

His sang froid will greatly increase his popularity. Some of the papers assert that Rousteaux, the detective, actually saw the man who threw the bomb and grappled with him, but was unable to hold him in the melee. It is also rumored that the prefect of police has information connecting the Paris anarchists with the outrage, but it is more generally believed that the act was that of a madman and not of a conspirator. The pistol found by the police was loaded, but was of too small a caliber to be very dangerous.

Something to Know.

It may be worth something to know that the very best medicine for restoring the tired out nervous system to a healthy vigor is Electric Bitters. This medicine is purely vegetable, acts by giving tone to the nerve centres in the stomach, gently stimulates the Liver and Kidneys, and aids these organs in throwing off impurities in the blood. Electric Bitters improves the appetite, aids digestion, and is pronounced by those who have tried it as the very best blood purifier and nerve tonic. Try it. Sold for 50c or $1.00 per bottle at L. W. Randolph's Drug Store.

—Next Sunday morning, the pastor, Rev. Cornelius Schenck, Ph. D., will preach his tenth anniversary sermon as pastor of Trinity Reformed church.

The Grandest Remedy.

Mr. R. B. Greeve, merchant, of Chilhowie, Va., certifies that he had consumption, was given up to die, sought all medical treatment that money could procure, tried all cough remedies he could hear of, but got no relief; spent many nights sitting up in a chair; was induced to try Dr. King's New Discovery, and was cured by use of two bottles. For past three years has been attending to business, and says Dr. King's New Discovery is the grandest remedy ever made, as it has done so much for him and also for others in his community. Dr. King's New Discovery is guaranteed for Coughs, Colds and Consumption. It don't fail. Trial bottles free at L. W. Randolph's drug store. Regular size 50 cents and $1.00.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Mr. Shepard, of Somerville, is a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. S Thatcher, of New street.

Mr. Isaac Horner, proprietor of the Burton House, Burton, W. V., and one of the most widely known men in the state was cured of rheumatism after three years of suffering. He says: "I have not sufficient command of language to convey any idea of what I suffered, my physicians told me that nothing could be done for me and my friends were fully convinced that nothing but death would relieve me of my suffering. In June 1894, Mr. Evens, then salesman fo the Wheeling Drug Co., recommended Chamberlain's Pain Balm. At this time my foot and limb were swollen to more than double their normal size and it seemed to me my leg would burst, but soon after I began using the Pain Balm the swelling began to decrease, the pain to leave, and now I consider that I am entirely cured." For sale by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

Albert Baldwin and wife, of Jersey City, spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Van Emburgh, East Second street.

"There's no use in talking," says W. H. Broadwell, druggist, La Cygne, Kas., "Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy does the work. After taking medicines of my own preparation and those of others, I took a dose of Chamberlain's and it helped me; a second dose cured me. Candidly and conscientiously I can recommend it as the best thing on the market." The 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

—The Epworth League of Grace M. E. church will join the League of the First M. E. church on their bicycle run to Metuchen this evening.

Hundreds of thousands have been induced to try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy by reading what it has done for others, and having tested its merits for themselves are to-day its warmest friends. For sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

—The Sunday-school of Trinity Reformed church will commence their morning sessions, instead of afternoon, as now, next Sunday morning at 9:30.

A. H. Patter, with E. C. Atkins & Co., Indianapolis, Ind., writes: "I have never before given a testimonial in my life. But I will say that for three years we have never been without Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy in the house, and my wife would as soon think of being without flour as a bottle of this Remedy in the summer season. We have used it with all three of our children and it has never failed to cure—not simply stop pain, but cure absolutely. It is all right, and anyone who tries it will find it so." For sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

SENATE'S PROGRAMME.

What Will Occupy Congress During the Week.

Washington, June 14.—The sugar schedule of the tariff bill is expected to continue to be the subject of consideration in the senate for the next day or two. The Hawaiian treaty and anti-trust amendments are still to be disposed of, and both will excite considerable debate. With the sugar question settled the agricultural schedule, which has been partially considered, will be again taken up and will in turn be followed by the tobacco schedule, if in the meantime the Republicans agree upon its provisions. The Republican managers hope to also dispose of the spirit and cotton schedules during the week and possibly to make some progress with the hemp and flax provisions.

There will be no great amount of debate on either cotton or spirits. There was at one time talk of an attempt to add compensatory duties on cotton goods because of the duty fixed on raw cotton, but this is understood to have been abandoned, if ever seriously contemplated. The Democrats do not find the present schedule objectionable except in minor details and will allow it to go through with but little discussion.

The Republican managers now hope that the debate in the senate will be concluded within the next two weeks, notwithstanding less than one-third of the bill has been gone over. They have secured an agreement with the Democrats that the sessions shall begin at 11 o'clock each day instead of 12 after Wednesday next.

The house probably will continue its policy of adjourning from Monday over to Thursday and from Thursday until the following Monday. No business will be done, and the sessions today and Thursday will be only perfunctory.

A WILL CONTEST.

The Estate of the Spite House Builder Will Be Fought Over.

New York, June 14.—The $30,000,000 estate of Joseph Richardson, the eccentric millionaire whose funeral took place on Friday, will be divided only after a contest. This promises to be one of the most notable fights over an estate on record in the American courts.

No formal notice of contest has been filed, but the two children of the millionaire, through their lawyers, have offered for probate a will made by Joseph Richardson on Oct. 29, 1894. Another will, bearing date of April 24, 1897, was read in the presence of the beneficiaries Friday evening at the "spite house," in which Richardson died. The latter will will be offered for probate by Mayo W. Hazeltine and Thomas Darlington, attorneys for Mrs. Richardson.

In the 1894 will Richardson made no provision for his wife. His son, George Richardson of Bridgeport, Conn., and his daughter, Miss Della Richardson, are given the entire estate. By the last will each of the children is given one-third of the estate after two small bequests to the Rev. Henry M. Warren and the Central Park Baptist church are paid, while the widow is given the other third.

A legacy of $10,000,000 each from their father seems to have proved disappointing to George and Della Richardson, and they will endeavor through the courts to obtain $5,000,000 more each. They have retained Miller, Peckham & Dixon, and Wheeler H. Peckham will devote himself personally to the fight. The result can only be a will contest compared with which nearly every other contest in the history of American courts will seem insignificant.

A STUPENDOUS CLAIM.

How a Money Lender's Son Wants His Father's Estate Settled.

San Francisco, June 14.—Asa W. Fisk of Boston, son of the late noted money lender of this city by a former marriage, has brought suit to have his father's estate held in trust until certain claims, amounting to $1,099,064, have been settled. Fisk says that when his father left Boston in the early days to come to California he took with him the claimant's savings, amounting to $187.50.

He alleges that this formed the basis for the money lender's fortune and that it was agreed that the money should be invested in the son's favor. The latter claims that this money, loaned out at the rate of interest usually charged by his deceased father, would now amount to $954,368. He makes a further claim against the estate for $144,696, which he says his father lost by injudicious investments in Tacoma lands. The claimant was cut off in his father's will, hence the action.

CONDENSED TELEGRAMS

Secretary Long has amended the rules relative to the employment of labor in the navy yards so as to favor in appointments the veterans of the late war.

The boiler of a locomotive exploded at St. Johns, N. F., killing Engineer Glasgow, whose terribly mutilated body was found over 100 feet away. The fireman and a brakeman were frightfully scalded.

The strike of the iron molders at the General Electric company's river works at Lynn, Mass., that has been in effect since Oct. 16, 1895, has been declared off by the Lynn lodge of Iron and Brass Molders' International union.

It is announced that a new volcano has broken out about two-thirds of a mile from Tehuantepec, Mexico. In the seismic disturbance incidental to the opening of the volcano the village of Mistiquilla was destroyed. The fatalities, if any, are not reported.

J. M. Matthews, of Wesson, Miss., was found dead in bed at Washington. He was a candidate for United States marshal for the southern district of Mississippi and was chairman of the Mississippi delegation at the St. Louis convention. Death was due to apoplexy.

During a heavy thunder shower at Attleboro, Mass., the steeple of the Second Congregational church was struck by lightning and badly damaged. The church was filled with children at the time, but no one was injured. The fire department was called out to remove the debris of the shattered steeple.

A Large Schooner Launched.

Cleveland, June 14.—The steel schooner Polynesia, sister ship of the Amazon, which recently took out of Chicago the largest grain cargo ever carried on the lakes, has been launched. The Polynesia, which is owned by James Corrigan, is 388 feet in length and has a capacity of 5,000 tons on a draft of 16 feet.

STATE PRINTING BIDS

Lively Times Expected at Albany When They Are Put In.

CHARGES OF IRRESPONSIBILITY MADE

Some of the Firms Said to Be Ready to Mandamus the Board to Keep It From Letting the Contract to Others.

Albany, June 14.—There promises to be a lively time at the meeting of the state printing board tomorrow, when the contract will be let for doing the legislative printing for two years. The present state printers, Wynkoop, Hallenbeck & Crawford of New York city, have been the subject of attack for some time by the other printing concerns formerly doing state printing. Claims were made that the state was being systematically robbed, and a libel suit, in which it is claimed sensational developments will be brought to light, is now pending.

The bids that the board will consider tomorrow are made by The Argus company, The Journal company, Weed & Parsons Printing company and the Wynkoop, Hallenbeck, Crawford company of Albany, and Charles Tollmer, Jr., of Brooklyn.

Some of the Bidding.

Figuring on the bids shows Charles Tollmer's bid to be the lowest, in the neighborhood of $72,000. The next lowest bid is that of the Wynkoop, Hallenbeck, Crawford company, the present state printers, at about $77,000. Mr. Tollmer's bid is about $4,000 less than the price at which the contract was let last year.

The law calls for the awarding of the contract to the lowest responsible bidder, without any other discretion, by the board, and upon this hinges the statement that some of the other bidders will mandamus the board to keep it from letting the contract to either Tollmer or the Wynkoop company on the grounds of irresponsibility, and that the bids are below market value and consequently not to be relied upon.

It is said that the Tollmer bid will be withdrawn, Tollmer being an employee of the Wynkoop company, and the bid being merely a blind.

Fatal Fight Over a Game.

Plainfield, N. J., June 14.—Two Italians, Frank Cresso and James Dato, got into a dispute over a game of cards at the "shanty," a notorious Italian resort about a mile from here, and ended the matter by a fierce fight with knives. Both men are now at the hospital, and it is stated that they will in all probability die. They both received some bad slashes. One of the men was severely stabbed in the groin, and the other had a lung perforated. The men lost so much blood by the time they reached the hospital that their condition was very low.

Will Declared a Forgery.

San Francisco, June 14.—Judge Coffey has rendered a sensational decision in connection with the contest over the estate of the late Dr. Charles A. James of this city, holding that an alleged marriage contract under which a young woman named Laura Millen laid claim to half of the estate, was a forgery and that her child was not the child of the decedent as she claimed in order to secure the rest of the estate. The estate, which is valued at about $50,000, will be distributed among the eastern heirs.

A Phenomenal Hailstorm.

Cincinnati, June 14.—A special from Parkersburg, W. Va., says: A phenomenal hailstorm has occurred here on the line of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad east of this city. The storm showered broken ice from 2 to 3 inches long and an inch thick with such force that forest trees were denuded as completely as in midwinter, and crops were totally destroyed for many miles, and horses, cattle and sheep became frantic and uncontrollable from fright and pain.

An Appeal In the Fair Case.

San Francisco, June 14.—Notice of appeal to the supreme court has been filed by Van R. Paterson, representing minor heirs, and by J. S. Angus, T. C. Rothers and W. S. Goodfellow, trustees, from the decision rendered in the superior court on April 15 last in favor of Teresa Oelrich, Virginia and Charles Fair, decreeing the partial distribution of certain properties to the James G. Fair estate.

Princeton's Best Men.

Princeton, N. J., June 14.—Princeton senior class statistics have been compiled and announced as follows: Handsomest man, H. C. Brokaw; best football player, W. W. Church; best baseball player, Jerome Bradley; best all round athlete, Fred J. Smith; funniest man, Lady Jayne; best musician, Luke Miller; best all around man, Albert Tyler.

Cleveland's Degree.

Princeton, N. J., June 14.—In reference to the rumor that an honorary degree of L.L. D. will be conferred upon Grover Cleveland next Wednesday the university authorities are reticent in giving information, and a confirmation or denial cannot be obtained. It is the prevailing opinion among the professors and students that the report is true.

Death of an Old Dartmouth Graduate.

Clinton, Mass., June 14.—Charles G. Stevens, 75 years old, has died here of old age. He was a native of New Hampshire and graduated from Dartmouth college in 1840. He was a judge in the law courts of eastern Worcester county for a number of years and has represented the town in both branches of the legislature.

Shot by a Negro Tramp.

Westfield, Mass., June 14.—Freight Conductor Henry Hoisington was shot in the face here by a negro tramp whom he had warned from his train. The negro fired one shot, which broke the conductor's jaw. Search was made for the assailant, but he made his escape in the darkness.

Boiled While Alive.

Brooklyn, June 14.—John Carey, 44 years old, of 237 Nassau avenue, fell into a tank of boiling water in the Kings County Oil works and was fatally boiled.

SUCCESS OF THE FETE CHAMPETRE.

The women of the Town Improvement Association fairly outdid themselves with their Fete Champetre. It was grand, original and pleasurable, in every essential a complete success Even the most enthusiastic promoters of the event did not anticipate that it would result in such a conglomeration of spectacular and entertaining effects as was realized and commented upon by the Democratic assemblage who gathered there to enjoy the details as well as to unconsciously contribute their share to the kaleidoscopic picture of life and gayety observed on the broad and finely-cared-for lawns of Mrs. Pierre Mali—the Fete Champetre's sponsor. True, it was only due to the generous and energetic efforts of all concerned in the organization that the event came to such a success, but Mrs. Mali seemed to be the moving spirit and to her, if anybody, distinguished mention should be given in connection with words of credit for the achievement of that of which is to be for the benefit of Plainfield people.

REPUBLICANS BEGIN TO STIR.

The Republicans of Union county are beginning to wake up after the rest that followed the national election and are now preparing again to take the field. The county committee held a meeting Saturday afternoon, and organized. Charles N. Codding, of Westfield, was chosen president, H. F. Crane, of Union, vice president, Charles Reed, of Rahway, was made secretary, and Samuel Ogden, of Elizabeth, treasurer. Ed Woodruff, of Elizabeth, and J. W. Murray, Jr., were made the Republican members of the County Board of Canvassers.

WANTS $3,000 FOR ALLEGED ASSAULT.

John Keeley Brings Suit Against William Callaham—Both Hackmen.

Two well known hackmen of this city are now involved in a lawsuit in the Supreme Court of New Jersey, the papers for which were filed in Trenton, today. The suit is to recover damages for an alleged assault.

Swackhamer & Williams started a suit today for their client, John Keeley, against William Callahan for $3,000. The suit is to recover damages for an assault, which Keeley alleges was committed last February. He claims that there were some words between the two at the North Avenue station and that Callahan started for him and assaulted him with the stock of a whip, beating him almost insensible. Callahan denies that anything of the kind occurred. He is represented in the case by McNabb & Clark.

Caught at Last.

Last November, an Italian named Joe Long was arrested for stealing chickens of Evan Jones. He was held in $50 bail and jumped the bail. Yesterday, Patrolman Myers met Joe on the street and suggested that they take a walk to see the chief. Joe consented and they reached Berkman street safely when the Italian fled without warning. Myers was close behind and soon overhauled Joe. The Italian was locked up. When he was searched a razor was found upon him. This morning Joe was arraigned before the City Judge charged was carrying concealed weapons. He admitted that he had been and was fined $15. The charge for stealing was allowed to drop.

Didn't Support His Children.

George Whiteley was brought up before City Judge DeMeza again this morning on the charge of non-support of his two children, one in Bayonne and one here. He was committed to jail in default of the payment of the money due them.

$100 REWARD, $100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address F. J. SERVICES FOR CHILDREN

second part of the services. Those taking part in it were Ray T. Snodgrass, Roland Horne, Elmer Cattin, and the Misses Etta Raybert, Cora Shepard, Flora Campbell and Edna Harris.

The church was prettily decorated with daisies and roses.

CRESCENT AVENUE CHURCH.

A special children's service was held in the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church yesterday morning The pulpit was tastefully decorated with flowers. A large choir of children's voices led the singing, and the pastor, Rev Dr. Wm. R. Richards, preached an eloquent sermon on the significance and the opportunities of childhood. At the close of the sermon an offering was taken for Sabbath school missionary work. At half past 2 o'clock the children gathered in the Sunday school room and enjoyed a service of song and responsive readings. Superintendent Murray read a letter of greeting to the children from Dr. James A. Worden, of the Presbyterian Board of Sabbath school Work, and another letter from a boy in Utah, whom the school is helping to educate. A short address was made by Rev. Dr. Livermore, of New Market. The scholars then presented their mite boxes containing offerings for Sabbath school missions, and the pastor dismissed the school with a benediction.

ALL SOULS' CHURCH.

Children's Day was appropriately observed in All Souls' church, yesterday. At the regular morning service the pulpit platform and desk were banked up with roses, peonies and daisies, and overhead running vines were prettily festooned. Before the sermon, eight little children were baptized. The handsome silver baptismal bowl, which was used in the service for the first time, was a gift the church. Upon its side is engraved the following inscription: "To the Glory of God and in loving memory of Mrs. Sarah Stout, a benefactor of All Souls' church. Died, April 7, 1896." Much pleasant interest was aroused by the fact that Kenneth Safford Gaston, the first child to be baptized, is the son of the first couple who were married in the church. The pastor, Rev. A. C. Nickson, preached an appropriate sermon on "The Religion of Little Children."

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

At the First Presbyterian church, yesterday morning, the Children's Day exercises were held, and the Primary Department took a prominent part in the programme. There were several recitations and the members rendered a number of special songs. A feature was the reading of Dr. Worden's annual letter relative to mission work. Miss Grace Overton read the letter in a very pleasing manner. The pastor, Rev. C. E. Herring, made an appropriate address which the children all enjoyed as well as the older ones. The singing of special music by the entire school was a pleasing feature. During the service a pretty duet was rendered by Miss Charlotte Messersmith and Miss Kittie Glen. Altogether the service was one of the best yet presented and all in attendance fully enjoyed it.

PARK AVENUE BABTIST CHURCH.

There was no regular session of the Sunday-school of the Park Avenue Baptist church, yesterday, the Children's Day exercises being held in the morning in place of the regular morning service. The address of welcome was given by Miss Nellie Giles. There were also recitations by the Misses Marion Shotwell, Retta Nash, Delise Purdy and Marion Dickenson The pastor of the church, Rev. J. W. Richardson, made the address of the morning, which was of an appropriate character. The church was tastefuly decorated with roses and daisies, banked about the desk and platform.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH.

Children's Day service was held in the Congregational church, yesterday. The decorations were chiefly of daisies and roses, and were unusually tasteful. The primary department assembled in their own room, and marched to their place directly in front of the pulpit, with flowers in their hands, and singing "Here we come, here we come over hill and dale." The service included the christening of several little children, the presentation of Bibles to baptized children who had reached the age of seven years, a quartette by the choir a tenor solo by Robert Clark, songs by the school, under the leadership of the precentor, Frank O. Bristol, and the graduation of a class from the primary department. The class includes Edna Conde, Maud Emmons, Myra Emmons, Edith Glaentzer, Annie Jerolman, Eddie Grant, Arthur Robinson and Carl Steiner, but only five were present. These marched upon the platform, repeated the "Shepherd Psalm," the Creed, and the Lord's prayer, listened to a short address from the pastor, Rev. Charles Lyman Goodrich, and were presented with testaments, the gift of the school.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH.

The special services at the First Baptist church were held in the morning. The exercises by the children preceded the regular church service, when a short but pleasing programme was presented consisting of welcome address, by Jerry Manning; vocal trio, "What the Birdies Teach;" recitation, "The Seed is the Word," Beulah Van Winkle; chorus, "While Sabbath Bells," by the Primary Department. The regular service then followed and there was special music by the church choir with vocal solos by Miss Harris, Mrs. Ward, William Holmes and G. W. Smith. There was an interesting and appropriate sermon by the pastor, Rev. Dr. Yerkes. The decorations were pretty and the flowers used were from the conservatories of C. W. McCutchen and L. W. Serrell.

MT. OLIVE BAPTIST CHURCH.

The following programme was presented by the Sunday-school at the Mt. Olive Baptist church, yesterday afternoon: "The Child's Creed," primary department, recitation, Orabella Gibson; song, Anna Fisher; recitations, Edna Scudder, Ethel Kline, Ella Phillips, Etta Kingston, Sadie Doyle, Annie Connett and Anna Ross; addresses, Rev. Dr. Yerkes and Rev. P. S. Gibson; song, primary department. The primary department was in charge of Miss May E. Howlett, superintendent, and the general exercises were in charge of Superintendent M. C. Dobbins. At the close a handsome bouquet of roses was presented to the superintendent by the Sunday-school.

WARREN CHAPEL.

Appropriate and interesting were the exercises held at Warren chapel yesterday afternoon under the auspices of the Sunday-school. The programme was as follows: Singing by the school and primary department; address, Rev. Dr. W. R. Richards, telling of Miss Rachel Maier's work in Africa; recitations, "'Tis Such a Beautiful Story," Mamie Squires; "Jesus Loves Little Children." Edith Squires; "My Work," Pauline Smith, Anna Herlitz, Maggie Maier, May Seader, Ida Wilson, Lottie Brown; "The Children's Mission," primary department; reading of letter from Miss Rachel Maier, of Africa, to the members of Warren chapel, Superintendent Lovell; address by the pastor, Rev. J. O. McKelvey. The collection for Foreign Missions amounted to $18.35.

DEATH OF ALBERT A. DRAKE.

Passing of a Prominent Westfield Man From This World.

Albert A. Drake, an old and well known resident of Westfield, died at his home in that place at 4 o'clock yesterday morning, after a two weeks' illness. Last Sunday an operation was performed by the attending physicians, Drs. Cooper, of Westfield, and Green, of Elizabeth. It was generally supposed that his condition was improving, until the announcement of his death was made. Mr. Drake was in the 64th year of his age, and is survived by a wife and one daughter. Mrs. Drake is a sister of Mrs. Joseph W. Sandford, of West Seventh street, this city.

Mr. Drake was born in New York city. After receiving his education he entered as clerk in a wholesale grocery. He afterward went into the office of his brother, forming a partnership under the firm name of J. M. Drake & Co. During the war he was made captain of Company G, 37th New York State Volunteers. He had a handsome estate of about 50 acres in Westfield. He was an organizer of the Westfield Athletic Club and a member of the New York Stock Exchange. The funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock at his late residence in Westfield.

Mr. and Mrs. John Paul Dorst, of Millbrook, Conn., have removed to Plainfield, where they will take up their residence with Mrs. Dorst's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hand, of East Fifth street.

WESTFIELD

TWO MORE VICTORIES.

WESTFIELD BASEBALL TEAMS DOWN STELTON AND CRANFORD.

Local Enthusiasts Saw a Fine Game at Drake Park, Saturday, in Which the Home Players Won, 7 to 3—Children's Day.

Westfield baseball enthusiasts will long remember last Saturday as a red letter day. It marks the defeat of the strong Stelton Athletic Club team by the Westfield Club nine on the home grounds, by the score of 7 to 3. The contest was an exciting one and its final result could not be foretold at any time during the game. Westfield started off finely with three runs in the first. The Steltons scored no runs until the ninth when they managed to get one man to the home plate. In the eighth two more runs were scored by the visitors, making the score a tie on uneven innings. In the last half of the eighth, Westfield pounded the ball hard and brought in four runs. Higging then went into the box and retired the Steltons' batters in one, two, three order, giving the game to Westfield by the score of 7 to 3 on uneven innings.

Children's Day was celebrated in the Westfield churches with appropriate services yesterday. The churches were all decorated with flowers. Baptism of children took place, and special sermons to children were preached, with recitations and songs by the Sunday school pupils.

UNDER HORSE'S HOOFS.

Dangerous Fall of a Bicyclist on a Slippery Roadway.

An accident occurred on Park avenue, near Second street, this morning in which Mr. Chamberlain, of Madison avenue, on a wheel, and Eldridge Kline, colored, in a wagon, were the principals. Mr. Chamberlain's wheel slipped in the mud and water which was in abundance, and both he and the wheel went under the horse's feet. In the fall Mr. Chamberlain's face came in contact with the hind feet of the horse and was badly scratched and scarred. He was picked up and taken to Armstrong's pharmacy where his wounds were dressed. Later he was taken home. Mr. Kline, who drives for Mr. Work, of 407 West Seventh street, is not blamed by those who saw the accident for he was driving slow and made no attempt to run into Mr. Chamberlain.

Spoke on "Sowing and Reaping."

The Salvation Army hall was well filled last night with an appreciative audience to hear J. W. Pierce, the picture evangelist. He spoke very forcibly on "Sowing and Reaping," and also very beautifully illustrated the life scenes of Jesus from the manger to the throne. The phonograph also gave an interesting sacred recital. Mr. Pierce will give tonight an illustrated lecture on "Our Flag and its Friends and Foes," giving many scenes of the late war. He will give a patriotic address.

CYCLE COASTERS HURT.

Glenside Hill, the road leading up the mountain from Scotch Plains, was the scene, Saturday and yesterday, of three more coasting accidents.

Two women cyclers whose names were kept a secret attempted, on Saturday afternoon, to coast down the steep declivity and were thrown from their wheels and injured so badly that they were taken in carriages to a physician to be patched up. One of a party of three wheelmen, from Elizabeth, attempted the same coasting feat upon the hill yesterday, and when about half way down was flung to the side of the road, striking upon his head and cutting it badly. With the aid of his friends he managed to reach the Fanwood station where he took the 4:57 train for Elizabeth, a sadder and a wiser man.

To Remain at the Hospital.

Miss Emma R. Hartranft completed on Saturday her two years' course in the Training School for Nurses at Muhlenberg Hospital. But for the present she will remain at the Hospital, the managers having secured her services as graduate nurse to take special care of the operating room. Miss Hartranft's selection is a well-deserved compliment to her, and at the same time the arrangement is an advantage to the medical staff as thereby they make sure of the scientific care and service in the operating room which is deemed essential to modern surgery.

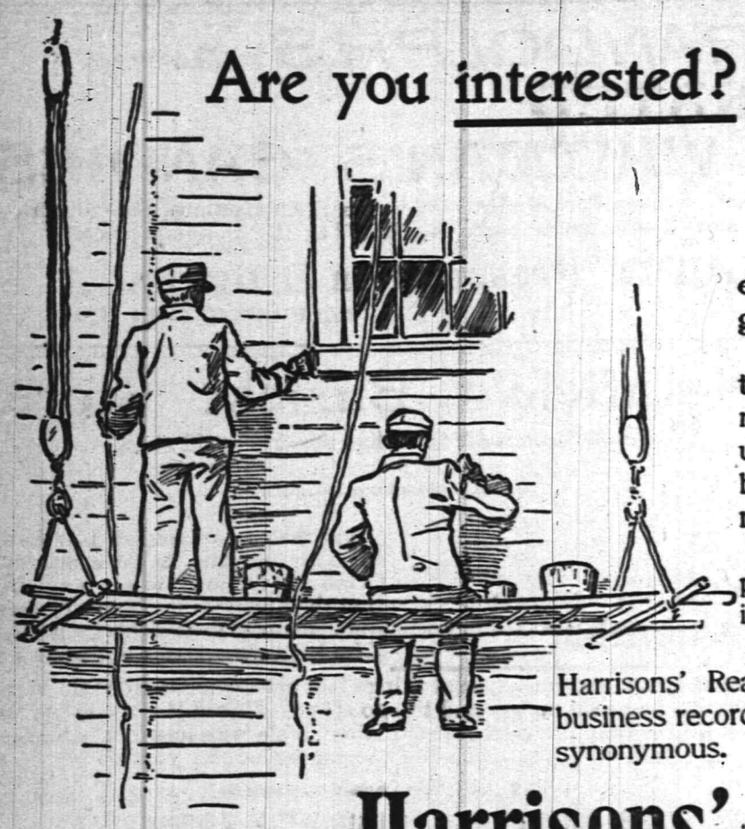
Next door to Music Hall.

Are you interested?



Are you going to paint this season?

Have you solved the question of paint economy—and does ready-mixed paint suggest itself?

You are prepared to admit that its advantages over the product of the primitive mixing-tub are cleanliness, lack of waste, uniformity of color and consistency of body, but the uncertainty of its material—that's the rub!

Cheap pigments, where white lead is replaced by whiting, have shaken public faith in ready-mixed paints.

No experiment is made when buying Harrisons' Ready-Mixed Paints. They are backed by a business record that has made "Harrison" and "Honesty" synonymous.

Harrisons' READY "TOWN AND COUNTRY" MIXED Paints

1793 H 1897

Are the product of a house that has been continuously in the manufacture of paint for one hundred and four years, and continued success is due to the employment of able talent, the highest grade of material and the best manufacturing facilities. The Harrison Ready-Mixed Paints are made only of the finest quality of white lead, zinc white and linseed oil, with the requisite coloring material, and this of such fine quality and strength as to insure by the use of the least quantity the standard shades or tints of greatest brilliancy. By a special invention absolute uniformity of shade is maintained. We claim for this paint maximum durability under severe exposures—as at the seashore; good and free working qualities under the brush—in short, the working qualities demanded by a thorough practical painter; a large percentage of white lead that will keep indefinitely without becoming fatty or otherwise spoiling—any other paint containing white lead in any considerable quantity and keeping well in dealers' hands is not known to the manufacturers. The trade-mark "H" in red is on every can.

ALDERMEN IN BELGIUM.

They Would be Voted Slow by American Municipal Experts.

My guide of varied accomplishments combined, as business men abroad often do, the roles of country gentleman, manufacturer, bank president, school trustee, and—broadening the gulf between this kind and the typical American "boss"—he holds the more important position of alderman. In every city the alderman and mayor, or burgomaster, are of high social repute, elected to office because of special fitness for the branch of public affairs they are chosen to manage. Said one, with horror and shame: "We hear that in America aldermen are sometimes—thieves!" The first "alderman of public instruction" to whom I presented my credentials in a Brussels commune proved to be a barrister of note, author of several well-known law treatises. In another commune the alderman of public instruction is professor at the normal school, progressive and public spirited. The alderman responsible for the Ghent schools fills also the chair of political economy at the university, keeps in touch with the methods of other nations, reads the reports of the United States department of labor, and, much to my surprise, identified me at once from having seen my name in one of those volumes. The faculty of the university at Liege has more than one representative in the "college" of aldermen—a suggestive title, losing none of the dignity when applied to the body of brilliant men who administer civic affairs with scrupulous fidelity on broad, wise lines.—Harper's Magazine.

The Whipping Post.

Prior to our Revolution a whipping-post stood in Philadelphia, at the southeast corner of Third and Market streets. They were also to be found in most other American cities at that time. The pillory, which usually accompanied the whipping of criminals, was regarded as a species of public entertainment. The rabble evinced such pleasure in pelting the the culprits with eggs, vegetables, and clods that Watson, in his historical annals of Philadelphia, declared that, inasmuch as these punishments were inflicted only on market days, the price of eggs was then systematically higher than common.

Two centuries ago these punishments were frequently accompanied by the barbarity of slitting the nostrils or clipping the ears of the worst offenders. Afterward the Sheriff usually held up the excised fragments of the ears to the gaze and vociferous applause of the multitude. We have no record indicating that nose or ear-splitting ever prevailed in America, but instead thereof the pitiless pelting of the offenders with mud or eggs was a universal custom bequeathed to us by Old England, and practiced until the date af the revolutionary war. —The Cosmopolitan.

Where the Charge Took Place.

"When you were in the war, did you ever take part in a charge?"

"Frequently."

"And what were your thoughts at the time?"

"That the beans would be all gone before I got there. The charges were invariably upon the cook-house, you know."—Boston Transcript.

THE NEGRO MOSES.

$40,000 Reward offered by Slave ..ers, for Her Capture.

Mrs. Harriet Tubman, once called the "Moses of her people," and for whose head slave-owners offered a reward of $40,000, is in Boston. She was born about 1820, in Maryland, and was the granddaughter of a slave brought from Africa. About 1844 she married a free colored man named John Tubman, but had no children. During the last two years of her slavery she lived in the family of Dr. Thompson. In 1849 the man to whom she belonged died, and by the provisions of the will the slaves were to be set free. His wishes, however, were disregarded, and arrangements were made to dispose of them in the usual way. Previous to the sale, Mrs. Tubman made her escape and reached Philadelphia where she found work and earned money. With this she traveled back to Maryland for her husband, but found that he had married again. Between 1850 and 1860 she made no less than nineteen trips to the South, and spirited away more than 300 slaves. Her work in aiding fugitive slaves enraged the slave-owners, and every effort was made to apprehend her. A reward of $40,000 was finally offered by them for her, either dead or alive. On this account she was able to do but little towards assisting her people between 1852 and 1857. At the breaking out of the war she was sent to the front by Governor Andrew of Massachusetts to act as a spy and scout for the Union armies, and to work in the hospital. This she did for four years without remuneration. She was with the Fifty-Fourth Massachusetts.—Boston Transcript.

If we all came early to avoid the rush we would find it there ahead of us.

Executor's Sale
OF Valuable Real Estate.

In order to settle up the estate of James Jackson, deceased, the undersigned executor will sell at public auction on the 17th Day of June, A. D. 1897,

AT 3 P. M., AT
Carey's Auction Rooms, 324 West Front Street, the following valuable pieces of real estate.

First Tract. Known as 409 East Sixth street, being 24 feet front and rear by 98 feet deep, containing dwelling house with ten rooms, modern improvements and in good repair, also barn in good repair.

Second Tract. On Lee place 100 feet southerly from South avenue, being 50 feet front and rear by 100 feet deep, containing two dwelling houses, No. 211 and 213. Will be sold jointly or separately to suit purchasers. Dwellings contain seven rooms each and are in good repair.

Also three houses on East Second street near Berkman street, 23½ feet front and rear each by 240 feet deep. These properties are in good repair and nicely located. Dwellings contain seven rooms each, and are known as No. 717, 719 and 721 East Second street.

Also the following vacant lot located on the corner of Lee place and South avenue and is 100 feet front by 100 feet deep. Is a corner lot and a valuable piece of property.

The above premises will positively be sold to the highest bidder and will afford a grand opportunity for investors as well as parties desiring a home.

Parties desiring to inspect premises may do so at any time before sale.

Parties desiring particular information regarding any of the above premises may call upon the undersigned executor at any time before sale.

Do not miss the opportunity. Be on hand and secure a bargain. Terms easy and made known on day of sale.

Delicate Dress Goods.

Some gowns are so dainty in the weave, so delicate in tint, that they seem to soil by being looked at—one or two wearings making them unpresentable, NOT USELESS. We make a specialty of cleaning fine fabrics, the more delicate the material, the better the results. Sometimes an accident will ruin a gown, without injuring the texture We dye them then, sometimes we get a prettier effect than the original color. Fine goods stand redyeing. The finer the material the better the new color. We charge so little for cleaning or dyeing, that even if you are in doubt as to the result, it's worth while to experiment. Want a new evening gown for a dollar or two? Laundry drivers will receive your work.

GUILTY OF MURDER.

The Schulz Case Jury Brings In a Verdict In the First Degree.

Milford, Pa., June 14.—Herman Paul Schulz of New York, who had been on trial since last Tuesday for the murder of his wife, was found guilty of murder in the first degree yesterday. The jury went out at 6 o'clock Saturday night and deliberated until 2 o'clock yesterday before arriving at a verdict. The jurors remained in the courthouse all night, and at 9:30 o'clock yesterday morning filed into the courtroom.

The prisoner was brought in, and as he gazed at the jury his face took on a sneering smile. After the jury's verdict had been announced Schulz was led back to his cell, and, as he was passing the jury, he laughed and said, "I thank you, gentlemen, for your verdict."

When he had been placed in his cell at the jail, Schulz was searched by the sheriff and two constables. They found concealed within the lining of his trousers and coat a small saw, a file and a penknife. The prisoner had previously said he meant to cheat the gallows should he be convicted. All efforts to persuade him to eat have failed since the articles were found on him. He was given new clothing and put in another cell.

His counsel have made the usual application for a new trial, and June 28 has been fixed as the date to hear arguments. A special term of court will be held for this purpose.

ESCAPED FROM JAIL.

A Bicycle Thief Picks the Lock of His Cell and Gets Away.

Norristown, Pa., June 14.—Walter Kinney, who was sentenced to prison for a term of five years for stealing a bicycle from the vestibule of a church and for robbing freight cars, has escaped from jail. He has not been recaptured. Kinney effected his escape by picking the lock of his cell door, after which he scaled the stone wall about the jail.

High Constable Bergey, who lives in the rear of the jail, saw Kinney climbing over the wall and hurried to effect his capture. Bergey being very large and corpulent made but slow advance, and the convicted man was over the wall and away before Bergey could reach him.

The constable gave chase, but was unable to catch up to Kinney, the latter several times stopping and laughing at the official's slow progress. Bergey finally gave up the chase. Kinney is 26 years old and came from New Jersey.

DROWNED IN THE HUDSON.

Sad Ending to a Pleasure Party Off Fort Lee.

New York, June 14.—Two men have been drowned, owing to an accident to a catboat in the Hudson off Fort Lee. They were accompanied in the boat by a sister of one of them. She was rescued in an unconscious condition.

The party started from Watkins park. It consisted of Miss Emma Guilmette, her brother, H. F. Guilmette, who is a clerk in the office of Moore & Schley, and W. Morton Smith, employed on The Mail and Express. They sailed on the river until about 3 o'clock, when a squall struck them and overturned the boat.

The launch Lenna Doone, Edward Weston of Newark, N. J., was some distance off. Mr. Weston saw the accident, and, putting on all speed, went to the rescue. Before he succeeded in reaching the boat the two men had disappeared. Miss Guilmette was still floating and was dragged on board the launch, where she revived.

KILLED HIS BROTHER-IN-LAW.

After a Quarrel He Waylays and Shoots Him Through the Heart.

New York, June 14.—A murder was committed in the suburbs of the village of Port Richmond, N. Y., and the murderer made good his escape. Charles Bosenzo, 45 years old, who, with his wife and child, lived on Prospect avenue, went to Sherman avenue to visit a brother-in-law. While there a quarrel was started, and very little can be learned of how it developed into a tragedy.

Dominico Pallendo, the only witness to the killing, simply says Bosenzo was at the home of Gustano P. Ptizzi, his brother-in-law. They fought, and Bosenzo went home and returned later. Ptizzi left his home, walked up and down the road and when Bosenzo approached pointed his pistol at and shot Bosenzo twice and ran away. One bullet struck Bosenzo in the neck, and the other pierced the heart.

YELLOW FEVER IN PORT.

Patient Transferred From a Vessel to Hoffman Island Is Dead.

New York, June 14.—Otto Wernersen, one of the passengers of the steamer Advance detained at Hoffman island for observation, was transferred to the Swinburne Island hospital suffering from yellow fever. Wernersen was one of the survivors of the British ship Buckhurst, which took fire and was abandoned in midocean while on the voyage from Newcastle, N. S. W., for Panama, coal laden.

Wernersen was taken sick at sea two or three days before the steamer arrived at this port. He was removed, with the rest of the second cabin passengers, to Hoffman island for observation. The patient showed no marked symptoms of the fever until Saturday afternoon, when he was promptly removed to the yellow fever hospital at Swinburne island, where he died last night.

Death of an Ex-County Treasurer.

Troy, N. Y., June 14.—A special from Castleton says: "Hon. Frank P. Harder, ex-treasurer of Rensselaer county, died at his home here, aged 52 years. Mr. Harder underwent an operation for cancer last winter, but had not recovered from its effects. At the time of his death he was secretary of the courthouse commission of this county, having succeeded the late Orange S. Ingram. He was a thirty-second degree Mason."

Deaths From Yellow Fever.

San Francisco, June 14.—The steamer City of Para has arrived from Panama flying the yellow flag and was immediately ordered into quarantine. When one day out from Panama, one of the passengers, Mrs. Mitchell, died of yellow fever, and a few days later Captain Metonzen also died. About 20 passengers came into port, none having symptoms of the disease.

SPAIN WILL SETTLE.

Canovas Says the Ruiz Claim, If Justified, Will Be Paid.

WAS RIVERA ORDERED TO BE SHOT?

American Residents In Havana Want President McKinley to Interfere—The Shooting Would Cause a Protest From Other Nations.

Madrid, June 14.—Premier Canovas is reported as saying that the alleged demands of the United States in the case of Dr. Ricardo Ruiz, the American citizen who expired in the jail at Guanabacoa apparently from injuries received there, must be exaggerated. The premier added, however, that if the widow of Dr. Ruiz demanded an indemnity and her claim was shown to be justified Spain would see that justice was done.

Senor Canovas del Castillo further remarked, "I do not believe President McKinley has any unfriendly intentions toward Spain, but if the United States departs from a friendly attitude Spain will be able to defend her rights."

The Spanish foreign office has not yet received the expected note from the American government regarding the Ruiz case.

At a meeting of the dissident Conservatives yesterday, Senor Silvela, the leader of the party, declared that the Canovas ministry had signed the death warrant of parliamentary government. He earnestly advocated an investigation into the real state of affairs in Cuba, the creation of a colonial army and the development of the material interests of the island, as well as a reform in its administration. In conclusion, he expressed the opinion that it was now absolutely necessary for Spain to abandon her policy of international isolation.

Rivera Ordered to Be Shot.

Havana, via Key West, June 14.—Americans here are much exercised over a report that the trial of Major General Ruis Rivera, who succeeded General Maceo, and his chief of staff, General Bacallao, has ended, and that the prisoners will be sentenced to be shot at once.

It is urged by these Americans that congress should renew its request to President McKinley to intervene, and that Bacallao, as well as Rivera, be included in the request, as he could easily have escaped had he not stopped to help his wounded chief.

It is felt here that the shooting of these men must bring out an earnest protest by other nations against the Spanish practice of shooting prisoners of war.

Pizzaro, who was alcalde of the town of San Nicolas when Gomez raided it two years ago, is to be sent to Chafarinas.

Captain Foster R. Winn, M. D., of St. Louis, a volunteer surgeon in the Cuban insurgent hospital corps in the field, was killed in an attack by government troops upon an insurgent hospital near Quivican, province of Havana.

On his body were found, among other papers of importance, letters from Colonel Delgado, Brigadier General Castillo and General Alexander Rodriguez, authorizing him to proceed to the United States as a special delegate of the Cuban army hospital corps, with a view of interesting the American Red Cross society in the sufferings of the Cuban insurgents.

Justice Forbes' Illness.

Oneonta, N. Y., June 14.—Judge Forbes, who is supreme court justice of the Sixth Judicial district, was prostrated after dinner Saturday evening. The attack was so severe that for a time he was unconscious. He rested well during the night. Next morning he appeared better, but at 10 o'clock there was a recurrence of the sinking spells, he having five of them in succession. He had another about 7 o'clock last night and is in a very serious condition. The physicians pronounce it nervous prostration, brought on by overwork. His family has been telegraphed for.

The San Jose Scale In Niagara.

Grimsby, Ont., June 14.—The deputation sent by the ministers of agriculture to investigate the presence of the San Jose scale in an orchard near Niagara report that they have found this scale in large numbers and that it will utterly ruin the prospects of the Ontario fruitgrowers if unchecked. They advise vigorous legislation which will prevent the importation of nursery stock from the United States excepting under the most rigorous inspection.

Winner of the Grand Prix.

Paris, June 14.—The Grand Prix de Paris, the chief event of the French racing and social year, was won by Doge, owned by M. J. Arnaud. The animal is a brown colt by Fricandeau, out of Dogarese. Second place was won by Roxellane, chestnut filly, sired by War Dance out of Rose of York. She is owned by M. M. Cailleult. The third was won by Parasol II., bay colt, by Ruiel out of Pyrale and owned by M. Abelle.

To Reorganize Belgium's Army.

Brussels, June 14.—A great demonstration has been held here, organized by retired general army officers, in favor of a reorganization of the army and the abolition of the system of military substitutes. A large deputation, headed by General Brialmont, went to the palace, where King Leopold received them, and in the course of a patriotic speech declared himself already a convert to their proposals.

Iron Works Close Down.

Reading, Pa., June 14.—The management of the Reading Iron works have decided to close its tube mill indefinitely. By this over 1,000 will be thrown out of employment. The cause of the shutting down is that the men in the other departments, upon which the tube mill is dependent for iron, are on strike and the supply has run out.

Government Steamers Captured.

Montevideo, June 14.—It is reported that the revolutionists have captured two large river steamers conveying reenforcements to the government troops.

The New York at Newport News.

Newport News, Va., June 14.—The cruiser New York has passed in the capes and is anchored in the James river opposite this city.

THE FETE CHAMPETRE.

during the day and illuminated at night. He was assisted by the following who acted as oarsmen: Edward Kline. Bryant Harman, Carrol L. Runyon, James P. Murray, Carl Pfeiffer, Carl Walz, Harry Opdyke, Bronson Smith, Van R Schuyler, Alfred Love, Arthur Talmage, Rudd Shepard, Buritt Shepard, Howard Tracy, John B. Dumont, Jr., D. M. VanVliet, Joseph Myers, E. H. Frost, Irving Oakley, R. A. Beebe, Paul Kimball and Irving Joy.

The Gypsy encampment was one of the principal attractions of the Fete. There were several tents in the grove on the island, while seats were arranged about the island for the convenience of the guests. Flapjacks were cooked and served there. An old Pennsylvania wagon, loaned for the occasion, was used as a seating place for the Gypsies when singing. Twice during the afternoon and twice in the evening the Gypsies gave their dance, a wild rush and whirl that was made very effective by the gay colored Gypsy costumes worn. In the evening the scene was lighted by the huge log fire that gave a weird appearance to the party of whirling dancers in their brilliant dresses.

Those taking part in the dance were the Misses Katheryn Reinhart. Annie Murphy, Mabel VanDeventer, Halla VanDeventer, May Tracy, Adelaide Ball, Elizabeth Hull, Mary Hull, Dottie Long, Grace Barlow, Alice Thompson and Marion Henderson; Alfred Holmes, Harry Curtis, Carl Stedman Brown, Harry Johnson, Harry Patten, Howard Turrill, Orville T. Waring, Fred Ball, Allan Wilson, A. Willis West and Arthur Murphy. During the dance Mrs. Wm. L. Saunders came to the front and sang the Bolero song, "Maid of Cadiz," in an effective manner. The accompaniment was furnished by Miss Marion Dumont on the piano and an orchestra composed of Lindley M. Hillman, Chas. Davis and Walter H. Serrell.

When the Gypsies gathered in the old Gypsy wagon to sing, their number was increased. Miss Daisy Elsberg acted as soloist, while in the chorus there were the Misses Cornelia Faber, Francis Phillips, Gertrude Haviland, Cora Haviland, Alice Holmes and Ada Smock, besides those already mentioned. Chas. E. Faber and D. O. Tiffany were in charge of the entrance to the camp.

The committee under whose charge all the details for the Gypsy encampment were arranged consisted of Mrs. Chas. W. McCutchen, chairman; Mrs. A. Walter Haviland, Mrs. Wm. Saunders, Mrs. B. A. Hegeman, Jr., and Mrs. W. J. Roome.

One of the other principal features of the Fete for the afternoon was the winding of the May pole. At 4 o'clock the little children gathered about the pole, all dressed in white. They were under the care of Mrs. Lewis G. Timpson. They were the Misses Elinor Waring, Helen Timpson, Ada Garragues. Ruth Fredericks, Elizabeth McGee, Helen Joy, Ruth VanVliet, Louise Saunders, Jean Saunders, Alice Titus, Katheryn Titus, Margaret Lowe, Margaret Drayton, Anna Fisk, Dorothy Fisk, Madeline Reed, and Frederick Mead, Johnston Mali, Morris Timpson and Ogden Rogers. After a pretty dance about the May pole they wound the many colored streamers about the pole.

An hour later, another dance was held in which the older children took part, under the charge of Mrs. W. L. Patton. It was more complicated than the other one and the colored ribbons were woven about the pole. Those taking part were the Misses Eva Brown, Margaret Van Deventer, Frances Van Deventer, Wilhelmina Patton, Trottie Smith, Florence Taylor, Gennie Derric, Jennie Dunham, Mildred Thayor, Marie Finch, Charlotte Finch, Grace Wilcox, Marjorie Fleming, Dorothy Fleming, Maida Hyde, Grace Peck, Ethel Kenney, Roxie Love and Grace Miller.

On the path to the left of the house was an arbor which was transformed into a pretty booth, tastefully decorated with vines and flowers, principally roses. This was the fruit and flower booth. Mrs. J. Parker Mason was the chairman and her aides were Mrs. John Doull Miller, Mrs. E. T. Barrows, Mrs. Pinto, Mrs. F. H. Andrews, Mrs. Fred Yates, Mrs. Edward M. Van Buren, Mrs. W. C. Delanoy, Mrs. Marion Ackerman, Mrs. J. W. Reinhart, Mrs. F. G. Mead. Mrs. Clifton Wharton, Jr., and the Misses Edith Smalley, Daisy Shepard, Edith Hyde, May Waring. Florence Waring, Marion Dumont, Elizabeth Stewart, and Katheryn Reinhart.

Under the branches of a tree nearby, Miss Gertrude Walz and Miss May Evans presided over the lemonade well.

Nearer the house, tables were arranged on the lawn and here the ice cream department reigned supreme. This department was in charge of Mrs. Henry Lapsley and Miss Kate Martine.

The waitresses were the Misses Ethel Plummer Bowen, Bessie Bowen, Lela Howard, Margaret McCready, Jessie Bushnell, Josephine Lapsley, Florence Patterson, Stephanie Krom, Margaret Goddard, Harriet Goddard, Mary Anderson Reinhart, Mattie Wadsworth, Constance Patton, Sarah Richards, Emma Corlies, Florence Curtis, Clara Case, Helen Brown, Helen Martin, Elsie Martin, Elsie Harmon, Ida Stewart, Ethel Van Boskerck, Ethna Strong, Sarah Schuyler. Mary Mann, Blossom Randolph, Dorothy Wells, Margaret McCutchen, Virginia Hegeman.

Across the lawn on the other side of the house were the supper tables.

The following were the ladies in charge of the tables: Mrs. O. T. Waring and Mrs. G. W. Van Boskerck, chairman, and Mesdames Pierri Mali, W. W. Howland, D M Van Vliet, J. G. Foster, Robert A Clausson, L. H. Bigelow, Robert Lowry, H. M. Stockton, W. D. Murray, N. Pendleton, Rogers, J. T. Baker, J. H. Carman, R. M. Stover, Marion Ackerman, O B. Leonard, Miss Tweedy, Mrs. Titus and Miss Stevens.

The aides were: Mesdames Charles E. Brooks, A. D. Shepard, Thomas Minford, W. Palmer Smith, H. B. Opdyke aand the Misses Hellwig, Colles, Randolph, Halloway, Ryder, Hall, McCready, H. Brainard, M. Sterling, E. Sterling, Louise Bushness, C Kampman, Edith Gilbert, Pierson, Flora Griffin, Clapp, Madiline Day, Taylor, Horne, Haviland, E. Tracy, Bushnell, Bonny, I. Bass, Drayton, Dryden, Swayze, Lulu Patten, Edna Thayer, Grace Miller, Rachel Coe, Clark, Middledith, Grace Yerkes, Elsie Brokaw, Susie Milne, Margaret Vermeule, E Van Deventer, R Bass, Lena Bass, Rambo, Bessie Coe, Edith Van Boskerck, Lulu Holly, Helen Weaver, Randall, Gertrude Rushmore, H. R. Shreve, May Cahoone, Lois Eastman, Wotherspoon, Ginna, E. McClure, K. McClure, Nancy Lawson, Katie Wood, Emma Miller, Jessie Bushnell, Laura Lovell, Helen Lovell, Cordilia Miller, Anna Miller, Fuller, Lucilli Rockwell, Agnes Minford, E. Little, F Cahoone, the Misses Gibbon, Mrs. F. Moore, Mrs. Roger Murray, Mrs. Pfeiffer and Mrs. Charles Stover.

The list of patronesses included the following:—Mrs. A. D Shepard, Mrs. Edgerton, Mrs. Charles Hyde, Mrs. Lawrence Myers, Mrs. J. Parker Mason, Mrs. William Palmer Smith, Mrs. D. P. Hall, Mrs. Roland Cox, Mrs. C. A. Marsh, Mrs. Walter Stewart, Mrs. J. T. Baker, Mrs. S. A. Ginna, Mrs. Charles Fisk, Mrs. Ernest L Walz, Mrs. Isabel Tweedy, Miss Florence Tweedy, Mrs. George H. Frost, Mrs. Stephen Haff, Mrs Emma S. Brown, Mrs. Charles Schoonmaker, Mrs. O. T. Waring, and Mrs. Charles A. Reed.

The committee on police consisted of Councilman E. T. Barrows. All the police of the city volunteered their services for the Fete and did duty at the grounds and in that vicinity under the command of Sergeant Kiely.

The members of the Plainfield High School cadet corps volunteered their services as guards. Twenty of the company turned out. In the afternoon, they were commanded by Lieutenant Henry W. Brower. Lieutenant Sydney R. Titsworth was the commanding officer during the evening and acted as officer of the day. Whitney Frazee acted as bugler for guard mount.

At present, it is impossible to state the exact number of visitors to the Fete. It is very probable that they numbered nearly three thousand. It is estimated that the Town Improvement Association will clear nearly $2,000 on the Fete.

The attempt to secure the patronage of the cyclists was successful and there were many wheelmen and wheelwomen in the grounds, a number of whom came for supper and spent the evening. Miss Gage, of Elizabeth, organized a party of seventeen who rode up from Elizabeth and spent the evening.

There were a score of assistants at the gates who gave their help. Henry Lovell and George Schoonmaker braved the mosquitoes at the lodge entrence and sold tickets, with a short rest at dark when they assisted in lighting the Japanese lanterns.

Those in charge of the gypsy encampment had a little surprise for the latter part of the evening. While the log fire was blazing merrily, on the point that projects out into the lake, fireworks were set off behind the fire, which gave the appearance of rising out of the centre of it. Throughout the evening, colored fire was burned about the island while a cornet called the visitors to come and see the Gypsy dances.

USED AXES AND KNIVES.

The Italians are able to talk but little English and great difficulty was experienced in learning the circumstances. The man who was murderously assaulted with the knife gave his name as Vincesoso Dito, and the other injured man gave his name as Fancisco Jrisia. The tall Italian, whose story to Brown did not agree with his story to the police, was Jordan Tedele. The other two were Joseph Dilucha and Francisco Liveliro.

Chief Grant and an interpreter went to the Muhlenberg Hospital this morning, and heard what the two wounded men had to say. Their stories agreed. They said that they had been playing cards and some words arose over a point in the game. They came to blows and one admitted striking the other on the head with an axe. He, in turn, said that he had used his pocket knife on the body of his companion. They said that their friends had not been in the shanty at the time of the fight but had returned later.

The three Italians, who were locked up, told the same story saying that they had not been there when the fight was in progress. They will probably be released as there is nothing to implicate them in the affair.

NO ALMS, THREATENED.

MAN OF MANY PLACES HELD UP MR. HUI ON SOMERSET STREET.

Ezra Baldwin, a Composite Sort of Character, Made a Demand for Money and Said He Would Use Force With Next Request.

Ezra Baldwin is a composite sort of character as he hails from Newark, Philadelphia and Atlantic City. Saturday night he hailed Fred Hui, the barber, who was going to his home in the borough, and demanded money. Now Baldwin waits in the borough lockup.

He was going down Somerset street and had almost reached the borough line when he encountered friend Baldwin. Baldwin seized him by the sleeve and demanded money, so Hui says. Hui refused and ordered him away. Then Baldwin, it is alleged, told the barber that if he didn't give him money this time, he would do him next time, knock him down and take the money. The reason why he did not do it then—he explained, was because there were too many people around.

Hui departed on his way and met Chief Marshal Wilson, of the borough, told him the circumstances, and Wilson promptly put the man under arrest. He was locked up and will be turned over to the city authorities today.

Yesterday. Hui appeared before Justice Newcorn and swore out a warrant for the arrest of Baldwin on the charge of assault with threats.

Baldwin was arraingned before Judge DeMeza this afternoon and was sentenced to 60 days and fined $100.

CRESCENTS DEFEATED.

CRACK SOMERVILLE BALL TOSSERS LAID THEM LOW.

The Plainfield Boys Were Weak Behind the Bat, But in the Pitcher's Box They Had a Strong Player in McLarney.

The perfect weather last Saturday afternoon did not attract all of the people to the Fete Champetre, for a large crowd assmbled on the La-Grande avenue base ball grounds to witness the very excellent game between the Crescents and the Somersets, of Somerville. In spite of the fact that the home team lost the contest, the crowd was very well pleased with the exhibition. It is confidently believed that the home team lost the game through the inability of having a catcher that could hold McLarney, the new pitcher from Staten Island. The latter is one of the best pitchers ever appearing in Plainfield, and it was plain to be seen that he could easily have downed his opponents had their been a suitable backstop. A man named Kippling, from Roselle, went behind the bat for the first few innings, but he was soon displaced by George Bolsterli, who did much better. The latter with a little practice would make a good catcher for McLarney and no doubt the two will be retained in their positions.

The Somersets played in great luck throughout the game and they took advantage of every little error made by the Crescents and made a total number of runs which the home team could not overcome. In the three different innings the Somersets made three runs in each and the total number of runs was thirteen, while the most made by the Crescents in one inning was four, with a total of eight. There was plenty of good batting and fielding mixed with a number of wretched errors. The two teams lined up as follows: Crescents—Townley, ss.; Bolsterli, 3b., c.; McLaughlin, 1b.; Symons, lf.; Kippling, c., 3b.; Lederer, 2b.; Mumford, cf.; Sutphen, rf.; McLarney, p. Somersets—Kelly, ss.; Francis, c.; W. McLaughlin, p; Mulligan, 2b.; Tirhey, cf.; Vandevoort, lf.; Davenport, 1b.; Watts, 3b.; Morris, rf. The score by innings is as follows:

Crescents.....0 2 2 0 0 0 4 0 0— 8.
Somersets.....1 0 1 3 1 3 3 0 0—13.

The umpires were Fred Winn and Edward Erickson.

—Jerusalem Lodge No. 26, F. and A M., will hold a regular communication tomorrow evening, when the E. A. degree will be conferred.

—Children's Day exercises were held at Monroe Avenue church yesterday afternoon and a programme consisting of songs and recitations were presented by members of the Sunday school.

—The funeral services of Miss Kate J. Cotter who died Friday night at her home on Plainfield avenue, were held at 9 o'clock this morning from St. Mary's church. The Rev. Father Murphy officiated. The pall bearers were John Whalen, James Savord, Thomas Dorgan, Thomas McInery, Michael O'Keeffe and Thomas O'Keeffe. Interment was in St. Mary's cemetery.

Miss Kate Baxter is at home from Vassar College for the summer vacation.

CLASS SONG

The time of parting comes
E'en in our schoo! life here—
In dreams alone we'll live
The days to us so dear!
Ye days of sunny pleasure.
When we shall know ye not
Remembrance will recall ye,
Ye ne'er shall be forgot.

O! friendships of our school days
Your praises all will sing!
We'll cling to ye forever
And to you tribute bring;
When dreams shall call us backward.
Tho' years have sped along.
We'll gladly think of school days,
The time of youth's glad song!

A LOW DOWN TRICK.

A White Woman Robbed the Pantry of Nuptial Nicknacks But Had to Settle.

'Twas a low down trick on the bride, at best, but luckily there was one unseen spectator and so the guilty party was made to settle after all. Last Thursday evening, Miss Paulina Coles and Eugene Johnson, two colored residents of Plainfield, were married in the Mt. Olive Baptist Church. After the wedding, there was a reception at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Walter Binn, on Plainfield avenue.

While the guests gathered in the front rooms and wished the couple success, somebody walked in the back door and visited the pantry. There was a great array of good things there and the visitors had plenty to choose from. At last, selecting a half a ham and eight quarts of ice cream, the visitor departed by the back door, unseen except by one of the family who watched operations from behind a door.

The visitor was a woman living not far from that neighborhood. She was soon called to account and threatened with arrest at once if she did not pay for the articles that she carried off on the night of the wedding. The required settlement was made and the matter was allowed to drop.

Farmers' Annual Picnic.

The farmers of Union County will have their annual picnic today in Ogden Woodruff's Grove at Salem. The affair is held under the auspices of the Union County Board of Agriculture. The wives and daughters of the farmers will prepare the good things.

PRIMARY CLOSING.

Interesting Exercises at Miss Scribner and Miss Newton's School.

The closing exercises of the primary department of Miss Scribner and Miss Newton's school at 303 LaGrande avenue, were held at 11:30 o'clock yesterday morning.

The programme was one of great interest and included a French greeting, by Doris Stanton; a song entitled "Swinging," by the school; a reading from "Storyland of Stars," by the middle primary class; "A Legend of the Northland," by Martha Roberts; a French piece, by Margaret Mead; "My Kingdom," by Charlotte Finch; "Little Boy Blue," by Norma Northrop; "The Boy and the Bird," by Margaret Lowe and Elinor Waring; a French piece by Emily Simpson, Lillian Moodey and Ruth Fredricks; a song "I Get by Candle Light," by Frederica Mead; a French recitation by Hope Jarvis, Caroline Martin and Helen Cruikshank; "The Ill-natured Brier," by Louise Booth; composition, "Spanish Armada," by Margaret Mead; French recitation by Julia Martin, Gertrude Hatch and Teddy Booth; "One, Two, Three," by Ruth Fredricks; German conversation by Lawrence and Frederica Mead; a song "To Others Be Kind and True," by the school; a French recitation by Harold Robert; "The Little People," by Lillian Moodey; French recitation by Edwin Browne and Louise Booth; "Children's Hour," by Margaret Mead; composition by Charlotte Finch; French recitation by Margaret Lowe and Elinor Waring; "The Will and the Way," by Lawrence Mead; a composition by Martha Robert; "Stars," by Helen Cruikshank; "Boy Wanted," by Harold Robert; song "Three Little Kittens," by the school.

A number of prizes, most of which were for manual work, were distributed among the pupils. The commencement exercises of the school's senior department will take place tomorrow afternoon.

FARMERS' CO-OPERATIVE PLAN

Propose to Open Stores and Keep Everything a Tiller of the Soil Needs

Farmers of Somerset County have formed an alliance for the purpose of procuring the products which they consume cheaper and for mutual protection in various ways. Thirty eight have filed articles of incorporation under the name of The North Branch Farmers' Alliance Co-operative Association.

The chief promoters of the alliance are Simon P. Nevins, a farmer of North Branch, and Jacob Peterson, a dairyman of Somerville. The latter owns 144 shares of stock and the former 129 shares. The others own from one to fifteen shares each.

The objects of the organization are the purchase and sale of groceries, dry goods, hardware, tools, farming impliments, machinery, horses, cattle, sheep, swine, milk and general produce and the manufacture of butter and cheese.

The place where the principal office is to be located is at North Branch. Other places designated where the business will be carried on are South Branch, Raritan, Somerville, Bound Brook, Lebanon, White House, Jersey City, Brooklyn and Easton, Pa.

A large store will be located at North Branch for the use of the members. They will purchase fertilizers in quantities and deal in everything that a farmer buys or sells.

It is reported that a large store is to be opened in Somerville. The capital stock is $2,000 and the business will begin with $1,000 paid in.

FELL TWO STORIES.

Fred Adams Lost His Balance While Working in a New House.

Fred Adams, while working on an unfinished house in the West End, this morning, fell from the second story to the cellar, miraculously escaping serious injury.

Seaman Williams & Company have the contract for the mason work to a house in the West End. A gang of their employes have been there for some time. Fred Adams, of Netherwood, was working there on the staircase from the first floor to the second. He was at the head of the stairs on a scaffold when he lost his balance and fell through the floor beams. He struck the beams of the first floor and bruised and scratched his back. They did not stop him, however, and he fell into the cellar.

The fall stunned him for the time but he soon recovered. He was badly bruised and scratched but escaped all serious injury. After having his wounds temporarily dressed he went home.

Died at Industrial Home.

Mr. Sparks, a resident at the City Industrial Home, died at that place this morning of old age. He was well known in this vicinity, where he lived for years.

CHAPTER ONE AWHEEL.

THE EPWORTH LEAGUE'S FIRST BICYCLE SOCIABLE A SUCCESS.

The Young People of the Methodist Church Turned Out in Force and Enjoyed a Spin Over to Metuchen.

When fair Luna rose above the horizon last evening she beheld, for the first time in her experience, a bicycle sociable arranged by the young people of a church. It was the occasion of the first of the runs gotten up by the young people of Chapter No. 1 of the Epworth League, an auxiliary of the First M. E. church, of this city. It was an innovation in the line of church entertainments and sociables, and its popularity was evidenced by the large attendance on the run.

The night was just right. Just cool enough to make it pleasant exercise to keep riding and yet not chilly enough to be uncomfortable. The start was made ere the rays of the sun had disappeared and the ride continued through the twilight and into the night when the full round moon came out to lend her pale beams for the illumination of the road. There was not one in the party but preferred spending the evening in that manner in comfortable costume than sitting about a warm room trying to be sociable.

The participants in this first bicycle sociable were requested to gather in front of the First M. E. church, where the start was to be made. It was soon after 7:30 o'clock that the stirring notes of the bugle assembled the riders and Captain James A. Stafford, secretary of the League, declared it time to start. There were forty young people altogether, clad in wheeling costume. There was nothing startling in any of the costumes and all was as quiet and modest as could be wished.

James A Stafford was in command with Ray T. Snodgrass and Charles Sprague as his lieutenants. Robert Davis acted as bugler. Mr. and Mrs. J. T. McNaughton chaperoned the party. Captain Stafford had laid his plans beforehand and everything went forward without a hitch. The riders were kept together through the efforts of the lieutenants and a moderate pace was maintained.

There was only one accident and that was the wrecking of a cyclometer when two of the wheelwomen came together.

When the party reached Holly's Corners, the lamps were lighted and a brief stop made. At the Oak Tree bridge, a halt was called to see the view from that spot. At Pumptown, there was another rest, and then the party went on to Metuchen where refreshments were enjoyed. The ride home by moonlight was a delightful one, unmarred by accident or unpleasant feature. Plainfield was reached in safety and the party rode to Leggett's pharmacy where they were hospitably treated to some of his delightful soda water. The party disbanded there.

YELLOW CARD IS GONE.

Health Inspector Causes the Removal of a Hateful Scarlet Fever Case.

The residents of Orchard place between Liberty and New streets are now rejoicing over the action of Health Inspector Addis in causing the removal, last evening, of the case of scarlet fever which was imported into their neighborhood last Friday.

On that day the wife and young daughter of Kalman Rochberg, a Hebrew living on West Third street, were brought to the premises at 452 Orchard place. Then Health Inspector Addis came along and tacked up the ominous yellow card that gives warning of contagious diseases. The case was one of scarlet fever.

Yesterday the Health Board learned that two other children of Rochberg had been taken with the same disease at the West Third street house. Orders were at once given to remove the child from the Orchard place premises. It was taken to the West Third street house, and the three cases were quarantined together in that place.

The house in Orchard place has been thoroughly fumigated, the yellow card is gone and the neighbors are praising the action of the Health Inspector in removing the disease from their street.

Lucious Berries They Are.

Judge Wadsworth, for many years well known in all of Plainfield's public functions, but who is now residing with Noah Terry, in Fanwood, sent to The Press office yesterday two quart baskets of the largest and most lucious strawberries that have been seen in Plainfield this year. The Judge is an expert on cultivating the berries, and the samples sent in yesterday are those he raised himself. They are a full red color and sweet as can be desired. They are all remarkably large, one of them measuring six and a half inches in circumference.

JRISIA FEARS THE END.

IF DITO DIES HE WILL BE HELD FOR MURDER.

One of the Italian Combatants Last Sunday at Netherwood is Failing, and the Assailant is Getting Uneasy.

The two combatants at the Italian shanty, who played the principal parts in the bloody affray at the shanty on Sunday afternoon, still lie in the Muhlenberg Hospital as a result of the wounds they received. There seems no doubt but that they were the only ones implicated in the trouble. One of them lies very near death's door, while the other appears to be rapidly recovering.

Vincesoso Dito was the most seriously injured of the two. He was stabbed about the body and legs with a knife. Francisco Jrisia admits that he stabbed Dito, but says that it was done witn a penknife. There are numerous cuts about the body of Dito, and some of them are dangerous. The lungs were just missed and a number of important arteries were cut. Dito lost a great deal of blood, and it is feared some of the wounds will prove fatal.

Meanwhile, as Dito has been gradually sinking, his comrade has been recovering. Jrisia was struck in the head with an axe, wielded by Dito. Jrisia claims that Dito struck the first blow with the axe and that he only defended himself against the attacks of Dito. It was first thought that Jrisia's skull was fractured but it seems that he escaped very luckily. He lost a great deal of blood from the deep cut in the side of his head which made him very weak. He is a man of fine physique and great strength and was in good health at the time of the fight. This has aided him greatly in resisting the attacks of illness.

As Dito grows weaker, Jrisia grows more restless. He probably realizes that there will be a serious charge against him if his companion should die and is naturally worried about it. It has been feared that Jrisia will make an attempt to escape should he find that his victim was dying and to prevent that an officer is to be detailed to the Hospital to look after the Italians.

CITIZEN'S DEFIANCE REBUKED.

Westfield Officials Take Summary Action in Tice's Case.

An interesting legal fight is now on between the Westfield Township Committe and George W. Tice, a property owner of the town, over the right of the latter to run rain water from his premises into the sewer.

The Westfield sewer was not constructed to accommodate surface water, and citizens have been ordered not to attempt to use it for this purpose.

Tice in apparent ignorance of this fact appeared before the committee at its meeting last Thursday night and asked permission to make a sewer connection with the cistern upon his place which receives rain water from the roofs.

The committee explained to Mr. Tice that the sewer was incapable of accommodating the surface water of the town, and his request was refused. He then caused some surprise by announcing that he would make the connection in spite of the committee's prohibition. Tice made his threat good by at once setting men at work to lay pipes for the connection.

The work was no sooner completed yesterday, than Superintendent of Sewers Chamberlain brought another gang of laborers and pulled up the pipes. Tice then made an application to the court through his attorney for a mandamus compelling the committee to relay the pipes. Here the matter rests for the present, but both sides have their blood up and more interesting developments may be expected.

SINGING SALVATIONISTS.

A Two Weeks Campaign for the Rescue of Erring Ones.

Ensign Dyer, with the famous Central Singing Brigade, will commence tonight a fourteen days special Salvation Campaign. Their first meeting will be in the auditorium of the Y. M. C. A. The remaining thirteen nights will be in the Salvation Army Hall on West Second street. The Brigade has been conducting revival meetings for several months in many of the churches in Brooklyn and Long Island and have had remarkable success, Ensign and Mrs. Parsons will go for a few days needed rest during the visit of the Brigade.

Now a Junior.

George A. Horne, of Willow avenue, has successfully passed all his examinations at Lehigh University and is now a junior. Today he starts with a party of college friends to tramp from Bethlehem to New York.

DRAGGED BY A HORSE.

Driver Clung Pluckily to the Reins Until Exhausted.

Last evening, about 9 o'clock, Mr. Koch, who lives between Washingtonville and Warrenville, was standing in front of his house alongside his horse and wagon. The horse became frightened and started at a frantic speed down the road. Mr. Koch was quick and caught the reins before the animal passed out of his reach, but was dragged for several hundred yards over the roughest of country roads. He maintained a tight hold on the reins until his became so weak that he was obliged to let go. He received a number of severe injuries about the face and body, and one eye was almost closed. His cheek was severely lacerated and from the wound blood flowed profusely. When found by some members of his family he was in an unconscious condition and suffering greatly from shock. His clothing was badly torn and he was general broken up. Dr. Clawson, of this city, was called and hastened to the home of the injured man. It was nearly 10 o'clock when Dr. Clawson reached the house and he was obliged to remain for some time at the side of the injured man. The doctor does not think that the injuries will prove fatal, although Koch is in a very critical condition and it will be some time before he will be able to go out.

FOR PROTECTION FROM FIRE.

Two More Alarm Boxes Have Been Added to the City System.

Two more alarm boxes have been added to the fire alarm system in this city, one in the Second ward and one in the Third ward. The plan that has been in vogue regarding the numbering of the boxes has been to have the first figure in the box correspond with the number of the ward in which it is located. The numbers have now run out and a change has been made necessary.

One of the new boxes is located at the corner of South avenue and Berckman street. The following companies will respond to the first alarm from that box: Engine Co. No. 2, Hose Co. No. 2, Alert Hose Co., No. 1, Chemical Engine Co., No. 1, and Truck Co., No. 1.

The other box is at the corner of Park avenue and Arlington place The same companies will respond with the exception of Alert Hose Co., No. 1, whose place will be taken by Hose Co. No. 2. Engine Co. No. 2 will no longer answer first alarms of Boxes 23 and 26. Chief Doane has just issued an order to the fire department regarding the new boxes, which may be found in another column.

NEW LOAN ASSOCIATION.

Many Advantages That Appeal to the Modest Investor.

The Mutual Guarantee Building and Loan Association of Philadelphia and Camden, has organized a local branch in this city. A meeting was held last night in the office of Lawyer Clarence L. Murphy and the following officers and directors were elected: J. Howard Legget, president; James J. MacMurray, first vice president; Ralph I. Tolles, second vice president; Clarence L. Murphy, attorney; Daniel C. Adams, medical director; Thomas E Currin, Jr., treasurer; Ira L. LaRue, secretary.

The Mutual Guarantee is a strong organization, being now in its seventh year, and having assets of over half a million dollars. It has at its disposal a large sum of money which it is desirous of lending upon the usual plan of building and loan association, except that it combines with this a new feature, viz: The association agrees to insure the life of the borrower for the full amount of his loan and if the borrower dies before his loan is paid, the association agrees to cancel the mortgage and leave his home free and clear of their claim. This insurance scheme also applies to the depositer who pays in the usual amount per month, with the guarantee of the association that if he dies at any time before the maturity of his stock, his estate upon his death will receive the full maturity value. This new feature should prove very attractive to both lenders and borrowers and as the Plainfield branch consists of well-known and enterprising men, its future success would seem to be already assured.

Dined at the Inn.

A party of nineteen from Elizabeth took dinner at Mountain Park Inn, Saturday evening. The party consisted of Misses Gage, Mackintosh, Woodward, West, Hinds, Gray, Olmsted, Allen; Messrs. Gray, O. Vezin, Woodward, Kellogg, Morrison, Hinds, W. Vezin, Allen, Bigelow, Woodward, Bostwell.

E. C. Perkins and family, of this city, are stopping for the summer at Windsor, Vermont.

THE TOTS LEARNED MUCH

ENTERTAINING CHILDREN'S MORNING AT THE "CHESTNUTS."

Closing Exercises Gave Evidence of Careful Instruction on the Part of Teachers and Quick Learning by the Scholars.

Children's morning at the Plainfield Seminary meant the closing exercises of the Primary Department, given yesterday morning at "The Chestnuts," on West Seventh street, to which a limited number of friends were invited.

The English part of the programme was under the management of Miss Ayune Macready, the English teacher in this department, and the French songs and recitations had been taught by Mlle. Luxemberg, the instructor in French. The clear enunciation and expressive elocution of the performers, very little girls for the most part, reflected great credtt on the teachers, whose training had prepared them to perform their parts in a manner so satisfactory to parents and friends. The following programme was given to the delight of the audience, childish grace commingling with thorough drilling:

English recitations—
"The Sun and the Star".....Henriette Work
"The Boy That Was Half-past Three."
Kate Tieman
"The Doll's Wooing".....Alice Titus
"Daisi s".....Katharine Titus
"A Little Goosey".....Anna Garragues
"The Duel".....Ruth VanVliet
"The Rack-a-By Lady".....Clara Clark
"The Stay Lamb".....Dorothy Fisk
"A Good Play".....Nathalie Work
"Time to Rise".....Eleanor DeGraff
"Bed in Summer".....Marion Brown
French song—
"La Belle au Bois Dormant."
Dorothy Fisk, Kate Tieman, Nathalie Work and Henriette Work.
French recitations—
"Madame Sans Souci."
Dorothy Fisk, Kate Tieman, Gertrude Pearson, Henriette Work and Nathalie Work.
"Le Soir".....Gertrude Pearson
"L'Hirondelle".....Dorothy Fisk
"Le Ncir (Trialogue.)"
Gertrude Pearson, Kate Tieman and Henriette Work.
Doll's Drill.....Twelve Little Girls
Song—"Mabel and the Flowers".Mendelssohn
Florence Beebe, Angela Brady, Louise Curtis, Grace Kaufman and Gladys Kaufman.

The French song, "La Belle au Bois Dormant," was especially pleasing, the smoothly flowing French words, the music and the voices all blending in effective charm.

The Doll's Drill was a dainty bit of marching, performed by twelve little girls, who with dolls in arms, stepped with measured tread to the sound of music. Little Miss Marion Brown and Miss Helen Work led the two files of armed children, who on tiptoe went through a variety of motherly motions, caressing, chiding, kissing, admiring, patting, tossing, trotting and singing, the whole ending in an emphatic "Hush!" uttered in concert by the little doll tenders, which signified that their dolls were asleep and their drilling done.

At the close of the exercises, the writing and sewing of the children were exhibited in an adjoining room. The penmanship showed good training and commendable progress, and the sewing, in regular gradation from over-handing to button holes, was interesting to every woman who knows how much tidiness, thrift and comfort go with the ability to sew well.

NEW PLAN OF MISSION WORK.

Trinity Church Society to Assist in Foreign Missionary Work.

The Christian Endeavor service at Trinity Reformed church last evening was one of great interest to all present. The president, Alfred K. Willett, was in charge, and after conducting the opening exercises, he asked Rev. Cornelius Schenck, to introduce the speaker of the evening, Miss Duryea, secretary for China of the Woman's Board of Foreign Missions of the Reformed church. Miss Duryea is so thoroughly interested in the subject of missions that she imparts the interest and enthusiasm to all with whom she comes in contact. She related many incidents in connection with her work, showing the saving grace and help of the Master. She urged all to push on the work of saving souls and thus obtain the blessings which the Master has in store for His children.

At the close of the speaker's remarks she presented a plan whereby anyone present could become a stockholder in an organized society for the support of missionaries in foreign lands. Rev. Cornelius Schenck suggested that the collection received be devoted to the purchase of a coupon which would make the society a stockholder. The suggestion was adopted unanimously by those present.

A Song Service.

The chorus of the First Baptist church choir, under the direction of Prof. E. J. Fitzhugh, will render a musical service this evening in the church. The service is given under the auspices of the Christian Endeavor Society and all friends of the other societies will be cordially welcome.

INSANE FROM LOVE.

A Washington Man Tries Several Times to Kill Himself.

IS CONFINED IN A STRONG ROOM.

While He Was Abroad Studying, His Inamorata Transferred Her Affections Uncertainty as to His Recovery.

Washington, June 15.—Edwin Doren, son of the late Paymaster Doren of the navy department, is confined in a strong room at the Emergency hospital. He is said to be suffering from mental aberration, caused by his infatuation for a Washington young lady who refused to return her love for his.
